beautiful girl, who has inherited all the weakness and passions of her ancestors. One day at a Maypole dance Tess is attracted to Angel Clare, a stranger to the Country Side who, out of diffidence, dances with every girl but Tess. To advance the financial prospects of her family, Mr. Durbeyfield conceives the idea of sending Tess to claim relationship with the rich and powerful "D'Urbervilles of the adjacent county. Tess encounters Alex. D'Urberville, who is enamoured of her immediately and engages her for work on his farm. The inevitable happens. Alex. deceived Tess, and in shame and humiliation she returns home, where the child is born. The child eventually dies, and Tess makes a determined struggle to reclaim her ruined life. She obtains employment at a dairy farm, where happens to be Angel Clare. The two fall in love, and once more Tess' future begins to promise happiness. Torn by conflicting emotions she decides to write Angel of her former false step, and places the note under his door. He never finds her confession, but convinced that he has read it, and forgiven her sin, after his continued solicitations, she consents to marry him.

After the marriage Angel tells Tess of a former fall from grace, and Tess promptly forgives him. He takes her in his arm, and in the dim firelight thinking he already knows the bitter fact, she proceeds to relate her indiscretion with Alex. D'Urberville. Angel is shocked by the revelation and he leaves Tess until he can bring himself to forgive her.

Destitute and despairing, Tess is again found by D'Urberville. He offers her protection and support, and, discouraged by Angel's desertion, she again pays the price of existence. In the meantime Angel's old love for Tess asserts itself and he determines to return. He finds her in luxury and splendour in D'Urberville's home. Tess is torn with despair as she sees her last chance for happiness slip away, and when "D'Urberville taunts her concerning Angel she grasps a knife and, in insane anger, kills him. She overtakes Angel, and together they steal shelter in the ruins of an old Druid temple. Her crime is detected; she is followed and traced, and confronted by her pursuers. Hopelessly she surrenders herself to the law.

In a grim, grey prison, safe at last from the world that had tempted and cursed her, Tess spends the remaining years of her life with her broken heart and shattered hopes, a martyr to man's wrong.

Spoke on Early Methodism In Canada

At the regular weekly meeting of the Fidelis Mission Band, of George Street Methodist Church, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Peever gave a very interesting and beneficial address on "Early Methodism in Canada." He told of how Barbara Heck and her husband, and other families, among whom were the Laurences, the Embreys and the Ruckles, came across from Ireland in the "Mayflower" about 1760. They launched at New York, when everyone was disturbed about the Revolutionary War, and they, refusing to take up arms against the "Grand Old British Flag," left there, as true United Empire Loyalists, and settled near the then little town of Montreal. Here many of them wandered from God and Barbara Heck, from her good work among them, and others, became known as the "Mother of Methodism in Canada."

Rev. Mr. Peever also spoke of Rev. William Losee, who preached the first sermon on Methodism, in the "Heck Settlement," at the home of Barbara Heck about 1790. His text was "Repent ye, therefore and be converted."

The "Old Blue Church," supposed to be the first Methodist Church in Canada, is the burial place of both Paul and Barbara Hck. It stands near Prescott, Ont.

Rev. Mr. Peever's very helpful address was very much enjoyed by all.

DIVISION COURT HELD IN LAKEFIELD

A Number of Cases Dealt With by Judge Huycke

Judge Huycke presided at the Division Court in the Town Hall on Tuesday last and dealt with the following cases:

A. McQuigg v. Clements.—Suit for balance due for hire of horse. The Judge found that the agreement was to pay what defendant received for the horse which was used at military camp, and not 75c a day as defendant alleged, and judgment was awarded plaintiff for $6 and costs. There were no solicitors in the case.

Waldon v. Pammett—Suit brought by Chas. Waldon against Mr and Mrs. J. Pammett for $35.12 on a butcher account. After hearing part of the evidence, E. Picken was added as a defendant and the hearing of the case adjourned to next Court, Mr Picken to be served with the usual summons. O. A. Langley for plaintiff, G. N. Gordon for defendant.

Isbister v. Vickell.—Suit brought by Executor of the late Jno. Isbister against H. Bickell, a blacksmithing account. Defendant alleged that the late Mr. Isbister had accepted $5 in full of the account. The Judge found that the payment of $5 had been proved, but that it was not satisfactorily shown that it was accepted in full and plaintiff was given judgment for the balance of $2.57 and costs. O. A. Langley for plaintiff and G. N. Gordon for defendant. — Lakfield News.

Bourassa Could Not Qualify

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 7.—At the Parliament buildings to-day it was pointed out that Bourassa could not qualify for Prescott in the Ontario House, even if elected, as he is not domiciled in Ontario.

TORONTO, March 7.—Liberal leaders here are not sure whether they would like Bourassa as member of the Opposition sitting in the Ontario Legislature for Prescott, as it is intimated he may do. It is agreed he would likely be elected if nominated. It is certain, however, he would add considerable zest to party politics in Ontario.

Sir James Whitney's Tribute

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 7.—Sir James Whitney, Premier, and former antagonist of Sir George Ross, in the Legislature, who is in the same hospital, and who was thought dying when Sir George arrived, gave out the following tribute this morning: "Although perhaps not altogether unexpected, yet the announcement of the death of Sir George Ross conveys a shock to the people of this Province. Very few of the public men of Ontario were better known to the people. He was one of the ablest men our Province has produced, a man of great force of character and at all times a sturdy defender of British connection. As a very prominent figure in our public life he will be missed, indeed.

Come and hear Evangelist Pugsley at Park Street Baptist Church, every night, beginning March 8th. Sound Gospel preaching and good singing. Everybody welcome.

Radway's Ready Relief

Mrs. L. Ettinger, 120 E. 116th St., New York City, writes: "Suffered a cold. I used one bottle of your Radway's Ready Relief with wonderful results. I have since found it safe with a change of cold weather. I used it with great benefit for several rheumatic aches and pains. Have had occasion to use it for my friends."

NEURALGIA

The Relief is the best external liniment known, and therefore the best cure for Neuralgia that can be obtained. Relief is not only good for pain, external, and local, but when rubbed well in at the seat of the pain cures it quickly, which will usually be to the surprise of those who have suffered long.

ON

THURSDAY, MARCH 12th

IN ADDITION TO THE GREAT VALUES to be had on EXAMINER DOLLAR DAY, the Merchants will give away $200 in Cash as Bonuses to their Customers, so that Dollar Day will be long remembered. With each purchase of One Dollar made on Examiner Dollar Day at any of the stores named below, a number will be given, and 89 of these numbers will secure the cash bonuses. This is not a lottery, because there is no element of chance. Every Customer gets more than a full dollar's value for every purchase, and in addition a Cash Bonus is to be given to the 89 Customers. Of course, everybody cannot get a Bonus, but everybody can get a Great Big Bargain for every dollar spent. See the money in Neill's Centre Window. The Cash Bonuses will be as follows:

1 Bonus of	$20.00
1 Bonus of	$15.00
3 Bonuses of	$10.00
4 Bonuses of	$5.00
5 Bonuses of	$3.00
25 Bonuses of	$2.00
50 Bonuses of	$1.00

THE FOLLOWING MERCHANTS will issue numbers with every One Dollar Purchase on Dollar Day. The numbers will be named by Mayor Buller and published by the Examiner on the evening following Dollar Day. The list includes all names received up to the time of issue, and will be added to as fast as handed in.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

109 PERSONS BROUGHT TO PETERBOROUGH BY I E HOME RE-UNION ASSOCIATION

The Annual Meeting Was Held Last Night and Encouraging Reports Were Received.

40 FAMILIES IN

On Friday night, the 6th inst., the first annual meeting of the Imperial Home Re-union was held in the Bank of Montreal Chambers, and there was present a representative though small attendance of subscribers and guarantors.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, Chairman, briefly explained the objects of the meeting and the Association.

He stated that the guarantors had not been called upon to pay anything to the Bank for the moneys which had been advanced to obtain transportation for the families of the British workmen who were employed in Peterborough, and who desired to bring their families for mthe Old Country. Some workingmen had been out of work this winter, but the reports presented were most encouraging and the liabilities had been reduced, so there was no danger of the guarantors being called upon to pay.

Peterborough, March 6th, 1914.

Gentlemen,— I beg to submit the first annual report of this Association since the organization meeting held on June 12th, 1912.

During 1912 four meetings were held and seven applications were received and recommended to the trustees to be provided with the transportation required.

During the same period three applications were received which were not granted.

During 1913 eighteen meetings were held and twenty-five applications were received and recommended to the trustees to provide the transportation required.

During the same period five applications were received, which were not granted.

Letters have been received from some of those assisted by the Association expressing heartfelt thanks for assistance given and wihing the Association every success. Such letters as these are appreciated, a they help to compensate the Association for the work it is doing in an effort to reunite the families which of necessity have been separated for the time being.

On January 30th, 1913, I had the privilege of representing this Association at a conference of the Toronto Housing Company held in the City Hall, and with representatives from a large number of cities in Ontario. Special legislation has since been obtained to carry on this work.

All of which is respectfully submitted, I am,

Yours sincerely,
J. J. TURNER, Jr.
Secretary.

The report of the Bank was presented by Mr. J. Johns and showed that Association had brought to Peterborough 109 persons and spent $3,337.58 in transportation. There was still due from the various workingmen, $825.74, which is reduced by the commission account which is used as a rest account by $187.33.

The persons brought to Peterborough constituted about forty families, with those members of the families which had already been in Peterborough, so that in all probability these families have spent in Peterborough since their coming to the City, between $20,000.00 and $30,000.00, as they usually sell their furniture and most of their household goods in the Old Country before coming to Peterborough.

The Association limits its work to the families of British workmen who have situations in Peterborough, and whose families desire to follow them to the City, and the result of the year's work by the Association has been to bring to the City a first-class type of citizen from different parts of the British Isles.

The Advisory Board and Committee of Recommendations, was elected as follows: Messrs. Pitchford, Stocker, Johns, Jay, Father McColl, J. J. Turner, Jr., G. N. Gordon and W. J. Oke.

This Board and Committee afterwards held a meeting and elected Mr. G. N. Gordon Chairman, and Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., Secretary. As Mr. Turner desired to be out of the City two or three months this summer, he asked leave to resign, but the Board unanimously offered to obtain a substitute for the time Mr Turner would be away, in order to retain his services for the nauing year.

It is to be hoped that during the succeeding year, the work will be carried on with more enthusiasm than ever.

FELL IN A FAINT

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes: "Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor. I could not speak without fainting. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has so built up my system that I can wash and do my housework. Your medicine cured me when doctors had failed."

Renwick-Telgmann Recital

In the days of Pan and Mercury it is said that music moved mountains. In our own days the same power is going to aid materially in the erection of the proposed sanatorium, if there are many concerts as delightful as that presented in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall last night, and having the same object. Mrs. J. H. Renwick and Miss Mignonne Telgmann provided as pleasant a little evening as one could wish for. The proceeds were in aid of the building fund of the sanatorium, which the members of the Peterborough Health Association have set their hearts to build. Dr. F. C. Neal, who acted as chairman, stated that it was the first concert for this purpose. The silver collection enabled the citizens to make individual contributions, and the swelling of the funds by this means would create a deeper interest in the institution than if its erection were made possible by one donation. It is hoped that similar concerts will be held before the close of the season and if they prove as pleasurable as last night's they should make a wide appeal.

Mrs. Renwick, who is soprano soloist at the George Street Methodist Church, presented a nicely selected programme of varying demand. She contributed in a large measure to the enjoyment of the evening. Her last number, Tosti's "Good-Bye," was splendidly rendered. Mrs. Renwick easily responding to the local requirements but also showing fine appreciation of the spirit of this old favourite. Strelezki's "Happy Days" posseses marked lyrical qualities, which Mrs. Renwick brought out beautifully. The double number, "Orange Blossoms," and "Oh, Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy," was well received, both selections being capably rendered. Mrs. Renwick displays a pleasing soprano, very effective and round in the middle and upper registers. Her control is easy and confident, and her sympathies are broad and keenly appreciative.

Miss Telgmann's art scarcely requires reference. One feels the progress she is making and yet so finished has been her work in the past that is it difficult to point out just wherein she has made improvement. One of the principal charms of her work is the fine, round tone which she seems to maintain so easily. It has the clear and distinct outline of a cameo, and there is confidence to a pronounced degree in her efforts, and grace, and above all a talented interpretation. There was a wide variance in the subject thoughts of her selections, but Miss Telgmann showed no hesitation in adapting her expression to the demands of the different numbers.

Her first, "Zigeunerweisen" (Gipsy Airs) with its different movements translated different effects, all of them of a Gipsy touch, but differing in sentiment.

The sequence of the weird, the lyrical and again the sense of abandon was nicely brought out. Liast Rhapsodie No. 2 exemplified the finished work that Miss Telgmann is capable of. It is always a big number and the young Collegiate girl acquitted herself very creditably. A suite of four numbers emphasized her intelligent interpretation. They were the Prize Song from the Meistersinger von Nurneberg, by Wagner. Schon Rosmarin" a very pretty number, Angels' Lullaby, which was both lulling and angelic, and Schuber's "L'Abeille" (The Bee.) These numbers were thoroughly appreciated. Miss Telgmann strikes a bold tone when required, and maintains it with but little effort, and, as in the lullaby, her notes shade off to a sigh or a caress that are most inspiring.

Her sister, Miss Norma Telgmann, of Kingston, played with her sister. Sharwenka's Polish Dance, offering one of the best number of the evening. Both Mrs. Renwick and Miss Telgmann were generous with their encores. The more one hears Mr. John H. Renwick as accompanist, the more does his work impress. He had a long session at the piano last night, and his playing was most satisfying. Never flustered, he misses nothing, and above all has the sense of fitness that marks a good accompanist.

Miss Telgmann and Mrs. Renwick received several beautiful bouquets, and at the conclusion of the recital a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Renwick and the Misses Telgmann for the enjoyment their music had afforded and for their efforts in the interests of the Health Association's big ambition. It was moved by Mr. James Kendrey and seconded by Mr. R. W. Travers.

It All Depends on the Liver

So important is the liver and so great is its influence on the other vital organs of the body that it may be said you have little to fear from the ordinary ills of life so long as the liver is in healthful working order. The digestive processes are so dependent on free action of the liver that any derangement of this organ soon brings trouble.

Biliousness and constipation follow, with headache and depressed spirits. Additional work is thrown on the kidneys and soon the whole eliminating system is deranged and the blood carries poisons through the body. Careful eating is a great help towards keeping the liver right, but when it does get wrong there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to restore the liver to healthful action.

With the secretion of bile by the liver, constipation and biliousness are cured, and the digestive and excretary systems are set in order. It is wondrful the benefit obtained by a few doses of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills under these circumstances. A trial will convince you of their superior merit.

There Is a Simpler, Better Method of Hanging Wall Paper

IT CONCERNS THOSE BEAUTIFUL CROWN BORDERINGS WHICH, UP TO THE present time have been painstakingly cut out, and pasted on after the other paper was hung.

There was much planning and matching to do, and a great deal of time was expended while the cost of decoration was proportionately higher.

So to simplify this beautiful style of papering, Robert Graves & Co., of New York, introduced the new method of printing the border directly on the roll, thus eliminating the tiresome cutting out and making the hanging of these lovely bordered effects as simple as it ever could be.

There are five crown borders to every roll, giving five 10-ft. lengths of paper, which is surely ample for the loftiest of rooms. The designs are many and varied, are all of the highest artistic order and can be procured for any room in the house. A number of these handsome papers are now displayed in our centre window, while many more are shown in the department on the Third Floor. And we shall be pleased to estimate for you, any proposed decoration in this direction that you may be considering.

A RED WEEK FOR SOCIALISTS OF GERMANY

Special to The Examiner:

BERLIN, March 7.—The week beginning to-morrow has been set aside as "Red Week" by the German Socialist party, and is to be made the occasion for great demonstrations. The week will be devoted by all the Socialist organizations in the Empire to a great effort to increase the membership in the party and to secure fresh subscribers for the Socialist newspapers. Mass meetings are to be held in all parts of the Empire, and it has been agreed that female suffrage will be advocated by the speakers at all the meetings.

THE DIETZ MURDER TRIAL ON MONDAY

Examiner Special:

CHICAGO, Ill., March 7.—After several postponments the trial of Mrs. Augusta Dietz and George Nurnberg, under indictments for the murder of the woman's husband, George Dietz, is to begin in Judge Kersten's Court, Monday. Dietz was found murdered in his home on April 14th, 1913, his skull having been beaten in with a hammer. Both Mrs. Dietz and Nurnberg have maintained their innocence of any complicity in the murder, though the latter is alleged to have admitted a criminal intimacy with Mrs. Dietz.

Dollar Day is for every person in the City or District to profit by.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK 70 YEARS OLD

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NEW YORK, March 7.—Anthony Comstock, whose activities at the head of the New York Society for the Prevention of Vice have given him a nation-wide celebrity, celebrated his seventieth birthday to-day. It is no exaggeration to say that the name of Anthony Comstock is probably better known than that of any other man in New York. At the same time there exists a wide variance of opinion concerning the man and his work. Many have been heard to declare their opinion that he is a mere notoriety seeker. Others, and among them many persons who do not approve of his methods, are firmly convinced that Mr. Comstock has done more than any other person to crush organized vice and eliminate individual depravity in America's largest city.

An idea of the extent of Comstock's work can be realized when it is known that he has made upwards of 5,000 arrests, obtained more than half that number of convictions, and destroyed several hundred tons of indecent literature.

It is more than forty years since Comstock first became an active worker in the crusade against vice. One of his first arrests was of a man named Kelly, whom he succeeded in convicting on a charge of selling improper pictures. On his way to prison Kelly drew a knife and cut a vicious gash in Comstock's cheek. The scar remains, and that is why Comstock wears the flowing whiskers.

It was to Comstock's little office in Nassau Street that Harry Thaw went for help when he believed that young girls were being imperilled in studios. Other incidents that have brought Mr. Comstock prominently before the public in recent years were his condemnation of Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks," his confiscation of Joseph Young's $10,000 collection of pictures and his threat to arrest every woman whom he saw wearing a sheath gown.

SPECIAL SERMON AT ST. ANDREW'S

ELECTIONS IN SPAIN

Examiner Special:

MADRID, March 7.—All Spain is awaiting with interest the outcome of the political battle to be fought out at the polls to-morrow. Seldom before have the issues at stake in a campaign for the election of members of the chamber of deputies been so momentous, or the feeling between the opposing parties been so high. Hundreds of candidates have been nominated in the 400 districts of the Empire, but the real battle is between the United Liberal and Democratic parties, which now have a majority in the chamber, and the Conservative elements which are struggling to dispossess them.

THE HOME RULE SITUATION IS NOW BRIGHTER

Prospects of Sunshine Ahead as a Result of the Developments in Past Four Days

WAITING FOR MONDAY

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 7.—Englishmen having recovered from their surprise over the changes in the Home Rule situation, this week, are generally wholly pleased. While theoretically we dislike kingly interference in state affairs, it is generally felt that if the King, as is freely stated, is responsible for inducing the Cabinet to suggest the generous compromise now proposed he has once more done good service for the Empire. Four days ago the position was as black as it could be. To-day there are prospects of sunshine ahead. The Liberals were at first disheartened by the suggested terms of compromise. They felt, and many said, that the leaders had surrendered a vital principle for mere clamour. Second thoughts are greatly modifying this view. It is realized that the Government has set a splendid patriotic principle in placing national peace before mere party prestige. The attitude of the Nationalists during this anxious week has done much to increase the general confidence in their patriotism. Even now, however, we do not know all the Government plans. No official announcement has been made and the statement that the ministry will offer that any Irish County may have the right to vote itself in our Irish Parliament for a three-years' period, while universally accpeted as true, lacks authority, and some of the best informed politicians hint not obscurely that Premier Asquith will spring some real surprises on the Commons on Monday. It is supposed that the Government plan is half way between a cleancut exclusion of Ulster, which the Liberals refused to give, and compulsory inclusion of unwilling peoples under Dublin rule.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD

Important Resolution Dealing with Sale of Cheese off the Board

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held this morning in the Bank of Montreal chambers. The following officers were elected:

W. C. Switzer—President.
G. W. Mann, Vice President.
E. Hawthorne—Secretary Treasurer
J. Miller and W. J. Bullock, Auditors.

Mr. T. Watkins, buyer of Belleville, addressed the Board stating that he has just returned from England, and that the prospects for the season in the cheese trade was bright indeed, but that butter was realizing at present 28 cents per pound. He also was very much opposed to the contracting for cheese of the Board and was in favour of expelling any buyer who was guilty of the practice.

The following important resolution was passed:

Moved by E. Hawthorne, seconded by J. Miller, and carried unanimously, that the resolution of June 4th, 1913, and referred to the annual meeting, is hereby incorporated as a rule of this board, viz.: "That any buyer or his representative that has purchased cheese on the Peterborough Board, bargains with any factory that has been selling or is located within the distance of twenty-five miles of the City of Peterborough for their cheese be expelled or not allowed to be a buyer on said Board. Also that the Secretary be authorized to notify each firm buying on the Peterborough Cheese Board and the factories selling on the Board; that this rule will be rigorously enforced without fear or favour.

The first meeting of the Board will be held on May 20.

The members are determined to uphold their regulations this year, and lok forward to a good season.

PREPARE FOR BOWLERS

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 7.—When the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress is opened in this City next Monday the visiting bowlers will be greeted with a perfection of arrangements that has seldom been equalled in the history of the big annual tournaments. The officials in charge confidently predict that the event will establish a new standard of success for the tenpin game. The number of contestants is expected to smash the previous high record. Buffalo's location is expected to attract more bowlers from Canada and the East than have competed before in the A. B. C. tournaments, while the middle West is counted upon to send its customary large delegations.

Death Comes To Ex-Premier

CALLED TO THE BAR.

During his career as a schoolmaster and inspector, the future premier of Ontario studied law, and was called to the bar in 1887.

Always a staunch believer in reciprocity with the United States, Sir George in 1889, introduced a resolution in the House of Commons which subsequently gave rise to an agitation looking to that end.

As a member of the Fourth Estate, Sir George was for a time editor of the Ontario Teacher, an educational journal, and at one time one of the chief editorial writers for the Toronto Globe.

TEMPERANCE MAN.

He was, in 1879, elected Most Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance of North America; attended the British and Colonial Temperance Congress, held in London in 1886, and was elected a vice-president of the Ontario Prohibitory Alliance in 1896.

A past president of the Canadian Authors' Society, Sir George is the author of several brochures, among others: "Formative Influences in Canadian History"; "Shall Canada be Always a Dependency of the Empire?"; "The Making of the Canadian Constitution"; "The Historical Significance of the Plains of Abraham," and several treatises relating to the schools of Canada and other countries. He also collaborated with William Buckingham in "The Life and Times of the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie."

SOME PUBLIC OFFICES.

Some of the positions held by Sir George during his busy life, which brought him prominently into the public eye, were: Chairman of the Fielding Testimonial Committee, which raised $120,000 for that statesman; member of the Quebec Interprovincial Conference, 1897; vice-president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, 1897; president of the Dominion Educational Association; representated Ontario at the Coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, in Westminster Abbey, in 1902; called to the Senate by Earl Grey in January, 1907, and was knighted by King George in 1910.

SHORTER CATECHISM.

A Free Mason and a Presbyterian, Sir George is an elder of St. Andrew's church, Toronto, and was twice a delegate to the Pan-Presbyterian Conference, one in Glasgow, in 1896, and one in New York, in 1898.

As a Parliamentary orator, public speaker and lecturer, he took high rank, and was referred to by the Toronto Globe as "A monarch of oratory."

RESUME OF POLITICAL LIFE.

In "Getting Into Parliament and After," his crowning literary work, published last year, Sir George gave, as the title of his book indicates, a resume of his political life.

While a member of the Commons, Sir George appears to have taken no very prominent part, judging by his reminiscences. After telling how, being unseated as member for the Federal seat in West Middlesex, he was offered and accepted the Legislative seat for the same riding, Sir George described conditions as they were in early days when, as he said, "The Legislature was under the spell of Sandfield Macdonald's economic fatalism."

In 1899 he entered on the premiership with a majority of 11, and in 1902 the majority was reduced to 4. Then came the valedictory:

"For two years I grappled with my evil star. But in 1904, with the uncertainty of pending by-elections, and the uncomfortable feeling that the Government did not represent a majority of the electorate, I decided to dissolve the House. The 26th of January following was the day fixed for the elections. When the polls closed there was no doubt at to the result. The time for a change so long predicted had come."

PROMOTION "HONORIS CAUSA."

Then, in 1907, as Sir George said, "he graduated into the Senate of Canada, to complete his political education. He had studied statecraft for eleven years in the House of Commons, and had 24 years' laboratory practice in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. If long training was qualification for advancement, I had a right to promotion honoris causa."

Most of one long chapter in Sir George's book is devoted to a description of the traditions, functions, and "mistaken popular prejudices" against the Senate.

"The Canadian Senate has spheres of usefulness not yet cultivated to any great extent, which, if entered upon, would increase its influence and make it a more powerful factor in the body politic."

Anglo-Scots International Trial Match Discussed Team To Oppose England

The Anglo-Scot Was Introduced to Oppose England in the Annual International Contest--See Late Edition of Examiner for British Football Results.

At a meeting of the Scottish Football Association Council, the question of the advisability of a continuance of the Anglo-Scots International Trial match was dicussed. Some twenty years ago the Anglo-Scot was introduced into the Scottish team to oppose England in the annual International contest, and no matter how the "home" partisan may regard the matter, the utility of the "emigrated" Scot has undoubtedly been invaluable in the past. Times, however, have changed; and many sections consider that a team of Home Scots could easily be selected to give the land of the Rose a hard game, and a probable trouncing, and those who are of this way of thinking refer to the League International between the two countries in March last year as a substantiation of their arguments.

Though the decision of the Football Association will not be taken until the beginning of next month as to whether the final of the English Cup is to be played at the Crystal Palce or elsewhere this year, the enthusiasts who wish to see the game are not running any risks of losing their seats, for it is officially stated that all the ring seats and the places on the covered stands have been applied for, and so there will only be uncovered stand accommodation available.

Liverpool have strengthened what has been one of the weakest positions in their league team since the season opened by securing the transfer of J. Nicol from Middlesborough.

Nicol formerly played for the Airdrieonians.

Robert Macdougall, who played at centre forward for Liverpool at West Bromwich, and scored the only goal of the game, is one of the present season's recruits of Anfield. He was originally an outside right, but occasionally figured at centre forward for St. Cuthbert's Wanderers, a Dumfriesshire club.

It is an open secret that G. S. Ramsay was expected at Cathkin Park when he left Rangers, but Ayr wooed him successfully. Unfortunately Ayr have no interest this season in the Scottish Cup, because of their early defeat in the qualifying, and as Ramsay is uncommitted, he may assist the "Warriors" at inside right. Third Lanark have a vacancy for him there, because Ferguson, their regular man, has committed for St. Bernards, and is therefore ineligible for the Scottish ties.

As a result of an application under the Workmen's Compensation Act by Samuel Frost, the old Manchester City and Millwall player, the Millwall Club offered to pay the cost of an operation on his injured knee and the expenses of a nursing home, and this offer was accepted by the judge and the arbitrator. Frost has already had more than the average footballer's life, and the judge complimented the Millwall Club upon their sportsmanship and generosity in making such an offer. Frost is perfectly willing to undergo the operation and has high hopes of playing again.

The transfer of Joseph Clennel, of the Blackburn Rovers, to Everton, occasioned much surprise to the followers of the former club, for the secret had been well kept. The Rovers have probably made a good deal, for it is understood that Clennel cost them about $3,000, and it is said that his transfer to Everton was in the neighbourhood of $7,500.

Newcastle United have offered $5,000 and the transfer of John King the ex-Partick Thistle forward, if Morton will part with Bradford, their brilaint goalkeeper.

Mr. Cuffe, the manager of Everton, has secured the transfer of Bobby Parker, the well known forward of the famous Glasgow Rangers' team. The fee paid for Parker is not stated.

Manchester City have secured the transfer of Edward Hanney, the brilliant centre half-back of Reading, at a fee stated to reach over four figures.

Sheldon, Manchester United's' well-known understudy to Billy Meredith, has been transferred to Liverpool. The fee is a substantial one.

Harry Lowe, the famous Sunderland half-back, has been placed on the transfer list. Harry has been the handy man of the team during the six seasons he has been with the team. We rather fancy it is in part due to the very fact that during the past season Harry has not had a permanent position in the team. If, however, the placing of Lowe's name on the list is at his own request, Harry cannot very well be blamed, for after all he has his interests to look after as well.

Everton's two Pages may follow in the footsteps of the brothers Balmer. If they are as successful as William and Bob were, Everton will be satisfied.

Barnes, Derby County; Smoth, Crystal Palace, and King, Northampton, have all reached the dozen goals' mark in the list of goal scores.

Sheffielders are of the opinion that in Harold Gough, they have the finest goalkeeper since Billy Foulkes was at his best.

The Throstlers' defence is proving to be the most powerful in the league. The nine goals put up against them is the lowest in the league.

Barnsley must have made a small fortune out of their three transferred half-backs and centre forward, if reports be true. They must have a happy chancellor.

Angus Douglas seems to have created a very favourable impression upon Newcastle's supporters. United have got a model footballer in the ex-Chelsea man, and his style of play on the right wing gives cause for favourable commend.

What a number of Newcastle district men are in London clubs at present. Woolwich have now Benson, Jobey, Jack Rutherford, Winship, Burrell, Randall, Hardinge, King, all from Tyneside. Would the club not be better named London Tynesides?

KING GEORGE SCHOOL WON

The King George School hockey teamdefeated Mahood's pick-up seven by the score of 2 to 1, in a fast and exciting game of hockey, at the Brock Street Rink, this morning between nine and ten o'clock. The score is an indication of the evenness of the play and keen excitement reigned throughout the contest. S. Hagerman and Jack Gillespie scored the two goals for the East City School, while Roy Scriver played a stellar game in goal. The teams were as follows:

Harry Wolter claims the New York Yankees put the boen on him when they sold him to Los Angeles. The former New York gardener says Los Angeles has offered him only fifty per cent. of what he received in salary last season.

The Crandall brothers, Otis and Carl, will probably work for rival clubs in the same city this season. The Indianapolis Federals claim Otis, while Carl has signed with the Indianapolis American Association team.

BERLIN CAPTURES THE INTERMEDIATE TITLE

Orillia Won the Game Last Night by 3 Goals to 1 But Flying Dutchmen's Lead of Two Goals Was Too Much for the Northerners.

ORILLIA, March 6—Berlin won the O. A. A. intermediate championship here this evening, its four-goal lead in the first round being more than the home team could overcome on sticky ice. The score was Orillia 3, Berlin 1, making the total for the round Berlin 5, Orillia 3. The game was clean from start to finish and, although the players worked hard, the play was not fast, owing to the heavy ice.

The only goal scored in the first half was tallied by Orillia eight minutes after the face-off. Orillia had the better of the play from the outset, and the Dutchmen soon realised that their only chance to win the silver was to keep Orillia from breaking through their defence. Three times as many shots were raised on Berlin goal as on the home goal. The condition of the ice favoured the visitors, as they were much the heavier men, and used the body to advantage. The second period opened with the score 1 to 0. Orillia soon tallied another, then Berlin got its only goal, and one more for Orillia completed the scoring.

Trushinsky, Berlin's right defence, was the visitors' best man, with Solamon a good second, but Jupp, Orillia's fast right wing, outskated any player on the ice. Harvey and McDonald were also worthy of special mention.

Orillia has no reason to be ashamed of its intermediate team. This was the first season in the game for five out of the seven players. Jupp and Perryman played with the Juniors last year, but the others were all new. To have been runners-up for the O. H. A. championship and lose it by the small margin of two goals is an excellent first-year record. Special trains brought a large number from Berlin and Midland, and hundreds were unable to gain admission to the rink. The lineup:

Kid McCoy To Re-enter Prize Ring

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NEW YORK, March 7.—Recent arrivals from Paris say the Carpentier-McCoy bout, which is set for one week from to-night, is being billed all over the French capital like a circus. Which goes to show that McCoy has either hypnotised the promoters or that the promoters have cooked up something to grab a few thousand francs on strength of the Kid's reputation. It is impossible to find a ring follower hereabouts who believes McCoy has even an outside chance with the young and brilliant Carpentier.

McCoy's last fight of any consequence was with one Curran, a petty officer in the British Navy, at Nice two years ago. The Kid lost several teeth and was knocked down three times in the first round, but kept right on fighting and was awarded the decision at the end of the twentieth round.

Now after two years of idleness he is to don the mitts and face one of the cleverest boxers of the day. If McCoy was the Hoosier demon of ten or twelve years ago there would be bales of money bet that Europe would see a new champion after the bout next Saturday night. But Father Time permits no turning back of the records, and the Kid at forty-one finds himself stacked against a young and sturdy boxer who has not yet reached the voting age on this side. McCoy may still possess some of his old-time cleverness which will enable him to stall for a time, but from this distance it looks as though he is tagged for a trimming.

A wonder in his day, but always too light to aspire to the heavyweight crown, "Kid" McCoy, whose real name is Norman Selby, has had a most spectacular career. He started life in Rush County, Indiana, and after battling his way among the youngsters in his neighborhood he left home and went to Louisville. Here he became known as a crack amateur boxer. His father in the meantime had gone into the grocery business in Indianapolis and induced his son to join him there. But weighing in for a fight suited the Kid better than weighing out sugar and tea, and it wasn't long before he blossomed out as a full-fledged professional fighter. This was about the year 1891. In three or four years he had worked his way to quite a reputation.

In 1896 he and several other American boxers took the famous trip to South Africa. McCoy was the sensation of the tour, and when he returned to America he was considered a top-notcher. In 1897 he knocked out George La Blanche, won a decision over Dan Creedon, and boxed a draw with Tommy Ryan. His first real defeat came in 1900, when Tom Sharkey put him down for the count in ten rounds. A year later he encountered his second downfall, this time at the hands of Jim Corbett. But in the meantime he had defeated such fighters as Steve O'Donnell, Peter Maher and Joe Choynski.

In 1901 McCoy took a trip to England. While on the other side he added three more knockouts to his record, his victims being Dave Barry, Jack Scales and Jack Madden. After losing a decision to Jack Root in Detroit in 1903 the Kid retired for about a year. He re-entered the ring on April 4, 1904, in Philadelphia. His opponent was Herman Thacke, who tipped the beam at something about a ton, and was hailed as the greatest fighter in Europe. He might have been a great fighter, but in the bout with McCoy he didn't get a chance to show it. In the two rounds he was in the ring he hit the floor so many times it was impossible to keep the count. After this burlesque bout with the big Dutchman McCoy did the Patti farewell act several times.

During the periods of his retirement McCoy has engaged in the real estate, automobile, jewellery and detective business. He has also been a star in the matrimonial game, and at present is burdened with the weight of five marriage certificates and four divorce decrees.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

Though Ottawa beat London for the Canadian League pennant, the Senators lost out in the first scrap of the 1914 season with the Cockneys. Shortstop Whitecraft of the Richmond (Virginia) club, whom both the Canadian Leaguers were after, has signed with London. Manager Shaughnessy wanted Whitecraft badly, but Doc. Reisling, the London manager, has been working on the quiet since he was appointed manager of the London club and, hailing from where Whitecraft comes from, got the inside track. "It cost London a pretty figure to land Whitecraft. He purchased his own release from Richmond for $500 and it's a cinch London paid the money. Whitecraft hit .286 last year.

One Frank Kelly, a resident of Erie, and who wore the windpad with considerable success last season, has caused a merry little mixup between Manager Reisling of the London Club and Manager Blount of Peterborough. Kelly was recommended to the London Club by Louis Bierbauer and, it is said that he, in a letter, accepted the terms of Reisling and afterwards signed with Curley Blount's outfit. Reisling made a battle for his services but he has been awarded to Peterborough.

President Tom Nelson's Brantford mail bag is a pretentious affair these days. Every day there are tidings, gladsome and otherwise, contained in the wallet of the mailman which arrives at baseball headquarters. Perhaps the most promising communication received by the President was that of yesterday afternoon from Del Chase of Chicago. It is not known whether Del is a brother of the famous Hal Chase or not, although Hal Chase is sojourning with the Chicago White Sox. Be that as it may, Del did not trade on Hal's reputation in seking a job with Brantford. He said he was a southpaw pitcher, with two years' experience in Class C, and had an offer to go to San Antonio this year, but being married did not want to go so far from home. He remarked that he had a good curve ball, good control, and good speed for a southpaw. If Del Chase has all these things he is just the man that Rube Denau wants and President Nelson wasted no time in wafting the application Windsorwards, to the home of the Rube.

Charlotte St. Win Junior Church League

Scoring four goals in the last four minutes, Charlotte Street nosed out the round from Knox Church last night, and are the winners of the Allen Shield, emblematic of the Junior Church League championship. Knox Church had a lead of two goals from the first game and were ahead 3 to 1 in last night's fixture when penalties cost them the game. With less than five minutes to go, three of the Presbyterians were ruled off in rapid succession, and Charlotte Street took advantage of the occasion, scoring four goals in a row, puttting them ahead 5 to 3 on the game and 6 to 5 on the round. Knox had a chance to tie up when they broke through, but Thompson came out and blocked the shot. For the winners, Huycke and Thompson were the best, while Bartley, Montgomery and Daynard starred for the losers. Harold Knapman refereed.

KITE'S LONG JOURNEY.

A war kite, which two girls were flying at Fairbourne, near Bar. mouth, has just made a long journey across the Irish Sea, travelling 120 miles over the sea. The string broke, and the kite, instead of falling, ascended rapidly out over the Irish Sea. Early the next morning it was found by a fisherman in a field 200 yards inland of Cuscore Point, Ireland. It was given to the son of a visitor, and, finding an addressed postcard which had been sent up the string by "messenger," he returned the kite.

NEW J. P.'S APPOINTED

The latest batch of Justices of the Peace appointed by the Ontario Government over the signature of W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, and doubtless through the instrumentality of Mr. E. A. Peck, the local member, has been announced as follows: Robert Fair, Henry W. Morgan, T. A. S. Hay, and R. E. Layfield. Mr. John K. Galvin, of Emismore, and Mr. J. H. Garbutt, of Smith, have also been appointed. It is understood that Mr. Hay declines to act. Harry W. Morgan is ex-Alderman Morgan of East City. Their appointment requires that they prove a certain property qualification and take the prescribed oath.

RONUK on Linoleum

Linoleum is really quite porous. Water and dust penetrate the pores and rot the fibre and fabric, making it brittle and easily worn through, and causing it to crack.

RONUK FLOOR POLISH

—prevents this and doubles the life of linoleum. A light application of Ronuk seals up all these pores, preserves the fibre, retains its pliability, and brightens its appearance.

Ronuk produces a smooth surface from which all dust may be wiped with a dry cloth, it is never necessary to scrub it. Ronuk is sanitary. Try Ronuk on your linoleum as well as on your hardwood floors, and you will be surprised.

Upturn In The Stock Market

Was Followed by a Gradual Decline —Prospects Are Encouraging

NEW YORK, March 7—A sharp upturn followed by a gradual decline that threatened to eliminate all the gains featured the Stock Market today. C.P.R. opened at a new low level for the week, closing at less night's opening. Chesapeake and Ohio, which has acted badly during the week, registered a gain of over a point. The whole list moved upwards for the first hour and then sagged towards the close. News from outside sources are favourable to the buying element and there is every reason to believe that the opening of a new week will witness an improvement.

Reserve decrease	$ 9,776,500
Loans increase	23,839,000
Specie decrease	2,652,000
Legals decrease	3,356,000
Deposits increase	18,714,050

BE SURE IT'S THE "AUBURN HAIR GIRL"

You can use nothing better than Parisian Sage to make the hair soft, fluffy and abundant. It stops itching head, cleanses, cools and invigorates the scalp, and removes dandruff with one application.

If your hair is getting thin, or is harsh, dull and lifeless, do not despair—follow the example of others whose hair you admire—give it daily attention. A thorough brushing and frequent applications of Parisian Sage well rubbed into the scalp will do wonders.

If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Nourish the scalp with Parisian Sage and dandruff disappears.

When the hair splits, is dry, brittle and thin, soften it up, make it grow, Surely use Parisian Sage—it supplies hair and scalp needs. It is faintly perfumed and free from grease and stickiness. Parisian Sage really does make the head feel fine—the scalp perfectly healthy and gives the hair that enviable gloss and beauty you desire. Money back from Warne Drug Co. if you are not satisfied.

The "Girl With the Auburn Hair" is on every 50 cent bottle. Sold at drug and toilet counters everywhere. Try it now—you will surely like Parisian Sage.

The happy couple will reside in Smith, and have the best wishes of a large number of friends.—Lakefield News.

OBITUARY

SUDDEN DEATH AT BETHANY.

The sudden death of Mr. James Graham took place at "Pleasant View," Bethany, at 11 o'clock on Monday morning, March 2. That day Mr. Graham arose at his accustomed hour, ate a hearty breakfast, and was apparently as well as usual. He was reading a newspaper when he collapsed, and expired suddenly. He was a gentleman held in the highest esteem by all who knew him, was respected far and near for his sterling integrity, was a devout Methodist, and was unmarried. He is survived by one sister and three brothers: Mrs. Blakely of Bethany; Mr. Thomas R. Graham, Postmaster, Bethany; Mr Wm. Graham, Mount Pleasant; and Mr. John H. Graham of Millbrook.

LATE SERVICE WILL BE APPRECIATED

The public will appreciate the changes in the Radial Railway car service as announced last night, by which it will be possible to secure a car home as late as 11 o'clock, instead of some minutes before that hour as hitherto. The change only applies to Saturday nights. Outbound cars will leave as follows:

Auburn, 5 minutes after 11 p.m.

Jackson Park, 5 minutes after 11 p.m.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS HELD 2ND ANNUAL BANQUET

The second annual banquet of the Public School teachers of the City was held in Coleman's last night, with an attendance of sixty. Among the guests were School Inspector Mowat and members of the Teachers' Guild. An enjoyable evening was spent. The fare was of the best and the post prandial proceedings included speeches, songs and readings. There is a wealth of musical talent among the Public School teachers.

Former Priest Of Peterboro' Died In Hamilton

Rev. Dean Coty Performed His First Priestly Duties at St. Peter's

HAMILTON, March 6.—This afternoon, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Rev. Dean J. H. Coty died after an illness of several months from heart trouble. In his death the Roman Catholic Church in this diocese loses one of its best known and best loved priests, and many Protestants will join with the members of that communion in lamenting his death, which will come as a surprise to many, for though it was known that he was seriously ill, it was not known generally that his condition was critical. The late Dean Coty was born at Oakville fifty-one years ago, the son of Louis Coty, and received his early education there. He studied for the priesthood at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and the Grand Seminary, Montreal, being elevated to the priesthood twenty-five years ago. His first charge was in Peterborough Diocese, and later he came to Hamilton, where, after serving for several years and taking an interest in separate school work, he went to Dundalk, later returning to Hamilton. He became rector of St. Patrick's fourteen years ago, and during his incumbency did much to improve the property and strengthen the spiritual life of the parish. His remains were removed to the presbytery, and will lie there until Sunday afternoon, when they will be removed to the church. Bishop Dowling will celebrate Pontifical Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock Monday. Interment will be at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. He is survived by one brother, Louis, of Oakville, and one sister, Miss Lena, this city.

SOME THINGS AND A FEW OTHERS

Some day when dreams come true there will be belt lines and night cars on the Street Railway system. The 11 o'clock Saturday night innovation should be welcome.

Here's hoping the Weather Man's snow supply is nearly exhausted. Yesterday's "hand-out" was very good in its place—back in January.

If the 1914 styles are any more abbreviated or transparent than those of last year you might be expected to look for a display sign with an inscription such as "Passed by the Ontario Board of Censors."

What would some men do for adjectives if their limited vocabularies were suddenly stripped of profanity?

And the women seemed so determined when they presented their petition.

Just about the time the ground hog emerges, there will also come forth the spring poet.

When some of the bunch get back to the job they will simply eat up the work—for awhile.

Mr. Da s, of the Foley-Gleason Company, was in the city recently. The first work of the spring will be the laying of the bricks between the car rails.

There is a danger that this winter stuff will become the least bit monotonous.

MR. W. COROS RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON

Mr. Wm. Coros of the Boston Cafe has returned from Washington re splendent with a nobby red, white, and blue tie. It is the cutest thing seen in quite a while and is a fitting background for his horshoe of diamonds. Mr. Coros attended the big demonstration of the Knights of Pythias and afterwards spent a week in New York and for a few days in Buffalo. Bill is back again on the hustle with his motto hung up: "Business, my dear fellow, business."

A Presentation

On Wednesday evening last representatives of the Sunday School, the Choir, the Ladies' Bible Class and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gerrard, 95 Princess Street, and read an address, accompanied by a beautiful reading lamp to Mr. Gerrad, and a silver server to Mrs. Gerrard. The address was read by Miss G. Mowat, while Mrs. Kerr and Mr. Treneer presented the gifts.

The address was as follows:

Dear Friends,—It is with feelings of genuine pleasure that we meet here as representatives of the Sunday School, the Choir, the Ladies' Bible Class and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, to voice their appreciation of your long and untiring service while in their midst.

You were no mere passive members but active in the truest sense of the word, and we remember with feelings of admiration the many practical duties you undertook and performed in the most praiseworthy manner. We are confident that having entered upon a similar work in a sister congregation you will continue to exert an influence for good.

Following in your footsteps we also wish to show our appreciation of your co-work among us in a practical manner, and therefore ask you to accept these tokens, accompanied by the wish of all, that you may find life both agreeable and prosperous amidst your new surroundings.

On behalf of Mr. Gerrad and his wife, Mr. Gerrard, in a few well-chosen words, expressed their appreciation of the kindness of their friends of St. Andrew's Church.

Presbytery Will Meet On Tuesday

The Presbytery of Peterborough will meet in Knox Church on Tuesday morning next at 9 o'clock when a number of important matters will come up for discussion. Among these will be a call from Springville and Lakevale, and the relationship of Omemee, Millbrook and Bethany, as a pastorate charge. Reports from the various departmnts will be given.

There were fourteen fewer medical schools in the United States in 1913 than in 1912, about 1200 fewer students and about 500 fewer graduates.

SIR GEORGE'S READY WIT WON MANY A SHARP CLASH ON THE PLATFORM

"Is This Man a Windmill or a Watermill?" Was Effect of Thrust at Orator, Who Drank Much Water as He Spoke --Sir John Macdonald's Remark on "That Little Devil" Ross.

In a life so crowded with achievement as was that of the late Sir George Ross, it is a matter of some difficulty to select from among the many happenings incidental to his career, the events which had a bearing on his success.

Interesting sidelights in abundance on the character of the man are contained, however, in the many little anecdotes and stories which his old constituents in Strathroy and the surrounding riding of West Middlesex, delight to tell. To them Sir George was more than a parliamentary representative. They regarded him as a warm personal friend, and felt gratification at the success which came to him during his career.

His Great Repartee.

Among those who followed his political career with a great real of interest was Mr. Rowland a prominent banker in Strathroy. Mr. Rowland was one of his chief supporters in many years acted as his financial many yeras acted as his financial agent. In conversation with The London Advertiser he related several anecdotes which served to show some of the outstanding feautres in the character of the late Provincial Premier. Sir George was remarkably quick in sizing up a situation on a political platform, and his ready repartee was frequently the cause of discomfiture to his opponents. "On one occasion," Mr. Rowland said, "I accompanied him to a meeting at the Village of Appin. His opponent on the platform was a certain well-nowkn resident of Windsor, who proceeded to discuss the issues of the day with great volubility. Standing on the table in front of him was a glass and a large pitcher of water from which the speaker refreshed himself at frequent intervals. He talked and drank, and drank and talked, while his young opponent was forced to possess his soul in patience. At last he finished, and Ross rose to reply. 'Mr. Chairman,' he said, 'in replying to the speech of the evening, I don't know whether I'm to reply to a windmill or a watermill.'

A Fictitious Funeral.

Sir George was at all times open-handed, and there were times when his heart ran away with his head in matters of philanthropy. Like the clergyman in Oliver Goldsmith's 'Deserted Village,' his pity gave ere charity began, and as a result he sometimes was imposed upon. An instance of this kind happened once when a man came to his door at 5 o'clock one morning, apparently in the greatest distress and poured out a sorrowful tale about his wife being dead and having no money to buy her a coffin. Sir George handed him $25. About three hours later the man was back again and made another 'touch' for $15 for funeral expenses. As it afterwards turned out, the supposedly deceased lady had no existence in fact, and Sir George was simply out the $40. He said nothing about it and supposed that no one knew of the occurrence, but Mr. Rowland, who only a short time ago had given him a lecture on the necessity of, takig care of his money, heard of it, and treasured it as a rare joke. A short time afterwards, Sir George in company with Mr. Rowland (who had him nicknamed "Mark Twain") and "Billy" Geddes, now a leading merchant of Strathroy, went on a fishing trip to Port Stanley. Arriving there, Mr. Rowland gave a boy ten cents to go and dig bait. The boy took the ten cents and promptly disappeared, and they never saw him again. Sir George treated the matter as a huge joke, and laughing heartily, exclaimed, "Mark Twain is beaten! I'll bet you never made a worse bargin than that in your life". "Yes, I did once," the victim of the joke replied and he forthwith launched into a recital of the incident of the poor man and the coffin. He had not proceeded far before Sir George discovered that his friend had learned the secret, and although the joke was turned on him, he laughed heartily at his own gullibility.

Exposing an Imposter

Many such incidents are related by some of his old constituents. His ready wit and quick perception made him the hero of not a few platform encounters, but probably the one most talked of occurred in Strathroy during his first compaign in 1872, his opponent being A. F. Macdonald. Ross charged his opponent with voting for an import tax on Bibles, prayer books and hymn books coming into the country.

Macdonald absolutely denied the charge and in front of the whole audience drew from his pocket the official blue book, and read therefrom a statement to the effect that Bibles, etc, entered the country free.

Ross was discomfited for the time being, and asked to see the statement himself, request which was refused. His suspicions aroused, he stepped forward and grabbed the book from the hand of his opponent. What was his delight to find that the volume was not an official blue book at all, and turning to the audience he held it up and read from the cover "Maclear's Almanac, 1869"

It was a complete triumph and Macdonald was defeated at the polls a week later, the incident being a large contributing factor in his defeat.

"That Little Devil, Ross"

In 1883 Sir John A. Macdonald's government carried out the gerrymander by which it was hoped that the Liberals would be so effectively "hived" that the Government would be again returned to power. The plan succeeded admirably, but as Sir John himself anticipated, "Geordie" Ross succeeded in carrying West Middlesex despite the handicap placed upon him. Before the election, the Conservative candidate went to Sir John and showed him how by readjusting the boundaries of West Middlesex he could defeat Ross. Sir John replied: "You may put this Township in West Middlesex, and you may take that township out but that dittle devil Ross will beat you in spite of what you do"

His claim to the support of his constituents was never questioned during the whole thirty-five years that he represented West Middlesex. His indomitable spirit, his patience, his energy, his resourcefulness, his tact, all commended him to the support of his friends, and added to this he had a memory which never forgot a name or a face, and there were few of his constituents whom he could not call by their first names. He realized himself that something more than a pleasant manner was necessary to maintain the confidence of friends, and in his book, "Getting Into Parliament and After," he gives the following advice to aspiring young politicians: "The glad hand has its charm; the generous benefactor has his friends, but the man of knowledge, of initiative, of strength in exposition and debate, commands an influence which even his opponents are bound to recognise; and in spite of all the weaknessess of human nature, such a man, unless disqualified in other respects, will hold a constituency long after the glad hand has lost its grip"

A Religious Life

Despite his many duties in public life, Sir George found time to associate himself with the religious life of the community in which he lived, and was a regular attendant at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Strathroy. The original building has been replaced by the present handsome brick structure, and although he was never a regular attendant at the new edifice, he was a frequent worshipper there. After moving with his family to Strathroy in 1858, he became Superintendent of the Sabbath School. His training as a Public School teacher stood him in good stead, and he was one of the most efficient superintendents the Sabbath School ever had.

In 1879 he was ordained an elder of St. Andrew's Church and held that office until his removal to Toronto in 1884.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation with which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a predigested form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant, red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

Hard On Dogs In Stratford

Stratford has an effective way of dealing with the canine nuisance. It was stated yesterday by the member of the Council who were in the City inspecting the incinerator, that every dog running at large is shot at sight, no matter whether it was a valuable thoroughbred or low-born mongrel. No dogs are allowed in the streets unless controlled by a leash.

SCENE OF BRAZIL REVOLT.—Canadians are specially interested in Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, and vicinity, where fifty millions of Canadian money is invested in radial and power stocks.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

C. H. Nelson, of Bow Island, Alta., charged with practicing dentistry without a license, has been found guilty and fined $50 and costs.

Dr. T. Glen Hamilton, member of the Winnipeg School Board, has been chosen by the Liberals as their candidate for the Legislature at Elmwood.

Two westbound freight trains collided in the G. T. R. yards at St. Catharines Saturday. Both engines and nine cars were totally wrecked.

The school inspectors of New Brunswick have requested the Government that they be included under the provisions of the 'act for school teachers' pensions.

J. Hayden Clareden, the famous American composer, is in St. Paul's Hospital at Vancouver, undergoing a serious operation for blindness. He is progressing favorably.

T. O. Clarke, of Ottawa, has been appointed maritime representative of sheep husbandry for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and will have his headquarters at Moncton.

Osias McSween is under arrest charged with causing the death of Emilien Bonneville, aged 40, a farmer, by striking him in the face in a quarrel at Shawinigan Falls, Que.

Eight houses were completely destroyed and half a dozen more badly scorched, twenty-two families, comprising over 120 people, were driven to the streets in a Montreal fire on Saturday.

THEY CLIMBED A TREE.

Night Noises of Woods Scared Two North Country Women.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., March 9.—Spending six hours at night in the deep dark pine woods at Kaministiquia, a station on the C. N. R. about twenty miles from this city, two ladies are suffering from shock and exposure.

They left their home about 5.30 p.m. to visit a neighbor's house about a mile distant. They did not return and a search party found them shortly before 11 o'clock.

They had lost their way, and frightened by owls hooting and the howl of wolves, and the small mysterious voices of the woods, they climbed into the branches of a big tree. They were almost unconscious from cold and fear.

Jury Drank Whisky.

HARRISBURG, Ark., March 9.—One of the reasons given for reversing the conviction of Charles Myers, sentenced to electrocution for murder, was that the trial jury drank nine quarters of whisky while deliberating. The Supreme Court also says there is additional evidence justifying a new trial.

Myers was convicted last October of killing John Bass, a neighbor, in a quarrel over property lines. Myers is now in jail at Jonesboro and will seek a change of venue.

First Sickness In 81 Years.

KINCARDINE, Ont., March 9.—Last week George Swalwell had his first attack of illness in 81 years. Mr. Swalwell never had an ache or pain, nor never took a spoonful of medicine during all these years.

HER LITTLE SON WAS DYING

Gave Him "Fruit-a-tives" And Saved His Life.

CAMPBELLVILLE, ONT., May 5th, 1913.

"Our little boy, Lawrence, was sorely affected with Chronic Indigestion, and the doctor did not think he would recover. He started with a sore mouth and it developed into this other trouble. Everything he ate just passed right through the system without change. He cried incessantly and life was a misery to him. My husband had been using "Fruit-a-tives" for Indigestion, getting much benefit from them, and I thought what did him good, might help our boy. We tried "Fruit-a-tives" giving Lawrence ½ a tablet at a dose, and the result was marvellous. Today, he is the picture of health, and he is perfectly well".

HOTELMAN WAS CHOSEN.

Mr. Rowell Criticises License Commission Appointment.

TORONTO, March 7.—Yesterday's session of the Legislature was quiet and taken up chiefly with routine business.

The license administration of the province came in for criticism from Mr. Rowell. Men of the proper calibre, he said, were not encouraged to serve on local license commissions. The case of William Smuck, of East Elgin, was quoted by the leader of the Opposition. He had been informed by a Conservative, a former resident of the riding, that Smuck had been a hotelkeeper for thirteen years, and that although there were many applicants for the new position of license inspector Smuck had been chosen. There had been many prominent temperance Conservatives who would have acted and several had protested against the appointment.

The Minister, in replying, said that the work of the several commissions was thorough and creditable to the department. As far as he knew the case in question the appointment was merely one where rivalry had resulted in some ill-feeling. The department had kept in close touch with this riding and it had been found that Smuck was giving diligent attention to his duties such as had never before been experienced in the riding. The fact that he was a former licensee was no reason for his dismissal as long as his work was well done.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

John Drew is dead at Forest, Ont., aged 75 years. He was born in England and came to Canada in 1847.

G. W. Bogart, who was elected reeve of Chesterville at the last election, was disqualified for insufficient property qualifications.

Dr. F. S. Pearson, chairman of Brazilian traction, who is in Paris, states that no importance is attached to the report of trouble in Brazil.

Four cases of smallpox have been discovered in the children's hospital in Winnipeg, and as a result the institution is placed under quarantine.

The home of Prof. L. W. R. Mulloy, the blind trooper of South African war fame, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, was badly gutted by fire yesterday.

After a long illness, the death occurred yesterday at his home near Lyn, Leeds County, of Mr. Stafford. He was prominent as a dairyman and municipal legislator.

Owing to an increasing number of scarlet fever cases in the Watford district, the local board of health has ordered the public school closed for an indefinite length of time.

Strong opposition to the proposed annexation of the Yukon to British Columbia developed at an immense mass meeting in Dawson Thursday, under the auspices of Yukon Territorial Liberal Association.

Thirty young people of London, Ont., were more or less injured early yesterday morning when a bus was overturned near Arva. A lamp carried in the bus exploded, causing several to be badly burned.

The Popular Miss.

There was a young woman
Who lived in a stew.
She had so many sweethearts
She didn't know what to do.
So, to treat them with kindness
And be partial to none,
She kissed them all soundly
And hugged every one.

Backache Banished.

Thousands of men and women are suffering from weak, lame and aching backs, and many of them unable to do any work for the pain.

The stitches, twitches and twinges are bad enough and give enough misery, but, back of the backache, and the cause of it all are the disordered kidneys crying out in warning through the back.

Backache is kidney ache, and there's serious trouble ahead for you if you neglect it.

Mrs. Jack Mason, Springhill, N.B., writes:—"I have been suffering from backache for a very long time. I tried everything and did everything, but still I would suffer. One day I was looking over your Almanac, and saw your advertisement for Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got 5 boxes, and I am glad to say that they brought me back to life again, and from now on I will never be without them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

THINKING OF BOYS.

OTTAWA, March 7.—Andrew Broder's bill to prohibit the manufacture or importation of cigarettes, cigarette tobacco and cigarette papers should come before the House on Monday, says Mr. Broder. It will not go to a vote, but will be referred to a strong committee of non-members of Parliament, who will be asked to enquire into and report fully upon the subject.

Mr. Broder's object in introducing this bill is to focus attention upon the evil of cigarette smoking, particularly by boys. "I am not really after the grown-up cigarette smoker," he said yesterday, "but rather to strike at the evil of selling cigarettes to growing boys."

It is expected that the result of Mr. Broder's action upon the subject will be the strengthening of the criminal code in the direction of preventing the sale of cigarettes to minors.

Meat Strike Is Settled.

SYDNEY, Australia, March 7.—A settlement was reached yesterday in the dispute between the employers and employes in the meat trade, which had brought about a meat famine in this city, lasting from Feb. 16 till yesterday. The slaughtermen, butchers and meat salesmen who had asked for big increases in wages and shorter working hours, agreed to resume work at the old rates pending an adjustment through the intermediary of the Minister of Labor.

Pecuniary Claims.

Venture Was Unfortunate.

LONDON, March 7.—Carroll Fitzgerald, aged 37, got two months for false pretences at Leeds. He was at one time lay reader and missionary under Bishop Moorepork, in the Hudson Bay territory, and eventually plunged into real estate. He came to England to raise capital and became stranded.

Starting the Day Right

Do you begin the day with a "grouch"? Are you tired in the mornings? Do you fail to benefit by the restorative influence of sleep, which should make good the energy and vitality consumed by the day's work?

Then you are rapidly becoming bankrupt so far as health is concerned. You should look to your habits of eating, make sure that you get lots of fresh air in your sleeping apartments, and restore wasted vitality by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure does not induce sleep by any drugging effect, but when you have been using it for a few days and get the nervous system into condition you find yourself resting and sleeping naturally and healthfully. By keeping up this restorative treatment you will be able to make good the waste and fill the exhausted nervous system with new vigour and energy. This means thorough cure of such symptoms as headache, sleeplessness, indigestion and tired, listless feelings.

"RED LIGHTS" GOING.

Canada Will Soon See the Last Say Rev. Mr. Moore.

OTTAWA, March 7. — That the end of 1914 would mark the passing of the last of Canada's "Red Light" districts, and that he thought the day would dawn when the Dominion would be known as the "white country," was the optimistic outlook of Rev. T. Albert Moore, Toronto, general secretary of temperance and moral reform of the Methodist Church, of the social situations, as he and Rev. Dr. Shearer, Toronto, left the final meeting yesterday afternoon, in connection with the memorable session of the Congress. Rev. Mr. Moore's work extends from coast to coast.

"All over the country," he said, "there is a rapidly increasing interest in social reform. The efforts already made by the church have produced exceptional results, and a great impetus will be given to our work by this greatest of all congresses. East of the Rockies there is not a city or town to-day where houses of ill-repute are under police protection, and by the end of this year the same conditions will exist west of the Rockies.

Cannot Find Mayoralty Candidate.

MONTREAL, March 7.—The situation in regard to the mayoralty of Montreal has become desperate for the English-speaking people. By the unwritten law, which has always governed this office, the next term should go to an English-speaking Protestant, but with the refusal yesterday of R. C. Smith, K.C., to run, the field is once more left to Mederic Martin, M.P., a French-speaking candidate.

Sir Thomas Tait, ex-commissioner of Australian state railways, is being pressed by friends to run, while Dr. Adami, the well-known McGill professor, is also mentioned as a candidate.

Discovered.

Be sure your sins will find you out
At forty-five or thereabout.

The shiny baldness of your head
Will show what kind of life you've led.

The candid lines about your eyes
Will tell no charitable lies.

Your pudgy face will testify
To idleness and living high.

A pallid cast, to beauty's cost,
Will tell of slumber that you lost.

A not infrequent little line
Will say you looked upon the wine.

Approaching age, too swiftly met,
Will tell us something of your set.

A sea of troubles from within
Will babble of what might have been.

The graying hair behind your ears
Will quite epitomize the years.

Be sure your sins will find you out
At forty-five or thereabout.

[The matter under this heading is supplied by the Pastor Russell Lecture Bureau, who conduct the Brooklyn Tabernacle (unsectarian) Bible Studies, and who have arranged for its insertion.]

March 8.—Pastor Russell's discourse to-day related to that feature of his free Photo-Drama of Creation which refers to the answer to Jesus' prayer. The text was: "Ask of Me, and I will give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession." (Psalm 2:8.) He said:

Our text is from one of the Messianic Psalms. It represents our Lord as making known to His people the Heavenly Father's decree rewarding Him for His faithfulness as our Redeemer, assuring Him of His exaltation to the Kingdom, and declaring that with this will come the inheritance of all the earth, with power to subject all things to the Father's will. He was to have it for the mere request—"Ask of Me." As a matter of fact, this world-wide dominion has not yet come to Messiah; the heathen are not yet His inheritance; the uttermost parts of the earth are not yet His possession. Indeed, as the Prophet declares, "Darkness covers the earth, and gross darkness the heathen."

When we remember our Redeemer's love for the race, the love which led Him to lay down His life to seek and to recover that which was lost, we are at first inclined to amazement that He has not yet asked the Father for His inheritance of the heathen. We are astonished that He has permitted the Prince of darkness and the reign of Sin and Death to exist for more than eighteen centuries since He suffered, "the Just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God." But perplexity in the matter might well be answered by our Lord's reply to the Sadducees: "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God." As we come to understand the Scriptures more fully, and to appreciate how the power of God will be exercised in bringing the heathen under the domination of the Redeemer, the eyes of our understanding open, and we are enabled to rejoice accordingly.

Our Lord did not ask for His great power to reign at an earlier date because He knew the Father's Plan, and was well contented with the Divine times and seasons. He had no wish for a change in this. He did not ask to receive the heathen for an inheritance at the beginning of the Gospel Age, but has been content to wait, and to place that request in its due time, in harmony with another feature of the Divine Program which must first be fulfilled. That other feature is the selection of the Church, the Bride of Christ, the members of His Body. It pleased the Father to make our Lord not only the world's Redeemer and King, but also the High Priest of an under-priesthood, the Bridegroom of the Church, His Bride, the Elder Brother of these saints of glory whom the Father is pleased to develop during this Gospel Age as New Creatures in Christ Jesus, to be sharers of His sufferings and of His glory to follow.

Meantime the heathen have been suffering no injustice. Born in sin, shapen in iniquity, condemned to death, they have been having experiences with sin and death, and going down into the great prison-house for periods of unconsciousness—until the Redeemer, at His Second Advent, shall call them and all mankind from this great prison house, the tomb. This He foretold saying, "All that are in the grave shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and shall come forth."—John 5:28, 29 R. V.

Not only will this include the Church of the First-born, who have been approved of God, and who passing trial now, will come forth unto life eternal, but it will include also the remainder of mankind, those who have not had God's approval, all of whom, because redeemed, shall come forth unto judgment—trial. A fair trial will be theirs, to determine their worthiness or unworthiness of life everlasting by the manner in which they shall receive or by their rejection of, The Christ of God when, during the Millennium He shall be made fully known to them.

It was also part of the Divine purpose that the whole earth should be filled with people; and hence the bringing forth of a progeny is a part of the Divine will for mankind. The few short years of the present life with an experience of sin and death conditions, will in due time be supplemented by the glorious period of the Millennium, with its grand opportunities for lessons of righteousness and its rewards for obedience. Its corrective "stripes," or punishments, will be to the intent that as many as possible may ultimately be entirely recovered from death conditions and brought into full accord with God in Christ. But those who demonstrate their unwillingness to come into heart sympathy with righteousness will be utterly destroyed from amongst the people.—Acts 3:22; 2 Peter 2:12.

So, then, our Lord's reasons for not asking sooner for the heathen as His inheritance and the remotest parts of the earth as His possession, was that He knew the Father's Plan to be a different one, the more excellent way; and He delighted to do the Father's will. And so with all the followers of Christ. As soon as they ascertain the Father's glorious Plan of Salvation, they find it to be soul-satisfying, and greatly prefer it to any plan of their own. Undeveloped Christians, whom the Apostle designates "babes" in Christ, are the ones who are continually praying to the Heavenly Father for a change of the Divine Program, imagining that their wisdom and their love in respect to the heathen are superior to those of the Infinite Creator. Nearly all Christian people have had their experience with such ignorance; and we are glad to suppose that the Heavenly Father laid not the sin of such presumption to our charge, but rather, sympathetically appreciated our interest in the heathen, although He must have deprecated our lack of reverence, our headiness, our high-minded assumption of more than infinite wisdom!

We are not saying a word against missions—home or foreign. Quite to the contrary, we believe that every Christian should labor with heart and hand to do all in his power to glorify the Father and the Redeemer, and to enlighten his fellow-men respecting the Cross of Christ, and the blessings which it secures. But while willingly, gladly serving the Divine Cause, "instant in season and out of season," we should "learn to labor and to wait." We should learn that the laboring under present conditions is arranged chiefly for our benefit—for the development in the minds of the Royal Priesthood of the sacrificing qualities and the graces of the Holy Spirit—meekness, gentleness, patience, faith, long-suffering, brotherly kindness, love.

Let us be sure, dear friends, that any theory of ours respecting the heathen, or any other feature of the Divine Program, which in any degree implies superior wisdom, superior energy or superior love on our part, as compared with that of our Heavenly Father and our Redeemer, must be wrong. The sooner we learn to pray from the heart, "Thy will be done," the better it will be for us, the more shall we be able to get into harmony with our Lord, and the more shall we be used as His ambassadors and representatives. The wisdom of man is foolishness with God, and the Wisdom of God is foolishness with man. Hence we must not take the human standpoint in investigating or reasoning upon the Divine purposes and Program. Rather, we must go direct to the Word of God, that we may be taught of God, that we may discern the beauty, the harmony, of His plans. —1 Corinthians 3:19.

BAD BLOOD IS THE DIRECT CAUSE OF Pimples.

Pimples break out on the face and body and it is impossible to get rid of them unless you cleanse the blood of all of its impurities.

This old, and reliable medicine has been in use for nearly forty years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other preparation for removing all the impurities from the blood and banishing the pimples.

Mr. Edward Paquette, Navan Centre, Ont., writes:—"One month ago my face was covered with pimples and a rash. I had tried a number of these so called blood purifiers with no avail. Seeing an almanac of yours in which you strongly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to try a bottle, and after I had taken it I could see a decided change, and after using three bottles more all the pimples had completely disappeared."

ing recognized, how earnestly it should make us to inquire what the will of the Lord is; to search the Scriptures, that we may there ascertain the Divine Program, and be found in harmony therewith! There we find that the Lord's present work is the completing of the Royal Priesthood the Royal Judge, the Royal Prophet the Royal Mediator, the Great King for the world of mankind—for the world's deliverance from the bondage of Sin and Death, and their assistance back to harmony with God. Thus seeing, we shall have patience in respect to the heathen, and strive now to make our own calling and election sure and to lay down our lives for the brethren, in assisting to build them up in the most holy faith, "until we all come to the measure of the stature of a Man in Christ"—the great Mediator of the New Covenant, of whom Jesus is the Head—the Church His Body.

When will the world be converted? When will Christ ask for the heathen? When will the Father give them to Him? How long, O Lord? The Scriptural answer, dear friends, is that it has pleased the Father to select the "jewels" class during this Gospel Age by means which the world would think foolish—by means of the preaching of the Good Tidings. But His Program for the future Age is different. There are millions who have no ear to hear the preaching of the Cross of Christ. (1 Corinthians 1:18.) There are millions who have no eye of faith to see the glorious things of God. In fact, according to the Scriptures, only a Little Flock, comparatively, can be brought into accord with the Lord under the conditions of the present time, because sin abounds, because Death reigns, because Satan, the Prince of this world, now works antagonistically in the hearts of the children of disobedience.

Hence it has pleased God to have a different method of dealing with the world of mankind in general from that which He has adopted in dealing with the Church in this Age. In the next Age, force will be used, and not merely moral suasion. Force will be employed in putting down the reign of evil. Satan will not merely be requested to desist from deceiving the world, but will be bound for a thousand years, and be unable to deceive the nations.

Likewise, mankind will no longer be invited to accept Christ, and to give their hearts in obedience to Him, but on the contrary, they will be compelled to be obedient. As it is written, Unto Him every knee shall bow and every tongue confess, to the glory of God." Offers of grace will no longer be held out, with reward for faith attached; instead, knowledge shall fill the whole earth, as the waters cover the great deep. (Philippians 2:10, 11; Isaiah 11:9.) As a result, no one shall then say to his neighbor or to his brother, Know thou the Lord! for they shall all know Him, from the least unto the greatest of them.—Jeremiah 31:34

Another Psalm describes Messiah's triumph in the Millennial Age, saying, "Gird Thy sword upon Thy thigh, O Most Mighty, with Thy glory and Thy majesty. And in Thy majesty ride prosperously in the cause of Truth and Meekness and Righteousness; and Thy right hand shall teach Thee terrible things. Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the King's enemies; whereby the people fall under Thee." (Psalm 45:3-5.) Instead, of people here read heathen, as in the original, and we have a picture of the conversion of the heathen as it will shortly be accomplished. We are not to suppose the Lord will ride upon a horse, or that literal arrows will literally pierce the hearts of His enemies. We are to understand this picture to signify our Lord's triumphal conquering of the world; and that the arrows of Truth, which will go forth unto the whole world, will reach the hearts of men and smite them down. Even so we read that when St. Peter preached at Pentecost that the Jews had taken and crucified the Son of God, the hearers were "cut to the heart"—with the lance of Truth. Thank God for such arrows from the quiver of Divine Wisdom, Justice, Love! We rejoice that the heathen will thus be conquered for the Lord, and thus eventually every knee bow and every tongue confess.

The work of dealing with the heathen, with the world—with all except the Church—will begin with the generation living at the time of the establishment of the Lord's Kingdom. In due time it will proceed and will ultimately include all that are in their graves in the reverse order from that in which they entered. And the last shall be the first to come forth—"every man in his own order," or class.

Too frequently do Bible students neglect to see whether or not their interpretations are in harmony with the context of the passages under discussion. Let us not make this mistake. Turning to the second Psalm, we find that following our text is the declaration, "Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron: Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel." (Verse 9.) The application of this evidently is to the time of our Lord's Second Advent, when the selection of the Church shall have been completed and she shall have entered into His glory as the Bride, the Lamb's Wife, symbolically pictured as the New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of Heaven.

From that New Jerusalem, we are told, the River of the Water of Life shall flow freely, and whosoever will may freely partake of it. On either bank will grow the Trees of Life, whose leaves are for the healing of the nations. And the Spirit and the Bride will say, Come; and whosoever will may come, and take of the Water of Life. But in the meantime, before the nations, the world, will be ready for that blessing from the New Jerusalem, they must needs pass through a period of very deep humiliation—"A Time of Trouble such as never was since there was a nation."—Matthew 24:21.

As for the nations of that time, the extent to which they will suffer destruction will depend largely upon their own attitude, as is intimated by the verses following our text. Those of the nations who freely and heartily accept of Messiah's rule will be correspondingly saved from the breaking process. Hence it is urged, "Be wise, O ye kings of the earth! Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and ye perish from the way, when His wrath is kindled but a little."

But while this seems to offer leniency, mercy, these favors are conditional on the manner in which the Messianic Kingdom shall be received. Other Scriptures intimate that all the nations, not only heathen but civilized, will be found in violent opposition to the Heavenly Kingdom, and hence that all together they will be crushed as the vessels of a potter.

The Lord tells us that as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are His ways higher than man's ways, and His plans higher than man's plans. And this we find true as we come to better understand the Scriptures. Who ever dreamed of such lengths and breadths and heights and depths of "Love Divine, all love excelling," as are implied and included in God's great Plan of selecting first The Christ—Jesus the Head, and the Church, His Body—and then through these blessing all the families of the earth with a knowledge of Himself and the glorious opportunities for life eternal.

We make no claims of universal salvation; for the Scriptures distinctly speak of some who will die the Second Death, having proved themselves not sufficiently in harmony with righteousness to be worthy of eternal life—even after being brought to a knowledge of the Truth. But the Scriptures show us that when all the unwilling and disobedient shall have been cut off in the Second Death, the whole earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of God.

Fatality of Whooping Cough

Many parents think lightly of whooping cough, and treat it as a necessary evil, not giving the child who has it any special attention.

The seriousness of whooping cough was emphasized by the Medical Health Officer in Toronto a few months ago, when he reported 14 deaths during the month from whooping cough, and only ten from scarlet fever, typhoid fever and measles combined.

So many people write to us about the relief and cure of whooping cough by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine that we can recommend it with the greatest confidence.

It loosens the cough, aids expectoration, and by its soothing influence prevents the terrible paroxysms of coughing which are so distressing to witness, and which wear away the strength of the child. By using this treatment the disease is held in check, and cured in a few weeks, instead of months. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., on the bottle you buy. There are many imitations.

German Gleanings.

Some of the large factories in Germany are now provided with swimming tanks for the employees. Many of them have halls with stage and dancing floor. A brass band provides entertainment, and for the children there are kindergartens.

The following are stated to be the largest incomes in Germany: The emperor, $5,600,000; Frau Bertha Krupp, over $4,500,000; Prince Henckel, $3,000,000; the Duke von Ujest, $1,500,000, and Herr Ziese, shipbuilder and landowner, about the same.

The Royal Box.

The kaiser is now said to be the richest person in Germany. His fortune, it is claimed, amounts to $60,000,000.

One royal lady who has been led by extravagance into dire trouble is Princess Alexandra of Isenburg. Her debts are said to amount to $15,000,000, and she herself has been left in a penniless condition.

Only one sovereign known to history has reigned longer than the Emperor of Austria, who completed the sixty-fifth year of his reign on Dec. 2. That sovereign was Louis XIV. who succeeded the throne of France at the age of five and wore the crown for seventy-two years.

THE FROZEN SHIP

A Gruesome Legend of Lake Superior

One of the most gruesome legends of Superior relates to the "Frozen Ship," which recalls almost "the schooner Hesperus, that sailed the wintry sea." This trim schooner weighed anchor in Duluth just before a November storm, which made mariners everywhere run for cover. For six long weeks no tidings whatever was heard of the ship. Then, one day, a lonely trapper making his rounds in the wilderness came across her on the shore. Frozen stiff in their bunks were two of the crew, and the fate of the others was surmised with a shudder as the trapper noted the tracks of wild animals on the snow-covered deck. And the annals of the Great Lakes contain the records of fully as many deeds of heroism, in proportion, as do the logs of old ocean, while millions of treasure lie hidden beneath the waters. When the time comes for the "sea to give up her dead," the great multitude which no man can number, will be bravely recruited from the gallant souls whose bones lie at the bottom of Superior and its kindred fresh water seas.

The Canadian Match

Canada is a fine country, some day it will be a great country. Undoubtedly it will always remain a large country! And like most large countries its drawbacks are on a large scale. Take for instance the Canadian match. It is without exception the largest and most ornate match the world can produce. Wood being cheap and plentiful in Canada, each match is made on the reduced scale of a substantial fence post; the business end of it is adorned with a large and highly colored blob of some sulphurous compound chiefly noted for its inflammable qualities—anywhere but in juxtaposition with the strip of sandpaper pasted on the box, presumably for the purpose of igniting the said match. As a rule the match flatly declines to be lit on its proper place, but after you have scratched it on the box, on the stove, on the floor, on the door lintel, and on the sole of your shoe without any apparent effect, it will suddenly, and without any warning whatever, break in half and burst into flame. Whereupon the lighted end flies off into some inaccessible corner and continues to burn while you frantically endeavor to extinguish it with the extreme end of the broom handle, or the flaming portion thereof lodges upon your hand and holds thereto with a tenacity that is truly remarkable, never consenting to be displaced until it has burned a deep hole through the skin during the process of which the screams or curses of the victim (according to sex) and the mingled odors of sulphur and burning flesh add considerable excitement to the prearranged harmony of the family circle. Also, in order to carry out the general largeness of the idea, these matches are put up in large boxes, and suffer from a tendency to spontaneous combustion if inadvertently placed too near the stove.—Mrs. Donald Shaw.

JOURNALIST'S QUICK WIT

A London Editor's Retort to a Captious Neighbor

The late Archie Bremner, for many years editor of "The London Advertiser," was noted for his ready wit. For a long time his home was in one of the suburbs and next door resided a chronically cantankerous individual never happy except when in a scrap with somebody. One day after dinner Archie sauntered for the office with his old silk hat tilted at the regulation angle. But neighbor "Bone" was lying in wait for him leaning over his front gate.

"Mr. Bremner, are you aware that your line fence is two inches over on my lot?"

"Well, no, to tell the truth, I hadn't noticed. But," was the diplomatic answer.

"It is there, and I want to know what you are going to do about it?"

"Well, now," observed the imperturbable Archie, lifting his pipe from his mouth, "if you are going to move the fence just put it full six inches over on my lot and then there'll never be any chance for trouble."

And there never was. Neighbor "Bone's" wrath fattened out more quickly than it had risen and he discovered a sudden engagement back in his own onion patch.

Detective Stories as Told by Real Detectives

"GREEN GOODS" AND CONFIDENCE MEN

HOW THEY PLY THEIR NEFARIOUS TRADE AND SOME INGENIOUS SCHEMES FOR THEIR CAPTURE DESCRIBED

Detective Disguised as a Farmer Arrives at Railroad Station. Awaits Myrtle Messages. GEORGE GILBERT, ALIAS GEORGE CHEEVERS. Accompanies His Guide Uptown When Third Man Joins Them. Is Shown Five Thousand Dollars and Told It Is Green Goods. Makes Prisoners of All in Room.

THAT the average swindler and boodler will fight with the ferocity of a cur cornered. Seldom does it happen that a sharper is endowed with so keen a sense of the ridiculous that, upon feeling the icy grip of steel bracelets on his wrists, he bursts into peals of laughter, slaps his captor on the back and tells him that at last he has met his master.

Such an exception to the rule does exist, and to-day his photograph, listed under the names of Frank Montes and Frank M. Taylor, is to be found in any well conducted rogues' gallery in the country.

In police parlance Montes is a "con man." By his many and ingenious schemes he has reaped thousands upon thousands of dollars, but like every man of his kind it all went in the same way. Close easy, go easy, is the motto of the confidence man, and this perhaps accounts for the fact that few of them when arrested have sufficient funds laid by to conduct a respectable defence.

To Detective Richard McKenna belongs the distinction of being the pioneer in breaking up this ring of swindlers which for so many years infested New York and preyed upon the more gullible of its residents and visitors. Strange to say, the first encounter in which he acquitted himself so successfully was with Montes, one of the smartest and wariest confidence men to operate hereabouts.

For some time this detective had made a study of advertisements appearing in the various newspapers beneath the caption "Business Opportunities." These he perused with such care that as time wore on he could detect fraud, no matter in what subtle terms it was couched. In scanning his morning paper a few years ago the detective ferreted out this advertisement:—

ANY one with $5,000 cash can make 50 per cent on same in short time; legitimate business deal; handle own money; appoint interview. A. A., 448.

The detective at once smelled a rat and, deciding to pose as a "come on," he mailed this note to A. A.:—

"Sir:—Please send me particulars in reference to advertisement, and oblige Richard Morris, 627 East 139th street."

The appointment was duly made and the next afternoon the detective met Montes at the old Metropolitan Hotel. The sharper was well satisfied with the appearance of his intended victim, for he had all the earmarks of a well to do countryman, and of that type of the rustic who affects good clothes, speaks with a confident air and always on the alert to impress those about him that he is the wisest of the wise. This is the kind of man the average swindler loves to meet, for he is far easier to separate from his bankroll than is the hard fisted and truly rural citizen who made his little hoard by the sweat of his brow.

Linking his arm into that of his country friend, Montes led him from the hotel for a stroll along Broadway while he unfolded his short cut to wealth by his get rich quick scheme. Prooping a cigar upon his rustic friend and indulging in hearty laughter by the gingerly and suspicious manner with which the countryman examined it, Montes had this to say:—

"While on my way East yesterday I met a young mining engineer who was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism. He was on his way from the gold fields of Nevada, the possessor of twenty-six hundred shares of the Eagle Gold and Copper Mining Company. Ill health had overtaken him, and he was desirous of disposing of his stock at the earliest possible moment, even willing to stand a slight loss in order to convert his securities into cash so he can hurry to some Southern resort in search of health. This stock is selling to-day in Wall street for $3.75 a share. My young engineer friend doesn't know this, however, and is willing to accept a flat rate of $2 a share. I came all the way East with him and left him at the Washington Hotel in Jersey City, where he is now confined to his bed. If you can raise $5,000 we can get this stock and sell it five minutes later, practically doubling our money. You take sixty per cent of the profits and I'll take forty."

The detective expressed himself as delighted with the scheme, and said he would make arrangements to get the money at once. He knew very little about the city, he added. His new found friend insisted upon walking about with him and showing him the sights. As they strolled down Broadway and entered Madison square the sharper explained that this beautiful open park derived its name from one of our early Presidents, who had there taken the oath of office, making New York the scene of his inauguration. As they extended their walk, and approached Union square, the man with the wonderful fund of information told his guest that this park was so named because all the labor unions in the city held their meetings there. A car was boarded and the pair rode over to the extreme west side, and while gazing on the North River a coastwise steamship ploughed her way through the harbor.

"That is one of our most formidable men-of-war," said the confidence man. "She is capable of anchoring where she is now and with her long range guns blow Albany off the map."

The pair separated to meet by appointment the next day, when the countryman was to have his $5,000 in cash, all ready to take over the stock of the rheumatic engineer. True to his word, he arrived at the hotel at the designated hour, but as it was a holiday he explained that he could raise only a portion of the money. They started out together for Jersey City, anyhow. Ascending to an upper floor the pair halted before the door opening on the long corridor, upon which Montes gave a mysterious series of raps. Receiving no response he duplicated the mystic signal, which was followed by sounds of stirring within. The occupant of the room was laboriously dragging himself from his bed, emitting groans of agony as he hobbled from the bed to the door.

"Who comes there?" asked the engineer.

"'Tis I, a friend," was the response.

Cautiously the door was opened and the unshaven and unkempt invalid scanned with suspicion the farmer and his companion. Upon being admitted to the room the swindler told the engineer that his companion was his uncle from the country and that he had come down to talk to him about buying his stock.

But it [illegible] a change of heart [illegible] reached such an acute stage, he said, that he believed himself beyond human aid. Therefore he saw no necessity of acquiring so large a sum in cash when the inevitable end was so near. The sympathetic countryman told the cripple that he was deeply affected by his suffering, which moved him to say that he had just ascertained that the stock which was quoted to him at $2 a share could be sold in Wall street for nearly double that amount. Therefore, far be it from him to take advantage of a man who was looking death in the face so bravely.

Extending his gnarled and twisted hand, the engineer grasped that of the countryman, exclaiming:—"It is indeed good to meet an honest man in such a wicked place as New York. Therefore I shall take this means of rewarding you. I'll make the sacrifice."

Plunging his hand under his pillow he drew forth the highly decorative and duly sealed and executed gold mine securities, saying that for $5,000 his late travelling companion's uncle should have them. Thanking him profusely the countryman turned to Mr. Montes, and told him that he was short a few hundred dollars of the necessary amount, but that if he would accompany him back to New York he could raise this with little trouble and then the sale could be consummated. Every inducement was made to have the detective pay over on account the amount he had with him, but this he refused to do, saying:—"It's a whole hog or nothing with me."

Back to New York the two went, and as they strolled up Broadway the man of experience and wide knowledge of city affairs was pointing out each and every object of interest they passed. As they halted before the Flatiron Building he pointed with his cane to the roof of the building, saying that he had been afforded the honor of pulling the halyard which broke out to the breeze the flag that was hoisted when the queer shaped structure was pronounced complete. As the swindler raised his arm aloft the detective, who had been firmly clasping the chain bracelets all policemen carry in their pockets, drew them forth and dexterously slipped them over the wrist of his voluble friend.

"Why, what the hell is this?" roared Montes. "Are you a copper? Do you mean to tell me that you, a rube, are a 'come on'?"

Then the swindler burst into uncontrollable fits of laughter, saying that in all his life he had never been so fully duped and that the detective who was capable of putting one over on him so cleverly richly deserved all the outstanding rewards that had been offered for his capture. Montes was locked up, the police in Jersey City communicated with and the rheumatic engineer was seized in his room.

The ease with which Montes was captured was in strong contrast to this detective's experience with a band of "green goods" operators, out of which he bagged five prisoners, including one woman. Incidentally, this was one of the first cases on record where a New York city detective stepped in and seized a "shover of the queer" and used the mails to [illegible] his nefarious trade. All previous captures of his sort had been effected by Post Office inspectors and Secret Service men, but this detective's faculty for impersonating a simple and unsophisticated rustic with defective hearing made him an admirable man for the job in hand.

At this time the mails were being flooded with circulars sent out from New York to rural districts offering vast sums of counterfeit money of such finished workmanship that only experts could distinguish it from the genuine. Any one with $500 in cash could buy $5,000 worth of the spurious bank notes and, furthermore, he would not run the slightest risk of being apprehended.

David Slonemont, a liveryman, of Virginia Beach, Va., received one of these circulars and had the foresight to turn it over to his postmaster. That official forwarded the "green goods" circular to Washington, where it was given to a Post Office inspector to investigate. He got in communication with Slonemont told him to reply to the circular in the affirmative and await further developments. The Post Office inspector also got in touch with New York police Headquarters and the trap was set. The inspector would go to Virginia Beach and ascertain what instructions the sharps had sent to Slonemont and transmit these by telegraph to the New York detective so that he could be prepared to play his part at this end.

This consisted of disguising himself in his famous rôle of the simple "hayseed" rustic. The inspector was to make the journey from Virginia Beach in place of Slonemont and upon his arrival in New York the detective, who was to be concealed in the original, was to make his way to the train as if he had just arrived from Virginia. The inspector was to trail along in order to cover the detective's tracks after he had been taken in tow by the waiting "green goods" men. The plot worked perfectly and the detective, armed with the password, "Honor," was met by a serious looking stranger, who told him he was to proceed to the Continental Hotel, procure a room and there remain without consulting any one until a visitor, making use of the same password, should either come to him or send him some word.

Implicitly following instructions, the detective went straight to his hotel and registered. Removing an antiquated wallet from his inner pocket, he withdrew a carefully wrapped package resembling a wad of bills. In fact there was a ten dollar note on the top and bottom of the package, the rest being carefully cut newspapers conforming in size to the two wrappers. The detective requested the hotel clerk to take care of his money for him, as he was a stranger in the city and didn't care to run any risk. He had not been in his room long when a telegram was brought him.

The sender wired that his representative would be waiting in the lobby of the hotel for the Virginian, that he should join him and come directly to the trysting place mentioned in the telegram. Implicit orders were given that the stranger was to maintain a discreet silence and intimate to no one the object of his visit to the city or his destination upon setting out from the hotel.

The rustic was taken over to Second avenue, and boarding a street car, they rode three way to East Ninety-fifth street where a well dressed and dapper looking man of middle age joined the pair. This third man proved to be George Cheevers, alias George Gilbert, a swindler of international reputation. He told the Virginian that he was at the head of a concern that manufactured this money; that they "owned" the Police Department of New York city, paid big money for protection and were immune from arrest. They were at liberty to sell, in bulk, all of this money they chose, the only stipulation being that the purchasers of the green goods should not attempt to pass it too freely about the city, as it was far safer to palm off the counterfeit money in rural sections than here. The trio then entered a flat house. Proceeding to the third floor, a signal was given and a door opened sufficiently to show the face of a man peering out.

"Your business?" said the lookout.

"Imperative," said the pilot of the party.

"Then give the countersign," answered the lookout.

"Honor," whispered the pilot, and the three were ushered without further ceremony into the room. Once within the Virginian and his friends were greeted by a tall, well dressed man. He said that the business in hand, while important, must be speedily transacted, since he had an appointment in a distant part of the city where many thousands of dollars were involved. Turning to the Virginian, he asked in a stern voice, "How much money did you bring with you?"

Apparently the Virginian didn't hear, for he was gazing vacantly about. "How much money have you?" again roared his questioner, with an oath.

With a start the Virginian turned, smiled upon him, tapped his chest confidently and said, "Five hundred dollars, of course."

Then action started. The swindlers counted out on the table $5,000 in bank notes, each and every one genuine. They were bound up in neat packages, $1,000 in each, and laid in a neat pile. The rustic was told to count it for himself. This he did and found it to be correct. The money was placed in a box that apparently had been fashioned to hold just that much and no more. When it had been locked the key was handed to the simple farmer and he was told to be careful not to open it until he returned to his hotel.

"Now hand over the five hundred and we'll close the deal," said Cheevers, "for we must get up town as quickly as possible."

As the detective stuck his hand in his inside pocket, ostensibly to draw forth the wallet, he grasped the handle of his revolver instead, and, flashing it on the startled group about him, commanded in gruff tones:—"Now line up there against the wall or I'll blow every one of your damned heads off!"

To prove that he would make good his threat if necessary the detective fired two shots at the wall and, covering the now frightened and cowering crooks, he made them stand with arms upraised and faces pressed close to the wall while he raised the front window and blew a sharp blast on his police whistle.

Detective Barney McConville, Cassassa and [illegible]dill and Post Office Inspector [illegible] sped up the steps of the apartment house and, pressing shoulders to the door, burst it open and entered, each taking in charge one of the trembling prisoners their comrade, single-handed, had pinned to the wall. All were taken to Police Headquarters and the indictment of the three principals was but a question of hours.

Cheevers, more fortunate than the rest, was able to furnish $5,000 in cash bail. All of the available cash of the others, together with a box full of the spurious notes, which had been palmed off on the rustic by the same and familiar old "green goods" trick of substitution, was seized by the detectives, thus leaving its owners practically penniless. When Cheevers' case was called to trial he failed to appear and his bail was forfeited. The country was scoured for him, but to no avail.

Two years later Detectives McKenna and Cassassa were riding through Harlem on an open street car keeping a sharp lookout for flat burglars who were operating in that section. A man about to enter a cigar store attracted the attention of McKenna, who upon second glance leaped from the car, plunged into the cigar store and, slapping the stranger on the back, said:—

"Why, Cheevers, old boy, I've been looking for you for two years. In fact, haven't seen you since I came all the way from Virginia Beach to buy that little package of 'green goods' you offered me."

Lashing out with the fury of a caged lion, Cheevers fought with the desperation of a man doomed. But it was two to one and the odds soon told. The two detectives with their prisoner between them left the cigar store and, boarding a car, conducted him to Police Headquarters. He was locked in the Tombs until he could be tried, convicted, sentenced and sent away to State prison.

"Cheevers was not blessed with the sense of humor that made the capture of Montes such a pleasure," the detective added.

TRAGEDY OF THE SMALL WOMAN

HOW happy mortal, the woman who happens to have been created of "stock size," can have but little idea of how life looks to the small woman. She goes on her way reaping all that immunity from annoyance which is the lot of all who are by nature endowed with average measurements and recks not of the grievances which fret the heart of her more diminutive sister.

Although the proportions of the ordinary woman have been referred to in the terms of the "ready made," it is not merely in the matter of clothes that her "stock size" stands her in good stead. Naturally, it is a convenience for her to be able to clothe herself without the doubtful benefit of the "small dressmaker" and to be able to realise the worst when she is ordering a new gown or coat from the ready-to-wear department. But her good luck follows her elsewhere and gives her advantages at every turn.

To begin with, the professions, in spite of their reputation for tolerance, are apt to turn a hard eye and a cold shoulder on the short woman. If she goes on the stage, the stage public, who is sure to be a fine connoisseur of a leg, prefers to play with some one more nearly approaching its own standard, however dainty and [illegible] the management is apt to [illegible] one more adaptable to a range of parts. While she is still young she may, of course, be suited to ingenue rôles, but the day soon arrives when she is unable to take up more mature parts.

The more serious professions are equally unamiable. If she has been through her college course and is anxious to take up a profession of teacher she will find, no matter how irreproachable her credentials, that the smallness of her stature creates a certain doubt in the mind of her prospective employer as to her ability to control classes and to impress students.

The same holds good of the woman doctor, a type of professional woman who in any case has to overcome at the outset of her career a certain amount of antagonism, and who finds her path considerably more thorny if she lacks the aid of an imposing personality. In spite of the fact that her patients may be acquainted with the fact that Napoleon was of less than common stature and that Julius Caesar was distinctly on the short side they are apt to harbor the irrational, but none the less instinctive, belief that brains and inches bear a direct proportion the one to the other.

The minor everyday ills of the short woman are as the waves of the sea. One has only to watch her in the 'bus or train to realise the unfair handicap under which she lives. Fat passengers make a beeline for her neighborhood as if to obtain space which is not fully theirs, and conductors [illegible] her plainness as an excuse for pushing in that extra fare which in a crowded vehicle is like unto the last straw which broke the donkey's back.

In a crowd the [illegible] woman's deficiencies are obvious and for sightseeing the position is hopeless. As soon as those days of youth are past when she can accept the offer to be lifted up by the person in front without loss of dignity all prospects of free views of interesting spectacles are over.

Some of the small woman's misfortunes have, of course, their cheery side. If she is unable to borrow her friends' clothes, they likewise are unable to make demands on hers. If she cannot command, she can retain a comfortable mind well after it would be unbecoming in those of "proper mould," and if she cannot climb high forbarred gates she can generally manage to squeeze under them. She can wear her hair round her face when it is streaked with white, and there is no compulsion for her to try to appear elegant even when in the course of time she has had to give up athletic things. When she fails it she can be carried sympathetically instead of having to keep to her room, as she can get her own way by methods which would otherwise seem [illegible] tempers. In short, though life may be hard for the small woman, it has also its unmistakable compensations!

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

TAI-POU'S REBELLION

When Tai-Pou had bowed his head 11 times and prostrated himself 14 times before the Emperor, as prescribed by law and custom, and thereupon, in accordance with his privilege as Prime Minister, had sat down on the silk cushion on the lowest step of the throne, Emperor Ho-Hei said to him:

"Listen, O Tai-Pou!, I have had a dream. Last night the God of Suspicion came to me. I could see quite plainly his double face and his two queues, and he whispered into my ears these words: 'Your Minister, Tai-Pou, is certainly a faithful servant and a wise counsellor. He is the wisest man in your empire, and the keenest mind in China. He is ever thinking of your glory. But are you quite sure that he loves your sacred person as much as he should? Are you quite sure there is nothing he loves higher still? If I were you I would put his love to a test, to find out the strength of it.' Thus spoke the god. What do you think of his words, O Tai-Pou?"

A smile came into Tai-Pou's face. His entire face from the slanting eyes to the crooked mouth expressed so much joy that the Emperor ought to have felt satisfied. Nevertheless he still remembered what the voice had whispered into his ears during the night while Tai-Pou replied.

"O great and most mighty sovereign and ruler, the god is right and your faithful servant Tai-Pou is ever ready to give you any proof you might want of his love of you. His life and the lives of the members of his family belong to you, do with them whatever you wish. Tai-Pou has no desires but yours, no will but your own."

The Emperor pondered for a moment before he said:

"O Tai-Pou! I thank you that you are willing to dispel my doubts which the God of Suspicion breathed into my ears. I shall never think of them again if to-morrow morning you will bring me the head of your old father on a golden salver."

Tai-Pou arose from the yellow silk pillow and prostrated himself before the Emperor. The next morning he brought his father's head.

But suspicion once more troubled the Emperor's mind. Ho-Hei grew melancholy and when Tai-Pou one day asked him the cause of his sadness, he replied:

"O Tai-Pou! My mighty visitor has appeared before me again and when I told him of the proof you had given me of your devotion he laughed and said: 'O simple minded Emperor, why don't you ask Tai-Pou to bring you the head of his beloved wife, the beautiful Kiang-Si, and you will see how greatly his love of you falls short of what it ought to be.'"

Tai-Pou sighed, emptied his cup of fragrant tea and withdrew without a word, but two days later he threw the head of the beautiful Kiang-Si at the Emperor's feet.

* * * *

Said the Emperor to Tai-Pou, his Minister: "Again last night the god appeared to me, and I was hardly able to recognise him. He looked like a shadow of himself and his voice was feeble like that of a man dying: 'Tai-Pou is stronger than I,' he whispered. 'He has conquered me. No sovereign is more beloved and the beloved of my heart, many things I have asked of you, so I am sure you will not refuse to give me yonder magnificent fish. I want to try if it tastes as good as it looks.'"

Emperor Ho-Hei, who had waited only three days for the heads of Tai-Pou's children, saw the sun set six times before Tai-Pou fulfilled his latest wish. On the morning of the seventh day the arrival of the Minister was announced. The Emperor ordered him to be admitted immediately.

Tai-Pou was carrying the wonderful fish in a basket, but as the Emperor held out his hand to take it a burst of laughter compelled him to fold his hands across his fat stomach. The fish was made in enamel so lifelike that anyone would have thought it real. The Emperor fell back in his chair laughing, but at the same moment Tai-Pou drew a knife from his sleeve and cut his master's throat.

* * * *

When Tai-Pou was led before the highest mandarins of the empire he raised his chained hands and said: "O great and wise men! I appear before you without fear. Tai-Pou knows that when you have heard the reasons which prompted him to slay the Emperor you will not demand his life. When I killed my old father in obedience to the Emperor's command I did so because it is permitted to prefer power to virtue. When I killed my wife, the beautiful Kiang-Si, I did so because it is not forbidden to prefer power to love. When I sacrificed my children I did so because it is permitted to love power higher than your own self, but when the Emperor demanded me most beautiful fish to eat I killed the Emperor, because you must prefer beauty to anything, and the fish was the most beautiful thing in the world."

Tai-Pou was acquitted and sent back to his house and his gardens, and a magnificent monument was erected on Emperor Ho-Hei's tomb on which is seen a gigantic fish in gold and enamel.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GREY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Receipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

The beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns grey, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth' Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural colour, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Japan's Sacred Mountain

Fuji-yama, the famous sacred mountain of Japan, is an absolutely perfect mountain. It stands alone, and rises a superb cone crested with white. It is difficult to realize that it stands 12,000 feet high from the blue sea which edges its skirts, so gradual and perfect is its rise. Other things may be compared to this beautiful mountain, but undoubtedly it cannot be compared to anything; it stands supreme and alone, its own lovely, graceful self.

PROF. J. W. ROBERTSON ON TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Our whole civilization moves under the influence of the fishermen of Galilee, the tent-maker of Tarsus, and above all the Carpenter of Nazareth.

In Ireland in 1899 there were only about 2,000 pupils in industrial continuation schools, chiefly in the north of Ireland; by 1910 there were 45,000 pupils enrolled under the schemes of the Technical Instruction branch.

After the hand work for boys was introduced into the schools of Munich, of the 2,200 boys who left school the first year thereafter, no less than 2,150 went at once into hand work in skilled employments.

What is required is that individuals and communities possess intelligence, practical ability and co-operating good will. These are not inherited.

The development of labor for the carrying on and carrying out of undertakings in connection with the natural resources is a most important duty, and at the present time is pressing upon the people for discharge. It presses upon the people both as individuals and communities.

The schools do not teach a trade, but give a good preparation for the learning of a trade immediately after the children leave school.

The fruits of technical education would be found in the circumstances and homes of the people and in the residuum of intelligence, practical ability and good will.

Hereafter the top of the ladder will be in every kind of institution where a man or woman is needed and can be trained for efficient service in agricultural work, in industrial work, commercial work, or housekeeping work.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS REGULATE THE LIVER

THE ROYAL SERVANTS

Buckingham Palace, like many other households sometimes feels the dearth of maid servants. Royal registry offices are a necessity, and those so honored are generally conducted by persons who have lived in the Palace or have other high connections. The late stewards to the Marquess of Dufferin and the Earl of Crewe, for instance, regularly supply Buckingham Palace and Marlborough House with both men and maid servants.

They are held responsible for the people they supply to the Royal Household, and no one is ever sent who has not lived in good houses, and has at least two years' character. Footmen, under-butlers—indeed, all men in livery—must be six feet in height, and the better looking they are the better chance they have of securing a post. Footmen who have served at Embassies in other countries, and can speak one or two foreign languages, are favored. Only British servants are engaged. The men must be between the ages of twenty-two and twenty-eight, and the women between eighteen and twenty-two. The wages are not better to begin with than in other households, but there are better allowances—in liveries and in plain clothes. There is the chance, too, of promotion to something better. A head housemaid might get $250 a year, and of course there is a pension for every servant who has served a certain number of years. Ten years is generally considered the minimum time for a pension, but when a case of misfortune occurs an application is made to the King, who approves a special grant. The servants have plenty of work to do in the Palace, but are given ample leisure and very good quarters and living. The maids are requested to dress alike—in colored prints. The State porters and marshal men are engaged directly by the King on warrant. When a vacancy occurs everyone holding an office in the Palace has a right to name a candidate to the Lord Steward. The latter sifts the applications, and submits the result to the King. The ordinary household servants are resident, with the exception of a personal housemaid, who travels with the Royal Family.

Montreal Civic Automobile Pushes Into Telephone Pole.

MONTREAL, March 9.—What the participants say was merely a test of one of the civic automobiles, resulted in disaster yesterday morning to two members of the city fire brigade, the chauffeur of the city paymaster and the car. Another fireman and five companions were lucky to escape the serious injury that befell the others when the automobile going down hill on Upper Lachine road, swerved and crashed into a telephone pole. The chauffeur, A. Martin, has a broken leg and internal injuries. E. Desaulniers, all ribs on right side crushed in, and P. Hubert, a broken arm and internal injuries. They are in the Western Hospital.

A. Mercier, pinned down by the overturned car, got off with bruises.

City Paymaster A. Carpentier said the men had no authority from him to take out the car. An investigation will be held.

Shackleton Has Funds.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A London cable to The World says: Sir Ernest Shackleton has now secured $250,000 which was needed to carry out his exploring trip across the Antarctic continent in the south. He wants $50,000 more to have a margin for the unexpecting parties. The Government has given $50,000, while anonymous persons have offered $100,000 as a free gift; another person offered $175,000 for the cinematograph rights, but the explorer said this remains to be decided.

Sir Ernest Shackleton is working fifteen hours a day at the preparations.

WILL GIVE UP SEAT

Evanturel Condemned by Supporters in Prescott

HE PROMISES REVELATIONS

VANKLEEK HILL, March 9.—Condemned by the leaders of the Liberal party in his native County of Prescott, in a strongly worded resolution, and received coldly by the rank and file, on account of his action in writing to the liquor interests, asking for $10,000 to use his influence in their behalf, Gustave Evanturel accepted the inevitable here Saturday afternoon and announced that he would resign his seat in the Ontario Legislature on Tuesday, and in doing so would present a full statement of the situation to the House.

There are 26 members on the Liberal Association executive of Prescott County, and there were 22 of them present at the meeting which sat in judgment on their provincial representative, and unanimously endorsed the action of the ruling powers at Toronto in ostracizing him.

Prior to adopting the resolution the executive held a conference in private with Mr. Evanturel in the Vankleek town hall, when the M.P.P. announced his intention to resign. The conference lasted a long time, and a large crowd waited impatiently in the street well on to two hours to gain admittance to the public meeting that naturally was expected to receive the announcement as to what had transpired.

As soon as the doors were open the crowd rushed madly in. President J. N. LaPointe, of Plantagenet, was in the chair, and one of the secretaries read the resolution that had been adopted. It came as no surprise to the crowd, and there was no demonstration one way or the other. The condemned member sat in the audience quiet and alone, while the judgment passed upon him was being read.

The resolution deplored Evanturel's action and declared that he had no justification whatever for writing the letter. It expressed condemnation of the proposal contained therein and approval of Evanturel's decision to resign his seat. The resolution further endorsed Mr. Rowell's prompt action in barring Evanturel from the Liberal caucus.

It was suggested that Mr. Evanturel might desire to make some public statement and he at once went to the platform. His face was drawn and tense but he spoke without hesitation and once or twice was applauded by some of his friends.

"I think," he said, "that the Liberals of Prescott will give me credit for having made an honest statement of the situation. I did not come here to excuse myself after having condemned myself on the floor of the House and throughout the province."

The letter he had written, he continued, had been addressed to the directors of the Allied Licensee Association of Ontario.

"I think, although I am guilty, that Mr. Ferguson's action was a very weak defence to my attack on the bad administration of the Liquor Act in my county," he went on. "The letter certainly was written on a very unhappy day for me and that day was Dec. 4, 1913."

He stated that he had received a reply from Secretary Allen of the Hotelmen's Association saying that the position he had applied for had already been filled.

He then explained that he would delay the reading of his resignation in the House until Tuesday, as there was usually only a sparse attendance on Monday. He was sure that while the executive was censuring him, he still had their sympathy. He was a poor man, and he thought that licensed interests could give him some financial aid, for he would "stand forever against the abolition of the bar."

Mr. Evanturel intimated that if he were guilty of wrong-doing he was not the only member of the House, and said he might ask the Provincial Secretary if it were not a fact that he was retained by the Standard Oil Company.

Some of the men in the audience objected to "a slur being cast on the whole Legislature," and wanted Mr. Evanturel to give names and particulars, but officers of the association said that if he had any charges to make the proper place to make them would be in the Legislature, when he was resigning on Tuesday.

Later Mr. Evanturel addressed a meeting at Hawkesbury, and yesterday spoke to the residents of Alfred, his own town, many of whom had come in from the surrounding country to hear him.

C. N. R. Buying Route.

GALT, March 9.—Surveyors have been at work for several days in the interest of the Canadian Northern Railway Co. picking out a possible route for an electric road from Guelph through Hespeler, Preston, Galt and Brantford. A survey made a year ago from Guelph through Mesboro, Breslau to Berlin is considered permanent, as officials of the C.N.R. this week meet farmers interested to arrange prices for land necessary.

Big Radium Deposit Found.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 8.—A English expert, after considerable prospecting here, declares he has discovered a large deposit of radium-bearing ore, and that a sample of the ore sent to the United States has been pronounced satisfactory.

Fought In C. N. R. Tunnel.

MONTREAL, March 9. — The C. N. R. tunnel under Mount Royal was the battleground late Saturday night for a free for all fight among foreign laborers, in which a night-watchman, Mick Delarino, was badly beaten up. He is dangerously ill in the general hospital and Phillip Ferro, himself injured, is charged with the attack.

WITH HEALTH RESTORED HE THINKS OF HOME.—SIR JAMES WHITNEY—Characteristic sketch of the convalescent Premier of Ontario. Three months ago Sir James was thought to be dying in New York. An artist proceeded to the General Hospital with instructions to see Sir James Whitney and to secure a sketch of him if possible. On entering the corridor the artist was mistaken for a student, and was not intercepted. Stepping to the door of the balcony he saw Sir James, wearing a heavy coat and gazing at some distant object, or deeply engrossed in thought. The pose was an ideal one for the artist, and without disturbing the Premier he quickly made the outline of the sketch shown above and departed.

TO SAVE CHAS. S. PRICE.

Steamboat Men Think Air Pumped In Will Lift Ship.

TORONTO, March 9.—Detroit and Toronto steamboat men are planning to raise the steamer Charles S. Price, which lies in sixty feet of water in Lake Huron. The Price was one of the five-hundred-footers that was lost in the great storm on Nov. 9 last.

For several days after the storm the floating upturned hull of the Price, which was dubbed "the Mystery Ship," baffled steamboat men. The vessel for a time was thought to be the steamer James Carruthers of Toronto, a boat of similar dimensions, which was also lost.

The experiment of raising the boat will be watched with interest. The idea is to send a diver down to bore holes in the bottom of the upturned craft and pump air into her water tanks for the purpose of driving the water out. If this proves successful, and the hull rises to the surface, it is the intention to beach her in shallow water and pump the water out of her side tanks.

When the name of the "Mystery Ship" was discovered she was abandoned by her owners, the Mahoning Steamship Co. of Cleveland, to the underwriters.

The Charles S. Price, which was built at Lorain in 1910, was a vessel of exceptionally high power, and fitted with all the modern improvements in shipbuilding. She was 594 feet long, with a 54-foot beam and a draught of 20 feet.

Aeroplane Safety Device.

LONDON, March 9.—A. V. Roe, the Manchester designer, has adopted the expedient of providing his latest biplane, a very small machine, with "swept-back" wings for landing purposes, and is expected to beat all existing records with what are termed "air brak."

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN!

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs Surely Feel fine in five minutes

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favourite foods without fear — they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

BRITAIN AGAIN.

Outrage to British Subject In Mexico Arouses Protest.

WASHINGTON, March 9. — Another British subject has gotten into trouble in the State of Chihuahua, and the State Department has again been called on to extend his protection. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice called at the State Department yesterday to inform Secretary Bryan that an Englishman named Symmes had been driven away from his ranch and his property at least was in danger of destruction. Secretary Bryan immediately telegraphed to U. S. Consul Letcher at Chihuahua to make an enquiry and report the facts. If necessary, a protest will be made to Carranza or Villa.

Gen. Snyman Driven Out.

EL PASO, Texas, March 9.—Great interest was manifested yesterday in the case of Gen. M. E. Snyman, the former Boer general, who has been ordered from his 3,000-acre ranch, La Reina, 45 miles south of Chihuahua, and the estate itself confiscated.

Snyman is well-known here. He was one of the leaders in forming a Boer colony in Mexico after the British triumph in South Africa. He was born a Boer, but became naturalized as a Briton, and before the war was elected to the Cape Assembly. He turned rebel against his adopted country, however, but was restored to citizenship several years ago by King Edward's proclamation of amnesty.

Mimbo Fposen, Mistaken for Drunk.

MONTREAL, March 9.—Found in an unconscious condition, suffering from frozen limbs, John White, of Ottawa, was picked up by the police in Lachine Friday. Thought drunk, his real plight was not known for some hours after his arrest.

Leaves $300,000 To Church.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 9. — The will of the late Hon. James Pitts was probated Saturday. The estate is valued at $850,000. The Methodist Church of Newfoundland benefits to the extent of $300,000 now and $70,000 more at the death of his widow. He also left the Methodist, Anglican, Catholic Orphanages $2,000 apiece, and Mount Allison University $5,000.

At his widow's death seventeen nephews and nieces will divide the whole estate, getting about $20,000 each.

"Jail Editor" Gets Term.

BERLIN, March 9.—A sentence of three months' imprisonment was pronounced Saturday on Ernst Meyer, "jail editor" of the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts, who was tried on charges of treason and libelling Crown Prince Frederick William. The trial took place behind closed doors.

Every paper in Germany bears the name of a man who takes responsibilities for all articles, and he is known as the "jail editor."

MISS SYLVIA ABDUCTED.

LONDON, March 9.—Militant suffragettes again engaged in a battle with the police yesterday on their favorite field, Trafalgar Square, and in a pouring rain. The arrest of Sylvia Pankhurst for the sixth time under the "Cat and Mouse" law, precipitated the conflict. In addition to Miss Pankhurst, seven women and three men were arrested.

Several hundred women and men had marched in procession to the square to attend a meeting of the Men's Federation for Women Suffrage. Sylvia Pankhurst, who for some weeks had been hiding from the police, arrived in the square in a taxicab to deliver a speech, but detectives surrounded the cab and started it for Holloway jail before the militants realized what was happening.

When it was discovered that Miss Pankhurst had been abducted the chairwoman of the meeting, Miss Patterson, who later was among those arrested, shouted to her supporters from the base of the Nelson column, "Follow the flag and see if we can't find something to do."

The militants then surged toward the Government buildings in Whitehall with the suffrage banner borne aloft, but a cordon of mounted police barred their way.

Some of the women assailed the police with short sticks, but the marchers were soon dispersed.

Having received a refusal of an audience of King George, in which it was proposed that a deputation from the Women's Social and Political Union shall lay before him their claim for the vote, and their complaint against forcible feeding, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, has addressed another letter to the monarch. In the letter she declares her intention to lead a delegation to Buckingham Palace to see the King.

WOMAN MURDERED.

Mrs. Margaret Brown Dies After Being Attacked With Hammer.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 9. — Mrs. Margaret Brown, a widow, aged 50 years, was murderously attacked with a sledge hammer in her home in this city early yesterday morning, and died of her injuries at the Victoria General Hospital last night. James Murphy, a young Scotchman, was arrested by the police, and to-day he will have to face a charge of murder in the police court.

Family troubles are alleged to be the cause of the crime. Murphy is said to have been married to a daughter of the dead woman.

The prisoner is about 26 years of age, a machinist, and came here from Glasgow. It is said that he had been drinking on Saturday night.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Some criticism has been made that a book called "The Yoke" appears on the catalogue of the Public Library. "The Yoke" is the title of a notoriously nasty novel; "The Yoke" is also the title of a very worthy book by another author. This "Yoke" is an excellent book, well worthy of being read. It is unnecessary that the bad book called "The Yoke" is not on the shelves of the Public Library.

A rather valuable book, entitled "Mars As the Abode of Life," is missing from the Library. It is thought that somebody has taken the book out and inadvertently neglected to procure a ticket for it from the Librarian, who would be greatly pleased if the book were returned, so that it can be regularly issued or otherwise accounted for.

WHY FOOL OURSELVES

Guaranteed and Recommend Vinol.

If any one should know the value of a medicine it is the retail druggist who sells it.

Therefore, when over seven thousand of the best retail druggists in the country recommend Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the greatest tonic reconstructor and strength creator they have ever sold, it must indicate the value of Vinol.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:

J. C. Brady, druggist of Fall River, Mass., says: "In cases where cod liver oil, emulsions and other tonics fail, Vinol will heal, strengthen and cure."

C. A. Potterfield, druggist, of Charleston, W. Va., says: "It is a pleasure to sell Vinol as it gives such universal satisfaction."

Hunter & McGee, druggists, of Jackson, Miss., say: "We have great confidence in the strength creating and curative value of Vinol."

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person or any person suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. McDermid & Jury, special agents.

LIVES LOST IN BAD FIRE

Missouri Athletic Club's Building in St. Louis Completely Destroyed and Many Are Missing

THREE KNOWN DEAD

ST. LOUIS, March 9—With forty-five persons unaccounted for, three known dead, and a score injured, a fire that completely destroyed the seven-storey building of the Missouri Athletic Club and the Boatmen's building was still sweeping all before it at the time of writing. Prominent business and professional men were trapped in their beds when the fire swept up the Athletic building. Of the three dead, two jumped from the fourth storey windows. Scores owe their lives to the telephone operator, Not Roe, who stuck to his board till the circuits were cut off by flames.

Another Bad Fire.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 9.—Three are dead and four injured, all from jumping from the upper stories, is the toll of dead this morning in a fire which destroyed one of the principal business blocks here with a loss of a quarter of a million. Many families who lived in the upper stories were rescued in thir night clothing.

An Exciting Moment

Slave Thrown to the Crocodiles

One of the most thrilling, awe inspiring moments of George Kleine's glorious production of the Cines photo drama 'Antony and Cleopatra' is when the Egyptian Queen orders her slave thrown to the crocodiles of the Nile for daring to have fallen in love with Marc Antony. The picture is realistic in the extreme. The huge monsters are seen swimming about the stream, which flows at the foot of the palace steps, laying in wait for any article of food that may be thrown to them. The curtains of the enerance part and Cleopatra and her retinue appear, followed by a powerful slave who carries the young girl securely bound. At the Queen's signal the slave throws the girl into the waters. The crocodiles make one dive for her and all disappear into the depths of the river. Meanwhile Cleopatra looks on unmoved by pity, regal even in her hatred and malevolence, flashing proud fury from her eyes and a sneer of conscious disdain and power enveloping her features. It is an episode both dramatic and sensational that holds the spectator spellbound, yet carries with it no feeling of repulsion that might naturally be expected. It is superbly acted and superbly carried out. This is only one of a host of scenes that go to make the Cines "Antony and Cleopatra" the greatest photo drama yet produced. The George Kleine production is announced for three days only, at "The Grand," on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday of this week. As the mammoth production is in 8 reels and takes 2 1-4 hours to run there will be but one performance each afternoon, commencing at 2.30, and one evening performance, commencing at 8 p.m.

ALICE LLOYD'S BIG ENTERTAINMENT

Dainty, vivacious little Alice Lloyd, with a magnificent array of gowns, a charming personality and a sweet voice, at the head of her congress of entertainers, under the direction of William Morris, will appear at the Grand, next Thursday, March 12.

Miss Lloyd will be seen in a new style of entertainment, combining a singing and dancing revue. The first half of the entertainment will be a series of specialties by Sidney Wood and the Doraine Sisters, Ed. Latell, The Cowboy Minstrels, "The Act Beautiful, "The Dublin Minstrel," and Miss Lloyd in a song repertoire of old and new favourites. The second half is called "Dance Mad," revealing a realistic glimpse of the Jardin de Danse atop the New York Theatre, New York. In this scene the entire company will take part and every form of dancing will be given.

The dancers assembled by Mr. Morris for this attraction, come from all parts of the world, and include Col. Mayo Diamond and Mme. DeLawar, Patty Young, Edwards and Eliza Candee, Techiowski Trio and the X-Ray Dance, which as the title indicates, has a complete and fighting scheme so the audience will be in no way deceived.

Poster Stamp is for every person in the City or District to possess.

STRATFORD DELEGATION IN THE CITY

Visited the Garbage Incinerator at the Request of the Stratford City Council—Will Make a Report

GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Ald. D. A. McLachlin, chairman of the Stratford City Council special committee on the garbage question, and Dr. E. H. Eldt, of the Board of Health, visited Peterborough last week for the purpose of inspecting the garbage incinerator. The visit of the delegation was the upshot of a meeting on Wednesday afternoon last of the joint committee of the Stratford Council and Board of Health when the disposal of the garbage in connection with the collecting system was further discussed. The delegation that visited Peterborough was of the opinion that the incinerator was the last word in the solution of the problem of garbage disposal.

BLACKLISTER IS FINED

Says He Got His Liquor While in Port Hope

It is a recognized fact that the week-end drunks must always be prepared to pay more than their brethren who are captured through the week. This fact was manifested in police court this morning. A witness in one case said that the accused was walking straighter than the officer who arrested him. Magistrate Dumble, however, did not seem to believe the story. Some old-time greetings were also exchanged between the Court and a well-known frequenter of the prisoners' box.

The fine for drunks has doubtless substantially increased, and anyone getting away with a $2 fine may consider that a favour has been bestowed upon them.

This morning Patrick O'Grady, James Pammatt, and Thomas Aimola were each assessed $5.75 for the privilege of carrying more liquor than the custodians of the law considered good for them.

"William Whittacker." Hello, are you there again," was the greeting that this personage received from the Court. Whittacked was charged with being under the influence of liquor on Saturday last, being at that time a member of the honour roll."

He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $10.

Chief Thompson—"Where did you get your liquor ?"

"I brought it back from Port Hope with me yesterday morning," said Whittaker. "I went down there on Tuesday last to see a friend of mine and I brought it back with me."

Chief Thompson — "That is the same story that you told us last time, isn't it?"

Accused—"No; last time I told you that I met the same friend in Peterborough and he got me the liquor".

Magistrate Dumble—"Did any lawyer advise you that this would carry you through?"

AWAITED WITH PAINFUL INTEREST

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 9.—(Special Cable.)—Asquith's Home Rule statement to-day is awaited with painful interest and political excitement unparalleled in this generation. Although the London Times has requested all Unionists to give the pronouncement consideration, some of the Opposition are inclined to condemn the proposals before they are made. It is anticipated that Leader Bonar Law will in any event, not immediately reject the proposals, but will demand time for consideration. The Westminster Gazette this morning pleads for the Unionists to meet the Liberals half way, but says: "We should be blind to signs of the times if we did not not the accumulating signs that the die-hards of the Tory party are once more getting in the ascendent." The Pall Mall Gazette declares that Asquith has annihilated the power of the present Parliamnt to do anything for Ireland but shed her blood. Several papers this morning are giving credence to a rumour cabled Saturday that the King would dissolve Parliament either with or without its consent if the Home Rule carries so that the matter can be immediately submitted to the people.

ANNUAL MEETING.

St. John's Woman's Auxiliary will hold an annual meeting on Tuesday, March 10th, in the Guild Room at three o'clock. Miss Cartwright, Diocesan President will give an address.

"PRESENT CRAZE FOR FREAK DANCING"

THIRTY MONTHS FOR O'NEILL

Barrie Railroader Who Helped Circulate Counterfeit Bills is Sentenced.

THIRD TO GO DOWN

Special Wire to The Examiner:

BARRIE, Ont., March 9. — The third person implicated in the circulation of bogus dollar Bank of Montreal bills through Ontario was sent to the penitentiary for two and one-half years this morning, when James O'Neill, a one-armed employee of the G.T.R., was sentenced. O'Neill has a wife and fivec hildren, and the court gave him only half the term given his accomplices, Chas. Burke and Jno. Burkholder, of Lindsay, who were convicted on this charge.

Immigration Starts Soon

Mr. Miller, the local Immigration Officer, is constantly receiving applications from employment agencies in England and Scotland to place men in positions on the Canadian farms. This morning he was in receipt of a communication from an agency in Aberdeen, Scotland. This particular county, the letter explained, was particularly well known as an agricultural centre, and there were many men, married and single, who wished to come to Canada. The only difficulty was to muster enough money to take a steamship passage, as the wages paid are comparatively low.

Mr. Miller told an Examiner representative this morning that he would not bring too many married men here, as if by some unav[illegible] means he was unable to place t[illegible] those people would be chargeable to the City.

The immigration season is now near, and it is expected that towards the end of the present month, the busy time will have started.

License Transfer Granted

Commissioners Approve of the Transfer to Geo. N. Graham

At a meeting of the License Commissioners of West Peterborough, held on Saturday night, the transfer of the license of the National Hotel to Geo. N. Graham, formerly proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, was granted. The matter has been before the Commissioners for some time.

LACROSSE MEETING

All old-time players and fans are especially invited to be present to lend their assistance to this enterprise.

CHANGE MADE IN REGISTRATION ACT

Does Not Apply to Those Who Heal by Mental or Spiritual Means

The Massachusetts' Board of Registration in Medicine agreed to make a change in the proposed new Medical Registration Act so that it will not apply to those who heal by mental or spiritual means, at a public hearing given at the State House Thursday, by the Legislative Committee on Public Health.

This change was made at the request of former-Governor John L. Bates, representing the directors of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Mr. Bates said that the change was to the effect that the Act shall not apply to any person who ministers to, or treats the sick or suffering by mental or spiritual means without the use of any drugs or material remedy. — Christian Science Monitor.

Three Ribs Were Broken

Son of Local Contractor Suffered a Painful Accident

LINDSAY, March 9.—A serious and unfortunate accident befell Mr. Elmo Boggs, son of Contractor Jas. Boggs, the other day, when he broke three ribs.

It appears that Mr. Boggs, Jr., was enjoying a skate on the open air rink at Victoria Park when he fell and injured his side. It did not pain him much, but yet he felt that something was wrong. For two or three days he felt a strange feeling in his body, and was greatly surprised when the doctor informed him that he had fractured three ribs.

It will be some time before he will be able to do heavy work again.

DOLLAR DAY March 12th

MANAGER OF HENRY HOPE CO. ARRIVES

From England at Noon To-day, Accompanied by Firm's Toronto Architect--New Siding Completed

INSTALLING MACHINERY

Mr. V. Richardson, works manager of the Henry Hope Company, has arrived in Peterborough and visited the new factory to-day. He was accompanied by Mr. A. L. Young, of Toronto, the Vice-President of the company. They arrived on the noon C. P. R. train and went directly to the works. The temporary siding has been completed and the unloading of four cars of machinery was commenced this morning. The installation of the machines will be carried out as quickly as possible, and everything will be made ready for the first operations.

Mr. Richardson and Mr. Young returned to Toronto this afternoon but the former will move to Peterborough in a short time and will take up residence here. To The Examiner they said they expected to begin operations on April 1st, employing at least fifty hands as agreed upon in the contract with the city.

WE ALL TAKE SUPPERS NOW

Of all the questions that arise
To propagate confusion,
The supper problem most defies
A rational solution.
For what to eat and what to drink
When comes the time for resting,
Is just a matter, most folks think,
Of easiest digesting.

But John's Pure Cocoa's here,
And solves the supper trouble.
Provides a dainty supper cheer,
And yields a strength that's double.
Now all to supper can appeal,
They need not stop to question,
Since John's Pure Cocoa makes the meal
A feast of good digestion.

In times gone by, at supper time,
Our feelings were depressed,
We didn't know what meat or drink
Would least disturb our rest.
So suppertide we often went,
"Twas hard, you must allow.
But since John's Pure Cocoa's come to stay,
We all take suppers now.

The things we used to eat at night,
When hunger, pressed its claim,
Produced more qualms and horrid dreams
Than would be well to name.
But all is changed from that sad time,
And I will tell you how:
With John's Pure Cocoa here,
We all take suppers now.

The reason for this supper change
Is easy to describe:
"Twas Cocoa" we ate all digest.
Is pleasant to imbibe;
It h[illegible]s at, it helps our sleep.
N[illegible] it doth endow;
So, John's Pure Cocoa makes
We all take suppers now.

APPOINTMENT WILL GO TO MR. F. W. MILLER

Relief Officer Will Be Asked to Investigate Applications for Free Admittance to Local Hospitals

SALARY INCREASE

That Mr. F. W. Miller, Relief Officer, will be delegated to examine into the circumstances concerning all patients desirous of entering Nicholls or St. Joseph's Hospitals, as indigent patients, is a foregone conclusion. There is a unanimity of opinion among the City officials that Mr. Miller possesses the necessary qualifications for the position. As was pointed out by Rev. Mr. Rollins on Friday eevning, it is essential that the appointee should manifest a little human interest in the cases that come up for disposition as well as exercise consideration.

Increase Proposed.

Some eighteen or twenty cases have been investigated by Mr. Miller each month for the past year or so, with the result that the Council is practically agreed that Mr. Miller is entitled to a substantial increase in salary. The amount of the increase was not stated at Friday night's meeting of the Council, but it was intimated by more than one of the aldermen that Mr. Miller was a valuable man to the City, and had proved his efficiency in every department of his civic connection.

Amount Involved.

The new proposal under which the City agrees to pay for the care of indigent patients that are treated at the local hospitals will involve an expenditure approximating five or six thousand dollars a year for the two hospitals. As was stated by Rev. Mr. Rollins, representing the Nicholls Hospital Board, Nicholls Hospital would require at least three thousand dollars to cover the cost of maintaining indigent patients for the current year. It is reasonable to suppose that the St. Joseph's Hospital will require at least one-half of this amount, if not more.

"Several Ways"

In his address to the City Council on Friday evening, Mr. Rollins said:

"There are several ways in which this money we require can be asked for and paid over:

I. We can ask you to issue a cheque for the amount of any deficit from month to month.

This would not likely be very satisfactory to you, because one month you might require to pay $25 and the next $300. This would often be the case, owing to our income from endowment as well as from patients, coming in irregularly, as also to irregular buying of supplies, coal, etc.

II. We might, without waiving any rights we have under the charter, say to you: We think, after looking over the whole situation, that we will require, say $3,000 from the City this year, and you could arrange to pay that in payments of $250 a month.

3. Or we might say to you what we are going to say to you: Treat your own Hospital, at least, as well as the law compels you to treat other other hospitals, and as the law compels other municipalities to treat other hospitals and begin by paying to the Hospital Board the amount required by law for the cases which are not able to pay anything, either to physicians or to hospitals for their treatment and nursing while sick. That amount is $1 a day.

Can Come Back.

We want you to begin with that and without waiving any of our rights under the charter we will do our best to make ends meet. If we cannot make ends meet, when we have this assistance from you, we will have to come back to you and ask for a direct contribution over and above this $1 a day for indigent patients. We are, moreover, willing to let you say who are and who are not indigent patients. Your officer will have to be fair. If he does not admit the man, woman, or child unable to pay, and that case is reported to the Government, we will lose the government grant (about $1800), and if we lose it we will have to come to you for just that much more money.

It will be decidedly in the interest of the ratepayers that your Officer be humane and considerate."

TWO SMALL FIRES

The Fire Department responded to two minor calls yesterday. At 12.45 p.m., an alarm from Box 17 was sounded for a chimney fire at the residence of Mr. George Springs, 161 Stewart street. No damage was done.

At 7.19 p.m. a telephone call from the residence of Mr. L. Hayward, at the Little Lake cemetery, necessitated a run to extinguish another chimney fire. The Department arrived before any damage was done.

SUICIDE IN ART GALLERY

American Art Dealer Was in Financial Straits—Died Before a Reubens

FRIENDS HAD RALLIED

NEW YORK, March 9.—The costliest gems of his one-million-dollar stock of paintings surrounded Theron J. Blakeslee, the noted American art dealer, when he shot himself through the head in the exhibition room of his galleries in the Francis Building, No. 665 Fifth avenue, at 5.30 o'clock last Saturday evening. He was taken unconscious in an ambulance to Flower Hospital, where he died at 7 o'clock.

Financial difficulties, which evidently prompted Mr. Blakeslee's act, had served to disclose the confidence of his creditors and the affectionate loyalty of his clients and friends, rather than to threaten ruin to the business he had been building up for forty-three of his sixty-one years.

Dealers of London and Paris, of whom he bought heavily last summer, had all hastened to offer extensions of credit. Financial institutions had offered advances of additional capital, needed for reorganization of the liabilities, so that their burden might be distributed over a protracted period.

Paul Mersch, son-in-law and representative of Charles Sedelmeyer, art dealer of Paris, was a horrified witness of Mr. Blakeslee's self-destruction. With Theron Davis, personal friend of the art dealer, Mr. Mersch had spent several hours in the Blakeslee galleries, which occupy the north side of the second floor of the new building at Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street. Inventory of the Blakeslee stock has been in progress for two weeks and is practically completed. It shows a valuation of close to $1,000,000 upon more than eight hundred important canvases which hang in these galleries.

Reclining on the cushions in one corner of a bench, Mr. Blakslee faced the most valuable canvases of his entire collection when he shot himself. "The Adoration of the Magi," a Reubens, valued at $100,000, hung on the wall opposite to him.

PETITIONING FOR RELEASE

Marmora Man May Be Allowed His Freedom

MARMORA, March 9.—A strong effort is being made at present by a number in the Village to have Mr. Dan. Osborne, who is serving an indeterminate sentence in the Central Prison, released and allowed to return to his home here.

The citizens of the Village are practically unanimous in the opinion that Mr. Osborne has already received greater punishment than his offence would warrant, as it is nearly months since he was arrested.

Some weeks ago a petition for his release was circulated in the Village and largely signed. By mistake this petition was forwarded to Judge Deroche, the trial judge, instead of to the Minister of Justice. His Honour forwarded the petition to the Warden of the Prison, with a recommendation that Osborne be released. It appears that even this was not sufficient as the petition was shelved in Toronto.

Last week when the Reeve and a number of the Councillors and officials of the Vilage were in Toronto, the matter was taken up with the local member, Mr. R. J. Cooke, who had the petition forwarded to the Minister of Justice and has taken the other necessary steps.

TWO SPLENDID PHOTOGRAPHS

A splendid group photograph of the Mayor and Council for 1914 appears in the window of Kent's Book store and has attracted considerable attention. The picture is the work of the Roy Studio and is a remarkable example of the artistic methods employed by the well-known firm. The photograph of last year's Peterborough Canadian League team, on view in the Studio show case, is another splendid Roy effort.

MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1914

CONDEMNED ALL ROUND.

Exit Gustave Evanturel, M.P.P., for Prescott. He was elected a Liberal in the last election; but after his election declined to follow Mr. Rowell or his banish-the-bar policy. More than that he offered himself for sale to the Hotelkeepers' Association, for ten thousand dollars—to be paid in instalments. He was to support the interests of the liquor traffic in the Legislature. On the reading of his letter to this effect, Mr. Rowell, his leader, promptly repudiated him and his action. He was excluded from the Liberal caucus; and the Government condemned him. With the Legislature unanimously against him, it only needed the formal condemnation of his constituents on Saturday, to cut Mr. Evanturel loose from his seat. Now his resignation of his seat is due; and only that resignation can save him from the added ignominy of expulsion.

KEEP IT PURE.

Now it is Fort William that preaches the value of purity of water. Before the city got a pure lake supply of city water they had seven hundred cases of typhoid fever. They have had one since the pure water supply came into use. This is a lesson as to the necessity of retaining our city water supply in Peterborough in a pure condition. Our Water Commissioners have done well in this and other regards; help them to continue. The Water Commission is a case in which there should be no experimenting in the matter of administration. We have good commissioners and we don't want any experimenting with the subordinate department. Any overlapping with civic administration would be to incur danger of unsatisfactory results, on the principle that no man can serve two masters, nor, unless he is more than human in ability, can give effective service in two departments. Any proposals for economy must not be allowed to imperil the dearest interests of our city, the public health. The less work we can give the doctors the better.

MR. BOURASSA COMES.

Mr. Henri Bourassa, the head and front of Nationalism, is not to be a candidate for the Legislature of Ontario in Prescott, to be made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Evanturel. He is not eligible; he is not a resident of this Province, as the amended laws of the Province requires. Mr. Bourassa is better slated for the candidature of Jacques Cartier, Quebec, in succession to the late member, Hon. F. D. Monk. That seems to be a better place for him, than as a representative of an Ontario constituency, even if the law did not make him ineligible. Mr. Bourassa is, however, almost an Ontario citizen. He entered Ontario at the last general election and assisted in the election of a Conservative candidate. He spoke from a Conservative platform at Sudbury, and the Chairman, in a burst of exaggerated enthusiasm, introduced Mr. Bourassa as "our leader." Jacques Cartier has been a Conservative constituency for a generation; though it was held by Mr. Monk, who became a Nationalist. Naturally a Nationalist should be elected to succeed Mr. Monk, for "Nationalist" is the real name of the Conservative party in Quebec, and it would be logical to make Mr. Bourassa the candidate in Jacques Cartier. The integrity of the Conservative-Nationalist alliance demands it, and what better man to constitute the cement than Mr. Bourassa, the head of Nationalism, and officially employed at Sudbury to prove the reality of the Conservative-Nationalist alliance?

POLITICAL CORRUPTION.

The Social Service Congress, in its first session at Ottawa, made a strong pronouncement upon political corruption in Canadian constituencies, which led Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, to challenge its right to expect from human nature that there should not be a little leak of some "legitimate" funds. It must be admitted that Mr. Hanna should correctness. He made the statement that there had never been proved by either party in Lambton—his constituency—any political corruption. This is going it rather strong. While it is easily possible to exaggerate the extent to which improper election methods are practiced, it is possible to make too strong strong declarations as to the purity of election contests. It is possible and even probable that there was never an election, except perhaps a walkover, or an election by acclamation, in which more or less corruption may not have been practiced. A candidate or candidates may be perfectly honest in their desire to have a pure, clean election, but every candidate has zealous friends whose honesty is not quite proof against this zeal. There is no doubt that the extent of electoral corruption is greatly exaggerated, though there is evidence of altogether too much. But the ideal condition, asserted by Mr. Hanna, is altogether too good to be true. All parties must have election funds for legitimate expenses; and it is too be regarded as an authority. His connection with the campaign contributions of Mr. George Taylor show that even "legitimate" funds can be regarded with suspicion. His refusal to appear before the Public Accounts Committee to explain the origin of Mr. Taylor's contribution, shows that even in "legitimate" campaign fund contributions there are things that do not lend themselves to ingenious explanation. We cannot altogether remove electoral corruption, but we can greatly minimize it. If both parties should get together, in good faith; in an honest attempt to bring about reform, something might be accomplished. Battling with this evil is not a party work; both parties must unite in action. But it rests with the party in power to initiate action. Br. Borden, when in opposition, advocated the appointment of a public prosecutor of offences against electoral purity, as he promised and advocated a great many other good things which have not come to anything. We have not the slightest doubt that if Mr. Borden proposed stringent and practical electoral reform in the regard in question and sought the cooperation from his opponents, that this cooperation would be given; so that unanimous action might result in measures so well designed, as to lead to substantial reform. A non-partizan conference over measures to cover the whole field could be made to bring about a great improvement. Good and true men of both parties do not want their vote to be spoiled by a purchaseable element. If the people are to rule, the voice of the best people must not be stifled and their votes for good men and good measures neutralized.

OPTIMISTIC ROSS.

The late Sir George Ross had an optimism that was the logical complement of his patriotism. In 1899, in discussing his forward policy in regard to the exploration of New Ontario, which has so far amplified the prophetic words of his speech of fifteen years, he uttered these stirring words:

"We must rise to a conception of the magnitude of our position as Canadians. Canada as owner of half a continent is destined to have a future the brilliancy of which and the success of which no one can anticipate.

"Why, at the beginning of this century the population of the United States was only 5,000,000. Scarcely a hundred years have flown away, and to-day their population is estimated at 75,000,000.

"In twenty, thirty, or forty years what will the population of Canada be? It will be just what our energy in developing the latent resources of the country, in encouraging settlement, and in encouraging settlement, and in improving the social condition of the people will make it.

"And shall we in the Province of Ontario lag behind and be unfaithful to our duty in this great competition? I would that all Canadians would realise the great possibilities that lie before them."—Hon. Geo. W. Ross at Whitby, November, 1899.

ROSS, AS EDUCATIONIST.

The following is the tribute of Dr. W. Pakenham, (a former Peterborough boy), Dean of the Ontario Faculty of Education, to the late Sir George Ross, as an educationist—told to an interviewer of the Toronto Star:

"The people of Ontario know Sir George as a political leader and as an orator, but the teachers of the Province prefer to think of him as a schoolmaster, an inspector of schools, and as Minister of Education."

"Mr. Adam Crooks, whom Sir George succeeded as Minister, was inactive after the aggressiveness of the regime of Dr. Ryerson. Crooks thought it best to mark time, but Sir George was the embodiment of energy. He worked unceasingly to reform education. His ambition helped out his industry.

"He wished to do things that the public would notice and command. Add to his industry and ambition a real passion for uniformity and completeness in organization and you have the result of his work in education.

He added the kindergarten to one end of the Public School, and the continuation schools to the other end. He rounded out the scheme of teacher training of his day by perfecting the Model Schools and creating the Normal College.

"He attempted to organise industrial education but lack of funds prevented him. In his last year as Minister he was forced often to compromise, and his policy lacked aggressiveness. Perhaps the political condition and an empty treasury explained this.

"Those who knew Sir George in his office as his officials, will always bear testimony to his kindly and even generous, disposition, and his unfailing industry."

WILL HANNA SUPPORT ROWELL'S BILL TO CHECK CONTRIBUTIONS?

Special to The Examiner:

TORONTO, Parliament Buildings, March 8.—Already this year's Legislature has established a name for itself as the "Session of Surprises." The latest development is Mr. Rowell's Bill to prohibit political contributions from certain sources. The surprise comes in the number of parties prohibited from contributing. The Bill includes not only corporations as was the case in Mr. Marshall's Bill of last session, but also Government contractors, and still further, surprise number two, all holders of liquor licenses either bar, shop, brewery, distillery or wholesale, and associations whose object it is to promote the interests of the trade in intoxicating liquors.

The penalties provided are also more drastic than those provided in last year's Bill. Now, imprisonment is added to fines. Guilty persons are liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 and not less than $1,000, and at the same time to imprisonment for not more than one years and not less than three months.

This Bill is in accord with the general spirit of hostility to the practice of contributions to campaign funds being made by men or bodies of men financially interested in legislation. It is simply a sign that Ontario opinion is in line with the opinion so evident recently in other British countries and in the United States, against corruption in politics.

The provision for imprisonment is one of the striking features of the Bill. It is the general belief that much of the genuine house-cleaning going on now in the United States is being accomplished by the imprisonment of offenders and by the fear of jail in the minds of men who would not be deterred by a monetary fine alone.

What will the Government do with Mr. Rowell's Bill? The general principle both of this and of Mr. Anderson's Bill requiring publication of campaign contributions was accepted by Sir James Whitney last session when he asked that the Bills be withdrawn on the understanding that they would be re-introduced this year.

For office use there has been invented a machine for reinking ribbons for typewriters, adding machines and other such devices.

TEMPERANCE HANDICAP OF THREE-FIFTHS

The following is the report of the Executive of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance in regard to the workings of the three-fifths clause in local option voting:

Again the grossly unjust and progress-hindering three-fifths requirement was shown up in its one-sided, liquor-favouring character.

It would be strange and sad if there were not indignation to-day in the hearts of men who resent the wrong done them in the taking away of their franchise birthright, by legislation providing that the vote of a man who favours the liquor traffic shall have nearly half as much more law-making power as the vote of a man who conscientiously and unselfishly seeks to make his ballot count for the making of homes happier, children safer, and the whole community better off.

The baldness of this reversion to antiquated injustice, this abandonment of straight thought principle, cannot be atoned for by providing that after righteousness overcomes its handicap it will be given the same superior privilege that is first conferred upon evil. We say "evil" deliberately, for even the advocates of the ancient method of unenlightened ages express their conviction that the liquor traffic is a curse, and declare that they would willingly exterminate it if they could. The proposal to handicap evil after good has triumphed over it cannot excuse the handicapping of good in its desperate struggle for existence and usefulness.

It must be repealed. Its unsoundness has been exposed. Its effectiveness as a hindrance to the temperance cause and the powerful stronghold of the liquor traffic have been fully demonstrated. It has been unsparingly condemned by wise men whose alleged approval of it was given as a reason for its adoption. It was an untimely resurrection of a legislative method that advancing humanity gladly buried long ago. Surely the justice, the patriotism and the goodwill towards humanity of intelligent legislators will speedily return it to the grave from which it ought never to have been taken!

The practical results of the work of the three-fifths requirement is its strongest condemnation.

To-day there are 123 municipalities where Local Option by-laws would be in force but for the three-fifth requirement. 56 of these have been held up twice, six have been held up three times. In these 123 municipalities there are 408 licenses.

The will of the people as expressed by majority vote is: Prohibition in 658 municipalities, and license in 196 municipalities.

The three-fifths requirement permitted: Prohibition in only 535 municipalities, and retained licenses in 307 municipalities.

The will of the people is, to continue only 1165 licenses. The three-fifths permits the continuance of 1573 licenses. There are 123 more municipalities under license and 408 more licenses in operation than there would be on a democratic majority plan.

If we take the number of licenses allowed to remain by the "Three-fifths" and the number of years they have been kept in operation we find that up to May 1st, 1914, the "Three-fifths" has been responsible for the maintenance of the euivalent, of 2245 licenses for one year.

If we add to this the additional lease of life given for the future by the contests already held we have in addition the equivalent of 639 licenses for one year. This makes a grand total of 2783 license years that the liquor traffic in Ontario has been allowed by the "Three-fifths" requirement.

If we figure the average receipts for each license at $10,000 a year it means that the "Three-fifths" requirement has already impoverished the Province and enriched the liquor traffic to the extent of $21,540,680, and has put an additional mortgage upon the Province for future years of $6,390,000, an aggregate loss to the Province, and an aggregate income to the liquor traffic of $27,930,000.

No wonder the liquor trade of the Province is an enthusiastic supporter of the "three-fifths" requirement. No wonder the temperance people emphatically and with practical unanimity denounce it.

Eight years experience of the working of the three-fifths requirement, as shown by the fore-going figures, has proved that it is not necessary to permanence of Local Option in places where by-laws have been carried, but, on the contrary, has given strength and permanence to the liquor traffic.

Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna argued in favour of the measure on the ground that it was expected to aid the temperance cause, which, of course, is the reverse of protecting the drink business. Mr. Hanna, in 1913, declared the attitude of the Government in a statement reported by the Mail and Empire as follows:

"The moment it was established that the three-fifths vote was not necessary in order to give permanence, the Government would accept the situation and see that the three-fifths clause should be repealed. The law would remain on the statutes only so long as the Government was persuaded it should remain there to give permanency to Local Option. If the experiences of last January were repealed next January, it would be for the House to consider what bearing they had on the question of the three-fifths vote."

We submit to the calm judgment and fair-minded members of the Provincial Legislature, and other citizens who are ready to consider the matter without prejudice, whether the Provincial Government and Legislature is not bound by the foregoing declaration to remove the three-fifths requirement. The quoted statement of Mr. Hanna was clearly understood as a definite undertaking given by the Government's representative, and by it the Government was definitely pledged to remove the hindrance if conditions became what conditions are now. The Legislature is in honour bound by the Government's promise to remove this great injustice at once.

First Wife Buried On Day Ross Was Elected

While Throngs Waited to Cheer Him He Was Driving on Lonely Road From Her Grave—Some Stories of His Life

Of the many persons who were intimately associated with the late Sir George Ross, none was in a better position to know his character and the events of his early life than his own brother, Andrew, who still resides on the old homestead, lot No. 11, concession 14, East Williams, within a hundred yards of the spot where Sir George was born.

Many of the facts contained in the following brief sketch of his early life were supplied by him in a recent interview with The Advertiser. Despite his 82 years, Mr. Ross retains his faculties to a remarkable degree, and his memory of events which happened 70 years ago is quite clear. He came to Canada with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, from Rosshire, Scotland, in 1838, and the family, which included himself and three sister, settled on what was then a little farm clearing in the midst of the bush. On this farm George was born Sept. 29, 1841. He was the eighth of a family of nine children, of whom three were boys. The house in which the Premier-to-be was ushered into the world has since been torn down, but the place is still marked by an old willow tree which stood immediately back of the dwelling on the banks of a small creek. Sir George would never allow the tree to be cut down during his lifetime, and it still stands as one of the landmarks of the district.

An Old Log Schoolhouse.

The school at which he received his early education was an old-fashioned log house located at a distance of two miles from his home. The presiding deity at the time was one Neil McTaggart, who ruled his little kingdom with the austerity which was considered to be the correct method in those days. Miss Nellie Geddes, of Strathroy, a niece of Sir George, relates the following incident in his school career. It appears that McTaggart's methods of inflicting corporal punishment was to have the culprit place his arms over the shoulders of a larger boy and held in that position to receive caning on his back. The day came when young George was nominated to fill the position of culprit, and out of sympathy for him, his sister began to cry. But George had no intention of submitting to the indignity, and stoutly refused to be punished thus, finally relieving a tense situation by slipping out of the building and running away. What the sequel of the story was is not known, but he escaped punishment for that day at least.

Won Love of Pupils.

The austerities of his school life led him to have a wide sympathy with school children in later years, and when at the age of 18 he himself became a school teacher, his treatment of his pupils was such as to win for him their respect and love. His brother states that it was a real pleasure to see him returning from school with his pupils. They seemed to regard him as their friend, and were often loth to say good-bye when he reached his home.

School teaching in those days was not so remunerative as it is now. His first school brought him an income of $16 a month, and when he secured a school in Lobo Township at $25 a month, he was considered to be doing well.

A Good Man in the Field.

But his school by no means absorbed all his energies at this time. There was always plenty of work to be done on the farm, and after his return from his daily duties as pedagogue, he turned into help his father and brothers with their labours. That was in the days when grain was harvested by the aid of the old-fashioned 'cradle,' the modern binder was unheard of. After the grain was moved down by the man handling the cradle, another man followed him, and gathered it up into sheaves, and bound it. A man who would keep pace with a cradler was considered somewhat of a phenomenon, and Sir George, although not large of stature, was one of the few men who could do this. He would follow his father in the field, keeping right up to him, until his father in the hope of leaving him behind, would often quicken his pace to such an etxent that the reaping would be done in a very indifferent manner. George would retaliate by binding the sheaves in rough and ready style and the race would often end by each reproving the other, for the indifferent quality of his work.

Cowper His Favourite.

His evenings he spent in reading. In common with his brother Andrew he had a passion for literature, and was well read in all the best English authors. He was a lover of good poetry, and an earnest student of Scripture. The effects of his wide reading were frequently apparent in his public speaking in later life, when he was seldom at a loss for a suitable quotation, and his writings also contain frequent reference to classic works of literature. Cowper was his favourite among the poets, so much so that when his first son was born, he was christened James Cowper Ross. He lived only a few months, and the little headstone bearing the above name is still to be seen in Nairn Cemetery.

First Wife Died Early.

It was in the little schoolhouse at Lobo that the romance which culminated in the first marriage of Sir George began. He was then a young man 21 years of age, and one of his pupils was Miss Christina Campbell, daughter of Duncan Campbell, of Lobo. A friendship formed between them soon ripened into love and they were married in 1868. Her death took place ten years later, under circumstances peculiarly sad. It was during her husband's first campaign of the election to the House of Commons, and her funeral was held on the very day on which the election came.

The young Liberal candidate was declared elected, and while his friends were holding torchlight processions in his honour in the town of Strathroy, he was driving along a lonely country road, returning from the grave in which his wife had just been laid.

Unwilling to meet the cheering multitude, he turned into a side street and reached his home unobserved, but the crowds sought him out and he showed himself and thanked the electors briefly for their support.

A Noted Sculptor.

Sir George married again in 1875, his bride being Miss Catherine Boston, sister of Robert Boston, immigration inspector for this district. Following her death in March, 1902, he married in 1907. Miss Mildred Peel, daughter of the late John Robert Peel, and sister of Paul Peel, the famous artist. She is herself a noted sculptor and painter.

The Lobo Debating Society was the means of bringing out the latent talent of Sir George as a public speaker. It was here he gained experience in the art of platform oratory, and so proficient did he become that no one in the society could stand against him in a battle of logic. "I have always believed that the formation of the Lobo Debating Society was the turning point in George's life," said his brother Andrew, in speaking of it.

Politics Claimed Him.

Strange as it may seem his ambition was not to enter politics. He was drawn into them against his will, but the qualities with which nature had endowed him were such that he was eminently fitted for public life, and so it was that he started from the little Middlesex farm along the path which, at the close of his career, brought him to one of the highest positions in the gift of his country, and enthroned him in the hearts of so many of his countrymen.

MACHINISTS IN CONFERENCE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—The general officers, organizers and business agents of the International Association of Machinists is gathered here today from every part of the United States and Canada for the purpose of holdin ga get-together conference. The meeting is said to be the first of its precise nature in the history of the labour movement in America. The purpose is not to transact any of the business that comes before the regular conventions of the association, but to consider questions of general policy and to agree upon systematic plans to better the condition of the local branches of the organization and their individual membership.

THE MERCHANTS TREASURE BOX

$200 To be Given Away by the Merchants and Examiner

ON

THURSDAY, MARCH 12th

A slight change has been made in the manner of giving away the Treasure Box Bonuses, and the Treasure Box Fund has been resolved into an ESTIMATING CONTEST in which every purchaser of One Dollar or more may participate. With every dollar purchase an estimating blank will be given on which purchasers are asked to write their Name and Address and the Number they estimate on the following question—

How Many of the Blanks given with Dollar Day Bargains will be filled in and put in the Ballot Box at Examiner Office by 10.15 p.m. on Thurs., Dollar Day

For your information, and as an aid in making your estimate, we may say that the Examiner is printing for the Merchants 36,000 Estimating Blanks, and may have to print more if any Store runs short, so that the number printed may run as high 50,000. Estimate what number you think will be actually used and put it on your blank. If you have more than one blank you can make as many estimates as you have blanks.

Bring your estimates to the Examiner Office and drop in the Ballot Box. The nearest correct estimate will be awarded the first bonus of $20.00, the second nearest the second bonus of $15.00, and so on. Should there be a tie between any number of estimators for first or any other bonus, the money will be divided equally between those entitled to it. For instance, if two were a tie for first bonus, the first and second bonus would be divided equally between them.

See the money in Neill's Centre Window. The Cash Bonuses will be as follows:

1 Bonus of	$20.00
1 Bonus of	$15.00
3 Bonuses of	$10.00
4 Bonuses of	$5.00
5 Bonuses of	$3.00
25 Bonuses of	$2.00

THE CHURCHES AND THE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I had the pleasure of being a visitor in your City a week ago. I also had the pleasure of hearing the sermon preached in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church about the cause of poverty and unemployment. Some of the causes I heard in the sermons were drink, land monopoly, trusts and combines. Now I may say that the Church is the place we look to for to help to better our social and moral conditions. But the same conditions exist here as they do in every part of the world. These churches are run by the money men, and if the minister is manly enough to get up, and speak the truth he is taking the chance of losing his job, as I understand a great social and moral element is sweeping over your City at present. Now I may say that anything that has been done in regard to betterment of social conditions has been done by the poor working man, who has been fighting for years for better housing conditions and better wages and social conditions, while these men who are concerned in these trusts and combines have used their money and influence to have the law turned against them, even to the extent of bringing soldiers out to shoot them down, for asking for better social conditions. Now these men who are running these combines go to church on Sunday. The elder is waiting at the door to receive him with the welcome hand, to show him to a first-class seat and greet him on going out with "Call again Mr. So and So"; while the poor struggling soul who goes every Sunday and drops in his penny into the collection plate, and following the thorny pathway which our Saviour path trod, passes in and out without being noticed. Now as long as our churches accept, and are willing to accept, gifts of money from these men who are concerned in these combines, that are tinted with the blood and sweat of the poor struggling humanity who have been fighting for the right to live But the Church is always too ready to welcome these men. Now the Churches will not better social conditions under their present system But I give the preacher all credit for telling them the greatest cause of all poverty, and hoping the Lord will take the veil from their eyes and show them the right pathway. In John Wesley's life a rich sinner offered him a large sum of money to build a church. So John started to plead with him about his soul, but he cursed John. So John said: "Go sinner, thy money shall perish with thee." Now if all our ministers in Peterborough were of John Wesley's stamp, we would have better social conditions. But some of them are afraid to speak about the conditions that exist in case they may also be put on the unemployed list. Now I expect to be back in this City again in two months, so you will hear from me again through your paper. I am, etc.,

VISITING PRESBYTERIAN.

McCaughey Is Big Contributor.

LONDON, March 9.—The Belfast correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says the donor of £25,000 to the Ulster resistence fund is Sir Samuel McCaughey, a native of Tullynay County, Antrim, who emigrated to Melbourne some fifty years ago. Sir Samuel is a member of the Legislative Council of New South Wales.

One of Siamese Twins Dead.

PARIS, March 9.—Madeleine, the "Siamese twin," who was separated on Wednesday from her sister Suzanne by means of a delicate surgical operation, died yesterday of convulsions. Suzanne is recovering rapidly from the effects of the operation, and the physicians say there is every prospect of her living.

Duke Can't Visit the Yukon.

OTTAWA, March 9.—Mr. Alfred Thompson, M.P. for the Yukon, waited upon the Duke of Connaught and presented an invitation from the Arctic Brotherhood to visit the Yukon next summer. Accompanying the invitation was a beautiful lamp of unique design, with a shade in caribou skin and gold nuggets made by Miss Ogburn, a talented artist of Dawson. The duke regrets his inability to accept the invitation.

Gave Address On Panama Canal

Mr. A. J. Grant's Interesting Talk Before Ladies' Literary Society

The Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S. held their usual fortnightly meeting on Friday evening last. Miss M. A. O'Connel presided, and had charge of the musical programme, which was as follows:

Instrumental Duet — Misses Grant and Weatherhead.

Instrumental Solo—Miss Lena Goselin.

Mr. A. J. Grant then gave a very interesting talk on 'The Panama Canal.' Mr. Grant is evidently thoroughly acquainted with his subject, and his remarks on his own trip to Panama some years ago, showed a very keen observation and retentive memory. It is indeed a stupendous undertaking, one that we, so far from the scene of action, possibly do not comprehend fully. The site of the canal has been for 400 years a highway of commerce, for 350 years as a trail, and for the last 50 years traversed by railroad. It was estimated that at the time of the gold fever, starting in '49, forty (40) millions in gold, and 25,00 passengers annually crossed the isthmus. As early as 1615 the construction of a canal was thought of, but in 1620, Philip of Spain declared that "God had made an isthmus there instead of a strait," and the matter was dropped In the early years of the last century, the subject was renewed, two influences tending toward the building of a canal being the successful completion of the Suez in '59, and the personal popularity and magnetism of its builder France therefore obained a concession from the government of the Panamans, purchased its railway, and organised a company under the sole management and direction of the Count de Lesseps. He landed in 1871, being then 76 years age, but still fired with ambition to build the canal. The first sod was turned in 1881, but the first years were devoted to organising, purchasing supplies and getting men on the ground. However, the French were unlucky in their attempts, for afte nine years' work and after having spent about 240 million dollars, the company became bankrupt; then mismanagement and extravagance. Another company was then organized to protect the assets of the first, and sell out to the first bidder that came along to buy their concession. The American government, whose attention had been directed very forcibly at the time of the Spanish-American to the necessity of having a more convenient way to transfer the battle fleet from one ocean to another than the long and dangerous journey around the Horn, then offered them 40 million dollars for their plant, which they finally accepted, although the first price asked had been 129 millions. The American government first began operations on the 4th of May, 1904. The first two commissions in charge of the work lived but a short time, but to J. F. Stevens, the first engineer of the second commission, is given the credit for the organization which did practically eighty per cent. of the successful work, but which was taken over by the third commission in April, 1907. There was a great deal of discussion over the style of canal to be built and it was only after the President had brought together a commission of 14 engineers from different parts of Europe and America, that a decision was reached to make it a lock canal. This was in accordance with a minority report approved by Stevens and confirmed by Congress, as only 5 of the 14 favoured the lock canal. Mr. Grant then gave a number of technical details in regard to the measurements of the canal itself, which is fifty miles long, from deep water in the Caribbean Sea to deep water in the Pacific, being forty miles across by land. In the lock themselves, there are 46 pairs of steel gates, costing $900 a lineal foot, the total cost being around 5 1-2 million dollars. Each vessel coming to the locks must come to a stop, and then is taken in charge by four electric locomotives, one at each corner, two ahead to tow the boat to the locks and two behind for retarding the speed. These locomotives run on tracks on the top edge of the wall, motive power being supplied by a third rail. All the machinery used in operating the locks, valves, etc., is housed in chambers built into the wall itself, so that in going through the locks, you see no one operating any windlass or opening or closing valves. It is all hidden within the wall and lighted by prisms set into the top. Each chamber has a man in charge, but the entire machinery of the lock is managed by one man, in his tower, with two tables in front of him, on which are the flat switch-boards, 4 feet wide and 30 feet long, one table operating the eastern or right hand of the three locks, and the other for the opposite side. The famous Gatun dam, which is the keystone of the whole undertaking, is 115 feet hight, built of clay and rocks, and about one and one-half miles long. It has created an artificial lake 164 square miles in area, and is designed to store a depth of seven feet, which provides sufficient water to supply 41 lockages, the maximum capacity of the canal, and also provides sufficient water to operate the hydro-electric plant.

The cost of the canal is placed in round numbers by the American government at 400 million dollars, which, added to the expenditure of the two French companies, makes a total of nearly 700 million dollars, approximately the gross revenue of the Dominion of Canada for five and one-half years.

THE DIETZ TRIAL BEGINS IN CHICAGO

Special Wire to The Examiner:

CHICAGO, Ill., March 9.—Mrs. Augusta Dietz and George Nurnberg were arraigned in Judge Kersten's court today to stand trial on indictments charging them with having murdered the woman's husband, George Dietz, the well-to-do proprietor of a tailoring establishment. Dietz was murdered in his home on the night of April 14, 1913, his skull having been fractured with a hammer which was found in a room. There was also a note left in the room purporting to show that the victim had met his death at the hands of a relative or sweetheart of a girl he was alleged to have wronged. The theory that the crime was one of revenge was at first accepted by the authorities and at the coroner's inquest Mrs. Dietz and Nurnberg were questioned and discharged. A few days later, however, the two were arrested and charged with the murder on the strength of the evidence said to show that Mrs. Dietz and Nurnberg had maintained a criminal relationship that Mrs. Dietz and her husband had frequently quarelled.

BOWLING TOURNEY AT BUFFALO

Examiner Special:

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 9.— With an entry list that comprises hundreds of well known bowlers, the fourteenth annual American bowling championship tournament gets under way in this city to-night and will continue until the end of the month. The tournament is conducted under the auspices of the American Bowling Congress, the oldest and most representative organization of its kind in existence.

There is every indication that the present tournament will be not only the largest but the most representative event of its kind ever held. All of the important bowling centres of the middle west, including Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Omaha, Minneapolis and Kansas City, are sending their customary large delegations. Buffalo's central location is also expected to attract a record-breaking attendance of the tenpin knights from the Eastern cities and from Canada. In addition, several cities of the south are sending their star teams, while the Pacific coast section is to be represented in the competitions by the San Francisco bowlers who have been making an Eastern tour.

Paper dust exploded with fatal results when workmen carried lighted lanterns into a room filled with it in a paper tube factory in France.

IS THIS THE CASE?

Do primma donnas or actresses beauty hints (usually by proxy) take their own advice to help them keep in form?

Christie MacDonald does not believe these "beauty experts" carry out their own plans of warfare against the approach of age, corpulence and wrinkles.

"Why, it seems to me they'd be kept busy every 24 hours of their lives if they did all that they tell others to do," said she. "They tell their readers of elaborate systems of exercise, calisthenics, dieting etc., which they pretend to use themselves. They say that they arise at a certain hour every morning, go through a course of tedious motions; eat at a certain hour and eat just what is good for their health and beauty. Why, an actress's life is such that most of these things are well nigh impossible. She cannot regulate her habits so definitely. The thing is overdone."

"Why, about the only time I get what might be called exercise in the sense you use the word is in the summer," she answered. "Then I play golf and get as much fresh air as I can. In summer I try to build myself up physically for the winter season. I like golf, and thus I combine pleasure with a method of recuperation. I do not resort to any tiresome system.

"Then I get exercise in a natural way in winter. I take walks in the open air. They don't exhaust me and help a good deal. And you must also remember an actress gets a good deal of exercise through her work on the stage. She moves about, keeps in practice for grace and ease of movement. A singer naturally gets deep breathing exercise. In a dance on the stage we are exercised.

"Business" Exercise.

"Society women often desire to know why actresses seem to keep their youth so well. I think it is the exercise we get—not by the elaborate systems laid out by the 'beauty experts,' of whom we were talking, but by the abundant good exercise we get in our work. The society woman leads an indolent life or, if she healises she must be active to be graceful, must resort to a plan of physical culture of which she soon tires. We like our work and it is our work that keeps us youthful."

Good bright dialogue, an excellent Company, and a clever plot go to make "Broadway Jones" Geo. M. Cohan's latest comedy one of the best mirth provokers ever offered. "Grand" to-night.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF MRS. McMAHON—A prepossessing woman, widow of the son of the late Justice McMahon of Ontario. Since the death of her husband, D'Arcy McMahon, she has sought to establish her claim to his share in his father's estate, valued at $33,000. She signed an agreement with a California lawyer on condition that he was to help establish her claim. Mrs. McMahon is only 25, and stood a gruelling cross-examination by Mr. Hellmuth before Justice Kelly in the Ontario courts.

RE-ORGANIZING CITY ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT

To the Editor of Evening Examiner:

Dear Sir,—With your permission I would like to say a few words to warn our very worthy Mayor and the good citizens of Peterborough what they are up against in connection with the manoeuvres and intrigues now going on at the City Hall under the misnamed title "Reorganization of the Engineering Department."

I see by your evening edition that it is now proposed to eliminate the services of Mr. T. A. S. Hay from the position of Assistant City Engineer, and to substitute a "student in engineering."

The citizens of Peterborough are at the present time face to face with important undertakings involving the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars; the execution of these undertakings and the expenditure of this money, wisely or otherwise, will depend almost solely upon the Engineering Department, and the men who man it. Eliminate the services of Mr. T. A. S. Hay from Peterborough's Engineering Department, and who is left? Have you a "Civil Engineer," properly so called? If you have I would like to know where he obtained his diploma. I have searched in vain through the registers of both Canadian and American institutions which are authorized to grant the diploma, but I have failed to find the name of anyone now in the employ of the City of Peterborough.

I will be much surprised indeed if any such experienced and practical business man as our worthy Mayor is, will allow himself to be cajoled or flim-flammed at this important epoch in Peterborough's history into dispensing with the services of Mr. T. A. S. Hay, who has to his credit at least a thorough knowledge of the engineering profession and a practical experience of forty years to back it up.

Yours truly,

PETERBOROUGHONION

Peterborough, March 6th.

WAIT FOR THE WAGGON.

Will you come with me, my Phillis dear,
To yon blue mountains free,
Where the blossoms smell the sweetest, come rove along with me,
It's every Sunday morning when I am by your side,
We'll jump into the waggon and all take a ride.
Wait for the waggon,
Wait for the waggon,
Wait for the waggon and we'll all take a ride.

Where the river runs like silver, and the birds they sing so sweet,
I have a cabin, Phillis, and something good to eat,
Come listen to my story, it will relieve my heart,
So jump into the waggon and off we will start.

Can make you half so happy as I with youth and health?
We will have a little farm, a horse, a pig, a cow,
And you will mind the dairy while I go guide the plough.

Your lips as red as poppies, your hair so slick and neat,
All braided up with dahlias and hollyhocks so sweet,
It's every Sunday morning when I am by your side,
We'll jump into the waggon and all take a ride.

Together on life's journey, we'll travel till we stop,
And if we have no trouble we'll reach the happy top,
Then come with me, sweet Phillis, my dear, my lovely bride,
We'll jump into the waggon and all take a ride.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Deputy Returning Officer Coulthurst Released on Bail.

BRIDGEBURG, March 9.— Coulthurst, the D. R. O. accused in connection with the recent Scott Act vote, was yesterday sent for trial on three charges.

The new charge is that of altering or changing seven ballots, and was made Saturday morning by W. D. Christian, the "dry" scrutineer who laid the other two charges. These are uttering a false document in making the return of the election, and forgery.

Much to the disappointment of the large crowd in the hall, no verbal evidence was taken, as both sides had consented to the evidence taken at the investigation before Judge Livingstone last week at Welland being submitted for the hearing.

Coulthurst is now out on $4,000 bail, $1,000 more than previously.

MOTHER HANGS HERSELF.

WOODSTOCK, March 9—By hanging herself in a barn at the rear of her home, near Otterville, Mrs. Brown, well-known in that vicinity, committed suicide yesterday morning. The body was found hanging to a beam by a son-in-law.

Mrs. Brown had been left alone since Tuesday, when her two sons, Walter and John, were arrested as members of a gang which during the past two months have been engaged in wholesale looting in Otterville district. Brooding over this trouble is thought to have been the cause of the suicide. John and Walter Brown, now awaiting sentence in the jail here, were released under heavy bond in order to attend their mother's funeral.

The Nemo Corset Never Needs a Second Recommendation

It Always Wins and Retains a Woman's Approval, Because it is Stylish Hygienic and Comfortable

AND WHAT COULD BE MORE SUITABLE TO THE AVERAGE WOMAN, WHERE HER CORSETS are concerned, than to have combined in them the Celebrated Self-Reducing Front and the Elastic "Lastikops" Webbing?

It is this webbing that, in the long-skirted "Nemo," allows for the natural expansion of the limbs when one is in a sitting position, and prevents any riding up of the corset by causing it to cling closely to the figure when again standing.

And one will also observe that in the "Nemo" the skirt is a separately attached portion, so that it can in no way interfere with the proper function of the Self-Reducing Front.

Then the correctly placed boning is all of double, unbreakable steel, and is strongly encased in a second covering to prevent wearing through.

These points of merit, with many others that our corsetiere will gladly explain to you, have proved to scores of women of all types of figure that they can find no better Corset than the "Nemo." The prices are from $2.50 to $5.50.

ROMANCE WAS WOVEN AROUND "MY ROSARY"

History of the Verses Which Ethelbert Nevin Made Popular—Were Credited to Another Man.

THE TANGLE UNRAVELLED

Some twenty years ago a man wrote to a woman a set of verses expressive of sorrowful and tender regret at her absence. He addressed other little poems to her, but this charming composition of three short verses, though intended for the eyes of one person alone, may truly be said to have won its way into all quarters of the globe. Millions of people have heard it sung as "The Rosary," and have read it in Mrs. Barclay's novel. They have thrilled responsive to its deep feeling, have pitied the lover, and perhaps have longed to offer him sympathy. Apart from its literary value as a true lyric of extreme beauty, other interest attaches to the poem, for such exceptional and romantic adventures have befallen it, that "My Rosary" is unique among poems.

LOST IN A RESTAURANT.

The author, Mr. Frederic George Winter, tells how he lost his copy of it in a tiny notebook, which he inadvertently placed under the rim of a plate on a table in a restaurant in the City of London, and forgot when he left the place. His efforts to recover it or trace it after its loss was discovered and proved futile, and he thought the notebook must be destroyed, or at any rate hopelessly irrecoverable. Misfortune befel him in South Africa, whither he went after the South African War, and illness dogged his steps for long after his return to England, so much so that he passed years in the seclusion of invalidism, and was unaware of the existence of either the song or the novel which would have had such interest for him, until in the autumn of 1911 he first heard the words of "My Rosary" sung in a Brighton drawing-room to Ethelbert Nevin's setting. They are doubtless familiar to the reader, but it is interesting to save Mr. Winter's exact version:

"The hours I spent with thee, Sweetheart,
Are as a string of pearls to me,
I count them over, ev'ry one apart—
My rosary.

"Each hour a pearl, each pearl a prayer,
To still a heart in absence wrung:
I tell each bead unto the end, and there—
A cross is hung!

"O, memories that bless—and burn!
O, barren gain and bitter loss!
I kiss each pearl, and strive at last to learn
To kiss the cross,
Dear Heart!
To kiss the cross!"

In the original of the poem which was lost in the restaurant, the word bead was used in the third as well as in the second verse, but when the author re-wrote the verses, he altered "bead" in the third vers to "pearl," a notable improvement. Another alteration made at a later time of writing was the change of "Sweetheart" to "Dear Heart" in the third verse. The points are mentioned because they indicate that it was the poem as written in the lost notebook which was appropriated and published in Mr. Roger's volume of poetry "The Wind in the Clearing," December-January, 1894-5.

But to return to the dramatic incident in that Brighton drawing room. Mr. Winter's amazement at hearing the words of his lyric revived and set to particularly beautiful music can be imagined. The scene would make a thrilling subject for a picture or the chapter of a romance. It was as though a withered rose stored away in the secret recesses of memory had bloomed again at the spell of music. Mr. Winter describes his feelings in the following expressive fashion:

"I began to think my soences were playing me some trick—my hair positively seemed to begin to creep upon my head. In a curiously dazed state I rose, crossed to the piano, and, stooping over the shoulder of the accompanist, endeavoured to put the correctness of my hearing to the test of sight. I read the words from the printed sheet—there could no longer be the slightest doubt. I was reading the very words I had written so long ago—words which I believed to have been known to so few and probably forgotten by all save the writer himself and the addressee. Hardly knowing what I did, I returned no answer, when, at the conclusion of the song, the singer turned to me and put a question, but, taking the sheet from the piano, I turned to the company present and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, I am afraid I am going to make a statement which you will find it difficult to believe; but let me tell you that the words of this song were not written by this Robert Cameron Rogers, as stated on the front page, but by me, and a matter of twenty years ago."

ROMANTIC HISTORY.

Laboriously the tangle of mystery has been to a certain extent unwound; but what became of the little notebook under the rim of the plate in the restaurant before it appeared in 1894-5 in a volume of poems by Robert Cameron Rogers, the California poet, it would be interesting to know. The biographical table of the poem might be written thus:

End of 1891, or beginning of 1892: Manuscript of "My Rosary" received by the lady.

Re-written in another notebook. To end of 1892 and 1893: Probably written in friends' autograph books.

December-January, 1893-5: Published in "The Wind in the Clearin,' in the United States.

1911. The song first heard by Mr. Winter.

As both Mr. Rogers and Mr. Nevin are now dead, it is probable the incidents that befell the little poem across the Atlantic will never be told. If it could speak for itself what a story it would recite! Meanwhile much has been done to accumulate evidence in support of Mr. Winter's authorship, no easy matter so long after the poem was written, and considering its eventful history. Among others, the lady who inspired the verses is alive, and has made a declaration concerning them which reads as follows: "I—— do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare that about the end of the year 1892 I received in manuscript from Frederic George Winter the set of three verses entitled "My Rosary;" as given below; that they were sent to and received by me as the original composition of the said Frederic George Winter, that I have received other verses of a like tenor, of all of which, I believe, and have always believed, the said Frederic George Winter to be the author, and that, therefore, the claim of any other person to be the author of these verses is false."

Apart from its romantic history, a remarkable fact about "My Rosary" is its extraordinary popularity. One cannot get away from it if one would, and it is probably the best known song of the first decade of this century. It is to be hoped it will one day bring to its author, who has experienced stronge vicissitudes, gold such as it has brought to others.

SCRUTINY OF THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS TO BE OBSTRUCTED

Special to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 8.—When will the Public Acounts Committee of the Legislature be called? On March 2nd last year's accounts, in accordance with the resolution of the Opposition, and in accordance with an agreement made by the Government last session, were referred back to the committee in order that some of the uncompleted business could be concluded. Three times during the week the Government was asked when this committee would be called but only indefinite replies could be obtained, and yet the week was a comparatively free one. Other important committees were not sitting and the time was admirable for the Public Accounts.

It is being openly stated that the Government is deliberately holding the committee back in their desire to cramp the Opposition for time and not allow them to make a full investigation into points that need to be cleared up.

It is bad enough when only one year's accounts are before the committee, but at this session when both this year's and last are under scrutiny, the committee obviously should have been called at the earliest possible moment.

It is understood that the Opposition to-day (Monday) if they do not receive a satisfactory answer from the Government will move that the House instruct the Clerk of the Public Accounts to call the committee together immediately.

WAS SATISFIED HUSBAND DID NOT STRIKE HER

The case of Edwin Bennett charged with assaulting his wife, was disposed of yesterday afternoon. The court official visited the hospital and heard the evidence of Mrs. Bennett. She remembered very little about it, but was satisfied that her husband would not strike her intentionally. There had been no trouble that day, but occasionally they had little spats due to interference on the part of Joseph Wade. She had told her husband repeatedly to leave the Wade home and she knew everything would be all right if they were separated.

After hearing the evidence the Magistrate decided that sufficient evidence had not been given to warrant him in committing the defendant for trial or putting him on his own defence and he therefore dismissed the charge and ordered the defendant discharged from custody.

Wade having admitted being the father of the first child must pay $4.00 per week for her in the shelter.—Port Hope Guide.

BIG INCREASE IN ESTIMATES

For Maintenance of Brantford Public Schools

Running schools is a big business in Brantford as well as in Peterborough.

The members of the Public School Board of Brantford were convinced of this when the estimates were struck for the year. For public school purposes the trustees will ask $72,500 from the City Council, and this amount eliminates all frills and is right at rock bottom. It is an increase over last year, when the amount received from the City Council was $62,500. But there was an overdraft last year at $2,310, and this year's estimates provide for the same. As usual, the salaries are the heaviest item of expenditure, amounting to about $58,000. Under the teachers' schedule this year there is a normal increase of $3,810. Other extra expenditures are payment for attendance of pupils at Grand View school, maintenance of Dufferin school, including coal, etc., and the establishment of a dental clinic for school children. The latter is the only new departure in the programme of the trustees, and involves an outlay of $1,200.

JUDGE ROGER HAD ANOTHER LAKE SHORE HORSE CASE

The appeal from the judgment rendered January 17th in the case of Robert Melville vs. Joseph Bothwell, in which Melville claimed damages for $85 for misrepresentation in a horse trade was heard before Judge Roger on Tuesday. The evidence of Melville was that on November 24th he had traded a horse valued at $85 to Bothwell for a chestnut horse, giving him also $60 in cash on the representation of Bothwell that the chestnut was only nine years old, sound and gentle. He afterwards found the horse to be twice that age and afflicted with heaves. He had requested Bothwell to return the money and take back the horse, and on his refusal had commenced suit to recover.

A number of witnesses were called who gave testimony as to the age of the horse (about twenty years), its uncertainness as a driver and estimating its worth as about $50.

Bothwell, on taking the stand, denied having stated the horse's age, nor having said he was a safe driver.

The jury, after half an hour deliberation, returned a verdict of $40 and costs in favour of the plaintiff. F. M. Field, K.C., for plaintiff; J. B. McColl for defendant.—Cobourg World.

Stock Markets

A. H. Stratton & Co., Brokers, report the following:

The stock market opened quite weak, then held a fair rally, after which there was renewed weakness in the railroad stocks, while the industrials held rather well. We understand there was to-day for the first time since the decline started, some buying by the big interests.

Information and judgment recommend the purchase of S.P., St. Paul, G.O., and N.&N., on any set backs.

Speculative interests are buying Rdg., Steel and A.C.P. on all declines from current levels. Specialties may be bought for turns on all declines from current levels. Professionals are selling on all rallies such stocks as New Haven, New York Central, W.A., M.K. & T., C.&O., B.&O., and A.B.S., because of specifically vulnerable positions. We look for higher prices during the balance of the week with C.P.R. a good leader.

MR. J. J. DUFFUS HAS RECEIVED A 1914 REO

Mr. J. J. Duffus is showing a 1914 model Reo touring car that has been attracting considerable attention from automobile owners and those who wouldn't mind being included in the same class. There are numerous new features in the makeup of this car, including a long, racy design and, at the same time, an appearance of strength that is materialized in all the parts. This Reo has a streamline body, although the 1914 type can also be secured with a cowl front. It has a complete electric lighting and starting equipment, and in the extent to which electricity has been utilised in the new Reo the makers are right up in the fore rank. The Remy electric starting method does away with the old-time cranking practice. The candlepower of the headlights is under control with a dimmer for city driving and full power for country travelling. The one switch controls the front and tail lights. The fixtures on the dash include an ammeter and speedometer, and light. The one rod control has been a big Reo feature. The wind shield is of a new design. Timken roller bearing spindles and bearings are used in this car. The wheels have demountable rims, with the result that when a tire needs to be changed the extra one may be carried full of air. The car is beautifully upholstered and has roomy accomodation for five passengers.

TO TRY ALLEGED WIFE SLAYER

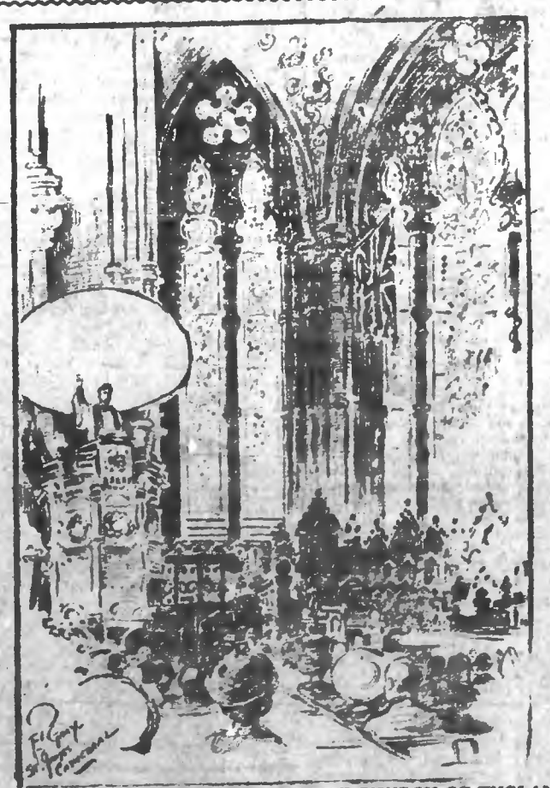
KEOKUK, Ia., March 9.— The case of Matthias M. O'Donnell, under indictment for first degree murder, is to be brought to trial here this week. O'Donnell, who is a labourer, is alleged to to have killed his wife by beating her to death on January 8 last.



"WHERE HERESY IS GETTING INTO THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND IN CANADA."—Interior of the stately St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, with Canon Plumptre preaching the noon-day sermons. Hon. S. H. Blake, one of Canada's leading Anglicans, has recently called on the Bishop of Toronto to discipline Canon Plumptre for what he considers is teaching contrary to the established teachings of the Church of England concerning the infallibility of the Bible. "The devil is very busy these days," says Mr. Blake. Sketch by E. P. Grey.

The Real Estate Debate Continued

Another Precipitation Concerning a Time-worn Controversy

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I have followed with great interest and not a little amusement the discussions in your paper on the real estate controversy. As one of the affirmative speakers in that memorable debate I would like the opportunity of saying a few words by way of reply to Mr. Austin.

Mr. Stanley Taylor and myself are challenged to debate the question: "Is it worse to make money speculating in land than by gambling at cards." We win and prove that land speculation is the worse of the two.

Mr. Austin flies off the handle at what he considers is a personal attack. Evidently the shoe fits, or he would not have taken the matter up so vigorously, and made such bitter statements. He infers that we are merely tools in the hands of some individual who is antagonistic to the real estate men. To that I offer a flat denial. We were given the choice of three subjects, and our object in selecting this particular one was to put before the public in as effective a way as possible the evils of a system that has existed for years under protection of the law.

But Mr. Austin is cornered. Caught in his own trap; an enviable position, surely. His last letter, in reply to Mr. F. E. Ellis, is his last kick, and a feeble one at that. With his back to the wall he is playing a lost-takes refuge behind all kinds of flimsy taes refuge behind all kinds of flimsy barriers and says we are upholding gambling. Not at all. We proved that while gambling is bad, land speculation is infinitely worse. But I won't go into any of the arguments set forth by Mr. Austin. They have been effectively disproved by Mr. Taylor and Mr. Ellis.

I am going to give Mr. Austin another jolt off his high horse, by presenting another phase of the question not hitherto touched on, viz., the effect of land speculation on the agricultural industry. I am a farmer's son and I am living on the farm at present, and hence that phase of the question naturally interests me. I will put the case before Mr Austin from the farmer's viewpoint. I say it now, and will say it in the face of everything, that millions and scores of millions of dollars that should go annually into the pockets of Ontario farmers are going into the coffers of the land speculators in our large cities. It is not hard to see how it is done. If there were no farmers in Ontario, how much would land in Toronto, Hamilton, London or Peterborough be worth? Not a dollar.

Every time a farmer ships a beef animal or a bushel of grain to any of the large centres of trade he increases land values in that centre. Every time he buys an article of clothing or a farm implement, he increases land values in that centre. The men who handle his products, the men who manufacture the goods he uses, must employ men in their business. The scores of thousands constantly being employed increase the population of the cities. Every increase in production causes an crease in urban population. With every increase in population comes the proportional increase in land values. But do the farmers get the increased value which their labour creates? Not a bit of it. It goes in the form of exorbitant ground rents into the already over-filled pockets of the land speculators. This is how it is done: As the increase in population causes an increase in land values, the landowner figures that at the present rentals he is charging he is not getting a fair percentage on the value of his land. Accordingly he raises rents. The merchants and manufacturers doing business on his land in order to make up the increase in rents, are obliged to cut their employees' wages, charge the consumers a large percentage of whom are farmers, a few dollars more, and pay the producers—the farmers—a few dollars less for their products. Every increase in land values takes the wealth of the farmer, and transfers it to the pocket of the land speculator. Every increase in land values increases the difference in the price paid by the consumer, and the City people pour the torrents of their wrath on the heads of the farmers, whom they accuse of being responsible for the high cost of living.

It is the same speculation in land that is responsible for the fact that in ten years the rural population of Ontario has decreased by one million. It is the speculative value of land that by making farming unprofitable and making it harder for young men to acquire farms of their own that has driven them to the cities to increase the ranks of the consumers, while decreasing the number of producers. Is it any wonder that prices of food products have soared? Even at present prices the farmer is not receiving enough for his products.

Were it not for the land speculators, whom Mr. Austin so vigorously defends, the farmer would receive more for his goods, and the consumers pay 25 per cent. less than they now do.

Mr. Austin says "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing." I agree with him. It is dangerous for the real estate speculators when the public acquires a little knowledge of how it is being fleeced. He shouts "Socialist!" and says he does not believe Henry George. It might be interesting to know how much of Henry George he has read.

Mr. Austin and other howlers of Socialism may continue writing their contributions, but land speculation is doomed.

ONE OF PROCTOR'S GUNBOATS

Burned and Sunk in 1813 Raised From the River

Many have heard of the "gunboats sunk at Chatham," but few Canadians know their history, and still fewer can identify the old war craft whose bones are scattered about Kent county in the form of canes, walking sticks and articles of furniture.

At least two of these old boats are in the river yet. One was raised twelve years ago, and has since been pulled to pieces.

From photographs and dimensions taken of the old hull while still practically intact, it has been identified with considerable certainty as that of the largest vessels lost in Proctor's disastrous retreat up the Thames October 6, 1813 —the "Colonel Myers."

PLIED LAKE AND RIVER.

This was a two-mast vessel, schooner-rigged of about draught, so as to be able to navigate rivers, and propelled by oars or sweeps in narrow passages or enclosed waters. We know she was at Procter's seige of Fort Megis, ascending the Maumee River with another vessel, the "Elisa"—possibly the "Ellen," mentioned further on. She was armed with one or two heavy guns. She was about 60 feet in length, 20 feet beam, and possibly less than five feet draught. These are the approximate dimensions of the recovered gunboat hull. The picture shows the "Colonel Myers" as she appeared in life, "sweeping" along under oars in a light wind.

Christopher Myers was Quartermaster-General of the British forces in Canada in 1812. He was stationed at York (Toronto), and became a local Colonel March 1, 1813, and was placed in command at Kingston. At the Battle of Fort George, May 27, 1813, he was wounded three times and taken prisoner. He was exchanged, and on the expiry of his parole became a full colonel and served through the remainder of the war, taking part in the seige and sortie of Fort Erie. He was made a C.B. in 1815, and died March 3, 1817.

STORY OF THE HULL.

The history of the recovered gunboat hull is told interestingly by Lt.-Col. J. S. Black, of the 24th Regiment, thus:

"This relic, the subject of our sketch, came up from a century of oblivion, and for a season was the object of keen interest and curious comment. During the spring of 1901 it was raised from the river bottom at Pikeville, floated down stream on a raft, and hauled ashore on the flats on the north corner of Tecumseh Park. It was not a thing of beauty nor a joy forever, so the Old Boys of to-day must be content to see its picture and hear its history.

LOADED WITH CANNON BALLS

"When the sunken hull loaded with cannon balls was first discovered in the river, not a native of the county could be found who could come and lay a finger on the historic narrative that accounted for its presence, and for a few weeks all manner of silly guesses were made as to its origin. However, the report of Major-General Wm. H. Harrison, dated at Detroit, October 9th, 1813, addressed to the American Secretary of War, and a document generally copied in all extensive histories of the War of 1812, gave a most satisfactory and complete identification of the sunken gunboat.

THE FATAL ERIE FIGHT.

"After Commodore Perry's victory, Procter, hopeless and remonstrance, hastily evacuated Porte Maiden, Amherstburg and Detroit, and, with four gunboats and a small schooner, set off, part by land and part by water, for the Thames. The brave and reluctant Tecumseh went with him to his doom. Hearing of Proctor's flight, General Harrison, with General Cass and Commodore Perry and a force of 3,000 Kentucky backwoodsmen, instantly pursued. At Chatham the Americans were fairly upon the retreating force of 600 whites and 800 Indians. Their little fleet was becalmed in the forest-clad Thames.

MIRED IN THE TRACKS.

The heavy field pieces were stuck in the impassible roads. Gen. Procter, taken utterly by surprise, was twenty miles ahead, considering the fortification of Moraviantown. Tecumseh wanted to fight at the forks at Chatham, but Colonel Warburton, who was in command, had no instructions, and the men were disheartened and weary. Proctor was hastily summoned, but no preparation could then be made, as the whole American force had then arrived. The blockhouse at Chatham, with a store of muskets, was burned. The bridges over McGregor's Creek were set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by the pursuers. The three lagging vessels were abandoned and fired, and the flames that consumed their decks and masts and rigging vied with the glory of the autumn foliage.

"General Harrison, in a lengthy and most interesting report of the affair, says that Proctor must have been possessed by the wildest infatuation. He burned no bridges, and took no preparation to delay pursuit.

PROBABLY THE "COL. MYERS."

At the first farm above Chatham they found in flames a large vessel, loaded with ordnance and military stores. Two miles further up they found two others in a similar state, and six miles further captured the other two.

"Two miles below Moraviantown, and twenty miles from Chatham, Procter and Tecumseh took up a splendid position on the morning of October 6th. The day before the Americans had crossed the river at the rapids at Arnold's Mills, and upon making attack they were received with two volleys of musketry from the 41st Regiment, but the horsemen charged and broke the first line of refence. The second line immediately gave way, and a cannon planted in the middle of the road was never fired. Tecumseh and his Indians, in a swamp on the right, put up a desperate and stubborn fight, but with the death of Tecumseh the Indians were soon discouraged and overwhelmed.

NOTHNG TO BOAST OF.

"Procter escaped by fight, and for this affair it is better that his name forever be forgotten. While the memory of the great Indian who perished in the Canadian wilderness has ever been kept green, is it not fitting when the centenary of his death is at hand, that a monument worthy of his great achievements should be erected in Tecumseh Park, to match the monument of Brock that stands upon the heights of Queenston?

"The American generals live in famous memory. Tippecanoe Harrison and his grandson after him have been Presidents of the United States. The grandson has now passed to his mother earth, but the hull of the staunch old boat that the grandfather saw burned that October day in the Canadian forest came back to the light of day, with his scars and warlike contents, to tell the peaceful and prosperous people of Kent of the bitterness of long ago. The boat sank in twelve feet of water, just above the present C.P.R. bridge, and, as years went by, the sand covered her over and her location was soon forgotten. The building of the railway bridge, however, drew the current against the bank, and recently the sand and mud was cleared away.

FOUND BY LOG FISHERS.

"In the summer of 1900 two log fishers prodded upon her, and reported their find to Mr. Jones, the superintendent of the waterworks. The presence of cannon balls confirmed him in the belief that it was a gunboat of 1813. The Tecumseh Historical Society was formed, and sufficient funds subscribed to raise the boat and secure her, which "When she was placed on Tecumseh Park she was carefully examined, and the lines of the boat were declared by experts to be beautiful. Her keel and keelson were tremendous sticks of oak; her ribs were set so close together that they touched; her stem was the root of an immense walnut tree. She had been a two-master, built for strength and speed.

CANNON BALLS BY THE TON.

"The relics consist of about two tons of cannon balls of various kinds and sizes—forty-two pound shells, twenty-four, eight, six and two-pound solid shot, with lots of grape and cannister; a number of bayonets and some flintlocks of American origin, captured at Detroit; and an old Indian chief piece, some buttons, and other oods and ends.

"So far, no cannon have been recovered. There were a lot brought up, but Harrison captured only eight, but said that others were in the river and could easily be procured. The Americans had control of the western peninsula for a year after the event, and, since they knew the location, it is most probable that they raised the cannon. It appears that some of these cannon were trophies of the Saratoga affair of 1777, and if now procured would be of very great historic interest. One or two of the eight that Harrison secured were of this class, but on his return trip to Detroit two of his boats were wrecked and the cannon were sunk in Lake St. Clair.

"We learn from historic collections that the larger of the boats that Procter brought up was the 'Colonel Myers,' and since the remains of the other two which have been since found are considerably smaller, we conclude that we have the right name. One of the other two was the schooner 'Ellen,' which belonged to Richard Pattison, of Amherstburg.

"The old boat was taken apart and moved from the park to preserve it from decay and the hands of vandals. Canes and old articles of furniture have been made from the ribs and planks, and when the wood is oiled and polished it looks as black as ebony. The cannon balls are in safe keeping awaiting their most fitting use, the decoration of the base of a monument promised by Mr. George Stephens, M.P., to be erected by the Dominion Government as a worthy tribute to the princely red man, the friend and ally of the loyalists in the dark days of Upper Canada.

SHAMEFUL NEGLECT.

The raising of this historic relic was the occasion of a shabby exhibition of patriotism, both in Chatham and in Canada. Lt.-Col. Black was, twelve years ago, a teacher in the Chatham Collegiate Institute, and his resources were not much less slender than those of most high school teachers. Yet he spent $200 of his own funds in raising the gunboat, and for six months vainly tried to interest the people of the locality in preserving her. The modest request to the Chatham Council to build a small protecting shed was met with a sneer, one local magnate demanding why he was foolish enough to ask the council to spend the taxpayers' money on such a purpose. The chairman of the Park Committee even told him to get the "ugly old thing off the park." Pilferers were already doing that, every night showing fresh depredations. Men came with crowbars and axes, and were not molested. Finally, in order to preserve the remains of the relic, Col. Black, on the advice of those who had subscribed to help him raise the boat, took the old hull apart and stored the pieces, but in transferring the planks and frames half of them were stolen.

The Provincial and Dominion authorities showed no better spirit than the Chatham Park Committee. Col. Black tried in vain to interest Sir George Ross (then Premier) and Sir Louis Davies, the Dominion Minister of Marine, at the time.

VARSITY TO HAVE 'MYERS' CHAIR.

A chair from the timber of the "Col. Myers," obtained through the kindness of Lieut.-Col. Black, is being built for Mr. J. Ross Robertson. It is destined for the dais of Convocation Hall, where it will take its place with several other chairs Mr. Robertson has presented—all built from wood, which has played a part in making Canadian history.

McGovern's 35th Birthday

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NEW YORK, March 9.— Forsaken by all his old friends excepting the members of his immediate family, Terry McGovern, once the idol of American ring followers, passed his thirty-fifth birthday to-day in the sanatorium to which he was recently committed by order of the court. After he lost the featherweight championship title to Young Corbett in 1901, McGovern fell a victim to the lure of the white lights along Broadway and his snug little fortune was soon dissipated. Of late years he has earned a precarious living at odd jobs, when he has not been confined in some retreat for the cure of the liquor habit.

TO PURIFY GREAT LAKES

Examiner Special:

DETROIT, Mich., March 9.—The international joint commission representing the United States and Canada met here to-day to conduct the first of a series of hearings on the sanitary problem of the great lakes. With the growth of the cities along the lakes the problem of protecting the public health against the pollution of the water by sewage has become a serious one. The aim of the commission is to bring about an agreement between the two governments, looking to a remedy that shall be practical and effective and at the same time not prohibitive in cost.

BROKE INTO HOUSE ON CHAMBERLAIN ST.

A minor case of housebreaking is reported from Chamberlain street, where on Friday several houses had been entered by a boy who, it is stated, got away with a gold watch and in addition ransacked one or the dwellings. When the lady of the house returned home after a short absence she found drawers pulled out sideboards and dressers, and the contents strewn around. The wantonness of the invasion was illustrated by the fact that in the pantry jars of spices and similar goods had been taken from the shelves and emptied on the floor. A gold watch was missing. The case has provided material for a juvenile court case.

BIG LACROSSE MEETING ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT IN CHARLOTTE STREET RINK

The Peterborough Athletic Club has arranged to hold a meeting on Wednesday night of this week for the purpose of discussing plans for the revival of Canada's national game in the City. Every lacrosse enthusiast in Peterborough is asked to be present to do his share in getting the game started. It is proposed to form a school league and, with this end in view, the principals of the different schools are being invited to be present. Upon the success of this meeting depends the chances for a revival of the game. If the meeting is well attended and those present show that they are prepared to lend their assistance the Athletic Club will bring Mr Frank Doyle, Secretary of the Ontario Lacrosse Association to Peterborough, to go into the matter. It is up to those who are interested in lacrosse in Peterborough to attend Wednesday night's meeting.

The Peterborough Curling Club have very kindly given the Athletic Club the use of their club room for Wednesday night, and the meeting will be held at the Curling Rink at 8 o'clock.

Dwyer's Team Won 5 to 2

TORONTO, March 9.—The East and West Junior All Stars provided an interesting argument at the Arena on Saturday night, before a small crowd, with the East being returned winners by the score of 5 to 2. The teams were tied at half time, 1 to 1.

Although the players were appearing as a team for the first time, yet each showed flashes of combination that would have done credit to the champions. However, individual work was more prominent, with several flashy and spectacular rushes being furnished, and in this respect, perhaps the clever work of Parks, the Brampton boy, was the most prominent, he looking the best man of the ice.

The committee in selecting the All-stars made a mistake in the wing players, the East having two left-hand shot and the West two right-hand shots. Both aggregations showed a lot of speed, and the West, while being outscored, had as much of the play as their opponents, but were poor scorers. The East defence, in Riordan and Godard carried the most weight, with the former overshadowing the rest of the defence players, both defensively and offensively, he being responsible for two of the East goals. Burdett and Parker were both good rushers for the West, but were not so good on the defence as the other pair.

There was little to choose between the rival goalkeepers, both being good, while on the wings there was little to choose. At centre ice, Millan and Box had a shade on Parks and Tabin, the latter offsetting the useful work of Parks by his poor shooting and failure to take passes. The East had a margin on the Westerners in condition, and this had a lot to do with their victory. The line-up:

Referee—Harvey Sproule, Toronto.

The Summary.

First Half.

1. East.....Riordan 27.00
2 West.....Clayton 1.00

Second Half.

3. East.....Riordan 1.00
4. East.....Box 8.00
5. East.....Millan 6.00
6. West.....Foulis 5.00
7. East.....Millan 1.30

The Toronto World says:

The real stars of the game were the two goalkeepers, and although Dwyer did not have as much work to do as Childs, his clearing and all-round generalship was always to the fore. Dwyer has the right idea. He does his work in the nets in an efficient manner, and in tight places talks to his team mates. Time after time he told his forward where to look for the opening, and he kept the forward line together by continually dinning into their ears that they should go up with the man. Childs has not lost any of his style, and some of the stops he made were very spectacular. He, however, did not try to coach his men at all, and, although just as good a man in the nets as his rival, lacked this one asset.

MONTREAL, March 8.—By defeating Torontos at the Arena here on Saturday night by 2 to 0 in the first of the home-and-hame games to break the tie, Canadiens have taken a strong hold on the championship of the N.H.A. The ice was practically covered with water, putting combination play out of the question. What the game lost in finish, however, was made up in excitement over several unscheduled fistic encounters. The players started in to mix things up generally after the opening session and it needed sharp ruling on the part of the officials to prevent a "rough house" end-up.

Davidson did not help Torontos' chances by drawing two majors, the last of which put him out of the match. McGiffin went after Donald Smith and the pair dropping their sticks started in with their fists. They grappled and rolled over in the water before Westwick could intervene. Lalonde was worked at odd periods, but was not able to show his usual scoring ability.

In the third period the ice conditions became so bad that players would lose the puck in the pools of water they had to go through and all idea of system was forgotten.

Although a record attendance had been predicted, the crowd was disappointing. Not only was the attendance far below the record established in the Stanley Cup match between Wanderers and Kenora several years ago, but it did not reach the number at the match between Ottawa and Canadiens three weeks back. The record attendance for the Arena is just over seven thousand, while the attendance for the match between Ottawa and Canadiens amounted to six thousand and six hundred odd. On Saturday night the paid admissions dropped nearly five hundred below the latter mark.

Every seat in the building was sold, so that it was in the standing room that the falling off was recorded. Averaging the price at ninety cents a head it would make the gate receipts amount to something like $5,400, of which the Canadiens get 70 per cent.

Although every effort was made to stamp out speculating with the tickets, many were offered for sale on the streets and around the hotels. Prices as high as $8 and $10 were asked for promenade seats.

Returns of Junior Championship Orillia-Varsity game will be received by goals at the White House this Evening. 'Phone Calls (185) gladly answered.

Petes Open The Season In Erie, Pa.

Brantford the First Team to Play in Peterborough

The local baseball club has received a copy of the proposed schedule for the coming season, which will be brought before a meeting of the Canadian League executive. The schedule calls for Peterborough to open at Erie, Pa., on May 7th, and the local season to open here on May 14th. Peterborough has home games here on May 24th and Civic Holiday, the Ottawa team playing here on the last date. The Petes will play in Erie on the Fourth of July, in London on London's Civic Holiday, and in Ottawa on Labour Day.

Chapdelain's contract was received to-day.

THE FINAL CLASH IN CHURCH LEAGUE

St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Will Meet at Brock Street Rink

The final clash in the Senior Church Hockey League, between St. Pauls and St. Andrew's teams will take place at Brock Street Rink on Tuesday night from 7 ot 8 o'clock. These two teams have fought their way to near the top and the final play-off, to-morrow night, will be a warm one. St. Paul's will play the same line-up as in the last game. St. Andrew's have considerably strengthened their line-up and will put up their strongest game of the season. A win for St. Paul's will land them the cup. Len Dobson will handle the bell and the game will be kept clean.

Followers of the Church League and especially friends of these two teams will find this game the best hour's sport to date. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged. Game at 7 p.m., sharp.

Hockey—That's All

Mr. A. M. Paton of Lindsay and the Secretary of the local Junior City Hockey League have recently been arranging for home and home games between the winners of the respective city leagues. The Lindsay Collegiate team have won out in their league, after a lengthy season and feel that they have had just about enough hockey for this season. Mr. Paton is one of Lindsay's enthusiastic hockey fans and is eager to see a game between the two City League teams. The Lindsay Collegiates, on account of their school work, cannot get away easily on a midweek night and it is likely that they will be here on Friday. In the meantime the locals will go to Lindsay on Tuesday evening. The Collegiate team is very fast and would have made a very creditable showing in the Junior O. H. A. They have been together a couple of years and show the effect of this in their play. Mr Paton would like to make these games an annual event, and much depends upon the success of this first attempt.

A very exciting game of hockey was played in the Brock Street rink on Saturday morning between 12 and 1 o'clock when the Lindsay "Whirlwinds" picked from the Lindsay Public schools, defeated the local "All-stars" selected from the local schools, by the score of 4 to 3.

Though the ice was heavy, both teams showed some fine hockey, but the Lindsay youngsters were too much for the locals.

The rubber was kept on the move from the first of the game till the gong was sounded for full time. At half time the score was 2—1 in favour of the visitors. After half time both teams were at it again, and were kept busy for about ten minutes, when the locals broke away and slammed a goal in on Lindsay, thus making it a tie. Shortly after the face-off they broke away and succeeded in scoring another goal, making it 3—2 in favour of the locals. Then the Lindsay team succeeded in getting through and scoring, making it once more a tie.

This meant an overtime, and through the kindness of Mr. Thirnbeck they were allowed five minutes over-time. It was thought at one time that the score was going to remain a tie, but about three minutes before the end of the game the visitors scored again, making it 4 to 3 in favour of Lindsay.

The stars for Lindsay were Flavelle and Howe, while Park, Sherrett and Soden starred for the locals. Joyce gave a good exhibition in the nets at some stopping, which was a great help towards the team. Hall was there in the old spot, and was also good at the net guarding.

Harold Long handled the bell in fine shape and saw that both teams played according to the rules. The line-up was as follows:

Lindsay		Peterborough
	Goal
H. Joyce		Hall
	Defence
C. Shea		Williamson
R. Williamson		Simpson
	Rover
C. Flavelle		Sherett
	Centre
G. Hartman		Park
	Right Wing
Monder		Head
	Left Wing
Howe		Soden

SOCCER TEAM WANTS TO AFFILIATE WITH THE PETERBORO' ATHLETIC CLUB

As an example of the progress the Peterborough Athletic Club is making and the favourable reception it is getting from all branches of sport it may be mentioned that the Nomad Association Football team, which has given a good account of itself for several seasons, has expressed a desire to affiliate with the Athletic Club and wear the double blue in the Midland Football League this season. The proposition is being taken up by the officers of the two clubs to-day, and it is altogether probable that the Nomads will be admitted. The arrangements would be beneficial to both clubs, as it would give the Athletic Club twenty or twenty-five new members, and afford the soccer team the support of a strong club.

BONSPIEL AT RINK IS IN PROGRESS

The Club Bonspiel at the Curling Rink has reached the finals for several clubs, but it is held up by one game that has to be played to-night. In the meantime the consolation series is progressing, and with a little more good ice there should be some interesting games during the next few nights.

WON THE GOLD MEDAL FOR CURLING

Mr. Thos. Bake, of Casselman, Ont., a brother of Mrs. J. J. Turner, Sr., of Peterborough, won the Governor-General's medal in curling at the Governor-General's private rink in Ottawa. The winner was entertained at luncheon by His Highness the Duke of Connaught.

C. N. R. BOND GUARANTEE

Special to The Examiner.

OTTAWA, March 9.—It is expected that Premier Borden will this afternoon make a statement concerning the Canadian Northern application which was placed in the hands of the government last Friday. The Prime Minister will be pressed to do so by the Opposition. Theer are many considerations which are receiving attention in connection with the suggested guarantee of bonds. It is rumoured that the road is already bonded pretty well up to its value, including its lines and properties in Ontario and that a full statment of the securities issued will have to be forthcoming before further guarantee is given. It is stated that if the government finally agrees to grant the request of the company certain heavy restrictions will be imposed in connection with further guarantees.

IS STILL AT THE GAOL

John McClay is still a prisoner at the County Jail. The authorities at the Ontario Reformatory have been notified that he has been sentenced, and it now remains for them to notify the local authorities, when he will be conveyed to the prison. A warder from the reformatory will be sent here to conduct the prisoner to the goal. McClay's sentence will run from the day that he was sentenced. The two months that he spent in Castle Nesbitt, prior to his being sentenced, will not be deducted from the one-year sentence.

RED SOX ARE DISSATISFIED WITH THE SCHEDULE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

BRANTFORD, Ont., March 9. — Brantford is dissatisfied with the first draft of the Canadian Baseball League schedule given out this morning. It was expected that after opening at home with Hamilton, the Red Sox would be sent right back to Hamilton for the opener there, but the schedule sends them to Peterborough. There are other features about the schedule which are objectionable to the local management and a big howl will be raised if any attempt is made to adopt it as drafted.

Second of the Series

Rev. Canon Davidson on "Concrete Christianity".

Last night, at St. John's Church, Canon Davidson preached the second sermon of his course on "Concrete Christianity," the subject being "A Living Link with the Living Lord."

Jesus Christ, the concrete expression of the Divine Being, formed the living link between God and the first Disciples. In order that the Disciples of the future should have a similar advantage the Saviour prepared and left for them a living Body to succeed Him as a link between God and the souls of men in all ages and countries.

By means of a large chart the preacher showed the history of this the Church universal, and the connection and inter-relation of its different Branches. An interesting light was thus thrown on the position of the different religious communions today. The subject was dealt with in a sympathetic and charitable spirit.

The history of the English Branch of the Church Catholic was briefly sketched and reference made to the Evangelical and Oxford Revivals. The tendency now was happily to broaden the Church, to emphasize points of agreement and to bring out the social service side.

In this connection the Scriptural order of the subject of both the life of Jesus Christ and the Church must be maintained. First for the glory of God; second, for the salvation and development of souls and the welfare of bodies, and third, for the service of mankind.

The Church was not an organization, but a living organism, coming down from the past with a wealth of rich life and heroic and saintly examples. The casual, uninterested member obtained little advantage from treasures which each one must dig out for himself, but such efforts were richly repaid.

In conclusion the preacher urged all to take advantage of their opportunities and to freely yield themselves to the operation of the living Lord in His living Church.

Exciting Runaway At Bobcaygeon

Master S. Kerr, son of Jas. Kerr, resident of South Verulam, was in town Saturday with his sister, Elsie, and cousin, Irene, of Peterborough. Towards evening as they were standing in the cutter getting ready for a start home, a dog attached to a sleigh came around Bolton Street corner of King Street, and startled the horse, which was a colt and somewhat skittish. In making the turn the cutter upset and threw the occupants out. Master Kerr hung to the lines and was dragged along thereod, till the bit broke in the horse's mouth, and then he let go. The horse was caught at Jas. Hill's, uninjured, but the cutter was too much broken to go home with. Miss Elsie was the most bruised as she was caught somehow in the cutter and did not free herself as quickly as the others.—Independent.

EXCLUSION FOR ULSTER

Asquith Announces the Government's Compromise Which is Rejected by the Unionists

A CRISIS IN THE HOUSE

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 9.—(Special Cable.)—Facing perhaps the largest crowd that ever packed the floor and galleries of the House of Commons, Prime Minister Asquith this afternoon precipitated the Irish crisis once more by moving for the already twice enacted Home Rule Bill for the second reading and debate, with certain amendments known as "concessions" and expected for some time as solace to Ulster. This concession proved to be something along the line anticipated, namely, a provision for the exclusion of Ulster.. "Any county in Ireland," said Mr. Asquith, amidst tremendous cheering, "can by this amendment refuse to accept the Home Rule vote of majority for a period of six years. At the end of that time another election will be held to ascertain whether or not the people of the counties have changed their minds in regard to participation in Irish Self Government."

"These concessions do not mean that the Government is running away," said Mr. Asquith, speaking directly at the bench of the Opposition. "We wish to start the fight for the bill with the greatest measure of success we can make possible. This is why we are willing to compromise with our opponents. I admit the prospect of grave strife in Ulster should Home Rule in its old form be enacted and exercised, but the shipwrecking of this measure or its permanent mutilation promises an equally dangerous Irish Nationalist outbreak."

When Mr. Asquith sat down amid thunderous applause of the Government supporters, Leader Bonar Law immediately rose to his feet. "The Unionists," said Bonar Law, "are unalterably opposed to Home Rule, either with or without the exclusion of Ulster. If the Government persists in adhering to the proposals and conditions unacceptable to Ulster, the people of Ulster will oppose the bill, even though they are given the privilege of rejecting Home Rule for themselves."

This challenge was also greeted with tremendous applause from the Unionists side of the House. In Liberal quarters it had been hoped that the exclusion of Ulster would make the bill acceptable to the Unionists.

More Trouble For Ulster

Examiner Special:

LONDON, Eng., March 9. — More trouble for Ulster. Mrs. Dacre Fox told the Suffragettes at a weekly meeting to-day that Sir Edward Carson's answer to the militant suffragettes, who have been camping on his door-step for some days, was decidedly unsatisfactory. It was decided that militant methods should be started in Ulstar forthwith.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

REPORT OF THE TRENT CANAL INVESTIGATION AS HANDED DOWN IN HOUSE

Resume of the 600 Page Report of G. Howard Ferguson, M. P. P., Who Investigated the Affairs of the Department

Below will be found the report of Mr. G. H. Ferguson, K. C., who conducted the Trent Canal investigation:

HONOURABLE FRANK COCHRANE,
Minister of Railways & Canals,
Ottawa, Canada.

Under authority of the Commissions issued to me in that behalf, I proceeded to investigate the general administration of the Trent Valley Canal and the conduct of the employees, and now beg to report as follows:—

Alexander J. Grant is styled Superintending Engineer and has under his jurisdiction all new construction work on the Canal.

Joseph H. McClellan is known as Superintendent and is in charge of the maintenance of the Canal.

I found it convenient to deal with the two branches separately, and first proceeded to investigate the complaints referred to me in connection with Mr. McClellan's branch.

It is charged that grave irregularities occurred during the season of 1912 in connection with the purchase of certain explosives for use on the Canal.

For some years previous to 1912 Superintendent McClellan had purchased the explosives he required from the Kingan Hardware Co., of Peterbor. In 1912 he shifted his patronage to Daniel Cinnamon, a hardware merchant of Lindsay. The particular explosive in question here is known as "Blasters' Friend," and is manufactured by Dominion Explosives, Ltd. This is put up in sticks, or cartridges, of different strengths, 1¼ and 1½ inch thick and 8 and 12 inches in length. A case of the eight-inch sticks weighs fifty pounds which, from the evidence, appears to be the usual weight of a box of explosives. The same sized case of twelve-inch goods seems to average only about 35 to 37 pounds.

Robert C. Kingan, the President and Manager of the Kingan Hardware Co., who seems to be a very close friend of McClellan's, persuaded the latter to use a special make of Blaster's Friend known as the "Submarine Special," which is put up in sizes 1¼ by 12.

During 1912 three purchases were made, as follows:—

May, 1912 ..... 1 ton
July, 1912 ..... 2 tons
Sept., 1912 ..... 1 ton

In the May shipment only forty cases went forward, the balance of the ton being retained in Kingan's magazine at Peterboro.

In the July order 112 cases should have been delivered, but only eighty cases were sent to the Department. The remaining thirty-two were taken to the Hardware Company's magazine.

All these explosives were for use at Lindsay and were checked on arriving there by Robert Hamilton, the foreman who had charge of the storehouse. Hamilton had weighed some sticks from a box of the May shipment and by counting the sticks had satisfied himself that there was a shortage in the order. He reported this to Overseer Samuel Clegg, who was his superior officer, but the latter apparently did nothing about it.

When the eighty cases reached him in August 5th he weighed some of the boxes and checked up some of the boxes and checked up the weights and found a shortage of upwards of one thousand pounds. He reported this to Overseer Clegg and to Cinnamon, and the following Saturday, August 10th, told Accountant Bartlett about it.

The result of this discovery was that Kingan Hardware Company delivered up forty-two cases more to cover the ten cases short in May and thirty-two cases short in July. All dealings with the Kingan people were conducted in a remarkable manner and are shrouded in a most suspicious atmosphere.

Kingan accounts for the shortage in both lots by saying he believed there was fifty pounds in each case. His evidence is that every time anything was added to or taken from the stock in the magazine it is noted in the magazine stock book so that the stock book constantly shows a complete inventory of all explosives on hand. I file with this report this stock book, marked exhibit 20. The entry of May 6th, 1912, shows that he had just put in stock fifty cases (presumably a ton) of special submarine. He knew that was all he had purchased. He purchased it purposely to sell to the Canal office because he says they were his only customers for it. Notwithstanding this when a ton is ordered he ships out only forty cases, and the ten cases improperly retained appear in his book at each stock taking thereafter.

Moreover, when the forty-two cases are turned over to the Canal authorities the stock book shows that Kingan did not follow his rule of taking stock of the balance on that date but simply crosses out the entry of forty-two cases where it appears under date of August 6th. He gives no reason for adopting this unusual method. The only reason I can conceive of is a desire to conceal the date of delivery.

Kingan secured an order from McClellan in the latter part of July for two tons of Submarine Special. It was shipped from the factory at Sand Point on July 29th as part of a car lot. On August 1st Kingan wrote Cinnamon enclosing invoice dated July 30th for 4018 pounds and requested Cinnamon to bill the Department at once, dating his invoice 30th July and he intimated that an arrangement had been made to have the account certified and put through in the office at Peterboro. The bill dated July 30th is certified by Hamilton and Clegg and McClellan and sent to Ottawa by the latter with his monthly return. As a fact the goods were not shipped from Peterboro until August 2nd and were received by Hamilton on August 5th.

When the car of explosives reached Peterboro, Kingan gave his men orders to unload everything but eighty cases of Submarine Special, which were to go to Lindsay and that was done. Thirty-two cases belonging to the two ton lot ordered by McClellan were put into Kingan's magazine and remained there until August 29th, when as a result of Hamilton's report of the shortage, McClellan spoke to Kingan and the latter turned these thirty-two cases along with the ten cases short in May over to Fairen the Department Storeman, and the Government subsequently paid seventeen dollars ($17) to have it hauled to Lindsay where the vendor should have delivered it.

A cheque for 4018 pounds, the full amount of the purchase, was delivered to Cinnamon, but at the instance of Hamilton and Bartlett, he refused to pay Kingan until the matter of the shortage was straightened out. Cinnamon was absent from home for a time, but on his return he took the matter up with Kingan. On Aug. 26th the latter wrote Cinnamon stating that the shortage on the order was in the Government warehouses. This statement he knew to be untrue as it was only turned over to Farein on August 28th. He further states in that letter that the officials at Peterboro knew all about the shortage before they certified to the invoice for the full amount. Despite this assurance Cinnamon refused to pay until he knew the proper quantity had been delivered and my finding is that it was only on account of this refusal that the balance of the explosive was delivered. McClellan writes Cinnamon under date of August 29th advising him that "the balance of Blasters' Friend was received here and placed in our magazine." The letter is worded to give the impression that the shortage had been made good immediately it had been discovered. Kingan's letter of 30th August, to Cinnamon stating that the Departmental officials purposely retained the balance of the order in Peterborough and is contradicted by his own evidence under oath and is undoubtedly false. It was obviously written with the purpose of allaying suspicion against himself and heading off any investigation that might be serious in its consequences to him. McClellan's statement under oath that a part of the explosive had been taken off at Peterboro to be used at Balsover is in the same category. There was no work being done at Balsover and none in contemplation.

On Sept. 13th Cinnamon called upon the Superintendent and solicited a further order for Blasters' Friend. McClellan refused him the order upon the ground that he didn't need any more. My conclusion is that at this very time he had an understanding with Kingan to take another ton which was delivered and billed through Cinnamon.

From a careful perusal of the correspondence filed herewith the evidence taken under oath and the demeanor of the witnesses I am forced to the conclusion that there was a collusion between McClellan and Kingan. I am convinced that if McClellan was not actively a party to it he at least knew of it and acquiesced to it. There can be no question but that an attempt was made to defraud the Government, which would have succeeded except for the discovery made by Hamilton.

One is at a loss to understand why the Department should pay such a high price for explosives. Kingan buys it for nineteen cents at the mill. The freight rate is eighty-eight cents. He sells to Cinnamon for twenty-two cents and he in turn charges the Department twenty-seven cents. Either some ulterior motive or gross incompetency is responsible for business methods.

Moreover, Cinnamon avers that the goods were ordered and sent forward as a rule without his knowledge. His part in the transaction merely consisted in making out an invoice; adding five cents to Kingan's price and taking this rake-off as a profit for himself.

When undertaking to widen my field of inquiry into the general affairs of the maintenance department, I found on every hand insurmountable difficulties due to lack of complete records and confusion of those in existence. Until the present accountant, Mr. E. H. Bartlett took charge, there was absolutely no office system in existence; practically no pretense made of scrutinizing accounts, time slips, or pay sheets; no proper cash account, and a woeful lack of records of any kind in connection with the office.

This chaotic condition rendered it impossible to make anything like a full and complete examination of the affairs of the Department.

This report sets forth a comparatively few of the irregularities and fraudulent practices in vogue in the office under Superintendent McClellan's supervision. He has not only practised deception and dishonesty himself, but has condoned it and winked at others and has proven himself hopelessly incompetent for the position he holds.

At the outset of the inquiry he expresses surprise when I point out to him that W. F. Nelson, who conducts a typewriting office in Peterboro has been carried on the pay list as a laborer and he says that it is an exceptional case and he knew of no others.

As the enquiry proceeds and these deceptions are unearthed and it is shown that bankers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, undertakers, barbers, merchants and almost every class of business and profession is represented on his pay sheets in a similar way, he confessed to such methods being an ordinary practise in the office over which he nominally presides. So far as Superintending the Canal and safeguarding the public interests is concerned it is amply proven that there has been no serious attempt to do so. McClellan seems to have engaged himself largely with matters of political patronage and pleasure seeking jaunts at the public expense, and the bills for liquor and other refreshments and meals on the boat eloquently testify to his popularity as an entertainer. The evidence shows that these entertainments have been ceased since the fall of 1911. The last bill for liquors and cigars to regale the guests of the Superintendent aboard

Disheartening Effect of Piles

It is not only the itching and stinging of piles that is to be dreaded but also the depressing and debilitating effect on the whole system. The victim of pile cannot do efficient work. There is an uneasiness and discomfort by day, and at night the distress from the itching prevents sleep and rest, and undermines the general health.

From almost the first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment you get relief from the annoying itching and burning, and gradually the ulcers are healed up and the disease thoroughly cured. Do not make the mistake of discontinuing treatment as soon as relief is obtained. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a proved cure but it depends on you to apply it persistently until a cure is effected.

Even the most severe cases of long standing yield to the soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Surgical operations are no longer necessary(for, as a matter of fact, Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured cases that were not cured by operations. No sufferer from piles can afford to delay the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Buffer State to North of India Unsafe For White Men.

A report on industrial and living conditions in Afghanistan, which a Christian enters on pain of death, has been made by Henry D. Baker, on special commercial service in the far east.

Mr. Baker calls Afghanistan the buffer state between British India and the Russian possessions in Asia. It has an area of 200,000 square miles and a population estimated at 5,000,000, though no census has ever been taken. Its inhabitants are without exception Mohammedans, and, save only Tibet, it is the largest closed country in the world, presenting the anachronism of a nation in the twentieth century which forbids the entrance into its territory of the foreign missionaries either of religion or commerce, as well as making the profession of Christianity among its subject punishable by death.

"If any person particularly wishes to visit Afghanistan he can get into the country only by interesting the Ameer personally in the object of his visit, which, however, it may be found very difficult to do." Mr. Baker says. "No commercial traveler can get into Afghanistan unless the Ameer might be induced to take an interest in his particular line of business. Even then it would not be found convenient or advantageous to undertake a trip into Afghanistan unless the Ameer would personally guarantee one's comfort and safety and provide a military escort to Kabul or Kandahar or wherever else it was desired to go.

"After application has been made to the Ameer for a permit, or firman, to visit Afghanistan—and by having advanced some particularly potent argument the firman may perhaps be granted—the deputy secretary to the Government, if he deems it wise, will then grant permission to cross the frontier at the traveler's own risk.

With reference to your letter dated —, I am directed to inform you that the honorable the chief commissioner and agent to the governor general in the northwest frontier province is being directed to allow Mr. — of your firm to cross the frontier, subject to the production by him of his majesty the Ameer's firman and the political agent in the Khyber pass being satisfied that the Afghan Government has made arrangements for Mr. —'s escort and transport.

I am to add that the Government of India accepts no responsibility whatever in connection with the object of Mr. —'s journey to or stay in Afghanistan and that he proceeds there at his own risk.

"About the only instances in which Europeans have ever been allowed to travel into Afghanistan is when machinery or other articles have been required by the Ameer to his Government or special medical assistance needed at the court. At present there are understood to be six Europeans and two Americans residing in the country."

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Henrietta Hoegh has been appointed first secretary of the Norwegian legation in Mexico. She is young, quite pretty and proficient in international law.

Mrs. Francis Wayland, whose husband was for many years dean of the Yale Law school, recently presented to Yale university a valuable collection of Palestinian pottery.

Miss Elizabeth Dinwiddie of New York manages 346 small dwellings owned by Trinity church in that city. She spends all of her time attending to the repairs of these houses which shelter 1,800 families.

Katie Reade, the adopted daughter of the famous novelist, Charles Reade, is an inmate of Sundridge workhouse infirmary in Kent, England, and is completely penniless. She was the wife of John L. Shine, a well known actor, whom she divorced after years of unhappiness. She was Reade's great-niece, and he adopted her as his daughter when she was quite a little girl.

Natural Turkish Bath.

The "sweating-hole" discovered by James Buckley near Schull, southern Ireland, seems to be a primitive kind of Turkish bath, such as was very early used, and such as has been known to be employed by the Irish peasantry not more than half a century ago. This new found specimen is in very perfect condition. It is nearly circular, 9 by 10 feet across, something like a lime-kiln, and was entered by a stone-lined creep hole two feet high and wide. The person using it took a profuse sweat in it—sometimes followed by a plunge into the ocean—after it had been made hot by a large fire.

Credulous.

"Is Jinks credulous?" "Yes. He believes in himself."

CHAPLAIN OF THE WARDS.

The Hospital Parson and His Round of Labors.

Whenever I hear people grumbling about the desperate wickedness of human nature I wish that they could take my place and act as chaplain to a large hospital for just one week. They would know better by the end of that time, says a writer in a London paper.

It is possible that they might also be feeling in need of a rest. In such a position as mine, one is on duty practically all the time, and it is something of an event to get through a night undisturbed.

Some people seem to think that the chaplain's duties begin and end with holding the services and attending to the dying. That is quite a mistake. It is my business to be, as far as I can, on friendly terms with all the inmates of the hospital.

For one thing, we parsons are out to be, as our Master said, "Fishers of men." That is our business—to catch men in our net, and bring them to the service of God. Few of us have better opportunities for doing this than we who work in the hospitals, and naturally we do our best.

We don't go round the rounds trying to cram down belief in the beef-tea and religion in the rice pudding, but we do try to make the men and women whom we come to know remember the old lessons which they learnt as little children.

But if we try to teach, we also learn. I have learnt more of the power of faith, of the wonder of hope, and of the beauty of charity in a year in this hospital than I should have learnt in five years outside of it.

There was an old lady who was, I am proud to think, a great friend of mine. She came to the hospital, not to be cured, but to die. It was the end of a life of misery, brought about by the ill-treatment of her husband. But every time I had a chat with her it came round to him sooner or later, and she would tell me what a fine man he was, and beg me to pray for him.

And the patience of these sufferers! I knew a man—a man of good education, who had fallen low—who suffered almost incredible pain. But he was always smiling, and he had his own way of explaining his suffering. "It's the Lord's scrubbing brush," he would say to me. "It is His way of cleaning my dirty soul, and I am glad to be made clean."

At times, needless to say, I get some queer jobs thrust upon me.

Many of the people who come into a hospital object to the good, but plain, food which is provided. Many a time I have been implored to use my influence to get a patient a hearty meal of fish and chips!

The grumblers—and you find grumblers in every hospital, just as surely as you find saints in every ward—seem to regard the parson as the official receiver of complaints. If they have anything to say, they say it to me, and it requires quite a lot of tact to deal with them.

But one does one's best, and one is learning all the time. The roughest old bundle of grievances has a heart, and all you have to do is to find your way into it. To do that may take time, but I have learnt never to despair, and never to give up hope.

Take them all round, and people are better than they seem. I am certain that at the bottom of human nature there is good.

CRITICS AND GENIUS.

Carlyle Denounced Spencer, and Ruskin Ridiculed Whistler.

The good critic must in some way begin by accepting literature as it is, just as the good lyric poet must begin by accepting life as it is. He may be as full of revolutionary and reforming theories as he likes, but he must not allow any of these to come like a cloud between him and the sun, moon, and stars of literature. The man who disparages the beauty of flowers and birds and love and laughter and courage will never be counted among the lyric poets, and the man who questions the beauty of the inhabited world the imaginative writers have made—a world as unreasonable in its loveliness as the world of nature—is not in the way of becoming a critic of literature.

Another argument which tells in favor of the theory that the best criticism is praise is the fact that almost all the memorable examples of critical folly have been denunciations. One remembers that Carlyle dismissed Herbert Spencer as a "never ending ass." One remembers that Byron thought nothing of Keats—Jack Ketch, as he called him. One remembers that the critics damned Wagner's operas as a new form of sin. One remembers that Ruskin denounced one of Whistler's nocturnes as a pot of paint flung in the face of the British public. In the world of science we have a thousand similar examples of new genius being hailed by the critics as folly and charlatanry.—Robert Lynd in British Review.

Thought He Was in India.

When Rudyard Kipling reached London from India in his search for fame and fortune he lodged in some small rooms on Villiers street. One morning a friend called, and when he found himself in Kipling's sitting room he was surprised to see a handsome mirror which stood over the fireplace "smashed to smithereens."

"Snakes," said Kipling, noticing the look of astonishment on his friend's face. "I was dozing in my chair yesterday evening, and my foot slipped out of my shoe, which for comfort I had unlaced. Half waking, I felt with my foot for the shoe and begun slipping it in when my toes touched the leather tongue. 'Snake!' flashed across my sleepy brain. I gave one desperate kick, and when the shoe struck that mirror I realized that I was in London and not in India."

Splendid, but Ladylike Golf.

I know now when a young lady begins to play "really splendid" golf, says a writer in the Glasgow News. Two young ladies entered our compartment at Whitecraigs, and, having placed a bag of shining clubs on the rack, one of them said to her companion, "Do you know, you played really splendid golf today." "Oh, how could you say that?" exclaimed the other in pleased tones. "You know I haven't long started." "Oh, that's nothing," explained the critic in tones that clearly left no doubt in the mind of the criticised one. "Didn't you only miss the ball three times in eighteen holes?"

the Bessie Butler is paid in October, 1911. The grocers and confectioners accounts have ceased since that date. The carnival of corrupt padding of pay lists came to an end. But so far as control and management is concerned there is no improvement, and cannot be under the present incumbent.

Mr. E. W. Bartlett the present accountant has done a great deal to systematize the business of the office, during the short time he has been there. He has inaugurated many reforms and evidently has a high sense of his responsibility as an officer of the department, and had he more latitude could do much more to improve the efficiency of the work of the office.

It is impossible in this report to give a resume of all the eight hundred pages of evidence. The following, however, are a few cases of the deception continually practised upon the Government, and these are characteristic of the business methods followed and the reckless disregard of public interests displayed by the officials of this Department, and particularly by Overseer Gordon and Accountant Clancy, former officials of this department and Superintendent McClellan and Overseer Clegg.

PAY SHEET IRREGULARITIES.

W. BURGOYNE, who is a grocer at Fenelon Falls, had his accounts for goods supplied the cookeries paid by being put on the time sheet as a laborer.

E. YOUNG, a grocer, at Young's Point, appears as a laborer on the time sheet for the amount of his grocery bill.

D. McKEVROMER, a veterinary surgeon and livery man of Peterborough, figures on the pay sheet several times as a laborer.

A. B. SPILLMAN drew a number of cheques as a laborer for work in and about Peterborough. Mr. Spillman is a hotel keeper at Hastings and never did a day's work on the Canal. He was on the pay roll to secure payment for board bills.

A. G. LAWLESS, the proprietor of hotels at Lakefield and Bobcaygeon, received the cheques in a similar way as a laborer, to meet his accounts for board against the department.

W. W. DARCY, a Burleigh hotel keeper figures on the pay roll for a team and teamster to meet the amount of his board bill.

HECTOR CAMPBELL, a hotelman of Kirkfield, had a bill paid in a similar way.

MR. BLADE, a florist, of Peterborough, furnished flowers for decorative purposes about the locks. He furnished a wreath for the funeral of a deceased employee, and he furnished also a rather expensive bouquet, to the Superintendent's daughter, at the christening of the Bessie Butler. To pay for these flowers Mr. Blade is put on the pay roll as a laborer.

W. H. HAMILTON, a Peterborough grocer, had an account which was paid by putting him down as a laborer.

T. LANE. The Superintendent bought some pillows for one of the boats from Mr. T. Lane, a furniture dealer of Peterborough, in 1910. These were paid for by putting down Mr. Lane as a laborer on pay roll.

C. R. NIXON boarded Mr. Chas. Calcutt, the captain of a government tug in 1910. The accounts are sent in to the Department and Mr. Nixon is put down as laborer on the pay roll for sufficient time to cover the amount of the account.

A. GIBSON, a jeweller in Peterborough, figures as a laborer. The Superintendent says that this was to pay for badges for the lockmen, alarm clocks on the boats and such things as that.

WM. F. NELSON, who styles himself as a broker and runs a typewriting office in Peterborough, figures almost monthly on the pay roll for years back as a laborer. He admits never having worked as a labourer. The cheques received by him were really to pay for typewriter supplies and typewriting in connection with an illustrated booklet on the subject of the Canal published by Clancy, the former accountant.

E. A. FITZGERALD, a coal merchant of Peterborough, gets a cheque for team work in June, 1911. This was really to pay an account for oil and paint and included no labor.

GEOFFREY O'BRIEN, who runs a grocery store in Peterborough for the past five or six years says that he has been selling supplies to Trent Valley Canal, ordered by Overseer Gordon, Superintendent McClellan or Faren, the storekeeper. Most of the goods went to the Bessie Butler to supply parties going up on her. O'Brien's account runs from fifteen to fifty dollars a month. Orders given by Faren were upon McClellan's instructions.

G. N. GRAHAM, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, according to the pay sheet for Oct., 1907, is paid $9.50 for six days' labor. This was to pay for meals at the hotel.

W. H. ROBINSON, proprietor of the Times newspaper, Peterborough, had an account for $3.60 in March, 1909. He is put on as a laborer and his account is paid in that way.

E. SINGER. A pay sheet for August, 1910, shows E. Singer, laborer 17 days at $1.50, $25.60.

Singer runs a second hand store in Peterborough, and never worked on the Canal. The entry is put through to pay sundry small accounts—$2.50 to Gas Hay, an employee in Hall's law office; $ 3.60 to J. Gibson, an occasional canal employee; $2.00 to Superintendent McClellan and the balance for parcels.

D. DENHAM. The pay sheet for July, 1911, shows D. Denham, laborer, 6½ days, $10.00. This young man was a student at Cornell University. In taking his holidays up the Canal he took some photos and the Superintendent agreed to pay him ten dollars for some of them. It was paid under the guise of labor.

VINCENT EASTWOOD, manager of the Royal Bank at Peterborough, appears on the pay roll as a laborer at $1.50 per day. There is no explanation forthcoming for this.

F. SANDY got a government cheque for $28.00, for alleged services as a carpenter in Aug., 1908. Mr. Sandy is the G.T.R. Station agent at Peterborough and the account of $28 was for a special train to Fenelon Falls to a meeting that was held there on Aug. 22nd, by Hon. Geo. P. Graham.

A. HOLLINGSHEAD. Nov. 9th, A. Hollingshead on pay sheet A. is paid for 15 days' labor at $1.50, $22.50. Mr. Hollingshead was manager of the Bank of Ottawa at Peterborough at that time and of course was not an employee of the Government.

OZIAS LAPLANTE, a lawyer of Peterborough, figures on the sheet a number of times as a laborer.

H. S. McDONALD, is a druggist. He apparently sold hair brushes and combs to the value of $4.00 for use on the Bessie Buttler. His account was paid by putting him down on the pay sheet as a laborer.

L. DEYMAN, a furniture dealer got a cheque for a day's labor in July, 1909, at $1.75 per day, for a feather pillow.

S. A. OKE is a fruit merchant and grocer in Peterborough. He supplied goods to the Bessie Butler on occasions and was put on the pay sheet to cover his account. For instance, in July, 1909, he is paid for a team and teamster for three and a half days at $3.50, making a total of $12.25.

J. H. STAUNTON appears on the pay sheet as a laborer in 1909 and 1910. He is a photographer at Fenelon Falls and never worked on

HARRY LONG who used to keep a confectionery store in Peterborough and supplied sandwiches and other refreshments for some excursions on the canal, instead of having his account put on the pay sheet in the regular way, is represented as working at the removal of stumps at Kirkfield, and is paid as a laborer.

H. GAINEY was paid for work as a laborer on a number of occasions during the year 1907. Mr. Gainey is a barber in Peterborough and never worked on the Canal.

W. J. O'BRIEN, a grocer in Peterborough, appears as a laborer.

H. HOOVER is a cabinet maker and picture framer in Peterborough. Through the years 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911 he has been paid a considerable sum of money as a laborer on the Canal works. This was to pay accounts for picture framing, etc.

F. W. DOAN. In Oct. 1907, $39.00 rental due the Bell Telephone Company for telephone at McClellan's residence was paid by cheque to F. W. Doan, an employee of the company and charged against repairs to locks, slides and dams. A similar account was paid in the same way in Oct. 1907 and again in June, 1908. There is no explanation of this, as McClellan says, the Government was to pay for telephone in his house one can conceive of no reason for putting the accounts through in this way.

R. M. ROY, Charged against improving and clearing drowned lands on Pigeon Lake in November, 1908, is one dollar paid to R. M. Roy, a photographer of Peterborough, for photographs in December there is a similar item of two dollars. In fact Mr. Roy appears frequently for several years on the pay roll. In 1909, Mr. Roy was paid $15.65 as a laborer which was really for photographs.

A. CARR is undoubtedly an assumed name for some one who drew pay regularly as a laborer during 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909. After exhaustive inquiry I was unable to find any one of that name who had ever been in Peterborough. The Superintendent himself admitted that he could not see where the Government ever got value for some three hundred dollars paid to A. Carr in this way. It is certainly a most glaring piece of fraud practised upon the Government.

THE PETERBORO EXAMINER appears to have had frequent accounts put through as labor to the name of some of the company's employees. In Jan., 1907, J. Clark is paid for 6 days work as a laborer at $1.50, $9.00; in June, 1907, 7 days at $1.50, $10.50; in March, 1907, 7 days as laborer at Gull River, at $1.50, $10.50; in May, 1907, J. Clark, 6 days at $1.75, repair booms, slides and dams, $10.50; in August, 1908, J. Clark, 10 days, laborer at $ 1.75, $17.50; in Sept., 1908, J. Clark, laborer, 10 days at $1.75, $17.50. Clark was an employee at the Examiner office, and never did any work on the Canal. The Superintendent swears that Clark did not labor for this money, nor did the Department owe these accounts to the Examiner.

PAT HOGAN. In the year 1905 and 1906. Pat Hogan was paid as a laborer on several occasions. Hogan is a hotelkeeper in Peterborough and never worked on the Canal. Presumably this was to pay board bills, but there is no record to show this.

MRS. KEARNAY. It is shown in the evidence that McClellan built a verandah for Mrs. Kearney and the Government paid and boarded the man while doing it. He says that she still owes for this work, but there is no record in the office and he admits that she has never been billed with any account. (Page 168).

GEORGE WILSON (Page 670) who is called a walking boss does work that the Superintendent says is a part of Overseer Clegg's duties and should be done by Clegg himself. He draws $75.00 a month, although McClellan says that he is unnecessary and his services should be dispensed with.

JACKSON'S MEAL ACCOUNT, JULY, 1908. Pay sheet shows that there were 1464 days at three meals a day, making 439 meals Jackson gave for month of July at 14c making $61.46 due him for the month. He was paid $120.54 although McClellan certified for this, he admits that he has no explanation. (Pages 469 and 470). In the month of May Jackson served 643 meals at 14c., which would amount to $90.02. He was paid for 929 meals, totalling $130.06. There is no explanation for this. These accounts with many similar ones were made out in the Superintendent's office, and certified by him and sent to Ottawa for payment.

WILLIAM HEWITT is a caretaker of some small dams at Hawke Lake. He is paid $1.75 a day and board, and free use of a house and fuel owned by the Department at Hawke Lake. He has been permitted to buy provisions and furnish his house. For June, 1911, his grocery bill at one store was $10.26; July, $34.40; Aug., $73.54; Sept. and Oct. $27.02. It is obvious that no attempt was made to control this expenditure and from the nature of the goods purchased Mr. Hewitt lived both luxuriously and extravagantly. It is costing the government at least $1200 a year to maintain Mr. Hewitt at a job that should not cost half that. As a result of the disclosures elicited in my investigation McClellan cancelled this improvident arrangement and engaged him at $60 a month, and even this rate of wages is in my view, excessive.

B. A. ROSE, a G. T. R. ticket agent at Peterborough, appears constantly on pay rolls for several years until 1911, as a laborer. In many cases this is for tickets purchased by employees outside of the regular monthly tickets given for transportation on Government business. In some cases Mr. Rose denies the receipt of the money put through in his name. It

Heart Disease.

Mrs. J. D. Talbot, Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from heart disease, and leaking valves. I have had recourse to every kind of treatment I could think might help me, including the skill of several doctors. I suffered so for years that at times I have felt that nothing but death could end my misery. I was advised by a friend, who had suffered untold pain and misery, just as I had, and had been cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, to give them a trial, so I decided to do so. I am delighted with the result, as I am now completely cured, and can eat and sleep as I have not done for years.

You are at liberty to use my name at any time as I am convinced they are the best pills on the market for any form of heart disease."

PETERBORO TORONTO

Corn Meal Cookies.

Two eggs, 1 1-2 cups sugar, 1 cup butter, 2 cups corn meal, 1-2 cup milk, 2 1-2 teaspoons baking powder. Flour to roll.

Stuffed Prunes—Stuffed prunes are as good as stuffed dates. To make them, soak the prunes until they are soft enough to pit, remove the pits and fill the cavities with chopped walnuts or pecans and bits of dates and seeded raisins. Roll the prunes in granulated sugar. These keep well and are, in fact, better when they are five or six days old.

Saratoga Onions. — Peel and thinly slice three large white onions and soak in milk for 10 minutes, then drain and dry on a towel. Separate the slices into rings, put a dozen or more at a time in frying basket and plunge into smoking hot fat. Take out as soon as delicately coloured, drain for a moment on unglazed paper, turn into a heated dish, dust slightly with salt and serve at once.

There has

REPORT OF TRENT CANAL INVESTIGATION

was impossible to trace the parties who got either these tickets or the money.

PATRICK J. KENNY, who conducts a liquor store in Peterborough, is almost constantly on the payroll as a carpenter from Dec., 1906, to the fall of 1911. I have filed with this report a verified copy of Kenny's account showing that he was paid nearly $600.00 for liquors and cigars in three years. As far as I can trace it practically all of these refreshments were to equip the Bessie Butler for numerous pleasure parties, some of which were conducted under the guise of official inspections. McClellan denies that any of these went to his house, although Kenny says that a substantial order was delivered there for Xmas, 1906. The evidence shows that some $35 or $40 worth of liquors was purchased and paid for each winter when the boats were out of commission. I was unable to trace the delivery of the winter supply. Kenny testified that all these goods were ordered by McClellan and Farein. The latter says that he ordered only upon instructions from McClellan, who acknowledges this and admits his full responsibility in the matter.

J. Young. The time sheet for Sept., 1905, shows J. Young, laborer, 26 days' work at $1.50, $39.00. Time sheet for Nov., 1905, shows J. Young, laborer,, 24 days' work at $1.50, $36.00. The evidence showed that J. Young was not a laborer and never worked on the Canal. He is a steamboat man at Young's Point. Superintendent McClellan engaged the boat for an excursion to Fenelon Falls at $125.00, and says that it was for the use of departmental officials and their friends. Young says that the party was made up largely of Peterborough people.

If there was nothing to conceal one cannot understand why Young's account should not be paid regularly as an account instead of his name being falsely entered on the roll as a laborer.

In Dec., 1906, fire did some small amount of damage to the kitchen of the Bessie Butler. McClellan reported to the department that it would take some two or three hundred dollars to put her in repair. Apparently without authority from anybody except that he says that he spoke to Mr. Butler about it, he expended upwards of $2,200 in rebuilding the boat on an extravagant and unwarranted manner.

ROBERT PIMMETT has been employed as a cook on one of the Government boats for a number of years. In 1910 he was paid a monthly salary and twenty cents a meal for the crew and workmen, and thirty-five cents a meal or officials' guests, etc. He kept track of the number of meals and sent a statement to the office monthly. The account for meals runs into very large figures. There had been a great many excursion parties up the Canal. When the season closed there was seventy dollars due Pimmett, much of which was from McClellan's family relatives and guests. Pimmett worked for the Department until the middle of Jan., 1911, but was idle from that until the 10th of March. He was kept on the payroll, however, at $1.50 per day throughout Jan. and Feb., until the seventy dollars was paid. In March, 1911, McClellan hired Pimmett at 60 dollars a month to cook for a gang of men at Lakefield. Pimmett was directed to keep track of the number of meals and send in a statement to the office. He did this and this statement was sent to Ottawa and a cheque for the amount at 15c a meal was forwarded to Peterborough in Pimmett's name. Pimmett was required to endorse this and the Peterborough office paid the accounts and somebody, got entitled to it, retained the balance. For instance, in April, 1911, the account for meals sent to Ottawa and paid was $156.00. Out of this Pimmett was paid fifteen dollars to make up the difference between his regular salary promised him by McClellan. The account for supplies was 101 dollars so that there was forty dollars rake off in that month's business for some body. In other words somebody stole forty dollars from him.

This arrangment with Pimmett was made by the Superintendent himself and he must have been cognisant with the facts. In the year 1912 a small boat called the Manita was rented by McClellan from Wm. Robinson for use on the Canal at $8.00 per day; McClellan agreeing to do whatever repairs were necessary for this purpose. Rent was paid for her from 26th of May to the 12th of June while she was being repaired. Rent was paid for her also while being laid up in the fall. The spring repairs cost $259.12. She worked 26 days for the engineers department for which they paid McClellan's department $208.00. She worked for McClellan's department 27 days during that season. The balance of the time she worked for Sir Wm. McKenzie, who paid Robinson $8.00 a day for her. McClellan sent the whole outfit on to McKenzie's work and McKenzie paid rental, wages and maintenance while actually on the work. McClellan's department paid for delivering herat McKenzie's work and paid for her while returning from work. Robinson complained that the boat had been badly used and seriously damaged. In the spring of 1913, McClellan spent $331.00 on repairs. The result of operations with this boat is that she cost in repairs—1912, $259.00; 1913, $331.00; rent $504.00; total, $1094.00, received from the engineers, $208.00. The net cost of the boat to the Government, $886.00 for twenty-seven days' work or about $33.00 per day. (Page 451.)

C. C. HUYCKE. The name of C. C. Huycke appears regularly on the pay roll in McClellan's office for the past seven or eight years at twenty five dollars a month as caretaker at Healey's dam. He lives two or three miles out of Hastings and eight miles from the dam he is supposed to take care of. When required to do work at the dam it was necessary to telephone to Hastings and send a message with a livery man out to his house. Then he drove the eight miles to fulfil his orders. The Government paid for the telephone and the livery. In Nov., 1909, Dep. Min. Butler instructed McClellan that Grant would have control of the waters between Healey's Falls and Hastings during the construction work there. McClellan wrote Grant enclosing a copy of Butler's letter and told him that he had notified Huycke that instructions would be given him from the Engineers' department thereafter. Mr. Grant did not even acknowledge the letter. He gives as his reason for ignoring the letter that he did not consider he was in any way under McClellan's direction. He admits that there is a bitter feeling between the two offices and went so far as to forbid his men to have any thing to do with Huycke. He knew that Huycke was a Government employee and must have known that he would continue to draw salary for doing nothing. In my opinion his duty was to have written McClellan telling him that he did not require Huycke's services and the country could be saved $300.00 per year. In his actions towards McClellan, Grant appears to be actuated more by enmity and his own vanity than the safeguarding of the public funds. The result was that Huycke remained on the Government pay roll and was paid through McClellan's office. Grant paid no attention to him; McClellan gave him no instructions. He has been drawing $300.00 a year for which he has done nothing, but sent to Peterborough weekly reports of water levels taken at the foot of his farm. His position is a sinecure and he should be dismissed.

RENTALS.—While under examination in Sept. 18th, McClellan admitted having in his possession $15.00 belonging to the department which he had received by registered letter on the 25th of April, previous as rent. Written demand was twice made upon Grylls while McClellan had the money.

On another occasion he admitted having received $10.00 from the Provincial Treasurer for the storage of a patrol boat. This never reached the public treasury, although the cheque is endorsed by McClellan. Nor are these the only instances of this kind as a perusal of the evidence will show.

There is a large amount of rentals for power and lands paid into the Superintendent's office each year. No attempt was ever made to keep a separate account of these. The Superintendent deposited everything to his private credit and chequed out money on his personal cheque. When public moneys were received by him, instead of remitting direct to Ottawa he deposited everything to his own credit and had the use of it for months sometimes, before he remitted to the Receiver-General. Examination of his various bank accounts shows that had it not been for the deposit of Government funds he would have had almost constant overdrafts and would have been unable to issue cheques against his own account. In other words he improperly diverted to his own use the public funds.

In 1910 his deposits in the Bank of Commerce amounted to $12,452.00 Had he deposited his whole salary which he did not do it would only account for $2000.00 of this deposit. The balance of his deposit amounting to $10,452.00 is made up of at least $3349.71 of the Government funds and moneys received by him in connection with the winding up of some companies in which he and his son were interested. A large part of the amount he admits was money belonging to the Government.

McClellan never had any official or office account but carried private accounts at different times with the Ontario Bank, the Bank of Montreal, the Royal Bank, the Bank of Ottawa, the Bank of Commerce. All these accounts appear to have been conducted on the same principle. (page 427).

W. H. DUNSFORD, Manager of the Bank of Commerce (page 472), says McClellan would not have been able to issue cheques against his own account if it had not been that he was depositing public funds to his own credit.

In the summer of 1910 McClellan sent a dredge to Lindsay to do work for John Ritchie & Company for which they paid to McClellan $500. This money was never paid to the Government and McClellan is unable to account for it. His statement is that he may have drawn the cash for it and left it with Clarry, the accountant to hand over to one Davidson for the Liberal Campaign fund. (Evidence pages 393, 394, 469 and 470). He admits that large sums of money that should have been remitted to Ottawa were contributed to the Liberal Election fund. In a short investigation in the hopelessly muddled account I was able to trace about $2,000, which he says went in that way, made up as follows:—

Three cheques of $514.00, $480.00, $482.00, respectively received for empty cement sacks, and a cheque of $550.00 received from John Ritchie for dredging he says when he went on the canal he was told by Hon. J. R. Stratton that there should be an election fund of from five to seven thousand dollars a year from the canal office and that he proceeded on that basis.

GEORGE A. MOTHERSELL, auditing Engineer and Superintendent McClellan appear to be very close friends and considerable correspondence concerning official matters, but marked private (?) have passed between them. Some of these are in my view highly improper, even if they are not to be characterized more seriously. For instance a pay sheet reaches Mothersill for audit in December, 1909. Amongst the accounts is one from Wm. Jackson, a cook for 444 meals at fifteen cents, making a total of $66.16 to be charged to a wharf at Juniper Island. Mothersill writes a private letter to McClellan returning the account pointing out that the Juniper Island appropriation "will not stand" that amount, and tells him there is only a balance of $30.59 in that account "or about 219 meals." A new account dated the same is immediately returned for 219 meals and was put through.

Again in October 18th, 1912, Mothersill writes privately to McClellan returning some irregular vouchers and warns him that there may be persons on the lookout for any such irregularity. To my mind these are most remarkable letters to go from an auditor to the man whose accounts he audits. They throw some light on the reprehensible departmental methods that have obtained.

SAM CLEGG, an overseer on McClellan's staff, signs time slips and pay sheets including the names of persons who have never worked on the canal, but, of whom have accounts of various kinds. He admits that this was a very general practice and that it was entirely wrong to do it.

M. BURRETT is the wife of the Lockmaster at number three lock. She was paid several sums as a labourer on the canal during the years 1905 and 1906. The Superintendent thinks some of these payments were to pay accounts for boarding canal employees when working on that vicinity during the summer. There was a number of payments made to her as a labourer during the winter. McClellan suggests that this was probably to cover work done by her husband who is a Lockmaster so that he could be paid not only his regular salary as lockmaster, but draw double pay in this way. I find this same M. Burrett on the March 1910, pay roll on the engineers' department.

L. McFARLAND is a daughter of the Lockmaster at Lovesick during the years 1906 and 1907. She was paid substantial sums as a labourer. Her time being certified by her father, Wm. McFarland, the lockmaster at Lovesick.

After delving into the affairs of the maintenance department sufficiently to satisfy myself as to the necessity of a complete reorganization and the elimination of a number of the present staff, I visited the office of the Superintending Engineer. The result of my enquiry there is as follows:

GEORGE H. GIROUX, of the Superintending Engineer's office, is styled Clerk of Works. His duties, according to his own statement consists of checking over accounts pertaining to the staff, looking after the letters coming through the office, and taking care of office plans and making blue prints. There are some eight or nine branch offices along the canal, each in charge of a district engineeer, and all under the Engineer's Department. Pay sheets are made up at each branch and certified by the Engineer in charge and sent in once a month to Grant's Office. Giroux, takes these along with the Peterborough Office pay roll and sends them to Ottawa, and when the cheques come back he sees that they are sent out. This embodies all his duties as accountant. The plans for the different works are taken care of by him, and he makes whatever blue prints are required. Information was given me that in August, 1912, Mr. Giroux had improperly charged to the Department some items of expense that were purely personal. On the 22nd August, 1912, he drove his family to Chemong Lake to a regatta. The livery was four dollars, and he put it through and had it paid for by the Government. A few days afterwards he made a trip to Campbellford. As he puts it, it was purely a pleasure trip to see the work there, and the expense of this trip was put through on Government account. Mr. Giroux says that the Superintending Engineer knew of these things and approved of them, and Mr. Grant admits this. Of course such charges, however trifling in amount, are entirely irregular and improper. Mr. Giroux admits that he made and sold during the past seven or eight years, blue prints for every one who brought him plans and asked him to do such work. The paper used for the purpose belonged to the Government, and they were made on the Government machine, and Giroux's time belonged to the Government. Mr. Grant knew of this and permitted it.

ALBERT JAMES RADDON, who styles himself Cement Test Clerk and Photographer, has been in the employ of the Department since August, 1896. His duty is to make tests of the cement used on the works. He not only tests the cement for the Government, but, made a business of testing cement for others. He admits having done this and says it was with Mr. Grant's permission he did it. In the years 1907, 1908 and 1909, he tested in the Government Office with the Government apparatus one hundred and sixteen cars for outside parties for which h charged for his own use three and four dollars a car. Even as late as November last year he made tests you outside parties and was paid for them. That sort of thing is highly reprehensible and should not be permitted.

ROBERT FRANK RADDON, was a sort of handy man around the premises. He was originally taken on as a helper to his brother, A. J. Raddon, in the cement room. He says, and, his brother corroborates he worked a great deal about Grant's house, and, Mr. Grant admits that he worked a great deal about Grant's house. In fact my conclusion from the evidence is that his duties about the office were very light; a good deal of his time was spent looking after Mr. Grant's private requirements. He was discharged by Grant as a result of a quarrel with Mrs. Grant, and it was not found necessary to replace him. This fact alone would lead one to the conclusion that he was retained largely for Mr. Grant's private service. Mr. Grant says that at the request of Hon. J. R. Stratton he found him a different position at Healey's Falls after dispensing with him at the Peterborough Office.

JAMES ANDREW HADCOCK has been in the employ of the Government undr Mr. Grant since 1909. He says that he has not any regular engagement, but is paid five dollars a day when working. His salary was fixed by Mr. Grant. In the summer of 1913 he was employed at dredge work until the 15th November. From the 15th to the 24th he was idle. On the 24th he went to Trenton as inspector of lockgate construction. He was paid for the week he was idle on Mr. Grant's instructions. Hadcock acted as timekeeper on the dredge work. He made up his time book showing that all the men ceased work on the 15th November. It was totalled up and certified to by Mr. Cameron, the Engineer, in charge of th work. Hadcock afterwards altered his time book to make it appear that he worked that week, although as a matter of fact, he was not working. This alteration cost the Government thirty dollars ($30). Mr. Grant takes the responsibility for this and approves of it upon the ground that he has the right to give a man a few days when he sees fit.

ROGER MILLER and Company, the contractors, who are building the lockgates at Trenton, shut down their work on the 20th December. Hadcock says they were shut down for eight days, during which time he was at his home in Peterborough.

MR. J. B. BROPHY, who is the engineer in charge of the division where Hadcock was working, had to certify to his time. In making out his December pay sheet he left Hadcock's time and salary blank as he had no instructions from Mr. Grant in the matter. When he brought his pay roll to the head office, Grant instructed him to give Hadcock full time. In January, 1913, Mr. Hadcock took a trip to Buffalo to buy a moter-cycle for himself, and was gone, according to his own story, not less than three days. He signed his own time sheet certifying that he was on the works during that three days and was paid his regular wage. He says Mr. Grant knew of this and approved of it. Hadcock, according to his time-book, certified by himself, spent from the fourteenth November, 1012, to the 15th February, 1013, in all 81 days, at five dollars a day, building three ordinary flat bottom punts, worth at his own estimate, thirty-five or forty dollars apiece. These punts cost in labor four hundred and five dollars ($405), besides the material used. Hadcock says he did this under Grant's instructions, and in fact Mr. Grant assumed full responsibility and says that he was simply finding something for Hadcock to do so that he would not leave Peterborough and would be available for the spring work. Mr. Hadcock admits that every other winter he was idle for some months, and still he has always been available at the opening of the season. And even during 1913 he was idle from the 15th February until June, according to his own statement.

ALEXANDER JOSEPH GRANT has been Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal since the first of April, 1906. Although not a civil engineer Mr. Grant lays claim to long experience in enginering work. One of his first works on the Trent was the designing and constructing of the dam at Buckhorn which was built in 1907-1908, at a very large cost. In 1913 alterations to the amount of $4,229.00 were necessary to make the dam conform to the requirements for which it was originally constructed.

I discussed with Mr. Grant at considerable length the organization of his office and the staff. Although in my view there is a lamentable lack of system, he appears to think it satisfactory.

Although there is a very large amount of valuable plant belonging to the Government in the hands of this Department there never has been any inventory of it made or maintained. There is a dredge, a couple of house boats, gasoline boats, row boats, canoes, stoves, tents and all varied equipment, amounting to a very large sum in value, necessary to carry on the work along the whole length of the canal. No record of this is kept and nobody seems rsponsible for its care. Some few articles are kept in a store house. The store house man says that he has no instructions to keep track of things. When anything is brought to him he puts it in the store house; when any one asks for anything he hands it out. This seems to me to be a serious defect in management and must inevitably result in loss and waste.

There is no office organization of any kind in existence; absolutely no books are kept and there is no attempt at accounting of any kind. The only records in existence are copies of the accounts and pay sheets that are sent to Ottawa. One would expect to be able to turn to some book or record and find a summary of the cost of any particular work, or the year's accounts with any particular firm. To get such information at present the individual accounts and sheets have to be gone over and the fact gleaned from them.

Mr. Grant should have closer supervision over the office and his staff, and the reprehensible practices permitted should never have been allowed. He is aware and has permitted Raddon to make a profit from his position by testing cement for outside parties. He has been aware and approved Giroux making a business of furnishing blue prints to the public for his private gain. He kept no man about his own residence, but made use of Robert Frank Raddon, an employee of the Department as a man of all work about his own premises. He certified to expenditures made by Giroux on his private account and had them paid by the Department. He has certified to Hadcock's time on a number of occasions when Hadcock was not working, and he takes the ground that he has the right to do that.

It is little short of scandalous that without any justification whatever an employee should be retained at five dollars a day for eighty-one days building three rough board pugts which, as a matter of common knowledge we all know can be bought for from ten to fifteen dollars each.

A large item of expense in connection with the engineers office is livery account. This office expends in this way from four to five hundred dollars a year. My attention was directed from complaint I had received from Jones Bros. This account shows an expenditure as follows:

1910	$171.25
1911	235.25
1912	152.50
1913	83.25

The substantial falling off in 1913 is due to the use of automobiles instead of horses.

This account is exclusively Mr. Grant's. The evidence shows and Mr. Grant admits, that a considerable part of the expenditure was incurred by Mrs. Grant. He attempts to justify it in many cases by explaining if he were going away she had a liver go for her an hour or two before the train, and she drove around until train time, and drove him to the train. If he were coming him the livery came early for her and she used it until time to meet him at the train. He apparently does not regard seriously the fact that the extra driving by Mrs. Grant costs the country just the difference between a fifty cent hack which would take him to or from the train, and, a charge or from two to five dollars, according to the length of time Mrs. Grant used the rig. Moreover, if it were only an occasional occurrence it might be overlookd. But it has been the common practice and runs into a very substantial sum of money. But even this explanation does not cover all the livery rigs made use of by Mrs. Grant. There are on his own statement a number of occasions when Mrs. Grant made use of the livery that was charged to and paid by the Government when Mr. Grant was away from home entirely.

In the year 1911 the dredge "Holland" was purchased by the Department on the recommendation of the engineer at a cost of upwards of $16,000.00. She is a combination of orange peel and suction dredge. She originally belonged to a firm of contractors of the Newmarket Canal. The contractors made default in their work and the dredge might have been confiscated by the Government at that time. She was transferred by the owners to the Standard Bank from whom the Government purchased her. Mr. Grant informs m that the original purpose was to use her on the Holland river where the excavation consisted of loose sand and silt. She was brought to Peterborough and tied up on the bank of the Canal where she still lies. Mr. Grant says that she never has been made use of because the Newmarket Canal was abandoned subsequently to the purchase. The evidence of every one whom I questioned upon the subject is that her machinery is a splendid type and in excellent condition.

In the store house in connection with the maintenance department there is almost a complete outfit of dredging machinery bought some years ago with the alleged purpose of constructing a dredge.

Notwithstanding the fact that these two dredge outfits were available and could surely have been utilized, a new dredge called the "Au-Burn" was builtin by Mr. Grant in 1912. His original estimate was about $19,000.00, while the cost amounted up to $26,000.00. The engineers seem to have taken upon themselves to build this dredge without any appropriation having been made therefor. The Auburn is what is known as a clam shell dredge and the material that she is adapted to handle is much the same as the class of work for which the Holland was intended.

What strikes one as remarkable is that the Government should have locked up not less than $25,000.00 or $30,000.00 in two dredge outfits and that a third dredge is built without any attempt at utilizing any of the splendid machinery or parts already on hand. In other words the Government has invested from fifty to fifty-five thousand dollars in dredge plant and have but one operating dredge costing $26,000.00.

My observation together with the strongly expressed opinion of officials, convinces me that the system of administration of the affairs of the Trent Valley Canal is entirely wrong. There should be one supreme head in control of everything connected with the Canal. Under this central authority it might be well to maintain a construction department, but the control of affairs should be vested in one official. Experience has amply demonstrated the failure and the folly of the present system. With the offices divided, as they are to-day, with a separate official at the head of each branch, there is constant conflict of jurisdiction, overlapping of authority, frequent disputes, and continuous friction. This has been productive of such marked enmity between the two offices that the official heads make no attempt to conceal their ill-will towards each other. Such a condition, of course, is subversive of all discipline and inevitably militates against efficiency.

But putting the whole Canal, service under one man, (and if possible housing the staff in one premises), a very substantial reduction of rentals could be made; the number of the staff could be largely reduced; much duplication of plant would be avoided, and more economical, efficient and business-like administration would result.

Appended to this report is the notes of evidence and the exhibits referred to therein.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MANY DIE IN FIRE

Bodies Already Recovered After St. Louis Blaze.

NEARLY THIRTY ARE MISSING

Death List In Conflagration Which Destroyed Bank and Athletic Club in St. Louis May Reach Thirty-Five—Thrilling Escapes Are Reported—Men Got Out by Making Rope From Sheets.

ST. LOUIS, March 10.—That from thirty to thirty-five guests of the Missouri Athletic Club perished in the flames that destroyed the building yesterday morning is the belief of officers of the club.

Seven bodies have been recovered, and from 22 to 29 occupants of the structure are still unaccounted for. At sundown last night, firemen continued the search for bodies in the smouldering ruins under the glare of searchlights.

The blaze was the fourth serious fire in the downtown district of St. Louis in eight days, and the most serious as to fatalities of any fire in the city's history. This fire completely wrecked the seven-storey building occupied jointly by the Missouri Athletic Club and by the Boatmen's Bank, caused a property loss estimated at half a million dollars, and by destroying the list of entries and other club records, forced the abandonment of the intercollegiate track meet that was to have been held in St. Louis under the auspices of the club next Saturday night.

The cause of the fire still was a mystery last night.

The number of guests who had rooms in the clubhouse, either permanently or for the night, was about 100. Many of these escaped, some checked out before the fire; others, it is thought, were not there when the flames broke out, some were injured in leaving the clubhouse, and the rest are listed among the dead or unaccounted for.

Dramatic escapes were numerous. One of the most spectacular was that of twelve or thirteen men who descended from a fifth floor window to the roof of an adjoining four-storey building by means of an improvised rope made out of two sheets. One guest escaped by leaping over a chasm 10 feet wide to the roof of an adjoining building.

WASHINGTON, March 10. — The lid of secrecy regarding Mexico was lifted in the Senate yesterday by Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, who urged armed intervention for the protection of Americans and other foreigners in the stricken republic. The galleries were crowded to overflowing.

Senator Shively of Indiana, who, as acting chairman of the committee on foreign relations, spoke for the Administration, expressed regret that the subject had been discussed in open session, averring that no adequate suggestion had been offered to compose the difficulty.

Senator Fall's policy, he said, would mean actual armed intervention, and that intervention meant war.

Senator Sheppard of Texas declared the majority of the people of his state were in hearty accord with President Wilson in his Mexican policy.

Aid Asked For Steel Industry.

OTTAWA, March 10.—J. W. Curran of The Daily Star, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Mayor Lyons, of Steelton, and Cyril Young, of North Bay, are here to interview the Government regarding assistance in the production of ore, in order to put the steel industry on its feet. In 1913, they state, that there was only one ton of Canadian ore used in Canadian blast furnaces out of every 22½ tons used. The reason the Government is asked to give aid is to help in the defraying of the cost of solving the low-grade ore proposition in Canada.

Just One Application And Ugly Hairs Vanish

(Modes of To-day)

Here is a simple treatment for removing ugly hairs. It is painless, requires little time and can be used in the privacy of your home: Get some powdered delatone and with water mix enough paste to cover the objectionable hairs. Apply for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin, and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This method is inexpensive and entirely harmless, but be sure to get delatone or the result may be disappointing.

Woman's Hair Reaches To Her Knees

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness. Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the City, is the fortunate possessor of marvellously beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture and in colour a glorious glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said, "Had anyone told me such marvellous results could be accomplished so quickly, I positively would not have believed it. Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached nearly to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in colour, turning grey in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they were all the same and never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well known physician. It said that by mixing ordinary Lavona de Compoona and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it and I had my druggist mix 2 oz. of the Lavona de Compoona with 6 oz. of Bay Rum and ½ drachm of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. My, how quickly my hair did grow. First the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet, and while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it, at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it.

TRIBUTES TO ROSS.

Legislature Adjourns After Expressions of Respect to His Memory.

TORONTO, March 10.—Out of deference to the memory of the late Sir George W. Ross, the Ontario Legislature adjourned yesterday, but not before the leaders of both parties had united in tributes to the former Premier of the province.

"No man gave more of his life and talents to the public work that he had in hand," said Acting Premier Foy. "He was a man of remarkable ability, a strong debater, and in command of great eloquence. The country has lost a big man, a man free from pettiness and narrowness. All mourn his passing and give their sympathy to his sorrowing relatives. It is a fitting that this House mark its respect to Sir George."

The legislation which found its rise in the time of the Ross administration was outlined by Mr. Rowell. Among the things which his administration had brought, either in realization or in suggestion, were the systems of kindergarten training and the federation of the provincial universities. The development of the north country had had its start in his regime.

Hon. Dr. Pyne, T. Marshall of Monck, and A. E. Donovan added words of tribute.

FEATHERS MUST GO.

Plumage Traffic a Dishonor Says the British Postmaster-General.

LONDON, March 10.—Postmaster-General Hobhouse in moving the second reading of the plumage bill in the House of Commons last night gave details of London plumage sales and said that in June of 1913 plumage was sold representing about 77,000 aigrettes, 22,000 pigeons, 25,000 humming birds, and 162,000 kingfishers. They wished to put a stop to the traffic which was a dishonor to the people who conducted it.

It was proposed, subject to one or two exceptions, to prohibit the importation into the United Kingdom of the plumage of any wild birds, and to prevent any person having in his possession or being concerned in the sale of such plumage. Parliament, he urged, had a right to insist that a silly, debasing fashion should not be allowed to work harm to the most innocent and beautiful of God's creatures. It was a case of the vanity of woman going hand in hand with the rapacity of man, and he did not see why the House should not limit the sphere of their joint mischief. The second reading of the bill was agreed to.

REPORT IS TABLED.

Ferguson Finding on Trent Valley Canal Presented to Commons.

OTTAWA, March 10.—That bankers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, undertakers, barbers, newspaper men, merchants, hotelkeepers, and almost every class of business and profession, are represented on the pay sheets of the Trent Valley Canal was the statement made in the special report of G. R. Ferguson, M.P.P., tabled in the Commons.

Regarding Canal Supt. McClellan, Mr. Ferguson says: "He has not only practiced deception and dishonesty himself, but has condoned it and winked at it in others," and then goes on to say that "the chaotic conditions rendered complete examination of the details impossible."

Hotelkeepers, according to the report, were paid for board at their hotels by being put on the pay sheets as "laborers." Among them were A. B. Spillman, Hastings; A. G. Lawless, Lakefield and Bobcaygeon; W. W. D'Arcy, Burleigh; Hector Campbell, Kirkfield; G. N. Graham, Peterboro; Patrick Logan, Peterboro, and others. Many Peterboro business men are included.

In 1913 a small boat called the Manita was rented by McClellan at $8 per month; rent was paid from May 26 to June 12, while she was being repaired. One time and another she cost for repairs $1,094. Deducting a short period during which she was rented the total cost was $386 for 17 days' work or $23 a day.

OFFERS EXEMPTION

Ulster Counties May Stay Out Six Years, Says Asquith.

MUST TAKE A PLEBISCITE

Any One of the Counties of North Ireland or Boroughs of Belfast and Londonderry by a Bare Majority of Votes Might Be Excluded From Home Rule—Ten Per Cent. Can Force a Poll.

LONDON, March 10.—The House of Commons was packed yesterday afternoon, and the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Herbert Henry Asquith, was loudly cheered on rising to make a statement upon the Irish situation on the second reading of the Home Rule bill.

The Premier, after reviewing the unsuccessful efforts to arrive at a compromise with their political opponents by a series of conferences, said they had then come to the practical question as to how far exclusion could be adopted without violating the principles of either side, and they had come to the conclusion that the only way was to allow the Ulster counties themselves to determine where they desired to be excluded.

His plan was that any county in the Province of Ulster was to be excluded for a certain period if, on a poll being taken of the Parliamentary electors of any county before the bill came into operation a bare majority of votes favored exclusion. The said poll would be taken in the county if a requisition were presented signed by one-tenth of the electors and presented within a certain time after the date of the passing of the bill. The persons entitled to vote were those entitled to vote at Parliamentary elections, and the questions put would be: "Are you for the exclusion of the county from the government of Ireland for a period of years; or, are you against such exclusion? The poll would be taken by ballot similarly to Parliamentary elections. If the poll resulted in favor of exclusion, the county would be automatically excluded for a prescribed period.

In speaking of a "county," he would include as separate counties the Boroughs of Belfast and Londonderry. He did not believe they could select a more practicable area than a county. The Government, after much consideration, thought that the period of exclusion should be six years from the first meeting of the Irish Legislature in Dublin.

He had endeavored, he said, to explain the proposals which were put forward as the price of peace. (Cheers.) No one, he believed, either in Ireland or here, had any love for exclusion for its own sake or upon its own merits. He did not expect the proposals which he had outlined to be received with enthusiasm in any quarter, but he did ask for them deliberate and dispassionate consideration. (Cheers.) To Home Rulers, Irish or British, they involved at least a postponement of a complete and symmetrical system of self-government. To Unionists they implied a necessary acceptance of an Irish Legislature and executive in Dublin. On the other hand, they would hold out for the home rulers the prospect of an undivided Ireland brought in time to its full measure of development, as he might hope and believe, not by coercion but by consent; while to Ulstermen they offered an absolutely free choice, with the certainty that their status could not be changed without the assent of the Parliament of the United Kingdom. (Cheers.)

Mr. Asquith said he now saw the road to an agreed settlement, in which the balance of give and take was likely to be more evenly adjusted.

Mr. Bonar Law, who followed Mr. Asquith, declared that the Unionists were unalterably opposed to Home Rule, with or without exclusion.

For the Irish Nationalists, Mr. John Redmond said that they did not take very kindly to the concessions. They would deem it their duty to pass the bill unchanged if the Opposition rejected the proposals of the Government.

William O'Brien, speaking in behalf of the Independent Nationalists, declared Mr. Asquith's concessions to be "hateful and intolerable."

Frenchwoman Is Champion "Pug."

PARIS, March 10.—Mlle. Carpentier, muscular, aged 25, was declared the world's champion woman pugilist, after a fast four-round encounter at Chantilly, with Mrs. Warner, wife of the English fighter, in the presence of a packed audience of society men and women. In the fourth, Mlle. Carpentier rallied, and with a stunning left to the jaw brought her rival to the boards. Thereupon Mrs. Warner's seconds threw up the sponge.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

TORONTO, March 10. — Stooping under the gates at the level Bloor street crossing of the C.P.R. and G.T.R. tracks about 10.30 yesterday morning, William J. Beaver, a young Irishman, 21 years of age, walked directly in front of an eastbound G.T.R. passenger train and was instantly killed.

The young fellow, who, with his brother James of 55 McCaul street, came to this country from Ireland but nine months ago, was an employe of the Canada Bread Company, whose works at Dundas and Bloor streets are close to the railway crossing. During the earlier part of the morning he obtained leave to go back to his boarding-house at 117 Perth avenue, for something he had forgotten, and it was on his return to work that he met his death.

Miners' Wives Seek Pardon.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 10.—The wives of the imprisoned coal miners have sent another delegation to interview Sir Richard McBride, with a request for clemency for their husbands. There were 14 women in the delegation.

Sir Richard told the delegation that he had already made a report on the situation to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa. The Premier's attitude was sympathetic, and, without exactly saying so definitely, he encouraged the deputation to believe that the provincial administration would try to help them out, state members of the party for the strike area.

FRIENDS GOT BODY.

Texas Rangers Did Not Go Into Mexico After All.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The serious importance of the Vergara incident has been materially minimized by yesterday's reports that there was no invasion of Mexican territory by Texas Rangers to recover the body of the American rancher who was murdered by Mexican Federals. While the Government is still awaiting a complete official report of the affair, it is satisfied that Vergara's body was disinterred by friends and taken over the border into Texas, where is was recovered by Texas Rangers and others who had been notified that it would be found at a designated spot on Texas soil.

INSIST ON GENUINE HERPICIDE

To be sure there are not many dealers who push "something just as good" when the advertised article is requested. Still what few there are should know that by their policy they are destroying the customers' confidence and perhaps losing business.

The most effective rebuke is not to wait for the story, simply hunt a store where they will sell you what you want.

The dealer who states that a preparation is as good as Herpicide is not sincere, he doesn't believe it himself. Every druggist knows that there is but one "genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer," and that is Newbro's Herpicide.

It keeps the head free from dandruff, prevents the hair from coming out and stops itching of the scalp.

Herpicide is a wonderful remedy which does just what you want and expect it to do.

Sold in 50-cent and $1.00 sizes by all dealers. It is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it or money will be refunded.

Sold everywhere.

COUNTY JUDGES CHOSEN.

Seven Are Promoted to Woolsack to Fill Vacancies.

OTTAWA, March 10.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of seven new Ontario county court judges. The new judges are Emmerson Coatsworth, Toronto, judge of York County; J. Hanning, of Preston, judge of Waterloo; Frank R. Powell, of Parry Sound, judge of Parry Sound district; H. R. Lavell, of Smith's Falls, judge of Frontenac; Arthur T. Bold, of Leamington, judge of Norfolk; John W. Elliott, of Milton, judge of Milton; and Col. John H. Scott, of Walkerton, judge of Lanark.

There are still two Ontario county court judgeships vacant, Northumberland and Durham, caused by the retirement of Judge Benson, and Renfrew, due to the death of Judge Donahue.

The other seven vacancies are due to the retirement of judges under a statute passed last session which provides for the retirement of all county court judges when they reach 75. The judges who retire on full pay are: Judge Senkler, of Lanark; Judge Price, of Frontenac; Judge Robb, of Norfolk; Judge Morgan, of York; Judge McCurry, of Parry Sound; Judge Chisholm, of Waterloo, and Judge Benson, of Northumberland.

Royal Heir Expected.

BERLIN, March 10—Horace Rumbold, counsellor of the British Embassy here, was ordered yesterday to Brunswick, where the arrival of an heir to the Brunswick throne is awaited shortly.

South African Bill Passed.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, March 10.—In the House of Assembly yesterday the bill to indemnify the Government for its acts under martial law passed the third reading by a vote of 70 to 12. Minister of the Interior Smuts, in moving the third reading of the bill, said the banishment recently of nine labor leaders because of their connection with the general strike was not necessarily permanent. The indemnity bill is an outgrowth of the deportation of these men, who are now in England.

Battle With Unemployed.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 10.—Three hundred deputy sheriffs, armed with pick-handles, fought with double that number of Industrial Workers of the World, armed with clubs, in an attempt yesterday to drive Gen. Kelly's army of unemployed off the Southern Pacific right of way. A score of men were injured.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one cup of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily prepare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and tastes pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe. If the genuine Pinex is used. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you, if you ask him. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

APPLYING THE REMEDY

"I got Wilbur to go to a bazaar last night,' declared Mrs. Haddon to a friend. "Really, I felt as if I had accomplished as difficult a feat as sending a girl through college or a boy off to the war."

"How did you do it?" asked the the friend in envious admiration. "I have been able to send my daughter and my son to college, but to get my husband deliberately to force a charity bazaar is more than I can ever hope to accomplish."

"It takes diplomacy and infinite tact," said Mrs. Haddon, visibly pluming herself. "I began by placing great emphasis on the kind of dinner that was to be served before the sale began and upon the people who were to be there. My husband said he hated sitting down to dinner with a lot of people he didn't know and eating a lot of things made by all sorts of indifferent cooks. I assured him that we were to have a private table, that the food was to be the perfection of cookery and that the waitresses were pretty young girls who would anticipate his every wish."

"He couldn't resist that combination?" asked the friend. "None of the inducements you have mentioned would have the slightest effect on my husband.'

"'Well, I was assured when Wilbur agreed to meet me at the church at 6. I was still more surprised when he appeared on time wearing a smile on his face."

"Did all go merry as a marriage bell?" asked the friend

"Yes. Wilbur never complained once throughout the evening. The dinner was really delicious. There are no other cooks like those whose doughnuts are inspired by a genuine zeal for a good cause. After the dessert my husband looked as radiant as if he were at some commercial banquet instead of a church bazaar."

"But how was it when he came to the pin cushions and pen wipers, the necktie holders and cases for shaving paper? Didn't he protest then?"

"Not at all. I turned him loose among them as remorsedesaly as if I was abandoning a child to the waves. It really was delightful to see how gracefully he assumed the high duties of a buyer at a bazaar. I saw him gasing seriously at some violet scented sachet bags and his attitude toward hand knit neckties was really beautiful. He took chances at guessing, how many beans there were in a bottle, purchased several tickets for a raffle and swung his fish-pole into a pond of packages with as much eagerness as he would have displayed in catching real fish."

WAS SUBJECT TO SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

Doctors Only Gave Temporary Relief.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup
CURED HIM.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes. Neglected bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it at once by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recommend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

Be sure and get the genuine "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto. Out

"But did he buy anything?" demanded the friend.

"Buy!" echoed Mrs. Haddon. "He bought everything from a Japanese doll to a linen bedspread. He engaged in a perfect orgy of buying. Why, that man's recklessness made me gasp."

"Every little while he would approach me carrying some perfectly absurd article, a lady's slipper bag or a housekeeper's companion or a pink shellstitch shoulder shawl. Then he would proceed to expatiate on the merits of the articles that he had bought until I was positively ill at the sight of them.'

"I tried to caution him under my breath not to buy everything that was shown him and endeavored to explain that neither I nor any one we knew had need of a pink shawl. But he was obdurate and went away gleefully, only to return a little later with a pair of pale blue bedroom slippers that were too small for any human feet and a boudoir cap that no woman but one who lives in a boudoir would ever wear."

"Don't you believe," asked the friend, "that there was a method in your husband's madness? Perhaps he was trying to cure you of your interest in such affairs, so that you would cease to entice him to such places?"

"Well," replied Mrs. Haddon, "I thought of that. Still, I am not really sure whether it was this or whether he was not affected with a kind of bazaar madness that sometimes overtakes people who attend such affairs. I only know that no persuasion on my part would stop him from purchasing the most ridiculous articles and that he seemed to lose all sense of discrimination or appropriateness.

"The consequence is that the drawers in my closet are filled with a lot of things that I don't know what to do with. When I think of the useful articles that might have been bought with the money spent on these superfluities I could weep."

"I must say," declared her friend, 'that I think your husband is a very deep man, a real philosopher. I don't believe he will be asked to attend another bazaar this winter)"

"Not by me," declared the man's wife, firmly. "I shall never mention a bazaar again."

NO USE FOR POCKET.

Lucas, after paying for several drinks: "I say, McMaister, you've been used to wearing kilts, haven't you?"

McMaister: "Hey, mon, rather!"

Lucas: "Thought so. I haven't noticed you put your hand in your pocket lately!"

HELP FOR WORKING GIRLS

Two Girls Tell Story of Their Illness and How They Found Relief.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better." —Miss AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 613 Seventh Street, New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because my periods were suppressed and I had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., Saint Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

To Move Rameses.

What the disposition of the statues of Rameses will be, is accurately told by the Cairo correspondent of The London Times: "It has been practically decided, provided that no unforeseen difficulties occur, to transport the two giant statues of Rameses ... from ancient Memphis to Cairo, where they will be erected in the new Station Square that has recently been made. There has never been any question of bringing down statues from Thebes (Luxor). Considerable repairs will have to be done to one if not both, of the Memphis statues as it is feared the legs will not be strong enough to support the bodies. Special arrangements are being made for the transport to Cairo, and I understand that the state railways are constructing special trucks and adapting the line at various points such as the stations, where it is not wide enough. The total cost of erection and transport is at present estimated at $1,500,000.

A WEAK HEART

When the heart is weak or irregular in action, when the blood is thin and watery, remember the blood forming qualities of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by its use flood the system with rich, red vitalizing blood. This is Nature's way of curing weakness and disease. It is the only way to ensure lasting benefits.

Sarah Rector, who will pay the largest income tax in Oklahoma, is a child of ten years and of mixed blood. She is the descendant of a Creek freedman and received her allotment of 16 acres, which has become extremely valuable owing to the fact that the "Jones gusher," the biggest oil well in the mideontinent field, is on the property.

A woman named Nellie Lambert who is appearing in London just now claims not only to be "the heaviest and stoutest lady on earth," but also to be a great-granddaughter of the famous Daniel Lambert, who is generally conceded to have been the heaviest man of whom there is any authentic record. Nellie Lambert is now in her twentieth year, claims to weigh 693 pounds and, like Daniel, is a native of Leicester.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 9.—Transatlantic travellers who have been passengers on the Maurentania will be pleased to learn that Captain Turner of that vessel is to be honoured with the command of the great Cunard liner, Aquitania, which is now nearing completion on the Clyde. Captain Turner has had a romantic career, havig risen from the position of cabin boy to the command of the world's fastest, and now the world's largest, liner.

Under new regulations of the Treasury Department passengers from abroad may include in the $100 worth of goods entitled to free entry practically all kinds of articles purchased abroad. Formerly passengers were permitted to bring only wearing apparel or toilet articles for their own use, and persons bringing in a piece of dress goods or a suit length to be made in this country had to pay full duty. The new ruling permits passengers to bring presents for the relatives or friends of table linen, cloth, household goods, cutlery and the like to the value of $100, providing the goods are not intended for sale.

The Victoria Hotel at Fith Avenue and 27th Street, has fallen before the march of progress uptown. Up the early seventies nearly all of the large hotels were below Fourteenth Street. About 1880 they began to appear north of Twenty-Third Street. Now, practically all of the formerly well-known hotels below Union Square have disappeared, and one seldom hears of a new one being built farther south than Forty-Second Street. Of the long list of famous hotels that once dotted Lower Broadway the only ones left are the old Broadway Central and the St. Denis. Withiit the memory of even the younger generation of New Yorkers the centre of hotel life in the metropolis has moved from the locality of Union Square northward to Broadway and Forty Second Street.

The West Side Young Men's Christian Association of this City boasts the distinction of being the largest Y..C.A. in the world. It has an active membership in excess of 6,000. The general attendance at the branch last year was 750,567, while the total yearly student attendance was 63,846. In the physical department the total attendance at gymnastic classes was 45,000, with a total yearly attendance in the gymnasium exceeding 150,000. One hundred and seventy-five thousand persons attended the religious meetings during the year. In connection with the branch there is an employment department which found jobs for nearly 2,000 young men during the year.

The electric light bulbs of the great illuminated signs along Broadway supplied roosting places for thousands of birds during the recent severe cold spell. The discovery was made by employees of the Electric Light Company who investigated the reason for the dimness of many of the signs. They found that birds had clustered all about the lights. It was evident that the warmth radiated by the bulbs, though small in amount, had been sufficient to save the lives of thousands of birds. Most of the birds were sparrows and pigeons, though it was reported that even larger birds and some of them of a variety not usually found in the city had sought to warm themselves by nestling on the electric bulbs.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is at the head of a committee that is planning for the celebration this year of the three hundredth anniversary of New York as a port of commerce. The celebration is to be ushered in with religious exercises on the 27th of this month, which will be the anniversary of the granting for the first general charter for regular commerce with what is now New York by the United Netherlands. In April and May the celebration will be confined to exercises in the public schools. During the summer there will be exhibitions of the material resources of the various States of the Union, and in the Autumn the celebration will be concluded with a series of brilliant parades and pageants.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

TELLS REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE WITH ZAM-BUK.

SUFFERED FOR YEARS WITH ECZEMA & ULCERS NOTHING SEEMED ABLE TO DO HIM ANY GOOD ZAM BUK CURED HIM.

Mr. J. E. Argensult, a Justice of the Peace, and station master at Wellington, on the Prince Edward Island Railway, says:

"Four years ago, I slipped in the station and fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead of doing so it developed into a bad ulcer and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged. My doctor said I must stop work and lay up. After six months of this trouble I consulted another doctor, but with no better result, I tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse. This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better.

"I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did. It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema or any trace of it. It would be impossible to find a case where the sores were worse than those on my limbs, and I think Zam-Buk is a marvellous healing balm or it could not have cured me as it did when all else failed."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES.

The above is but one example of the wonderful cures that Zam-Buk is daily working. Purely herbal in composition, this great balm is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises.

All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

GIRL IS MURDERED.

TORONTO, March 10. — Crazed with jealousy, Isaac Estrean, a coat maker, living at 383 Adelaide street west, discharged four shots from a revolver, at his sweetheart, Anna Carlock, 501 Adelaide street west, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, almost instantly killing her. The shooting took place on Adelaide street, west, opposite No. 412. After killing the girl, Estrean was pursued, and turning the revolver on himself put a bullet through his abdomen. He now lies at the General Hospital in a critical condition, with a policeman on guard at the door of his room. Late last evening it was reported that his condition was slightly improved.

Estrean was madly in love with the Jewish girl, who was about 22 years of age, but had repeatedly been rejected. On Sunday the girl received word from Russia that Estrean had a wife and family living there, and it is thought by the police that it was when she reproached him for his actions that he committed the deed.

Harry Carlock, the girl's brother was the first to catch up to Estrean, and although wounded, Estrean fought with the brother as long as he could stand. Finally he was arrested by officer 344, and conveyed to the General Hospital in the police ambulance.

According to a brother-in-law of the murdered girl, Estrean had at one time told him that Annie was not worth living, and that he intended killing her and then taking his own life. According to him the climax of the affair was reached when Annie discovered that he had a wife in Russia, and flatly refused his advances.

Police Capture Mrs. Pankhurst.

GLASGOW, March 10.—Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was arrested last night at a suffragette meeting after a fight with the police, in which twenty women were hurt and several constables badly bruised.

Mrs. Pankhurst was speaking when the police dashed into the hall with clubs drawn. A line work of barbed wire stretched across the platform under the floral decorations, prevented efficacious, with the aid of some men using flower pots, chairs and anything else handy as missiles, in checking the police.

YOUR OWN DRUGGIST BACKS THIS LAXATIVE

If you only knew as much as we and those who have used them do about Rexall Orderlies, you would be as enthusiastic about recommending them as we are. They taste just like candy and act so easily and pleasantly that taking them is a pleasure.

Rexall Orderlies have a splendid tonic, cleansing and strengthening effect upon the bowels. They help free the system and keep it free from the ailments that result from irregular or inactive bowels. They do this quietly, without griping, nausea, purging or excessive looseness. In a short time they usually make unnecessary the continued use of physics. We don't ask you to take our word for this. We want you to make us prove it, and at no cost to you.

Buy a box of Rexall Orderlies. If not thoroughly satisfied, tell us, and we will return your money without question. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores, and in this town only of us. —McDermid & Jury, E. L. Payne, Peterborough, Ont.

ROASTS REFORMERS

Burnham Tells Anti-Cigarette Crusaders to Reform Fashions.

CELEBRATION IS ANNOUNCED

Premier Borden Says Special Festivities Will Mark Half Century of Confederation in 1917 — P. E. Carvell Points Out Startling Case of Too Much Aid Given to Maritime Railway.

OTTAWA, March 10.—Canada will celebrate in 1917 on a somewhat elaborate scale the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of Confederation. The announcement was made by Premier Borden in Parliament yesterday, but the Premier added that no conclusion had yet been come to as to the character and extent of the celebration.

The Premier's announcement followed an eloquent speech by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, calling for some fitting commemoration of the event. The former Postmaster-General suggested Government encouragement of the projected International Exhibition, and read extracts from letters from over 100 mayors of Canadian cities and towns commending this movement. Mr. Lemieux said it had been suggested that Canada invite his Majesty King George to open and participate in the celebration.

Toronto annually produced the greatest Exhibition in the world, was Mr. Cockshutt's declaration, and if the nation undertook the project of an Exhibition Toronto was the only city capable of handling it.

W. F. Maclean rose to suggest a "more practical" form of celebration. He would like to see a "revision of the constitution in the direction of improvement and simplification."

The galleries of the House were crowded yesterday afternoon by ladies eager to hear the anticipated debate on Mr. Broder's anti-cigarette resolution. But it was late in the evening before the member for Dundas obtained the floor, and in the meantime the House discussed the immigration question, the celebration of the semi-centenary of Confederation, and the excessive subsidies granted to the Southampton Railway of York County, N.B.

Mr. Broder made a strong case against the cigarette, and was warmly supported by Mr. Thornton of Durham and Hon. Frank Oliver.

Upon motion of the Prime Minister, the whole subject was referred to a select committee of fifteen, to be hereafter appointed.

Before the women come to Parliament seeking to reform the habits of men let them reform their habits of dress," was the suggestion of J. H. Burnham (W. Peterboro). It did not become a sex which was the slave of fashion in dress, and exercised no control of themselves in following the freak and daring decrees of the modistes, to seek legislation demanding self-control and reform in men, declared Mr. Burnham.

The Prime Minister said that the subject was by no means a new one in the House. He recalled several discussions, running back at least before 1903. It was claimed that the cigarette smoke was more likely to be inhaled and that some imported cigarettes contained other drugs than tobacco. But, generally speaking, it seemed difficult to show why the smoking of tobacco wrapped in paper could be more injurious than tobacco in a cigar or smoked in a pipe. He regretted the general disposition to shift upon the Government those duties which involved upon parents. Tobacco was no doubt injurious to many people, as was also tea or coffee; but it would require a strong case to justify a law to prohibit the importation and use of either tea or tobacco.

Finally Mr. Borden said that it was idle to pass laws which could not be enforced. A stringent statute had been passed in 1908 intended to put a stop to all juvenile cigarette smoking, and no doubt if it had been enforced it would have accomplished that purpose. But apparently no effort had been made to enforce it, and the consumption of cigarettes had increased enormously since its passage.

At the evening sitting of the House Mr. Carvell of Carleton, N.B., brought to the attention of the House some facts in relation to a railway in York County, N.B., 13 miles long, which cost about $12,000 per mile, or $156,000. The promoters had obtained $12,000 a mile in bond guarantees from the Legislature of New Brunswick and $64,000 in cash in subsidies from the Dominion Government. They had, therefore, received from two Governments about $60,000 more than the road cost. He said that under the Dominion statute the road could not possibly have earned more than single subsidy of $3,200 a mile, yet the double subsidy of $6,400 a mile had been paid.

The statements were in main confirmed by Col. H. F. MacLeod, the Conservative member from York, N.B., who said that the engineers of the Railway Department had been undoubtedly deceived by false returns and padded estimates.

Hon. J. D. Reid, acting Minister of Railways, said that Mr. E. R. Johnson, the inspecting engineer of the Department, had estimated the cost of construction at $191,000. Mr. Cochrane, the Minister, had undoubtedly relied upon this report, but in view of the serious charges made, a thorough investigation would be ordered immediately.

Sent To Prison.

BARRIE, March 10.—Jas. O'Neill, of Allandale, the one-armed switchman, who was arrested two weeks ago by P. C. Sweeney for issuing four bogus $10 bills of the Bank of Montreal, appeared in the police court yesterday for sentence. In recognition of his having pleaded guilty and given the crown the information which led to the conviction of Charles Burk and John Burkholder, of Lindsay, both of whom were sentenced to five years, the magistrate sentenced him to two and a half years.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Squadrons of cavalry charged and dispersed crowds of turbulent strikers in the streets of Rome yesterday, wounding several of the demonstrators.

Wm. White, aged 17, was struck by a train near Kingston, and instantly killed. He was caught between an express train going west and another going east.

Every car of the Cobalt Special left the track yesterday when the baggage car ran off on a sharp curve seven miles south of Cobalt. Four persons were slightly hurt.

Eduardo Dato, the Spanish Premier, will as a result of the general elections, continue to hold office with a majority in the chamber of nearly 100 over all combinations.

The lumbering camps in North Hastings have ceased operations for the season and the men have returned to their homes until the rivers are clear of ice, when driving will begin.

Much improved, Sir James Whitney left the Toronto General Hospital for his residence yesterday morning. He appeared to enjoy the change, and the short automobile trip to his home.

Gustave Evanturel, M.P.P., has announced to a few personal friends that as soon as he resigned from the House he would return to Prescott and begin an active campaign for re-election. He is certain he can win.

A Royal Prerogative.

OTTAWA, March 10.—The proposal which has been made in Toronto and by prison reform bodies elsewhere to transfer to the province the prerogative of clemency as it affects convicts in provincial institutions has been before the Justice Department.

It is learned that it will not be acceded to. The opinion of the law officers of the crown is that such cannot be done. Clemency, it is pointed out, is not a matter of legislation, but the prerogative of the King. Through the Imperial authorities, such prerogative has been delegated to the Governor-General. There is no authority by which it could be further delegated to Lieutenant-Governors.

Militants Are Fined.

LONDON, March 10.—Ten of the militant suffragettes arrested during the demonstration Sunday in Trafalgar square, when Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was captured by the police, were arraigned at Bow Street Police Court yesterday. Small fines were inflicted by the magistrate, who gave the prisoners the option of serving a short term of imprisonment.

The Double Work of the Blood

The circulation of the blood is one of the most perfect pieces of mechanism in the universe. Besides carrying nourishment to every part of the body, the blood collects the waste products and passes through the kidneys in order that these poisons may be eliminated.

Hence you see the tremendous importance of keeping the kidneys in healthful working order so that they free the blood of these impurities before they find lodgment in some weak spot and set up serious disease. Aching back and aching head, troubles with the digestion, deposits in the urine, constipation and biliousness—such are the symptoms which indicate the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys made vigorous in their work of purifying the blood.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are kept at hand for use in just such cases. They save many doctor bills, and by keeping the digestive and excretive systems in health do much to prolong life and bring comfort in old age.

THE MERCHANTS TREASURE BOX

$200 To be Given Away by the Merchants and Examiner

ON

THURSDAY, MARCH 12th

A slight change has been made in the manner of giving away the Treasure Box Bonuses, and the Treasure Box Fund has been resolved into an ESTIMATING CONTEST in which every purchaser of One Dollar or more may participate. With every dollar purchase an estimating blank will be given on which purchasers are asked to write their Name and Address and the Number they estimate on the following question—

How Many of the Blanks given with Dollar Day Bargains will be filled in and put in the Ballot Box at Examiner Office by 10.15 p.m. on Thurs., Dollar Day

For your information, and as an aid in making your estimate, we may say that the Examiner is printing for the Merchants 36,000 Estimating Blanks, and may have to print more if any Store runs short, so that the number printed may run as high 50,000. Estimate what number you think will be actually used and put it on your blank. If you have more than one blank you can make as many estimates as you have blanks.

Bring your estimates to the Examiner Office and drop in the Ballot Box. The nearest correct estimate will be awarded the first bonus of $20.00, the second nearest the second bonus of $15.00, and so on. Should there be a tie between any number of estimators for first or any other bonus, the money will be divided equally between those entitled to it. For instance, if two were a tie for first bonus, the first and second bonus would be divided equally between them.

See the money in Neill's Centre Window. The Cash Bonuses will be as follows:

1 Bonus of	$20.00
1 Bonus of	$15.00
3 Bonuses of	$10.00
4 Bonuses of	$5.00
5 Bonuses of	$3.00
25 Bonuses of	$2.00
50 Bonuses of	$1.00

THE FOLLOWING MERCHANTS will issue estimating blanks with every One Dollar Purchase on Dollar Day.

The Evening Examiner.

Pages 9-16

PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 1914

READ "TURNBULL'S" $ OFFERINGS FOR THURSDAY on PAGE 14. You'll be Interested.

THE STORES WILL BE OPEN TILL TEN O'CLOCK P. M. ON DOLLAR DAY.

DOLLAR DAY WILL BE A GREAT FEAST OF BARGAINS IN PETERBOROUGH STORES

Merchants Have Almost Unanimously Responded to the Examiner's Suggestion—Day Will Long Be Remembered.

THE HUM OF THE PENNANTS

The great day is rapidly approaching, and the hum of preparation in the stores is getting louder as the much-talked-of day gets closer. Dollar Day is going to be long remembered in Peterborough and district, for never have the entire list of merchants been so practically unanimous in making their Dollar Bargains of such surprising magnitude. A few of the larger advertisers are already announcing their most attractive specials in the columns of the Examiner, but it is in the windows which are now being filled with the best that each store has to offer, that the buying public, who are the ones to profit by the Dollar Day bargains, can actually see the stupendous values. Seeing is believing, and many of the offerings are so surprising that it requires ocular demonstration to convince one that they are real.

The big event is going to be the best advertisement for Peterborough that it has had for many a day, and that is just the reason it is being put on. The merchants are cheerfully facing a large loss in practically giving a lot of goods away, but they are doing it with the idea of bringing Peterborough vividly before the people of the prosperous district of which it is a centre.

It is now up to the citizens to gather in the harvest of values they will find in every store, and show their appreciation of the merchants' liberality in that way.

The Examiner is proud of the unanimous way in which the merchants responded to its request to set one day apart as a day of days on which to provide a galaxy of astonishing bargains that would be long remembered.

In the big treasure box ad. on another page you will find a complete list of the stores that have the bargains, and you will easily recognize them by the red lettered pennants in their windows.

A long day's shopping is before a wise buying public, as the stores will remain open till ten o'clock to give all an opportunity to participate in the feast of good things.

Stars For The Week

During the week the moon will rise about an hour and twenty minutes later each afternoon and set about twenty minutes later in the morning than the day before. On Friday the moon will rise at 8.22 in the evening and set next morning at 7.08. The planet Mercury has been visible as a bright star in the western sky, just over the sun after sunset, during the past week. On Tuesday, Mercury will pass on a line very nearly between the earth and the sun, and will reappear ahead of the sun as a morning star in a week's time.

On Wednesday night the moon will be at the full at 11.18 o'clock; at that time it will be involved in the earth's shadow. A partial eclipse of the moon takes place on Wednesday night. The moon enters the earth's shadow at 41 minutes past 9 o'clock, and leaves it at 44 minutes past 12. The middle of the eclipse will be at 12 minutes past 11, when about 9-10 of the moon's body will be covered by the earth's shadow, as the moon does not pass through the centre of the shadow but skirts its border.

On Thursday night the moon will be at its nearest point in its orbit to the earth during the month.

The planet Mars is now about 90 million miles from us and though moving away from us rapidly, it is visible as a bright red star directly overhead, a little to the south at 8 o'clock on night.

Wherever you see the red lettered Dollar Day pennants you will find the treasure box numbers.

CONDITIONS SHOULD BE IMPROVED

Sanitary Inspector Makes Suggestions Regarding Conditions in Local Market Hall

SOME REMARKS

Sanitary Inspector Spence is deeply interested in the improvement of conditions of the local market, and the following were some suggestions which he placed before the Board of Health this morning for their consideration:

1. The Market Hall to be scrubbed at least once a month. The Brantford Market Hall is washed out every Friday.

2. The Market Hall to have better ventilation.

3. Notices to be posted, prohibiting smoking, spitting, loungers, or dogs.

4. Outside market, and market within the market building.

square to be cleared up by 8 a.m. on market day.

5 Fowl to be dressed and sold by weight.

6. Spoons and forks, used for tasting butter, to be prohibited.

7. Names of vendors to be shown.

8. Meat to be covered with clean cloths.

9. Wholesale butchers to be debarred, or let them rent stall pace.

10. No veal to be exposed for sale, unless weighing 15 pounds to the quarter.

11. Horses to be removed from vehicles without delay. This regulation is strictly enforced at Brantford.

12. Prohibit the distribution of bills. This is done in Berlin.

The inspector explained that distributing bills in a market was a great nuisance and should be stopped.

Should Fowl be Dressed?

Considerable discussion arose when the above question was asked.

The M.H.O. was of the opinion that the fowl should be dressed, but the liver left in.

Other members explained that there were arguments both ways. Fowls not dressed would keep longer in cold storage. Then, again, the farmers would not bring in the quantity. The proper way is to have the fowl sold by weight. But if we did not have the market, the retail merchant would increase his prices. The point then arose as to whether a fowl with disease could be detected by the liver after it had been exposed to the air for a period. Dr. Amys, chairman, thought that could not be done, but the M.H.O. and the Sanitary Inspector, were of the opinion that it could. The Sanitary Inspector said that he went into a butcher's shop the other day and picked up a liver and saw a tuberculosis germ.

Lindsay is Cheaper.

The Lindsay market is cheaper than our local market, because there is practically no market at all. Locally, chickens can be bought cheaper from the retail merchants, than from the farmer on the market. The farmer will go where he can get the best price, and that it apparently as one member of the Board said, why they came here.

At the conclusion of the discussion, the suggestions that were presented, were referred to the Property committee.

EVANTUREL WILL RESIGN SEAT TO-DAY

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, Ont., March 10—Gustave Evanturel, M.P.P. for Prescott, will this afternoon resign from the Ontario Legislature and, according to his statement this morning, he will step out quietly without bursting any bombs as threatened in addressing his constituents. He will make no charges against other members, either of alleged corruption or unfaithfulness to party policy. His letter, simply resigning from the Legislature, was sent to Speaker Hoyle this morning.

ESTIMATES HAVE BEEN REDUCED

Fire Department Must Do Their Share Towards Reducing The Tax Rate

ITEMS SACRIFICED

The Fire, Water and Light Committee have prepared a little surprise for the next meeting, in the way of reduced estimates for the operation and management of the Fire Department. It is understood that Ald. Green, Chairman of the Committee, will introduce a bill of fare calculated to incite envy in the minds of the other civic committees who have similar contingencies to deal with. The original estimates, as submitted by Fire Chief Howard, called for an appropriation approximating twenty-three thousand dollars. At a subsequent meeting of the Fire, Water, and Light Commmittee this amount was pared down to about twenty thousand iron men. Subsequent applications of the pruning knife, since that occasion have had the egect of depreciating the amount to a little over sixteen hundred dollars. This is the reduced form that the estimates will present when they are submitted a tthe next meeting of the Committee.

Items have been sacrificed in the reduction process; among others, smoke helmets, livery expenses, two of the additional men asked for, and also funds sufficient to pay Chief Howard's Convention expenses.

Good Sale For Alice Lloyd

Plan Opened This Morning

The management of The Grand has arranged for the appearance of Alice Lloyd, the twinkling star of two continents, and a company of 75 artists, at The Grand next Thursday, March 12. A promising feature of the big show will be a dance revue of all nations entitled "Dance Mad," offering a realistic glimpse of the famous Jardin de Danse atop of the New York Theatre, New York, together with a vivid interpretation of the cabaret life in New York and Paris. The sensational X-Ray Dance will be introduced in this part of the programme. Another big feature of the bill will be Frank Fogarty, the king of entertainers. At the Box Office where the sale opened this morning seats are selling fast and those intending to see this big production had better secure their seats at once.

KING GUSTAVUS THE FIFTH OF SWEDEN, AND HIS CONSORT

—Considerable interest centres round the House of Sweden at the present moment. The kingdom of Sweden is much exercised at this time over its military position. Certain movements on the part of Russian garrisons to the north of Finland have called for much comment, and King Gustavus has stated his opinions on certain matters of policy with considerable vigor. In fact these royal remarks have brought about a state of friction between the Parliament and the King, which doubtless in due course will be smoothed out. At the time of writing several thousands of Upsala and other students have been demonstrating their loyalty to the King in front of his palaces in Stockholm.

EXAMINER INSTALLS PRIVATE BRANCH TELEPHONE SYSTEM

The Examiner has installed a private branch telephone exchange, with connections to all the departments of the establishment. There are two Bell lines from the private central with the numbers 1660 and 1661. The public are requested to please note this change resulting from the big improvement made in the Examiner telephone facilities. The new system includes an information operator, who will endeavour to give the citizens as efficient a service as has been given from 'Phones 234 and 57. The Examiner's Exchange is the latest type of switch board with a capacity of thirty private lines. There are now ten departments served by The Examiner's new private system. The increased output of the Bindery, Job Printing and Press Departments, in addition to the growth of the Daily Examiner and the general business of the Office has practically demanded this new accommodation. There was also the consideration for the public in placing the heads of the various departments within easy reach of those who have business with The Examiner. Please remember the 'Phone numbers—1660 or 1661.

THE COAL WEIGHING QUESTION

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reference to the agitation in the Council chamber last night anent the question of the weighing of coal on public scales, it may be interesting to know how the purchaser is protected in the fossil (?) Old Mother Country.

There each coal waggon must have marked on it its nett, tare and gross weight. Every filled sack or bag is weighed (nett weight) and a ticket stating the number and weight of sacks or bags in lots of quarter ton sumer before the coal is shot.

Every coal waggon must by law carry an efficient weighing machine, and the purchaser may require all or any sack to be weighed in his presence. This applies to coal sold in sacks or bags in lots of one half ton or over.

For small sales, the sacks are provided with metal tallies stating the weight of contents, and any County Council officer may insist on any bag being weighed. This is with a view of the protection of the small buyer who frequently buys in small quantities, even as low as seven pounds.

Where coal is delivered in bulk, i.e., not in bags, the purchaser may require to have a voucher of the nett weight of the coal as weighed on public or other scales delivered to him. Any infraction of the foregoing regulations is punishable by a heavy fine.

Yours faithfully,

Old Country.

PRINCE HENRY IS OFF FOR S. AMERICA

Examiner Special:

HAMBURG, March 10.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, brother of the Emperor, is now en route to South America. The new steamship Cape Trafalgar, upon which the Prince and the Princess and their suite are travelling, sailed from this port to-day on her maiden voyage to Buenos Ayres. The steamship promises to break all records if her captain has his way and nothing prevents. Her machinery when she sailed was in perfect condition, and her bunkers were filled with the choicest coal. The crew of the ship, from her master down to the stokers, is bent upon carrying Prince Henry to South America at the greatest speed compatible with safety.

Prince Henry's trip to South America follows closely on the recent visit there of a squadron of the most powerful battleships flying the German flag. No secret is made of the fact that the purpose of the Emperor in sending the warships and having Prince Henry follow them is to impress the South Americans with an idea of the political and commercial importance of Germany. The whole programme is a part of the campaign that the empire is making for world trade. When a United States firm secured the contract for building one of the great Argentina warships a year ago in the face of German competition it settled the Germans not a little. Then it was that the Emperor decided upon a plan to offset the influence of the United States in South America by sending his brother on a mission to cultivate relations of closer friendship between Germany and the Southern republics.

LIBERAL CHARGES OF GRAFT BACKED BY TORY MEMBER

MR. BORDEN REMAINS SILENT

OTTAWA, March 9.—"This stern fact stands out: a great wrong has been done, a large amount of money has been taken wrongfully, I might really say, stolen, from the public treasury. The facts warrant a thorough and searching investigation."

With these serious words Mr. F. B. Carvell presaged an ugly charge against the Borden Administration in Parliament to-night. The facts concerning the misappropriation of public money had been revealed in a lawsuit before the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and the Carleton member backed his charge with certified copies of the evidence given before the Court. He showed that the Southampton Railway Company, which constructed a short line from Millville to River St. John, a total mileage of 12.7, and whose officers consisted of J. K. Pinder, M.P.P., as President, and P. A. Guthrie, M.P.P., as Secretary, both Conservative members of the Provincial Legislature, had secured a Provincial guarantee of 4 per cent. bonds (principal and interest) of $10,000 per mile fro mthe New Brunswick Government in 1909, when Hon. Mr. Hasen was Premier, and had secured a Dominion subsidy in 1912, under the Borden Administration, of $13,200 per mile. He then produced the sworn testimony before the New Brunswick court of the contractors who built the road that the total cost of construction was less than $12,000 per mile.

Engineer's Remarkable Report.

Among the most serious of the documents presented to the House by Mr. Carvell in his searching arraignment was the original report of F. V. Johnson, Inspecting Engineer of the Railway Department, who reported that he had investigated the railway before the subsidy was issued, and that it had cost $22,954 per mile.

"One of two things is certain," commented Mr. Carvell: "either the character of this official is unmistakable, or he was instructed to do some thing. It is for the Government to say."

When the York bye-election was approaching, Mr. Carvell continued, Mr. Pinder became anxious to go to Ottawa, and he was told, according to the Carleton member, that if he "was good" he would get his double subsidy for his railway. "So," added Mr. Carvell, "Mr. Pinder went to the Conservative convention and nominated Mr. McLeod, the present Conservative member."

"It did not make any difference. I'd have got here anyway," put in Mr. McLeod.

"Maybe," qualified Mr. Carvell. "It is strange, at any rate, that Pinder got the double subsidy he was not entitled to."

"The events seemed to synchronise," observed Hon. Mr. Oliver.

Minister to Investigate.

Hon. Dr. Reid, Acting Minister of Railways, said the Government had been guided solely by the reports of Mr. Johnston and Chief Engineer Bowden. The Minister confessed it looked as though something was radically wrong" and promised to inaugurate an investigation in the Department to-morrow.

Mr. McLeod Agrees.

Then came the sensation of the night. Mr. McLeod (Conservative member for York, N.B.), rose to say that Mr. Pinder was his Conservative colleague in the Legislature, but there were a hundred other men in York County he would sooner have had nominate him. He added:

..."I'm familiar with the facts outlined by the member for Carleton," he declared amid manifest Government perturbation. "I know the district, I know the men and I know the facts, and I want to tell the House I fully concur in many of the statements which have been made. By living on the spot and knowing the men I am in a position to know that items have been padded and items have been turned in to the Government that are neither true nor correct. They talk about Pinder being a wily Tory politician, but when recently I had to fight, I had to fight him. I place myself on record as agreeing with many of the facts that were adduced by Mr. Carvell, and I say that the Minister should investigate it and put it right, but I tell him if he starts to get money back from J. K. Pinder he's up against a real hard proposition.

Says Pinder got it.

"They talk about this sixty thousand that did not go into the railway. Well, if Pinder got it he's got it yet. It did not go into any campaign fund. If the Minister tries to get the money back from Pinder he's up against the real thing."

There was a profound sensation in the Chamber all the time Mr. McLeod was speaking, and the tense silence which prevailed manifested the interest taken in this remarkable "fall out."

Premier is Silent.

When Mr. McLeod sat down Mr. Carvell rose. "I seek to be careful," said he, "to make charges only when I have absolute proof. I merely rise now, after the amazing statements of the Government member for York, to suggest that the Minister should not now restrict the investigation to any departmental inquiry, but should forthwith appoint a Royal Commission to sift the matter to the bottom. The remarkable and frank corroboration of my charges by one of the Minister's own supporters surely necessitates such action. He has stated what I believed, that Mr. Johnson is not the real sinner. I would urge the Minister to appoint a Royal Commission and sift the matter to the bottom."

But Premier Borden and Hon. Dr. Reid both sat silent.

STEAMSHIPS ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Special to The Examiner:

NEW YORK, March 10.—The summer schedule of the Cunard Line was put into effect to-day with the sailing of the steamship Lusitania. The schedule provides for the sailing of the vessels seven hours earlier than heretofore. This change in the sailing hour will be maintained during the period that the steamships follow the long transatlantic course during the summer months.

PARTY SPOIL.

The Conservative Association of Lincoln is considering the appointment of a patronage committee to consider all appointments to public office. Just think of it, after Mr. Borden's unctuous promises in his Halifax platform, declaring that if he come to power he would remove civil service appointments from political influence—make these appointments thoroughly non-partizan. On the contrary he has since coming to office, in practice bedevelled the public service, beyond precident in this or any other country. Now we have official claim laid to the public service as a partizan possession. The party is to exploit all appointments and the public service is to be made a part of the party machine. The public funds are to be used in the payment of salaries of public servants as rewards for party services. This would not be so bad, so glaringly inconsistent if it were not in direct opposition to the promises made by Mr. Borden that he would make the public service non-partizan—all appointments made on merit—without reference to party considerations. Mr. Borden's promise to make public service appointments non-partizan was a promise of the right thing, the way the service should be manned and conducted. We shall make little progress in purifying political life so long as the leader of a great party by neglect to implement his promises, encourages corrupt employment of the public funds for the direct advancement of party interests. We may expect a little sly stealing by underlings; but it argues a sad boldness of political depravity to have a leader, even if passively, condone prostitution of the public service to party ends.

NATIONAL HONOUR.

President Wilson is a great man, who will pass into history as the embodiment of the highest sense of honour. George Washington is regarded as the "father of his country," because of his fight for its freedom. President Wilson has served the United States in a far higher role—he has saved its honour. Francis I. of France, in a letter to his mother after the disastrous battle of Pavia, said: "All is lost save honour," and if President Wilson does nothing else to adorn his term of office he will take his place in history alongside the author of the famous phrase. In his supreme position of authority, he has set a splendid example. He has contended against the forces of paltry clamour for spoil and huckstring profit, for abolition of the act calling for imposition of differential tolls or removal of Panama Canal tolls, in favour of United States coastal shipping. This act is in direct contravention of the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty between Great Britain and the United States, which provided for equal privilege on the canal for the shipping of all nations. President Wilson's manly stand has been impressed upon the United States House Committee on Interstate Commerce, charged with consideration of the abolition of the bill, which says it would be "far better to abolish the Panama Canal itself than even permit the national honour to remain in question." This is a noble stand to take, and this declaration will be greeted with greater pride and more justifiable pride by coming generations than the fairy story of George Washington's infantile inability to tell a lie. President Wilson and the committee have, by the action proposed, reclaimed the good name of the United States, which the President and the committee recognized as having throughout the world an indifferent name for disregarding its plighted word. The universal suspicion and distrust will be largely neutralized by the action taken to save the national honour in the matter of the Panama Canal tolls legislation; which will also go far to remove the stain of over having passed the discriminating legislation. A universal recognition of the fact that honour is the most priceless of possessions would revolutionize the world of politics, commerce and society. It takes the world a long time to learn that honesty and square dealing pay best in the end.

A GROWING "DANGER"

A favourite election cry in the last election was "no truck nor trade with the Yankees" It was represented that such trade was dangerous to imperial connection, and that if the people voted for the Borden candidates the danger from buying or selling things from and to our neighbours would be removed. But that promise, like so many made by Mr. Borden or in his name, has not been kept. On the contrary, the "evil" of trade with, or between Canada and the United States, has never grown so rapidly as under the government of the bogus loyalists, and the increase is growing. According to figures just made public by the Trade and Commerce Department, covering Canadian trade for the past calendar year, the United States still provides the chief source of increase in Canada's annual trade growth. During 1913 imports from the United States increased by $39,088,815, while exports to the United States increased by $23,261,296. This makes a total trade increase with the United States during the year of $62,351,811. As compared with this, imports from Great Britain increased by $6,477,256, while exports to Great Britain increased by $47,811,856, or a total trade increase with the Mother Country of $54,289,112.

The total trade with the United States during the year was $634,653,973, consisting of imports to the value of $441,302,354 and exports to the value of $193,351,619. The total trade with Great Britain was $364,326,938, consisting of imports to the value of $139,811,866, and exports to the value of $224,515,045.

The aggregate trade of Canada for the year was $1,147,648,243, as compared with $1,023,641,142 for 1912.

It is a good and grateful sign to see Canada's trade expanding, as the stump orator would say, "by leaps and bounds," and we should welcome all such increases, whether it is with the Yankees or any other country. It is the hypocrisy of the flag wavers that nauseates.

THE MASTER WORD OF ORATORICAL SUCCESS IS WORK

Tribute of "An Enemy" to Sir George Ross as An Orator

Sir George Ross had phenomenal industry. He had also a phenomenal memory. Many of his speeches involved immense labour and were spoken literally word for word from the manuscript. In his book "Getting into Parliament and After," he quotes someone as saying, "It is preparation that piles the wood and lays the sacrifice and then perhaps the celestial fire may descend."

The two chapters of this book on "The Political Platform" and "Speech-making" are singularly interesting and instructive. He ranks the platform very highly as a force in human affairs. "I know," he says, "of no idol so dear to the hearts of the populace as the man who can inspire and charm by his powers of speech. It is deep answering to deep. It is the thoughts of many thousands inarticulate until the interpreter appears. It is the still small voice containing a divine message never so clearly understood before and which calls forth a response as joyous as an angelic song."

Notwithstanding all his preparation Sir George Ross spoke with much ease and naturalness. There was seldom any sign that he relied upon memory. To suggest that he often did so is not to depreciate his performances. It is only to suggest that hard and faithful work made his speeches so effective. He would not go before a meeting unprepared and that was one reason why he spoke so much better than most of his contemporaries.

He was seldom bitter or extreme. He did not irritate his political opponents. He knew he must have their goodwill if he was to reach their judgment. There was always a strain of moderation in what he said. There were impressive touches of candour and generosity. But when his actual words came to be closely examined it was found that he had made no admissions and that his most complimentary observations gave no real comfort to those whom he opposed. More perhaps than any other speaker of his time he could command universal assent and approval when he spoke on questions that did not touch party relationships.

Like Hon. George E. Foster, his most formidable rival, he trained himself in public speaking on the temperance platform. The pioneer temperance lodges were practical schools of oratory. From them came Malcolm Cameron, of Lambton, whose name we have almost forgotten, and Joseph Gibson, who still retains the vigour and passion of youth. It may be that out of these conditions came better orators than the schools have ever furnished for the service of democracy.

Sir George Ross could not be idle. Almost to the end he was at his desk. No physical disability could restrain his energy. While he lay dying his book on "The Senate of Canada" appeared. Almost to go he was in the political conflict he produced books on educational subjects and collaborated with Mr. William Buckingham in writing a "Life of Alexander Mackenzie." His writing was not equal to his speaking, but he was never obscure and the evidences of industry are never wanting. He could speak with singular clearness even on subjects of which he had no profound knowledge, and with an almost unerring grasp of the salient facts and the temper of an audience. If he was not so serviceable in council as some of his contemporaries he was "first in war," even when there was the flavour of peace and amity in his messages. Whoever made the case no one else could present it so effectively. It is a tribute to the man that in West Middlesex, where he was best known, he never lost an election and came at last to be invincible. But it was by hard, honest labour that he wrote his books and made his speeches and did things worthy of remembrance. "And the master word is work."—Toronto News.

MORE SACRIFICES FOR ULSTER MAY BE MADE

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 10.—(Special cable.)—To give Ulster and the Unionist Opposition time to digest Premier Asquith's proposal "final option" compromise on the question of Home Rule for Ireland, the consideration of the debate upon the Government measure to-day was indefinitely postponed. It will not be on the calendar for discussion for some time. Sir Edward Carson, interviewed to-day, said no compromise would be acceptable unless the Ulster limit is abolished.

LONDON, Eng., March 10.—(Special cable.)—The general impression left by last night's debate in the House is that a compromise will be reached, but not without further sacrifice on the part of the Government. The Liberals this morning resent the cold reception given by the Unionists and Nationalists to Asquith's concessions. They feel that they are facing the dearest traditions of the Reform party for the sake of peace, and at an hour of triumph are handing over the main fruits and victory to the opponents, only to receive in return gibes and sneers. The papers to-day are commenting on the fact that while Bonar Law abruptly and tactlessly dismissed Asquith's concessions as useless, Sir Edward Carson, supposedly irresponsible spoke in a spirit of concession and offered further amendments which might be worked out satisfactorily. All of which, they say, points to Carson as the next leader of the Unionist party.

THE REDISTRIBUTION COMMITTEE MEETS

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, March 10.—The Redistribution committee convened this morning and almost immediately adjourned again. It was decided the committee should meet the Prince Edward Island members to-night and consider the claims for the retention of four seats. This was left by Premier Borden for the committee to decide.

Funeral Of Sir Geo. Ross

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 10.—Men of many different departments of life gathered this morning in the red stone house which was once the home of Sir George Ross, to do honour to the late Senator. At eleven o'clock the cortege left the house. At noon the last rites were spoken over the grave at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The service at the house was simple but eliquent in sincerity. Three clergymen took part. Rev. Dr. Milligan, Rev. Prof. Law and Rev. Dr. Harper Grey of St. Andrew's Church.

Dollar Day is for every person in the City or District to profit by.

LT.-COL. MOSS TO COMMAND BISLEY TEAM

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., March 10.—The Dominion Rifle Association committee has selected as commander of the Bisley team this year, Lieut.-Col. J. G. Moss of the Fifty Royal Highlanders, Montreal, and as Adjutant, Lieut. Gibson of the Thirteenth Regiment, Hamilton, son of Lieut-Governor Gibson of Ontario.

INTER-LEAGUE SERIES WITH THE LINDSAY TEAM

The series between the local Junior City League and the winners of the Lindsay Town League, the L.C.I., will commence to-morrow night, when the local City Leaguers will journey to Lindsay. The return game will be played at Brock Street rink on Friday night and should be one of the most interesting of the season. The local team will leave for Lindsay on the 5.35 G.T.R. train to-morrow afternoon with the following line-up:

Goal—Flowers.
Defence — Davidson, Legender or Phelan.
Rover—Batcher.
Centre—Jackson.
R. Wing—Kingman.
L. Wing—Rose or Legender.

WORTH REMEMBERING

Before frying bacon, if you soak it in cold water for three or four minutes you will find that it prevents the grease from running, and the bacon will have a much finer flavour.

To prolong the wear of children's stockings, cut tiny circular pieces from your old kid gloves and slip them over the fastenens of the hose supporters.

An ironing board may be padded very nicely with clean, old newspapers. When enough have been used to make it soft, then put on an outer covering of about factory cotton, and your board will last for months.

Fine stained table linen should be soaked always in cold water until it has almost all disappeared, before washing with soap.

If a damp cloth dipped in baking soda is used for wiping finger-prints from paint, instead of soap, the paint will look nicer and last longer.

If the top of a lamp becomes impressed, it may often be effectively tightened by applying a little melted alum.

Before using milk for custards, scald it and let it cool, then mix and your custard will not become watery.

After fowl of any kind is cleaned, the inside should be well rubbed with a piece of lemon, before dressing to put in.

To clean carpet without taking up, use cornmeal moistened with kerosene, but be careful to have windows and doors open, and let all evaporate before using lights. If you wish to clean rugs, cover well with the meal, roll up and let stand over night. In the morning scrub well with the moist meal and brush out thoroughly. Will look like new.

Will Swear To Weights Of Coal Sold In The City

Employees Will Be Given Responsibility If Legal Committee's Recommendation Carries—Coal Men Want Public's Confidence

NO MEASURING IN BAGS

The coal merchant has been much maligned, according to the statements made by reputable representatives of that business at a meeting of the Legal Committee of the City Council on Monday night.

A short time ago Ald. Gordon stated at a Council meeting that he had heard a number of complaints about the weighing of coal, and moved that the matter be investigated with a view to finding out what methods were employed, and also to allay any suspicions that might be entertained by purchasers. The complaints were really to the effect that in some cases coal was not being weighed, but simply measured in bags—so many bags to the ton.

Last night the coal men gave their answer, and plainly affirmed that it was their first wish to win the confidence of the public. They were willing to cooperate with the Council, as far as possible in any proposal that offered assurance to customers that they were receiving full value for their money.

The result of the meeting was an amendment to the by-law providing that responsible employees of the various coal companies in the City shall make weekly affidavits showing the amounts of coal weighed by them and all coal shall be weighed. The last part guarantees that, generally speaking, there shall be no more measuring by bags.

And just on this point, it is rather to be regretted that those who may be suspicious of the weights of the coal they receive were not at this little conference. The dealers asserted that the measuring of coal in bags has not been extensively practiced in Peterborough.

Ald. Gordon presided, with Mayor Buller and Aldermen Langford, Johnston, McIntyre and Duffus present. The fuel merchants in attendance were R. Hicks, Wm. Scott, A. Low, R. Wolstenholm, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Weir.

Not a New Idea.

Mr. Hicks stated that the matter had been considered eight or nine years ago. He and Mr. Scott had gone into it carefully and the result was the existing by-law. This was read by Ald. Gordon, its main points providing that each dealer is required to give a ticket with every purchase, showing the weight and kind of coal bought. The Chief of Police may require any load to be weighed on the market scales, but shall not cause to be weighed more than eighty loads during the year.

Enforce the By-law.

Messrs. Weir, Wolstenholm, Taylor and Scott stated that if the by-law were enforced the ground would be sufficiently covered. At any time their loads might be weighed by the Chief of Police. Mr. Low held the same opinion.

Mayor Buller claimed that the coal men were a pretty good, honest bunch. "I know I am," he said, 'and I give the others equal credit."

Ald. Gordon—"That's what I say for the lawyers."

Nothing To It.

Mayor Buller—"I know that several times we had coal pulled to the scales and it was found to be over weight. It worked fine for us for we found our scales were not correct, and were putting us on the wrong side of the ledger. I am not claiming that the coal men are more honest than the men in any other line of business, but it certainly is not the wish of the coal men to give short weight. For instance, Mr. Hicks is not always in his office, neither is Mr Scott. If a mistake is made it is done by employees, and it is simply foolish to suppose that we would engage a man and tell him to short-weight customers. He might go over to another Company.

Mr Hicks' Statements

Mr Hicks said that he was aware of a feeling among some of the people concerning the question of the weight of coal. "It is a commodity that cannot be checked by the householder, because they have no means to do it. If there is any way of satisfying the people I would like to see it carried out. We want to establish confidence among the public.

Ald. Gordon — "There have been several complaints made to me which possibly should have been placed directly with the coal men.

Some Wooden Facts.

Mayor Buller—"Every man in the coal business is quite aware that coal from different mines will measure out differently. Measuring for weight is inaccurate. There are also complaints regarding wood. Any dealer would rather sell it without being sawn in small lengths He buys the wood in cordwood length and it is only as an accommodation to the public that it is sawn and chopped. When sawn a cord of wood goes in to a lesser body. It would be preferable to sell it as it is bought. It has been found that out of one hundred cords of wood brought from the north seven cords are lost when the entire lot has been retailed by the cord. The difference arises in the piling of the individual cords and the loss is with the fuel dealer

Impossible to Have Market Weighing.

Mr. Hicks—"Taking a busy day there would be 400 loads of coal distributed. If these had to be weighed on the market scales, taking nine hours a day, it would mean that a load of coal would have to be weighed every 1 1-4 minutes. This shut out hay and other articles, and in any case it would be impossible to do it.

Again on a cold night we have to send out orders of 100 and 200 pounds and there is probably no money in the house and they have to wait until the husband comes home with some. We give more attention to orders of this kind than to those of two and three ton lots. We know that in the former case there may be no coal in the house, while in the latter there is possibly no immediate hurry. The only method of securing a civic weighing would be to establish a number of scales in different parts of the City and place men in charge of them.

Ald. Gordon's Suggestion.

Ald. Gordon suggested that affidavits might be made by those who weigh the coal in the various offices and weekly returns be made. This would help to create a feeling of confidence.

Ald. Johnston—"A great deal of this has been brought about by suspicious minded people. Let those who are suspicious have their coal weighed on the market. The by-law provides for that. There are a lot of people who get behind the Council instead of coming out themselves.

Ald. Gordon said he felt that this was true, but at the same time the Council might devise some means of assuring the people that they were getting exactly what they paid for. This assurance was mostly what was required.

Mr. Weir pointed out that more than one employee in each office would have to make the affidavits.

Ald. Gordon—The suggestion compels each load to be weighed, and the person who does the actual weighing is responsible.

Mayor Buller—"Of course the employer is ultimately responsible.

Mr. Hicks—"It would probably make the employer more careful. It would emphasize the responsibility attached to the position.

No. of Bags on Ticket.

Mr. Hicks gave an illustration of the advisability of writing the number of bags on the ticket for the customer.

It was also pointed out that scales differ on windy days and in wet or muddy weather.

The Resolution.

Ald Johnston moved, seconded by Mayor Buller, that a bylaw be prepared providing that all coal sold in the City in less than car lots be weighed and that a record of the sales be kept; that a return be made on the first day of the week by each dealer showing the number of sales and the amounts sold during the previous week, this statement to be made by a statutary declaration; and that the number of bags leaving the coal yards for each customer be placed on his ticket.

All the coal dealers present expressed their approval of this suggestion, and while it is thought that there may be cases for which the by-law might have to be suspended, still it is felt that in the great majority it will be feasible and will guarantee to the customer an exact weight thereby creating the confidence desired by the dealer.

JAMES O'NEILL IN MOTION PICTURES AT THE ROYAL THEATRE

That finely equipped and strangely magnetic actor, has portrayed his greatest dramatic success, the famous role of Edmond Dantes in Dumas' masterpiece, "The Count of Monte Cristo," for the screen. In a production of the Famous Players Film Co., this noted play has been given more beautiful and elaborate settings than it could ever obtain on the stage, and the possibilities for realism which the subject presents, and which the oral drama prohibits through the limitations of the stage, are all taken full advantage of.

Aside from the extraordinary uses of camera effects, the production is one of magnificence, and its pictorial aspects are striking and impressive. The escape from the Chateu D'If, the raging sea and the fearsome play of the elements unite to form a picture that takes on some likeness of the sublime. The realism of the harbour of Marseilles, with the incoming of the Pharoah; the Reserve Inn, where the wedding feast is so cruelly broken in upon; the Inn of the Pont du Gard; the brilliant scene in the conservatory and ballroom of the Hotel Morcerf, and the pastoral beauty of the forest of Fontainbleu are not to be measured by ordinary standards of stage embellishment. There is nothing to which they can be compared, and they redound to the art and indifference to expense of the Famous Players, who are sufficiently enterprising to set so notable an example in film production.

Mr. O'Neill's Dantes will be handed down to other generations as one of the classics of the period. His long and conspicuous part in the play should yield him at least that remembrance. He is, moreover, entitled to an historic chronicle of his art, which finds sympathetic expression in the various stages of the character's development, from the happy young sailor to the all-powerful and systerious personality that lives in memory and imagination as the Count of Monte Cristo. But it is through the film production that Mr. O'Neill's art will be recorded, and his thrilling characterization perpetuated unto time unknown.

Difficult, one might almost say impossible, as it is to predicate the measure of success of an untried play, it is sometimes quite as onerous a task to decide upon the factors which a long-established and successful drama is indebted for its superior popularity. For example, why is it that "The Count of Monte Cristo," a play which our fathers saw almost in their youth, is still extant? It has been played for more than a quarter of a century, and for fifteen years or more has been a vehicle which one or America's foremost actors, James O'Neill, has continuously interpreted. It is simple to theorize about it, to point out this and that characteristic of the play, the righteous development of retribution, or the attractive glimpse of a Croesus that it gives, but the fact remains that few plays have ever achieved the success attained by "The Count of Monte Cristo."

It is not surprising that the Famous Players Film Co. notable for releasing the most pretentious productions in the film world, should have given this subject such lavish settings. Superb is the only adjective that can do justice to the pictorial triumphs of the presentation. Adequate description of its beauties would require an observant eye, a retentive memory and more space than the possibilities now permit. The play is so strong in its peculiar appeal that the beauty and magnitude of its settings never dwarf it.

The Story.

Reel No. 1—Edmond Dantes, a young sailor in the service of the "Pharaoh," prior to a long voyage takes leave of his invalid father and his sweetheart Mercedes. The tender farewell with Mercedes arouses the jealous hatred of Fernand, a Catalan fisherman secretly in love with Mercedes. Dantes gives Mercedes a brooch, which later again figures in the story, and sails away. In mid-sea the captain of the "Pharaoh" suddenly dies and entrusts Dantes with a private letter from General Murat to the exiled emperor, Napoleon Bonaparte, at Elba. Danglars overhears the captain's dying request, and keeps the knowledge in the event of future need. When the vessel touches Elba, Dantes delivers the letter to the deposed emperor, and promises to deliver Napoleon's reply to Noirtier, of the Bonaparte Committee. In Dantes' absence Fernand urges his hopeless suit to Mercedes. On the return of the "Pharaoh," Morell, its owner, makes Dante captain of the vessel, a post which Danglars had hoped to secure.

Reel No. 2—Fernand and Danglars write an anonymous letter to Villefort, King's Attorney, accusing Dantes of delivering contraband communications between Napoleon and his lieutenants. The marriage of Dantes and Mercedes is consummated simultaneously with the discovery of the guilty communication. To save his half-brother Noirtier, of the Bonaparte Committee, to whom the letter from the exiled Emperor is addressed, Villefort causes Dantes to be apprehended at his wedding feast and imprisoned in the Chateau D'If. Deprived of his son's support, Dantes' father dies of starvation. Mercedes believing Dantes dead, and for the sake of her fatherless child, Albert, promises to marry Fernand, on his return from the war. Meanwhile, with a lone but supreme hope, Dantes works to cut a tunnel through the stone wall to liberty.

Reel No. 3—While Dantes struggles on in his cell, with his single but omniscient hope of freedom as the only spark of cheer in the surrounding despair, with a bitter suggestion of irony, the picture flashes a glimpse of Mercedes, her son Albert, and Fernand, now a Colonel. The Abbe Faria, another prisoner in the Chateau, who has for years been cutting a path to liberty, struggles on unremittingly, while Dantes from the opposite side continues his labour. After years of weary toil they meet in the tunnel, finding instead of liberty only each other and hopelessness. In France Danglars is now a wealthy banker, and the creditor of his former employer, Morell. At last the years of confinement and denial claim the spent body of the Abbe and he dies, giving to Dantes the half-burnt letter of Cardinal Spada, describing the location of the treasures secreted on the Isle of Monte Cristo. In a gamble with death, Dantes takes the Abbe's place in the burial sack, which is cast into the sea. Dantes comes to the surface and attains the refuge of a huge rock, from the summit of which he drinks in his liberty, and exclaims from an unleashed soul, "The World is Mine!" He is rescued by the smuggler ship La Amelia, and turns his eyes and hopes toward Monte Cristo, the grave of the buried treasure.

Reel No. 4—At the Isle of Monte Cristo, Dantes escapes from the smuggler ship and finds the hidden treasures of the Spadas. Fabulously wealthy, with all the world before him, he determines to find his friends and detect his enemies, to punish the evil and reward the good. Disguised as the Abbe Busoni he returns to France and learns of his father's death and the plot of Fernand and Danglars. He arranges a meeting with Noirtier at the inn, who comes disguised as a peddlar. Villefort, obtaining a suggestion of the Abbe's identity, follows Noirtier, and after a futile attempt to murder his half-brother, driven to despair at the threatened exposure of his villainy, commits suicide. It is then that Dantes, in the knowledge of his power and the thrill of rerribution, exclaims "One!" signifying that one of his enemies had met the fate he deserved.

Reel No. 5—Dantes, in the guise of Monte Cristo, present a letter of credit to Danglars, and meets his old benefactor, Morell, who is facing financial ruin. He assists Morell anonymously and quietly passes on to his other rewards and penalties. Dantes instigates the publication of a newspaper article to the effect that information given by Haydee, daughter of Fernand's late benefactor, now the ward of Monte Cristo, proves that Comte de Mercerf, formerly Fernand, was guilty of the murder of his benefactor. Identified as the Count of Monte Cristo, a ball is given in Dantes' honour by Mercedes and Fernand. Monte Cristo recognizes Mercedes by the brooch he had given her in the long ago. Albert accuses Danglars, whose daughter is his fiancee, of responsibility for the article condemning Fernand, who he believes to be his father. When, later, he ascertains the truth he challenges Monte Cristo to a duel. Mercedes, who becomes aware of the challenge, informs Dantes that Albert is his son. On the duelling ground Dantes proclaims his identity, and Fernand, overwhelmped by the recognition, and fearful of the avenging Nemesis, withdraws into the woods, whence a moment later comes the report of a shot. Dantes announces "Two!" and challenges Danglars, thrusting his rapier into the heart of his last surviving enemy. With the relentless fury of Vengeance incarnate, Dantes pronounces "Three!" wiping out the years' debt of treachery and torture. Turning to Mercedes he takes her in his arms; and Mercedes explains all the sad, happy mystery to the wondering boy when she says, "Albert, embrace your father!"

Fate is generally just!

KRAFCHENKO ON TRIAL

Special Wire to The Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., March 10.—At Morden to-day John Krafchenko, one of the most notorious and desperate characters in Western Canada, was arraigned in court to stand trial for the murder of H. M. Arnold, manager of the branch of the Bank of Montreal in the town of Plum Coulee. The murder was committed when Krafchenko was attempting to rob the bank.

After the crime Krafchenko was captured and brought to this city early in December. On the night of January 9 he made a sensational escape from the central police station here. The notorious bandit used an automatic revolver which had been smuggled to him by friends, covering the two armed guards placed in front of his cell. While holding the guards with their arms over their heads, he backed to a window and swung out on a rope which had also been smuggled into his cell.

Ten days after his escape Krafchenko was re-captured within a stone's throw of the police station. His counsel, one of the prison guards and several other persons were arrested and are now under charge of aiding in his escape and concealment.

Dollar Day is for every person in the City or District to profit by.

Cobourg Is In The Right Spot

As Regards a Supply of Power —Juggling With the Transmission Lines

Last week the Seymour Power Co. had Mr. A. L. Jex load the 300 h.-p. Ideal engine, recently taken out of the electric light plant(at the waterworks. The other engine was disposed of to a Lindsay manufacturer last fall, thus leaving Cobourg entirely dependent upon the transmission lines for power. In this respect Cobourg and Port Hope are singularly fortunate, being situated at the apex of the triangle where the transmission lines from Fenelon Falls and the Otonabee river meets the lines from Healy Falls and the Trent River power houses. A break in either line would not inconvenience the power users longer than the two minutes it takes to pull the power switches on the side next to the broken line. Toronto is clamouring for a duplicate transmissiin line over the same route as the present line. The supply coming from the opposite directions is better, as a storm that interrupts the Peterborough source of supply might not reach the Sidney power house at Trenton at all. As most of our electric storms come down the Trent Valley, the Company might easily cut out Peterborough line until a storm has passed and change back to the Peterborough line before Trenton becomes the storm centre. Again Cobourg is in the right spot.—Cobourg Sentinel Star.

SKY GAZERS TO SEE ECLIPSE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 10.—Observers of the celestial spheres are discussing the partial eclipse of the moon which is to take place to-morrow night. The phenomenon will be visible to the inhabitants throughout this section of the globe. The moon will enter the shadow of the earth at 9.33 p.m., Washington standard time, this being the beginning of the eclipse. During the next hour and twenty-nine minutes the moon's light will be gradually merged in the shadow, until by four minutes past eleven the middle of the eclipse is reached. Then the moon will begin to emerge from the shadow, and by a few minutes past midnight the eclipse will be over so far as this section of the country is concerned.

SAYS TIDE OF IMMIGRATION SHOULD STOP

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Editor,—Being a constant subscriber to your paper I noticed in your issue of Feb. 19th a write-up on farm labourers and immigrants, from one who signs himself as, 'Been Through the Mill.' Now, Mr. Editor, if you will allow me space in your valuable paper, I will contradict the statements of Feb. 19th. My learned friend states there ought to be a remedy to stop advertising for farm help in the old land. What is the cry of the Canadian farmer to-day? Why, Mr. Editor, it is for farm help. How many farms, especially in Ontario, have been turned to grass on account of scarcity of help? I say hundreds. My learned friend, Mr. Wise, goes on to say that the immigrant leaves good jobs and snug homes to be lured to the land of plenty. Mr. Editor, allow me to say that the average immigrant does not know what a good home, or a good job is, till he migrates across the pond to this country, where Jack is as good as his master. How many are there to-day on good homesteads and some doing well in other stations of life that would have been travelling in the trough of despair if they remained in the old land. Yet Mr. Wise thinks this should all be stopped. He claims that farmers turn a man down at the close of a six months term. Mr. Editor our cities, both in the west and in Ontario are over-run to-day with men who won't work on a farm during the winter, even at a reasonable wage. I think my friend must be suffering from the effects of a Rip Van Winkle sleep when he stated that married couples in Ontario or this country only receive $26.00 per month, and if the farm labourer to-day has not a broader knowledge of farm work than my friend has of immigrants and the labour problem, they would be well paid. Now, Mr. Editor, let us deal with the western farmer. Dr. Wise claims the western farmer hires a man only for a period of 3 or 4 months. Surely, Mr. Editor, he has never been west, or if he has, he has been like the ostrich, buried his head in the sand.

Mr. Editor, it is with difficulty that the western farmer can hire a man for a year. If he hires a man for just three or four months, as my friend states, he would be letting his man go just when his crop is getting ready to harvest. It is to be regretted that Dr. Wise has made such a blunder in his write-up of the western farmer. Mr. Editor, I can state hundreds of places where farmers have offered $15 the majority of the men would sooner flock to the cities. Now, Mr. Editor, spring is approaching and we expect a high percentage of immigrants where ready places are awaiting them, both in Ontario and the west. Now, Mr. Editor, I must close. I often think of the old friends around Peterborough and the many excursions enjoyed on Rice Lake.

Hoping this letter will find space in your [illegible] Hon. Dr. Wise will sit up and take note, I remain, an old-time subscriber.

Yours,

A Western Observer.

They Helped Her Wonderfully

What Mrs. H. Best Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Retlaw, Alta., March 9—(Special) "Dodd's Kidney Pills helped me wonderfully" So says Mrs. H. Best, a highly respected lady living here. And Mrs. Best expresses the sentiment of thousands of women in Alberta. Like most women Mrs. Best does not care to talk about her troubles, but she does wish others who have suffered as she has to know that they can find relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills. "I found them entirely satisfactory. They helped me wonderfully," she says, "and I give you my full permission to tell the public what they have done for me".

Women who suffer in silence can be cured just as silently. The keystone of woman's health is the Kidneys. If they are kept strong and healthy, they keep the blood pure, and pure blood means good health all over the body. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy Kidneys and good blood. That's why they are known as woman's best friend.

COMMITTEES WILL MEET

To-night and To-morrow Night —Estimates Will Be Dealt With

The Fire, Water and Light committee of the City Council will meet this evening, when the estimates for the current year will be dealt with. The committee will be asked to decide upon some sweeping reductions that effect the estimates and rob them of their originality.

The Board of Works.

The Board of Works or the "Willing Works" as they were known last year, will meet to-morrow night. The Board propose to continue the regular mid-week sessions as was inaugurated last year during the regime of Mayor Buller as chairman of the committee. Some of the aldermen have been heard to complain of the frequency of the meetings this year, but the first complaint has yet to be registered respecting the inability of the aldermen to attend the mid-week prayer meetings owing to that counter attraction—the Board of Works meeting.

Legal Committe Have Recommended In Favour Of Votes For Women

The Council favours the enfranchisement of married women. That is a little more recognition than some married women received from another source once upon a time.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

There will be a partial eclipse of the moon on Wednesday night next, commencing at about a quarter to ten, when the lunar orbit will be involved in the earth's shadow. This eclipse will remain until about a quarter to one. Shortly after eleven the major portion of Lady Luna will be covered by the earth's shadow.

OFFERING ANNOUNCED

Rooke, Bickle & Co., 26-28 Adelaide St. West, Toronto, announce an offering of $200,000 seven per cent. cumulative preferred shares in The Electric Steel & Metals Co., of Welland at par with a bonus of 50 per cent. of common stock. This Company has located in Welland, Ontario, where a modern plant is now being erected for the manufacture of light-weight high-grade steel castings, manganese and other alloy steel castings and bar steel for rock drills, rifles, etc., as well as ingots for forging shops and tool steel manufacturers. For all of these products there is an urgent market in Canada. The process of manufacture will be by the electric furnace method on the most modern and scientific lines, and the Company will be in an ideal position to manufacture economically and profitably by reason of its fixed assessment of $10,000 for 20 years, and a contract for 24-hour continuous power from the Hydro-Electric Commission at $14.00 per horse-power. In addition, the names on the directorate are those of men who stand high in the business of steel making so that there is every reason to believe that the President's estimate of $360,000.00 in gross earnings in the first year's output of 3,000 tons of steel castings will be easily reached. Earnings of this extent will be ample for all charges and depreciation in addition to paying the preferred dividend and will leave besides $81,000 surplus for the common stock. In view of the Company's bright prospects the offering of preferred stock now announced should appeal strongly to investors who are on the lookout for attractive prospects in which to invest their funds.

A YEAR INDOORS

"For thirteen months I was so bad with chronic indigestion that I could not go out of doors. Nerves were unstrung, the heart bad and smothering feelings came on till I thought I would choke. Doctors treatment failed me, so I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I thank for my present good health. I am now doing my housework and have a family of ten."

Auctioneers And Their Licenses

The Legal Committee were presented with the whys and wherefores of the Auctioneer License question, last night. The present fee is $50, and two men asked that it be reduced to $25, while a third considered that it would be much more satisfactory at $75. The members of the committee are anxious to keep out undesirables and believe in the idea of discriminating in favour of the local men by making the fee to outsiders $50 and reducing it to $25 for local men. The Committee was in doubt as to whether this discrimination was permitted by law and the question was laid over until City Solicitor Hall's opinion has been secured.

Mr. J. F. Thornton was in favour of leaving the fee as it is at present. The County requires a $25 fee and the City $50. He considered $25 sufficiently large for the City. Mr. Jibe was of the same opinion.

Mr. W. J. Hancock was strongly in favour of retaining the present fee, and if any change was made he felt that the fee should be put up to $75.

The high fee kept out men who would come here selling bogus goods. Every week he received a circular from big houses which are engaged in the manufacture of bogus goods for just such selling. He would not lend himself to such practices, however. Mr. Hancock said he had taken a thorough course in auctioneering, regarded it as a profession, and believed in keeping the license fee high.

The members of the Committee argued the question from both sides. They felt a high fee would tend to create a monopoly and yet, at the same time, it should be conducive to securing men who had the means or the confidence to pay it.

Ald. Duffus held that no amateur should be allowed to sell goods. The public should be protected by the work of competent auctioneers. Mayor Buller remarked that the motion in Council was to decide whether the fee should be aimed at those who do not reside in the City or not. His Worship felt that too many times are things jumped at in the Council. They should be more careful in the future and not hurry legislation, especially when there is no particular demand for rush.

Years ago the license fee for auctioneers was $100. It was boosted to that price by a local man who wanted to keep out another. But time works many changes and the fee was finally more of a burden to the first man. About fifteen years ago it was reduced to $50. The cost of living and the taxes are going up, it was pointed out, but the revenue, in some respects, is going down.

The question was laid over for further consideration.

$20,000 ORDER IS RECEIVED BY J. J. TURNER & SONS

Among the orders recently received by J. J. Turner and Sons was a fairly large one from the Militia Department for 150 big marquee tents. The contract involves $20,000, and will add a share of industry to one of the local factories that is always on the hum. These tents are to be used by the Canadian Militia. As an example of the activities of the Turner firm, they are advertising for sailmakers.

HOCKEY

The Queen Alexandria School team captured the championship of the Public Schools League at Brock Street Rink last night, when they defeated the Central by 4 to 1, after a hard fought game. The Northerners scored the first two goals, and then Sherrett made a rink length rush and scored the Central's only goal. It was 2 to 1 at half time, and in the second half the Queen Alexandria team used a four-man defence and held the Centrals out in great style, meanwhile adding two goals to their score. Park was the star of the winners, while Sherrett played good hockey for the Centrals.

SOME THINGS AND A FEW OTHERS

What ho, the Board of Trade is to be given a pulmotor treatment.

Diogenes is the man who kept the candle factories working overtime in the so-called good old days of the long ago.

Mr. Burnham is always ad rem. The House was discussing the cigarette bill and J. H. diverts attention to woman's dress. There is still hope for the City Council.

Mayor Buller touched the right button when he suggested that the Council go slow in its action upon matters introduced.

Even the Hydro lights stagger these nights.

If the post office is to be vacated when the proposed new building is erected, how would the old building do for a city hall?

Those London suffragettes provide more than their share of news. They have likewise contributed largely to the cable tolls.

Isn't there something manly, and stalwart, oh yes, and gentlemanly, about a full-mouthed swearer. Neither public opinion nor the police have turned their attentions to this flourishing species.

The Tango has gone into spring training quarters. Wait till the summer resort season opens.

Spring usually brings hope. This year it will introduce Henry Hope, not to mention numerous others.

Some men we know are spending their evenings reading through seed lists. Hardware stores might do well to send out the latest ideas in garden utensils.

The Berlin Telegraph says the Intermediate champions are a good "ad." And like most advertising they cost somebody a penny or two.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

'VARSITY HAS A LEAD OF ONE GOAL BEAT ORILLIA 4 TO 3 LAST NIGHT

Toronto Collegians, Although Minus Two of Their Stars, Surprised Northerners in First Junior Final Game.

RETURN GAME TO-MORROW

TORONTO, March 9.—Continuing the streak of surprises which have invaded the Arena this winter, University of Toronto last night did the unexpected when they beat the champion Orillia team in the first of home-and-home games for the 1913-14 O.H.A. junior championship. Four to three was the final score, and well represents the play, although the collegians missed several easy chances.

The champions were away below the form which they have shown in former games this season. The artificial ice no doubt handicapped them, but they were beaten by a better team last night. U. of T., unlike the Orillians, displayed their best form of the season.

The collegians were not at full strength, two of their regulars being out of the game. Adams, the husky defence player, and Stratton, their good right wing, were the absentees. With those two players on the ice last night, there is little doubt but that the collegians would have carried a much larger lead to Orillia for the return game.

Teams Evenly Matched.

It was a splendid exhibition of hockey by two evenly matched teams, and proves conclusively that the O.H.A. junior series possesses some clever players. There were a number of penalties, but all for minor offences. U. of T. won because they had better range of the net, and checked back much harder than the champions. The winners were outweighed on the line, but pegged away and seldom gave the Orillians a chance to develop their reputed combination work.

All the U. of T. regulars played excellent hockey, but Captain Milne at rover was perhaps the most consistent. His work, both offensively and defensively, was easily the best on the ice. Saunders, at left wing, displayed his best form of the season, and was the most dangerous collegian on the attack. His shots were dad on the goal, and had plenty of speed behind them. "Cony" Smythe at centre ice, was not any too well handled by the visitors, but pegged away without a let-up. He was responsible for his team's four goals. Fast following in of long shots and clever work in front of the nets, was the feature of his play.

Mathers had most of the defensive work to do, as Pearson, who subbed for Adams, was weak. He was very awkward on his skates, but did the best he could. Malone in goal played a clever game, although one long shot did beat him. The other two resulted from scrambles in front of the net.

Butterfield Below Form.

Draper at right wing played the best game on the forward line of the champions. He had a hard man to watch in Saunders, but was the most effective on the attack. Tudhope at centre was a disappointment, and seemed unable to handle the puck with regularity. At left wing Teskey, although checked by Dafoe, the weakest of the U. of T. forwards, gave the collegians little trouble. Butterfield, who was expected to be the star of the game, showed flashes of good work. The defence was the strong feature of the champion's play. Reid and McNab played steady hockey, although they did better work on the attack than on the defensive. McNab has a bad habit of shotoing from a long distance. Johnston in goal was good. The teams:

Orillia—Goal, Johnston; defence, Reid and McNab; rover, Butterfield; centre, Tudhope; forwards, Draper and Teskey.

Referee—Allan Kinder of Preston.

First Half.

1—Toronto, Smythe, 4 mins.
2—Orillia, Butterfield, 15 mins.
3—Toronto, Smythe, 2 mins.

Second Half.

4—Toronto, Smythe, 2 mins.
5—Toronto, Smythe, 7 mins.
6—Orillia, Reid, 2 mins.
7—Orillia, Draper, 5 mins.

BASEBALL

The Ottawa Free Press critic, Malcolm T. Brice, has the following to say of Canadian League prospects:

"Although the rosters of the various Canadian League clubs are ambigious, and outside of last year's players little is known of the calibre of the new men, sharps are doping out the teams that will fight for the hunting this year. In this connection Erie, London, Toronto and Ottawa are figured as the clubs likely to set the pace. St. Thomas and Peterborough have good pitching staffs over from the season of 1913, and may prove troublesome. Hamilton and Brantford will have to show what they have got before anything will place them as first division contenders.

The prospects at Hamilton depend largely on what the new manager, Dr. Yates, can uncover. He hasn't much from last year's Colts that would form the nucleus of a first class D club. Two fair pitchers, a fair catcher and one good outfielder is all the Hams can show from last year.

Dr. Yates, of Hamilton, has signed a third baseman who hit .335, and he is signig about three stars a day. However, to us it looks like Erie and London this summer. The Senators will have to watch Reisling and Smith.

Brantford requires a whole new ball club, and Rube Deneau will have to face the hardest task of his career. There isn't a man left on the club that looks class enough to stick in the circuit this season. As soon as Brantford evades the New England states for her ball players the better for the club. More lemons hail from that direction than any other part of the continent. And Brantford has had 'em all from there for three years.

There is no doubt that Erie and London will place strong squads on the field. Erie, if successful in holding on to some of her star men in the defunct Inter-State last season will have a whale of a team, with the pick of the Guelph club. They are trying to get back Bobby Schang, a brother of the redoubtable Wally, of Connie Mack's Athletics, and one of the best maulmen in the minors. About eight of last year's Guelph club will be tried out in the spring by Manager Heinie Smith, and of this number Schaeffer and Wright, who hit one, two in the Canadian League last season, possibly Kelly Harris, Jack Fryer, Petie Behan and Pitcher Stark will stick. Kirley, the young smoke ball hurler, has been reclaimed by the Toronto Leafs, and will be with Eddy Holly's outfit.

Larry Lajoie's pet ambition is to play on a championship team before he retires from the game. If Larry has to play with the Naplanders to realize his ambition he is likely to die in harness.

The oldest rookie at the training camps is Kid Elberfield, who is working out with the Brooklyn Superbs at Augusta. By playing real ball in the South League last season Tobasco earned another chance to romp in the big yard.

Catcher "Peaches" Graham is still on the move. Three years ago he was rated as one of the star backstops in the big show. Then the Braves traded him to Chicago, and Chicago shipped him to Toronto. Now he has been sold to the Wichita Western League Club.

During the recent game between the Giants and the White Sox, in London, Manager McGraw shook hands with King George and Mike Donlin smoked cigarettes between the innings. Looks as though the Irish members put one over on Mr. "Germany" Schaeffer.

DUNDEE TO BOX KILBANE

Examiner Special:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 10.—Johnny Dundee, the New York lightweight, is to have another chance to pit his prowess against that of Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion. The Olympia Club of this city will bring the two together tomorrow night for a six-round bout. The match is the most promising that has been staged in the Quaker City this winter and the club expects a record-breaking crowd at the ring side.

A RALLY CALL TO ALL LACROSSE FANS

Every Enthusiast in the City is Asked to Attend To-morrow Night's Meeting in the Charlotte Street Curling Rink Under Auspices of the Athletic Club.

It is hoped that every lover of lacrosse in Peterborough will attend the meeting to be held in the Charlotte Street Curling Rink tomorrow, (Wednesday) night at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Peterborough Athletic Club. For years the lacrosse fans have been lamenting the dying out of Canada's national game here; now they have an opportunity of assisting in its revival along the only logical lines, that is, commencing in the schools of Peterborough. If the game is to be set on its feet again, it must be done by teaching the youngsters to know and like the game. The principals of the different schools in the City have been invited to attend to-morrow night's meeting and the Athletic Club take this opportunity of inviting every friend of lacrosse to be present.

Aston Villa Owes Existence To The Late Archie Hunter

Dundee Hibs have made Airdrieonians on offer of $1,500 to play their Scottish Cup tie at Dundee. Airdrie's reply is, "Nothing doing."

The late Archie Hunter, of Aston Villa, apart from being one of the most brilliant forwards our game has ever produced, was a great leader, and but for him Aston Villa might not have been in existence today. Archie went from Ayr, Scotland, to a situation in Birmingham, and although that was long before the time professionalism was legalised, I have often heard it assumed that he was taken to Birmingham and a "crib" got for him by Aston Villa. But there is no truth in that. Archie Hunter in Birmingham in 1879, on the occasion of my first visit across the border, when I played against Aston Villa at Perry Bar, told me the story of how he became an Aston Villa player. While resident in Birmingham he intended going down to the Birmingham Calthorpe Club's ground to have a game with them, and in making a casual inquiry from a friend as to where that ground was situated, and stating what his object was in seeking such information, that friend said: 'Why not go down and help your brither Scot, George Ramsay, who is working hard to try and raise Aston Villa to a higher rank?"

And Archie Hunter at once went to Ramsay's assistance, and his wonderful play created a sensation in Birmingham. Nothing like it had ever been seen there before. Hunter's going to Aston Villa undoubtedly kindled a flame of enthusiasm for the club, and the game, that made the future success of both absolutely certain. Had Archie gone to the Calthorpe club instead of Villa then the latter club might have gone the same way as quite a number of young clubs at that time in Birmingham, and became defunct. Archie Hunter's first employer when he went to Birmingham was strongly opposed to football, and Archie for a while had to play under the name of "A Center." But Archie became, and remained for many years, "the pride of Birmingham."

I remember on one occasion going to play a match in the noted Mid and town, and we were taking a drive, and had as our "gitide," philosopher and friend" George Kynoch, M.P., who at the time took great interest in the doings of the Aston Villa club, and before going for our drive Mr. Kynoch took us in to see his great cartridge factory. When we were approaching the main entrance to his office he suddenly stopped and said: "Do you see that statue?" It was that of a lion standing majestically, 'with its one paw on a ball, representing the world. "Well," Mr. Kynoch added, "every time I look at that it reminds me of Archie Hunter," and it was a deserved compliment to a 'brither Scot."

When we were away on that drive we had occasion to make a call at a place called "Four Oaks," and I remember in the hotel there we met and were introduced to Chippy Norton, the great bookmaker, and when he shook hands with Archie Hunter, whom he knew well, he addressed him as "the star of the football universe."

Aston Villa may have had many grand forwards since their early days, but never such a brilliant one as Archie Hunter.

Ayr folk have good reason to feel proud of the doings of many of her sons in the world of football.

OLD COUNTRY GLEANINGS.

The exclusion of Simpson (Blackburn Rovers) in favour of Walden (Tottenham Hotspur) from the English side to oppose the South in the first of the International trial matches at Fulham next Monday will create surprise in all but Metropolitan football circles. Tottenham's midget outside right has taken the London football public so completely by storm that he had been the subject of thousands of words of praise. How often he has been photographed one would not care to guess. "open letters" have been addressed to him, and, although he has only been in North London for a few months he is probably the best known footballer in the Metropolis at present. "Fanny" Walden, as he is familiarly called by everyone in London, is the greatest of all Southern football idols, and the honour conferred upon him by the F.A. selection committee will give great satisfaction to thousands in the South.

IS SIMPSON MORE EFFECTIVE?

Many well-known critics have been infected with the Walden fever, and the great little man has been described as England's best outside right. Remerkable player though he undoubtedly is, cannot agree with the latter sentiment. For a man so small he is a marvel. His ball juggling, his cunning and his fleetfootedness combine to make him a most attractive player to watch, but for sheer effectiveness I would prefer Simpson on my side, and one or two others for that matter. Probably Walden's great popularity in the North has induced the F.A. to give him the preference. His presence will attract more people undoubtedly, but one would have thought it better to include him amongst the Southern eleven, and for the F.A. to choose the team that beat Scotland last year to represent England.

BRITTLETON'S EXCLUSION.

In addition to Simpson the only player to be dropped is Brittleton (Sheffield Wednesday), which is probably explained by the fact that he has been playing full back for many weeks now.. His usual place, of course, is right half, and in his stead Cuggy (Sunderland), has been chosen. Few will quarrel with this selection, for Cuggy is undoubtedly a great player. The match should produce a good struggle. On paper the England side appeal to me as being much the stronger, but after last season's experience, when the South and North both beat "England's best," it is dangerous to prophesy. Of the Southern half backs, Rev. K. R. G. Hunt (Crystal Palace), Hannay (Reading), and Grimsdell (Tottenham), the last named two are comparatively unknown. It is an experimental line. have always had a liking for Grimsdell, but Hannay I have seen little of, although I have heard many good reports about him.

GOOD FORWARDS.

The Southern forward line is quite good. Pearce (Fulham) and McFadden (Orient), are both fine forwards, who can shoot well, and with two wing forwards who are speedy and clever and V. J. Woodward's great experience of such games, the line will not easily be held in check. As for the North team, Watson (Burnley) has not been at his best this season, but he has undoubted ability, whilst McCall, who is playing as well as ever, will, I think, be first choice for the Internationa ls until he lets the side down, which he is not likely to do. All the forwards—Walden, Fleming, Hampton, Holley and Hodkinson—are tried players, but doubt if all will enter the first International side this season.

FOOTBALL

The Nomads football team, and all interested in the game, are asked to meet at Coleman's palm parlours tomorrow evening at 7.30, for the purpose of forming a club, and also to decide whether or not they will affiliate with the Peterborough Athletic Club.

Dr. McPherson, the President of the latter Club, will be present to explain the situation. After the meeting refreshments will be served and a social hour spent. It is hoped that a large number of supporters will turn out.

Fights Scheduled for To-night.

Grover Hayes vs. Frankie Burns, 10 rounds, at Oakland.

Jack Dillon vs. Jack Lester, 10 rounds, at Denver.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

Hamilton Spectator:

Manager Yates of the Hamilton Baseball Club expects much of Coleman, the outfielder, recently signed to a Hamilton contract. Coleman was a member of the University of Pennsylvania team for three years, and has just been elected Captain for the coming season. He is a graduate dentist and is taking a post graduate course at the university at the present time. He may not be able to report here until June 1st.

In a letter received from Yates this morning the Manager stated that he had three catchers under the wing at the present time, including Fisher. The latter has not returned his contract as yet, but will likely come through with it any day now. It is Yates' desire to have the players report in Hamilton on April 15, making the earliest start that any local team has ever attempted.

There is a splendid chance of the Philadelphia Athletics being seen in action in Hamilton on August 12 or 13. The Athletics have two off days at that time, and Conine Mack, the famous manager, has informed Manager Yates that he will be pleased to help the local club along by staging an exhibition game here. Mack, in a letter to Yates, states that he is eager to give the local fans a chance to see the world champions in action, and it is more than likely that the famous team will be brought here, as the local directors are greatly pleased with the chance of staging such a game, and have instructed Manager Yates to go ahead with all arrangeemnts.

The Detroit Club has promised to let the Senators have a good third baseman. Bullock is not a star at the third sack, Smejkal is only a fair second baseman and he can't hit and the champs are minus a shortstop since Crowder was released. Outside of Dolan on first base, the Senators are very weak in the infield, and will have to devote a lot of attention to rounding out their defensive line. In the outfield, Rogers, Shag and Petie Powers are about as good as any in the League. The Senators have a good backstop in Artie Lage, and a good utility man in Powers. If they secure the twirlers promised they are also well fixed there. For this time of the season the champs are in pretty goo dshape." This all from the Ottawa Journal, which last year was confident that every player mentioned would surely be drafted.

In the strong box of Owner O'Neil, of the Erie Club reposes now the signed contract of E. C. Stark, who was touted as being one of the best pitchers in the Canadian League last season. Ever since O'Neil procured the franchise of the Yankee Club he has been after Stark, but it was only Thursday that the young heaver signed the document which brings him into the fold. Stark was with Guelph last year.

Dunnville Chronicle: Jack Nichol, the local 18-year-old southpaw, signed last Saturday, in Buffalo, with Erie, Pa., in the Canadian League. George Smith, formerly maanger of Buffalo, in the International League, is now the Manager of the Erie team. He was in Dunnville last summer with the lawn bowlers and saw Jack work and had a talk with him. At that time he had no idea of becoming a manager. Later when he signed with Erie he opened negotiations with Jack. Nichol pitched for the Buffalo Elks last summer, defeating the Erie semipros. On his team were Eddie and Billy McGamwell, who have always contended that Jack had the goods to deliver with proper training and management. Certainly his amateur record has been a great one, and his friends will watch with interest his career. Besides having everything, as the saying goes, Jack is an exceptional sticker. We certainly expect him to make good.

London, March 9.—President Geo. O'Neil of the Erie Baseball Club, announced on Saturday night that Manager George Smith had been successful in securing First Baseman Gygali and Outfielder Dawson, from St. Joseph, of the Western League, by purchase, thereby rounding out the Yankees' infield.

By this acquisition Erie has curralled what loks like one of the best infield defences in the circuit, which will be composed as follows in all probability when the season opens:

First base, Gygali; second base, Manager George Smith; sortstop, Benan; third base, Wiltse. Six pitchers above the ordinary have been signed and when Manager Smith lands "Dummy" Taylor, formerly with Toronto and Buffalo, in the old Eastern League, the hurling department will look good.

Dawson and Shaeffer will surely measure up with the other Canadian League outfielders, while Daniels is a good catcher.

$1 Day Thursday $1

WE ARE GLAD to participate in Peterborough's first Dollar Day, and mainly because it gives us an opportunity to prove beyond doubt that you will pay less here and verify the feeling that this is the store where the goods always seem a little better for the same money than elsewhere.

Remember that a coupon goes with every dollar's worth of goods bought from us Thursday. Perhaps the largest prize may be a coupon procured from us.

This is only a small fraction of the list of our DOLLAR BARGAINS. Watch specially for the ones not advertised.

OBITUARY

MRS. ROBERT DEYELL.

Mrs. Robt. Deyell, who passed away at her home, Fowler's Corners, on Tuesday, February twenty-fourth was in her forty-sixth year. Her maiden name was Miss Mary Franks, daughter of the late Thomas Franks of Emily township. Twenty years ago she was married to her now surviving husband who, with two children, Ellwood and Madeline, are left to mourn her loss. The late Mrs. Deyell was highly respected and her death has created a loss in the community that will be hard to fill. One sister, Mrs. Geo. A. Deyell of Fowler's Corners and six brothers survive the deceased. The brothers are Messrs. John of Regina, Sask., Arthur, Albert and James of Emily and Thomas and George of Peterborough, all of whom attended the funeral. It was the first time they had been together in thirty years.

The funeral took place on Friday, February 27th to the Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. Robt. Pegue of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiating.

POLICE COURT

In police court this morning, a local young man was charged with being drunk in a public place. From appearances, it would seem that he had met with a "friend," a black and swollen left eye indicating that fact. He pleaded guilty and was remanded till Friday.

A Vagrant.

The local court has not held a vagrant for some time. This morning Jas. Maloney was charged with being a vagrant and begging. At the request of the Chief, Maloney was remanded for a week.

Geo. Francis Bridsley, who said his occupation was a cook, and who claimed he came from Belleville, was also charged with vagrancy, and pleaded not guilty. He said that he came here to look for work, and he had ten dollars. Despite his protestations he was remanded in custody.

QUITE CORRECT

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir.—I quite endorse the sentiments in the letter written by "Briton" in last Saturday's Evening Review. It was decidedly to the point, but at the same time it was written in a quiet, refined, dignified manner, which commanded respect for the unknown writer.

BOARD OF HEALTH

The Board of Health met in the committee room this morning. There were present, Messrs. Dr. Amys, chairman, Duncan, Murty, Dr. McPherson, M. H.O., Sanitary Inspector Spence and Mayor Baller.

A letter was read from Mr. O. Beisbois asking that a sewer be built on Mark Street, from Sophia to James Streets; on James Street to Mark Street to the outfall sewer. The communication was referred to the City Engineer for a report.

A letter was read from Mr. S. Higgins asking that a sewer be built to serve 275 Lake Street.—Referred to the Engineer for a report.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie wrote the Board, inviting them to inspect the Peterborough Pure Milk Co.'s plant. The invitation was accepted, the time to be decided later.

GIVE ALL UNEMPLOYED A CHANCE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir.—Much has been written of late to your valuable paper about this very important question, and it is taking a great hold of the Church, and from the pulpit we hear how the question of the ever-increasing unemployed can be dealt with. Personally I have had the pleasure of listening to one of the series of sermons on the subject, but, to my mind, the real remedy is to call the attention of the Government to the felicitous advertisements in the papers, of which there are, I am sorry to say, far too many, and which the poor deluded emigrant finds to his sorrow when he arrives.

It is very patent to every one that there is great poverty in the City now, and if steps are not immediately taken to stem the tide it will evidently become worse.

I have seen that the popular Adjutant of the Salvation Army is taking the Temple Band to the Old Country. With that I am perfectly in accord, and know they will give a good account of themselves, and their efforts will be appreciated by the music-loving people of the Old Land I wish them a pleasant voyage, a good time and a safe return.

when we see that 10,000 illustrated leaflets are to be distributed and the suggestion of a City council lor to accompany them to make the advantages of the City known is, in my opinion, adding insult to injury. There is no person in the City knows better than the Adjutant the pinch of poverty that has been felt this winter. I know he has relieved a number of young men by giving them a ticket to get a meal when they were practically on the verge of starvation.

Then why on earth distribute leaflets that may have the effect of inducing others to leave their home and and help to swell the ranks of the already unemployed? Trusting this will have a stimulating effect, and thanking you in anticipation, I remain, yours, etc.,

C. PERKINS LLOYD.

282 Aylmer Street.

Sir,—Will you kindly insert this in your paper; I think the Council should give the unemployed married men with families, so many days a week, and single men so many, and so share it out a bit equal. Not all one lot get it all and the others none.

Yours, etc.,
Working Man.

BROADWAY JONES.

One of the most enjoyable comedies of the season was Geo. M. Cohan's rapid-fire success, "Broadway Jones," which delighted a large audience at the Grand last night. A quickly-moving plot, dialogues sparkling with the usual Cohan brilliancy and life-like characters, made the production altogether delightful. The title role is rich in its comedy possibilities, and Thos. Emory, upon whose shoulders the mantle of Mr. Cohan has fallen, plays the part with as thorough appreciation of its good points. There is a laugh in every line, and the action never drags. Mr. Emory's work was clean cut and effective, and he was given the support of a thoroughly adequate and clever company. Curtis Benton was splendidly cast as Robert Wallace, and the other parts were well looked after.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Geo. Stenton is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Burke, Lindsay.

Mrs. Alex. Irwin, 362 Water Street, accompanied by her husband, who has been very ill, has sufficiently recovered to take a trip to Millbrook.

Mrs. Robt. Henry and Mrs. Dan. Crimmons of Lindsay, have returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. Victor Henry, and Mrs. Geo. Fitz-Gibbon, younger daughter of Stenton, Water Street.

Mrs. J. Comstock will not receive to-morrow, but will be at home on the third Wednesday, and not again this season.

The bride-to-be, Miss Fitz-Gibbon, referred to in the following from the Montreal Star, is a niece of Mr. R. S. Rose, City, and grand-daughter of Mrs. James Rose, formerly of Peterborough, and now of Montreal:

Mr. A. R. Bentley of Scarboro, Eng., arrived in the City to-day to visit his brother, Mr. John Bentley, manager of the Auburn Woollen Mills. Mr. Bentley came over on the Lusitania and reports a very rough passage across the Atlantic.

Miss Gillespie, head milliner at Robt. Fair's, accompanied by members of her department, Misses L. Allen, McIntosh, and Cunningham, have returned from an extensive visit to the wholesale houses, where they have spent some time getting the newest ideas in women's hats for the Spring season.

Mr. S. D. Hall of Richard Hall & Son, Limited, returned yesterday from an eight weeks' purchasing trip in Europe, where he has secured a host of dainty and exclusive new novelties in women's dress that have not been shown on this continent, and which will be displayed at the Hall store during the presentation of new fashions the early part of next week.

"At the marriage of Miss Mollie Fitz-Gibbon, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitz-Gibbon, to Mr. C. E. Allen Boswell, son of the late J. K. and Mrs. Boswell, of Quebec, which is to take place March 21 at the Church of St. James the Apostle, she will be attended by four bridesmaids, Miss Frances Caverhill, Miss Geraldine Paterson, Miss Gwyneth Wanklyn and Miss Helen Robertson. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at 120 McTavish Street."

HOW A BROOKLYN GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again.

Grace D. Lamb of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was all run-down and on the verge of nervous prostration. I could not sleep for pain in my back. In all I was a wreck. A friend told me what Vinol had done for her little girl so I tried it. I noticed an improvement after the first bottle. I could sleep well, my appetite improved, and after taking three bottles I am strong and well again.

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim.

SEEK IRON BOUNTY

Conservative Members Demand Support For Smelters.

HON. MR. WHITE UNDECIDED

Minister of Finance Says He Has Not Yet Made Up His Mind on the Case—Dr. Michael Clark and F. B. Carvell Present Liberal Opposition to Aid For Special Industries—Await Budget.

OTTAWA, March 11.—Iron bounties were the chief subject of debate in the Commons yesterday, when J. J. Carrick (Con., Thunder Bay and Rainy River) urged the Government to make provision for aid for the iron and steel industry which, he said, suffered from the fact that Canada's vast quantities of low grade ore required an expenditure of 65c. to $1.10 a ton more than the high grade ores of the U. S. With the exception of W. M. German (Welland), the Liberal speakers opposed the proposal. Mr. Carrick was supported by several Conservative members.

Hon. W. T. White declined to make any definite statement in anticipation of the budget, but reminded the House that protection for pig iron would require a general readjustment of the tariff.

Mr. Carrick, in opening, said that Canada had imported iron and steel last year to the extent of $141,000,000, or about 25 per cent. of our entire consumption. We have been keeping the blast furnaces of the United States working overtime, while the iron and steel industry of Canada was permitted to sink into a languishing and deplorable condition.

Similar conditions existed at Midland, Deseronto, Parry Sound and Londonderry, while the big works at Sydney, C.B., were only running about one-third of their capacity.

Mr. Carrick favored a bounty upon iron made from Canadian ore, say, to the extent of two cents per unit, which in the case of ore running fifty per cent. would mean a bounty of about one dollar per ton. With such a concession from the Government, he undertook to bring about an investment of $10,000,000 in iron and steel manufacturing in Canada.

Dr. Clark (Red Deer) denounced bounties as economically absurd. Bounties paid to any one line of industry was unjust to other lines of industry and to the consumers. He could not for the life of him see how giving a bounty to a manufacturer would produce orders. It might give him money out of which to pay dividends, and thereby give a temporary value to his watered stock, but it could not get him customers.

If it were right to bonus the iron and steel business, why not bonus the growing of wheat and the raising of cattle? The whole protectionist fabric, the doctor declared to be a tissue of absurdities, and the sooner Canada got away from it the better. In any event, with our finances in their present condition, the iron and steel manufacturers could hardly expect to get any more money from the Treasury. Too many people wanted bread just now weres than iron.

W. H. Bennett (E. Simcoe) favored stiffer protection rather than the re-introduction of the bounty system. At present our agricultural implement manufacturers were allowed to import all iron used in making implements practically free of duty. So long as these manufacturers enjoyed a protective tariff, he believed, they should be compelled to buy their iron in Canada.

Mr. Carvell (Carlton, N.B.) said that when an industry was bonused by the Government there was bound to be over-capitalization, wasteful management and watered stock. He did not believe that the people of the country should be taxed to help out some Ontario blast furnaces which had been badly located or managed inefficiently.

W. M. German (Welland) however took issue with Mr. Carvell. Though opposed generally to the bounty system, Mr. German favored some Government aid to the iron and steel industry.

Mr. Arthur (Parry Sound) dwelt upon the great importance of the iron industry and urged the necessity for proper encouragement by way of tariff and bounty.

Finance Minister White pointed out that bounties had been paid upon pig iron produced from Canadian ore from 1883 to 1911 and yet last year only about 300,000 tons of Canadian ore had been produced, valued at about $600,000. The Canadian ores were low grade and refractory and unless some improved processes were resorted to for smelting low grade ores the proposed bounty would have to be paid indefinitely.

The Minister said he would carefully consider the suggestions made, both as to increasing the duties on pig iron and as to granting a bounty upon iron smelted from Canadian ore. There was some demand for a higher duty upon pig iron. The duty at present was $2.50 per ton. He would not venture to say whether this was too high or too low, but if it was increased, says $1 per ton, that would mean a seven per cent. increase upon their raw material for the manufactures of agricultural implements, the automobile manufacturers and many other manufacturers. It was difficult to change the duty on a basic raw material like pig iron without a general revision of the tariff.

As to bounties Mr. White said they were not, in his opinion, either good or bad in the abstract. Certainly in the case of iron and steel they had helped to found and helped to develop some magnificent enterprises.

SIR GEORGE ROSS BURIED.

Host of Friends and Admirers Attend Funeral Service.

TORONTO, March 11—A varied assemblage of former political colleagues, supporters and admirers, many opponents, not a few former pupils, and a host of good friends of the late Sir George W. Ross gathered at 3 Elmsley place yesterday to pay their last respects to the memory of the Liberal leader.

The service at the house, 3 Elmsley road, was eloquently simple. Three ministers performed it, Rev. Dr. Milligan, Rev. Prof. Law and Rev. Dr. Harper Cooper of Old St. Andrew's Church. Dr. Milligan paid tribute in an unusual way—he did not laud and expand upon the dead man's goodness; he told the story of his life as he knew it.

The Governor-General was represented by his honorary aide, Sir Henry Pellatt. The Lieutenant-Governor was present on behalf of the province. Hon. Dr. Pyne represented the Ontario administration, and Senator Bostock represented the Senate. Hon. G. P. Graham the Liberal party at Ottawa, and N. W. Rowell, K.C., the Ontario Opposition. Among the many others present were: Sir Alan Aylesworth, President Falconer, Senator J. F. Kerr and Senator Jaffray, Prof. Mavor, Rev. Dr. George Grant, and Rev. Dr. Cerman.

Senate Pays Tribute.

OTTAWA, March 11.—The Senate yesterday afternoon, on motion of Senator Lougheed, adjourned out of respect to the late Sir George Ross. On the assembly of the Upper House, Senator Lougheed paid a feeling tribute to the departed statesman.

Bisley Team Commandant.

OTTAWA, March 11. — Lt.-Col. J. G. Ross, commanding the 5th Royal Highlanders, Montreal, will command this year's Bisley team, with Lieut. C. W. G. Gigson, 13th Regiment, Hamilton, as adjutant. Lieut. Gibson is a son of Lieutenant-Governor Gibson, and in 1913 was third for the Governor-General's prize in the D. R. A. matches at Ottawa.

Hotel Was a Fire Trap.

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—Fire Chief Swingley said yesterday that six or seven months ago he warned the management of the Missouri Athletic Club that the club building was not safe for sleeping quarters. It had been converted into a hotel by dividing the upper floors into rooms for sleeping purposes.

The death list now is fixed at 31.

Britain's Latest Warship.

LONDON, March 11.—Two 3-inch guns for attacking air craft, and which are said to be capable of sending projectiles to a height of more than 10,000 feet at the rate of twelve or fifteen a minute, are among the novel features of the new superdreadnought battleship Iron Duke, which went into commission yesterday.

Snow In Old London.

LONDON, March 11.—Snow fell in many parts of England Monday, including London. In the 24 hours ending at six o'clock Monday evening the amount of the rain and snow fall nearly equalled that of the average month.

POWER OF FUNGUS.

Toadstool Growths Which Are Capable of Lifting Pavements.

Some years ago, says a London paper, a portion of the pavement in Gorwell road, London, was lifted out of its place in a mysterious manner. Before it could be replaced numerous toadstools made their appearance in the gaping spaces between the stones. When the stones were removed it was found that they rested on an immense spongy mass of toadstool growth, which had gone on increasing until it made a way through which it could push its head into the air. One of the stones moved by it measured four feet by two feet and weighed 300 pounds.

A more extensive injury was done in the same way some years ago at the town of Basingstoke. Not many months after the town had been paved the pavement was noticed to exhibit signs of unevenness, which could not be accounted for. As soon as the unevenness was sufficient to make openings between the stones, the hidden enemy made his appearance in the shape of innumerable toadstools. So completely had the spores or spawn got possession of the material on which the pavement was laid that had to be completely taken up and the whole town repaved.

The toadstool and its kind seem to flourish in places where the light is excluded, as in dark cellars, under flagstones and in hollow trees. They require the air, however, and a certain, though it may be small, amount of light, that they may reach their perfect condition. Unless they are able to produce seed they go on developing this amorphous, spongy mass until it attains sometimes a fabulous dimension. Everyone has heard of the enormous growths of fungi in some wine cellars. A case is on record in which a cask of wine, having been left without attention in a dark cellar for three years, was at the termination of that period found to have been borne on the surface of a mushroom growth until it was forced against the roof. The fungus, moreover, had got access to the wine and had drunk it all, living upon its sugar, and so the more easily raising the gradually emptying cask from the ground. Fungi have sometimes taken possession of worked-out mines and occupied enormous spaces.

The Part Heredity Plays.

"While there is no doubt that there is much truth in some of the modern theories of eugenics," says Gen. Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army. "I personally do not believe that heredity plays so overwhelming a part as to prevent children from coming out right if they are given a fair chance. The problem is one of economics rather than of eugenics.

"London has the greatest slum population in the world. We do much work in those slums. We don't find that as a rule the children of the slums are the offspring of parents who in their turn were themselves children of the slums. We find that the slums are inhabited largely by those who have come down to the slums from higher grades of society. They have come down through shiftlessness, in efficiency and vice. If their children were given a fair chance in the world the vast majority of these children would turn out right.

"Of the thousands of male down-and-outers to whom we minister in the course of a year, we find that 80 per cent. are the sons of good parents, not the sons of the vicious. Give the children of society a decent chance, and the question of eugenics will largely take care of itself."

French Apples.

The best French apples are sent to market wrapped in tissue paper and separated by a thin layer of excelsior or straw. This is known as packing in "nests."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

The fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are the original Kidney Pills has not prevented the placing of other preparations in pill form upon the market under the name Kidney Pills. It is necessary, therefore, that all wishing to secure the curative effects which have made Doan's Kidney Pills so popular everywhere, should see that the trade mark, the Maple Leaf, appears on the wrapper. Without this trade mark you are not getting the genuine Kidney Pills as originally placed before the people by Mr. James Doan, as shown by the following declaration.

DOMINION OF CANADA, PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, } To Wit:

In the matter of Doan's Kidney Pills.

I, James Doan, of Kingsville, in the County of Essex, Druggist, do solemnly declare that Doan's Kidney Pills were first manufactured and sold by me on the 14th day of February, A.D., 1885.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and knowing it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of "The Canada Evidence Act, 1893."

Declared before me at Kingsville, in the County of Essex, this 27th day of July, A.D., 1896. } James Doan.

A Round-about Call.

Here is a curious example of how the telegraph has reduced the size of the earth, says an English journal. Not long ago a woman on Valentia Island was taken suddenly ill. The island lies ten miles off the west coast of Ireland, and is peopled mainly by the operators and engineers who look after the cables laid between that point and Newfoundland.

The nearest doctor was the resident practitioner at another large cable colony at Waterville, on the mainland.

Strange to say, there is no means of communication between Valentia Island and Waterville, possibly because the two systems of cables are controlled by different interests.

But the cable operators at Valentia were not to be beaten. They asked their Newfoundland operators by cable if they could communicate with their end of the Waterville cables. The reply was that the two Newfound land offices were connected by telephone.

Thereupon the Valentia men sent a message to Waterville, ten miles off, via Newfoundland, asking a doctor to attend the sick woman.

The doctor arrived within two hours, and landed amid cheers from the little colony of operators.

Burns Creates Record.

It is exactly eight years since Mr. Balfour laid down the cares of office, and Sir Edward Grey and Mr. John Burns have been Foreign Secretary and President of the Local Government Board respectively for exactly eight years. They are the only two Cabinet Ministers now holding office who started in the same offices under "C. B." in 1905, and, furthermore, they are the only living men on either side who have held the same office continuously for so long a period. Mr. Burns has created an absolute record for not one of his thirteen predecessors at the Local Government Board, among whom were Mr. Balfour and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, was president for more than six years.

Maoris and Agriculture.

There has been established at Mahanui, in New Zealand, an agricultural college for Maori boys, which consists of some 200 acres of first-class land, about 70 of which are already under cultivation. Practical as well as theoretical training is given, and dairying is to be a prominent feature of the institution, at which the boys live and which is under the principalship of a clergyman of some considerable experience in practical agriculture. Adult Maori settlers, it is interesting to note, are realising the possibilities of prosperity in dairying. The majority of those who take it up seriously use milking machines.

YOUR BLOOD is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery is the balancing power—a vitalizing power. It acts on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition—on the purifying filters which clean the blood. Thus fresh vitalised blood feeds the nerves, heart—and brain. This well known alterative relieves catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying same, and has been successful for more than a generation as a tonic and body-builder. It builds up the rundown system. You need it—if you are always "catching cold"—or have catarrh of the nose and throat. The active medicinal principles of American-Native-roots are extracted without alcohol and you can obtain this tonic in liquid or tablet form at any drug store or send 50 cents in 1-cent stamps for trial box of tablets.

ECZEMA ON FACE, SCALP AND HANDS

Came Off in Scales. Itched Badly. Had to Tie Hands. Little Watery Pimples. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

1357 Davenport Road, Toronto, Ont.—"My eczema first started when I was a baby, on my face and scalp. It seemed dry and when I scratched it, it came off in scales. It itched very badly and I was obliged to have my hands tied up so as to prevent scratching my face. Little white watery pimples came on my hands and face and I had to stay home from school for nearly two weeks. It caused my face and hands to look badly. The eczema took a very bad form, appearing on my face in little watery ulcers so bad that I could hardly bear to be touched. My hair being naturally very thick I found to be getting thinner and wondered what could cause it to fall out.

"My mother tried ——— and ——— and spent no end of money trying to get me better but it did no good. At last a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my mother used them. We applied the Cuticura Ointment to my face, head and hands and washed with the Cuticura Soap and the eczema began to disappear. Before six months had passed I was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Constance Jane, May 26, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and chapped nails, that it is almost criminal not to use them. A single set is often sufficient. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

Notable Cases Of Kidnapping

1892—Walter Saunders, Atchison, Kas.; never heard of again.

1883—Johnnie Navin, Boston; disappeared April 13 and never reappeared.

1894—Sophia Hasenon, Philadelphia; never recovered.

NEWCASTLE, Ind., March 7.— On the twentieth day of this month one year will have rolled around since little Catherine Winters disappeared from her home in this city, leaving not the slightest clue to her whereabouts. And although photographs of the missing child have been sent to practically every city of America and have appeared in newspapers and on moving picture screens from one end of the land to the other, her disappearance is the mystery it was on the day her distracted parents began the search.

Catherine Winters was nine years old at the time of her disappearance and was declared by all who knew her to be unusually intelligent for a child of her years. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters, well known and respected residents of Newcastle. The child was last seen in the vicinity of her home at about noon on March 20, 1913. At that time she drooped out of sight as mysteriously as if the earth had opened up and swallowed her.

For an entire year Dr. Winters has been engaged in a continuous search for his lost child. He travelled over a large section of the country and has visited every place whence came reports of anything that resembled a clue to the whereabouts of the little girl. Only a week ago he returned to his home here after a fruitless trip to Arkansas, where it was reported that a child resembling Catherine Winters had been found.

A peculiar feature of the case is that neither the parents nor the friends of the family have ever entertained any other than the kidnapping theory as a solution of the mystery. Their firm belief that the child was kidnapped seems to be shared also by the authorities who have been investigating the case, despite the fact that a motive as well as evidence of kidnapping appears to be lacking.

But those who hold to the kidnaping theory argue that the little girl must either had been kidnapped or killed. And as it is incredible that a child who was known to nearly every person in town could have met death in any manner in broad daylight without leaving a trace of the tragedy, the kidnapping theory seems to offer the only reasonable explanation of the disappearance.

On the other hand, there was no apparent motive for kidnapping the child. While Dr. Winters is possessed of moderate means his wealth is scarcely sufficient to attract a seeker after ransom. Furthermore, there has never been any demand made upon him for ransom since the child's disappearance, excepting by persons who sought a little "quick money" and whom it was easily shown by investigation that they had no knowledge of little Catherine's whereabouts, or the cause of her disappearance.

The gypsy theory has been refuted by the certain knowledge that no gypsies were in Newcastle or its vicinity last March. A theory at first entertained that the grandmother or other relatives of the child living in Wisconsin might have been concerned in her disappearance likewise was proved absolutely without foundation. Other supposed clues led to Michigan, to Iowa and even to the Pacific Northwest, but nothing came of them. The offer of liberal rewards have brought no result. A special grand jury investigation of the case failed to develop any information of value. State and county authorities and the fraternal orders to which Dr. Winters belongs have lent their aid in the search. Dr. Winters, despite his long and fruitless search, still appears confident that little Catherine will be found. Others who are closely interested in the mysterious case believe that the missing child is living, but where, or under what circumstances, none can even guess.

Gray Hair Becomes Dark, Thick, Glossy

Try Grandmother's Old Favourite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is musy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Magnifying Misery Into Joy

Dyspeptics, Stomach Sufferers and Appetiteless People May Quickly Find Relief in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

When a stomach sufferers gets relief he is one of the happiest of human beings and he looks back at his old self with a distinct feeling of horror.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets quickly readjust the out-of-proportion stomach and digestive machinery and bring joy of life and love for food to the man or woman who will use them after each meal for a short time.

"Huh! By gee, I used to feel just like that fellow"

The action of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a purely natural one. When taken they enter the stomach just like food. They mix with the juices of the mouth. Then they enter into and correctly build up or dilute the juices of the stomach, go into the intestines and there when the nourishment from food is taken into the system so follows the ingredients of these wonderful tablets.

They correct the faults of the blood and thus at the next meal the body is better able to produce a stronger and more normal digestive juice.

A short use of these tablets will re-establish your digestion, stop gastritis, heartburn, indigestion, foul breath, catarrh of the stomach, ulcers and many other unbearable conditions.

Go to your druggist to-day and begin the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet habit. It is the habit of health and appetite. Learn how to yearn for food, not how to spurn it.

Obtain a box from any druggist.—price 50 cents. Sold wherever you can find a drug store.

The new auxiliary plant belonging to the Havelock Light and Power Co. has just arrived from Toronto and is being hauled to their power house at North River, about seven miles north of this Village, to be installed as an auxiliary to the present water plant. The engine is a seven-ton machine, and capable of furnishing 300 h.p. besides the water power which supplies in the vicinity of 150 h.p. When the new plant is installed there should be no further fear of Havelock being a sufferer of poor service as the present load only equals about 150 h.p. Apparently the officers of that Company are endeavouring to put their plant in shape to meet all power demands for some years to come.

Rev. C. W. Holdsworth was in Port Hope last week attending the bedside of his father, who is ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler of Peterborough are the guests of their son, Mr. Jas. E. Fowler.

Mr. George Know is able to be around again after his recent operation for appendicitis. He will return with his mother on Wednesday to his home in Kingston, where he will remain for some time to regain his strength before returning here to commence his duties on the C. P. R.

Sure Way To Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety-soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny lustre are rarely seen. How to preserve them—that's the question. Famous beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary mercolized wax works wonders in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin, restoring that marvellous girlish colour and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug-store, will convert a faded, freckled, worn-out or discoloured complexion into one of captivating loveliness in less than two weeks. No special skill is necessary in applying the wax, it being smeared on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To remove wrinkles, or delay their formation, a face bath made by dissolving 4 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel, will be found wonderfully efficacious. This tones up relaxed skin, causing it to remain firm and smooth.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds will have a strong tendency to bring our freckles that may stay all Summer unless removed. Now is the time to use othine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so sucessful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine — double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

WHOOPING COUGH

Mrs. Charles Lovell, Agassiz, B.C., writes: "Seven of our nine children had whooping cough the same winter and we attribute their cure to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. We always have it in the house, and recommend it as the king of all medicines. I was nearly completely cured of protruding piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment."

DURING the cold weather when it is necessary to keep on extra fires there is always increasing danger of accidents happening from defective chimneys, defective stovepipes, furnaces, explosion of coal gas, accumulation of dust near heating appliances and numerous other causes.

To avoid misfortune as the result of losing your property by FIRE see that your INSURANCE is in good shape and placed in first class companies.

Better to have it and not need it than to need it and not have it.

KEPHALDOL
The positive, safe cure for Headache and Neuralgia

Sufferers from these torturing ailments will welcome the coming to Canada of the well known European remedy, Dr. Stohr's Kephaldol.

Hitherto the use of most so-called remedies has been attended with the gravest danger on account of their injurious effect on the heart and other organs. Kephaldol may be taken with absolute safety.

In thousands of cases Kephaldol acts instantaneously — acts where other remedies have proved useless. Yet its use is never attended by any ill after-effects. It has been recognized as a perfectly harmless remedy by the regular and prolonged trials of it in their clinics, on thousands of patients.

If you would get quick and safe relief from those distressing pains and aches, get a 50c. tube of Kephaldol tablets from your druggist to-day, and never be without a supply. Kephaldol Limited, 31 Latour Street, Montreal.

Lake Fishing Commenced.

PORT STANLEY, March 11.—Cutting their way foot by foot through the ice between the piers, the fishing tugs, Francis H. Stanley and John R. Moore, pushed out of the harbor into Lake Erie and cast the fish nets of the season Monday.

The channel had frozen to a considerable depth, and some difficulty was experienced in making a passage through which the vessels could pass.

WASTE IS CENSURED

Liberal Amendment to Budget Adoption Is Moved.

FISCAL METHOD IS SCORED

Col. Atkinson Arraigns Handling of Accounts and Also Condemns Constantly Increasing Expenditure on New Government House —Entire Day Is Taken Up With the Budget Debate.

TORONTO, March 11.—The Legislature spent yesterday afternoon and evening in a protracted debate on the budget in which several members participated.

At a late hour in the evening session the Opposition brought in the following amendment to the Government motion to adopt the budget o the year:

"This House disapproves of and protests against (1) the presentatio to the House by the Provincial Treasurer of financial statements whic do not fairly set forth the real character of the financial transactions o the Government; (2) the extravagan and wasteful expenditure of publi money by the Government, as illustrated by the expenditure on th Government House, when educatio and agriculture are in great need o further funds; (3) the vicious syste of raising money on the credit of th province for particular purposes a thorized by the Legislature, and the applying these trust funds to othe purposes."

The budget debate in the Legislature was taken up in the afternoo by James Torrance of North Perth. He centred his remarks about th immigration problems of the province. No better class of new-come had reached Ontario than those o last year, he said, and if the same policy were pursued during the coming year there could be little com plaint.

W. E. N. Sinclair (South Ontario) followed with an attack upon the expenditure on the new Government House. It was a question of fol-all the price had been increasing slowly to an enormous climax." Actually the total assessment of a county would appear small beside the sum involved in this policy. Money had also been spent on statute revision which would have brought a far greater return if applied to agriculture.

A. T. Schofield (Guelph) pointed out that in the industries with which he was connected there was a dearth of workmen in the summer months. Factories in Guelph had been known to close down for this reason. He would advise that the attention of the Federal Government be directed to some system by which all the public works in the cities might be carried on in the winter months.

Thomas Marshall (Lib., Monck) criticized the Government for not having all the educational department changes discussed on the floor of the House. Further, teachers were not given enough latitude in the teaching of their classes.

The evening session resolved itself largely into a discussion among the northern members as to the attention their constituencies were receiving from the Government.

Z. Mageau, (Lib., Sturgeon Falls) said that while the big things of the country were being kept sight of, the fact that a host of school children in his riding were kept home from school through bad roads, had not occurred to the Minister of Lands.

"The people I represent are loyal and should get as much attention as others," said Mr. Mageau, "but the system of patronage is to blame."

Charles McCrea (Sudbury) advised the Government to revise the names in the north country. The appellations of numerous lakes and sections were overlapping.

Col. T. R. Atkins (Norfolk) followed up with a criticism of the Government's policy, and moved his amendment of censure.

To discover whether Ontario possesses radium in any considerable quantity, and to reserve to the Government the right of its disposal, the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, laid a bill before the Legislature yesterday, providing a reward of $25,000 to the man who makes the first strike.

The bill goes further and gives to the Government the right to purchase private lands containing radium and to regulate the sale and use of the mineral.

PARLIAMENT POWERLESS.

Proposed Manitoba Senatorships Are Illegal Says Sir Wilfrid.

OTTAWA, March 12. — Premier Borden's first step yesterday to increase the number of western Senators in accordance with the results of the 1911 census, was the signal for a constitutional struggle involving Parliament's right to give two new Senatorships to Manitoba. Sir Wilfrid Laurier raised the point that unlike the autonomy bills for Saskatchewan and Alberta, that of Manitoba made no provision for an increase. The Premier insisted that the enlargement of Manitoba gave Parliament the right to increase the number of Senators.

The discussion arose upon a resolution offered by the Prime Minister, increasing the representation of Manitoba in the Senate from four to six. Mr. Borden explained that by the act of 1912 enlarging the boundaries of Manitoba; it was provided that that province should be entitled to two additional Senators.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that such increase could not be made without the assent of the Imperial Parliament. When Manitoba was created, her Senatorial representation was fixed under the B.N.A. Act at four, without any provision for an increase in the future. This Parliament had therefore exhausted its powers in the case of Manitoba.

From this view the Prime Minister vigorously dissented. He contended that Parliament had power to increase the representation of a province when its boundaries were enlarged, as in the case of Manitoba, and quoted from the B.N.A. Act as amended in 1886 in support of his contention.

Judge Doherty, A. K. Maclean and Mr. German of Welland debated the subject at some length, and then Mr. Maclean (South York) opened a broadside attack on the Senate which he declared needed reforming rather than enlarging.

After some further discussions, in which Mr. Aikens (Brandon) and Hon. Charles Marcil participated, Mr. Borden's resolution was adopted, and the bill founded upon it was introduced and read the first time. Like procedure was followed in the case of Saskatchewan and Alberta. The increase in British Columbia's representation was not taken up.

Condemns Bi-lingual Schools.

OTTAWA, March 11. — "The bilingual schools are financially a burden, educationally a detriment, and politically a danger to the separate school system," says Rev. Father O'Gorman, a prominent Roman Catholic priest, in a statement issued yesterday.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM ALL BOWEL ILLS

If your bowels are out of order, instead of using some harsh salt or other physic, take a Rexall Orderlie tonight, and tomorrow you will feel great. They taste good and act so easily that there isn't a particle of griping or purging, nor the excessive looseness that follows the taking of salts and most pills. They soothe and strengthen the bowels, promptly relieving the constipation, making it unlikely to occur again.

We don't believe there is any other bowel remedy anywhere near as good, and at the same time so easy and pleasant to take as Rexall Orderlies. We know you will agree with us and believe you will thank us for telling you about them. If they don't satisfy you in every way, come back and tell us and we will give back your money without a word or question. You have no reason to hesitate when we give you the opportunity, as we hereby do, to try them at our risk. In vest pocket tin boxes, 10c, 25c, 50c.

The Electric Steel and Metals Company

WELLAND, CANADA Limited

(INCORPORATED UNDER THE ONTARIO COMPANIES ACT)

7%

CUMULATIVE PREFERENCE STOCK

Preferential as to Capital as well as Dividends

Par value of Shares, $100.00

Subject to redemption at any time after five years from the date of issue, upon three months' notice, and payment of accrued dividends, at $110.00 per share.

Price: Par, with a bonus of 50% Common Stock

Fractional shares of Common Stock will be dealt in at $50 per share

The Electric Steel and Metals Company, Limited, will manufacture the following articles:—Light-weight, high-grade steel castings; manganese and other alloy steel castings; bar steel suitable for rifles; bar steel for rock drills, boring machines, etc.; ingots for forging shops; ingots for tool-steel manufacturers.

After a careful study of the conditions existing in Canada for the last three years, and a report made by Mr. David Carnegie, Consulting Engineer, of London, England, based on a two-months' investigation in the United States and Canada in the early summer of 1913, the following conditions were found to exist:—

That light, high-grade steel castings, which are largely employed in Canada, in the manufacture of almost every class of machinery, were mostly imported from the United States;

That manganese and other alloy steel castings were, almost without exception, imported from the United States and Great Britain:

That bar steel suitable for rifles and for rock drills, boring machines, etc., is not made in Canada, and has to be imported;

That ingots for forgings are nearly all imported from the United States. That ingots for tool-steel manufacturers are not made in Canada, and, there being no duty into the United States on such ingots, they can be exported into that country;

And that all steel castings are subject to a duty of 27½% ad valorem.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE.

Our plant in Welland will be ready for operation about May 1st, 1914, and will have a capacity of 4,000 tons of steel castings per annum. The total cost of this first plant, including organization, site, foundry equipment, electrical furnace, all buildings, labor and engineer's charges, will be under $130,000 by contracts already made by the company. Seventy thousand dollars will be reserved for working capital, making a total outlay of $200,000 for the production above mentioned.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

Hydro-electric power is available at fourteen dollars per horsepower per annum, this price being subject to reduction as the load increases.

Next in importance to the small power cost comes the fact that the Heroult electric furnace can be operated entirely on scrap, and can produce therefrom the very finest quality of steel. We are, therefore, independent of the pig-iron market, which sometimes is oversold.

The Company is also favored with a fixed assessment of $10,000 for a period of twenty years, the taxes on which will not exceed $500 per annum.

The five-ton electric furnace which we are installing will handle five heats per day, and on this basis the plant will produce 4,000 tons of finished castings per annum. In the following estimate of earnings we have based our calculations on a production of three-quarters this capacity, namely, 3,000 tons.

Our earnings are estimated as follows:—

3,000 tons steel castings, selling at $120.00 per ton	$360,000.00
Less cost of production, at $83.00 per ton	249,000.00
	$111,000.00
Less depreciation on plant and machinery	16,000.00
	$ 95,000.00
Less 7% dividend on $200,000 Preferred Stock	14,000.00
Leaving available for Common Stock	$ 81,000.00

The above costs of production and basis of selling prices have all been carefully prepared under the advice of Mr. David Carnegie, and detailed statements may be inspected at the Company's office in Welland.

DIRECTORS:

MR. ROBERT TURNBULL
President, an expert in electric furnace work, and Resident Engineer in America for Dr. P. Heroult, the inventor of the aluminum process and the electric steel furnace which bears his name.

MR J. H. LE FEVRE

Goderich Wants Breakwater.

GODERICH, March 11. — Mayor Reid has been advised that Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, will hear the harbor deputation from Goderich to-morrow, and the party leaves for Ottawa to-day.

Although the estimates brought down a few weeks ago contained $130,000 for harbor work here, it was for construction already begun and previously provided for, and the delegates will urge upon the Cabinet that at least the whole southwest outside breakwater be completed this year.

8 BOXES CURED PSORIASIS

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Comeauon, Ont., writes: "Three doctors described my trouble as psoriasis and one said I could never be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and am entirely cured—not a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

DAILY FASHION HINT.

No. 6,597, Child's Dress.

This ideal dress for play or school life is of sacque cut, held in by a belt at the waist line. It is cut square at the neck, has a side front closing, and bishop sleeves may be short or long. It also has bloomers, which are not too full and which may take the place of all other underwear. These frocks are made of gingham, linen, pongee silk and of plain serge, cheviot and cashmere, as well as novelties.

The dress pattern, No. 6,597, is cut in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. Medium size requires 1¾ yards of 44 inch material and an additional yard the same width for the bloomers.

The pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Awed by the display of soldiery and checked by several cavalry charges, the workmen of Rome have called off their strike.

S. S. Deforest, sheriff of St. John, and one of the best known men in the Province of New Brunswick, died yesterday after a brief illness.

Ex-Police Chief Carpenter of Edmonton has been appointed assistant inspector of Dominion Police for Western Canada, with headquarters at Banff.

Mary Monkman, an aged woman who was found unconscious in her humble home, after suffering from privation and cold, died in the hospital at Galt yesterday.

John Place, Socialist member of the B. C. Provincial Legislature, was found guilty yesterday of unlawful assembly at Nanaimo during the strike troubles last fall.

Beaten and badly disorganized, its leaders in jail, and provided with scanty food and shelter, the "unemployed army," driven from Sacramento, is now encamped in Yolo County, Cal.

Dr. Thomas Morgan Rotch, professor of pediatrics at Harvard, died at his home in Boston, aged 65 years. As an authority on children's diseases he had an international reputation.

Redmond To Hurry Home.

MONTREAL, March 11. — Giving as his reasons for declining to attend the annual banquet here of the St. Patrick's Society on the 17th, that he has to hurry home on account of the present situation, William K. Redmond, M.P., brother of the Irish Nationalist leader, has telegraphed Hon. C. J. Doherty that he cannot accept the Montreal invitation.

Arrested For Murder.

MONTREAL, March 11.—After a search of seven months, Detectives Gorman and Lepage yesterday arrested a negro whom they believe is Walter Briddle, wanted in White Plains, N.Y., on a charge of murdering Charles H. Conklin, ticket agent at Croton Lake station, Westchester County, on April 8, 1911.

EVANTUREL RESIGNS.

He Did Not Wait to Read Letter—Mr. Hanna Is Roused.

TORONTO, March 11.—The Evanturel episode is closed. The member from Prescott has folded his tent and slipped away from the Ontario Legislature. Contrary to general expectations, he did not appear in the House yesterday afternoon, and the crowds which filled the gallery went away disappointed.

The whole affair was over in two minutes by the clock. "I have to inform the House that I am in receipt of the resignation of the member from Prescott," said the speaker in a matter-of-fact tone as he opened the session.

In rising to speak on a point of privilege afterwards, Hon. W. J. Hanna referred to statements that he was under retainer from the Standard Oil Co.

"Ten years ago this month, if my memory serves me right," began Mr. Hanna, "I made a statement in this House, a statement similar to the one that I find it my duty to repeat to-day. Never at any time did I or my firm, or anyone connected with me, receive directly or indirectly one dollar or one cent from the Standard Oil Co. in any way."

Hon. Mr. Hanna then went on to say that the Imperial Oil Co. of Sarnia, for which he had been solicitor since 1897, was a purely Canadian concern which he had served before he ever entered politics. It had never had any matter of any sort brought before the Ontario Government, nor did it conflict in any way with the Government. No assessment law had affected it to the extent of even a cent, because it did not produce but only refined and sold oil.

CRUSHED BY ICE?

Karluk's Fate is Still in Doubt—Party in No Danger.

OTTAWA, March 11.—The opinion seems to be growing that the Stefansson's ship, the Karluk, has been crushed by ice and has been lost. The correspondence which the naval service department has received from the explorer was tabled in the Commons yesterday and it contains two statements which increase the doubts regarding her safety.

Stefansson says: "Most of the strongest whalers that have ever come to the Beaufort sea have been crushed by ice. It seems, therefore, to depend more upon the character of the ice the vessel encounters than upon the vessel's own construction, whether she survives a season in the ice."

Another statement is that the Karluk "is not so strong as other vessels." Stefansson considers that "her men are in no grave danger." He thinks that if the vessel was crushed the crew would be able to find their way ashore.

"Ultimate prospects of success still good," he says further. "Believe Karluk on Polar drift unless already reported to you. Rewards have been offered the natives for any information concerning Karluk."

Stefansson adds that a relief expedition would be worse than useless, but he asks the Department to notify all circumpolar countries to instruct the natives that shipwrecked men may arrive from the Polar sea.

In a letter to the Department, written from Point Barrow, Alaska, under date of Oct. 24, Stefansson reports that when he left the Karluk she was in sound condition, and had come through the summer ice without the slightest mishap. She was provisioned for three years. There were on board altogether twenty-five persons, including the crew, five Eskimos and six scientific members of the expedition.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

Tidal Wave In Madagascar.

PARIS, March 11.—The Minister of the Colonies last night received a cable despatch from the Governor-General of Madagascar saying that a cyclone and tidal wave devastated the northwest region of the island March 2. Sixteen persons were killed and a number of vessels sunk at their moorings, including the schooners Marsouin and Jeanne d'Arc. Hundreds of buildings also were destroyed or seriously damaged.

He'd Better Have Waited.

STEVESTON, B.C., March 11.—Terrified by the possibility of missing the New Westminster-bound tram car and having an hour to wait for another a Japanese Monday morning over-exerted in running to the car, collapsed as he sank into a seat. The body was taken to Vancouver and left at the morgue, where an inquest will be held by Coroner Jeffs.

THE MERCHANTS TREASURE BOX

$200 To be Given Away by the Merchants and Examiner

ON

THURSDAY, MARCH 12th

A slight change has been made in the manner of giving away the Treasure Box Bonuses, and the Treasure Box Fund has been resolved into an ESTIMATING CONTEST in which every purchaser of One Dollar or more may participate. With every dollar purchase an estimating blank will be given on which purchasers are asked to write their Name and Address and the Number they estimate on the following question—

How Many of the Blanks given with Dollar Day Bargains will be filled in and put in the Ballot Box at Examiner Office by 10.15 p.m. on Thurs., Dollar Day

For your information, and as an aid in making your estimate, we may say that the Examiner is printing for the Merchants 36,000 Estimating Blanks, and may have to print more if any Store runs short, so that the number printed may run as high 50,000. Estimate what number you think will be actually used and put it on your blank. If you have more than one blank you can make as many estimates as you have blanks.

Bring your estimates to the Examiner Office and drop in the Ballot Box. The nearest correct estimate will be awarded the first bonus of $20.00, the second nearest the second bonus of $15.00, and so on. Should there be a tie between any number of estimators for first or any other bonus, the money will be divided equally between those entitled to it. For instance, if two were a tie for first bonus, the first and second bonus would be divided equally between them.

Big Bargains for everyone, and you may get a bonus in addition if your estimate is one of the 89 nearest correct.

See the money in Neill's Centre Window. The Cash Bonuses will be as follows:

1 Bonus of	- - - -	$20.00
1 Bonus of	- - - -	$15.00
3 Bonuses of	- - - -	$10.00
4 Bonuses of	- - - -	$5.00
5 Bonuses of	- - - -	$3.00
25 Bonuses of	- - - -	$2.00
50 Bonuses of	- - - -	$1.00

THE FOLLOWING MERCHANTS will issue estimating blanks with every One Dollar Purchase on Dollar Day.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

LOOKING FOR SYMPATHY

As she entered the room the bride had a beautiful expression of tragedy upon her dimpled countenance. To her disgust her mother did not notice her tragic expression.

"Good morning, dear," remarked her mother. "Got your work done so soon? It seems rather early for you to be out!"

"Oh, it's done," said the bride, coldly. "At least as much as it's going to be done—by me."

"Now, don't begin skimping on your housework!" protested her mother. "It's your duty to—"

"I hate duty!" burst out the bride, slinging down her muff and dabbing at her hatpin. "It's all a failure! I—"

"I dont want to hear anything about it,' declared her mother, firmly. "You should never, never talk about your husband to outsiders!"

"B-b-but J-j-jimmy doesn't l-l-ove me any m-m-more!" cried the bride, bursting into tears.

Her mother sighed with relief. "Oh, is that all?" she breathed, cheerfully. "I thought it might be something serious!"

"Serious!" almost shrieked the bride, ceasing to dab her eyes. "I'd like to know whats more serious than to be m-married to a man and find out at last that he doesn't l-love you?"

"Lots of things!" her mother assured her hardheartedly. "Bills—and spoiled pies—and toothache!"

"I'm sure I don't understand what you mean!" said the bride, stiffy.

"What did Jimmy do?' inquired the bride's mother.

The bride let the tragic expression submerge her countenance again. "Oh, it's just an accumulation of little things," she said. "But I am not stupid—it's been enough to show me how his affection has waned. And I'm not going to hang around around patiently like some

HAD TO STOP WORK FROM THE PAIN

Suffered Ten Years Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

ST. THOMAS, ONT., May 22nd, 1913.
"I was troubled for ten years with the most distressing Constipation and Indigestion of the worst form.
No one could have been worse with these troubles than I was for this long time.
The pain from Indigestion was so severe that many times, I have had to stop work and lie down until the acute spasms passed away.
I took a lot of medicine—in fact, I guess I took about everything that was advertised—and gave them all a fair test—but got no relief. About a year ago, however, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives". I am mighty glad I did so for they seem to be made exactly for me.
They gave results in a very short time and I am now free from these diseases and enjoying perfect health.
My wife also used "Fruit-a-tives" and we both think they are the best medicine ever made."
Z. J. EDGEWORTH.

wives. Why, before we were married we never found time to tell each other all the things we had to talk about! We used to talk for hours and hours! And now—why, Jimmy reads the paper after dinner and he reads it at breakfast—and if I try to tell him things he says, 'Huh?' and never hears a word of it. He isn't a particle interested.

"I had the most exciting things to tell him about the family across the hall from us! Why that man doesn't go downtown days till afternoon! He must be a burglar or something horrid! And even if it wasn't interesting to him just because I was telling it! It isn't polite of him! And that isn't the worst! This morning—he went away without kissing me good-bye."

"Now, indeed, I am satisfied with your marriage," her mother said placidly, while her daughter gasped in wrath. "Don't you know that when a man begins to be forgetful of the trivial trimmings of courtship is shows that he has settled down so firmly and contentedly in the shackles of matrimony that he's never going to try to get free? Why, he'd even forget to breathe if nature didn't attend to that for him! Pooh! for your sorrows."

"It strikes me," said her daughter with great dignity, "that you are very unsympathetic!"

"I am," said her mother. "Jimmy was probably so busy planning how to make some money to buy you a few things you want that he had no time to think of a mere kiss! Doesn't he all pay the rent promptly and hand over your housekeeping allowance on the dot and take you to the theatre and tell you it was a good dinner?"

"That's all so sordid," sniffed the bride. "I'd rather be remembered to tell me that he loved me!"

"What a lot you have to learn!" said her mother, pityingly. "Here you have an ideal husband and yet you're making a row! You haven't a bit of sense! Go home and do your dusting and make your dessert for dinner. I'd make an apple pie—Jimmy's so fond of apple pie."

"I suppose I'll have to face it," said the bride, with a heavy sigh. "I suppose I'll have to be like all other poor married women with the poetry of romance all gone out of their lives and everything humdrum and horrid! I never can feel the same toward Jimmy."

"Of coure not," agreed her mother. "If you're married 50 years you'll feel differently each day of the 50 and I'd be ashamed of you if you didn't. Like him better, I mean. Fiffle! for your troubles. Run along with your mousseline!"

"I'd no idea my own mother could be so horrid and unsympathetic!" said the bride, rising with great dignity and reaching for her hat. "Why, even Jimmy is better!"

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system.
Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.
Mr. James Wills, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

NERVES ARE SORE AND PAINFUL

Neuritis, or inflammation of the nerves, is the most painful of nervous ailments. You may feel too soreness or tenderness throughout the body, or it may be confined to certain nerves. In the head it is called neuralgia; in the hips and legs, sciatica; in the face, tic doloreux, and in the chest, intercostal neuralgia.
The application of dry heat affords relief from the lance-like pains, but the essential thing is to build up the exhausted nervous system by the persistent use of such a restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You will have other symptoms to warn you of the depleted condition of the nervous system, and this is your opportunity to restore to the body the energy and vigour of health.
While this great food cure is restilling new vitality into the starved nerve cells it is also forming new, firm flesh and tissue, and, by noting your increase in weight, you can prove beyond doubt the benefit being obtained by its use. This is Nature's way of curing diseases of the nerves, and it is the only way to obtain lasting benefit.

Pert Personals.

Says a Mexican paper, "John Lind quoted as saying," etc. A rank fake on the face of it. Lind can't talk.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Just think! If the worst should come to pass the newspapers would have to be printing pictures of Villa in a dress suit.—Mexican Herald.

Shaw's latest play has been pronounced "utter nonsense," from which it is obvious that George Bernard is still maintaining his batting average.—Washington Post.

Shaw's Literary Morals.

George Bernard Shaw, in an interview respecting German criticisms of plagiarism, thus defined his position:

"If I find in a book anything I can make use of, I take it gratefully. My plays are full of pillage of this kind. Shakespeare, Dickens, Conan Doyle, Oscar Wilde, all is fish that comes to my net. In short, my literary morals are those of Moliere."

Free Anti-Toxins.

From now on every child suffering from diphtheria, or any child exposed to this infection, will be given sufficient units of anti-toxin to combat the disease free of charge by the city of Edmonton.

Newest in Boas.

The newest wrinkle in boas is the straight, flat strip of fox skin, finished at both ends with four dangling paws. The pelt is never dyed, but is worn in the same state as when it warmed the original wearer, and above all others the bright tawny coat of the so called red fox is favored. If you don't care for red fox get an ostrich boa two and a half yards long.

Radway's Ready Relief

S. E. Hubbard of Moffat, Ont., writes: "I had muscular rheumatism six weeks. Had three doctors, but did not get much relief. A friend induced me to try R. R. R. and sent me two bottles. In twenty minutes after the first application I could turn in bed with ease. Have used two bottles and am well."

Rheumatism
Apply the Relief externally to the part or parts affected, as briskly as circumstances will permit. Benefit will also be derived from Radway's Pills, their alterative action tends to purify and to give tone to the blood. Where the glands are swollen, stiff or contracted the Relief, with sweet oil, is an admirable liniment.
RADWAY & Co., Montreal, Can.

Electric Sparks.

At Goteborg, Sweden, the cost of an electric lamp is only $2 a year.

According to a French experimenter, the temperature of the carbon filament in an ordinary incandescent lamp approaches 2,900 degrees.

Experiments by a large telephone company have proved that 1,800 wires can be crowded into the same size cable heretofore used for only 1,200 wires without impairing their efficiency.

Laundry Lines.

Soaking in buttermilk overnight will bleach clothes that have become yellow.

After washing blankets and they have dried beat them thoroughly with an ordinary carpet beater. This makes the wool light and soft again and gives a new appearance.

When ironing sprinkle powdered orris root under the ironing sheet, and this imparts a delicate perfume to the freshly laundered clothing and flat linen that is very agreeable.

Ornaments Outvote Marksmen.

LONDON, March 7. — Regarding the pending poll of ten members of the National Rifle Association council, some trenchant criticism is appearing concerning the alleged anomalous position of those who support the association by shooting at meetings. It is contended that under the existing conditions, marksmen who spend a total of twenty-five thousand pounds a year in competitors' fees, etc., are bound to be out-voted by ornamental members, who, through their riches are enabled to buy a permanent vote and membership. The shooting community, which finds the bulk of the expenses, it is said, only possess a fourth of the total voting powers.

Wives' Discoveries.

Mrs. A.—Men are so queer after the honeymoon. If you tell them your love is growing cold they don't even glance up from their newspapers.

Mrs. X.—No, but tell them the soup is growing cold and they jump about on feet.—New York Globe.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.
Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
Put your faith — just once — in "Ely's Cream Balm," and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

GEORGE STREET EPWORTH LEAGUE

Held a Very Successful Meeting on Monday Evening—Will Visit St. Paul's

The George St. Epworth League held a very successful meeting on Monday evening. The programme was in the hands of the Junior League, and they are to be congratulated upon the way they carried out the evening's entertainment. The chairman was Mr. Clarnce McKee, the president of the Junior Leaguers, and he performed his duties in an exemplary manner. A very attractive programme, which included the following items, was listened to by a fairly large and appreciative audience.

Speech on General Wolfe—Dewart Lewis.

Instrumental Solo—Florence Johnson.

Speech on Lord Strathcona—Harold Copp.

Instrumental Duet — Mabel and Mary Gardiner.

Speech on Archibald Lampman — Kathleen Fanning.

Vocal Duet—Gertie Stewart and Ruby Young.

Paper on Pauline Johnson—Irene Kaapman.

Vocal Solo—Ruby Young.

Speech—The Requirements of the Junior League—The President.

The league is invited next Monday evening to St Paul's League. All leaguers are requested to meet at George St. Church at 7:45 sharp.

IN SESSION AT CALGARY

Special to The Examiner:

CALGARY, Alta, March 11.—Several hundred deelgates assembled here to-day for the annual convention of the Rural Municipalities' Association of Alberta. The sessions will continue three days and will be devoted to the consideration of a wide variety of problems relating to the improvement and welfare of the rural towns and districts.

ANNIVERSARY OF GREAT FLOOD

Special to The Examiner:

SHEFFIELD, Eng., March 11 — Memorial exercises were held to-day in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the great flood here in 1864. The flood was caused by the bursting of the Bradfield reservoir. Whole villages in the vicinity were swept away by the rushing waters and 240 persons were drowned.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Special Wire to The Examiner:

ST. PAUL, Min., March 11.—The campaign for St. Paul's first primaries since the adoption of the commission plan of municipal government closes this week. On Tuesday next the primaries will be held for the nomination of candidates for mayor, councilmen, city controller, municipal judge and justices of the peace. Those receiving the most votes in the primaries will get their names on the ballot at the final election in May. Eleven candidates are contesting for the mayoralty nomination. Owing to the unusually large number of candidates contesting in the primaries it will be necessary to issue the ballots in two sections.

WILL LECTURE ON PROGRESS OF ART

Mr. J. W. Beatty Will Visit Peterborough

Lovers of art in Peterborough are to have the pleasure of hearing Mr. J. W. Beatty deliver a lecture on "The Progress of Art in Canada." Mr. Beatty, who is a member of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art, will give his address under the auspices of the Women's Art Association, in the studio, in the Public Library building, on Thursday evening, March 12th at 8.15 o'clock. This lecture is spoken of with much enthusiasm by the Toronto branch of the W. A. A. and it is hoped that all members and their friends will be present.

In Regard To Immigration

An Interesting Letter From an "Average Immigrant"

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—As a reader of The Examiner I shall be obliged if you will allow me a little space to make a few comments on one particular part of "Western Observer's" letter, in yesterday's Examiner re "The Average Immigrant." I have every reason to think that it must be man who, to use his own expression, is suffering from the effects of a "Rip Van Winkle" sleep. To summarize his remarks on the "average immigrant", and he means I presume, those who hail from the British Isles, I am glad to see that his mind must be wandering away back centuries to the old slave days, and that we "average immigrants" are some lucky fugitives from a blighted, poverty-stricken, disconsolate and homeless country. Yes, indeed, that is the only conclusion I can arrive at when he says the average immigrant does not know what a good home or a good job is until he migrates to this country and who, he says "Jack is as good as his master." I most respectfully ask him—"where?" I call it nothing less than an insult and a slur. I should like to inform this "Great Observer" that I left a good home and a good job to migrate across the pond. And am I alone? No, sir. I do not hesitate when I say hundreds of thousands have done it and paid their fifty dollars to the shipping companies who lured them then, and are doing it now, by their glaring illustrations, by their moving-picture shows, etc., etc., depicting the enormous wealth and prosperity of this great country. Now he says that men will not work on a farm at a reasonable wage. What does he call a reasonable wage, I ask? Whether he would call the following reasonable I do not know: I know of a case where an experienced farm hand was lured here by that "thirty dollars a month gag," and had a wife and three children to keep in the Old Country and was ultimately hired by a farmer for the magnificent salary of seven dollars a month; and yet we have been asked "Why don't you "chirpers" stay on the farms?" Well, sir, I'll leave that question to answer itself, and yield to "better" judgment, and should like to hear the opinions of other "average immigrants" on that point.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, you will find space for this, I am, yours truly,

Arthur White.

PARISIENNES UNDERTAKE WAR ON INDECENT DRESS

Society Leaders in France Have Leagued Together to Abolish Use of Garments Contrary to Decency.

A BLOW AT FASHIONS

PARIS, March 11.—The Patriotic League of French Women has taken the initiative in a campaign against indecency in dress. A manifesto was issued yesterday to society women, signed by Vicomtesse de Velard, Marquise de Montaigu, Marquise de J'Aigne, Mme. Delacourt, Marquise de Mouchiete, Countesse de Villelo, and Duchess de Mailie, and is in response to injunctions recently read by some bishops and Cardinal Amette on women to league together and abolish the use of garments which are contrary to decency. "We ask," says the manifesto, "all elegant and young women who set the tone in France not only not to yield to but combine courageously against the present tendency by precept and example. What they do other women of more modest condition who have their eyes fixed upon them will do in their turn. Let us also not forget that we must have a care for the reputation which France has hitherto borne for elegance and taste. All who desire to join the movement are requested to register their names at the offices of the league, with a view to bringing pressure to bear on the principal couturiers and big establishments.

The secretary of the league, a good-looking woman in a black dress, with which not even the most rabid reformer could have found fault, explained the situation thus: "Fashion has gone beyond all bounds. We intend to react. The youngest and prettiest leaguers are to head the movement, and we shall force the chief fashion establishments to confine their ideas within more decent limits, so that a woman who desires to be modest need not find herself compelled to be indecent."

OFFICERS KILLED BY BURGLARS

Montreal Policemen Jump into a Sleigh and Are Fatally Shot by Desperadoes, Who Make Their Escape.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

MONTREAL, P.Q., March 11. — Jumping into a sleigh to arrest four burglars on a suburban road, Constables Honore Bourdon and Auguste Guyon, of the local police force, were shot and fatally wounded by these men who threw them out to the side of the road where they were found some time afterwards my fellow policemen. Surgeons were called and stated that the policemen could not live, and Father Renaud, of Notre Dame College, administered the last rites of the church to the dying officers. They passed away shortly afterwards in the Royal Victoria Hospital. In the meantime the murderers had got clear away, though three suspects were arrested this afternoon by the police who are scouring the country in autos and sleighs looking for them.

TO AFFORD RAILWAY MEN CHANCE TO VOTE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, March 11.—Before the Elections Committee of the House of Commons to-day Harvey Hall, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, brought forward the suggestion that in view of the fact that few railway men or commercial travellers had an opportunity of casting ballots at the general elections, as they were away from home, that special ballot boxes be arranged for such men at all the terminal stations. No action was taken but the Committee has it under consideration.

The Number of Distilleries In The Dominion

In a recent debate in the House of Commons it was brought out that there are fourteen distilleries in Canada, nine in Ontario, four in Quebec, and one in British Columbia. There are twenty-eight malt houses in connection with breweries. There are fifty-four breweries, two hundred and sixty-one cigar manufacturers, seventy-four tobacco manufacturers and twenty-one vinegar manufacturers. There have been forty-one new cigar manufactories opened in Canada since April 1st last, many of them in Quebec.

The list of distilleries is given as follows:

The H. Corby Distillery Company, Limited, at Corbyville, near Belleville; Joseph E. Seagram, Waterloo; William Marshall, Hamilton; the John A. McLaren Estate, Perth; Spalding and Stewart, Perth; J. P. Weiser and Sons, Limited, Prescott; Gooderham and Worts, Limited, Toronto; General Distilling Company, Limited, Toronto; Hiram Walker and Sons, Limited, Walkerville; the Melchers Gin and Spirits Distillery, Company, Limited, Berthierville; Montreal Products Company, Limited, Montreal; the Robitaille, Eureka Distillery Company, Limited, Beauport (closed now); the St. Hyacinthe Distillery Company, Limited, St. Hyacinthe; British Columbia Distillery Company, Limited, New Westminster.

TWO LIVES LOST IN LINDSAY FIRE

Shack in Which John Madison Lived is Destroyed by the Flames —Others Are Burned.

A TRAGIC OCCURRENCE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LINDSAY, Ont., March 11.—John Madison and his baby daughter were fatally burned and died shortly afterwards, and Mrs. Madison with three children and her mother, were also burned more or less when fire last night destroyed the dilapidated hovel in which they lived in this town. Most of the inmates slept upstairs, which was little more than a loft. The firemen took the victims out from among burning rags and papers used to cover up the cracks in the roof. Mrs. Madison said her husband demanded a match when her returned home last night, and it is supposed that the sulphurous head of the match flew off among the rags. Madison was a well-known character around town, and was called "Friday" Madison. Both he and the baby were terribly burned.

SENATOR BOSTOCK

Probable New Liberal Leader in the Canadian Senate — Hon. Hewitt Bostock, M.A. (Cambridge), Liberal Senator for Kamloops, who will likely succeed the late Sir George Ross, is a man of fifty years of age, with a fine presence, and with good powers as a speaker and debator. He graduated from Cambridge in 1885 and was called to the Bar at Lincoln's Inn in 1888. He went to British Columbia in 1893, where he took up fruit ranching at Monte Creek. He is a fellow of the Royal Colonial Institute and of the Royal Agricultural Society. He was elected to the House of Commons at the general elections of 1896 and summoned to the Senate in June 6, 1904, so that he has had long Parliamentary experience.

MISS DEVLIN FINDS THE PRESENT STYLE MOST BECOMING OF ALL

Famous Actress Favours Simplicity as Giving Greater Liberty to Feminine Form—"What Matters, She Says, is Not the Dress, But What is Inside of It"

Good taste in the sense which attach to the expression sugests ideas of selection, delicate shading, and extreme sensitiveness. There is one figure which is evoked immediately by this expression—that of the woman in whom all these subtle qualities are united, the actress, who gives reality to them on the stage, and has been able to endow these with that air of distinction which springs not from style alone, but from her thought.

"When we desire to criticise prevailing fashion," said Miss Doyle, "we would perhaps do better to limit our criticism to those who know neither how to interpret styles nor adopt them. In every age fashions have been the habit of ridicule, for they always fall a prey to exaggeration. But on the other hand, I believe there have always been women able to follow the fashions without making them selves ugly. Our modern travesties are not now. But even in the epoch of the most exaggerated styles, at the end of the 18th century, when fur-below, hoopskirt, monumental head-dresses, the powder and all the rest, left nothing to be seen of a woman beyond a little paint and patch covered face, in that epoch when grand dames could not enter carriages without removing plumes, we see portraits by Chardin which, while preserving the style of the period, show us pretty little persons whose modest grace entrances us."

"Every style, as a mater of fact, tries to enhance one of the beauties of woman, declares Miss Doyle. The eighteenth century, so elegantly corrupt, cared not about trying to reveal this beauty in its entirety. Showing the upper part of the bust, shoulders, face and arms emerging from filmy lace, it reserved for coquetry the refined advantage of successive revelations.

But I seem to be pleading the cause of styles abolished, against those of the present day. My personal taste inclines, however, not to the uncomfortable gowns of other days, but to the simple, supple toilettes, those which leave the body its liberty, its rhythm. It is toward the simple effects the course of fashion seem to be going nowadays, which I advocate. But just as the hand of the clock must go to the end of its course before it can begin again, the styles must reach the limit of excess and ridicule before it begins the evolution toward a new one; so after the draperies, narrow skirt, we have the sheath, hobble skirts and, even worse. Who can compile the martyrs of fashions?

"Let us then be not slaves; let us rather adopt fashions to our faculties, to our situation in life. The fashions of the day, like those in the olden days, may be graceful and piquant. I find the present fashions most becoming of all; which proves, that, taking all in all, what counts in the matter of garb is not the dress but what is inside of it." And this every one will agree to, with Miss Doyle, after witnessing her performance in "Nobody's Daughter." She wears the latest creations of the dress making art. It is solely the creation of the superb character of the artist that she is, that charms, and not the royal raiment that she displays.

The Budget Speech Will Be Out Soon

OTTAWA, Ont., March 11.—It is expected that Hon. W. T. White will deliver his budget speech in a few days before the close of the fiscal year which ends on March 31. That will enable him to give practically complete resume of the year's operations. Although the Minister is receiving many demands for tariff increases and changes, it is not expected that he will have many alterations in the present schdule of duties to announce.

Either Clean Up Or Quit Praying Said Rev. Pugsley

Evangelist Pugsley spoke to a large congregation at the Park Street Baptist Church last night, where he is conducting special evangelistic services this week. He is a forceful preacher, and has gained a high regard in the Peterborough district, where he has conducted a number of a similar series. Last night he spoke particularly on prayer, and in each of his sermons touched only upon the old truths of the Gospel. He compared prayer to a letter in the mail. There are four essentials to its sure delivery. First, it must be pure in thought; second, it must be plainly addressed; third, it must be properly addressed; and, fourth, it must show the stamp of the holy spirit. Rev. Pugsley gave scriptural quotations in connection with each of these points. Our petitions must be addressed in the name of Jesus, whatever we ask in His name shall be granted. They must be offered in faith. We must have implicit faith. Without faith it is impossible to please God. Either clean up or quit praying was the strong exhortation of ev. Mr. Pugsley. Mr. G. W. Mulligan and a male quartette sang very acceptably. A special sermon will be delivered this evening. A general welcome is extended to the public to attend these services.

Watch for the Balloons Over Oak Hall To-morrow Forenoon, Afternoon and Evening

ESTIMATES WERE TRIMMED DOWN IN COMMITTEE

"It's Just as Much a Question of Dare We Afford Not to Do It as Can We Afford to Do It" Said Ald. Green.

ONE MAN APPOINTED

It was a battle of the estimates. Personalities, threats, and a very much dog-eared list of estimated featured the proceedings at last night's meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. Mayor Buller, supported by his right bower, Ald. Saunders, assumed a belligerent attitude early in the meeting and undertook to oppose increases that tended to exceed last year's appropriation. Ald. Saunders had a busy night. In fact he worked harder at last night's meeting than at any previous meeting during his aldermanic career, which extends over a period of nine weeks. His chief ambition consisted of seconding Mayor Buller's motions and otherwise strengthening the hand of his chief like a dutiful student of municipal politics. It was evident that the oyster supper that was held a few nights ago by the members of the City Council failed to produce the harmony that might be expected. Last night, diplomacy was scattered to the winds, when Mayor Buller threatened to vote the estimates because they provided for the appointment of an additional fireman.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Green (chairman), Aldermen Bolfus, Anderson, Stratton, Saunders and His Worship Mayor Buller.

Fire Alarm System.

The expenditure of $1,760 for the purpose of operating the fire alarm telegraph system was eliminated. Ald. Green, chairman of the Board, explained that he had arranged with the Bell Telephone for an additional supply of power, sufficient to meet the requirements for some years to come, should a contingency occur. A short time ago the Bell Telephone Company informed the committee that they would be unable to take care of the fire alarm system, owing to increased demands upon their service. The present arrangement referred to by Ald. Green, provides for an additional supply of power should it be needed. The company practically agree, if necessary, to instal a new battery at a cost approximating $300. The cost to the City will be a rental charge of ten per cent. on the initial outlay. It was at first believed that the department would have to resort to the old gravity battery system of generating current with which to operate the fire alarm system.

The Hose Waggon.

The hose waggon will be painted at a cost of $60. The original estimate fo. this was $75. The smaller estimate will mean that a smaller amount of gold leaf will decorate No. 1 hose waggon.

Sleep in the Fire Hall.

Chief Howard in expressing his wish to attend the Fire Chief's convention, which is to be held in New Orleans this year, said that he had always tried to keep pace with the times as regards his work and profession. The convention constituted a school for fire chiefs.

Ald. Stratton—"Don't you think that it would be sufficient if you attended the convention every other year?"

"There should be a Canadian Fire Chief's convention," observed Mayor Buller. "The International Fire Chief's convention is too far away."

Chief Howard replied that there was a Canadian Fire Chief's convention, but he did not think that the convention was large enough to justify the City paying the expenses for the purpose of attending it. He preferred to attend the International convention.

"It should be Canadianized," said the Mayor. "Canada made and Canada taken should be our motto," he added.

Chief Howard—"Give me a hundred dollars and I'll attend the Canadian Fire Chief's convention which is to be held in Stratford this year."

"It shouldn't require a hundred dollars," countered the Mayor. "Twenty-five dollars ought to be sufficient."

"You can sleep in some fire hall," supplied Ald. Stratton.

The item of one hundred dollars for convention expenses was struck out.

Some one remarked that the treasury could not withstand such an appropriation to which Ald. Green replied that it was not a question of means. It was the bounden duty of the Council to keep down expenses on all occasions.

Another Team Wanted.

An appropriation of three hundred dollars for an exercise waggon was re-

AVIATORS' FATAL DROP

Examiner Special.

LONDON, Eng., March 11—Salisbury Plain, where Downer was killed yesterday, was the scene of two more army aviation fatalities to-day, when Captain Clement Allen and Lieut. J. E. Burroughs were dropped several hundred feet, in sight of the big crowd. They apparently lost control of the steering gear.

FIVE MINISTERS CALLED IN BARRIE PRESBYTERY

The Call From Springville—Peterboro' Presbytery Was Considered —Rev. G. I. Craw Will Accept

COMMISSION APPOINTED

BARRIE, March 11. — Five calls came before Barrie Presbytery at its meeting here yesterday. The call of Rev. J. H. Graham of Banks, to Rosemont, was approved; also the call of Rev. R. J. Sturgeon of Angus, to Bethel and North Normandy, in Saugeen Presbytery. Rev. W. H. Hanna, late of Mount Forest, will be inducted to Cookstown charge March 24, and Mr. George McDonald, a graduate of Knox College, comes to Coldwater. The call from Springville, Peterborough Presbytery, to Rev. G. I. Craw of Thornton will be taken up at next meeting, but Mr. Craw has signified his intention of accepting. Rev. Dr. D. D. McLeod of St. Andrew's Church, Barrie, was nominated for Moderator of the General Assembly.

A commission, with Dr. McLeod as convener, was appointed to visit Bracebridge in connection with the affairs of that congregation.

Wonderful Picture At The Grand

One of the greatest films ever seen in Peterborough is the Kleine feature "Antony and Cleopatra," at the Grand Opera House. A total cast numbering more than 7,500 people all appear in the picture, which is remarkably alike in its clearness and in the manner in which the wonderful story is revealed. It is impossible to do justice to the picture in the columns of a newspaper. Scene after scene of intense dramatic interest, all wonderful scenic effects, are thrown upon the screen. The attack on Alexandria, the burning of the city, and the battle between the forces of Antony and Octavius are vividly depicted.

EXPRESS AND PARCEL POST.

The Express Companies of the Dominion are not likely to fail for lack of business or lack of profit. There are, according to the Dominion government report, nine express companies operating in this country over an area covering 32,557 miles, as compared with 30,645 in 1912, and 27,585 in 1911. Their gross receipts in 1913 reached $12,827,478, as against $10,994,420 in the previous year. The operating expenses in 1913 amounted to $5,743,544, as against $4,880,120 in the year before. They also paid $5,709,408 for express privileges on railways and enjoyed a balance over gross payments of $7,119,070. These figures indicate that the express companies are getting along very comfortably. It is also evident that there is enough profit in the carrying business to permit the Postmaster-General to secure terms for carrying parcels by post to be able to do so as cheaply as the express companies, which is not now done in certain zones. Express companies are commercial enterprises and must pay dividends or they would not be in business. But the post office is supposed to be maintained in the public interests. It need not necessarily do more than pay expenses, and even if a deficit should be incurred in making parcel post a real convenience and advantage to the public, that would be only giving the public some return in the way of advantages from the taxes they contribute to the public treasury. A parcel post system that cannot compete with the express companies in the matter of rates is not likely to be useful or popular.

A FOOLISH FREAK.

We admire the enterprise and "go" of the breezy West, but these are sometimes carried to freakish excess. The City of Edmonton, the most northern provincial capital, is undertaking a far more strenuous work than Mr. Rowell. He proposes to abolish the bar, but the Edmonton Solomons propose abolishing the press. The oratorical aldermen do not get enough publicity from the common, every-day newspaper and will establish a "Municipal Gazette," to be issued weekly, to publish reports of Council proceedings. It is estimated that the cost of printing this magazine—this safety vault for aldermanic oratory—will be $12,000 per year, representing, at 4 per cent., a capital investment of $300,000. How would that strike Mayor Buller? Of course the City Council will save the cost of advertising in the real newspapers, and the aldermen will, perhaps, get more wind in type; but will the people be better served? Will the reports printed in the official civic Gazette be satisfactory to the people? The newspapers are the real guardians of the public interests, in the matter of reporting Council proceedings. The tendency of the newspaper reports is to expose wrong doing and inefficient work, and furnish basis for criticism, while the tendency of the official Gazette will be to subordinate or slur over, or conceal what the civic legislators would like to have concealed, and the people would like to know. The proposal is a foolish one, and the Edmonton Official Gazette will have a short life. Nothing can replace the newspaper, if the public interests are to be adequately served. An aldermanic body that wants to draw the blinds will naturally be credited with having something to conceal. Aldermen who expect to abolish the press as a factor in dealing with municipal intelligence, reason—if they can be admitted to reason—like the man who still believes the earth is flat.

FALSE ECONOMY.

While it is desirable to have the money the citizens pay in the form of taxes, economically administered, economy must be exercised with reasonable regard to efficiency. There are cases where liberal expenditure is the truest economy and cases where limited expenditure is waste. In nothing more than in our Fire Department is there wisdom and even necessity of gauging expenditure so as to secure effectiveness. Liberal expenditure to this end, is real saving. With an efficiently equipped and manned fire department the city insurance rate thereby secured, means a saving of thousands of dollars to the citizens. Deterioration of our Fire Department that would save a few hundreds of dollars would, by increasing the insurance rate, penalise the citizens to the amount of thousands of dollars. Considerations like these are so self-evidently reasonable that insistence upon them is not necessary.

Peterborough has, perhaps, the lowest record for fire loss of any city in the Dominion. This is due in large measure to the effectiveness of our Fire Department; in some degree to better character of our buildings; and, according to the Fire Chief, the collection of garbage and rubbish and its removal from private premises has a good deal to do with securing immunity from fire. With all these aids, we must provide for maintaining the efficiency of our Fire Department.

Mayor Buller is to be commended for a desire to keep down expenses, but he and the aldermen who think with him in this regard are not justified in applying undue economy to the Fire Department, with a possibility of making it less efficient. It may be a good aim to keep the rate of taxation down to a certain arbitrary figure; but this should not be done at the expense of the interests of the people. Arbitrary opposition to the increase of the fire force to the point our growth demands, in face of the recommendation of the committee who have studied the subject, does not seem to be a reasonable position to take. The fact that the Mayor sees the advisability of increasing the force, provided the appointment does not increase the rate beyond 25 mills, indicates that a name for economy is considered of more importance than efficiency of the civic service.

We have a good Fire Department, a low insurance rate on account of it; and, on account of it, very largely we have fires kept well under control, with a minimum of fire loss. The city is growing, and in the interests of everybody, its fire protection must be kept up to the mark. By cheese paring, the cost of the Department might be reduced to, say, $10,000, but a $100,000 fire loss would be too big a price to pay for excess of economy. We should be as economical as possible, but in a reasonable way, and economy at the expense of good civic service, is not reasonable nor in the public interest.

THE PROBLEMS OF THE FARMERS

Owing to the failure of the agricultural development of the Province to keep up with the increased population, the government of British Columbia, months ago, appointed a commission to investigate the problems of the farmer. This report has now been presented to the Legislature.

The Commission proposes a provincial credit association, representing the government, to make loans to farmers on improvements, on moderate terms. It also proposes a revision of the taxation plan now in vogue, the new idea being to exempt farm improvements from taxation.

The commission proposes to employ prison labour in the manufacture of tile drains, and in lime quarrying, and to pay the prisoners for their work while so employed.

It advocates an extension of the rural telephone system through provincial aid.

Contract system on public roads.

Development of cooperative buying and selling by farmers.

The enlargement of agricultural education.

Government aid for central markets.

The commission advocates a system of agricultural credit in which the Legislature would authorise the provincial minister of finance to borrow each year a large amount by the issue of stock debentures bearing interest at not more than four per cent. and having a currency of 30½ years; this money to be loaned to farmers for permanent improvements on their land and for other productive purposes." The minimum loan would be $250 and the maximum $10,000. It is suggested that the Government give direct aid in the matter of fertilisers.

"The Government is to experiment on public land to determine the best methods to be adopted for clearing and cultivating, and give demonstrations in the use of explosives and stumping machines.

A law is proposed providing for the killing of dogs which are found killing sheep, or which are found straying between sunset and sunrise.

The day wage on the public roads is to be abolished and replaced by the contract system.

It is urged that farm improvements be exempted from taxation without delay.

Ontario is supposed to have done much for her agriculturists, but the fact that the rural population is declining in some parts of the Province would seem to indicate that there is need of more vigorous efforts for the stimulation of agriculture than have yet been taken. There has been a surfeit of commissions, goodness knows, but with the provincial department of agriculture in the incompetent hands it is at present, one more, to work along the lines of that recently appointed in British Columbia, might be a good investment. — Brantford Expositor.

SHAMROCK DAY.

Saturday next, March 14th, will be "Shamrock Day" in Peterborough, a "runner-up" to the real Shamrock Day, Tuesday, 17th. On that day (Saturday) the members of St. Peter's Ladies' Aid Society will invade the streets with offerings of Shamrocks for sale in the interest of the funds of their charity — to help heal and feed the poor—the funds of St. Vincent's Orphanage, St. Joseph's Hospital and House of Providence. No nobler way can be found to rightly celebrate the day of the Patron Saint of Ireland, who carried the gospel of our blessed Lord, the gospel to the poor. It doesn't need much to open the warm Irish heart; and a sprig of Shamrock should be a potent key. Here is a chance to do a double duty to celebrate the patron day of Ireland's saint and at the same time help the poor. It is perhaps necessary to remind our citizens to provide the needful small change —between 10 cents and $1.00—to be in readiness for the flower girls, who can be counted on to miss nobody.

Important And Interesting Address And Discussion at St. John's School House

A Conference of the Teachers and Officers of the Four Anglican Sunday Schools Was Held Last Night

An important address, followed by a discussion, was held last night at the St. John's School House, conducted by the Rev. T. Hiltz, Organizing Secretary of the Anglican Sunday School Commission for the Dominion.

There was a very good attendance, composed of the various teachers and officers of the Sunday Schools attached to the four Anglican churches in Peterborough, viz., St. John's, St. Luke's St. George's and All Saints. Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr., Superintendent of St. Luke's S. S., was voted to the chair.

The proceedings were commenced by the singing of a hymn and religious exercises, conducted by the Rev. Canon Davidson, Rector of St. John's, Miss M. English playing the accompaniments.

The chairman, in some brief, suitable remarks, stated how pleased the conference was to have Mr. Hiltz among them once more.

The Object of the Meeting.

Mr. Hiltz then said what a pleasure it was to him to be again in Peterborough, of which City he had many happy recollections. More especially was he pleased to find he had been assigned to this City, instead of Cobourg, which had been a former intention. He further remarked that it had been intended to make a conference of the Sunday School workers of the four churches, but this had been found impracticable, it had been decided to make it a purely local conference. In consultation with the Rev. F. J. Sawers, of St. Luke's, who is also the Deanery Secretary, it had been decided to talk on his subject

"What is the Mission of the Sunday School Teacher?

Mr. Hiltz then delivered a very practical and helpful address, equally applicable to officers and to teachers. He said, in effect, that Sunday School teachers have a mission—a very definite errand, a very difficult task, and a definite call. The idea of a call is, to some, rather hazy, and he would try to clear some of the fog away.

What are the elements we receive in a definite call? Is it not an invitation which one has really no right to refuse? No one has a right to turn aside when there is an opportunity of doing something to serve God. Some have personal fitness, and is not the possession of this a definite call?

He said he would divide his subject into

Three Heads

1st. Realization of need.
2nd. Seeing how the need can be met.
3rd What can I do? Then action follows.

Granted a Sunday School teacher felt he or she had a mission, what is it? The Sunday School stands for the recognized teaching of the Church; it stands for the training for service. Yet how many have a false conception of teaching? It must be a vital process, not a mechanical. Were the latter all that was needed, a phonograph might be called in to supply the need.

There are Three Essentials.

These are giving out, moulding and enlisting, and the Sunday School teachers must do their best to lead the children to the fulfilment of their baptismal covenant. They must be not only capable of giving out knowledge, but of training, and must be the friends and counsellors of their pupils. The Sunday School was a great machine in which all must work together, or it would soon be out of gear. It is like my watch, he said; if each part did not work in a fixed way, it would very speedily out of gear. The Sunday School exists for the welfare of the whole, and the teacher must set up some ideal, some definite end as a goal; these must be set up a standard of excellence and efficiency; and he gave several practical illustrations of what he was led to impress upon his hearers.

The district meetings in connection with St. Andrew's Church will be held to-night at eight o'clock as follows:

No. 1 district at the residence of Mr. Richardson, 313 Frederick Avenue.
No. 2 district at the residence of Mr. K. Moore, 203 Aylmer Street.
No. 3, 4 and 7 at the residence of Mrs. Kerr, 556 Gilmour Street.
No. 5 at the residence of Mr. P. A. Kerr, at 536 Downie Street.
No. 6 at Mrs. Braden's, 205 London Street.

There were nine points—

Commonplace, But Essential.

These were:

1. Punctuality. Without this example on the part of the teacher there could be nothing but a condition of cheerful disorder. If the teacher were not punctual neither would the pupils be.

2. Cheerfulness. Children were good readers of character, and a cheerful expression of the face of the teacher would work wonders with the class.

3. Sympathy. A share in the joys and sorrows, failures and successes of those instructed. "Do you know your boys and your girls?" he added—not merely their names, but their various characters and dispositions?

These, continued Mr. Hiltz, I will call the "physeological" points; now for four more which I will term "intellectual," and these are—

5. Knowledge.
6 Imagination, the power of drawing or painting word pictures.
7. Expression or intelligence, which is being able to convey your lesson in a manner so as to be thoroughly understood.
8. Ability to quest ion the pupils. This is most effective; and now for the ninth, which he termed

"The Keystone."

This is the teacher's own personal character and his or her own religious life. He termed this the keystone, for the power of personality is the strongest influence in the world to-day.

Another hymn was then sung, after which the meeting solved itself into

A Conference.

A list of useful questions had been prepared and distributed among the audience, who were invited to ask any which occurred to them as suiting their own particular needs, or any other points which might suggest themselves to the questioners.

This elicited some very valuable general information which lack of space prevents our reproducing.

Mr. Hiltz strongly advocated "Teacher's Training Courses"; stating that the commission had two courses, viz., elementary and advanced, which could be adopted by any one within the reach of His Majesty's mails, as these courses could be taken by correspondence at a very nominal expense.

The chairman then in a few well chosen remarks proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Hiltz for his extremely interesting address which vote was, it is needless to say, carried by acclamation.

After Mr. Hiltz had replied, another hymn followed, and the very successful and intelelctual meeting was closed by prayer and the pronouncing of the Benediction by the Rev. J. R. Grobb.

In the matter of The Dollar Day Sales at "Oak Hall."

I, Michael J. Maher of the City of Peterborough, County of Peterborough Manager. Do solemnly declare, that

1. I am the Manager of "Oak Hall" at the City of Peterborough.

2. I will offer for sale at "Oak Hall" on "Dollar Day" and I have in stock for sale on that day:—

100 Bundles of Goods at $1.00 a Bundle and in various Bundles will be or contained:—A Man's Overcoat at $1.00. A Boy's Suit at $1.00. A Man's Pair of Trousers at $1.00. A Boy's Reefer at $1.00, or Other Goods of the Value of $1.00.

And I make this solemn Declaration conscientiously believing it to true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.

(Signed) G. N. Gordon,
A Commissioner.

Manager Oak Hall

BANK ROBBERS ARE SURROUNDED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 11.—The Canadian police have, it is thought, surrounded the five bank robber bandits who robbed the Royal Bank at Abbotsfood yesterday, and it is expected that there will be a long siege or short fight with fatalities, as the bandits appear desperate.

SATISFYING PURCHASERS

Mr. Maher of Oak Hall has taken a very unique way of emphasizing the fact that his dollar day values are values in every sense of the word and that the public are going to be given an opportunity of participating in an event, to their financial advantage, that has advertised the business interests of Peterborough very extensively in this district. On another page will be seen an advertisement in the shape of a copy of an affidavit relating to dollar day values, and Mr. Maher's way of satisfying his customers.

SOME THINGS AND A FEW OTHERS

Mayor Buller may be back-up against the wall on the expenditure question, but he is putting up a sturdy defence with an occasional offensive sally.

The open season for big eggs and first robins is at hand. Trot 'em along.

W. J. Green, tax collector, is the latest ally of Cupid. It might not be in the most satisfactory condition to be married with a bargain license, but there are a few dames about town who would take a chance.

That aviating game looks a good one. Yesterday one army officer dropped to mother earth, and to-day two more met a similar death. Thousands died in bed during the same period, providing another illustration of the inevitable.

Chief Howard will be fortunate if he eventually gets as large an appropriation as last year. One might fancy that the last coin was in a glass show case as an extinct species.

The Dollar Day advertising commenced its work to-day. The merchants are surely offering phenomenal bargains.

Some of the dressers among French society will endeavour to make the fashions unfashionable. The women at Bascom's Corners and Lindsay will sleep easier.

If we could only resurrect about $25 to-morrow, we could buy a good many tempting articles we've had our eyes on for a long time.

Some more of this weather and the house-cleaning germs will come back to life with the flies and the frogs. Ish kawoorry.

Keep Friday night open for that All Star-Lindsay game. It will be the last of the season.

If Rev. Dr. Marsh were here to-night he would probably have a telescope on Central Park to give the general public a near view of the eclipse.

The coal men may feel assured that they have always had the confidence of the vast majority of the citizens of Peterborough.

City League Games With Lindsay Will Be Made An Annual Affair

The home and home games being played between the winners of the Lindsay and Peterborough City leagues will wind up the hockey season in these two towns. A local All-Star team goes to Lindsay this evening and the return game will be played at the Brock Street Rink on Friday night. The Lindsay Collegiate team is fast and play well together, and it is hardly likely that the locals can stave off a trimming to-night. One of the objects in arranging these games was to give the City Leaguers a chance to show what they can do with what is regarded as a strong team, and one that should have been in the Junior O.H.A. Another object was to lay the foundation to closer relations between the teams of the two towns. Mr. A. M. Paton, of Lindsay, is eager to see an annual post-City League series. It will help junior hockey in both towns and should result in the restoration of the best of relations between old neighbours. The game here on Friday night will be the last of the season, and the patrons of the City League are assured of an interesting struggle. Goals will count on the two games for the junior championship of these two leagues.

Annual Meeting Of Women's Auxiliary Of St. John's Church

St. John's W. A. annual meeting was held in the main schoolroom yesterday afternoon—Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Davidson presiding over a large attendance, which included members of the Girls' Auxiliary and the Junior Branch. The reports were of unusual interest, and showed progress in every branch. A most helpful and inspiring address was given by Miss Cartwright of Toronto, who is president of the W. A. in the Diocese of Toronto, who was heartily thanked for her kindness in attending the meeting and giving such a splendid address. The election of officers for this year resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. C. Davidson.
First Vice-President, Mrs. P. Campbell.
Second Vice-President, Miss Meacke.
Secretary, Mrs. R. J. Devey.

WINDSOR CASTLE TO BE CLOSED

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 11.—King George to-day ordered Windsor Castle and other Royal apartments closed to visitors for an indefinite period. Fearing outrages by suffragettes akin to the destruction of Venus in the National Art Gallery, yesterday.

TWO LOCAL MEN CHARGED WITH THEFT

Robert Robinson and Fred Stevens appeared before Magistrate Dumble at the Police Court this morning, charged with stealing one sweater, and one pair of mitts, the property of Mr. Harry Florence, Simcoe Street. They elected to be tried summarily and pleaded "not guilty." Chief Thompson asked for a remand till Friday, which was granted.

ECLIPSE OF MOON VISIBLE TO-NIGHT

An almost total eclipse of the moon and the only one of the entire year that can be seen from the greater part of the country, will occur this evening. A second eclipse of the moon will occur on September 4 but this will only be visible from the Western States and provinces.

The full moon of March 11 will be seen to rise a very little to the north of the east point of the horizon at 4:43 p.m. It will mount continually higher in the sky and reach the meridian at midnight, but some hours before it has reached this highest position, a slight darkening will be discernible.

The full moon of March 11 will be when the black shadow of the earth will begin to cover the upper left-hand portion of the moon's disc. By 11:13, ninety-two-one-hundredths of the moon will be hidden. Only a narrow strip will be bright, its shape being that of a flat-end crescent, whose horns point upwards from the south horizon. It is probable that the rest of the moon's surface may be seen, but it will be very faint and probably of a greenish or coppery colour.

CANADA'S PROSPECTS

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 11—Speaking to the Assembly in the Chambers of Commerce Sir Alfernon Firth, President, referring to Canada's prospects, said there had been a slackening in the willingness of other countries to provide capital for further expansion and period of healthy curtailment of enterprise has ensued "It is the fashion to say that Canada is going too fast, but with that I do not agree. The possibilities of the country are unlimited."

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

Civil service examinations, outside, inside and competitive, will be held at various points throughout the Dominion on May the 11th, 12th, 13th, and 14th. Applications must be made not later than April the 15th. All necessary information will be supplied by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, Ottawa.

The Civil Service Commission have forwarded application forms to Mr. A. Mowat, Inspector of Public Schools of this City.

READING IN PUBLIC.

Bursary Established at Trinity College School, Port Hope.

The many Old Boys of Trinity College School, Port Hope, will be glad to learn of the establishment of a bursary for "the study and practice of reading in public." The principal object is the promotion of expressive, intelligent and effective reading of a chapter in the New Testament.

The donor is Mr. J. A. Culverwell, of Port Hope, who has deposited a capital amount for a nine-year bursary. The prize is to be awarded yearly on the judgment of the headmaster, the Rev. F. Graham Orchard. Mr. Culverwell himself is an Old Boy of Upper Canada College, which institution he has already remembered in a somewhat similar way. — Mail and Empire.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

UNION STOCK YARDS, March 10—Receipts were light. Only 40 cars, 378 cattle, 368 hogs, 98 sheep and lambs, 235 calves.

Cattle.—Not many choice cattle; too many half finished. There was a fairly active trade caused by the light receipts. Choice butcher's steers, $8.00. Good butcher's steers, $7.70 to $8.00. Medium butcher's steers, $7.00 to $7.25. Common butcher's steers, $6.50 to $6.75. Choice butcher's heifers, $7.40 to $7.75. Common butcher's heifers, $7.00 to $7.25. Choice cows, $6.70 to $7.00. Good cows, $6.50 to $6.75. Canners, $3.50 to $4.50. Bulls sold from $6.50 to $7.50.

Feeders and Stockers.—Not many on sale, but enough for the demand. Choice steers, $6.90 to $7.25. Medium steers, $6.25 to $6.50. Stockers, $4.50 to $6.00.

Milkers and Springers.— Trade in milkers was about $10 per head lower, at $80 to $90 each. Bulk sold at $80 to $70 each.

Calves.—As there were 235 on sale, prices were not firmer. Choice veals, $10 to $11; common calves, $6.50 to $9.50.

Sheep and Lambs.—Sheep and lambs were firm for choice light, lambs and light ewes. Sheep, $6.50 to $7.00. Culls and rams, $4.00 to $6.25. Lambs and choice ewes and wethers, $9.00 to $9.75; heavy lambs, $8.25 to $8.75.

Hogs.—The market was firm at Monday's prices. Selected, fed and watered, $9.25 and $9.40 f.o.b. cars, and $9.65 weighed off cars.

Missionary Auxiliary's Busy Session

The Missionary Auxiliary of George St. Church met in the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon with the President, Mrs. Kendry, in the chair.

After the singing of "I Love to Tell the Story," Mrs. Campbell led in earnest prayer. Mrs. Moore, the District Organiser from Charlotte St. Auxiliary, read the second chapter of Ephesians.

It was ordered that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Mansell.

The president announced that the auxiliary will have charge of the Wednesday evening prayer meeting, March 11, when lantern slides on missionary views of the work in China will be explained by Mr. Peever.

Arrangements were made for a St. Patrick's Day "At Home" to be held at the residence of Mrs. Kendry, 754 Water street, on Tuesday, March 17th, from 4 to 6:30, when a collection will be taken in aid for the Memorial Fund for the late Mrs. Platt, who was for years President of the Bay of Quinte Branch. It is expected that $600 will be raised by the Branch which will go toward a ward in the new Chontu Hospital in China.

Mrs. Peever with Mrs. Armstrong as alternate, was chosen delegate to the Branch meeting to be held in Trenton on the second Tuesday in June. After singing the hymn "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" the President led in prayer. Mrs. Allison led the reading of Scripture passages on Knowledge. Envelopes for the Easter Thank-Offering were distributed.

Mrs. Armstrong, leader of the study class, then took charge of the programme on the annual report, and told of the beginning of the Woman's Missionary Society thirty-three years ago, and the growth. She urged the members to study mission work in order to build Christian character in its highest sense. She then called on different members of the society who in turn gave very interesting bits of information regarding the work of the society, in China, in Japan, in Quebec among the French, and the Northwest among the Indians, and especially in the Crosby Home for girls; among the Austrians of Alberta, the Orientals of British Columbia, and the Italians of Toronto.

This exercise was most interesting, and the large number attending felt that they had learned something of the annual report. After singing the doxology dainty refreshments were served by the study class and a social half-hour was spent.

THE WEATHER

This morning the temperature was down to 2 degrees above zero; yesterday morning, 4 above. For purposes of comparison we give a few dates of the seasonal progress of last spring, which was, however, in some respects, a little backward: March came in with a blizzard, some six inches of snow lay on the ground, but it was badly drifted in places. The 5th, 7th and 8th were sharp days, the latter two being 10 below zero. Spring-like conditions prevailed on from the 9th to 14th, and robins made their appearance. The ground was generally bare and creeks in flood on the 14th. From that to the end of March, spring and winter intermingled, but wintery weather prevailed at the close of the month. April opened with freezing rains and light snow, but from the 5th onward, spring apparently ruled. April showers were frequent. Thunder storms on 18th and 19th. Grass was quite green by the 23rd, and the lawn mowers were in service by the close of April.

A REPLY TO MR. A. T. BROWN

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I shall only occupy a very limited space in reply to the precipitation"—as you very aptly term it—of Mr. Allan T. Brown. Precipitation is a good word, but "Drizzle" would probably fit it better as it is a long string of words—without any very particular argument—but a lot of bumptious big statements that are entirely opposed to facts in the case.

He says—Millions and scores of millions of dollars that should go into the Ontario farmers' pockets—are going into the coffers of the land speculator. Why? because when the farmships a "beef animal" to any large centre he raises the price of the land there—and he does not get any of this increase—and it amounts he says to millions and scores of millions of dollars—and the land speculator gets it all—sure pop! How does he know? Oh, he don't knew. He is just drawing on his imagination for his statements.

Again he says—"Since speculation is responsible for the fact that in ten years—the rural population of Ontario has decreased by one million." The census shows that this decrease in the rural population was just 52,184. Mr. Brown says it was a million. Why did he say it? Just because somebody told him so, who did not know. Further Mr. Brown says speculators are responsible "for making it harder for young men to acquire farms of their own." I make the statement, and this I think can be readily corroborated—that the price of farm lands in Ontario has decreased—instead of rising in the past ten years—and the reason is that so many farmers' sons are going to our great Northwestern provinces—where land is so much cheaper. I do not intend to carry on a controversy with Mr. Brown. My reason for answering his letter at all was that he seemed to think—I was specially cornered—or trapped as he says. I asked in my first letter for the name of the man who proposed this subject for debate. I have asked it now three times and have had no answer yet. The man under the bed is still there—and refuses to tell his name. Why, if it was an innocent debate, do you not give me the information? Why is he ashamed to come out into the open?

Respectfully yours.
W. C. Austin.

FAST JUNIOR GAME HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The fans will have an opportunity of seeing one more good game of hockey at Brock Street rink on Friday night, when the Lindsay Collegiate team will clash with a picked Junior City League aggregation. The two teams are playing in Lindsay to-night. The Lindsay aggregation is the same team which beat practically a Peterborough intermediate team in Lindsay last week and it will be a fine feather in the cap of the local leaguers if they take the Scugog team into camp. Friday's game should be just about the fastest junior game of the season and the fans cannot afford to miss this closing feature of the hockey season. Lindsay may run a special train here for the game, and with the old rivalry between the two towns stirred up, there will be a bunch of excitement around the Brock Street arena on Friday night.

Football Men Discuss Affiliation With The Peterborough Athletic Club

A proposal that the Peterborough Athletic Club should take hold of soccer football in Peterborough was made last night by a gathering of football players representing the Nomads and other clubs, held in Coleman's parlours, George street. The plan, as proposed, was that the Athletic Club should arrange the formation of a City Soccer League to be carried on under its auspices while at the same time a representative team would be chosen to represent the Athletic Club in the Midland Football League. The football men believe that they would be better supported if under the wing of the Athletic Club, and that there would not be the chance of being sidetracked, as the Nomads were last year in the semi-finals for the Connaught Cup, when after having beaten Oshawa, they were not given a chance to meet the Old Country team of Toronto.

Dr. McPherson and F. D. Craig had been invited to be present at last night's meeting to explain the Athletic Club's plans, and they briefly laid before the footballers the aims and objects of the new organization.

The soccer men will go into the matter thoroughly and submit a proposition to the Athletic Club at a general meeting of the latter to be held in the Y. M. C. A. a week from to-night, Wednesday, March 18th.

GUELPH CURLERS HEARD SPECIAL SERMON ON GAME

"Life here's but a lang bonspiel
Frae cradle to the grave."

These were lines quoted by Rev. J. D. Fitzpatrick at the conclusion of his sermon on Sunday night to the curlers of Guelph in one of the Methodist churches in the Royal City.

There is one bearing that all games have that has a bearing on our Christian lives, Rev. Mr. Fitzpatrick said. That is the necessity for recreation and relaxation. Men are becoming old too soon nowadays. They are fossilized and die early because of the stress of modern life and business.

A body of big financial men met in New York, and one, a successful banker, of wealth, stated: "I feel like an old horse out of the race, like an old boat up rotting on the beach when all the other boats are out in the sea," and concluded that "Success purchased at the price of the loss of health was not worth the price."

"The game of life must be played according to rules, but playing the game means more than simply keeping the rules. There's the good fellowship, and the appreciation of a good play by an opponent, the hearty congratulations of the loser to the winner. There is one thing vastly worse than losing the game, and that is to win it unfairly. There is a great success in defeat, when honest effort has been put forth."

ESTIMATES WERE TRIMMED DOWN

duced to one hundred and fifty dollars.

The Chief suggested that the committee buy another team, and with the extra horse now owned by the department, an auxiliary team could be provided for. The team, together with the extra hose waggon, would be located in the south side of the hall and could be used to respond to a second alarm of fire. It would take the place of a sub-station.

Ald. Stratton favoured the suggestion, as did also Ald. Green. The latter instanced a case of where a call might come in from the extreme north or west end of the City. Under present conditions the department would turn out in force, and there would not any auxiliary apparatus left should a second alarm come in. With the additional team, this contingency could be met.

Opposed Appointments.

The question of providing for four additional men came up.

Ald. Stratton favoured the appointment of two additional men. He contended that the department should be increased gradually. He observed that last year the tax rate jumped from twenty-two to twenty-five mills.

Mayor Buller took exception to the proposed increase. He said that as far as he was personally concerned he would see that it would not go through.

"I don't think that the increased rate should be considered in this case," said Ald. Stratton. "We should aim to keep up the standard of the department at least in proportion to the growth of the City. We must be in a position to cope with any serious conflagration."

Ald. Green concurred in this view. He said that the City never had the required number of men. To compare with other cities, Peterborough should have at least twenty-two firemen. "It's just as much a question of dare we afford not to do it as can we afford to do it," said Ald. Green. "With all due respect to His Worship the Mayor, I think we would be making a mistake if we appointed less than two men."

Referring to the increased tax rate, Ald. Green remarked that he had spent one year in the City Council and he had yet to learn of one five-cent piece that had been squandered. We have been the most fortunate city in Canada for the past few years. But, added Ald. Green, "we cannot always expect to get along as favourably as we have."

Mayor Buller declared that he was speaking on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough when he said that the people did not want the present fire department increased.

Insurance Rates.

Ald. Stratton—"Do not the underwriters state that it is necessary to have one man per thousand of population. We are one third below the standard authorized by the Underwriters, who have studied the question out in a scientific way. We have got to stay in Class "A," and in order to do so we have got to improve the department consistently and gradually. By so doing we will be doing our part to keep the insurance rates down."

Ald. Duffus—"When the Underwriters say that it is necessary to have one fireman per thousand of population, they strike a general average, taking all cities into consideration. We may have a cleaner city and our facilities may be better than the average, in which case it would not be necessary to increase on the basis fixed by the Underwriters."

Ald. Saunders did not think he was in favour of increasing the number of men.

Chief Howard — "The collection of garbage has done more to make Peterborough a safe and clean city than any other measure that could have been adopted. It has had the effect of reducing the fire risk considerably."

Ald. Stratton— "I don't think we would be doing our duty as members of the Fire, Water and Light committee if we did not increase the present force. We have a lot of badly constructed buildings on George Street and we should adopt means to protect them as well as adjoining properties."

Mayor Buller—"I am going to tell you right now that I won't pass that appropriation."

"You are the Chief Magistrate of the City," said Ald. Green. "I bow to your superior ruling, but I don't think it is becoming to you as Mayor of this City, without explanation, to say that you won't submit to what the majority of the committee recommend."

The Mayor explained that he would refuse to support the appropriation in Council.

Ald. Stratton moved that two men be appointed to be engaged for the last half of the year. This was seconded by Ald. Anderson.

Mayor Buller, seconded by Ald. Saunders, moved an amendment that no additional men be appointed.

Ald. Duffus refused to support either motion preferring to appoint one man to be engaged for the remainder of the year.

The division resulted in a deadlock.

One Man Appointed.

Mayor Buller said that he would agree to the appointment of additional men providing the tax rate did not exceed twenty-five mills.

Ald. Stratton moved that one man be appointed. This was seconded by Ald. Duffus and carried by a vote of four to two.

The additional man will involve an expenditure of about $420.

"Now, sir," said Ald. Stratton, addressing the chairman, "we will expect great things of you. We have given you nearly a thousand dollars more than last year and we will expect you to protect our interests."

"Perhaps there is something else you would like to cut off," said Ald. Green addressing the Mayor. "You appear to want to run the Council and all the committees as well."

Mayor Buller—"I am acting on the best advice."

Ald. Green—"I think you are ill-advised."

Mayor Buller—"That's your opinion. I have always tried to do my best to serve the interests of the City, both in Council and at the polls, and I am proud of it."

"That's all right; I don't propose to deprive you of any of your glory," countered Ald. Green.

The question of increasing the salaries of the Fire Chief and the Engineer of the Fire eDpartment was discussed, but no action taken. The net result of the meeting was that the estimates were reduced to $17,200. This is $750 higher than last year. Last year's appropriation was $16,500.

$1 Day Thursday $1

WE ARE GLAD to participate in Peterborough's first Dollar Day, and mainly because it gives us an opportunity to prove beyond doubt that you will pay less here and verify the feeling that this is the store where the goods always seem a little better for the same money than elsewhere.

Remember that a coupon goes with every dollar's worth of goods bought from us Thursday. Perhaps the largest prize may be a coupon procured from us.

This is only a small fraction of the list of our DOLLAR BARGAINS. Watch specially for the ones not advertised.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. R. M. Ramsaroun, of Winnipeg, left on Monday for California.

Mr. Bentley crossed on the Lusitania and reports a very rough passage.

Miss Spence, 372 Downie Street, has returned after a month's visit in Toronto.

Mrs. A. Mowat, 368 Brock street, will not receive until the fourth Thursday of this month.

Mrs. Norman Montgomery, of Brighton, is spending a few days with friends in the city.

Mr. Walter Hunt, 66 Auburn Street, left on Tuesday for Kamloops, B.C., where he has accepted a good position.

Mr. A. R. Butley has arrived in the city from Scarborough, England, to visit his brother, Mr. John Bentley, manager of the Auburn Woollen Mills.

Mr. Chas. Naish of 261 Murray Street, is shortly leaving the City for California. He would be pleased to hear of any one who is travelling there, so as to have a companion on the trip.

The bride-to-be, Miss Fits-Gibbon, referred to in the following from the Montreal Star, is a niece of Mr. R. S. Ross, City, and grand-daughter of Mrs. James Ross, formerly of Peterborough, and now of Montreal:

"At the marriage of Miss Mollie Fits-Gibbon, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fits-Gibbon, to Mr. C. E. Allen Boswell, son of the late J. K. and Mrs. Boswell, of Quebec, which is to take place March 20 at the Church of St. James the Apostle, she will be attended by four bridesmaids, Miss Frances Caverhill, Miss Geraldine Patterson, Miss Gwyneth Wanklyn and Miss Helen Robertson. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at 120 McTavish Street."

WEDDING BELLS

WALSH—MAHONEY.

A pretty but quiet wedding took place in St. Joseph's Church, Douro, on February 24th, when Miss Loretta Mahoney, daughter of James Mahoney, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Walsh, son of Mr. John Walsh. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McGuire. The groom was assisted by Mr. Richard Sheehan, and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Mahoney, sister of the bride. The bride was becomingly attired in a travelling suit of navy blue cloth with hat to match. The happy couple left on a wedding trip to Toronto, Buffalo and other points.

SMITH—JARVIS.

The nuptials were solemnized on Monday evening last of Mr. Adam Smith, Lansdowne Avenue, and Miss Elizabeth B. Jarvis, at the home of the bride's mother, 271 Wescott Street, City.

The groom is a native of Blantyre, Scotland and the bride also hails from the "auld sod," coming from St. Mungo.

The minister who tied the knot was Rev. Henry J. Keith, of Knox Church. The ceremony was attended by only the immediate friends and relatives. "Adam" left by the midnight train last night for Auld Scotia, via Boston.

Stock Markets

The Stock Market held for a little this morning and then rallied, and we look for further rallying power, as the market shows signs of accumulation. In conservative quarters of the street it is generally thought that the general list is sold out and probably over sold in spots. Careful examination shows that the scale down absorption has not been ample to absorb long stocks offered as well as to take care of the short sales pressed by raiders. Our investigations show that "Rearling" manipulations are evidently trying to shake out the following: Union Pacific absorption, despite the Melon suits, is of the best quality. We believe the buying of G. Q. is to be strong.

The St. Paul sensation has, it is said, given opportunities to get cheap stock, for nobody has said the road wasn't a valuable property. Some of the best informed houses are recommending the buying of U.S.S. and copper stocks, and C. P. R. as good purchases. American stocks in London are quiet.

PARALYZED LIMBS

To-day it is sleeplessness, headaches, digestive trouble, and irritability. Next thing you know some form of paralysis has developed. Mr. Alex. Hornberger, 17 Moore Street, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "Nervous trouble developed into paralysis of the limbs so that I became helpless. Doctors failed me, but after using ten boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I resumed work, and now feel better than I did for 20 years."

FURNACE PIPES GOT ON FIRE AND GREAT EXCITEMENT WAS CAUSED

In the Norwood Public School One Day Last Week—Village Council and Board of Education Meet

NORWOOD NEWS

Examiner Special:

NORWOOD, March 10.—On Wednesday evening, March 4th, the ladies of the Presbyterian Church held a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ford, Asphodel. Everybody enjoyed the delightful sleigh ride by moonlight, as well as the games, music, etc., during the evening. All were delighted with the proceeds, which amounted to $20.

Mr. Jas. Calder was in Peterborough last week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held on Monday evening, March 2nd. Those present were Messrs. E. P. Cuffe (chairman), W. H. Cuthbertson, E. H. Scott, C. E. Pakenham, E. C. Squire, H. Wildman, J. Doherty, J. Marks, J. MacNaughton and Wm. Webster.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Moved by Mr. Pakenham, seconded by Mr. Webster, that the chairman take possession of all papers, such as deeds, insurance policies, agreements and inspector's re ports.—Carried.

The Finance committee reported that the auditors' report corresponded with the report of the Finance committee.

Moved by Mr. Cuthbertson, seconded by Mr. Marks, that the secretary have the boiler insurance transferred to the new boiler.—Carried.

Mr. Cuffe reported that on the 8th of February, Principal Tremouth was taken ill and a substitute had to be provided. Mr. Gus Shea was engaged from Feb. 10th to Feb. 18th. Since that date Mrs. Lawlor has been filling the vacancy.

The Supply committee reported the purchase of hardwood at $5.00 per cord for both green and dry.

Moved by Mr. Marks, seconded by Mr. Wildman, that the report be adopted.—Carried.

The P. S. Inspector's report for 1913 was read.

Moved by Mr. Pakenham, seconded by Mr. Cuthbertson, that the inspector's report be received and filed for future consideration.—Carried.

Moved by M. Pakenham, seconded by Mr. Wildman, that the Supply committee procure 20 copies of geography readers.

The following accounts were read:

Municipal World, School Act, 85c.; J. L. Squire & Sons, supplies, $3.72;

Accounts recommended by the Advisory committee:

F. C. McCrea, sundries, $8.00; C. E. McDowell, $19.00; Norwood Register, printing, $7.00; J. Finlay & Sons, acct. $2.00; A. T. Johnston, Peterborough, $6.95; Aaron Comstock, $5.00; Village of Norwood, hall, $3.60; Peterborough Lumber Co., $3.00; J. L. Squire, $2.46. East Peterborough Agric. Society, $4.00.

Moved by Mr. Squire, seconded by Mr. Pakenham, that the accounts of the Agric. committee be paid.— Carried.

Moved by Mr. Doherty, seconded by Mr. Cuthbertson, that the other two accounts be paid.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Webster, that Mr. Shea be paid for 7 days at the rate of $5.00 per day. —Carried.

There was a little excitement on Thursday afternoon in the Public school when the furnace pipes got badly on fire. Fortunately it was discovered by the janiter before getting too much headway. He immediately gave the alarm and the school was cleared in a few seconds. Before assistance arrived he had succeeded in getting the fire under control, there being no harm done except to one of the girl's coats, which was badly burned.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church made $17.56 on Tuesday night at the social held at the home of Mr and Mrs. J. Comstock, Daisyworth.

Rev. Mr. Lee was in Midland last week.

Miss Annie Thompson is visiting friends in Tweed.

Miss Florence McGee has accepted a position as milliner in Kineardine.

Miss McKay has returned this season to take charge of Mr. E. P. Cuffe's millinery room.

On Tuesday of last week a Peterborough rink consisting of Messrs. Dobbin, Best, Martin and Moore visited the Norwood curlers and played a couple of games which resulted as follows:

Mr. J. Stan. Weir of the Bank of Toronto, London, Ont., is home for a three weeks' holiday.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church are preparing for a St. Patrick's concert to be given in the Sunday school room on the evening of March 18th. The members will be dressed in Irish costume and the programme will consist of Irish readings, Irish songs and Irish recitations. After the programme, refreshments will be served in the basement of the Church.

Mr. Roy Taylor was a visitor on Sunday at the home of his cousin, Mrs. A. B. Greenbank.

Dr. Frederick of Peterborough, was in town last week to see Mr. Frank Parker, who is very ill.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. W. Squire, when the officers will be elected for the year.

Rev. M. P. Cree of Allliston was in town on Monday.

Mr. F. H. Birt and Miss Annie Birt left on Monday for Toronto, where they will remain for a couple of weeks previous to their de parture for Pense, Alta., where they intend to reside.

On Friday evening a number of Miss Birt's friends, including the Sunday school class, assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Duffield, where a pleasant evening was spent, and the following address and presentation was made:

To Our Dear Teacher, Miss Birt:

We, the members of your Sunday school class, wish to remind you as you leave our Church that your work with us has been of much value. We will long remember you and your words. We cannot forget the patient earnestness with which you met us Sunday after Sunday. We remember how you tried to select thoughts from the lesson to help to see the best in life. We assure you that your efforts have not been in vain and that these uplifting memories will remain with us in the years to come. But your lessons have been not in words only. Your faithfulness to duty in the Sunday school for many years speaks to us even ore plainly than your words. We see and feel these lessons perhaps more plainly as we hear them spoken of by those older than we, and more capable of knowing the value of faithfulness. And we are pleased and encouraged to learn that as a little girl you started placing such an example before us all. We are reminded of your early songs, your help in the choir with your father, your willingness to do anything that you thought would be of service to Christ and His Church. We wish to remind you that these things are not forgotten and that they will remain with us with their influence when you are far away. We are very sorry to have you leave Norwood and we assure you that we will long remember you and your kindness. We ask you not to forget us, and for this reason and also to show our appreciation, we present to you this Bible. We ask God's blessing to go with it, and trust it may help to make your life in future years even more fruitful than in the past.

Signed by the members of the S. S. class.

Mr. Russell Finlay of Calgary, was in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. G. Quinn of Vancouver, is home to see her mother, Mrs. Robert McNeeley, who is seriously ill.

Mr. Bert Losie of Warkworth, was town on Monday.

ISLAND IN DISPUTE.

Litigation Revolves Around Wee Lake Erie Property.

WINDSOR, March 12.—Fight for a dot of land in Lake Erie, the southernmost possession of Canada, will be made in the Assize Court at Sandwich before Mr. Justice Middleton on March 24. A suit filed by John Napres, of Detroit, against W. H. Goodchild, of Amherstburg, for possession of the Little Sister Island, so named in old county maps of Essex, a few miles southwest of Pelee Island, has revealed that the island is virtually an independent possession of Great Britain.

James Ross, now dead, was the first known owner of the island, which is little more than a danger point for ships on Lake Erie. He gave it to Napres, who is declared to have sold it, 46 years ago, to Goodchild. Since that time Goodchild's fishing crews have been the sole inhabitants of the island, and have to account to no one but Mr. Goodchild.

There are no taxes, for search of the provincial records reveals that the island is attached to no county or political subdivision in the province. The maximum population of the island is 40, at the time when fishing is at its height. At others it drops to the number necessary to care for the nets and lines. The only boats calling at the island are Goodchild's fishing tugs, and they do not operate on fixed schedules. No tourists ever visit the spot in the lake.

Discovery of a mineral, the nature of which is being kept secret by those in the case, is the cause of the present suit, it is said. Goodchild, it is understood, has no bill of sale, but will depend upon a verbal agreement to sell, and the fact that he had held undisturbed possession for 46 years.

Constable Arrested.

MONCTON, N.B., March 12.—A. E. Belyea, a local constable was arrested by Officers Gaw and Webb on the charge of attempting to shoot with murderous intent. It is alleged that Belyea entered a Main street boarding-house and threatened to shoot the proprietress, her daughter and a boarder.

Newsy Jottings of British Isles

Decreased Novel Reading

The report of the Edinburgh Public Library states that the total reading for a year was 832,923 volumes, showing a decrease of 45,291. There was a decrease of 34,838 in the issue of novels.

Arrest by Telephone

After engaging rooms in Dover, a man, giving the name of Walter Powell disappeared and the landlady missed £75 worth of jewellery. Telephoned information resulted in Powell being arrested at Folkestone with most of the property on him.

Cottages For Old Folks

The Glasgow Old Man's Friend Society and Old Women's Home decided to erect small houses on their property, the occupancy of which will be given free to old married couples in needy circumstances.

Dead Clerk's Unpaid Bills

At a Plumtree, Notts, inquest on Edward Steane Jackson, a clerk, whose mutilated body was found on the Midland Railway, it was stated that a number of tradesmen's bills, pressing for immediate payment, were found in his pocket.

Child's Fourteen Layers of Clothing

The annual report of the medical inspection of school children within the County of Aberdeen states that a very large proportion of the children are overclad. All records were broken by a child in Turriff School wearing fourteen layers of clothing.

Bath Chairman's Investments

A bath chairman named Walter Smith, aged seventy-one, was fined £135 and costs at Brighton for making false representations for the purpose of continuing to receive the old age pension. He was proved to have investments of nearly £5,000.

Juvenile Labor Scarce

There is a boy famine at Nottingham, where the demand for juvenile labor far exceeds the supply. The Education Committee issued a report showing that over eleven hundred children were illegally employed in the city, and to this the scarcity of lads is largely attributed.

Comedy of £100 Note

The supposed loss by a Blackburn gentleman of a leather case containing a Bank of England note for £100 caused the town to be placarded with notices offering a $50 reward. It became known later that the owner had found the case and its contents intact in a pocket of another jacket.

"Scenes of Clerical Life"

There is an old gentleman at Broseley, Salop, Mr. Josiah Wase, now ninety-three years old who remembers George Eliot very well, and was in Chilvers Coton Church when the dispute between the vicar and clerk recorded in "Scenes of Clerical Life" took place.

Hermit's Death

An old man named William Williamson, who for very many years lived by himself in a cottage at Wishaw, Scotland, was found dead there. He was found with one knee on a chair and his head resting on the front of the bed. The deceased had lived practically the life of a hermit.

Horse Cuts Its Throat

A peculiar accident occurred in one of the main streets of Bo'ness. During the unloading of a cart of coal a horse took fright and, dashing forward, thrust its head through the plate glass window of a shop. With the main artery of its neck severed, the horse bled to death in the street.

Fatal Sequel to Good Deed

Sheriff Blair at Paisley gave judgment in a compensation case brought by the dependants of Alexander Aitken, a gateman in the employment of Finlayson, Bousfield, and Co., Johnstone. Aitken heard of an accident, and in hurrying to telephone for an ambulance wagon was seized with a fatal apoplectic fit. The judge held that the deceased's action, though meritorious, did not fall within the scope of his employment.

Alms-giving

Jessie Brannon was fined $5.00 at Glasgow for having the custody of a girl aged twelve years and allowing her to frequent a piece of ground near Richmond Drive for the purpose of inducing the giving of alms. The girl was stationed beside a small coach, in which was seated the son of accused, a youth who is partially paralysed. The youth had a box of matches for sale, and also a small box into which people were expected to put coins as they passed.

Doctors Making Fortunes

At Cowal District Committee meeting at Dunoon, Dr. Chuckie, of Greenock Eye Infirmary, said they could not get duly qualified practitioners to come to Argyll for less than $1,500. They all went into the cities—thanks to Mr. Lloyd George. He thought that that gentleman had done more for the medical men than anybody else, and they were all making their fortunes at the present time.

The King's Buttonholes

His Majesty's taste in flowers is rather different from that of his father. King Edward went in almost entirely for gardenias, and every day when he was in residence at Buckingham Palace two or three perfect specimens were always placed in his room for his use. He would wear one in the morning and then change it for another in the evening.

On the other hand, King George loves variety. For evening wear, of course, a white flower is "de rigueur," and His Majesty patronises either a small white rose, a gardenia, or even a dainty pheasant-eyed narcissus. For morning and afternoon wear he is very partial to Parma violets, or a small, unopened rose.

Wrestling For Recruits

An extraordinary method of obtaining recruits for the Army was practised by a British captain in India. Captain H. R. Holmes, an officer of magnificent physical bearing and sporting prowess, went the round of Sikh villages challenging all and sundry to a wrestling bout.

One of the conditions of every match was that if the native lost he should join the officer's regiment, the Thirty-sixth Sikhs. The regiment was then numerically weak, but by the time the officer had finished his tour it numbered 777, and the smallest man was 5 feet 8 inches in height.

The Oldest Doctor

The death of Dr. Philip Whitcombe, reputed to have been the oldest doctor in the England, took place at Gravesend, where he had lived for upwards of sixty years. Dr. Whitcombe, who was in his ninety-eighth year, became a member of the Royal College of Surgeons as far back as 1838.

Bricklaying at Seventy-five

A bricklayer named J. Coles, of Horsham, Surrey, still works on high buildings, in spite of the fact that he is seventy-five years of age, and recently repaired the roof of the local parish church. He is a descendant of a family of farmers who cultivated the same land for 700 years.

TORONTO WOMAN WELL AGAIN

Freed From Bearing Down Pains, Backache and Pain in Side by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Toronto, Ont.—"Last October, I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels and am stronger in every way. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound highly to all expectant mothers."—Mrs. E. WANDBY, 92 Logan Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

Consider Well This Advice.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

GLOBE TROTTERS TABOOED

Germany Doesn't Want People Walking on Wagers

A pleasant and easy way of seeing the world and living without working, that of pretending to be on a walking trip around the world for a mythical wager with some equally mythical club or personages, has exhausted its possibilities in Prussia. The authorities have come to the conclusion that this type of traveller has become so numerous as to constitute a public nuisance, and the Minister of the Interior has instructed the police to prevent them from selling postcards with their photographs, announcing lectures, or otherwise molesting the public, and to discontinue the practice of certifying upon their passports or log-books that they have passed through this or that town upon their wanderings. If a warning does not suffice to make them move on they are to be arrested and punished for vagrancy.

MISS DOROTHY MACVANE

opera singer whose love of snapshotting caused her to be arrested in Italy as a French spy. She satisfied the Italian authorities, however, that she acted in perfect innocence, and was released.

Too Much Kissing

Because her husband did not kiss her enough, the wife of a wealthy man in Antwerp complained to a magistrate. Because his ardor in this respect had cooled since they were first married, she charged him with loving somebody else. The husband told the magistrate that his wife wanted so many kisses that she made his life a burden. An expert witness was called, and he said that after three years of married life a wife could not claim more than three kisses a day, so the wife's complaint was dismissed.

British Army Films

Soldiers of many regiments and a large number of prominent military officers and War Office officials were present at an invitation matinee for the first public presentation of the British Army film at the Palace Theatre.

The film was taken for purposes of advertising the army and stimulating recruiting. It was recently shown by command before the King and Queen, at Sandringham.

Law of Finding

A decree for £50 was given at Abbeyleix, Ireland, in the suit of Kiernan Kelly, against the Munster and Leinster Bank, for a banknote of that value which he claimed as his property as he found it on the bank counter unclaimed. "If the owner turns up," said Judge Fitzgerald, "he is entitled to it. If he does not it is the plaintiff's property."

Drowned in Bog Hole

The dead body of a woman of about sixty named Mrs. Patterson, was recovered from a bog hole about two miles from Moy, Ireland. It appears that her way home led along a narrow path through the bog, and she must in the darkness have accidentally fallen into the hole.

FIREMAN'S BRAVE DEED

How Three Women Were Saved From Death

"The bravest action in my experience," is the description applied by the Chief Officer of the London Fire Brigade to a rescue made by Fireman Reuben Studd at a flat fire in Knightsbridge. Fireman Studd was awarded the Council's silver medal for extraordinary bravery—the fireman's V.C.—in commemoration of his conduct.

The officer in charge at the fire was informed that three women were on a ledge on the seventh floor. Studd was instructed to take a hook ladder and render what assistance he could to the women. The ledge on which the women were was at a height of nearly 80 feet, and in the darkness the nature of the task could not be fully realized. Studd scaled the building to the fifth floor, but at this point he found that owing to a projecting cornice he was unable to scale any higher with the ladder. He therefore poised the ladder on the cornice, lowered a window, and, standing on the top of the window-frame, raised himself to the cornice, which was only eleven inches wide. Studd had great difficulty in persuading the women to use the ladder, which swung out at a dangerous angle, and he had to ascend and descend it several times before they would start on their journey.

The woman having descended to the sixth floor, Studd refixed the ladder, but, owing to the intervening cornice, the lower part of the ladder stood out about two feet from the building. Studd having succeeded with difficulty in swinging himself into a window on the fifth floor, he was able by extraordinary efforts to pull the women off the ladder through the window, and from this point they were able to descend by the staircase to the street.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessnessan durinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been ueds for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active, and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Four Sons of Fame.

It is a rarity for more than one member of any family to become famous Nature seems coy about centralizing in more than one scion of the same house enough of stamina, grit, genius and ability wherewith to cut a niche in the temple of fame. The exceptions to this rule are very few. The Pitts, the Adamses, the Van Burens and the Beechers have already been honored with this distinction, and to this roll of honor must be added the Fields. There is hardly a parallel case in history where four brothers attained such prominence as David Dudley Field Henry M. Field, Cyrus W. Field and Stephen J. Field. These men were truly called four sons of fame, ave and four brothers in fame.—Magazine of American History.

Instant Relief From Backache

Lady In England Sends All The Way To Canada For GIN PILLS.

Henly Villa, Forest Rise, Essex.
"Please forward me a box of your GIN PILLS. Enclosed find Postal Order for 2/6 in payment. I bought GIN PILLS when I was last in Canada and found that they did me a lot of good for Backache, Rheumatism, Pains in the Muscles and Joints."
MRS. J. R. WATTS.

Weak, Strained, Irritated Kidneys cause the backaches the swollen hands and joints, the Rheumatism and Lumbago, that so many people suffer with. GIN PILLS give such quick relief because they go straight to the cause of the trouble—and correct it. They act directly on the Kidneys and Bladder—neutralise UricAcid—dissolve Calculi—soothe the irritated membranes and strengthen and heal the kidneys.

GIN PILLS are a boon to elderly people, who are subject to weak back, swollen hands and feet, and particularly liable to Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago. GIN PILLS are one of the very few preparations that are sold on a money-back guarantee. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample sent free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada Limited, Toronto. 312

COMPULSORY SERVICE FOR THE IDLE RICH

Novel Plan to Provide Employment For Britain's Privileged Classes

Compulsory military service for the well-to-do is advocated by Lord Willoughby de Broke, a member of the British House of Lords. Under his scheme the wealthy classes would be compulsorily trained, and the artisan classes would be at liberty to volunteer for service or not, as at present. His Lordship published a pamphlet setting for this idea in detail as follows: All able-bodied male persons of the privileged class will be liable between the ages of sixteen and forty-five to be trained and serve as set in the following times and manners

In a recognized cadet corps from the age of sixteen years;

For a period of six or nine months continuous recruit training at a depot between the ages of seventeen years and twenty-one years;

For a continuous period of fifteen days in each year for the four years immediately following such period of recruit training;

For a continuous period of eight days in each year for the five years next following such period of four years;

Thereafter to be enrolled in the Territorial Force Reserve without liability for further training save in case of national danger or emergency

Service in a recognized cadet corps is intended to be compulsory for every boy not specially exempted on grounds of health attending a school at which such corps exists.

Service in a recognized officers training corps is intended to be compulsory for every male not specially exempted in residence at any university.

No male person is to be admitted to or be granted a degree at any university unless he has satisfied the prescribed tests of military efficiency or has been exempted.

No male person is to be admitted to or practice any of the higher professions unless he has satisfied the prescribed tests of military efficiency or has been exempted.

Every person not a member of his Majesty's regular or reserve forces whose income from all sources exceeds $2,000 a year is to become liable to service unless—

He has been exempted on grounds of health or disqualified for misbehavior;

He has attained the age of thirty before coming within the scope of the Bill.

Additional duties in the nature of a graduated tax upon income are to be paid yearly in lieu of service by all persons who would be liable to serve under the provisions of the Bill but for exemption or disqualification.

Lord Willoughby de Broke prepared his pamphlet in the form of a bill, ready for presentation in the House of Lords.

JAVELIN VERSUS GOLF

Mr. F. H. A. Webster, of the London Athletic Club, and his sister-in-law, Miss Dora Roberts, with javelins, played a match with Mr. Harry Vardon and Mr. Gordon Robertson, the former golf professional, who used the ordinary clubs and golf balls. The golfers succeeded two-thirds in the matter of distance, and they won by five up and four to play in a contest of eighteen holes. The javelin [illegible] to mark a 6 feet square in which the golfers had to get their ball into the ordinary hole of [illegible] diameter. After the match Vardon and Mrs. Gordon Robertson took a turn at javelin throwing, and Vardon made several throws of 160 feet. Mr. Webster's best throw was one of 160 feet.

Two Doctors Said He Had Consumption.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP CURED HIM.

Mrs. John KEMP, St. John's West, Ont., writes:—"My little boy was very bad with whooping cough and severe cold. I went to two doctors with him, and they said he had Consumption. I could get no relief for him, he would cough all night long, with a dry hacking cough.

I was persuaded to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and was surprised to see the first bottle did him good. I have had five bottles, and they cured him, he rests well at night now, and is well and hearty. If he gets a cold we always give him Pine Syrup and he is soon better. I did not think I could raise him, but I am thankful to say Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup saved him from being a consumptive."

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the admonition to all persons affected by the earlier stages of throat and lung trouble, as failure to take hold at once will cause many years of suffering, and in the end that terrible scourge "Consumption."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is without an equal for all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

This Will Stop Your Cough in an Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, lessens the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well-known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

In-and-Outers

Johnny Evers was ruled off the field in a game at Chicago before three balls were pitched. This nearly constitutes a record. But "Tab" Spencer, well remembered as a catcher, has it beaten.

"Tab" was baststopping for one of the Coast League teams some years ago. His squad was billed to play a double-header at Sacramento.

The umpire announced the batteries, and then turned toward the diamond and fitted on his mask. He heard a laugh from the visiting club's bench, and Spencer yelled out these words:

"And Mr. Umps will favor the home team as usual."

Spencer was invited to stroll to the club house—which he did.

Union Labor in Baseball

"The Base Ball Players' Fraternity is making a mistake," says Manager Evers of the Chicago Cubs, "in its attitude toward salaries. The players of to-day are getting salaries far in excess of what they did in 1902, when I broke into the National league, and considering what stars like Ed Delehanty, Lajoie and others received before the American league came east. When I started to play with the Cubs the man who was playing alongside of me received $4,000, as against my salary of $1,350. It made no difference to me what [illegible] man got, I went ahead and did my best, feeling confident that my reward would come in time—and it did."

THE WEEK'S HAPPENINGS IN ENGLAND FLASHED BY CABLE

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS TELL EXCITING TALE

Two American Survivors of Schooner Marie Ellen, Marooned on Island as Modern Robinson Crusoes, Recite Harrowing Experiences.

(Special Dispatch.)

LOWNDES, March 7.

AN exciting story of the sea is told in the Pioneer Mail by Mr. J. P. Collins, of Chicago, and Mr. E. J. Dana, of Buffalo, the survivors of the Glasgow schooner Marie Ellen, who reached Rangoon from Singapore. The schooner was wrecked in February last off the coast of Dutch Borneo, and since then, after spending twenty days on an island, they have been wandering about in search of work. They shipped on board the Marie Ellen, at Manilla, on January 27, 1913, and, after calling at various islands, reached La Ha Datu, in British North Borneo, on February 8, leaving again early next morning.

"Late that afternoon," says Mr. Collins, "the wind began to freshen from the eastward, and we stood away on the port tack, intending to put about on the starboard tack at the end of the late dog watch. When two bells had gone in that watch orders came to close the reef sails and heave to. This was done, and the wind began to haul to the northeast. We drifted then to the southward until about four bells in the first watch, when the skipper decided to shake out the reef and run before the wind. About three bells in the middle watch the man on the lookout, Hans Wordman, sang out, 'Breakers ahead!' Those on the watch below rushed out on deck as the cry came from officers of 'All hands out on deck! Never mind your clothes.'

"When we got on deck we found the sails flapping, and before the schooner could be get off the wind she struck the reefs with such force that she carried away her masts. The mainmast in falling smashed the port lifeboat and bulwarks to splinters, and the heavy sea began to smash the schooner up. An effort was made to launch the starboard lifeboat, but it was useless in face of the heavy sea. It soon became a case of every man for himself, and we watched our opportunity to drop over the side and swim for a small island we could see in the distance off the port quarter."

"By swimming diagonally across the sea we managed to reach shore in an exhausted condition and lay and rested. The land we had gained we afterwards learned was Paulo Bunnie Island. At daybreak we looked for the ship, but all we could see was part of the stern still stuck fast on the reef. We then began to look around for our shipmates, and seached the beach from abeam of the wreck to the southern end of the island without seeing any one. As far as we were able to see [illegible] reconnoitred. A search was made for the inhabitants, and after going about four or five miles along the beach we came upon what appeared to be a timber chute. We climbed up this to see to see what was at the other end and discovered three trees that had been recently cut. A few minutes later some pieces of matting were found. The larger pieces we used for clothing, we having had nothing on but our shirts when the cry came to come on deck. The smaller pieces of matting we used as a covering for our feet.

"A search was then made for fresh water, and we were successful in discovering a small spring. A hearty drink and bath soon put us in better spirits, and we began to look around for something to eat. We thought of fruit, but could find none, so went down on the beach and hunted for shellfish. Here some oysters were found, and, digging in the sand with our hands, we found a plentiful supply of clams. Having no means of lighting a fire, we subsisted on raw oysters and clams. We made walks around the island by short stages, always keeping the sea on our right, so as to make sure we were not going over the same ground twice. We walked and walked until we had been right round the island, and then sat down to decide what was the best thing to be done. We came to the conclusion that we had better keep close to the timber chute in case any one came to cut timber.

"For seventeen days we lived on raw oysters and clams. On the morning of the eighteenth day we started on another tour of the island, and had covered nearly three-quarters of it when we saw smoke coming out of the bushes. At first we thought it was some one of our shipmates cooking, but on going closer found it was some Malay woodcutters cooking their evening meal. We had some trouble in making the Malays understand how we had come there, but after they had been shown the remains of the shipwrecked vessel they understood and shared food with us. Haj Ali, who proved to be the chief of the party, treated us very well after he found out we had been cast away. Two days later we left the island, where we had spent twenty days, and were taken to Tarakan."

Afterward they were sent on to Singapore, their story having in the meanwhile been verified.

$65,000 FOR OLD HORSES

(Special Dispatch.)

VIENNA, March 7.

A LEGACY of $65,000 to be devoted to the establishment of an asylum for old horses has been bequeathed to the municipality of Vienna by Herr Franz Bisony, who recently died at Miskolcs.

More than a hundred horses, donkeys, cats, dogs and birds were maintained by him in outhouses and stables on his property. With the exception of his valet, Herr Bisony had not set eyes for twelve years on a human being.

He had been jilted by the daughter of a member of the Hungarian Diet, and from that time he sought companionship only among the animals which he kept. He frequently remarked to his servant that they were far preferable as friends to man and women.

GREAT LONGEVITY IS SHOWN IN ENGLAND

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

THE remarkable longevity of persons nowadays is shown by the obituary notices in the newspapers. The Times in one day recorded the deaths of ten octogenarians, including Mrs. Coster, 90; Miss Reed, 85; Miss Younger, 87; Miss Matthews, 84; Mr. Sydney Jones, F. R. C. S., 83; Mrs. Sarah Collier, 91; Miss Emma Ibbotson, 81; Lord Radstock, 80; Mrs. Lambert, 89; and Mr. Spencer Austen Leigh, formerly a famous huntsman and point to point rider, 80. In addition to this list there were names of eight others whose ages were between 70 and 80.

Spirit of Flight as King of Carnival

The flying man is undoubtedly the man of the moment, and as such he figured in the Nice carnival as King of the Revels. He made a striking figure as the classic warrior, Perseus, lying on the back of an enormous winged horse with forelegs high in the air. The hero holds in one hand a fork and in the other a gourd. The procession took place last month.

London Discussing Latest Folly of Fashion

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

GREEN, blue, pink and purple wigs, already the rage of Paris, have invaded London.

Mr. Seymour Lucas, R. A., the famous historical and portrait painter, in a statement which he made to your correspondent, gave his view on the subject in brief but unmistakable language.

"Green hair?" he said, in reply to a question, "I have never seen it, and I never wish to do so. The idea is too horrible. If women are wearing it they must be taking leave of their senses."

The new fashion, on the other hand, was stoutly defended by Mr. Willie Clarkson, whose showcases are packed with wax models wearing wigs of the new hair, the favorite colors being blue, green, pink and purple in fifty or more shades.

"Colored hair is certainly becoming," said Mr. Clarkson, "and for myself I frankly fail to see why any woman of taste or refinement should object to wear a wig of colored hair any more than she would object to wear a colored hat, a colored costume or even colored boots.

"We are filling very large orders for the wigs from Paris, where they are all the rage in the fashionable world, and London and New York are not very far behind in their demands. We have already sold a large quantity in London not only to actresses but to ladies in private life.

"A good average price for a colored wig made of human hair is ten guineas, while a wig made of prepared hair may be obtained for half that sum.

"The most popular colors for women with fair complexions is either bright blue or a pallish pink. Shades of green both light and dark are also much worn. For dark women pale blue is favorite color is deep purple.

"The light when it catches these wigs at night gives them a most charming effect."

Mr. Clarkson added that at one theatre in Paris actresses who wore colored wigs had caused the coats of their pet dogs to be dyed the same hues.

One of the first actresses on the "legitimate" stage in London to wear the new colored coiffure is Miss Madge McIntosh, who appears as Strega Thundridge in Mr. Bernard Shaw's curtain raiser "The Music Cure," at the Little Theatre, in a grass green wig.

"It suddenly struck me at the end of the rehearsals that I needed a green wig to complete my costume," said Miss McIntosh in an interview with the writer.

"Mr. Shaw and Mr. Menelm Foss said 'Try it!' and when I obtained a green wig and put it on they said 'Splendid!' So here it is, and the public seem to like it.

"I do not believe colored wigs will ever become really popular in private life, for two reasons. The first is that they are too expensive for people of modest means. It is all very well to argue that one pays as much for a hat, but a hat is a necessity and a green wig is not.

"The second reason is that in order to wear a colored wig a woman would have to dress specially for it, and even have the rooms in her house overhauled and redecorated to harmonise with the coiffure."

Doubt as to Nature of Future Battle Ship Halts Building

Well Known Naval Expert Explains Pause in Construction of Dreadnoughts and Outlines Probabilities of Equipment When Work Is Resumed.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

THE remarks of Admiral von Tirpitz in the Reichstag this week are held to indicate that for the present Germany will not follow the American lead in the construction of battle ships relying only on oil for fuel. It may be that the Germans are waiting until the internal combustion engine, in which oil can be consumed to so much greater advantage, is forthcoming, for the Grand Admiral is reported to have said that it was certain the future belonged to the oil motor.

This is a paraphrase of what Lord Fisher said to your correspondent during his trip to the United States in 1910.

"The nation that takes hold of the internal combustion engine first," said the British Admiral, "will sweep the boards commercially and it will be the commercial vessels that will first make the trial. It is a small step to use it in battle ships with increased weights possible in guns and armor."

This seems to be the general view among naval officers who keep an eye on the future.

There is now apparent in the war ship building of the nations something like a pause. It is not so pronounced as that which occurred after the advent of the dreadnought, but is nevertheless clearly perceptible. In Germany, where only two large ships are being laid down annually instead of four, delays have been caused by strikes. In France it is a question of design, not only of the vessels themselves, but of guns and armor. Similarly in Italy delay has occurred by the non-delivery of guns and armor for the new ships, and neither there nor in Austria has there been any further progress beyond the six and four ships respectively which were laid down from 1909 to 1912. The two Powers, in other words, have now only ten ships in the water instead of the sixteen with which they were at one time credited.

If progress has been less than was anticipated, the causes are manifest. There is the oil fired battle ship, which first America and then Great Britain adopted; the 15-inch gun, which seems to have permanently displaced the 13.5-inch guns for use in the main armament of ships of the line; the 1,000-ton submarine, which has appeared in England and France and may soon appear in Germany, where 800-ton vessels are already afloat, and last but not least the seaplane, the immense value of which for scouting purposes has just received such a striking illustration in the flight of Lieutenant Seddon along the south coast from Sheerness to Plymouth in six hours.

It can hardly be wondered at if there is a pause in shipbuilding when matters are in such an uncertain state. The greatest doubt exists as to what the battle ship of the future will be like. In the meantime we must go on building big craft, because, as Admiral Sir Reginald Custance said in a letter to an English newspaper recently, the initial step in a policy of reduction will involve a great responsibility, from which all Admiralties naturally shrink.

Quarrel Ends in Engagement

Stage Romance at Shaftesbury Proves That All London "Loves a Lover."

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

"ALL the world loves a lover."

That is perhaps why all London is talking about the pretty romance of Miss Cicely Courtneidge and Mr. Jack Hulbert, who, lovers on the stage, suddenly, as the result of a quarrel, found they were lovers in reality.

Miss Courtneidge is the twenty-four-year-old daughter of Mr. Arthur Courtneidge, playing the part of Lady Betty in "The Pearl Girl" at her father's theatre, the Shaftesbury, and Mr. Hulbert is a young actor, who in his first professional engagement had made something of a hit as Bobbie Jaffray.

The romance is best told in Miss Courtneidge's own simple words, who said to an interviewer:—"I have known Mr. Hulbert about seven months—since he first joined the cast of 'The Pearl Girl.' It wasn't really the result of our lovemaking on the stage, for we had been careful not to make it too real. He used to kiss me very gingerly. In fact we were always quarrelling and hadn't the slightest idea that we liked each other until we both became engaged.

"Of course, I really began to like him soon after we started rehearsals together, but I was very careful not to let him see it. I didn't know really whether he liked me, and since our engagement he has told me that he was similarly uncertain about me. At any rate, he tried very hard to show that he was not in love out of the play, and was indeed sometimes positively rude.

"Eventually we had a quarrel, and I think he felt very sorry. He came to my dressing room and it was really funny to see how he struggled to explain. At length, having apologized, he apparently gained courage, and confessed his love. Of course, after that," added Miss Courtneidge, with a merry laugh, as she returned from her dressing room, "I had to make a like confession, and—well, there you are."

"Yes, it's quite true," said Mr. Hulbert a minute later, "I had pretended very successfully for a long time that I didn't love her. I was very rude; then came the quarrel, and we made it up."

Bad Boys' Friend Passes to Paris

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

DR. JOHN A. COLLIVER, of Los Angeles, Cal., pioneer in juvenile court work in America and friend and helper of the "bad boy," has left here for Paris to study the street gamins at close range and compare the toughest youngsters he can find on the boulevards with the American and British brand. Dr. Colliver is making a leisurely trip around the world in pursuance of his studies, intending to spend sufficient time in each country to get thoroughly acquainted with child life there.

"More progress can be made by working with one generation of boys than can be made by working with several generations of adults," he said, when seen by your correspondent. "Boys vary with environment, as plants and flowers vary with soil. One should not condemn a bad boy, for ninety-seven times out of a hundred it is the fault of his parents or environment over which he has no control. Training a boy is like breaking a horse. It must be done properly, and the longer you let it go the harder job you have."

As medical probate officer in Los Angeles, Dr. Colliver first attracted attention to his theories in 1904, when he vigorously opposed the old methods of either sending youngsters off to jail with severe sentences or giving them honey doctrines of good deportment. He contended that nothing could be done through fear, and that the first necessity was getting the boys' confidence, characterising poor health, poor nourishment and fault of the parents as the chief causes to be eliminated. Subsequently Dr. Colliver was invited to extend his work throughout the country, and he has visited about every juvenile court in the United States.

BRIDE OF MR. THOMAS HARDY

MRS. THOMAS HARDY

The wedding of Mr. Thomas Hardy, the famous novelist, with is seventy-four years old, and Miss Florence Emily Dugdale, for many years his secretary, was solemnized on February 10. Soon after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hardy travelled to his home at Dorchester, where the news of the marriage was a surprise. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dugdale. She has written several books for children:—"Tim's Sister," "In Lucy's Garden," "The Book of Baby Beasts," "The Book of Baby Birds" and "The Book of Baby Pets." She was a close friend of Mr. Hardy's first wife, formerly Miss Emma Gifford, whom he married in 1874 and who died in 1912. He has no children.

Poet's Eye Guided the Brush of Sir Alfred East, Say Critics

Memorial Exhibition in London Groups Many Canvases from Studio of Late Royal Academician—News from the Art Centre of England.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

FROM the Sir Alfred East Memorial Exhibition at the Leicester Galleries one takes away the impression that the painter may just have been about to realise his high aim adequately when he was taken off by death. He died at the age of sixty-four, comparatively young, as years count, among great painters. Knighted by the King, he was elected a full member of the Royal Academy by his contemporary artists.

His etchings were delightful, and many lovely examples are to be seen at this memorial collection. Some of his drawings in watercolor, too, are unique in their intimate warmth of tone and in their soft and delicate, graduated tints. One lingers before his drawing of "The Cornfield" and feels the stocks so near that one might touch them. Two of the watercolors are lovely nooks "In Lover Park, Lancashire," in which the characteristic subdued tone of the northern landscape is skilfully produced.

But it is as an oil painter that East will survive, and as a brushman who modernised the decorative quality in landscape of such early English masters as Gainsborough. Many of the oils exhibited have Spanish subjects with the glow of intimate and warm color derived from the Southern skies. "Autumn in Spain," indeed, is probably a landscape which shows East at the zenith of his power. He painted late summer and autumn with unrivalled success. His trees of lingering green, touched with gold, his translucent water, his wakeful or somnolent skies, are here in paintings of late summer and autumn in England. His poet's eye loved the twilight and the dawn, the mystic mingling of dark and light when shadows can be transferred to the painter's canvas.

Thus, there are here delightful paintings of "Twilight," "Before the Dawn," and "Morning," and best of them all a superb rendering at dusk of the solitude around "Gomsmire Haugh from Windermere." Though dead too soon East will live on in his unique landscapes. "His streams and skies," says Mr. Gosse in a personal sketch in the catalogue, "his aerial foliage, his orange autumns, his pearly moonlight nights, will be the joy of successive generations."

There is no sign of diminishing interest in etchings or of decrease in the production; on the contrary, there is much evidence of growth in public appreciation of this particular phase of art, with the result that there are etchers whose occasional failure may be attributed to the urgency of the commercial instinct.

This incentive, however, is foreign to the nature of either M. Bauer or his fellow countryman, M. A. D. Van Angeren, who exhibit a series of their plates at Mr. R. Gutekunst's Gallery, No. 10 Grafton street. Bauer's "Bazaar in Damascus" has all the elements that vivify an emotional impression. "A Festival Day on the Ganges" is even more expressive. But his authority is best displayed in plates of small scale, like "A Gate" and "Aye, Sophia." In both he communicates the secrets he received in moments of intimacy in the East.

Van Angeren's work is comparatively unknown in London and his art is entirely different from that of Bauer. He is a realist of the school of Ostade and Wenceslaus Hollar, and in certain of his interprints the influence of Anders Zorn is evident. "The Mill" and "Meetschuit" owe their buoyant technique to the Swedish artist, not in slavish fashion, but in sure command of the needle in his efforts to convey the sensation of light, modelling everything to its own character and quantity. In no etching of modern times has the gray, moist, light air of Holland been represented with greater simplicity and truth. The cottages, the windmills, the winding road, the waterway and the tanky barge seem to have existed, stationary or moving, ever since Holland was rescued from the sea.

"Have You Flown?" Is Latest Question in London Society

Aviation Now Excites Interest Comparable to That Aroused by War Between Hotels and Supper Clubs—Air Tours Probable Amusement of the Future.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

"HAVE you flown?" is the little query which is exciting even more interest in society to-day than the tango or the war between the hotels and the supper clubs. Not long ago aviation and security were scarcely regarded as synonymous, but the new science has fairly "found its feet" and as a sport is likely to become quite popular within the very near future.

The extent to which aviation has "caught on" in society is illustrated by the report that a youthful lord has resigned his commission in the Royal Horse Guards to study the art of flying in France. His sister is also working hard for her pilot's certificate. At the Hendon Aerodrome Mr. Grahame-White recalled that Lord Carbery had performed a fine flight from Paris to Hendon, and that other pilots who had graduated at his establisament included Lord Edward Grosvenor, Sir Reginald Sinclair and Sir Bryan Leighton.

"The well known persons who have flown with me could be numbered by the score," said Mr. Grahame-White. "Here are just a few:—The Duke of Sutherland, Prince Christopher of Greece, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, who was one of my first passengers; Lord Drogheda, Lord Portarlington, Lord Desborough, Admiral Sir Edward Seymour, Sir Thomas Lipton, Sir Richard Paget, Mr. Arthur Balfour, Mr. Reginald McKenna and Colonel Seely. And the ladies—here are a few selections from the book:—The Duchess of Sutherland, Lady Ponsonby, Lady Drogheda, Lady Limerick, Lady Diana Manners, Lady Portarlington, the Honorable Mrs. Assheton Harbord, the Honorable Monica Grenfell and Lady Tree.

"The danger of flying has been greatly exaggerated; the statistics show that there has been only one fatal accident to every 25,000 miles flown, which for an industry in its infancy is pretty good. And then the next promises to be no greater than that of automobiling. Our aerial charabanc travels at fifty miles an hour with five passengers at a cost of sixpence per mile for every four people.

"Aerial touring will soon be as popular as automobiling; nothing could be more delightful than gliding over England in the summer time at the rate of 200 miles a day, and parties of three or four could easily be accommodated on one machine. Once you are in the air the feeling of security is extraordinary. Not long ago I was at a party in a country house where every one of the twenty-four persons at dinner decided that nothing in the world would induce them to take a flight. The next day I took each member of that party for a trip and they all confessed that it was not half so terrible as it looked."

BLIND NOW PLAY CRICKET BY EAR

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

PLAYING cricket by ear is an achievement few can boast. Yet the blind boys of Swiss Cottage Blind School can play an excellent game by sound. With a wicker ball, in which is contained a bell, the bowler attacks the wicket.

"Play," shouts the bowler, and in reply comes the batsman's "Right-o!" On hearing this word the bowler knows in what direction to send the ball. His fast underhand goes straight for the wicket, and the batsman, judging by the tinkling bell, knows when and where to hit.

"I know exactly how far to run," said a blind batsman to an astonished onlooker, "because there is a mat at the bowler's end which I 'feel' with my bat."

"The fielders," said the headmaster of the school, "have the most difficult part to play. But if the ball touches their chests the batsmen may well consider himself out; for immediately a fielder feels the touch of the ball his arms fold round it with amazing rapidity."

AN EPIGRAMMATIC DEAN

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, March 7.

DEAN Inge made some pointed and interesting utterances in a lecture at Sion College, Embankment, on "Main Spiritual Currents in Contemporary Thought." Among them were the following:—

This is a difficult time to live in, with a babel of voices and a great deal of manufactured opinion.

The new democratic art, or rather the necessary art of guiding or fooling, whichever they liked to call it, made a rather absurd theory of government work somehow.

Many Christian ministers found in politics a welcome refuge from preaching dogmas to which they no longer actively believed and which bored their congregations.

A man must be either a saint or a hum bug to preach the Gospel in a pure and unaltered form, and the majority of Englishmen were neither one nor the other.

THINK OF THE CHARGE.

A provincial municipal candidate was praising the gas department, and hoping to please the electors with a little humour, he said his policy was "Honour the Light Brigade." "Yes," came the voice of an indignant consumer, "but think of the charge they made!"

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

OUT OF THE SHADOWS

In the gentle current of Miss Sarah's life by far the wildest eddies were Paola's love affairs. Miss Sarah had never had a lover herself—she she had always been too busy taking care of Paola, who was the younger sister, a slim, pale creature, with vivid eyes and a head that habitually drooped a little as though weighted by its own gold hair and a sense of languorous melancholy.

Besides Miss Sarah's old-time courtesies, Paola was as an orchid to a pansy, but underneath the melancholy was a certain irresponsible deviltry, a certain intangible witchery that brought the most eligible youths of the neighborhood in suppliance to her feet and filled Miss Sarah with unceasing wonder and amazement.

Whenever a new victim appeared upon the scene, Miss Sarah thrilled with apprehension. As he was friendly, she approved of him; as he was more conspicuously attentive, she watched for him; then in gentle perplexity that never vanished with added experience, she saw him hover, advance, retreat—hover again, and plunge. When the little comedy was played out she took up her knitting with a sigh of relief, opened her volume of Felicia Hemans at the purple bookmark and prepared to rest before another seige.

Paola herself slipped from one emotional cataclysm to another as the slender moon from cloud to cloud. They veiled her vivid calm for a moment, but she always emerged unfettered, on the other side.

She had been wearing Francis Lockwood's roses for a month, when Miss Sarah one night, after three gentle calls unanswered, stepped through the long French window on to the moonlit verandah, with a crimson scarf in her hand. The June night called for no such guard against its close, sweet warmth, but on the subject of damp and dew Miss Sarah was inflexible.

"Paola'" she said anxiously—then since there was no Paola in all the shadow-dappled length of the verandah—raised her voice a little and called again, "Paola, dear!"

A mocking bird in the cedar by the gate gurgled a liquid impertinence that ended in a low call to his mate, but the rest was silence.

Miss Sarah looked across the lawn, then down at her feet.

"Paola must have this scarf," she said to herself, sternly, "and I suppose she is sitting on the bench by the the Black Prince—the most imprudent child!" That the Black Prince was a beloved rose bush saved Miss Sarah's remarks from their apparent impropriety; and mindful of her steps, she hurried into the path that led to the Black Prince's domains across the lawn.

The moon burned white above her in a cloudless sky, and Miss Sarah responded delicately to the influences of the hour. A faint, fragrant dream, with boyish eyes, called to her as she went slowly down the path, and young faces swam mistily in her memory as if they had drifted there with the smell of the box in the hedge.

She thought of the night her mother died—another June; of a flowered gown she had worn the day she was sixteen; of a poem—something about daffodils—or was it roses?

"The love that came with the daffodils and went away with the roses'—that was it,'' said Miss Sarah, with a little sigh of satisfaction, "only the daffodils come back with the spring, and every summer there are roses, so I really don't see the sense of that; those love song are nearly always rather silly." She stopped to thrust back the darling sweetness of a yellow banksia. "The garden is very sweet to-night," said Miss Sarah to herself, "and God walked in the cool of the garden. I wonder was it like this?" She paused on the edge of the Black Prince Kingdom, where it lay half in shadow, and lifted her eyes to the moon.

"Oh, dear!" said Miss Sarah, almost aloud, "what a beautiful night it is," which was Miss Sarah's way of saying that the world was very good, and she was happy. Then she lifted her skirts a little higher, not however, to the verge of indelicacy and sped softly to the heart of the rose garden.

Paola was sitting on the bench by the Black Prince—Miss Sarah saw that at once—and beside her was young Lockwood, as Miss Sarah had also foreseen, and Paola's head was thrown back, and one of Paola's slim arms lay like a shimmer of moon light along the back of the bench. "Positively invtting rheumatism," murmured Miss Sarah, miserably.

She was was within a few feet of them, and a call trembled on her lips when Paola's own voice stopped her.

"Go on," said Paola, in a soft, hurried whisper, and Miss Sarah by some queer instinct drew back into the shade of the great oak behind the bench, fearful lest an incautious moment would betray her, fearful almost of her own breathing, for Miss Sarah was learned in the way of Paola's suitors, and it was one of her best learned lessons never to interrupt them. So she drew back and waited, innocent of any desire to eavesdroop.

"Go on," said Paola again, and young Lockwood's voice came out of the deepest shadow, low and vibrant and rhythmic. Miss Sarah leaned closer instinctively to hear the words; they escaped her at first, then echoed clearer:

Remember how, when first we met,
we stood,
Stung with immortal recollections.
O fact, immured beside a fiery sea,
That leaned down at dead midnight, to be kissed!
O beauty, folded up in forest old!
Thou wast the lovely quest of Arthur's knights—
Thy armour glimmered in a gloom of green.
Did I not sing to thee in Babylon?
Or did we not sail in Carthage Bay?
Were thine eyes strange? Did I not know thy voice?
All ghostly grew the sun, unreal the air,
They when we kissed."

The last word quivered exultant on the air, and Miss Sarah trembled with a strange fear of it. Her fingers found the rough bark of the tree and clung; she waited, hungered, for the rest, but young Lockwood's voice broke from the beat of verse into unverse words:

"Paola, my beautiful, it is our story."

"It is the story of Paola and Francesca," said the girl, dreamily.

"Paola and Francesca—Paola and Francis—what does it matter? 'Were thine eyes strange? Did I not know thy voice?'"

Miss Sarah, dissied and enwrapt by she knew not what roseate mist, saw the white grace of Paola waver and lean to the shadow, and heard a few moments of magical silence—the whisper, tender, exultant:

'Anr in the book they read no more that day."

Miss Sarah felt her way back to the path with unnecessary care. If her light footstep had been the crash of brasses they would not have reached the two by the Black Prince, but Miss Sarah did not know it. She hurried along between the roses, catching her breath in little gasps as she went, and the wraiths of lost years swarmed around her, stinging her to wild, indefinite regret. She passed through the moonlight and up the steps, through the window, and caught up her neglected knitting with a pathetic desire for things tangible and commonplace. She opened the volume of Felicia Hemans at the purple bookmark, but without knowledge of a line.

"I never knew what it was like," she said, pitifully, to herself. "I wish I had known." The magic of the moonlight garden swept over her again, and the music of the lover's verse murmured in her ears. Miss Sarah trembled with a vague, unhappy longing for the things that she had never known—the things that were the inheritance of Paola, her sister, yet had never been hers.

Beyond the window the garden lay vast and wonderful beneath the moon; to her, a land where life ran in strange currents between banks of enchanted blossoms.

Suddenly, and without warning, a tear slipped down Miss Sarah's cheek and splashed down on the purple bookmark; another followed it, and yet another; then Miss Sarah drew herself together, and shut between the leaves of Felicia Hemans' poems her belated vision of romance. "And in the book they read no more that day," she said to herself, with a sad little sigh. Then she took up her knitting again, to wait for Paola.

LORD ROBERTS' VIEWS OF ARMY PROBLEM

How to Solve the Difficulty of Keeping His Majesty's Forces up to Strength

In an article in the London Saturday Review Lord Roberts shows that only by national service can the ranks of the regular army be filled, and he sums up his argument in the following paragraphs:

"It is clear that we cannot allow matters to drift any longer. In the course of the last ten years our soldiers, trained and partially trained, have fallen in numbers by over 100,000 men. Unless the press is misinformed, the Army Council has been driven to resort to advertising in the daily papers for recruits, and a big contract for the purpose has been placed in the hands of an enterprising advertising agent.

"Though I am convinced that nothing short of soldiers of good character being given hope of employment on their return to civil life will give us the number of recruits annually required, I see no objection to this measure, for in these days of strenuous competition every one must cry his wares aloud and attract attention to any post which he has to offer, and I do think that there can be no better method of placing the advantages of an army career before a lad than by putting him through a course of army training.

"The great merit of such a training would be that the lad would test the life for himself, and in joining the army he would do so with his eyes open. If recruits were not obtained in sufficient numbers after every able-bodied youth had seen for himself what an army career was like, it would be obvious to every one in the country that there was something wrong with the regular army as a service—and the country would insist on it that the defects should be remedied.

"In short, if we adopt universal training for home defence we shall not only solve the problem of recruiting for the regular army, but we shall possess military forces which will provide for the safety of the United Kingdom, the defence of the possessions of the Crown, and the preservation of the balance of power in Europe."

WELL DRESSED THIEVES

They Make a Practice of Stealing Rented Opera Glasses

At a ball given at the Albert Hall, London, in aid of a charity, opera glasses were placed on hire for the use of those people who might wish to use them. "After the ball was over" it was discovered that thirty pairs of these glasses were missing; but not, as might perhaps be expected, from the cheap seats. As the glasses were loaned to help the charity, and as the thirty pairs that were taken had to be paid for out of the money raised, this seemed to be a particularly mean form of theft.

As a matter of fact, about four pairs of opera glasses out of seven hundred are stolen from the London theatres every week. These glasses are not placed in the pit or the gallery, but only in the more expensive seats. The Electrophone Company which supplies the glasses that are for hire in about twenty-five London theatres, say that they have lost something like twenty thousand pairs in the last ten years.

Almost a foolish question, but—not quite!

There are still some people who order Kellogg's Corn Flakes and are given a substitute "just as good"—and accept the imitation.

The great difference is in the flavor and the nutriment.

ON HAPPINESS

It is undeniable that the great quest of humanity is happiness.

But was the world created to be happy? How many are truly happy? I've studied people in all classes and conditions, and everywhere I have found, when you get below the surface, that it is mostly the insincere individual who says, "I am happy." Nearly everybody wants something he hasn't got, and as things are constructed, what he wants is money—more money than he has in his pocket.

But after all, money can buy only a few things. Why should anyone envy the captains of industry? Their lives are made up of those vast, incessant worries from which the average individual is happily spared. Worry, worry, that is the evil of life.

What do I consider the nearest approximation to happiness of which the present human nature is capable? Why, living on a farm which is one's own, far from the hectic, artificial conditions of the city—a farm where one gets directly from one's own soil what one needs to sustain life, with a garden in front and a healthy, normal family to contribute those small domestic joys which relieve a man from business strain.—Thomas A. Edison.

Poaching Is Increasing.

OTTAWA, March 12.—When the Consolidated Fisheries Act was under discussion in committee yesterday morning, G. W. Kyte, of Richmond, held that in connection with prosecutions for poaching, entirely too much power is given fishery guardians. Their privilege of arresting poacher without warrant might be thought to be abused, and be a violation of the habeas corpus act. The clause was held over. Departmental officials state that poaching is increasing tremendously.

Stephens Will Run.

MONTREAL, March 12. — Major G. W. Stephens has decided now that he will run for mayor and take a chance on his being disqualified under the residential stipulation. There is little doubt that if his opponent, Maderic Martin, one of the notorious "22" aldermen of the old corrupt regime, loses the fight, Stephens' election will be contested in the courts. The English-speaking ex-harbor board chairman has determined to run this risk.

THE BURDENS OF AGE

The kidneys seem to be about the first organs to wear out and fail to properly perform their work. The result is weak lame, aching back, rheumatic pains and failing strength. Many people of advanced years have recovered health and comfort by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They ensure the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

SCORES PATRONAGE

Dr. McQueen Says Spoils System Inimical to Efficiency

HE FAVOURS A COMMISSION

TORONTO, March 12.—Patronage, a commission system in the civil service formed the subject of a debate in the Legislature yesterday when Dr. McQueen (Lib., N. Wentworth) presented a motion declaring that the patronage system was inimical to the highest efficiency in the administration of provincial affairs.

Dr. McQueen (Lib., Wentworth), in the course of his speech, declared that asylum superintendents had been chosen without any consideration of their qualifications and placed over the heads of men who could have taught them all they knew. Many of these in Ontario did not even have executive ability.

In Great Britain, he said, the reversion to a commission was doing wonderfully well, both by open competition and fearless scrutiny of applicants. Under a commission the relief of the Minister from routine duty, and the selection of men on their merits improved the general effect of the civil service on the country, and gave a new viewpoint to the new-comers, who otherwise might feel that advancement came through political affiliation.

Hon. Mr. Hearst, in reply, said that of the appointment of asylum officials he knew little, but who would deny that the general management had improved? The argument of the Opposition was academic; it fell down in practical application. The new idea was not fitted to Ontario because of the limited number of offices and the varied character of the appointments.

Mr. Hearst said that the bulk of the men occupying positions in the civil service in Toronto were of Liberal tendencies and friends to the Opposition. There was not a case of the spoils system, and he was bound to say that they had always gained efficient service.

He moved an amendment congratulating the Government on the excellence of its administration in the matter of civil service.

W. N. Sinclair (South Ontario) said the amendment only meant that a large number of the civil servants in office under the late Government were still in office under the present Government, but the Government could not say that recent appointments had been made on the basis of independence or merit.

T. Marshall (Monck) said the removal of the patronage system would rid both parties of an incubus that would trouble them all their lives, because it was usually the rule that members lost the support of those who wanted jobs and did not get them.

A. H. Musgrove (North Huron) mentioned the cases of the two deputy Ministers now in the service of the Ottawa Government who had been recruited from the Provincial Departments as evidence of the capability of the service as a whole.

He quoted instances in the Department of Education to show that Liberals and Conservatives were equally favored, and in some cases Liberals were given preference.

On a division the Government amendment was upheld.

Resuming the debate on the budget, Allan Studholme (Hamilton) undertook a lengthy criticism of the Government's immigration policy, which lasted until 5 o'clock.

The debate will adjourn to-day with Hon. W. H. Hearst speaking for the Government.

Mr. Rowell will be the last speaker for the Opposition.

Clever Birds.

Among the feathered tribe the bower-bird of Australia easily takes the record for versatility, being at once gardener, architect, and artist. For it not only constructs a neat, tunnel-like bower framed like a Gothic arch, but can lay out a garden, discriminately picking the orchid blossoms and arranging them into pretty patterns with impeccable taste.

York Cathedral Largest.

The largest cathedral in England is that of York, the area of which is 62,300 square feet, St. Paul's being the second largest, with an area of 59,700 square feet.

HEART WAS SO BAD
Could Not Do Her Housework

Many women get run down and are unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. Thomas Melville, Saltcoats, Sask., writes:—"I thought it my duty to write and tell you how much your Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. My heart was so bad I could not sleep, eat nor walk about the house. I could not do my housework at all, and what my husband could not do had to go undone. I had two small children depending on me besides three men to cook for, and it worried me to not be able to do anything. My husband had taken some of your pills some years ago, and insisted on me trying them, so I started, and before I had taken them two weeks I was considerably better, and before I had taken two boxes I was doing my own work again. Any one suffering from heart or nerve trouble should just give your pills a trial. If anyone cares to write me I will gladly give them all the information I know concerning your wonderful medicine."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

REFORMERS OF IRELAND, PAST AND PRESENT—With apologies to the "Exile of Erin." Agitations are just as earnest, but not quite so drastically dealt with in Old Ireland these days as when the artist thus depicted the Irish exile on the shore of France or America. Inset are the pictures of Sir Edward Carson, John Redmond, and William O'Brien, the leading Irish "agitators" of the present day. And if any exiling was done, which one would be the exile?

Farm and Dairy Market Report

demand for our hay, as local prices are now higher than those at European centres. A few small lots continue to go forward to the United States. No. 1, $14.50; No. 2, $10.50 to $13.50; No. 3, $8 to $9; baled straw, $8.50. Montreal quotations are at last week's levels: No. 1, $15.50 to $16; No. 2, $12.50 to $15; No. 3, $10 to $12.50.

POTATOES AND BEANS

The last week has witnessed a sudden jump in potatoes. Storms delayed some 200 cars of potatoes en route from the Maritime provinces, and Ontario markets were left bare. Quotations now rule as 75c to 80c for Ontarios in car lots and 80c to $1 for New Brunswick potatoes, but it is doubtful how long these quotations will last. At Montreal conditions are similar, Green Mountains commanding 90c to 95c on track.

Bean quotations are: Primes, $2.20 to $2.25; hand-picked, $2.30 to $2.35. At Montreal dealers quote hand-picked, $2.05 to $2.12½; three-pound pickers, $1.75 to $1.90.

SEEDS

Merchants are paying farmers a basket as follows: Alsike, No. 1, $8.50 to $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; No. 3 $6 to $7; red clover, No. 1, $8.25 to $8.75; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; timothy, No. 1, $2.75 to $3.25; No. 2, $2 to $2.50.

EGGS AND POULTRY

Receipts of eggs, both from the United States and Canadian points, are now heavy, but lower prices have so increased consumption, that the market go far is steady. Wholesale quotations for new laids are 34c to 35c; selects, 33c to 34c; and storage, 28c. Wholesale quotations at Montreal run around 33c for new laid, with stocks much in excess of the same date last year.

Poultry quotations are: Dressed fowl, 14c to 15c; alive, 13c to 14c; spring chickens, 16c to 18c and 14c to 15c; geese 14c to 15c and 10c to 11c; turkeys 17c to 23c and 14c to 17c.

DAIRY PRODUCE

This is the same steady market that it has been for the last couple of months. Receipts from country points are coming in fairly well, and practically all are being used for local consumption. Reports from the Western provinces indicate that New Zealand butter is meeting with a splendid demand, and being rolled into the United States must necessarily pass the tuberculin test. This necessitates several days in quarantine and for the time being the new order has practically put a stop to the international trade in raw cattle. As a consequence prices on the cattle market have slumped and the advantages that the new United States tariff have conferred have been to a considerable extent minimized.

The volume of trade compares very favorably with that of the same period in previous years. In Canada, however, our business men have come to look for increases each year, and in many cases the increased business is not coming, although it is generally expected that a favorable season will restore optimism in business circles.

A review of the farmers' market shows higher quotations for potatoes, mill feeds and hogs. Cattle are down; other products are steady.

WHEAT

More foreign business has been done during the past week and the situation is strong. Ontario wheat is in particular demand, and quotations have advanced. A peculiar situation in connection with wheat is that world production seems to be increasing much faster than world consumption. Quotations now are: No. 1 Northern, $1.01; No. 2, 99½c; Ontario wheat, 97c to 98c.

COARSE GRAINS

The grain market is strong but trade is quiet. Some barley has been sold for export. Quotations: Oats, C.W. No. 2 41½c; No. 3, 40½c; Ontario, 36c to 37c; American corn, 70c to 74c; Ontario corn 66½c to 67c; rye, 61c to 63c; peas, 98c to $1; buckwheat, 74c to 75c; barley, 47c to 58c. Montreal quotations are: Oats, C.W. No. 2, 46c; No. 3, 43c to 43½c; corn, 72½c to 73c; barley, malting, 65c to 66c; feed 49c to 50c; buckwheat, 55c; rye, 70c to 75c; peas, $1.75 to $2.25; feed wheat, 70c to 80c.

MILL FEEDS

Mill feeds have advanced sharply during the week. Bran now goes at $23 and $24; shorts, $25 to $25.50; middlings, $27 to $30; feed flour, $34 to $35. At Montreal also mill feeds are scarce: Bran $23; shorts, $25; middlings, $28.

ORANGE LODGE OPENS.

Bilingualism and Home Rule Dealt With By Grand Master.

GUELPH, March 13. — With over 300 delegates present the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West assembled in annual meeting at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Grand Master Fred Dane, of Toronto, occupied the chair, and Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, delivered a short address.

Mr. Dane in his address dealt with bilingualism, declaring that if Canada is to be a nation, the polyglot of languages will have to be wedged together by a knowledge of English. Every child in Canada should be taught English to have a fair chance to make a living.

Referring to Home Rule in Ireland, Mr. Dane declared that "we want it clearly and distinctly understood that we are positively opposed to Home Rule. Ulster shall not be sold to keep any political party in power. We oppose the bargain between the Asquith Government and the Nationalists, the price of which is the handing over of a loyal minority to the tender mercies of a party who clamor for separation from the Empire."

Death List May Reach 45.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—Work of searching of the ruins of the Missouri Athletic Club for the bodies of the twenty victims of Monday's fire, believed to be in the debris, made slow progress yesterday, and no bodies were recovered. Nine of the ten recovered have been identified. A conservative estimate places the number of dead at 30, although some officers of the club think it may reach 45.

New Gas Gusher.

PETROLEA, March 13.—The new gas gusher at Oil Springs was "capped" last night. Drilling will continue to a depth of 500 feet more. An expert said the flow registered 7,500,000 cubic feet per day.

Patriotic Mutilation.

At Hampton Court Palace, London, Eng., there is a picture which bears witness to a theft that may be termed patriotic. This is Holbein's "Field of the Cloth of Gold," which after the downfall of Charles I. Cromwell proposed to sell.

But when the would-be purchaser came to inspect it he discovered that the head of Henry VIII. had been cut from the canvas. He refused to buy the picture and it was preserved to the nation.

At the Restoration a nobleman confessed to having committed the crime "for love of art and country." He returned the missing head, which now occupies its original position, the circle made by the knife in the canvas being plainly visible.

The Skin Troubles of Childhood

School Records Show Much Time Lost From Eczema.

Chafing and skin irritation, whether from changing temperature, rough winds, strong soap or the action of the clothing, naturally develop into eczema, spread over the body and defy ordinary treatments.

Most doctors do not give much attention to skin diseases, and, consequently, it is necessary for parents to select some treatment which has proven a cure for such ailments. If records of cures count for anything, then you can turn to Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that in this you will have the means of controlling itching skin diseases.

By affording prompt relief from the terrible itching, Dr. Chase's Ointment puts an end to suffering, and removes the cause of scratching. As the fires of eczema die away the ointment sets up the process of healing, and brings about thorough and lasting cure. As a treatment for the skin troubles of children nothing has ever proved so satisfactory as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

TWO FACTORIES GUTTED.

Fire Visits Crean Hat Works and Rudd Harness Works in Toronto.

TORONTO, March 12. — Within three hours after it had broken out, a fire, which originated in the boiler room of George A. Rudd & Co., harness manufacturers, 737 King street west, had totally destroyed this building and swept across a narrow lane to the establishment of Robert Crean & Co., hat manufacturers. Once it obtained a hold in the Crean structure it was impossible to arrest its progress owing to the inflammable material in the building. Both buildings are badly damaged and the contents are a total loss. The damage will amount to $120,000, covered by insurance of $95,000.

Both companies have suffered through large fires within the past few months. A year ago the Rudd building was badly gutted, and in August the Crean company had their building on Belmonto street and its contents totally destroyed.

The work of the firemen on that occasion was severely criticized by Mr. Crean during the recent fire department investigation. He said that the work of the firemen yesterday afternoon was very poor.

Several firemen were in danger when, while they were working in the buildings, the floors gave way.

HOUSE BURNED; GIRL GONE.

Mystery Surrounds Disappearance of Montreal Woman.

MONTREAL, March 12. — The mysterious disappearance of his niece on the night of March 5, following an equally mysterious fire in his home, led Alfred Gauthier to consult the police yesterday.

An investigation into the fire has been opened by Commissioner Latulippe. Mrs. Gauthier testified that her husband and family were in bed and she was waiting up for her niece, Eugenie Lescom, 23 years old, who usually in the evening had gone out with a man whom Mrs. Gauthier knew as "Paul." A few minutes after her departure another man called for her. This man had often taken Eugenie out and on this particular night after being told she was not in, he loitered in the vicinity. About midnight Mrs. Gauthier said she discovered both the rear gallery and the curtains of the front door in flames.

The second young man, Joseph Lausen, has turned up to say that when he noticed the fire he ran to give the alarm. The girl has not been heard of since.

WHITNEY GIVES INTERVIEW.

Sir James Says He Will Take a Long Vacation.

TORONTO, March 12.—Sir James Whitney received representatives of the city newspapers at his home yesterday afternoon, when he made the following statement:

"I find myself very much improved in health during the last few weeks. Now that I am at home, and with the coming of mild spring weather I anticipate a further improvement in my condition.

"As far as any plans are concerned, I do not propose to attend the sittings of the Legislature during the present session, and am taking no part in the proceedings of the House. I propose to take a rather long vacation, during which I shall not take any part in the considerations of public matters, which I am leaving entirely to my colleagues in the Government."

Attempted Suicide.

LONDON, March 12. — J. Stroud, 362 York street, attempted suicide by slashing his throat with a razor last evening, and but for the intervention of a boarder probably would have killed himself. His condition is critical. Stroud had been out of work and had become despondent.

Missing a Great Chance.

During an aviation meet in Chicago a professional pickpocket, who was locked up in jail pending trial, sent for the prosecuting attorney and begged to be released.

"But," said the P. A., "you picked a man's pockets. Of course you'll have to do some time."

"Well, sir," replied the prisoner, "I suppose you're right, and, to tell the truth, I don't mind the mere fact of being in jail; but, gee, it's fierce to be here during this aviation meet, with everybody looking up in the air!"—Everybody's.

Puzzled Him.

"I'm puzzled about this craziness of eating to music."

"How's that?"

"I can't understand whether the food is intended to keep your mind off the music or the music is intended to keep your mind off the food."—Musician.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, March 11.—Wheat prices divided today, becoming firmer for the near comp but weaker for the old. Damage reports were numerous and export milling demand nil. Heaviness prevailed at the close, which varied from ⅛c to ¾c decline to ¼c to ½c advance. Corn finished 1-16c off to ⅛c up, and oats with a gain of a shade to ⅛c. In provisions the outcome was 5c to 10c up.

Liverpool wheat closed ¾d to ⅞d higher, corn, unchanged to ⅛d higher.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, March 11.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Yards were 58 cars, comprising 860 cattle, 2800 hogs, 42 sheep and 168 calves.

Butchers.

Choice steers sold at $8 to $8.25; good, $7.60 to $7.90; medium, $7 to $7.25; common, $6.50 to $6.75; choice cows, $6.75 to $7; good cows, $6.50 to $6.75; medium cows, $5.50 to $6; common cows, $5 to $5.50; canners and cutters, $3.75 to $4.50; bulls, choice, $7 to $7.50; good bulls, $6.50 to $7; medium, $6 to $6.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Stockers and feeders were none too plentiful. Prices of steers, 600 to 900 lbs., at $6.75 to $7; steers, 700 to 800 lbs., at $6.25 to $6.50; stockers sold at from $4.50 to $5.75.

Veal Calves

There was a fair supply of calves on sale yesterday, and prices ruled about steady. Choice quality sold at from $10 to $11; good calves sold at $9 to $10.50; common calves at $5.50 to $6.50.

Sheep and Lambs

The sheep and lamb market was firm. Sheep, light ewes, sold at $6.50 to $7; heavy ewes, $5.75 to $6.25; rams, $5.25 to $6.25; heavy lambs, $8 to $8.75; choice lambs, $9 to $9.75.

Milkers and Springers.

A moderate supply of milkers and springers sold at $60 to $85 each. Late springers are not in demand.

Hogs

Selects fed and watered at $9.25; at $9 f.o.b. cars and $9.50 to $9.60 weighed off cars.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, March 11.—The tone of the market for cattle continues easy, but prices have a downward tendency, as supplies coming forward are far in excess of the requirements, the demand today being only for small lots to fill actual wants, and sales of choice steers were made at $7.75 to $8.25; good stock at $6.50 to $7.50, and common at from $4.50 to $5.50 per 100 pounds. The market for milch cows was also weaker, on account of the increased offerings, and prices have declined $10 per head, with sales of choice milkers at $90 to $100, good at $70 to $80, and springers at $60 to $80 each.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

A Quick, Sure Way to Banish Hair Growths

(Aids to Beauty)

Here is a true hair-remover and no pain or injury will follow its use: With a little powdered delatone mix enough water to make a stiff paste, apply to hairy surface and after 3 or 4 minutes rub it off. With this paste comes every trace of hair and when the skin is washed to remove the remaining delatone it will be soft and clear and free from blemish. Excepting in very stubborn cases, a single application of delatone is sufficient.

BRIGAND LOOT CITY.

Lao Ho-Kow Is Burned and Norwegian Missionary Slain.

PEKIN, China, March 13.—Brigands yesterday sacked and burned the city of Lao Ho-Kow, killed Dr. T. Froyland, a Norwegian missionary, and wounded several others, including Rev. O. M. Sama, another Norwegian.

A force of from four hundred to five hundred of the brigands obtained entrance to the city by means of treachery from within. The brigands then plied torch and sword all round. They burned down the Asiatic Petroleum and the Singer buildings and looted the British and American Tobacco Co.'s premises. Afterward they proceeded to the arsenal, where they secured seven hundred rifles, several field guns and much ammunition. Two thousand coolies were impressed by the brigands to carry off their loot.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAW IS SAID TO BE IMPRACTICABLE

Poultry Expert Asserts That By-law Tends to Defeat Purpose for Which it is Intended.

EFFECT NOT VISIBLE

That the proposed by-law which is being fathered by Mayor Buller and Sanitary Inspector Spence to compel farmers to clean chickens before they are offered for sale on the market would be seriously detrimental to the consumer in several ways, and eliminate to a great extent the effect of the Sanitary Inspector's efforts to detect diseased fowl on the market, is the opinion of a local poultry expert. To the Examiner to-day it was stated by one who has been a breeder and student of poultry all his life, that such a measure would be diametrically opposite to what has been found to be the wisest precautionary measure, as a result of extended investigation on the Government experimental farms.

Tubercular Trouble.

While no data is obtainable to show the exact loss from tuberculosis in fowls, there is ample evidence that it is considerable. One farmer has lost fifty fowl in seven months. Others say they lose about one a week. But whatever may be the precise number infected there can be no doubt that it is comparatively large. In view of this fact, says the poultry breeder, it is evident that the measures in the past to safeguard the consumers from infection (which includes the inspection of all fowl on the market by the Sanitary Inspector) have not been at all too stringent. Hundreds of fowl are offered for sale, and are bought on the market every week, and the task of the Sanitary Inspector in detecting diseased birds is a very difficult one under the most favourable circumstances. Then, too, he asks the citizens to bear in mind that every infected chicken that escapes detection may result in communication of the disease to the consumer of the fowl.

Evidence Destroyed.

When fowl is examined for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not it has been the victim of tuberculosis or any other disease, the condition and appearance of the head are exterior evidences. From the condition of the head of the examiner get his proof that the bird is free from, or the victim of, any disease. If this part of the body gives no indication of sickness, the bird may be adjudged fit for sale. But if it shows anything that would warrant the suspicion of disease the bird can then be cut open and its internal organs examined. Here will be found proof beyond all doubt as to whether the chicken is diseased or not. If the suspicion was not confirmed the fowl can be sold. But should the presence of disease be ascertained the fowl can be confiscated and the public safeguarded. Thus is it claimed that the head of the fowl will indicate the presence of disease and the subsequent examination of the internal organs, resulting from the inspection of the head will determine for certain whether or not the fowl is fit to be sold.

If, as would be the case under the proposed by-law, the head and intestines are not brought to the market, then the only certain way of detecting the disease has been removed, and the inspector would labour in vain. The result would be, he claims, that the public would be very imperfectly guarded from the inroads of disease through this source.

Effect Not Visible.

The by-law as it is proposed at present would provide that the liver of the bird be left in the bird for examination. But the examination of the liver he says, is not a sure manner of detecting the presence of disease. That is true for two reasons. Firstly, because if the bird has been killed while in a certain stage of the disease it cannot be detected by examining liver, as that organ would not be visibly effected. Government statistics show that out of one lot of 100 birds (not visibly affected), forty in reality had tuberculosis. Thus, if three hundred were sold, and were to all appearances, after an examination of the liver, in perfect health, eighty of them might have been tubercular.

HELLO! LOOK WHO'S HERE?

Account for Broken Gas Main a the Nicholls Hospital—Investigating Committee Appointed

BOARD OF WORKS

The regular mid-week meeting of the Board of Works committee was held last night. An accumulation of business was disposed of, and a busy session brought to an unsatisfactory and inharmonious conclusion, with the 3rd and final attempt to dispose of the estimates for the current year. Those present were His Worship Mayor Buller, Aldermen Duncan (chairman), Johnston, Anderson, Green, Stratton, Duffus and Saunders.

An antiquated account rendered by the Peterborough Light and Power Company and amounting to a little over sixty-three dollars, was left in the hands of a committee for adjustment.

The account concerned repairs that were made some months ago to a gas main that was broken by the City's construction gang during the laying of a sewer at the Nicholls Hospital.

The company claimed that thirty-five thousand cubic feet of gas was lost as a result of the break, which occurred on two occasions.

Mr. W. H. Munro, manager of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, who was present, explained the manner in which the breaks occurred and the consequent loss.

Ald. Duncan suggested that the Waterworks Department might be involved, as the department was working in the vicinity at the same time. To this Mr. Munro replied that he could not say offhand whether such was the case.

Was Cross-examined.

Mr. Munro was cross-examined by Ald. Green as to the condition of the pipe.

The latter suggested that the pipe might havce been rusty and consequently would be easily broken.

"How many times has the City filled your trenches, following the laying of gas mains?" inquired Mayor Buller of Mr. Munro.

Mr. Munro replied that he knew of none that the City had not billed the company for. He produced another account which concerned a similar break at the corner of George and Dalhousie Street. This break was caused by a service pipe that was laid across the main.

Accounts covering the removal of poles on Babb's Lane, thawing out pipes and various other items were also submitted.

"Are you sure you haven't missed any?" inquired Ald. Stratton.

"They represent the tag ends of two years business," replied Mr. Munro.

"Let us make a clean up," said Ald. Green. "Perhaps Mr. Munro is prepared to make a reduction right now."

"To-morrow's dollar day," interdicted Ald. Duncan.

Mr. Munro preferred to have the matter investigated by a committee comprising Mayor Buller, Ald. Duncan and City Engineer Parsons. The committee will report back at a later date.

Want Standard Wage.

A letter was received from the Trades and Labour Council, asking the City to fix the minimum rate of wages for the year 1914 at twenty-five cents per hour. The present minimum is one dollar and seventy-five cents a day.

Ald. Green—"Why should we be instructed by any body as to what wages we should pay? Surely the man engaged is qualified to make one-half of the bargain and the employer can be entrusted with the care of making the other half."

Several of the aldermen, including Mayor Buller, concurred with Ald. Green. It was explained that many men are employed as a matter of charity. City Engineer Parsons said that he was satisfied to have each civic employee paid a fair wage.

It was said that the sidewalk gang were a better class of men than is generally employed and they were en-

LOCAL POLICE GET MURDER SUSPECT

Man by the Name of Armstrong Arrested by Newhall and Meagher—Had Several Aliases

WILL BE HELD

On Monday evening last, Detectives Newhall and Meagher, arrested two suspicious looking men, who the following morning were remanded as vagrants. On Monday evening, the actions of the men in walking to and from the Grand Trunk station to the Chinese Cafe, aroused the officers' suspicion, who took them to headquarters. The following morning the men gave their names as Maloney and Bridsfield respectively.

Some time ago, a circular was received by the local Police Department intimating the fact that a man, by the name of Armstrong, had escaped from the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City, Indiana, where he had been confined since June 3rd, 1907, after having been convicted of murder. It is thought that Maloney may be the missing convict, whose right name is Armstrong. On Monday evening Detective Newhall went to the door of the cell where Armstrong was lying down. He called out "Armstrong, come here, I want you," whereupon the man who gave his name as Maloney, got up, and walked to the door.

Another indication that he is the man, is the fact that the escaped convict had a tatoo mark on his arm. The man under arrest here, has his right arm bandaged, and it is the opinion of the local authorities, that a tatoo mark has been removed from that place, although the prisoner gives a different story.

His finger prints have been taken, and will be forwarded to the proper authorities, to ascertain whether or not they are alike.

Meanwhile the man will be held as a suspect.

Chief Thompson told an Examiner representative this afternoon, that he is not sure it is the right man, but apparently all indications point to the fact that he is.

Chief Thompson is in communication with the authorities at Indiana. There is a reward of one hundred dollars for his arrest.

Armstrong was described as a man of 24 years of age, and of white complexion, and light hair. The circular also gives the Bertillion measurements.

If this turns out to be the right man, much praise and credit will reflect on our local derectives, who are deserving of all the praise they get, for the excellent and thorough manner in which they always carry out their work. Such people as the man under arrest seem to make Peterborough their rendezvous. But they should know they will not be safe here, at least, not while we have such an efficient force as we have at the present time.

WHAT BORDEN GOVERNMENT IS GUILTY OF

Its Own Official Return Shows "Waste" on Transcontinental Under the Present Administration of $36,000 and Real "Rake-off" of 100 Per Cent.

PHYSICIAN HEAL THYSELF

OTTAWA, March 11.—According to the charges made by Messrs Gutellus and Lynch-Staunton as to wasteful expenditure on the National Transcontinental Railway under the Laurier Administration, the Borden Government has also many sins to answer for. Two instances of changing contract prices and of subletting under the present Government have come to light, which are quite as bad as, if not very much worse than, anything referred to in the Gutelius-Lynch-Staunton report.

According to a return tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon by the Acting Minister of Railways, Hon. Dr. Reid, the Government allowed the contractor for the St. Malo shops, in connection with the N. T. R. at Quebec, nearly three times as much for earth excavation as the original tender called for. The increase in price by nearly two hundred per cent. is excused on the ground that the original price of 85 cents per cubic yard was on the basis of doing the work in the summer time. But Hon. L. P. Pelletier found that there was very much unemployment in Quebec this winter, and so he persuaded the Government to allow the excavation work to be done this winter.

Difference of $36,000.

That gave employment to from six hundred to seven hundred men, and because the contractor had to handle "frozen earth" he was allowed by order-in-council $2.30 per cubic yard for it. The difference in cost is $36,000. This amount has been charged up as additional to the cost of the National Transcontinental. It is not shown that it was necessary to have the work done this winter.

The contract was entered into last year, in the expectation that the work would be done under normal conditions, and at the lower figures. The change in contract prices was made at the very time that Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton were preparing their report, and almost under their very noses. Had it been done under the Laurier Government this $36,000 would, of coure, be classed as "waste."

It may be further noted that in the contract entered into between the present National Transcontinental Commissioner, Major Leonard, and the contractor, Mr. Joseph Gosselin, there is a specific provision put in allowing subletting.

Sublet for Less Than Half.

Another and still more striking contrast between precept and practice under the Borden Administration is seen in the remarkable instance of subletting in connection with the $10,000,000 contract awarded to the Norton-Griffiths Company for the terminal and harbour works at Courtenay Bay, St. John. The contract price for rock excavation allowed by the Government was $2.50 per cubic yard. The company sublet this to the Courtenay Construction Company for $1.17 per cubic yard. According to Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton, this would represent a "rake-off" of over 100 per cent. for the main contractors. It will be remembered that in the case of subletting on the N. T. R. a ten per cent. "rake-off" was regarded as scandalous.

It appears that the sub-contractors at Courtenay Bay thought that they were getting too much of the short end of the deal, and appealed to the Government here to compel a higher price for them. Finally, the Norton-Griffiths Company is said to have bought up the Courtenay Construction Company, and is doing the work under other arrangements. In any case, however, it would appear that the rock excavation, at least, could be done for less than half what the Government is paying for it.

APPROPRIATION OF $29,250 WAS ALLOWED

Estimates for Board of Works Determined after an Illuminating Discussion—History Repeats Itself

ON INCREASE

The battle of the estimates was again renewed last night. This time it concerned the Board of Works. The net result of the meeting was that the Board will recommend that the Council authorize an appropriation of $29,250, which is $750 more than was allowed last year. The meeting was practically a repetition of Tuesday night's meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, with the exception that Alderman Saunders showed less resiliency than usual.

Board of Works Estimates.

The original estimates as submitted by City Engineer Parsons were as follows:

DOLLAR DAY BROUGHT BIG BUSINESS TO MERCHANTS

Thousands of Citizens and Farmers Take Advantage of the Unusual Offerings Presented by Local Retailers—Bargains Were Real and Money Was Actually Saved in To-day's Transactions

CONTINUES TO-NIGHT

Dollar Day has been a unique and unqualified success. It is safe to say that even the most hopeful expectations of retailer and consumer were exceeded by the volume of business that was rolled up since eight o'clock this morning. And remember that the stores will remain open until ten o'clock this evening.

Dollar Day produced the liveliest bargain hunt that Peterborough has ever seen. In addition to the regular City variety, there were farmers and their wives who were as numerous along the one-time Edison Lane as on Circus day. A very gratifying feature was the widespread purchasing that continued throughout the day. Business was not converged at one store, and practically every merchant shared in to-day's turn-over.

It will be impossible to estimate the amount of business transacted. Several merchants stated that in the rush of business during the earlier part of the morning fully half the buyers did not wait for their slips to be used in the guessing competition. They were satisfied to get the goods and elbow a way out of the crowds.

Country People Numerous.

One of the surest evidences of the large number of farmers in the City for the occasion were the crowded restaurants during the noon hour. A farmer in the Examiner office casually spoke of one woman who had told him she had not been in the City in several months. She likewise stated that she had made twenty guesses for the prize money, which means that she spent twenty dollars. That is an isolated case, but it indicates the extent to which the Dollar Day spirit had spread outside the City.

Buying Was Heavy.

A large dry goods merchants stated that not only were the advertised bargains bought up, but there was also a general purchasing in all departments. An incident is related from this store of a woman who parted with $196 for various articles. At any rate she consigned 196 tickets in the box in front of the Examiner.

Another instance is cited by a woman who said she saw another woman purchase goods to the value of $231 in a dry goods store. This does not come from the proprietor, and may not be authentic.

A men's wear dealer who had a special sale of packages stated that two men asked for a package each before nine o'clock, the hour set for the beginning of the sale. While waiting for the opening they bought two eighteen dollar suits of clothes. Thus each of them turned a dollar purchase into nineteen.

Even the Milkmen.

However, these are mere incidents of a busy morning. Even tax collector Green had seven or eight inquiries in regard to his Dollar Day marriage licenses. Those who spoke to him were afraid the newspapers would get word of their purchases. This was one "gift horse" that received a thorough examination as to its teeth, etc.

Even the milk men showed a splendid return. Carl Walker stated this morning that he had received $70 for his Dollar Day tickets and that was at a comparatively early hour in the day. The Peterborough Pure Milk Co. sold $400 worth of tickets. Mr. Gillespie was highly pleased with the business done. The saving secured by milk consumers on this sale alone amounts to quite a little item.

Even Balloon Ascension.

The Oak Hall balloon ascension, this morning, was quite successful, the first balloon getting away about 10.15. It floated away to the East, sailing high and easily. The wind this afternoon nipped three attempts, but if it is fairly calm this evening illuminated balloons will be sent up.

Boost for Unity.

Dollar Day exemplified the advantage of an occasional trade stimulant,

"QUO VADIS" BIGGER AND GRANDER THAN ANY EVER SEEN HERE

Thrilling "Moving" Drama at the Grand To-morrow Afternoon and Evening

SHOWN IN 8 REELS

The presentation here at the Grand Opera House tomorrow, matinee and evening, of Kleine Cines "Quo Vadis," will be one of the best moving picture productions ever seen in this City. This is not the same "Quo Vadis" that was shown here about two weeks ago but a much larger and grander one. This one will be seen in eight reels, the former one only being in three.

If any one has any doubt about the effectiveness and dramatic power that lies in moving pictures, let him hurry to the Astor Theatre and witness that movie "punch," "Quo Vadis." A finer film production could hardly be asked than this big stroke in motion picture drama that the Kleine Cines Company showed here for the first time yesterday afternoon. They bill it as "the supreme masterpiece of photo-drama," and one does not feel at all justified in contradicting this statement.

Sienkiewies's famous story of Nero is closely followed in a magnificent series of pictures vibrating in dramatic composition—a lifelike panorama of Nero's time. The story is strongly told in three acts, the first two of three parts each, and the last of two parts.

The staging of "The Burning of Rome" for this photo-drama and, even more so, that of the great series of spectacles given in the Roman ampitheatre, is a triumph of realism. Exciting chariot races cross the screen with so much "go" that they make those of the circus seem like child's play in comparison.

Certainly no scene the equal of that showing the lions let loose on the Christians in the arena has ever been shown on any stage or in any circus or animal show. It is a marvel in photography, let alone motion pictures. But to go and enumerate the "big" scenes in this tremendous photo-drama would require too much space. The production is one of those things that must be seen to be appreciated, and to see this stirring film production is to appreciate the important part of the photo-drama must play in the future and to be alive to its tremendous appeal at the present time.

In the making of this film dramatization of "Quo Vadis" an exceptionally good company of actors — mostly Italians—was used. It is a pity their names cannot be printed here, for each deserves high praise.

Have You Estimated Correctly?

It is Possible the Names of the Correct Estimators Will Appear in To-morrow's Examiner

If the committee is able to count the number of estimates put in by Dollar Day shoppers, and name the winners in time to have it for to-morrow, the names will appear in to-morrow's Daily Examiner.

The estimating does not close until 10.15 o'clock to-night.

Champion Willie Ritchie expects to swell his bank account to more than $100,000 by next November.

CANADA'S BOND ISSUE.

During the nine years, from 1905 to 1913 inclusive, Canada's issue of bonds by its Government, its municipalities and its corporations, amounted to $1,813,017,241, of this amount Great Britain took $1,353,843,189, the United States $124,213,117, and Canada $334690,941. The municipalities sold more than a billion to Britain, and $88,000,000 to the United States. Canada favoured industrials rather than the bonds of its own towns and cities.

BURY THE HATCHET.

In Montreal this year Irish Catholics and Irish Protestants are uniting for the celebration of St. Patrick's day. That is true patriotism; it is a lesson to Carson and Redmond in Ireland at the present time to unite—to try to be good Irish brothers on one day at least. Nationality is not a matter of religion, but patriotism is the religion that should bring men together. On Saturday we shall have appeals to Irishmen and every other nationality which has a touch of the warm, Irish heart, to buy shamrocks in the cause of the noblest charity—helping the poor. Every Irishman, no matter what his religion, should show his religion genuine by celebrating the day of Ireland by helping feed the hungry, clothe the naked and mother the fatherless. Let the Irish of Peterborough who may be separated by the accident of creed, unite for one day at least to bury their respective hatchets in the same deep grave.

GENTLY GO.

If Napoleon met his Waterloo, Col. the Hon. Sam. Hughes meets disaster in good company. He has met his Waterloo. In a debate, in Toronto, on the subject, "Resolved that compulsory military training for all men over 18 would be in the interests of Canada," the Waterloo debating club team won—"turned down" Hon. Sam's pet idea. There may not be much in the decision of a debate of this kind, but it shows that public opinion is not unanimous in favour of converting the whole country into a parade ground, in times of profound peace, that promise indefinite continuance. Military drill is in itself a good thing. It teaches what this degenerate generation needs—obedience to, and recognition of, authority; it begets habits of submission to discipline. But we may pay too high a price for the advantages of military training. We are a country in the making. We have boundless territory and resources to develop; and the plough, the pick, the shovel are the weapons we must use in that fight for conquest of our destiny. Few men can be spared for long from the ranks of productive industry. We all deplore the loss from strikes — compulsory idleness; and the compulsory idleness that would come from putting all our adult population to the practice of the "goose foot," while, being unnecessary, would be a great interference with our national material development. In the extremely remote case of Canadians being called upon to defend their country, we can count upon the cooperation of every mother's son; and the universal spirit of defence of hearth and home will be a great substitute for universal drill. A comparative handful of South African Boers, long held at bay, and bested forces composed of the best disciplined, best drilled, and best fighting men of the greatest nation of the world. The Boers were not drilled in the real military sense, but they could shoot, and were fighting for their homes. In the event of Canada being invaded—about as probable a thing as the sun rising in the west — Canadians, as a whole, could, and would, give as good an account of themselves as did the Boers, who only came under when Canadian military practice and, skill of fighting in their own way, brought the war to a close. Canada, in 1812-14, without compulsory training, turned the tide of invasion with her undisciplined forces; every man was a hero, fighting for his home. If Col. the Hon. Sam would turn, say half of the twelve or fourteen million dollars he is spending in military preparation to good roads, and have the money distributed constitutionally—not by order-in-council—he would be doing the country infinitely more good than in dissipating the public funds on fuss and feathers, and junketting trips for a few favoured officers. There's reason in all things—except in Col. Sam Hughes' inordinate military ambitions. Our Canadian militia should be kept up to reasonable efficiency; but turning every man in Canada into a soldier is opening the way to the crushing militarism that, instead of strengthening, is sapping the vital national forces, crushing the spirit and impoverishing the masses of the nations of Europe, who, in the final analysis, are the real nation.

SAFETY FIRST.

Safety first, the slogan of the Grand Trunk Railway, should be a civic slogan, too. Yesterday in Toronto a million dollar fire added to a similar conflagation a few days ago, emphasizes the necessity of an adequately manned and thoroughly equipped Fire Department. We may be exempt form such visitations in Peterborough; but we never can be certain that something proportionately similar in the way of disastrous fires may not break out in Peterborough under conditions of location and high winds that may make great loss. With an effective and well manned fire de partment, only can such fires be subdued at the beginning. If we invite disaster by petty cheese-paring, by the saving of a few dolalrs, we may invite thousands of dollars of loss from fire. While there is no need for extravagance in fire fighting equipment, there is need for having the best we can afford. Crippling our fire department by false economy, lessening the moarle of the men by failure to provide adequate remuneration, is not a good way to strengthen the department or improve the morale of the men. It stands to reason, it is only human, to assume that fair treatment of men in the matter of salary, is a good way to keep the fire-fighting spirit at its height of zeal and effectiveness. To gain a reputation for economy by lessening of expense that means ineffectiveness, is not good civic statesmanship. We do not want to get the reputation of being a cheap city at the expense of important interests. Safety first at the lowest possible cost, but safety any way should be our motto in dealing with our Fire Department.

THAT PARTIZAN AND UNTRUTHFUL REPORT ON TRANSCONTINENTAL

Deliberate Misstatements in the Gutelius-Lynch-Staunton Report Admitted by the Government itself

It may take some time for the real facts to overtake the widely-circulated misrepresentations and apparently deliberate misstatements of the official slanderers of the National Transcontinental Railway and of the Laurier Government's connection therewith. But the facts in refutation are being gradually forced from a reluctant Government and are being made public in a series of official replies by the ministers to queries from Liberal members in Parliament. During the past week it has been made more plain than ever that the scandal-hunting investigators, aided and abetted by the Government, have over-reached themselves. The main charges made by Messrs. Gutellus and Lynch-Staunton were discredited almost as soon as their report was published, by reason of its obvious partisanship, its one-sided argument, and its deliberate misrepresentation of actual conditions in regard to construction of the road. During the past week in the Commons the Government has been compelled to explicitly state that its own commissioners were not telling the truth.

One of the main charges contained in the press report handed out by the Government was that the former National Transcontinental commissioners had paid over to M. P. and J. T. Davis some $740,000 as a "rake-off" for their share of the profit on two large contracts sub-let to O'Brien, Fowler and McDougall. It was deliberately stated that the National Transcontinental commission had held back 10 per cent. of the monies due to the latter contractors, and had paid it over to the Messrs. Davis as clear profit, without the latter having turned a spade. In reply to a question by Hon. G. P. Graham in the Commons on Wednesda ylast, the acting Minister of Railways, Hon. Dr. Reid, declared that this statement was not based on facts. The National Transcontinental Commissioners, admitted Dr. Reid, did not pay this money over to M. P. and J. T. Davis and if that sum were paid at all, which is not shown, it was paid by the sub-contractors under their agreement with the loan contractors and was in accordance with the usual agreement, allowing a ten per cent. margin in cases of sub-letting.

This charge of a $740,000 "rake-off" has been duly exploited in the Government press and has been made one of the main items of concrete criticism of the Laurier Government in connection with the report. For a Royal Commission or for a Government to deliber ately publish such a deliberate and mischievous "misrepresentation" — not to use a stronger word—is without parallel in the historyof Canada. From this one fact alone may be judged what reliance can be placed on the fairness and truthfulness of the whole report.

Another significant fact brought out during the week was that Mr. Gutellus was, at the time of his appointment as commissioner, an American citizen. He began his duties on February 1st, 1912, at a salary of $65 a day and expenses. It was not until February 23rd, or nearly a month later that he became a naturalized British subject.

It may be further noted that the acting Minister of Railways informed the House that neither Mr. Lynch-Staunton nor Mr. Gutelius was sworn "to faithfully and impartially perform their duties" nor were the sittings of the commission open to the public. Whatever evidence was taken, was taken in private and for the most part the commissioners were both counsel for prosecution and judges as to the nature of the evidence sought and the conclusions to be drawn therefrom.

The printed evidence on which their findings were based was not tabled in the Commons until the end of this week, or some three weeks after the synopsized and partisan press report was made public. During the interval there has been no opportunity for Liberal members of Parliament to look into the facts on which the findings were based. Now that the evidence is down the unfounded character of the charges of the alleged $40,000,000 waste is more obvious than ever. In the whole volume of several hundred pages of evidence there is not a paragraph on which one specific charge of actual graft can be based. The investigating commissioners, in cases where there was any dispute as to matters of policy in regard to the standard of construction, have simply taken one side of the argument advanced wherever a change of plan was suggested with a view to cheapening the cost and lowering the standard of construction, and have ignored entirely the arguments advanced against such change of plan. Proceeding on this basis and ignoring the opinions given by the Grand Trunk Pacific engineers and by the chief engineers of the National Transcontinental Commission and of the Railway Department, they have coolly added up every item that could possibly be counted in making up a total of $40,000,000 that might have been saved had a road of a lower standard of construction been built.

Finally, it may be noted that the partisan misrepresentations contained in the report of Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton, and still more highly coloured by the Conservative press throughout Canada, have been industriously circulated both in Canada and in Great Britain and in consequence the credit, not only of Canada as a whole but of the Grand Trunk Company has been seriously damaged amongst British investors. As an instance of the stories that are being sent out along this line it may be noted that the London Times in a recent issue contained what purported to be an authoratative article declaring that the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Prince Albert was $150,000 per mile, exclusive of sleepers and rails, and that the cost of the National Transcontinental Railway made it practically certain that that road could not be operated at a profit and pay interest charges on the cost of construction. As a matter of fact the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Moncton is only about $70,000 per mile, including rails and sleepers, or less than half the figure mentioned in the London Times and reproduced in several British papers. The total cost of the whole Transcontinental line from Moncton to Prince Rupert works out to about $80,000 per mile with terminals and everything complete. This cost compares favourably with what the Canadian Pacific main line has cost, and the standard of construction of the new road is considerably higher.

The whole report with its gross inaccuracies and its far-reaching influence is nothing less than a national crime, committed with the joint objects of making political capital for one party and serving the private interests of rival railway corporations.

"THE WORLD'S UNREST"

A Powerful Sermon on the Times Preached at St. John's Anglican Church Last Evening by the Rev. J. E. Elliott, of Port Hope

A powerful sermon was preached at the mid-week Lenten service last evening at St. John's Anglican Church by the Rev. J. E. Elliott, of Port Hope, his subject being

"THE WORLD'S UNREST."

"Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.'

Summarising the preacher's words, he stated that to a weary and tired world Christ gave them words of hope, which at that time was not recognised, while faith was nearly unknown. It is difficult nowadays to imagine a Christless world in which generosity and kindness of heart was not the rule. The law of "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" was the general rule. Then if a cripple or person otherwise afflicted was observed, he was shunned with some such remark as "How God must despise him since he is so afflicted." Alms were ostentatiously given for the purposes of self-advertisement. In those days they persecuted the saints of God and then built their sepulchres. What a world of expectation and speculation must have been caused by the words, "Come unto me . . . and I will give you rest!" There is no sound of superfluity about them. To-day there is now

NO WORLD OF REST.

Have you ever stopped to think of the unrest and turmoil of the world of the present day, of the rush in society and all around us? Who can get rest when every one is reaching to attain and yearning for the unobtainable?

Look at this present age! Amusement, recreation, sport, quest of mirth, the unquenchable desire of new surprises, all combine to make one imagine that the world has gone crazy. What with picture shows, the craze for outdoor and indoor sports, and so forth, pessimists may well say that our world is moving backwards.

IN THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD IS THERE PEACE?

In the good old days, as they are termed, there was no labour agitator, no trades unions. In the present-day, business establishments are largely controlled by the hands employed. In other days the businesses were governed by the owner, but now the employees either insist on running the business, according to their own ideas, or they strike. Formerly strikes were uncommon, and attracted much notice when they happened; now they are such a matter of course that but little notice is taken of them. One day the strike is on the ocean, then it is in the mines. Yesterday it was the transporting trade in Dublin, to-day it is in the diamond mines in South Africa. All over the world there is strife, turmoil and discontent.

UNREST AMONG GREAT POWERS

Within the last seventy-five years there have been big wars. Now all the powers of the world are arming to the teeth in view of some great struggle. Twenty-five years ago Britannia ruled the waves with a fleet which is now obsolete. Then we used to sleep in peace, relying on the naval power of Great Britain.

Now Germany, the United States, Japan, France, Italy, all have something to say on the high seas, and we ask ourselves, Is it peace or otherwise?

POLITICAL PROBLEMS TOO ARE NOW TO THE FORE

Look at the present state of affairs in Ulster and Mexico; at the Japanese question in California, the Hindu in British Columbia. Look at the demand for equal rights for women, the growing influence of workers. All around political and economic conditions are disquieted.

There is an eager demand for truth now, such as never was before. To-day there is science with its wireless telegraphy, radium with its marvellous powers. Within the last one hundred years all the improvements we now enjoy have been made. This makes us wonder how affairs were before.

THERE IS ALSO GREAT UNREST IN THE SPIRITUAL WORLD.

One cannot fail to notice a change in Christian men. There is a new attitude towards the Scriptures and Church authority generally. Everywhere we find the world is passing through great changes and we feel that a catastrophe is at hand.

Even the most optimistic cannot make a survey without a feeling of great uneasiness. We must do all we can to stop the progress of this flow of unrest. We must not believe that our ancestors were saints any more than we must suppose the halycon days are over. The Spirit of God is working towards good ends, for evil cannot be the dominant force in this world.

These signs are symbols of a better day, of a holier and greater peace. Is it a higher sense of duty to God and rectitude which makes us so dissatisfied?

WHEN THEY BUILT CATHEDRALS.

did the workers represent the highest aims? Not a bit of it! They lent themselves to all kinds of vices. Vices of the body have been known in all ages of the world.

Many signs of unrest are not evils in themselves, it is only when things are abused they become evils. The lust for recreation and manly sport is not bad in itself. It must not be blotted out; but, as it is elementary, we must try to control ourselves and others.

VICE IS ONLY VIRTUE GONE WRONG.

A weed in the field is a mere weed only; yet it is a plant. But a plant out of place is a weed. A rose — the glory of a garden—is but a nuisance in the wrong place. Economy may become miserly; love may become lust; self-conceit may become egotism. Fundamentally, these are not wrong, but good things. A desire for amusement is natural, but if it becomes excessive it must be checked.

Are not many good souls pining for accepting what they could then get? Those who did not like things were ordered out.

Now all is different. Education has come; men have begun to think, read and hear. When a man thinks, he begins to get dissatisfied, longing for better things.

Then comes agitation, then conflict, revolt— effort not properly directed. Yet through all this may be seen the uplifting force leading to an honourable peace, when right will be acknowledged and brotherly love hold sway.

WHO WOULD GO BACK TO "THE GOOD OLD DAYS?"

The present movement must go forth, there will be little effort to stop it. There's a day coming of peace on a stable foundation—peace for all men.

As regards the political situation. It is a fine thing to love one's country enough to defend it, and this love broadens out into love for all countries. The brotherhood of man will form the solution of national jealousies, the realization of the Christ ideal of one great family. We can observe broadening influence in our brother's welfare everywhere. Loving our neighbours as ourselves, Christians are to go forward, not with drooping hearts, but with cheerfulness. They must say the Most High is moving the world on to better things. The Master is bidding us all to come to Him and He will give us rest!

The service was most appropriately brought to a close by the singing by the somewhat large congregation of that lovely hymn written by Dr. Bickersteth, erstwhile Bishop of Ripon, England, which is so well known and equally well beloved in all English-speaking lands, "Peace, Perfect Peace." The congregation departed to the strains of the gloriously musical "Procession to Calvary" from "The Crucifixion," as written by Sir John Stainer, sympathetically played by Mr. Cyril Devey.

Threatens Legal Proceedings

Against the Township of Monaghan—Meeting of North Monaghan Council

The North Monaghan Council met in the Council Chambers, Peterborough, all members being present. Mr. D. W. Dumble came before the Council and asked them to accept a deed of Cottersmore avenue, through Mr. T. Hurley's property.

Mr. Dumble agrees to give the township a deed of the said street, and he also asks the Council to grade Cottersmore avenue, and also Western avenue, from Cottersmore avenue to the Gravel Road.

Mr. Arthur Read came before the Council again and asked them to lease to him about twenty feet on the north side of the east end of Lansdowne street for a period of fifty years on which to erect a boat house. The Council, after fully discussing the question took no action in the matter.

Mr. John McIntosh came before the Council and said that he had had occasion to meet the Cavan Council, and he asked them to do something toward improving the road from the Cavan boundary through the swamps and they assured him that they would spend dollar for dollar with North Monaghan. Moved by M. Forster, seconded by Mr. Dobbin that Messrs. Young and Robson be a committee to meet a committee from Cavan Township on the boundary road and investigate Mr. McIntosh's request and decide what is best to do with the said road.

A New Bridge.

Mr. Switzer, on behalf of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., asked the Council to grade the ungraded streets on the Sugar Beet property.

Mr. A. Saunders asked the Council to build a new bridge on McKellar street across the Park St. drain. Mr. Saunders said the old bridge was in very bad condition and the Council assured him that they would look after this matter.

The minutes of the last two meetings wer then read. A motion was moved by Messrs. Forster and Young that the minutes of the last two meetings be accepted as read.

A communication was received from Mr. G. N. Gordon stating that he had received no reply to his first letter, and also stating that if the Council did not take some action in the matter of Dobbin versus Monaghan and reply by the 15th instant, he would have to take legal proceedings against the township. The Council authorized the clerk to publish Mr. Peck's letter in regard to Mr. Gordon's claim.

The letter is as follows:

Re George Dobbin and North Monaghan.

We have made inquiries with reference of this claim, and from information we have received, we consider that the township is not liable in respect of the matter referred to by Mr. Gordon's letter to your clerk.

Votes for Women.

A motion was moved by Messrs. Young and Robson that no action be taken in regard to the communication from Margaret Gordon, M.D., regarding votes for married women.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Robson that this Council meet Mr. Switzer on the ground regarding the grading of the streets on the Sugar Beet property.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Robson that this township has done an equal amount of work on the Township of Smith boundary with the Township of Smith therefore there should be charged to the Commissioners' account of Road Division No. 1, the total amount of the work done by him. One-half at the present time being charged to the Township of Smith. Moved by Messrs. Forster and Young that the following accounts be passed and paid:

A. E. Saunders, groceries, re charity, $15.54; Municipal World, supplies, 74c; Dr. T. N. Greer, under by-law 671, balance of yearly salary, $90.

The Monaghan Council then met the Smith Township Council to try and come to terms and settle disputed boundary accounts. The Monaghan Council, however, retired without any arrangement being made.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. OAKMAN

Prior to Leaving for Their Home at Moorefield—Hastings Friends Remember Them

Special to The Examiner:

HASTINGS, March 9—The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Oakman and family met at their home on Tuesday evening and tendered them an oyster supper as a farewell ere they leave for their future home at Moorfield. Between 80 and 90 were present, and the evening was pleasantly spent in music and games. A very pleasing feat of the proceedings was the reading of an address, in which the best wishes of the whole neighbourhood were expressed, and regret at the loss of such good neighbours. Mr. and Mrs. Oakman leave during the week for their new home.

The Auxiliary of the W. M. S. in connection with the Methodist Church held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday last in the Church Parlour.

We regret to learn that Mr. Wills is confined to his home through illness. His friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Staples arrived in town on Wednesday morning and took charge of the Public School, left vacant through the illness of Mr. Currie.

Miss Myrtle Hess entertained a number of friends on Wednesday evening at her home.

Friday was a busy day around the G.T.R. Station, when a large shipment of hogs was loaded.

A hockey team from Keene drove down on Thursday evening and enjoyed a game with the locals.

Miss Olive Humphries has returned from a two weeks' stay in Peterborough.

Miss M. Milligan, of Toronto, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Elmhirst.

Miss Mable Laing, of Norwood, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. S. A. McBride, travelling salesman for the P. Hamilton Co., of Peterborough, spent a few days during the past week in this vicinity, in the interest of the firm.

The Havelock hockey boys came over on Friday last and played a good game with the home team.

Mr. James Williamson, of Toronto, is renewing acquaintances here.

Mr. J. Brown, of Alnwick, spent Saturday in Hastings.

EXHIBITION DIRECTORS MET ON MONDAY

Revised the Prize List and Made Some Plans for the Fall Fair—Will Hold Standing Crops Competition.

NORWOOD, March 11.— The Board of Directors of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society met in the office of the Department of Agriculture here. Those present were: Messrs. F. Birdsall, president; G. Elmhirst, B. C. Parker, J. H. Scott, J. F. Elliott, J. Andrews, C. OReilly, P. M. Grover, J. R. McKelvie, A. Knox, D. Barrie, A. Humphries, S. McGee, Jos. Johnston, Rev. P. J. Kelly, J. Brackenridge, J. B. Pearce and J. E. Roxburgh, sec.-treas.

The main object of the meeting was to revise the prize list, and formulate plans for the coming exhibition, which the Directors hope with the added facilities now available, to be the best ever held.

The minutes of the last meeting were approved, and the grant made towards the opening of the armouries was also confirmed.

THE FINER FOR DRUNKS HAVE ASSUMED NORMAL PROPORTIONS

"When you want to get drunk next time, put $2 on a shelf, and when you are drunk, just think that there is two dollars gone. Do it in a business-like way." Thus the Magistrate addressed Robert Godfrey, on whom he imposed a fine of $2, to $10 days, for being drunk in a public place.

Joseph Sheridan was also assessed a like amount for a similar offence.

James Tierney, who appeared on a charge of being drunk, was put on the black list. Tierney is a married man with five children, and needs all he earns to support his family. Tierney was sent on his way, after he had been given a straight lecture by Magistrate Dumble.

DEPOSITORS TO GET ALL.

Dollar for Dollar for Losses in Farmers' Bank Promised.

OTTAWA, March 11.—"We have assurances of getting dollar for dollar for the depositors of the Farmers' Bank, and we expect an announcement of the necessary legislation very shortly," stated W. C. Mikel, K. C., of Belleville.

"When the depositors are looked after an arrangement will be made to relieve the shareholders of the double liability, but just how it will be worked out I am not in a position to say."

The next sittings of the Division Court will be held on May 7th, and on June 25th.

The Secret of Good Digestion

In perfect health, with regular and healthful action of the liver and kidneys, you need not know there is such a thing as digestion or indigestion. Unfortunately, however, modern life is artificial, and not many people avoid suffering more or less from troubles of this nature.

The great secret lies in keeping the liver and kidneys in health and vigour, for then the food is passed quickly along the alimentary canal, the nutritive portions being assimilated in the blood stream and the poisoned waste materials are passed out of the body.

When the liver and kidneys get wrong you will obtain relief more promptly and effectively by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If chronic indigestion is to be cured it must be by enlivening the action of those filtering and excretory organs. To persons who have thought only of the stomach as being the offending organ this may seem strange, but any competent physician will tell you this is correct.

Women's Coats this Spring are Radically Different

VERY striking indeed is the difference in outline, especially as to the back of the present Sports Coat or Wrap from the Coat of Yesterday..

The flare of the lower edge, the use of flounces on the more elaborate designs, the Raglan sleeve, are the conspicuous changes, incidentally the favour of oddity is distinctively stimulating.

You will find the new Separate Coat a good friend for Spring Wear over a multitude of Frocks old or new. Some distinctive examples are---

Honey Comb Cloth

Makes up a stunning coat of three quarter length. It is loose and sporting looking while at the same time the rich fabric is very dressy lined with shot messaline silk. Price.....$27.50

Kelly Green Golfine Coat

In a fine suede cloth, with low belt and conservative shaping. Collar and revers trimmed with white chamois cloth. An admirable outdoors-coat. Price $16.50

Shepherd Plaid

In large combination check — sports fashion—fancy patch pockets, cut-away front, large cuffs. Price.....$10.00

Mixed Tweed Coat

In cut-away front, three quarter length fashion. Made with yoke, English Raglan shoulder, collar and cuffs outlined with French blue moire silk. Price.....$13.50

ADVISED TO WAIT

Plea For Free Agricultural Implements is Voted Down

LIBERALS ARE UNANIMOUS

OTTAWA, March 12.—The Liberal party in the Commons yesterday declared itself unanimously for the abolition of the duties on agricultural implements. Six weeks ago they placed themselves on record for free wheat, and its products. Yesterday's further tariff declaration was a logical sequence. The Government majority voted down the proposal for free agricultural implements just as they had voted down the free wheat resolution. The now familiar excuse for the Government's attitude was again heard. Any tariff changes necessary will be announced "in due course."

In going into supply Mr. Knowles (Lib., Moose Jaw) moved an amendment declaring that the time had now arrived when in the interests of the farmers, and of the people of Canada generally, the tariff duty upon agricultural implements should be immediately removed.

During the past year this country had exported agricultural implements of the value of $6,152,559. During the same time our total imports amounted to no more than $4,446,887. Surely then when as to any particular item our exports exceeded our imports there no longer existed any necessity for protection.

Mr. Knowles insisted that the Canadian manufacturers sold their implements all over the world in successful competition with the American manufacturer. It was unfair, he said, for the Canadian manufacturer to sell plows, mowers, reapers, etc., to the farmers in Dakota for fifteen to twenty per cent. less than he charged a farmer in Saskatchewan.

The Prime Minister spoke briefly in reply, observing that the member was showing sudden zeal for free trade in agricultural implements. That zeal had never impelled him to take any motion upon going into supply when the Liberals occupied the Treasury benches. Indeed, the Prime Minister recalled that Mr. Knowles and all the western Liberals had cheered enthusiastically for the reciprocity in 1911 which only reduced duties upon agricultural implements by two and one-half per cent.

"I am tempted to say in this connection that reducing the duties does not always bring about the results anticipated. Twenty years ago we had thirty plow companies in Canada; the duty was reduced from thirty-five to twenty per cent., and nearly all of them went out of business. Only a few strong companies survived. Might not the removal of our duty upon agricultural implements result in eliminating all the small factories of this country, leaving only a few mammoth concerns which might or not soon join an international trust?

"However, this is merely by the way. I am not saying whether the Government favors or does not favor this resolution. Our views will be announced to the House at the proper time. For the present it is sufficient to say that the resolution presented at this juncture invites a no confidence vote, and must therefore be voted down by the supporters of the present administration."

Mr. Levi Thompson (Qu'Appelle) quoted from a speech by Hon. Mr. Meighen, where the latter had demonstrated that the duty upon agricultural implements could be substantially reduced without at all departing from the principle of adequate protection for home industries.

Mr. Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) said that Mr. Borden opposed free agricultural implements upon the ground that the removal of the duties would deliver the Canadian market to the big American trusts. As a matter of fact, Mr. Guthrie said Canada more than hold her own against the United States in the markets of the world.

Dr. Neely (Humboldt) said the Prime Minister took Mr. Knowles to task for discussing a tariff item in advance of the budget speech, but he saw nothing wrong in Mr. Carrick doing the same thing Tuesday. An application by the wealthy manufacturers for higher duties was always seasonable, but the farmer who asked for lower taxation was always out of order.

Dr. Clark (Red Deer) criticised the ground taken by the Prime Minister. Mr. Borden's position, he said, was that free trade meant international trust rule. The conclusion was that we must have perpetual protection for every manufacturer in Canada. In short, the Prime Minister cast aside the basis of the national policy.

Solicitor-General Meighen took the floor after midnight. He announced as hypocritical the present attitude of the Opposition. He asked why the Laurier Government had not stipulated for free trade in agricultural implements when they negotiated the reciprocity treaty; it had been offered to them by President Taft.

He said that individual members in both parties disagreed among themselves as to how much protection might be needed for this or that industry. The Conservative party, however, professed the doctrine of protection and adhered to it, though members of that party might differ as to the necessity of protection for this or that industry or to the amount of protection required. The Liberals were protectionists, differing among themselves as to the amount required.

The resolution was put, and defeated on division.

Houses Needed In Havelock

The urgent need for more residences in Havelock is becoming more acute as Spring approaches. For the past year the problem of residences in Havelock has been a hard one and every available inch of space in that line has been utilized. In consequence board has reached to a figure beyond its worth, and rent has advanced in leaps and bounds, while, in some instances, families have had to leave the Town in order to procure habitation. When Spring arrives the situation will be far worse than at present, and it is to be greatly regretted, and a serious loss to the town, if our capitalists and builders do not get busy and erect houses to meet the demands of the increasing population. Seldom is there such an opportunity of securing a high percentage for the money invested as exists in Havelock to-day and for many years past.

Proposed By-law Is Said To Be, Etc.

Secondly, the liver is separated from the bird and such a measure would leave the way open for dishonest breeders to exhibit with diseased fowls the livers of perfectly healthy birds. There is no insinuation in this that such practices would result on the local market, but it would certainly leave the way open for such. There would be an undeniable temptation for a poultry raiser, who must otherwise lose forty or fifty dollars because part of his birds are diseased, to adopt this means of avoiding a financial loss.

Should the Sanitary Inspector wish to prosecute a dealer who repeatedly brought diseased fowl to market, it is the contention of the local expert that the best evidence that the Crown could get (the head and intestines) would not be available.

No one could expect the Sanitary Inspector to cut open and inspect all the fowl on the market. But the head would show with certainty what fowl should be inspected, and the intestines and other internal organs would establish whether or not the fowl was diseased. "Where then will the safeguard of the public be if neither the head or internals be brought to the market?" asks our informant.

Economic Consideration.

It is the contention of those favouring the by-law, that its passage would result in the local buyers receiving fresher meat. They claim that because the fowl will not keep as long after it has been cleaned, that the birds offered at the market will be very recently killed. On the other hand it is the claim of the poultry expert, who up to a short time ago was himself the raiser of a considerable number of birds, that the poultry raisers will not take the trouble to kill and clean the fowl for market because there is an insatiable demand on the part of exporters and cold storage houses for live birds. Rather than take the time to clean the fowl, the producers, he says, will sell to the exporters and cold storage companies. Thus the local demand will have to be supplied from cold storage. The result will be that instead of receiving comparatively fresh fowl as at present, the local public will be called upon to depend on cold storage birds for their supply, or at least the greater part of it.

titled to a higher wage, which they received.

"That letter is the thin edge of the wedge for establishing a standard wage and that's just what we don't want to do," said Ald. Green. "We have got to grade the men and pay them according to their ability to do the work required of them. The letter asks us to pay a standard wage to good and poor men alike."

On motion of Aldermen Duffus and Johnston, the City Clerk was authorized to write the Labour Council acknowledging the letter and explaining that there is a difficulty in fixing a standard wage owing to the fact that the City was compelled to employ aged men as well as young and more competent men.

The Beer Slide.

Mr. Miller, architect in charge of the reconstruction of the National Hotel, was granted permission to put a grate on Charlotte Street and one on Water Street. The beer slide on Water Street will be closed up.

The matter of granting permission to the Canadian Oil Company to install a three hundred gallon gasoline tank at 169 Charlotte Street was referred to City Engineer Parsons, who will make a report. The tank will be located outside the premises of G. K. Rackham, local agent for the company.

It was stated that it would probably be necessary to have the tank owned by C. R. Banks, and located on George Street, removed, owing to the congestion of traffic at that point.

Ald. Green moved that the different townships, with whom the City have arrangements for boundary roadwork, be instructed to submit their bill to the City monthly. The resolution was seconded by the Mayor. City Engineer Parsons will inspect the work and certify to the accounts.

Canal Report Is Criticised And Corrected

The Ferguson Report Declared by Kingan & Co. as "Unfair, Biased and Misleading." So Far as the Company is Concerned—A Temperate Statement of Fact.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—As the report of Mr. G. H. Ferguson, M.L.A., published in the newspapers, is not only unfair to the Kingan Hardware Co., but as far as the transactions of the Company with the Trent Department are concerned, is biased, and misleading, I desire to correct the same.

All these transactions were ordinary business ones, and in respect to which neither the Company nor Mr. McClellan, Mr. Clegg, or Mr. Fairer had anything to conceal. There are a great many mistakes in the report, in respect to this; but as it would take up too much space to correct them all, I will only refer to a few.

The explosives were sold, to be delivered f.o.b. car at Peterborough and were delivered accordingly. The Kingan Hardware Co. had no magazine, nor control of any magazine and any portion of the explosives not required by the Canal were stored in the City Magazine, and marked in the Company's books as the property of the Government and the Kingan Co. had not, and did not, assume any right, claim, or control over them, and all shipments made were made at the request of the Government officials. As to the deficiency in one shipment, mentioned in the report, this was occasioned by reason of a change in the number of pounds of explosives put in by the manufacturer, which was done without notice to, or knowledge of, the Company, and in consequence, when the Company asked to ship two tons eighty boxes, supposed to contain fifty pounds each, were sent; but immediately I found that these boxes contained less than fifty pounds each. I notified the Government officials of the fact, and the balance remained in the City Magazine for the Government when called for, and was designated as the property of the Government.

When Mr. Ferguson was here on his investigation I voluntarily offered to show him all invoices, vouchers and entries in the Company's books, in connection with the transaction, and he had a full opportunity of examining them, which examination, if he had wished to be fair, would have shown him that the whole transaction was open, fair and aboveboard, and that there was no "graft" in connection with it, and that the dealings were not conducted as is stated in the report in "a remarkable manner," or "shrouded in a most suspicious atmosphere." If Mr. Ferguson had been as anxious to discover the truth as he was to make political capital out of this investigation, his report would have been a very different one.

REVIVAL SERVICES

The revival meetings conducted by Evangelist Pugsley, in the Park Street Baptist Church, show increased interest from night to night. There was a large congregation present last night. Evangelist Pugsley spoke on the subject "What is Sin?" Some very practical lessons were drawn by the speaker from this subject. Good singing added to the interest of the service.

UNITED STATES GARRISONS ARE STRENGTHENED

Representatives of Third Party in Mexican Affairs Are Active---Fear Sudden Invasion

WASHINGTON, March 12. — Despatch of two additional regiments of American infantry to Eagle Pass and Laredo, Texas, to allay fears of raids by Mexicans, and the appearance here of Gen. Felix Diaz and friends, with a new plan to solve the Mexican problem, were the chief developments yesterday in the Mexican situation.

The troops were ordered to the border at the request of Senator Shepard and Representative Gardner. The latter told the President there was a good deal of cash in the border banks and Americans wanted to be protected against any sudden raid or invasion which might result from sensational overnight developments at any time in the Mexican situation. Mr. Gardner also said much cattle had disappeared lately and residents believed Mexicans were responsible.

Gen. Diaz and his friends here said they were not yet prepared to announce their purposes, but would do so in a statement to-day. Member of the party included Pedro Del Villar, who was before the Senate foreign relations committee last week and was reported to have asked support for a counter-revolutionary movement. The Mexicans denied yesterday that they were seeking support or sanction for any revolutionary movement, saying their idea chiefly was a campaign of information about Mexico, and to acquaint Washington with the personality of Gen. Diaz, so that his part in subsequent events in Mexico might be judged from a study at close range.

Just what their plans are for the restoration of peace, whether by armed revolution or peace proposals, was not divulged, but it was learned that they are seeking the elimination of Gen. Huerta, and are not allied in any way with the constitutionalists.

Yesterday's orders for the sending of two more regiments to Texas will result in the assembly in that state of nearly 10,000 troops, more by 3,000 than the entire regular army which Gen. Shafter led into Cuba.

Carranza Will Be Cautious.

EL PASO, Texas, March 12.—The effort of Gen. Carranza to prevent unjust confiscation of property in rebel territory in Mexico, particularly that of foreigners, will take the form of a commission to review the evidence on which seizures already have been made and to investigate before others are made in the future.

The commission, it is said, will sit at Juarez after the arrival of Carranza, probably about ten days hence. It is believed by those who have talked with Carranza that it will assure the justice of confiscations based on enmity to the constitutionalist cause as in the Terrazas' estates, and of such seizures as the gambling privileges at Juarez, taken over by Gen. Villa. The income from the gambling, which is considerable, is being devoted to the support of the rebel army.

DESIRE UNIFORMITY OF RAILWAY SIGNS AT THE CROSSINGS

CHICAGO, Ill., March 12.—A plan for uniformity in railroad crossings signs throughout the country is one of the principal matters to be considered at the fifteenth annual convention of the American Railway Engineering Association, which began in this City to-day with an attendance representing the leading railroads of the United States and Canada. Advocates of the plan for uniform crossing signs contend that it will result in greater safety and economy.

SIX MONTHS FOR SUFFRAGETTES

LONDON, Eng., March 12.—Mary Richardson, militant suffragette, who slashed "Venus" in the National Gallery, was to-day sent to Holloway jail for six months. She is already very weak, having been on a hunger strike since her arrest.

French Radium Jacquards--The Washable Fabric That Wears Like Iron

Yet Which Offers Some of the Prettiest Colours and Patterns That One Could Desire

THEY have the "Radium" mercerised finish, that so very closely resembles silk and which will not spot or lose its lustre after being washed.

Named after the Jacquard looms upon which they are woven, the texture is close and firm, and is 27 to 28 inches wide in colours of Wisteria, Blues, Fawns, Browns, Greys, etc.

The patterns are after the Bulgarian order, and are neat and appropriate; this material serving excellently for the making up of early Spring Blouses and Dresses. It is priced 30c yd.

Exclusive Dress Lengths

There are some new and pretty designs in Crepes and Ratines that are procurable only in the dress length, and which are quite exclusive, seeing that we are the only agents for them in Peterborough. Prices range from $3.15 to $10.90 per costume.

Old Bleach Linens Passing Into Stock

There is scarcely a housekeeper who does not know of the excellence of Old Bleach Linens and therefore the welcome news of receiving the new spring shipment during the last few days. Our specialty in this line are the Old Bleach Towels, which we retail at 25c to $2.50 each.

Gold Bond Cambric

A new shirting drill that is patterned in neat single or double stripe effects. It is 36 inches wide and is positively guaranteed to wash with perfect satisfaction. The price is 25c per yard. The pattern that is Navy Blue with a white stripe is particularly suited for house dresses, aprons, children's dresses, rompers, etc., because of the serviceable colour and the certainty of it being able to stand boiling. This is the same price.

White Crepes 15c to 50c yard

From a night gown to the simple evening frock, White Cotton Crepe offers itself for a great number of purposes. It is 27, 36 and 42 inches wide and costs from 15c to 50c per yard.

THIRD VICTIM OF LINDSAY HOLOCAUST

Willie Madison Succumbed to His Injuries--Story of an Eye-Witness---Cause of the Fire--Inquest Will Be Held

LINDSAY, MARCH 12—Willie, the third victim of the Madison fire of Tuesday night, died at the Ross Hospital at 3.30 yesterday afternoon.

Mr. W. Stevens, of the R. Neill boot and shoe store, who lives on James Street, was one of the first to reach the scene of the Madison fire. He worked hard and endeavoured to save the life of "Friday" Madison, who would have been burnt to a cinder had not he been carried down stairs by Mr. Stevens.

To a reporter Mr. Stevens said: "I was returning home and was on the G. T. R. tracks when I was met by Albert Gage who yelled out that Madison's house was on fire. I ran across the tracks and to the bungalow in short time and noticed that the smoke was puffing out of the window upstairs, a small aperture a little over a foot square. As I approached the house I saw that Dr. Clarke and his driver were there, he having been calling on professional business in the neighbourhood. He had just arrived. I heard a noise in the house, and heard Mrs. Madison say: "All the rest are down, but Jack's still upstairs." I went into the house, and found my way up the narrow, winding stairs, through the pitch darkness. The smoke was something terrible, while the odour was not very pleasant. I had to light a match in order to find out where "Friday" was lying and, having spied him, I blew the match out and lifted him up. He had no clothes on except a short shirt, and I found it a difficult matter to get him down stairs, as he was heavy and unconscious. Several times he slipped out of my arms but I finally secured a good hold on him and dragged him down stairs, and out into the open, where he could get some fresh air. Dr. Clarke and others put some rags under him and over him to keep him from freezing, but as he was still unconscious, under the doctor's directions we carried him back into the house again, where he would be more comfortable. The firemen and Chief Bell were soon on hand and had the fire out in short order. I don't know how the fire started, but I heard Dollie, the eldest daughter, say that her grandmother was lighting her pipe, when, in some manner, the paper on the roof caught fire. I was never in such a house in all my life. It was in an awful condition, and the wonder is that the Children's Aid Society or the Sanitary Health Inspector did not report on the case long ago. I understand the five were sleeping in one bed—and such a bed. It was simply an old set of springs filled with all kinds of coats, etc., and an old blanket. The loft upstairs was thick with clothes of all descriptions, which smouldered and made a lot of smoke.'

Cause of Fire.

It will perhaps never be known what caused the fire, as there are conflicting stories floating, but according to Mrs. Madison, when her husband returned he asked for a match, which she gave him. When he went to strike the match the sulphurous head flew off and ignited the paper on the ceiling.

Jury Empanelled.

The Coroner's Jury appointed to look into the death of John Madison and Baby Madison met in the Council Chamber at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and were sworn in as follows before Coroner Dr. J. W. Wood—Ald. Smale, T. J. Tilly (foreman); A. J. Campbell, Sam. Howe, J. P. Ryley, B. J. Crough, F. McClory, H. A. Holmes, Seldon Meehan.

After taking the oath the Jury viewed the remains of the late John Madison, after which the jury visited the scene of the tragedy and viewed the interior and contents of the house.

Adjournment was then made until Monday afternoon at 4 p.m.

It was at Mr. H. G. Hopkins' request that the Jury visited the house. Mr. Hopkins is representing the Crown-Attorney in this case and thought it wise that the house should be inspected.

LINDSAY, Ont., March 12.—Two more victims were claimed as a result of the Madison fire. They were two children. Willie died yesterday afternoon, and Jackie this morning. They were badly burned and inhaled considerable smoke. The jury empanelled yesterday were highly incensed at the condition of affairs at the Madison home, the sanitary conditions being strictly unwholesome. Some person is likely to be censured for the state of affairs. Four victims, the father and three children, were buried this afternoon.

Stray Shots From the Firing Line

There is a general activity at the local armouries at the present time, and both cavalry and infantry regiments are beginning to prepare for the coming season's work. The first orders for the 57th were promulgated for the information of the men on Saturday last.

Classes Are Interesting.

The classes of cavalry instruction, which are now in progress at the Armouries, under the instruction of Sergt. Instructor Spalding of the Cavalry Barracks, Toronto, are proving very successful. A number of the men who are taking the course, have signified their intention to go to Toronto to the Stanley Barracks on April 10th, for two weeks' training, and to pass examinations.

Having qualified N.C.O.'s attached to the regiment, makes it all the more efficient, and the 3rd Dragoons, at least, the Peterborough and Millbrook squadrons, will not be lacking in this respect.

Lectures take place three times weekly, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and by holding the classes as frequently as this, a larger field of instruction will be covered, and more practical training done.

Care of the Rifle.

Instruction has been given on the care and parts of the new service rifle that is now being used among the cavalry regiments. The second of the series, dealt with saddle, and how to fit it. In this lecture, while it was not contended that on active service injuries to the horse will be done away by careful attention to this, it was claimed that the injuries could be reduced to a minimum. The conformation of the horse is so unlike in different animals that horses should be obtained and demonstrations made.

Proper Fitting.

It is also generally known that the life of the horse on active service depends upon the proper fitting of the saddlery for cavalry, and the collar and harness for artillery. The formation of the back was also taken into account and every obstacle removed. The information that is being handed out at these classes should be carefully applied by those intended to join these units.

By the time the course of lectures are completed, the officers and men should know about all they are required to know about the horse as a military adjunct.

With the 57th Regiment.

On Tuesday evening last the company colour sergeants were at their respective company rooms in uniform, for the purpose of enlisting recruits. These classes will continue every Tuesday night until the first of May, when it is probable that some slight alteration will be made in the schedule. Recruits will positively not be accepted after the first day of May this year, and this order will stand good for years to come.

A Good Start.

On Tuesday between forty and fifty new members were added to the regiment, which is quite an encouraging start, and it is the hope of the commanding officers that it will continue in that way.

It is expected that the strength of the regiment will exceed 500 units this year, and the work will commence in earnest on May 1st, and after that date it is probable that two drills each week will be put in.

Regular attendance at these drills is a point which the officers wish to press upon the men, as without practical training, the efficiency standard of the regiment will not reach a high mark.

Camp at Petawawa.

As far as can be ascertained from the Department of Militia, the camp this year will be held at Petawawa, and will be for a little longer period than has been the case in former years. It will be a divisional camp, and active service conditions, which are ideal as that at Petawawa, will and will be made interesting by manoeuvres.

In addition to the regular camp, it is thought that an outing will be made, but as all arrangements are not yet completed, full particulars cannot be given. One point ascertained, however, is, that is if every other arrangement is satisactorily completed, the trip will be made on Labour Day to a point which must at present be withheld.

A Number Required.

A large number of recruits will be required to bring the regiment up to the desired strength, and to cope with this demand, it is hoped that a large number of young men will associate themselves with either one of the companies, which course would improve them physically, and also provide a means of social intercourse.

As the experience of the Canadian troopae in South Africa with the Oliver equipment was not satisfactory, it is noted that the Militia Department, according to order just promulgated, contemplate at no very distant rate to issue to all arms the new 1913 web equipment. The permanent force have been using this equipment since 1911, and found it satisfactory, but in the issue now to be made there will doubtless be some improvements. Some of the city corps have been supplied with this equipment, but have never brought it into use.

It is to be hoped that the ural corps will be given an issue. Unlike the leather it will not require the tons of Dubbin that the department used to ship to every company headquarters to keep the leather pliable.

AN ANNIVERSARY OF OLD NEW YORK

Special Wire to The Examiner:

NEW YORK, March 12. — Two hundred and fifty years ago to-day Charles II. granted to his brother, the Duke of York, a large territory in America, to be called in honour of the proprietor, New York. The territory included the Dutch settlement of New Amsterdam and the grant was the first step taken toward making New York an English colony. One month later the Duke of York sent a fleet of ships against New Netherland. The Dutch settlers made little resistance and in the Autumn of 1664 Fort Amsterdam and Fort Orange were surrendered. The name of New Amsterdam was changed to New York, and that of East Orange to Albany. At the time of the English conquest New Amsterdam had a population of 1600, while the total population of the population of the province was scarcely 10,000.

Miss Mannering To Be Seen Here Next Monday

Has Had an Interesting Career on the Stage—First Appearance at Age of 3½ Years.

IN "NOBODY'S DAUGHTER"

Miss Moya Mannering who creates the title in "Nobody's Daughter," George Paston's superb comedy of English life, has been on the stage since she was 3½ years of age, and has had the good fortune during that time to have been under the direction and stage management, and in the company of the leading actors of the past fifteen years. She made her first hit with McKee Rankin in "His Wife," playing on her first appearance a part of 22 sides. After that she starred for three seasons as "Editha's Burglar," and then went out for a preliminary trip with Russ Whytal, as his star in "For Fair Virginia," which piece proved such a success that it was brought into New York and made her a Broadway Star at the age of 7.

At the conclusion of that run she was next engaged by Augustene Daly to support Miss Ada Rehan, making her first appearance at Daly's Theatre as "Puck" in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." She was a great pet of Daly's, who after the rehearsals were over would draw up a chair for Miss Rehan, and then get little Moya to come on the stage and sing to him song after song in German and French. One good engagement led to another, and from Daly's she went to Richard Mansfield to whose careful tuition and direction she probably owes most of her wonderful stage technique. She played the "Prince" for him in "Richard III.," and under his management was the original "Essie" in George Bernard Shaw's first production in this country "The Devil's Disciple." Mansfield became very fond of her, and wished to adopt her, but her mother, who always travelled with her, refused to listen to the suggestion. But up to Mansfield's early and lamented death he treated her as his own daughter. She always travelled and lived in his private car with her mother and tutor, and it was Mansfield's delight to write original little dramas in which all the characters were played by him and her. Even at this early age, she was fond of having her own way, for she always would insist on making an entrance down a set of steps (which must be white), in a long training dress which must be red, and that Mansfield must appear as an artist with a flowing black tie. He used to vary this amusement by giving her imitations of all the well-known vaudeville artists, accompanying himself on the 'cello.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

A meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held Tuesday afternoon in Knox Church. There were a large number present, Mr. Brown, of Warsaw, was appointed Moderator.

A call from Springfield and Lakevale, was sustained in favour of Mr. G. I. Craw, of Thornton, and submitted to the Presbytery of Barrie.

Matters in connection with Cumemee, Mount Pleasant, and Bethany, were referred to the congregation, who were asked to report to a special meeting of the Presbytery, to be held later.

Representatives to the General Assembly were appointed. Mr. Brown, of Campbellford; Rev. Mr. Keith, of Knox Church; Rev. Mr. McCorkindale, of Lakefield; Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Millbrook; Mr. Shirter, of Knox Church; Mr. Hayden, of Port Hope, and an elder of the Centreville congregation, were those elected.

Reports of Home Missions, Statistics, Systematic Beneficence, and Moral and Social Reform, were submitted.

Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Hastings, acted as clerk.

Made Money By Re-selling His Dollar Day Coat

Among the Dollar Day incidents is a story of a man who came early to avoid the rush for the Oak Hall parcels, and on his first purchase secured an overcoat. He tried it on and found it a little full in front and a trifle long in the sleeves. A brilliant thought impinged itself upon his mental mechanism and he hied himself to a second store where he disposed of the coat for something like its actual value. "That's more money I've made in many a day," he said, and later went back for another parcel. This time he drew a suit of underwear, and concluded that it was preferable to withdraw with a surplus to the good, rather than try for another long shot.

PENSION ALLOWANCE

Last year the pension allowances on the C.P.R. amounted to $170,000. The popularity of the fund grows. On other systems the employees have to make contribution. On the C.P.R. the pension fund is a free gift. The company contributes annually the sum of $125,000. The balance on hand is $685,404. The number on the pension fund is 805. At the present time the company has been out and will continue to be out large sums of money to sustain the fund: but though it would be difficult to compute, in the individual case, the system receives return in a contented and zealous army of employees, all of whom feel that they have a personal connection and identification with the company over and above the mere day's work. The pension fund has been a cement to bind the employees to the service, and has made for better work, increase of zeal, and a personal pride in the success of the company. None of the employees like it when the date comes round, which tells them they must retire from the company: but, at the same time, every one feels a certain fortifying satisfaction in knowing that in old age there will be something to fall back upon. No pension can be less than $20 per month. Many employees, after leaving, take simple jobs to keep them going. The case of the men higher up, no matter how handsome the company treats them—and they are dealt with most sympathetically and delicately—is pathetic. They have to drop out when their mental powers are in their prime. They have reached the age limit. The law is inexorable. They have stored up their most valuable experience, which they cannot communicate to their successors, and yet it is no use to them in retirement. They are too old to think of looking for other positions. They have made their position their life, as so many do, they have the mental resources, which, to others, are satisfying. They are lonely and discontented for a long time: nor can they be fully reconciled to the change. But others are to go forward, and new blood is to be infused into the system: and the familiar names and faces disappear.

STRONG COMMITTEE SELECTED TO WORK TOWARDS REVIVAL OF LACROSSE IN PETERBOROUGH

Enthusiastic Meeting of Lacrosse Followers in the Curling Rink —Will Interest School Boys and Young Men.

A GOOD BEGINNING

The first fruits of the Peterborough Athletic Club's initiative to revive lacrosse in Peterborough, were manifested by an encouraging attendance at the meeting held in the Charlotte Street Rink last night. As the result of a general discussion of the prospects for the restoration of Canada's national game in this City a committee was appointed to go out and preach the gospel of the good old game, and to gather in from the high ways and byways whatever material offers. If the material can be found a team will be formed and, possibly a City League, but these issues are still to be worked out.

In the meantime Mr. Colling, principal of the South Central School, will try to enlist the co-operation of the Principals of the Public Schools for the purpose of planting the seeds of lacrosse among the school boys. The Board of Education will be approached, and Dr. Cameron promised to bring the merits of the National game before the Canadian Club at its next meeting.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, President of the Peterborough Athletic Club, presided at the Conference, which proved more successful than was anticipated. In its primary object, it is true, there was a slight disappointment, but it is felt that this will soon be removed. The meeting was called for the purpose of obtaining from the Principals of the Public Schools their opinions in regard to the introduction of the game among the boys. Mr. Colling was the only teacher present. He, heartily endorsed the proposal and promised to lay the question before the members of the Teachers' Guild.

An unexpected outcome of the meeting was the enthusiasm shown by players of former years who not only expressed the hope that the game would be introduced among the boys, but also volunteered to endeavour to resuscitate it, and to uncover material for a good local team. If a sufficient number of players are at hand, these with others, who should quickly learn the game, may form the nucleus of a City League. In fact it is difficult to estimate, at this stage, what the ultimate outcome of the present movement will be. However, if faith in the merits of the game and an eagerness to see it re-established among the youth of this City counts for anything the committee appointed for missionary and scouting purpose is not going to report back empty handed.

What Others Are Doing.

In his introductory remarks Dr. McPherson outlined the efforts that are being put forward in Western Ontario towns to bring lacrosse back to its former footing. The interest of the school boys is being aimed at, and Mr. Jas. L. Hughes of Toronto, Mr. Joe. Lally, and Secretary Doyle of the Canadian Lacrosse Association have given addresses at mass meetings held for the purpose of reawakening public attention toward lacrosse. The Peterborough Athletic Club decided to take the first step here, but not with the intention of controlling the game.

Have Own Officers.

Dr. McPherson stated that the teachers should take over the school branch and, if possible, endeavour to form a school league. The question of a City team should rest with former players. They know the game and many of them would still be able to get out and play it until the younger men step into their places. They could elect their own officers and handle the general business of the team or a city league if one is formed.

Sticks at Cost.

Mr. Lally has made an offer to provide sticks at 50c and 75c each—a figure below the actual cost. If an eight-team school league is established gold medals are presented to the winners. The purchase of the sticks will be the chief item, but Dr. McPherson considered that this might be easily overcome.

Fred McGrath favoured the idea of getting the boys into the game and, at the same time, of having a senior team, which would afford the youngsters an opportunity of learning the fine points.

Ed. Dillon was inclined to be optimistic. There are quite a number of young men who have signified their desire to learn the game since its recent suggestion. He said he thought that these with players residing in the City would be sufficient to form a City League. At any rate it was worth trying for.

Bob Begley considered the introduction of lacrosse among the boys quite feasible. Supply them with sticks and the chief difficulty has been surmounted. In the meantime write to Mr. Doyle or Mr. Hughes, and ask them to come to Peterborough to address a general meeting of those interested in the game.

Dinny Dobbin (there's a name that recalls lacrosse as it was played some years ago), said he was eager to see lacrosse revived. The securing of the sticks semed to present a difficulty.

Our National Game.

Dr. Cameron spoke from another angle. Apart from other considerations lacrosse is Canada's national game and should be preserved and made to flourish. The idea of introducing it into the Public Schools is the right way, he said. Give the boys the sticks and suitable grounds and let some of the older players take the time to teach them. The boys are keen for hockey and feel proud when they are selected for their school and class teams. The same conditions would surely prevail in lacrosse. They may not play much this year, but they will get the idea of the game and will take a pride in it.

Dr. McPherson—"We are all agreed that something should be done to revive the game. It remains to work out the methods.

It was finally moved by Mr. Dobbin seconded by Mr. Dillon, that the Secretary of the Peterborough Athletic Club, Mr. Len. Dobson, write to Mr. Doyle and Mr. Hughes, asking them to suggest a date on which they could visit Peterborough for the purpose of addressing a mass meeting in the interest of lacrosse.

Mr. Begley suggested that the Canadian Club might desire to help in the movement, and Dr. Cameron agreed to bring the matter before the members at their next meeting.

The following gentlemen were appointed to look over the local material and to interest as many as possible in the game—Messrs. Galley and Thompson of the Y. M. C. A., and McGrath, Dobson, Dobbin, LeBar, Begley and W. Donovan.

PETERBORO BOYS IN BANK LEAGUE

Peterborough is well represented in the Toronto Bank League. Bloomfield, of Lakefield, while Ken Crane is with the Montreal Bank team, and Harold Morrow with the Royal Bank.

HOCKEY

TORONTO, March 12.—Serving their best brand of hockey of the season, Torontos last night won the N.H.A. championship, and thereby qualified to meet Victoria here Saturday night in the first game for the world's championship. The Blue Shirts scored a decisive victory over the Canadiens, as they had clearly the best of the play, and should have won by a larger margin. It was not until the last period, however, that the issue was decided, as at the end of the second period the teams were tied, and the slogan was "twenty minutes from the championship." Those twenty minutes, as was expected, played an important part in the deciding of the honours, but none of the 6,000 fans present expected to see such a turnover, especially after the Canadiens opened the last period with two wicket shots right at Holmes. This was their last opportunity, as the Blue Shirts waded in and put the game on ice by scoring three goals, and just to add insult to injury, Vezina's dilatory tactics gave the locals a fourth, thus making the score 6 to 0 for the Torontos, or 6 to 2 on the round.

The one-sided win came as a pleasant surprise to the large crowd and fandom as well, but the score is a true indication of the play, as the Canadiens did not class with their past performances, and gave one the impression of having gone stale. The visitors, however, were checked too closely to do any damage, the locals giving a great performance of backchecking, with Walker doing the work of two players. On the other hand, Canadiens were inclined to leave too much to their defence, and while they got away with it in the first two periods, yet the persistent tactics of the locals could not be denied.

ORILLIA, March 11.—Orillia landed the O.H.A. junior championship here to-night by defeating 'Varsity by the score of 10 to 3. Half-time score was 5 to 1 for Orillia. The locals thus won the round by 6 goals.

Orillia outplayed the college boys in every way and won the championship on their own merit. Orillia's effective back-checking proved too much for the visitors, and the forwards' backchecking and fine work of the Orillia defence kept the 'Varsity forwards within safe range. Johnstone was not called upon to do the job very often, but was there with the goods and 'Varsity's three tallies were on scrimmages.

Reid and McNab played a star game on the defence and kept 'Varsity's few shots at long range and not only did they play a defensive but an aggressive game as well. Tudhope worked hard and checked hard and was in front of the nets looking for the rebounds in fine style. Draper put up a fine game on the boards and roamed about wherever the black missile went and was Orillia's chief goal-getter. Teskey played his best game of the season and featured heavily in the goal-getting. Butterfield was the fastest man on the ice. His zig-zag rushes kept the crowd on their feet every minute.

Orillia's pace was too much for the 'Varsity squad, as they showed signs of tiring before the time was up, but stuck to it gamely. Mathers, Milne and Smythe starred for the visitors. Dafoe had no chance to-night on account of Teskey's brilliant playing.

The game was fairly clean, but Gilfillan benched them for very light offences, each team drawing 6 penalties. Dr. Gilfillan did not catch all the offsides, but handled it very well.

Storm Drainage.

His Worship Mayor Buller urged the following pairing of the above: $1,500 off gravel, $1,500 off stone, and $2,000 off surface drains—a total of $5,000, reducing the appropriation to $28,735, an increase of but $235 over the appropriation last year of $28,500. The Mayor took the ground that practically the same appropriation as last year would carry the department over 1914. A storm drainage system for west and south city he promised to go into this year, and until the installation of some and construction of some needed sewers on many streets in those wards, it would be a waste of money to take up extensive permanent road work. Hence $3,000 might well be eliminated from above estimates for stone and gravel. Then as the storm drainage system would be paid for by debentures that would conveniently permit the elimination of $2,000 from the estimate for surface drains.

This last reduction was readily allowed on the understanding that the permanent storm drainage scheme be taken up this year as proposed by the Mayor; but Aldermen Green and Stratton both agreed that it would be short-sighted policy to make any further reductions in the estimates as the Board must have a reasonable working appropriation in the interest of the city generally.

"A Great Mistake."

Alderman Green, while approving of the storm drainage scheme, strongly advanced that, permanent improvements or not, some streets in West and South City are in a shameful condition and must be treated at least temporarily this year. Hence, he argued that it would be a great mistake to cut $3,000 of the estimates for gravel and stone.

Alderman Johnston sided with his worship and submitted that an appropriation of $28,500, same as last year, would answer requirements of the present year. Incidentally, he remarked that were the Board to spend $40,000 there would still be something left undone.

Aldermen Johnston and Saunders here moved that the appropriation be $28,500, as last year.

Aldermen Green and Stratton moved in amendment that the appropriation for this year be $30,000.

The division on the amendment resulted in a deadlock. In order to break this Alderman Stratton moved that the appropriation be $29,990. This was seconded by Alderman Green but not put to a vote.

Another Deadlock.

Alderman Anderson thought that a reduction of $5,000 would leave the Board financially embarrassed. He moved that the appropriation be $29,500. This was seconded by Alderman Green. This resulted in a second deadlock.

The Mayor here suggested adjournment, as the committee apparently could not agree. Alderman Duncan protested, urging that the estimates be settled.

Alderman Green—"Well, let us split the difference. I'll move that the estimates be $29,250."

At Alderman Green's solicitation, Alderman Saunders seconded this.

"The matter has been practically settled several times, and we are wasting our valuable time," said Alderman Johnston, who incidentally remarked that Alderman Duncan, chairman of the meeting, had on each occasion registered his vote with Aldermen Green, Stratton and Anderson, thereby bringing about a deadlock.

"What do you mean?" enquired Alderman Green. "A resolution has not yet been carried."

A New Comer?

Alderman Johnston—"What's the matter with you. I am just as much interested in this city and Council as you are, and have as much right to my opinion. You, as a newcomer, must not think that the rest of us who do not think with you, do not know beans."

Mayor Buller concurred with Alderman Johnston. Alderman Green's resolution carried by a vote of five to three, so that the estimates for the current year will be, if approved of by the Council, $29,250.

"The experience of the evening is disagreeable and not conducive of harmony," said Alderman Johnston, by way of a valedictory. He thought that last year's appropriation might well have been reduced to that of last year's in contemplation of permanent work that is to be financed by the debenture plan.

Freight Cars Left Tracks

A great deal of inconvenience and delay to the Grand Trunk passenger service was caused this morning by a number of cars attached to a freight train, coming from the east, leaving the tracks.

The accident happened just this side of Omemee, and it is believed that a spread rail caused the trouble. The train consisted chiefly of cars loaded with grain, several of which were precipitated into a ditch, when the accident happened. Luckily, no one was injured.

The early morning passenger cars were all late, having to be despatched via Millbrook instead of on the usual line, to Toronto.

DOUBLE CALL FOR BRIGADE

Simultaneous Fires at Dr. Robinson's and Yeates Bros' Gave Brigade Two Runs at Once

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE

The fire brigade had a double-header alarm this morning to add to the excitement of Dollar Day. A lighted cigar stub carelessly dropped down a grate in front of Yeates Bros.' store was responsible for one call, and almost simultaneously another alarm came in from Dr. Robinson's livery stables. Chief Howard sent the ladder truck to Yeates Bros. and the hose company to Robinson's. Both fires were extinguished without much damage being done.

Stock Markets

A. H. Stratton & Co., Brokers, report the following:

To-morrow will probably see an irregular market, continuing the tactics of yesterday's session, on reactions. We believe the best stocks will afford good buying opportunities. There is a general tendency to look for a trading market for the present, in which daily operators who buy on weak spots and take profits on the major portion of their holdings during periods of strength. The state of sentiment being mixed favours, such an outlook tends toward the fact that there is readjustment downward as well as upward pending. Daily evidences is heard of good buying of Great Northern, and Union Pacific is accumulating in strong hands. We find very good absorption of Atch., St. Paul and Southern Pacific.

There is a tendency to avoid the South Western rails except Kansas City Southern. We believe the better grades of copper stocks will be strongly bought on set backs from current prices.

The buying of wheat is said to be good.

C. P. R. is a good buy at present level.

Now is the time to buy stocks where they are low. You may look for a six to ten point raise in the standard issues.

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 12.—Manchester City and Sheffield United soccer teams played another nothing to nothing game in the English Cup replay to-day, before an immense crowd. The game will be played again on neutral grounds.

MISSIONARIES KILLED BY THE CHINESE

Special to The Examiner.

LONDON, Eng., March 12. — Two British women missionaries have been killed by Chinese bandits raiding Lao Ho Kow, China, according to cables to-day. It is thought the names are Edna and Josephine Black. It is understood that there are several Canadian Presbyterian missionaries in this district.

THINK THAT A SETTLEMENT IS IN SIGHT

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 12.—(Special Cable)—Although politicians of both parties are loudly declaring that they have said the last word in the Ulster question and that peace can only come by opponents giving way, there is a general feeling throughout the Kingdom that a settlement is in sight and a continued buoyancy of the stock market to-day seems to corroborate this. The Daily Chronicle, however, sounds a challenging note in a leading article to-day, saying "Anyone would think that the Tory party is in the position of a victorious army, dictating terms to a vanquished enemy, but the realities of the situation are very different, both in the House of Commons and throughout the country." Speeches of compromise make strange bed-fellows. The popular opinion this morning gives King George and Chancellor Lloyd George as being the strongest influences of the moment toward a peaceable settlement of the question.

Honourably Acquitted

William Bowman, seller of small articles, was yesterday afternoon honorably acquitted by Judge Deroche on a charge of having received goods knowing them to have been stolen.

The goods in question were toilet goods, part of the booty secured when Hooper's drug store in Napanee was entered and robbed in January of this year. Some of the goods were brought to Belleville by a man representing himself to be a traveller, who had lost his job and desired to dispose of his samples. Finally it was learned that Mr. Bowman might be a purchaser. The man went to Mr. Bowman and, as a result, the latter purchased some of the goods.

There was no evidence that Bowman knew the goods were stolen and the Judge, after hearing Mr. Bowman in his defence, honourably acquitted him of the charge.

Mr. E. D. O'Flynn defended Mr. Bowman and Mr. P. J. M. Anderson represented the Crown.

REDUCTION WILL BE MADE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, March 12.— There is an impression this morning that the government, while not consenting to place agricultural implements on the free list, will provide this session for the reduction in the prevailing duty to about ten per cent. This, is is believed, will apply to most important implements used by the farmer in his work.

NAVAL CODE BOOK STOLEN BY A SPY

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 12.—Somebody, presumably a foreign spy, secured the secret naval code book from a warship off Sheerness, at the recent manoeuvres, and by substituting a dummy in its place the theft passed unnoticed for months. Two hundred Scotland Yard detectives and naval service police were to-day put on the scent, but it is thought that the volume has already been well digested by officers of some foreign power. The Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill, has ordered a rigid investigation.

THE JUNIOR CITY LEAGUERS MAKE A SPLENDID SHOWING AGAINST LINDSAY

Held Husky Town League Winners Down to a 6 to 4 Score, Although Outweighed All Along the Line.

RETURN GAME TO-MORROW

The picked team from the Junior City Hockey League which invaded Lindsay last night to meet the Collegiate Institute team, winners of the Lindsay Town League, made a grand showing, holding the Scugog bunch to a 6 to 4 score. There is no age limit in connection with the Lindsay League and the local kids were outweighed on an average of twenty pounds a man. The Lindsay team was the same which beat practically the Peterborough intermediates last week by 8 goals to 6, so that the local fans can get an idea of just how good the Junior League youngsters had to be last night to hand the Lindsay gang the battle they did. Far smaller and lighter than their opponents, and handicapped by the small rink and the tricky nature of the boards, they chased the big red and black team every minute of the engagement. The youngsters were out in front twice in the first half and it was 2—2 at half time. Early in the second period the Peterborough kids took the lead again, but Lindsay took a brace and ran in four goals in a row. Then the visitors rallied again and stopped the fast coming Collegiates, finding the nets once more themselves before the final gong.

On the Lindsay line-up was Norton, the big railroader who played against the Peterborough juniors three years ago, and who tips the scales at 210 pounds. The contrast between the "Big Train" and the paper-weight forward line of the Petes was striking, but the little fellows did not back-up any, and they buzed around him so effectively that he failed to get inside the Peterborough defence. Sandercock, who played on the defence for the Port Hope Junior O.H.A. team, was also on the Lindsay team last night.

The Petes played clean, fast hockey, and although they were bumped around pretty well by the heavier Collegiate team, they never let up, and were going just as strong as their opponents on end. The small ice surface interfered with their combination to some extent, but they kept boring in, while the forwards checked back persistently and were of great assistance to the defence. Butcher played a great game at centre, rushing nicely, while he used the poke check to great advantage in breaking up Lindsay rushes. Knapman and Jackson did fine work along the boards, and their checking back helped a lot. Both were outweighed by their checks, but gave a good account of themselves. Legendre and Phelan were very effective on the defence and both rushed well. Flowers played a whale of a game in the nets. He had a host of shots to stop and he handled them in great style. Nearly every goal scored was from close in. Several of them from scrommages.

For Lindsay the two Carewes and Coombs, on the forward line, were the stars. They play well together, have the speed and stick-handling ability and the weight as well. Norton was an awkward proposition to negotiate on the defence, and Williamson was good in the nets.

The return game will be played at Brock Street rin kto-morrow night and should be one grand battle. No fan who wants to see a good game should miss this fixture. The line-ups were:

Lindsay		Peterborough
Williamson	Goal	Flowers
Sandercock	Defence	Phelan
Norton		Legendre
C. Carewe	Rover	Smith
McElroy	Centre	Butcher
Coombs	Ring Wing	Knapman
A. Carewe	Left Wing	Jackson

Referee—Gamble, Lindsay.

Peterborough took the lead early when, within a minute of the start, Smith dodged inside and beat Williamson. The score seemed to act like a stimulant on both teams. It was hot and heavy going for the next ten minutes with both goalkeepers having a lot to do. Finally Lindsay evened it up, McElroy scoring from a scrimmage after Flowers had stopped three shots in rapid succession. Five minutes later the Petes went ahead again. Butcher passed to Jackson, who shot dead on, but Williamson stopped the shot, Knapman, however, swooped in and poked the rubber through before the Lindsay goaler could clear. Shortly before half time Lindsay tied it up when A. Carewe took an offside pass and beat Flowers.

A few minutes after the second half opened, Phelan put Peterborough ahead when he fooled Williamson with a beautiful long shot fro m three-quarters way down the rink. A. Carewe evened it up a minute later on a combination rush, and a little later C. Carewe hammered one through on a pass from the corner. Another combinatioi rush made it 5 to 3 on A. Carewe's shot, and Coombs added another on a pretty shot from the side. The Petes then braced and had the better of the going, Smith finding the nets once more before the bell rang.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S CURLING AT THE CHARLOTTE ST.

Left Out of Wednesday's Issue on Account of Limited Space

The Skips' Bonspiel is almost out to the finals. W. M. McCracken's rink qualified last night, when they defeated H. Foote's quartette by 10 to 6. One the tenth end McCraeken was seven up, but Foote took one in the eleventh and two in the twelfth, cutting the margin to four shots. The two rinks were composed of the following members:

L. Potvin	L. A. Turner
M. Tooley	W. C. Austen
A. Archibald	W. H. Bradburn
W. M. McCracken	H. Foote
Skip.	Skip.

Dr. Wightman, by defeating S. J. Stubbs, goes into the semi-finals and will play Taylor's rink, the winner meeting McCracken for the rink championship.

Wightman was up 8, the score being 17 to 9, and is characteristic of the big majority of the scores made in this bonspiel. The rinks seemed to lack the balance necessary to make the scores close. The players in the Vice Skips' competition may not have possessed the individual stars that have ben included in the rinks that have met in the present bonspiel, but they were tidy little rinks just the same. That they were well balanced was evidenced by the close scores, and the number of extra ends that had to be played.

However, the remaining games should be close. Dr. Wightman's rink curled well and will give Taylor a tussle in their semi-final contest. And the play-off with McCracken should produce a good game. The latter rink was going in good form last night. Lou Potvin has played a consistent lead all winter. M. G. Tooley is a good second. Alex. Archibald is a capable vice, and McCracken tops off his rink with good generalship and careful playing. They look good to go the route, but you never can tell.

Ex-Mayor Bradburn was Harry Foote's Vice Skip last night. Mr. Bradburn is pretty well weaned from the nightly schedules demanded by the Council in the past two years.

The ice was in great shape last night and every rink was busy. It had a silky finish in contrast to the metallic surface produced during the extremely cold weather.

The ladies are still enjoying the game during the morning hours. Colds have decimated their numbers considerably.

The consolation games are getting near the semi-finals.

FINAL GAME IN LOCAL BONSPIEL FRIDAY NIGHT

The final game in the local bonspiel should have been played to-night, but owing to the stores remaining open for Dollar Day it was postponed until Friday evening. This should be a good game, the two competingrinks having gone quite a long distance to qualify for the play-off. The personnel of the rinks is as follows:

L. Potvin	A. P. McLean
M. Tooley	W. H. Collier
Alex. Archibald	Jas. Skinner
W. M. McCracken	W. Taylor

The consolation games are slowly nearing the finals. The results last night were as follows:

S. J. Stubbs 12, W. D. Campbell 6; W. M. Lang 13, H. Rose 4; R. M. Waddell 8, R. Neill 12.

The ice is in fine shape and in addition to the scheduled games the extra ices are occupied with scratch contests.

JEROME TRAVERS TO PLAY IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, March 12—Jerome D. Travers, holder of the United States amateur golf championship, was among the passengers sailing for England to-day on the Baltic. The object of his visit to the other side is to compete for the British championship title. After arriving in England he will have about six weeks in which to practice for the tournament which will be held on the Sandwich links in May.

There seems to be some hitch in the arrangeemnts for the proposed bout between Johnny Coulon and Kid Williams. It is said that Coulon has boosted his price and declines to fight unless the promoters come across.

TO-MORROW NIGHT'S JUNIOR BATTLE SHOULD BE GRAND EXHIBITION

With the Lindsay team leading by two goals on the round in the Inter-City series, the game at Brock Street rink to-morrow night between the Lindsay Town League champions and the Junior City League All-Stars, at Brock Street ring, should be one of the best games of the season. The Lindsay team, who have been Junior for three years, have not been beaten in the past two winters and they will come here to-morrow night full of confidence in their ability to beat the local youngsters. They have twenty pounds to a man advantage in weight, but the Petes gave them a grand battle in Lindsay last night, and on the bigegr ice surface here the Len Dobson handling the bell. The fans shouldn't overlook this game, as it will be a classy exhibition. Lindsay fans claim that last night's game was one of the best seen there in years, and it was certainly a hummer. The game will be called at 8.30 o'clock with Len obson handling the bell. The Peterborough team will line-up as follows:

Goal—Flowers.
Defence—Legendre and Phelan.
Rover—Jackson.
Centre—Butcher.
R. Wing—Knapman.
L. Wing—Rose.

W. H. Taylor Defeated Dr. Wightman In Semi-Final Curling Last Night

W. H. Taylor consigned Dr. Wightman to the great majority in a tight little game at the Curling Rink last night. It was close all the way, and in the last three ends developed one of those hair line finishes that gets the gallery. Eleven to nine was the score, but Wightman's last stone was just a couple of inches wide of lifting a Taylor stone and tieing the score. It was a merry little contest towards the end, with but little difference between the two rinks. They lined up as follows:

Wm. Tennant, W. B. G. Higgins, W. J. Henry, Dr. Wightman (skip)
A. P. McLean, W. H. Collier, Jas. Skinner, W. H. Taylor (skip).

Score by ends:

Taylor — 200220010020—11
Wightman — 011000202201— 9

On the 9th and 10th ends Wightman drew up within one point of Taylor, but the next proved disastrous. At one stage Wightman had five stones in the rings, and Taylor's first two men were momentarily strong, their shots just reaching over the back line or falling short. Then the Wightman front was opened up and Taylor worked in two.

On the next end the Doctor presented another strong formation and Billy Higgins was pulling strong for three points. And while you are mentioning shots Billy Henry picked off as clean a shot as you would wish to see. Wightman lay short with a Taylor stone in front of it, about three inches separating them. It was not directly in front, but a trifle to the left. Wightman called for the removal of this stone, and the gallery said not a word. Henry chipped it perfectly and left the other stone stationary. As one of the bystanders remarked, "Doc had his nerve." Wightman appeared to have a good chance with only two stones to play. The first one was two inches wide on one side of the line counter of Taylor's, and the last one struck too thickly. Result, one counter instead of three. It was a fighting finish, with a very narrow margin.

City Basketball League Organized First Game To Be Played March 21st

The City Basketball League was organized last night with the following officers:

Hon. President—H. B. Cowan.
President—Fred Craig.
Vice-President—J. F. Harvey.
Secretary-Treasurer—Elmer Brown

The Schedule.

March 21—Leaders vs. Peterborough A.C.
March 28—Collegiate Institute vs. Leaders.
April 4—P.A.C. vs. Collegiate Institute.
April 11—Open.
April 18—P.A.C. vs. Leaders.
April 25—Collegiate Institute vs. P.A.C.
May 2—Leaders vs. Collegiate Institute.

All league games to be played in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium on Saturday evenings, commencing at 8 p.m.

The three teams are strong and well balanced, and should provide great competition.

GOALKEEPER WHO NEVER LET ENGLAND DOWN

Is Reported to be Seriously Ill---Attendances and Receipts at the English Cup Ties---Old Country Soccer News

Many readers on this, as on the other, side of the pond, will regret to hear of the dire need and serious illness of J. W. Robinson, the goalkeeper who "never let England down," as a member of the International Selection Committee was so fond of phrasing his admiration for the celebrated custodian.

J. W. Tough, the secretary of the Rochester City A.F.C., writing from Rochester, New York State, under date 26th December, says:

"We have amongst us J. W. Robinson, at one time England's international goalkeeper. Jack, I am sorry to say, is down and out. He has been subject to apoplectic fits, and is in the hospital meantime, where he has undergone an operation for that profound disease. It will be a long time before he can be himself again. The operation and the hospital fees will amount to quite a large sum of money. We have done our best, but we cannot meet the necessary expenses, so I would be glad if any friends of Robinson's would try and help him out. I am enclosing photographs of our team, and of Robinson in goal. He had played some brilliant games this season, and it is he whom we have to thank for winning the cup and medals."

Mr. Tough hopes that the folks on this side of the Atlantic will do their best in this needy case "and help Jack Robinson out."

We second this appeal.

Facts Often Asked About in the British Football World.

There being only a few men who take the trouble to look up records, the writer has again decided to publish some historical facts in connection with the game. During the past two years this matter has been much appreciated by a large number of enthusiasts, and for that reason alone Examiner readers will have their memories refreshed once again.

Professionalism was legalised in England in the summer of 1885, as the result of an agitation by the Lancashire clubs.

The penalty kick, at the instance of the Irish Association, was introduced in the season of 1891-1892.

J. Brodie of Liverpool invented and patented the goal nets in 1890. They were first used in the North v. South match in January, 1891.

Turton and Nottingham Forest both claim to have been the first club to adopt the three half-backs system.

A limitation transfer fee of $1,750 came into operation in England on 1st January, 1908, but was expunged at the annual meeting of the Football Association four months later.

The Referee's Union was, with the co-operation of the Athletic News, formed in the season of 1907-8, the inaugural meeting being held in Manchester on Thursday, 5th March, 1908. The first annual conference took place on 9th May following at Nottingham. The agitation for a union burst into life owing to a strong appeal in the Athletic News consequent upon the unpleasant experience of referees in many parts of the country.

The Players' Union was revived in the season of 1907-8, and the nucleus of a provident fund was established by a match between Manchester United (the League champions) and Newcastle United at St. James' Park at the end of the season. The Football Association withdrew their recognition in 1909, after the union had Association, and in June of the same year the chairman and secretary were defied the authority of the Football suspended from taking any part in football or football management. All the members were ordered to resign by 1st July, or their registration with the Football Association would be cancelled. The dispute became so acute in August that some professional teams threatened to strike. On the last day of the close season, 31st August, 1909, at a conference between the Football Association and representatives from the Union and leading clubs, a truce was declared. The Union acknowledged the Football Association and was reinstated as an affiliated body in due course.

New Chatham Player.

W. Sutherland, of Plymouth Argyle, has taken up an appointment at Chatham, and has signed for the Kenish Club, the Plymouth directors having given him a free transfer.

This was Sutherland's fourth season with the Argyle. He has principally played for the Reserves, for whom he has filled almost every position in the forward line, and captained the team on several occasions. He has also played for the league team. He joined Plymouth from Southend.

An Amateur Gunner.

Gunner Matthews, of the Royal Marine Artillery, has, with the permission of the Colonel commanding his corps, signed amateur forms for Portsmouth and made a highly satisfactory debut with the Reserves. He is a centre forward of more than ordinary ability, and has been a prolific goal-scorer for the famous Eastney team in various service competitions. He is a Londoner by birth, and was educated at Dulwich College.

Scottish Doings.

Perhaps one of the most enterprising clubs in the Second Division of the Scottish League is Abercorn, whose secretary has succeeded in obtaining the signature of Frederick Gordon Holmes, formerly goalkeeper with Clapton Orient and West Ham United.

Holmes was with the latter club this season, but his business brought him to Greenock recently, and as an amateur he has offered his services to Abercorn, with whom he will shortly be given a trial.

The Scottish League have appointed a commission to inquire into a charge of coupon betting made by Adams, the Partick Thistle back, against a linesman in the match between the Thistle and Greenock Morton.

Alec Smith, the popular Rangers veteran forward, has now fully recovered from the illness which had necescsitated his retirement to a nursing home for several weks. He made his appearance for the first time this season in Bennett's benefit match on 2nd January, 1914.

McMenemy is likely to play for Celtic in a week or two. He has not played since the first Saturday in October, when he got his shoulder dislocated in the game against Aberdeen.

Hockey—That's All

The Dominion Bank hockey team won the championship of the Toronto Bank League on Tuesday evening when they defeated the Union Bank team quite handily. Mr. Harris Ardiel is manager and Mr. Harold Clancy and Mr. Hugh Burritt were on the championship team.

BOXING

Tom Gavigan, who has been in Paris with Joe Jeanette and other American boxers, has returned to Cleveland.

Young Hugo Kelly is now fighting under the name of Frank De Rice. He says this is his real name.

Eddie Murphy claims he got the worst of it in his recent bout with Phil Brock at Cleveland, because of Brocks' foul fighting.

Al Norton, Billy McCarney's latest "white hope," looks like a comer. Norton has displayed considerable class in his recent bouts.

Blink McCloskey is not doing very well in London. His latest defeat was at the hands of Bob Scanlon, the American coloured boxer.

Bob Moha, the Milwaukee boxer, will most likely accept an offer to go to Australia, declaring that he is not able to get any bouts in this country.

The sports of Medford, Ore., are willing to back Bud Anderson against Red Watson for $5,000. Watson was given a decision over Bud in a recent bout in San Francisco.

Jewish Festival Of Purim Widely Celebrated To-day

NEW YORK, March 12—The Jewish congregations throughout the world to-day engage in their annual celebration of the holiday of Purim, or the feast of lots, the story of which is told in the Biblical book of Esther. The festival was established to commemorate the deliverance of the people of Israel from the machinations of Haman, the Prime Minister of King Ahasuerus of Persia, who sought to destroy the entire population of Jews in that kingdom through jealousy of Mordecai, who was a prominent and much-respected member of the Jewish community. The plans for the destruction of the Jews conceived by Maman were frustrated by Queen Esther, a Jewess, and the niece of Mordecai.

Purim has been called the Jewish carnival, and many of its features were adopted under the influence of the Roman and other carnivals which happened to be celebrated about the same season. Masquerading had a prominent place in the popular amusements. During the Middle Ages, when ghetto walls enclosed the Jewish settlements, it was one of the rare occasions when the heavy gloom that weighed upon them was relieved by the historic lesson that Israel's enemies were always in the end defeated and punished. It is the most popular of all festivals among the Jews and for centuries held high prominence for the spirit of revelry and boisterous merrymaking which attended it.

Violent Meeting Of The Board

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, March 12.—The Ottawa Separate School Board, last night in one of the most violent meetings in its history, was presented with a resolution by the English-speaking section, asking the Ontario Government to enact special legislation dividing the English-speaking Catholics from French-speaking Catholics, and placing each under separate boards. Chairman Genest immediately ruled the motion out of order, and declared that the French in Ottawa would not give up their tongue to anybody.

WILL LECTURE ON PROGRESS OF ART

Mr. J. W. Beatty, R.C.A., Will Visit Peterborough

Lovers of art in Peterborough are to have the pleasure of hearing Mr. J. W. Beatty, R.C.A., deliver a lecture on "The Progress of Art in Canada." Mr. Beatty, R.C.A., who is a member of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art, will give his address under the auspices of the Women's Art Association, in the studio, in the Public Library building, on Thursday evening, March 12th at 8:15 o'clock. This lecture is spoken of with much enthusiasm by the Toronto branch of the W.A.A. and it is hoped that all members and their friends will be present.

DANNY SIMONS IN THE WEST

An Edmonton exchange says:

Danny Simmons, the lustuous comedian, whose mirth-provoking monologue and offhand dancing is entertaining thousands at the Pantages Theatre this week, is a well-known figure in the old time sporting annals of Canada. In his day, Danny Simmons was one of the champion lacrosse players of the Dominion, and many of the hard-fought victories which made the Peterborough (Ontario) team of the early years of the century more than locally famous, were due to the agile legs and keen eye of Simmons.

Canada claims the nativity of the most prominent opera and dramatic stars of the American stage, and the more cosmopolitan field of vaudeville is not far behind in this respect, and if a record were kept it would be surprising to find the number of vaudeville players who visit the theatres of this city, who have associations with Canada.

Simmons is well remembered for his stick work with the Peterborough lacrosse team and his appearance on the stage at the Pantages this week is invariably a signal for a flutter of applause from acquaintances, either personal or by reputation.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

Hamilton Spectator:

TORONTO, March 12.—After a session which lasted nearly five hours at the Prince George Hotel, yesterday afternoon the delegates representing the clubs in the Canadian League finally adopted a schedule for the forthcoming playing season. Some changes were made in the draft submitted by President Fitzgerald. Toronto and St. Thomas were apparently the only clubs that were satisfied with the dates allotted them. Tven Ottawa, which got most of the plums, having been given no less than four openings, raised a mild objection to some of its dates, but the delegates were not inclined to take Mr. Rice, who represented the champions, seriously. There was a disposition to do the right thing with the result that what at first seemed a hopeless task, was eventually accomplished and the revised schedule sent every one home happy.

President Fitzgerald was in the chair, with these delegates present:

Ottawa—M. T. Bryce.
Erie—Geo. O'Neil, T. J. O'Connor.
London—F. C. Buzzell, H. A. Pearson.
Brantford—T. Nelson.
St. Thomas—C. Stanley.
Peterborough—E. T. Carr.
Hamilton—A. L. Garthwaite, M. M. Robinson.
Toronto—P. Kerwin.

A communication was read from Secretary Farrell of the National Association, refusing the application of the Canadian League for a Class B classification on the ground that the league did not have a population of 400,000 as required by the rules. As Toronto belongs to the International this city was, of course, not included, while the Government census of 1910 furnished the figures upon which the decision was reached. The delegates thought relief might be obtained by appealing to the National Commission and the matter was left in the hands of the president.

It was decided that Toronto should be allowed to use 100 season passes, Ottawa, London, Erie and Hamilton 90, and Brantford, St. Thomas and Peterborough 40. Toronto is also to have the right to issue fifty passes daily and the other clubs 25.

President Fitzgerald announced the appointment of these umpires: J. M. Flynn, Buffalo, N. Y., who will report June 1; J. J. Walsh., Wilkesbarre, Pa.; R. E. Bedford, New York City; Henry Riley, Jamestown, N. Y.; Henry Miller, Kansas City, Mo.; and Artie Latham, Lynn, Mass. Miller and Riley belong to the International. Only four will be kept on the staff after the first two weeks of the season.

In future the guarantee will be $50 and in case of rain $30, Ottawa paying the $75 rate in both cases as here tofore. Sunday games will be divided equally.

May 7th.
Hamilton at Brantford.
Ottawa at St. Thomas.
Peterborough at Erie.
Toronto at London.

May 14—
Brantford at Hamilton.
Toronto at Ottawa.
London at Peterborough.

The mileage is approximately as follows: Ottawa, 6,964; Toronto 4,432, St. Thomas, 4,830; Peterborough, 4,425; Brantford, 3,704; London 4,400, Erie, 5,174.

The Hamilton delegates announced that the Ambitious City would have a new park ready for the opening game.

St. Thomas has bought Nevitt, an Indian catcher from the Battle Creek (Mich.) club for $400. The club needs a first baseman to round out the team.

U. S. Senate Will Investigate U. S. Ambassador's Speech.

WASHINGTON, March 13. — Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, was made the target of enquiry yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Senate calling upon the Secretary of State to investigate alleged public assertions by the ambassador relative to the Monroe doctrine and the Panama Canal.

Senator Chamberlain, aroused over reports of a speech by Ambassador Page Wednesday night in London before the Associated Chambers of Commerce, introduced the resolution of enquiry, and his request for immediate consideration resulted in its adoption without debate. The resolution requests the Secretary of State to procure a copy for the use of the Senate of Ambassador Page's address, and to call upon the ambassador for evidence upon which he based the alleged statement that "it added greatly to the pleasure of the people of the United States in the building of the Panama Canal to know that the British world would profit most by its use."

CONSTIPATION RELIEVED ENTIRELY AT OUR RISK

Unless Rexall Orderlies relieve your bowel troubles and make you feel like coming back to thank us for telling you about them, then come back anyway, and ask us to give you back your money. This is just as strong as we can make this guarantee, and we want to make it strong, because we believe that Rexall Orderlies are the best bowel remedy made.

Soothing and easy in action, they cleanse the bowels, thoroughly toning and strengthening them, and make you feel great. They promote easy and regular bowel action, help to promptly relieve constipation and overcome its cause. In these things they differ from old-fashioned, harsh, disagreeable salts and other physics which usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels in worse condition than ever. They taste like candy and even children like them. They are particularly good for children and for delicate and aged people. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

FIRE VICTIMS WERE BURIED YESTERDAY

Father and Three Babes Were Buried Together — Authorities May Conduct an Investigation

ONE GIRL LEFT

LINDSAY, March 13. —Death has claimed two more victims of the Madison fire, thus making four victims in all. First the father, John Madison, was called, then Baby Madison; Willie was the next victim, passing away Wednesday afternoon at Ross Hospital, and the next victim was Jackie, another of the boys. The two little fellows were horribly burned about the body as they lay Tuesday night on the pile of rags in the garret of the Madison home on James Street. The frail little bodies were unable to withstand the severe burns, the inhaling of a large quantity of smoke and the shock in general to the nervous system, and despite the kindliest treatment on the part of the hospital staff and Dr. Clarke, the attending physician, life gradually ebbed out.

One Daughter Left.

The tragedy of Tuesday night is one that will long be remembered in Lindsay, and the heartfelt sympathy of the populace in general goes out to the stricken mother, who is left with but one daughter, Dollie, and her mother, Mrs. Perault, to withstand the severe strain through which she has passed, and the shock which she has passed and the trial of losing her children.

Following the inspection of the Madison home by the coroner's jury, it is not altogether unlikely that the acting crown attorney will investigate thoroughly the condition of affairs. The jury found the house in the condition as described by a reporter, as wholly unsanitary, with every evidence that the family lived in the most abject poverty. It did not take long to inspect the premises, and as the members of the jury filed up the narrow, rickety stairs, it was noticed that even in the daytime it was hard to see their way, as the house is very poorly lighted. But when they mounted and entered the penned in garret it was quite easy to imagine the scene of the sad tragedy and picture the seven inmates of the home as they slept huddled together in one bed, in order to keep warm. With the large quantity of dirty clothes in the small room, upon which the children were lying (or were rolled in), which were a quick prey to the fire, the wonder is how they were not all burned alive.

Heroic Feat.

Mrs. Madison, who managed to get the children down-stairs, performed nothing less than a heroic act. Mr. W. Stevens, who dragged Maddison out and down the dark narrow stairs was also a hero. It was a task that demanded nerve and strength; nerve to brave the inky darkness, and ascending a treacherous stairs, encountering a volume of smoke from dirty-ill-smelling rags; strength in having to haul out a man many pounds heavier than himself, and a man who was in a state of comma,—totally unconscious as to his surroundings. Madison, as has been stated before, was almost totally undressed, having on only a short shirt, which slipped and gave way when Stevens grappled with the victim of the fire. The flesh was burned in spots from the body and gave way with sickening slide under Stevens' hands, and yet he managed to get Madison down and out into the fresh air.

The funeral of the four five victims was held yesterday afternoon from Anderson & Nugent's morgue, the father and three babes being buried together.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 13.—A news despatch from Dawson City, Yukon Territory, says E. S. Ironsides, collector of customs at Dawson, has received a letter written at McPherson by a friend who interviewed Vilhjalmar Stefansson, commander of the Canadian Arctic exploration expedition, who was there last month. The letter says Stefansson has gone back to Herschel Island, off the mouth of the Mackenzie River, and intends to start out immediately over the Arctic. Continuing, the letter says:

"Stefansson thinks that the exploring ship Karluk, which was blown from the vicinity of Point Barrow, Alaska, into the Arctic ice field in a blizzard last September, leaving Stefansson and three other scientists ashore, may forestall Captain Roald Amundsen in his coming attempt to drift across the pole."

Alaska Bill Signed.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Wilson yesterday extended what he termed the hand of real "helpfulness and brotherhood to Alaska" when he signed the bill authorizing the expenditure of $35,000,000 for the first Government-owned railway constructed by the United States.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

NAVAL ESTIMATE HUGE.

Increase of $18,700,000 In British Expenditure.

LONDON, March 13.—"In Canada the Government has not obtained the Parliamentary sanction for the proposal to build three armored ships of the best modern type at the charge of the Dominion and the development of a naval policy for Canada is consequently in abeyance." This comprises the only reference to Canada in the statement of Winston Churchill on the naval estimates, which was issued last night.

Four new Dreadnoughts, four cruisers, twelve torpedo boat destroyers, and several submarines were provided for.

The estimate provides for an appropriation of $257,750,000, an increase of $13,700,000 over last year's budget.

The Liberal group, which was formed to check the increase in the expenditure on armaments view the proposed increase to $257,750,000 with great concern. In fact they regard the whole statement as exceedingly cryptic and as giving no indication as to the intention of the Government either regarding the Canadian position or regarding the position in the Mediterranean later.

The question will be fully debated in the House of Commons on Wednesday next at the instance of Aubrey Herbert Murray McDonald, and his friends are alarmed at the meagre nature of the information provided by the First Lord of the Admiralty in his explanatory statement. When the large total of the estimates is taken into consideration Churchill, they maintain, is trying to hoodwink Parliament, and they will press for fuller details before they assent to the estimates he has presented.

Kingston Has Mean Woman.

KINGSTON, March 13.—The police are looking for the meanest woman in the city. She gave William Tanneer, a blind salesman, a piece of paper when making a ten-cent purchase and got change for a dollar. Tanneer took the paper for a dollar bill.

FIRST WHITE MEN IN NORTH AMERICA

Caucasian States They Crossed Pacific to Peru—Fair Haired and Bearded

In the London Times Mr. Derek Manson puts forward the theory, which is now generally accepted, that many centuries ago there was a race of white men in America and that a white race inhabited America in prehistoric times is proved by a number of facts which fit in with this theory. There is, for instance, the prophecy of the return of the white god, Quetzalcoatl, which inspired the Mexicans with the belief that it was being fulfilled by the arrival of the Spaniards, and which made the conquest of the country much easier for the invaders. Again, among certain tribes of Indians in America are to be found a number possessed of fair hair and complexions. These fair types of Indians are to be found only on or near the Pacific coast, and the number of Indians thus distinguished from their fellows is too widespread to admit of the suggestion that this intermingling of blood is of recent origin. In the same districts there have been discovered the remains of a forgotten civilization in the form of ancient buildings of majestic proportions and carvings representing types of a distinctly Aryan origin, quite different from the native races of Indians.

Mr. Mason's theory is that thousands of years ago a foreign race migrated across the Pacific Ocean to America, where they founded civilizations that had crumbled into dust ages before Columbus reached its shores. Fair haired and bearded, they must have been Europeans. It is believed that this migration was gradual and by way of the islands of the Pacific. The inhabitants of Polynesia are of Aryan origin, a fact which seems to support this theory of a European migration. Moving from island to island, this seafaring white people finally reached America, landing in Peru and neighboring regions. As the coasts of Peru dried up they were driven northwards to Central America and Yucatan, where their civilization survived for four thousand years. Then the race perished off the face of America, leaving traces of its existence in vague traditions, in ruined buildings, and pale-faced Indians. This is all that remains to attest the existence of a hardy and enterprising people who ages ago crossed the Pacific and built up empires and civilizations the memory of which has long since perished with their transient glories.

WAS A GAME FIGHTER

Ad Wolgast a Retired Veteran Although Still a Mere Boy

Ad Wolgast says he never will don another pair of boxing gloves for a serious encounter in the ring, and doubts very much whether he will ever be induced to even look at the modern tools of ring warfare again.

What is happening to the boxing game when a man is passe at 25 years of age, for Wolgast doubtless is passe and spent in a physical sense? Does this incident serve to show that the general speed of the world these days is reflected in athletics to this extent? In the old days a man was pretty good until he was well by the 30-year mark, and wasn't considered old as long as he had a spark of vitality left in him. In the present boxing age a man gets a couple of defeats, and he is considered thoroughly down and out and past all athletic redemption.

The ring never had a flashier career in its history than that shown by Wolgast. He started battling in 1906, was a sensation out on the Pacific coast in 1908, became lightweight champion of the world by defeating Battling Nelson on February 22, 1910, twice broke his arm on mediocre opponents, and went through an operation and then lost his title to Willie Ritchie on a foul on Nov. 28, 1912.

One thing always will stand out magnificently in the Wolgast record and it is something that nobody can take away from him. No more courageous man ever tapped a pair of hands in the boxing arena than this selfsame boy from Cadillac. His fearlessness was of the dare-devil type that makes the successful aviator and the leading jockey. He never realized the importance of drawing the line closely in the matter of weight. He was once heard to offer to fight Stanley Ketchel for the championship of Michigan, and that, too, when Stanley was at his best and the undoubted champion among the 158-pounders of the day.

Woman's Greatest Happiness

Miss Rae Potter, known as "Chicago's most beautiful working girl," disdaining the offers of wealthy suitors, has married a poor railway clerk. "To keep house, to wash dishes, and sweep and cook for the man you love," said the bride, "this constitutes a woman's greatest happiness."

A NEW LIFE-SAVING DEVICE

Fire-fighters are interested in this gun which is designed to save life, not to take it. It looks much like a sawed-off shotgun and carries a projectile to which is attached a light but strong cord. It is used when people are trapped in the upper stories of tall buildings, the "bullet" being fired into a window and a heavy rope drawn up after the thin cord has been secured by those in danger.

Arctic Bird at Ayr

A curious specimen, in the form of an Arctic bird was captured at Ayr, Ontario, by the employes of Wm. Hawes Livery Company. While out hauling wood one of the men noticed the bird and commented on its tameness. It was captured without any difficulty and taken to the livery stable, where it was allowed perfect freedom. It did not seem to want to fly away. It measured about six inches long and was about the size of a robin, only the colorings were different. The ornithologist called it a "Snowflake." It lived in Labrador, and was rarely seen so far south. One other authority on birds says that it is a male pine grosbeak. One peculiar feature about the bird is that it walks, does not hop.

Largest Lobster on Record

The largest lobster caught in the district within living memory was brought ashore at Totland Bay, Isle of Wight, recently by a fisherman named Simonds. It weighed 9 pounds 3 ounces, was 2 feet 4½ inches long, and 5 inches across the largest claw.

CURE FOR SEASICKNESS

Important Discovery is Attributed to Dr. Fischer

Dr. Joseph Fischer, the well known heart specialist of Nauheim, in a Munich medical weekly claims to have discovered a method whereby ocean voyages will lose their horrors. According to his reports as the result of extensive experiments with sea sick passengers he found that an injection of atropin completely cured the worst cases. During a trip to New York Dr. Fischer made experiments on the way across the ocean to endeavor if possible to determine what sea sickness is and what causes it. He found that an injection of physostigmina produced the exact clinical symptoms of sea sickness, and that this was caused by an irritation of the vagus nerve. He then discovered that an injection of atropin paralyzed this artificial mal de mer. He immediately began experimenting with atropin in real sea sickness, with excellent results in the worst cases. Dr. Fischer says atropin is not dangerous, and has no ill-effects.

Strengthens Stews

EDWARDS' desiccated SOUPS strengthen weak stews, they impart the fine fresh flavour of Irish garden-grown vegetables to tasteless soups; they make the gravy much more savoury; they improve nearly all the recipes in the cookery book;—these handy "Jacks of all Dishes," these Edwards' desiccated Soups. The food bills will be smaller, the appetites larger, the cooking better, and the work easier, with Edwards' Soups to help you in the kitchen.

Important: Remember to let them boil for at least half-an-hour.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS

But you MUST boil them for half-an-hour — worth it.

Edwards' Soup is good as a soup by itself, it is good as a strengthener of other soups; good as a thickener of gravies; good for hashes, good for stews—too good to be spoiled by insufficient boiling.

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription

is the soothing, cordial and womanly tonic that brings about an invigorating calm to the nervous system. Overcomes the weakness and the dragging pains which resemble the pains of rheumatism. Thousands of women in the past forty years can bear witness to its benefits.

Mrs. Addie Cartsinger of Cedar St., Cairo, Ill., writes Dr. Pierce as follows:

"I send 31 cents for your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' for my daughter who has recently married and I know the book will be of much value to her. I have read and used for 35 years the valuable treatments contained in the 'Medical Adviser', and have taken many bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and have been restored to health each time I used it. It is a great remedy for women as a strength builder, fine for the nerves and general health."

Your dealer in medicines sells it in liquid or sugar-coated tablet form; or you can send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets. Address Dr. V. M. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

"THREE ACRES AND A COW"

Famous Phrase Associated With Mr. Jesse Collings

If there is one thing which Mr. Jesse Collings, who followed the example of his leader, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and decided to retire from Parliament after a third of a century in the British House of Commons, is more proud than another, it is that he is a son of the soil. He has told, with considerable feeling, how his grandfather worked as a laborer at $2.. a week, while his mother, as a girl, earned 13 cents a day on a country farm, and ultimately became the mother of eleven children.

Mr. Collings was devoted to his mother, and his remark, when he was made a Privy Councillor, to Professor Huxley, who was "kissing hands" at the same time, was characteristic of his simple and unaffected nature. "Oh," he said, "how I wish my poor mother, who was a laboring woman—a great, noble woman—and brought us all up in the right ways, had lived to see this day." As a Devonshire lad, Mr. Jesse Collings experienced many of the hardships of agricultural life, and it is scarcely surprising, in view of those early experiences, that he afterwards spent the greater part of his life in endeavoring to improve the lot of the workers on the land.

a member of the British Parliament for 33 years, for 28 of which he represented the Bordesley division of Birmingham.

It was the cry, "Three Acres and a Cow!" one of the most familiar phrases in British politics, which arose through an amendment to the address on this subject, that Mr. Collings then M.P. for Ipswich, moved in January, 1886, and which turned out a Government. The amendment was carried by 331 votes to 252, and the first Salisbury Administration was thus overthrown.

Some people are under the impression that it was Mr. Collings himself who invented the phrase. It was really the outcome of a statement, however, made by Mr. Gladstone, who, speaking of Mr. Collings's amendment, referred to "something between small holdings and allotments, such as pasture for the cow." The phrase "Three acres and a cow" led to many amusing incidents, one of the most humorous, perhaps, being that in which the irrepressible Dr. Tanner was concerned. Mr. Collings was discussing a housing scheme for the East-end of London, and was arguing that each building should be composed of three rooms, when Dr. Tanner evoked a roar of laughter by inquiring, "And where would you put the cow?"

Tango Supplants Reel

The neglect of national sentiment was deplored by the Rev. John Wallace in an address at Dunedin. He said in the average ballroom it was often difficult to secure sufficient dancers to make up a set for the eightsome reel. This national dance was neglected, while there was a regular craze at present to learn the tango. In the average concert room the "auld Scots songs" were seldom heard. Sentimental ditties or music hall parodies were often substituted for the genuine article.

The Birch Revived

For the first time in five years the birch-rod was brought into use at the Marylebone Police Court, London. The victim was Sidney Carthew, a lad of eleven years, who was found guilty of stealing two rubber mats, and selling them, after tearing them into pieces. He was ordered six strokes. At first it was thought that a birch would have to be sent for, but an old one was eventually found in a remote corner of the gaoler's room, and the punishment was inflicted in the presence of the boy's mother.

"Wasn't That a Dainty Dish to Set Before A King"—and Queen?

THE dish in question was a beautiful, sparkling Shirriff Jelly made from one of the "fancy" recipes inserted in Shirriff's Jelly Powder packages. It was served by a Toronto hostess at a fashionable Bridge Party. It was her "trump" card. No guest could resist it. As a hostess you, too, will find Shirriff's Jelly your high "trump" when it is time to play your hand with the refreshments. There are many unique ways of serving it in combination with fresh or canned fruits, preserves, ice cream, nuts, dates, figs, maple syrup, wines, etc. Look for the recipes in Shirriff's Jelly Powder packages. Shirriff's Jelly—the dessert delicious—is a high-class, wholesome, pure-food product. Over a dozen "fruity" flavors. 10 cents a package; 3 for 25 cents. Sold by almost all grocers. Try it for your next dessert.

The Ideal Husband

If the charactesitics enumerated by Rev. W. I. Kern, of Duluth, as necessary to make up the "ideal husband" are really essential, then most married men fall below the standard. Mr. Kern says that the "ideal husband" must be in good health, must be religious and have a reasonably large income.

Mr. Kern based his remarks on a number of letters he had received from young women whom he had asked to describe the "ideal husband." Several of them expressed the opinion that the man should be the "boss" in the home; that he should do the things he thinks right regardless of contrary influence.

Fifty per cent. of the women stated that the "ideal husband" should not be addicted to strong drink, and over 50 per cent. stipulated that he should not use tobacco. Fifteen per cent. expressed the opinion that he should not swear, but only 10 per cent. thought to state in exact words that he should not be immoral. Perhaps they took this for granted. Gambling was condemned by the fair sex.

They were practically unanimous that the "ideal husband" should be truthful, industrious, temperate, clean (in person and language), cheerful, optimistic, tidy, steadfast, ambitious, straight-dealing in business, kind and gentle at home and a lover of children. It is pleasant to note that one woman said "the good disposition of the husband, of course, depends a good deal on the wife's cooking."

Some of the women stipulated that the husband should have a clean past life, no sympathy being expressed for the "wild period."

The Electric Steel and Metals Co., Limited

WELLAND - CANADA

(INCORPORATED UNDER THE ONTARIO COMPANIES ACT)

7%

CUMULATIVE PREFERENCE STOCK

Preferential as to Capital as well as Dividends

Par value of Shares, $100.00

Subject to redemption at any time after five years from the date of issue, upon three months' notice, and payment of accrued dividends, at $110.00 per share.

Price: Par, with a bonus of 50% Common Stock

Fractional shares of Common Stock will be dealt in at $50 per share

The Electric Steel and Metals Company, Limited, will manufacture the following articles:—Light-weight, high-grade steel castings; manganese and other alloy steel castings; bar steel suitable for rifles; bar steel for rock drills, boring machines, etc.; ingots for forging shops; ingots for tool-steel manufacturers.

After careful study of conditions existing in Canada by Mr. David Carnegie, Consulting Engineer, of London, England, the following conditions were found to exist:—

That light, high-grade steel castings were mostly imported from the United States.

That manganese and other alloy steel castings were imported from the United States and Great Britain.

That bar steel for rifles and rock drills, etc., has to be imported.

That ingots for forgings and ingots for tool-steel manufacturers are not made in Canada. Such ingots enter the United States duty free.

And that all steel castings are subject to a duty of 27½% ad valorem.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE.

Our plant in Welland will be ready for operation about May 1st, 1914, and will have a capacity of 4,000 tons of steel castings per annum. The total cost of this first plant, including organization, site, foundry equipment, electrical furnace, all buildings, labor and engineer's charges, will be under $120,000 by contracts already made by the company. Seventy thousand dollars will be reserved for working capital, making a total outlay of $200,000 for the production above mentioned.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

Hydro-electric power is available at fourteen dollars per horsepower per annum, this price being subject to reduction as the load increases.

The Company is also favored with a fixed assessment of $10,000 for a period of twenty years, the taxes on which will not exceed $500 per annum.

The five-ton electric furnace which we are installing will handle five heats per day, and on this basis the plant will produce 4,000 tons of finished castings per annum. In the following estimate of earnings we have based our calculations on a production of three-quarters this capacity, namely, 3,000 tons. Our earnings are estimated as follows:—

3,000 tons steel castings, selling at $120.00 per ton	$360,000.00
Less cost of production, at $83.00 per ton	249,000.00
	$111,000.00
Less depreciation on plant and machinery	16,000.00
	$ 95,000.00
Less 7% dividend on $200,000 Preferred Stock	14,000.00
Leaving available for Common Stock	$ 81,000.00

The above costs of production and basis of selling prices have all been carefully prepared under the advice of Mr. David Carnegie, and detailed statements may be inspected at the Company's office in Welland.

MILESTONE OF SURGERY

First Woman Ever Chloroformed Dies at Ripe Old Age

The death of Mrs. Agnes Thompson, the first woman to inhale chloroform, occurred recently at Streatham, at the age of eighty-three. She was a niece of Sir J. Y. Simpson's wife, and, with her father, Commander Petrie, was present at 53 Queen Street Edinburgh, on the eventful night, November 4th, 1847, when the great discovery was made of the use of chloroform by Sir James (then Professor) Simpson.

On that occasion, after Sir James and his assistants had recovered from the effects of the experimental doses upon themselves, Miss Petrie came forward to be experimented upon, and proved a most happy subject under the influence of the drug, as when falling asleep she made the remark, "I am an angel, a beautiful angel! How are you all down there?"

TWO PROVINCES

Prince Edward Island and British Columbia in Interesting Contrast

A contrast between conditions in Prince Edward Island and British Columbia formed the substance of an address delivered by Mr. C. C. James, who prefaced his speech by saying that ministers, teachers in schools, lawyers and doctors should know more about rural subjects as their daily work brought them in close contact with people whose lives were spent in agricultural pursuits. Business men should study the subject because so many business problems led straight back to the question of rural production. Political leaders needed the knowledge, because most of the important national questions dealt with rural affairs. And the people generally should know why we were buying beef from Australia, eggs from the United States and butter from New Zealand. These were the subjects that concerned every consumer. He limited his remarks to a study of the differences of soil, climate, people and production in Prince Edward Island and British Columbia. The area of the Island Province was 1,400,000 acres; that of British Columbia was 366,000,000 acres. The population of the former was 93,000, of which 84 per cent. were dependent on rural pursuits. The population of British Columbia was 392,000, of which 48 per cent. depended on agriculture for a livelihood.

Prince Edward Island

Up to the present the people of Prince Edward Island had been depending solely on their farms for production. All the land was occupied. There were no Crown Lands and no forests. Hitherto agricultural production had consisted mainly of hay, oats and potatoes. A movement had been started to enlarge the dairy interests, fruit growing and poultry raising. A re-organizing of agricultural methods was taking place. The agricultural activity in Prince Edward Island was probably the greatest of any Province in Canada. In addition to farms, furs and fish were receiving attention. The black fox industry was one of great import in Canadian development. Over 200 companies had been organized for the breeding of wild animals for furs; black foxes, mink, racoon, and now Persian lamb was being added to the list. While there was some speculation, there was really sound investment in the industry. The black foxes alone were worth more than all the other live stock on the farms of the island. This industry was meeting an increased demand in the world's markets. The development of the fishing industry would add greatly to the wealth of the island. This referred principally to the cultivation of oyster beds. The Malpeque was the finest flavored oyster in the world, and the development of this industry was under direct Government supervision.

British Columbia

The problem in British Columbia was quite different. Hitherto forests, mines and fisheries had been the chief sources of wealth in the Province, said Mr. James. It had provided only a small fraction of the food required for consumption in the Province. Farm produce had been limited to fruits and dairy products. A change was now taking place. The railroads under construction were opening up in central and northern British Columbia, immense areas of farm lands quite different from the lands of southern British Columbia. The valleys were wide and open, and presented conditions that were ideal for raising live stock, while the prairie country of the Peace River section, penetrated far into the Province. He expected that in future grain growing, dairying and live stock production would add to the wealth of the Province and of the Dominion. A notable feature of the people of the Province was their activity and daring enterprise. It was a big Province with big resources, whatever the people undertook was carried out on a big scale. The Provincial scheme of highways was the most extensive and expensive of any in Canada.

BLACK CAT FUR

Sold as Black Fox by Some Cheap Fur Dealers

The numerous disappearances of black cats in Great Britain reported to the police, have moved the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to activity in the direction of protecting the pussies. It appears that the black cat is stolen for its fur, which is particularly valuable just now. The hunt seems to be very keen, as pussy vanishes from the doorstep in the daytime and never reappears. A firm in London, England, who have a large general fur business stated that there was a great demand for the fur of black cats, especially of the glossy well-fed type. The fur was extensively sold as "black fox" by the cheaper fur dealers. The sight of a large, sleek black cat sunning itself within reach on a window sill is one to arouse the worst instincts of any fur dealer. Cats, said this dealer, would never displace rabbits as universal providers of the raw material for cheap, imitation furs, but no black cat was safe whilst black fox continued to be fashionable.

Black-throated Loon

A black-throated loon was shot on Bridgeport dam, near Berlin, by Herman Wagner. The black-throated loon is a very rare visitor in inland waters of this latitude, its habitat being far north. It has a full purplish black forethroat, in distinction from the more common loon, which has a white streaked band around the coat. McIlwraith, in his "Birds of Ontario," speaks of only one loon of this variety which he saw amid ice floes in Hamilton Bay one spring, and of another as having been shot on Sandusky Bay in the fall of 1850. Mr. Wagner had his rare specimen mounted.

Troubled With Weak Back and Kidneys For 10 Years.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen the weak back, and prevent any form of kidney trouble entering the system.

Mrs. Ed. Boyer, Nokomis, Sask., writes:—"I have been troubled with weak back and kidneys. I had terrible dizzy headaches, and could not sleep at night. In this way I suffered for ten years, until I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. I purchased two boxes, and as they helped me, I sent for two more; they put me on my feet, and I have been able to work ever since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

HEADACHE POWDERS

British Revenue Department Condemns Their Usage

The Inland Revenue Department of Great Britain has issued a bulletin calling attention to the danger attendant on the common use of various headache powders now on the market. When these are not worthless they are harmful or dangerous, and the official analysts have taken pains to point out the need of greater caution on the part of the public. The effective drugs used in headache powders are acetanilide and phenacetin, and their effect is to depress the heart action. The involved danger of injurious results is counteracted in some cases by including a stimulant in the formula. The Proprietary and Patent Medicines Act provides that when acetanilide is present in quantity above two grains to a maximum dose, or phenacetin in quantity above five grains, the fact must be set forth on a label. As the limit of dose of acetanilide prescribed by the British pharmacopoeia is from one to three grains this requirement is obviously necessary, and not unduly restrictive. About eighty per cent. of the acetanilide powders examined contained less than four grains to the maximum dose, and of the remainder very few exceeded six grains. This record shows how dangerous is the practice of taking such powders, especially of increasing the dose beyond prescribed limits. The report condemns the pretence that drugs can cure headache, which is not a disease, but a symptom or intimation of disease or derangement. A cure is possible only when the cause is removed or corrected.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

TWO IN THE CAR

Far down in the valley a headlight gleamed, and Carl Wilbur turned to his fireman.

"Here she comes, Jim," he announced.

"Something's the matter," declared Jim; "she's running."

"That's what we'll be doing in half an hour," laughed Carl. "It's not often that we have the honour of pulling the president and whole board of directors. The old girl will have to do us proud to-night."

He glanced affectionately at the huge locomotive panting on the siding. It was one of the newest on the division, and with the five cars making up the president's special it would be better than a mile a minute most of the way after the "eight" had been passed.

The Haven section was on the south slope of the divide, and once in dropping down the grade they had to make a complete figure eight in order to make the turn properly about the spur of Mount Diavalo. Carl was lost in speculation as to just how far he could extend the leviathan, and not until Jim leaned out from the platform in front of the firebox did the latter realise that Carl was facing toward the approaching train.

"I was talking about Susie," he laughed. "Wondered why you called her the 'old girl.'"

Carl faced about just as a slip of a girl in a faded print dress came running down beside the track. He hastened toward her with a cry. Her face wore the look of some hunted creature.

"I can't stand it any longer, Carl," she panted, as she half stumbled, half threw herself into his arms. "I want you to take me away."

"Next week, dear," he soothed, as he patted the curly head resting upon his shoulder. "Bear it for a week until I can get my layoff and we'll slip off to Haven and get married. You can wait that long, can't you?"

"Go back there?" the girl shuddered. "She would kill me, Carl."

"It's not as bad as that, is it?" he asked. For answer she drew back the tattered sleeve from the slender white arm. Three livid welts told their own story of stepmother's abuse.

"Did she strike you?" he asked, smothering an oath.

"She found out about that ride in the cab last week and she said she would kill me." Even the recollection of that awful scene brought the tears afresh.

Carl turned to Jim. "If this was the regular run," he said, "I could get Baxter to take her in the car and it would be all right. We could get married in Haven without a license and then I could defy Mrs. Hammond."

"Baxter must be in Haven by now," objected Jim. "Sixty-seven is the first train out in the morning. Ain't you got a friend who'd take her in?"

"Not one," groaned Carl. "We'll have to take her in the cab."

"Remember what Caddon told you last week," reminded Jim. "Told you then that the next time you let her ride in the cab he'd lay you off."

"I don't care," protested Carl. "I'll take her out of the way of that fiend if I never handle a throttle again."

Susie, who knew Carl had got into trouble for letting her ride on the engine with him, looked up protestingly. "I'll stay, dear," she said quietly. "I'm not afraid. Maybe some one will take me in."

Carl thought of the terror in which Mrs. Hammond was held in the town and shook his head, but, despite his urging, Susie shook her head. She was trembling with fright, but she would not let her lover get into trouble. He had been 10 years working for the passenger run. This one trip would spoil it all.

She was still protesting when the special came panting up the grade and the two heavy engines were uncoupled and run onto a siding, while 680 puffed leisurely down to take the train. She walked down the track beside the engine and stood beside the cab as it was coupled on.

Adams was waiting at the telegraph window for his orders from the despatcher, and now he came toward the engine. "All right," she shouted, as he handed up the yellow tissue. "Clear track all the way to Haven. Not going to take her, are you?" he added as his glance fell upon the girl.

It was Susie who answered that she was not going, and Adams turned toward the rear of the train.

He had just given the signal to pull out when down the road came the swaying figure of a woman crazed with anger. One glance told Carl that it was Mrs. Hammond, and without a word he reached down to where Susie was standing and with a powerful jerk lifted her into the cab, while at the same moment he threw over the lever. There was an answering snort from the engine, which drowned the cry of the baffled woman, and the train moved out.

The locomotive was of the Mother Hubbard type, with the engineer's cab well forward over the tremendous boiler. As soon as he was under way Carl helped Susie over to the other side of the boiler and then glued his eyes to the track ahead.

There were 10 miles at a slow speed as they dropped down the side of the mountain, but once the "eight" was passed it would be clear running. Meanwhile it would take all his care to hold back the train and keep from going into the "eight" at such a speed that the engine would leave the track.

They had gone half of the distance and were running through the cutting when a loosened stone fell from the side and crashed through the window and struck Carl full upon the head. He fell over stunned, and as he did so the lever was thrown over and 680 bounded ahead under a full head of steam.

With a scream of terror Susie climbed over the boiler again and stooped over her almost unconscious lover, and endeavoured to staunch the flow of blood that made a line across his face. With trembling hands he forced her away.

"The 'eight!' Running away! Stop!" he gasped.

In a flash she grasped his meaning. The engine under a full head of steam was bounding down the side of the mountain straight toward the dreaded figure eight. It was impossible for the fireman to climb over to the cab at the speed they were going. She must act quickly if she would save them.

In her rides in the cab shed she had learned the use of the various levers and cocks, and once or twice Carl had let her hold the throttle along a straight stretch. Now she grasped the throttle and pulled it over. She knew that to attempt to check the speed too suddenly would be as bad as to let it continue. With white face and set teeth she worked at the throttle until the speed gradually slowed, and just as the "eight" came into sight she realized that at last she had the powerful engine under command.

She brought the machine to a stop and Adams came running forward. "Serves you right," he shouted, as he sped along the track. "Got gabbing with your sweetheart and let the engine get away from you. Fine sort of engineer to be trusted with the special. You'll be on the carpet for this in—" He came to a stop as he climbed into the cab, and at a glance comprehended the tableau he saw there. He knew something of Carl's story and Jim told him the rest while Susie, all unconscious of the sensation she had made, bent over the form of her lover.

When at last she had brought him back to consciousness and stepped to the door of the cab to go in search of water, she found the entire party standing beneath her.

It was Gordon, the president, who broke the silence.

"Young woman," he said severely, "it is against the rules of this road for visitors to ride on the engines. I shall have to ask you to come back into my private car. The fireman says he can run the engine and Adams will fire for him, so as soon as we move Wilbur back there we will go on. I might add that we have discharged Wilbur for violation of orders, but on account of his wife to be are going to make him division superintendent. Of course, he broke the rules, but I, for one, am rather glad of it."

With an impulsive gesture Susie sprang forward and planted a kiss directly beneath the grizzled moustache. "So am I," she said, quietly.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can very easily do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only are the unsightly diseases removed, and a bright clean complexion produced, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes:—"Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

TRAINING ARMY HORSES

Severe Schooling Required Before They Are Ready For War

For Army purposes, in addition to learning certain things, a horse must also be accustomed gradually to carry heavy weights and to sustain considerable fatigue. When young horses are suddenly plunged into the work of actual warfare, without previous careful training, they are sure to die in great numbers. This was the case in South Africa.

The young Army horse will probably begin his training in the riding school, two of his first lessons being obedience to the reins and proper balance. He is put on to long reins and sent round in a circle from right to left, with his trainer in the middle. Afterwards he is made to go in the opposite direction, from left to right. With regard to balance, it is necessary to teach him to hold his head up, and to keep his limbs well under control, instead of sprawling carelessly about in the way natural to young animals.

Another lesson the young horse has to learn is that of pulling himself up briskly in answer to a light signal from the reins. The instructor walks behind his pupil with a rein in each hand, and at a light pressure on his mouth the horse learns to come to a halt. Jumping is the next step in his education, and he is taught this still on the long reins, sometimes with the help of an old charger, who will give him a lead over the obstacles. By this time the youngster should be obedient to the long reins, and so the time comes for him to be mounted for the first time by his instructor. A man is placed at either side of his head, and the instructor, standing at the horse's left side, jumps up so that he is lying, face downwards, across the saddle. This is probably done several times before the man actually mounts, so as to accustom the animal to the unwonted weight on his back. Then at last the trainer actually mounts, being particularly careful not to touch the young animal with his toe, as this would scare him and make him nervous. Amongst the many lessons yet remaining to be learned by the young horse is that of lying down with a man on his back. The rider throws his left stirrup across the withers. He gathers the reins and a handful of mane into his left hand drawing his horse's head to the right. Meanwhile, the man puts his weight on the horse's left side, grasping the back of the saddle with his right hand. As the horse sinks down the rider opens his legs and steps from his mount as the animal reaches the ground.

In actual battle it may be of the utmost importance that a horse shall remain where he is left, with the reins thrown over his head. To the end of the reins a sack is tied, and the horse is then left. If he moves forward, he treads on the sack, with the result that he gets a good hard jab in the mouth, which he does not forget, and in future, when left with the reins in that position, he is content to stand still until his rider's return.

He Took the Opportunity

An old Scottish gravedigger was remonstrated with one day for making a serious overcharge for digging a grave.

"Weel, ye see, sir," said the old man, in explanation, making a motion with his thumb towards the grave, "him an' me had a bit of a tiff twa or three years syne ower a watch I selt him, and I've never been able tae get the money oot o' him yet. 'Noo,' I says tae ma'sel, 'this is ma last chance, an' I'll better tak' it.'"

A good for nothing fellow was asked by his wife to keep awake long enough one day to dig the potatoes in the garden. He consented, and after digging a few minutes he returned to the house and said he had found a coin. He washed the dirt off and it proved to be a sixpence. He put it in his pocket and went back to work. Presently he went to the house and told his wife he had found another coin; this time it was a shilling.

Putting it in his pocket, he said: "I have worked pretty hard; I'll take a short nap."

When he awoke, he found that his wife had dug all the rest of the potatoes. But she found no coins. It then dawned upon her that she had been fooled.

Darken Grey Hair, Look Young, Pretty

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens so Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or grey; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is musty and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

The two trimming bands give the tier effect, now so much sought, and may be of contrasting material or of the skirt fabric. The closing of the skirt is in front. Plaid and plain materials, novelty goods, serge and thick satin are suitable for this skirt.

The skirt pattern, No. 6,518, is cut in sizes 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 2¾ yards of 44 inch material made with bands of same.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

When ordering remember to give your name and address as well as the number and size of pattern required, and age of a child.

Address—The Examiner Pattern Service, The Examiner, Peterborough.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

William Pipe, aged 60, a life-long resident of Kingston, dropped dead at his home there yesterday.

Cochrane is to have a new weekly newspaper, The Cochrane Free Press. Mr. T. C. Schultz is the editor.

The first litter of 1914 foxes is reported from Charlottetown, P.E.I. They were born on the 5th of March. This is the earliest fox birth on record.

William Hamsworth, Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue, has been granted six months' leave of absence at the end of which he will retire on superannuation.

Commander E. R. G. R. Evans, Royal navy, the last man who saw Captain Scott, the Antarctic explorer, in life, reached New York yesterday on the steamship Oceanic.

George Creeford Brown, of Brownleigh-on-Hudson, South Nyack, N.Y., has intimated that he will endow McGill University with $10,000 to found a scholarship for architects.

Seven bodies were recovered yesterday from the ruins of the Missouri Athletic Club, St. Louis, destroyed by fire, bringing the total recovered to 17. The bodies of 12 are still missing.

Goderich put forward a strong plea for improved harbor facilities yesterday. A delegation at Ottawa asked that the plan of improvements of the port be implemented with as little delay as possible.

Application will be made to the Ontario Legislature by the English-speaking trustees of the Ottawa separate school board for legislation dividing the board into two bodies—English and French.

SIX MONTHS FOR OUTRAGE.

Suffragette Picture Slasher Is Sentenced to Prison Term.

LONDON, March 13. —May Richardson (the militant suffragette, who on Tuesday hacked the celebrated Velasques picture known as the "Rokeby Venus" in the National Gallery, was yesterday sentenced to six months' imprisonment for her crime.

The public prosecutor said that one might well doubt whether the prisoner was in her right senses.

Addressing Judge Robert Wallace, Miss Richardson said she had been an art student, but cared more for justice than for art. She firmly believed that when the nation had shut its eyes to justice and preferred to have women who were fighting for justice maltreated and tortured, such an action as hers should be understandable.

The slow and premeditated murder of Mrs. Pankhurst was an ultimatum which brought about the outrages. The nation seemed dead or asleep, for the women had knocked vainly at the doors of Ministers, bishops and archbishops and even of the King himself.

Not Paying Its Way.

DENVER, March 13.—The annual report of the Colorado Eastern Railroad Co. for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, made public, shows passenger earnings for the year of $1,86, a decrease of 63 per cent. under 1912. Freight earnings amounted to $10.21, as compared with $15.25 during the preceding year.

Its operating force consists of one man — engineer, fireman, conductor and trainman. It is owned by the Havemeyers.

BILL IS CONDEMNED

Sen. Choquette's Measure Would Muzzle Press, Says Dennis

BREEZE IN THE SENATE

OTTAWA, March 13.—A lively attack was made yesterday in the Senate upon Senator Choquette's bill forbidding the publication of the pictures of persons accused of crime or their accomplices, with the penalty of two years in prison for such publication.

Senator Dennis (Halifax) said he understood this bill proposed to make a crime in Canada of what has heretofore been a perfectly legitimate, harmless matter of daily business, and to render subject to two years in prison the twelve hundred newspapers, dealers and booksellers for the manner in which they have conducted their business in the past.

If such a law were enacted, Senator Dennis said a publisher might be incarcerated in jail for the publication of a portrait of Joan d'Arc, of Louis Riel, William Lyon Mackenzie, Robert Emmet, and others of their kind.

"I oppose this bill," he said, "because it seeks to make a crime in Canada of what never was a crime, and is never likely to be a crime here or in any other part of the globe. I further oppose it because it establishes a censorship of the press, which means to submit the judgment, the enterprise, the good faith and the honor of, to say the least, one of the most intelligent and influential professions in this country — the daily moulders of public sentiment—to the dictation of some petty official, perhaps as fossilized and malicious as he may be narrow-minded and out of touch with modern life.

"Such a law would wrench Canada from the category of civilized nations and throw her back beyond the days of the bigoted and fanatical Puritans to the atmosphere of the still more bigoted and fanatical dark ages of the Inquisition."

Senator Choquette said he desired to look over the speech of Senator Dennis before replying, and to enable him to do Senator Cloran adjourned the debate.

Drug Clerk Tells How To Cure Indigestion

Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in Peterborough To-day.

"It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well-known drug clerk recently. "While all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just pepsin pills which digest the food that is in the stomach at the time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and of course do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep on coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics. When anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary bisurated magnesia, which doesn't digest the food at all but just acts as an antacid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heartburn, sour rising, wind, bloating, fullness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help or trouble, which is the proper way."

"Doctors make mistakes sometimes, too," he continued. "My own aunt had all kinds of trouble with her stomach for years. She bought and used several styles of digestive pills but got worse right along, as naturally she would. Finally she went to a doctor, who nearly scared her to death by telling her she had cancer of the stomach. She came to me with his prescription and told me what he said. I thought it was nonsense. I sent her to another doctor whom I knew very well and he didn't tell her anything, but just gave her this same thing, bisurated magnesia. She took it two weeks and never has had any stomach trouble since and that's three years ago. She's my own aunt and I know this for a fact. Yes, a lot of Bisurated magnesia is sold in Peterborough. All the druggists have it, I suppose, and all you take is a teaspoonful after every meal. It's all right."

VICTIM OF FIRE FIEND?

Seven Mysterious Conflagrations In House in Six Months.

LONDON, March 13.—No less than seven times in the past six months fire has broken out in the home of C. J. Adams, 169 Albert street, and the fire department and insurance companies are investigating what has become a tantalising puzzle. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are almost prostrated, the latter having moved to the home of a neighbor in a hysterical condition. Mr. Adams patrols the house nightly, but in spite of his watchfulness fire somehow started in an attic room Wednesday night and was extinguished by the fire chief with a chemical. For the remainder of the night Mr. Adams continued his vigilance, but soon after he had left for his place of business yesterday morning he was notified that still another fire had been discovered in a clothes' closet. Very little damage was done.

Nothing Against Guards.

KINGSTON, March 13. — The charges made against the penitentiary guards for trafficking in tobacco have apparently been dropped. Warden Irvine was appointed to investigate the matter by commission. He has had the records of the postoffice searched for money orders received by guards. This search was completed a week ago, and there is nothing doing. It is understood nothing could be found against any of the guards.

The death and accident statistics of 1913 show that 1914 has a splendid opportunity to profit by the "safety first" idea.

Physicians in Chicago declare that there is altogether too much surgery. The answer would seem to be, "Cut it out."

Magnifying Misery Into Joy

Dyspeptics, Stomach Sufferers and Appetiteless People May Quickly Find Relief in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

When a stomach sufferers gets relief he is one of the happiest of human beings and he looks back at his old self with a distinct feeling of horror.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets quickly readjust the out-of-proportion stomach and digestive machinery and bring joy of life and love for food to the man or woman who will use them after each meal for a short time.

"Hully gee, I used to feel just like that fellow"

The action of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a purely natural one. When taken they enter the stomach just like food. They mix with the juices of the mouth. Then they enter into and correctly build up or dilute the juices of the stomach, go into the intestines and there when the nourishment from food is taken into the system so follows the ingredients of these wonderful tablets.

They correct the faults of the blood and thus at the next meal the body is better able to produce a stronger and more normal digestive juice.

A short use of these tablets will re-establish your digestion, stop gastritis, heartburn, indigestion, foul breath, catarrh of the stomach, ulcers and many other unbearable conditions.

Go to your druggist to-day and begin the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet habit. It is the habit of health and appetite. Learn how to yearn for food, not how to spurn it.

Obtain a box from any druggist — price 50 cents. Sold wherever you can find a drug store.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, March 12.—Although wheat at times today made a show of strength, the market ultimately fell under bearish control. WOULD BONUS INDUSTRY.

Iron Bounties Find Hearty Support In The Legislature.

TORONTO, March 13 — The Ontario Legislature yesterday put itself on record as in favor of urging upon the Federal Government the importance of granting a measure that would stimulate the iron industry of Canada. What form that assistance would take would be left to the discretion of the Ministers at Ottawa, but the idea would be to so promote public interest that the iron and steel business would be placed on an assured and permanent footing. A motion to this effect, proposed by E. R. Gamey of Manitoulin, received the unqualified support of the Government and Opposition, and was carried after a six-hour discussion with only one voice dissenting.

In speaking to the motion, Mr. Gamey claimed that the northern parts of the province contained ore quite as promising as that of Michigan, and the American Superior mines, but that the splendid equipment and good start of the Americans had discouraged Canadian capitalists.

Another member from the north, D. M. Hogarth (Port Arthur) felt that the opportunity now before the province was one of great importance. The opening of iron mines in the Lake Superior region would bring 12,000 new men at least for actual work in the ore and establish a municipality of 60,000 population.

Hon. W. H. Hearst followed up this position by claiming that the possibilities of the iron industry in Canada were almost beyond comprehension. This of all lines had been the most backward, regardless of the fact that Ontario was one of the two provinces in the Dominion which professed to have a source of this mineral in marketable quantities.

The resolution met with the entire approval of Wm. Proudfoot of the Opposition. He would go as far as was thought necessary to see iron production put on a new basis and even thought that the province should tender financial encouragement.

Two Missionaries Missing.

LONDON, March 13.—A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai, China, yesterday says that two women attached to the station of the China Inland mission at Kao Ho-Kow in the Province of Hu-Peh, have been missing since that town was sacked and burned by brigands Wednesday.

The two women are Miss E. Black and Miss J. Black of the China Inland mission.

Child Had Bronchitis

Once people get acquainted with the wonderful control which Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine exerts over bronchitis, whooping cough, croup and colds it is not easy to persuade them that anything else is "just as good." This is why the imitators never get very far.

In 1902 Mrs. Eugene Iler, King street, Truro, N.S., wrote as follows:

From an infant one of my children was troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help her, and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis, we used it, and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief."

Mrs. Iler now writes that she has since proved this medicine to be a cure for whooping cough, and would not be without it in the house.

16,464 LUCKY DOLLAR DAY NUMBER
TWO ESTIMATES TIED FOR 1st BONUS

First and Second Prizes Pooled and Divided Equally Between the Nearest Two—94 Estimates Won Bonuses.

DOLLAR DAY A SUCCESS

The total number of Dollar Day coupons deposited in the box in front of the Examiner Office yesterday was 16,464. The counting carried on this morning under the supervision of representatives of the merchants was completed at one o'clock this afternoon, and the list of winners of the cash bonuses was made out.

Two estimates were tied for the first prize of $20. As a result, the second prize of $15 was added to it and the $35 was equally divided between the two winners, each getting $17.50.

Evans Story, of Omemee placed his estimate of the number of coupons that would be deposited during the day at 16,456, just 8 less than the exact number. J. D. Kerr, of East City, made an estimate that was 8 in excess of the actual number deposited.

The returns received from the committee of merchants are as follows:

MAKE ELECTION DAY HOLIDAY SAY LABOUR MEN

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13—President Watters of the Trades and Labour Congress was here this morning before the Electoral Committee suggesting that Election Day should be declared a holiday, in order that all classes of workmen should exercise their franchise. He would be in favour, he said, of compulsory voting under such conditions. He also stood for the extension of the franchise to women and special arrangements for railway men to vote. The Committee discussed these matters at some length, but took no action, the Minister of Justice intimating that either of these proposals meant a new franchise act.

"Gentlemen," said F. B. Carvell, member for Carleton, N. B., "these are questions you will have to deal with pretty soon. The cause of women is sweping along. Many men who have the franchise to-day are unworthy of the right to exercise it."

MOTION PICTURE PROPRIETOR WAS FINED $100.00

For Allowing Boy Under Fifteen Years of Age, to Enter Theatre

THE EVIDENCE

Herbert Clayton, manager of the Royal Theatre, was charged in police court this morning with permitting Robert Batley, a child under the age of 15 years, unaccompanied by an adult, to attend the moving picture show at the Royal Theatre at which exhibition an admission fee was charged, contrary to section 10 of the Theatres and Cinematographs Act. He was fined $100.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the defence.

The first witness called was Robert Batley. He said that on Monday last he went to the Royal Theatre after school. The picture that was being shown was the "Battle of Waterloo."

Mr. O'Connell cross-examining:
"Where did you get the money?"
"I earned part of it."
"Where did you get the rest of it?"
"I stole it."
"Where from?"
"McLeads on Chamberlain Street."
"How much?"
"Seventy-five cents."
"How did you get in?"
"Get in from back door."
"Was the door locked,"
"No."
"When did you steal the money?"
"A week ago last Wednesday."
"Where did you get the money to go to the show?"
"I sold some rubbers."
"Where did you get the rubbers?"
"From the house."
"How much did you get for them?"
"Five cents."
"Where did you sell them?"
"At Florence's."
"When?"
"The Monday I was at the show."

Chief Thompson—"Did you get some money from one of your brothers before then?"
"Yes."
"How much?"
"About $7."
"What did you do with it?"
"We spent it."

Evidence was also given by George and James Batley to the effect that they had gained admittance to the show on the day in question.

Mrs. Margaret Batley said that the three former witnesses were her sons. She had six children altogether.

For the defence, Miss V. Hickery, ticket seller at the Royal Theatre, was first called and said she was not allowed to sell tickets to children under 15 years of age.

The Door Keeper.

Mr. Wm. Flemming, door-keeper at the Royal Theatre, said that the boys told him that the gentleman who had preceded them bought them the tickets. He had received instructions from Mr. Clayton not to admit children under 15 years of age.

Mr. Herbert Clayton, manager of the Royal, said he had always given his employees the proper instructions and never to his knowledge had any children been admitted under 15 years.

This concluded the defence.

After Mr. D. O'Connell had summed up his case, Magistrate Dumble accepted the evidence of the prosecution, saying he was satisfied.

"The object of the law is to keep children of immature years from attending these shows."

"They should not have the Battle of Waterloo in the schools."

Magistrate Dumble—"If I were the Premier of Canada I would wipe them all out." I impose a fine of $100 to be paid in 10 days; in default of payment, imprisonment for three months.

PURE MILK PLANT WILL BE DOUBLED BY AN ADDITION

Peterboro' Pure Cream Company's Business Has Grown So Rapidly That Larger Quarters Have Become Necessary

WILL SERVE ICE CREAM

It was learned this morning that as soon as the weather opens up for building operations, the Peterborough Pure Milk Company will commence the erection of a large addition to their Aylmer Street plant. The present building will be slightly more than doubled by the addition which will be built on the lot immediately south of the present premises.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, the proprietor, was out of the city to-day on business, and could not be interviewed, but it is understood that he has all his plans ready to be put into operation as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

One of the features of the new plant will be an ice-making machine, which will provide the ice for a large cold storage room. The ice cream section will be enlarged in addition to the other departments. Immediately fronting Aylmer street will be the offices and a large ice cream parlour, where all kinds of ice cream confections will be served during the spring and summer months.

Ice Is Hard For To-night's Hockey

Mr. John Thirnbeck states that the ice at Brock street rink is in good condition for to-night's game with the fast Lindsay Collegiate team. The City League All-Stars comprise a fast going seven, and the lovers of hockey will see a fast game to-night as a wind-up to the season's hockey. The game is scheduled for 8:30, and a good crowd should see it.

Mr. Len Dobson will referee.

Evaded The Customs Officers

Special Wire to The Examiner:

WINDSOR, Ont., March 13.—Pretty Gladys Appleby who, on returning from Detroit to Toronto, her native city, yesterday, smuggled herself through the immigration lines, refusing to sign the necessary papers, and on arriving at Toronto, was promptly returned to this border town, appeared before Magistrate Leggatt here, to-day and was fined $10 and costs, in all $22.80, for evading the officers. She paid the fine and again started for Toronto.

SPEAKING OF HER FATHER THE COMMANDER SAID— "THE SECRET OF HIS GLORIOUS LIFE LAY IN THE SPIRITUAL"

MISS EVA BOOTH, COMMANDER of the SALVATION ARMY IN THE UNITED STATES WHO ADDRESSED A LARGE AUDIENCE AT MASSEY HALL

FORMER COMMISSIONER OF SALVATION ARMY RETURNS TO CANADA—Miss Eva Booth, Commander of the Army in the United States, received a great reception in Massey Hall when she told of the life-work of her father, General Booth. Miss Eva Booth delivered a stirring address. "The General," she said, "wanted freedom to preach the Gospel as he thought it should be preached, and when the request for liberty was refused still pleaded before a conference for permission to go and talk to the poor according to his convictions, inquiring, 'Must I; must I disobey the call of God?' My beautiful mother," said Miss Booth, "rose in the gallery and cried 'Never!' In the moment of silence that followed he looked upon the voice as a star to guide him and that day Evangelist Booth gathered in his arms the woman who was to become my mother, kissed her, and in that kiss the Salvation Army was conceived."

Pronounced Dead, Is Found To Be Alive

Special Wire to The Examiner:

OIL SPRINGS, Ont., March 13.—While being embalmed by an undertaker, four hours after she was pronounced dead by her husband, Dr. Joseph Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, aged 65, was found to be alive. Advertisements of her death had been sent the newspapers. She is now unconscious.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Evangelist Pugsley Spoke on the Theme of Salvation

There was a good attendance at the revival meeting in the Park St. Baptist Church. Evangelist Pugsley delivered a soul-stirring address on the theme of Salvation, dividing his sermon into three parts — deliverance from the past, grace for the present, and hope for the future. Mrs. Connors contributed a solo that was greatly appreciated. At the conclusion of the meeting a consecration service was held at which great power was manifested.

NO CHANGE OF THE PREMIER'S DESIGNATION

Special Cable to The Examiner:

LONDON, Eng., March 13. — All reports of Premier Asquith's impending resignation at this stage, can be dismissed without reserve, but its ready circulation at this juncture is a sign of the high tension of the political situation. Mr. Asquith's statement on Monday will none the less be one of great importance, for it is understood that not only will it outline consequential charges in the Home Rule Bill involved by the offer of Monday last, but will also announce the future action of the Government in the now inevitable event of opposition in the House of Commons rejecting the cabinet's offer as it stands.

Royal Theatre

The management of the Royal will introduce with all features commencing next week, special high standard vaudeville acts. The price of admission will be the same, 5c. and 10c.

Special vaudeville to-night.

Three Dead As Result Of Big Fire

Special to The Examiner.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 13.—Three men perished and a fourth was fatally burned in a fire which destroyed a six-storey tenement house in the Italian district to-day.

The Wonderful Picture of Nero

The wonderful picture of "Nero" in three acts, was a great success and record breaker at the Royal, Red Mill and Princess on dollar day. This wonderful film was shown at these three theatres to give lovers of feature pictures a treat on Dollar Day. "Nero" will be shown for the last time, to-night, at the Royal; special Vaudeville, and the most talked-of feature, James O'Neil, in the Count of Monte Christo, will be on the same bill. The admission will be the same—10 cents.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 12. — Union Stock Yards.—Receipts very light. 47 cars, 221 cattle, 2,696 hogs, 65 sheep and lambs, 20 calves, and 48 horses.

Cattle—Receipts being small the trade was active and prices firm. Choice butchers' steers, $8.00 to $8.25; good butchers' steers, $7.40 to $7.90; medium butchers' steers, $7.00 to $7.30; common butchers' steers, $6.50 to $6.75; choice butchers' heifers, $7.75 to $8.00; common butchers' heifers, $7.25 to $7.50; choice cows, $6.75 to $7.00; good cows, $6.50 to $6.75; canners, $3.75 to $4.50; bulls, $5.75 to $7.25.

Feeders and Stockers — Stockers and feeders were scarce and prices firm. Choice steers, $6.75 to $7.00; medium steers, $6.25 to $6.50; stockers, $5.75 to $6.25.

Milkers and Springers—Only a limited number on sale at $58 to $90 each, bulk sold at $65 to $75 each.

Calves — Only 20 offered, causing prices to be firm. Choice veals, $10.00 to $11.00; common and medium, $6.00 to $9.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Only 65 came on the market. Sheep, $6.50 to $7.00; culls and rams, $4.00 to $6.25; lambs, choice ewes and wethers, $9.25 to $9.70.

Hogs—There were about 2,000 Manitoba hogs arrived on the market; but notwithstanding that fact prices held steady. Selected, fed and watered at $9.25 and $9.00 f.o.b. cars, and $9.50 to $9.60 weighed off cars.

CHARGES THE PROVINCIAL TREASURER WITH JUGGLING

Liberal Leader Points Out Cases Where Funds Voted for a Specific Purpose Have Been Used to Other Ends.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN

TORONTO, March 13.—The leader of the Opposition and the Provincial Treasurer locked horns in the last struggle of the debate on the budget in the Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon, after which the Opposition amendment was lost and the motion to adopt passed by a vote of 73 to 18, a Government majority of 55.

Both speakers were in fine fettle and the debate was vigorous.

Mr. Rowell began by stating that ten years ago the province had been paying its way, but that now, although the revenues had increased the expenditures had increased much more. The very spirit of expenditure had seized upon the Government and was apparently growing up with the growth of receipts.

Turning to the tangled accounts, Mr. Rowell claimed that it was illegitimate to leave on the receipts side the cash on hand at the beginning of the year, the T. & O subsidy, which had arrived, the borrowings of four and a half millions, and the municipal sinking funds. If this sum had been deducted, as it should have been, the current receipts would have ten millions. On the disbursements side also the two millions in cash on hand, the drainage debentures, and advances to the T. N. O. and Hydro-Electric Commissions should come out, and then the province would have closed with three millions less receipts than expenditures.

Money which had been borrowed for a specific purpose should have gone only into that account, Mr. Rowell continued. The Legislature had authorized certain borrowings, but these had been diverted to whatever purpose the treasurer afterwards saw it to encourage. He had gone to the money market and raised one million for the Northern Ontario development authorized, and again for another million. It was a wanton misuse of authority and should be condemned.

Further, he declared that the treasurer was so primitive and extravagant in his knowledge of finance that he would borrow money at six per cent. and deposit it in the bank here at three per cent. The statutory expenditure last year exceeded four and a half millions. It meant that the Government had taken out of the hands of the Legislature the expenditure of a sum nearly as large as the total outlay ten years ago. Where was it going to stop?

Hon. Mr. Lucas began by deprecating the "strong language" of Mr. Rowell, and came back vigorously against the charge that the financial affairs were not handled honestly. Under the old Liberal Government it had been the practice to place huge timber bonuses in the receipt column, and that was why the present leader could claim surpluses in those years.

With reference to the arrears of interest on the T. & N. O. subsidy, he pointed out that Mr. Rowell charged them with including the whole amount, while Mr. Bowman found fault only with including the amounts for the years prior to 1914. Here was a difference that they could settle between themselves. When the old Government piled up $32,000,000 in railway mortgages, there never was a debt, but always a surplus.

He denied that the expenses of civil government had increased, as Mr. Rowell would have them believe, or that expenditure in connection with crown lands was greater. Mr. Rowell had failed to explain that the Department of Forestry was now separate and distinct from that of agriculture, and agricultural expenditures were now confined to those purposes alone. Practically the whole mining industry had been developed by the Government with consequent improvements in fire ranging, forest reserve and park supervision, with no credit from the Opposition leader.

In reply to the charge of misuse of voted grants Hon. Mr. Lucas said that the Opposition was a mere student body when it came to matters of finance, or they would have known that the system was to place all such sums in the consolidated revenue, and use them as the time came. It was like taking money from one pocket to go in another. As for statutory expenditure, which was so fiercely attacked, the present Government was merely living up to the statutes enforced under the old regime.

The vote was then taken.

A REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LANCASTER, Pa., March 13.—A most remarkable coincidence took place yesterday when twins, in each case a boy and a girl, were born yesterday in the homes of Rev. Nathan Yerger and Rev. Elbert Landis, both Lutheran Ministers of this city, and friends since boyhood, and room-mates in college for four years. They were married on the same day, and the wedding trips were taken together. Their wives were girlhood friends. The two mothers and four kiddies are all doing well.

RUSSIA IS READY FOR WAR

Semi-official St. Petersburg Organ Makes Statement That Sets All Europe Agog

TROUBLE WITH GERMANY

Special Cable to The Examiner:

VIENNA, March 13—"Russia is ready for war." These words in the St. Petersburg Bourse Gazette, an inspirited semi-official organ, to-day set all Europe agog with rumours of impending war between Russia and Germany. Similar reports floated about last year during the Balkan struggle, but matters were straightened out satisfactorily. There are many serious disputes between these two nations and both have spent many millions more in armament this year than ever before.

DENNIS DALY IN COURT

First Appearance in Nearly Two Years—Was Allowed to Go

In the PoliceCourt, this morning, Dennis Daly was charged with being drunk in a public place.

"That is a good, familiar name," waswas the Magistrate's comment. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Well, I had some liquor, but don't know that I was altogether drunk," replied the penitent looking Daly.

"Was that Peterborough liquor you had?" asked Magistrate Dumble, "if it was you would surely be drunk. You must have got off the beat. How long is it since you were in Court?"

Daly— "Quite a while."

Chief Thompson—"About a year, Your Worship."

Daly—"Longer than that; nearly two years, isn't it?"

Chief Thompson—"I guess it is."

The Court—"Well, I guess you can go this time."

Daly—"Thank you, Your Honour, I am very much obliged."

As Daly went out of the door he exclaimed "Good morning, Gents."

CONNAUGHT IS 35 YEARS MARRIED

Special to The Examiner:

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13.—Many messages of greeting from Canada and from across the Atlantic were received at Rideau Hall to-day to remind Their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. The marriage of the Duke of Connaught and Princess Louis Margaret, daughter of Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, was celebrated in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, March 13, 1879, in the presence of Queen Victoria and numerous other representatives of the British Royal Family and of the Imperial Family of Germany. The Duke was then twenty-nine years of age and his bride was nineteen.

FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1914

DOLLAR DAY.

Dollar Day in Peterborough was a red-letter day for the city and country in every way. It was in every sense an unqualified success. While at first it was misunderstood it justified itself yesterday to both merchants and people, and most successfully met its object.

The central idea and object with the Examiner in promoting dollar day, was to practically advertise Peterborough as a great shopping centre—to demonstrate to the people of the city and the surrounding country that Peterborough was a good centre for the purchase of almost everything required for household or personal use. Yesterday demonstrated to the people of the city and surrounding districts that they could find thousands of advantageous bargains in Peterborough, without sending to the bigger cities. It demonstrated that personally direct service in the shops of our merchants and business men was superior to the mail order system. It showed that the shops of all kinds in Peterborough are better, bigger, and better stocked than was imagined or known before the popular experiences of yesterday.

We all know and deplore the extent of the mail order business, and the efforts put forth by big city stores to encourage this business. Catalogues of their establishments are as common on the tables of our households as the Bible, and are, perhaps, consulted more religiously; and now thousands know from experience that they can get as cheaply and more promptly, personally, or by parcel post, as good value, as big bargains, in Peterborough shops as they can get by mail orders from distant cities.

It was, and is, necessary for the merchants of Peterborough to demonstrate their equality with the big city shops and show, as they did yesterday, that they can meet every need with as varied stocks, and at as fair prices, as the city establishments. The stocks of Peterborough merchants cannot be equalled in size or variety or values by any city in Ontario; but heretofore our merchants have not dealt practically enough with the idea of bringing themselves in touch with the surrounding districts as has been done by such cities as Brantford, Berlin, St. Thomas, and Woodstock, which all have had dollar days and found this, as Peterborough did yesterday, of great advantage in bringing the merchants and people together, to the advantage of both.

While all the merchants of the city did well yesterday, it is natural that a day of this kind is of more benefit to some classes of trade than to others; but the latter get the advantage of a good advertising, and will reap the future advantage of what dollar day means—making Peterborough a great shopping centre for the surrounding country every day in the year. If we are to be a big city we must act together in the work of attracting trade from the outside, in which, in the long run, every class of buiness will share.

The Examiner is proud of the success of its dollar day—proud of our merchants, who so generally and splendidly cooperated in the work of drawing trade to the City, and of the citizens, generally, and of the country residents, who all cooperated to share the benefits of the day, and lay the foundation of future benefits for both sellers and buyers. Occasions of this kind must have a powerful influence in centring trade in Peterborough and advertising the city as one of the best shopping centres in Ontario.

TORONTO HYDRO-ELECTRIC.

The problem of hydro-electric rates reduction, is not at present a live subject in Peterborough; but it is probable that some time in the future—we have no means of guessing when—the conditions that Toronto is dealing with in regard to hydro-electric rates will have to be faced and overcome in Peterborough. It is all very nice to proclaim reduction of rates, but it is necessary at the same time to consider, as pointed out by the Toronto News in an article reproduced in another column of this issue, the relation of such reduction, to meeting the indebtedness incurred. The News very reasonably insists that "no reduction should be made, until all the charges against the system have been met and the financial position permits of lower rates without burdneing the general taxpayer." At the same time the News asserts that the value of hydro-electric service cannot be questioned—that the city was never so well lighted. But it adds that "the cost of lighting has tremendously increased." In 1910 under the old system the cost of city lighting was $152,000. The next year, after Hydro was installed, the cost jumped to $220,000. In 1913 the cost was $346,550. The figure for the current year is $411,676, nearly three times greater than the old system.

In view of this, the cost of our boast that this city has the best lighted business street in Ontario is worth considering. Street lighting is a small part of the beenfits that we are to get from Hydro-Electric service. The interests of the general consumer, the ordinary householder, must in respect of numbers, if for no other reason, be one of the chief considerations. If we plunge into exorbitant expenditure for street lighting, the burden must come upon the domestic consumer, something like it is doing in Toronto, where, according to the News, the reduction of rates has helped the wealthy consumers and the large manufacturing industries "and increased the burden of the general ratepayers." The News very properly demands that "the householder must not be taxed for the benefit of the manufacturer." It is further pointed out and has a bearing upon the situation, that "seventy-five per cent. of the householders use gas because of its cheapness," showing that the beenfits of Hydro-Electric go to the wealthy consumers and the big manufacturers, while the ordinary people get their comfort in contributing to the general rate of taxation required to give the favoured users cheap electric light.

It seems from what Toronto is experiencing that it is a difficult problem to equitably administer a civic lighting system—with due justice as between high and low, rich and poor, and the necessity arises of proceeding with the greatest caution, in Peterborough, profitting from the mistakes and experience of others and providing that the benefits shall be equally distributed as well as the burden of payment. We cannot accuse our city authorities of any rash haste in the matter of Hydro-Electric; but the people are becoming, if not impatient, a little curious to know where we stand. We are now well through the third month of the third year since the people voted by a very large majority, for the Hydro-Electric principle, and so far as is evident, the people don't know how near we are to, or how far from, getting the benefit of what the people voted for. It seems about time that something should have been done; and that the people who are interested and have to pay the shot should know where we are at in regard to installation of the municipally-owned system, and get an adequate idea of the expenditure they will have to bear the burden of. As it is, we as a city are in a somewhat humiliating position. The people voted strongly to displace a "monopoly" with a civic system. Now we are lighting our streets and our homes at the mercy—on the charity—of the very "monopoly" we voted to put out of existence.

GOVERNMENT LEADERLESS AND ADRIFT

Special to The Examiner:

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, Toronto, March 12.—Indecision seems to be one of the most pronounced traits in the character of the Government this year. They seem unable to make up their minds on important quest ions. Wednesday afternoon, for example, was devoted to discussions of public bills and orders and yet the Government did not give any consideration to two or three important bills proposed by the Opposition at the very beginning of the session and which, undoubtedly, would have been taken up if the Government had determined what attitude they would adopt towards them. On the 20th of February, for instance, J. C. Elliott, Liberal member for West Middlesex, introduced his bills to grant the municipal franchise for married women otherwise qualified. On February 23rd J. G. Anderson, Liberal member for South Bruce, introduced his Bill requiring the publication of contributions for political purposes, and, shortly after, this was followed by a Liberal Bill for Tax Reform. None of these, however, have been dealt with by the Government and these important items of business are being held back from day to day.

Nowhere was the Government's rudderless course more clearly shown than in the Evanturel incident. Now that Mr. Evanturel has left the House and the affair is practically closed, it is recognized that Howard Ferguson in his handling of the subject made several bad tactical blunders. It is very evident that in at least some of the courses he pursued and some of the arguments he advanced he was acting independently and that the line of action had not been determined upon by the Cabinet nor submitted to the members. This gives an idea of how the Conservative party, without Sir James Whitney, is drifting. If it should be permanently deprived of the leadership of Sir James, this condition of drifting will probably become chronic and it is no wonder, therefore, that the question of choosing a possible successor is a source of very deep worry to the Conservative party.

Mr. Rowell's Estimate Of The Finances

Unbusinesslike Administration of Provincial Finances--Nearly Four Millions Deficit

Special to The Examiner:

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, Toronto, March 13.— Features of Mr. Rowell's arraignment of the financial administration of the Province as revealed in the Budget presented by the Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. Rowell's estimate of the finances for last year, expenditures and receipts, current and capital:

Net expenditures	$13,676,000
Net receipts	10,251,000
Deficit	$ 3,425,000

"A wanton misuse of authority" on the part of the Government in borrowing money under the $5,000,000 Grant Act for Northern Ontario when there were sufficient funds for that purpose already in the treasury for the year, and the application for other purposes of funds specified for a different particular purpose. "If the treasurer of any reputable business firm managed his finances like the Provincial Treasurer has done with the finances of the Province, he would be called to account."

Mr. Rowell pointed out that the estimates for this year show a deficit of nearly $4,000,000; that is as large, if not larger, than the deficit for last year.

The obvious extravagance on Government House is not only a sample of what is goingon elsewhere but is in itself a bad example for other Departments of the Government who are encouraged to be extravagant in a similar way.

Williams is Grand Master.

GUELPH, March 13.—The election of officers was proceeded with last night. Dr. J. J. Williams, of Woodstock, succeeds Fred Dane, Toronto, as grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West. His place as deputy grand master was filled by the election of Mayor H. C. Hocken, Toronto, former junior deputy. The other officers chosen were: Associate deputy grand master, J. I. Hartt, Orillia; grand chaplain, Rev. H. D. Peacock, Paquette Station; grand secretary, W. M. Fitzgerald, Toronto; grand treasurer, James F. Harper, Hamilton.

Boston's Unemployed Demand Food.

BOSTON, March 13. — A small army of unemployed invaded the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, demanding shelter and food. Trading had closed for the day, but the unexpected arrival of the workless ones caused much excitement. Police reserves were called and the party, which included about 150 men, led by Morrison I. Swift, were ejected without violence. After the invaders had been put out of the building an attempt was made to hold a meeting in India square, but the police dispersed the gathering.

SMALL BOY CAUGHT MAN IN THE MOON

Cloudless Sky and Convenient Time Bring the Moon Prominently Before the People of Peterborough

THE ECLIPSE

Amongst the thousands of persons who gazed skyward at the obscured moon Wednesday night were many who would have liked to have had a picture or accurate drawing of the eclipse.

The sky was cloudless and the great glowing body appeared over the houses about seven o'clock. The children saw it from the dinner table and the entire household, in many cases left the meal to look at the moon which had a peculiar interest last night. Repeated promises to awaken the kiddies later was the only means of getting numerous children to bed, for it is some time since a really good eclipse was pulled off in Peterborough.

Made Poor Start.

At 8:41, the time announced for the excitement to commence, the moon was leading by many laps. Not one portion of its surface appeared dimmed, but the trained eye of the astronomer detected the thin shadows, caused by the atmosphere of the earth. By half past nine the real dark shadows were well in possession of the eastern part of the moon and the eclipse had started.

Windows were opened and heads poked out, only to be drawn quickly back again to let some other member of the family see. Minute by minute the shadow increased until the hour of eleven struck. This was the time of the finest effect. The eclipse had almost reached its maximum and the dark portion of the moon could be distinctly seen; a dull copped colonred object with the thin bright crescent in bold contrast.

Was Photographed.

Mr. Frank Blake, one of the officials of the Toronto Observatory, was hard at work in the telescope room of that institution. He meant to photograph the eclipse and secure a record if it was at all possible. But great deeds are not performed without pushing away great obstacles. When he was ready to start work he discovered that his telescope was not in good working order. The cold had contracted different parts of the great driving clock and the instrument would not revolve in the regulation manner.

A good eclipse is rare and Mr. Blake figured that a splendid chance was slipping away. He quickly secured the services of a young lad and a heavy iron weight. The latter object he fastened to the cord of the driving clock and then instructed the boy to pull very slowly and steadily.

The plate was exposed and the photo taken and Mr. Blake is well pleased with ther esults. If he did not drive the telescope the motion of the earth would result in a blurred image and if he drove the telescope too fast he would reap the same reward. He exposed his plate at 10:42 or just one half hour previous to the time of greatest obscurity. The exposure lasted for ninety seconds.

The shadow is not sharply defined in the photograph and melts off into the bright surface, but Mr. Blake drew attention to the curving nature of the shadow and stated that it is a proof that the earth is round. He also stated that thes hadow of a large mountain of the earth would appear smaller than a needle point if it were possible to project a sharp shadow of the earth against the moon.

BUILDING FOR JANUARY

Peterborough is well up in the list of totals for building for the month of January, according to statistics compiled by the Builders' Exchange, and compares very favourably with cities its size all over the province. The following was the amount spent in building in the various cities during January, 1914, as compared with January 1913:

	1914.	1913
Guelph	$ 26,365	$ 6,350
Galt	5,300	3,850

Nervous Energy Is Limited

There is only so much energy in the human body. A few people have an abundance, but most have not enough. Hence the necessity of conserving vitality.

If wasted by mode of living, disease or worry there must be a reckoning, and trouble is sure to come. It may be headaches and weak, aching eyes; it may be nervous indigestion, or it may be merely lack of energy and ambition, and feelings of fatigue or helplessness. Of course, sooner or later exhaustion of the nerves leads to prostration, paralysis or locomotor ataxia, but there is no need to let the trouble develop that far.

By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can restore to the feeble, wasted nerve cells the energy they have lost. It will take some effort on your part to give up worry and anxiety, but you should realize your serious condition. Rest and use this great food cure and you are bound to improve in health and vigour.

BIG LAND SCANDAL

One of the worst land scandals in the history of the Dominion was exposed in the Commons last week. The means whereby public funds have been used to aid political friends in land speculation have been shown up in the manner which reflects seriously upon the Minister of Militia and his department. The facts as brought out in the House of Commons are as follows:

On May 23rd, 1912, the Minister of Militia passed an Order-in-Council authorizing him to spend $180,000 for a military camp site near Montreal. Ten days later Major Rodden purchased a property known as the McIntyre farm for $36,496 which he added to another property, the Bel-Air race track, which he purchased a year previously for $48,000, making the total cost of the two properties to Maj. Rodden $84,996. On June 17th, nine days later, the Minister of Militia issued a cheque for $180,000 to Messrs. Rodden, Fair & Cameron. On June 14th, Messrs. Rodden, Fair & Cameron issued a certificate stating that the titles on the land were clear. On the same date the cheque was cashed and on the same date the deed for the property was issued, and on the 28th day of June, the day following, the deed was registered.

When this land deal was brought to the attention of the public last August Col. Hughes gave out a statement part of which reads as follows: "The agents of the de partment who chose the property and made the bargain are Col. Labelle and Col. Wilson. Their standing and reputation is a sufficient answer to the allegation of wanton waste of public money. I know nothing of the property myself."

Col. Hughes knew perfectly well that before Major Rodden had even purchased the McIntyre property an Order-in-Council had been passed specifying that the price to be paid should be $180,000. Can it be doubted that the word was passed to his friends who then proceeded to make the necessary purchases and re-sell to the Government at the figures specified in Col. Hughes' Order-in-Council, realizing thereby a profit of $95,000, or over 110 per cent. on a transaction which took only a few days and involved absolutely no risk whatever? The public will form its own opinion of Col. Hughes and this transaction.

TO CHECK A COLD

It is easy to check a cold if you begin in time. Frequent doses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine keep the cough loose, allay the inflammation, and prevent it spreading to the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mrs. G. M. Moore, Shortreed, B.C., writes: "I wish to state my gratitude for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it cured a cold which a friend said would soon put me in the grave."

MILITIA POSTER IS A JOKE.

Flaring Bills Call for Recruits for Mobilization.

OTTAWA, March 12.—In the Commons Hon. H. R. Emmerson read a huge purple poster entitled "Militia Notice," which had been issued in his county. It called upon all men who would be prepared to enlist in case of general mobilization, as well as retired officers and civilians willing to serve in auxiliary corps, to forward their names to Capt. L. C. Carey of "E" Co., 74th Regiment, "not to be enlisted, but to show your willingness to serve your country in time of war."

"What is the purport of all this? Is war anticipated?" asked Mr. Emmerson.

"I know that my friend has brought the matter up because he is anxious to send in his name at an early date," said Premier Borden. "I will ask the Minister of Militia about it."

"My friend has treated it as a joke and it is a joke," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Curried Eggs.

Fry a little sliced onion in a tablespoonful of butter. Stir into this a tablespoonful of flour and one teaspoonful of curry powder, or the latter in quantity to taste. When well blended, pour in one cup of hot water in which a bouillon cube had been dissolved (these cost five cents for two) and stir until the sauce is smooth and thick. Next lay in four hard boiled eggs cut into quarters or slices. Season with pepper and salt. When the eggs are heated through the dish is ready to serve.

Ginger Pudding.

Mix four ounces flour with four ounces breadcrumbs, four ounces chopped suet, two ounces sugar, one desertspoonful of baking powder. Then stir in two eggs (well beaten) and two tablespoonfuls of golden syrup thinned with a little milk. Put into a greased mould and steam for two and one-half hours. Serve with treacle sauce. To make the sauce put two tablespoonfuls of golden syrup into a saucepan, with a gill of water and a little lemon juice, and boil for five minutes.

ART IN CANADA

Is Becoming a Tangible Quantity —Wm. Beatty's Address to the Peterborough W. A. A.

IMPORTATIONS

Lovers of art congregated last evening in the studio of the Public Library for the purpose of hearing Mr. J. W. Beatty, R.C.A., deliver a lecture on "The Progress of Art in Canada." Mr. Beatty, who is a member of the Royal Canadian Academy of Art gave his address under the auspices of the Women's Art Association of Peterborough and it is to that body that the publi care indebted for the opportunity to learn more about Canadian art.

The speaker gave a description of the progress of art in Canada, outlining the difficulties with which the early artists had to contend. "There is no real Canadian art at present," said Mr. Beatty, "but there are good Canadian artists whose work is on a par with the best. In ten or fifteen years, Canadian art will rank among the best in the world.

Foreign Pictures.

The speaker went on to show how Canada had been invaded by foreign pictures He knew of an imported picture owned by a Toronto party that was purchased at an expenditure of $12,000. The original cost to the dealer was $20. "This is not an unusual case," said Mr. Beatty. Up to the present time, Canadians would purchase any picture that was offered by foreign dealers, with a preference for the work of the Dutch artists. Canadian artists abroad, had received the highest honours, yet in their own country, were scarcely thought of.

Mr. Beatty urged his auditors to lend their consideration to the support of Canadian art.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a vote of thanks was extended to the speaker at the instance of Mr. F. Roy and W. Taylor. Mrs. Vincent Eastwood, President of the Women's Art Association, presided.

THE RED ROSE

This Big Musical Comedy Will Be Here Next Week

"The Red Rose," under the management of John C. Fiser, the noted producer of "Floradora," "The Silver Slipper," "San Toy" and many other big musical successes, comes to The Grand next Thursday, March 19.

"The Red Rose" takes the spectator to the habitat of musical comedy, the Latin Quarter of Paris, as it once existed, and when it reached its height of renown in Murger's spacious days, and more particularly, nights. Real and imaginary student life is reflected in the librette of "The Red Rose," and also, it is said, in the score. The heroine 'Lola' is an artists' model and the ward of a concierge. She manages to hold a host of young Parisians at arm's length in the contest for her favour, but succumbs when a young American, rich, handsome and entirely innocent of the French language and ways swims into her ken. Then there's woe in the Faubourg St. Germaine and around the Moulin Rouge, but our countryman wins hands down and to spare.

While this action unfolds principals and chorus have a lot of new songs and dances. A combination of the two is called "The Students' Glide". Among others are "Buy, Buy Baby, Buy for Me," "I'd Like to Go on a Honeymoon With You," "If You Can't Sing, Dance," "In the Land of the Free," "Come Along Ma Cherie," "Queen of Vanity Fair," "Bohemia," "Men, Men, Men" and several others. The three highly pictured acts represent the art school of M. Duprez, the baron's chateau, and the ball of Four Arts. The management has provided scenery and costumes in lavish array.

The book and lyrics were written by Harry B. and his brother, Robert B. Smith, famous as the authors of such musical comedies and operas as "Robin Hood," "Fantana," the various Ziegfeld Follies, "A Knight For a Day," "The Siren," and "The Spring Maid." The music was done by Robert Hood Bowers, who is only 28 years old, but who was the composer of "The Vanderbilt Cup," and Richard Carle's "The Maid and the Mummy." The staging of the elaborate piece was done by R. H. Burnside, for many years general stage director of the New York Hippodrome.

TORONTO'S PROBLEM OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC RATES REDUCTION

Plea for Protecting the Household Consumer

The Toronto News (Conservative), has the following in its issue of Thursday:

No reduction should be made in HydroElectric rates until the enterprise is self-sustaining. Mr. Hocken, as one of the Commissioners, has stated that after providing for depreciation and meeting the debt charges, there will only be $30,000 left from the year's surplus of $150,000. The system is facing an interest debt of $90,000 contracted during the construction period. No reduction should be made until all the charges against the system have been met, and the financial position permits of lower rates without burdening the general taxpayers.

The value of the service cannot be questioned. The City was never nearly so well lighted. At the same time, the cost of lighting has increased tremendously. The estimated cost of lighting the City in 1910, under the old system was $152,000. The Hydro was given the contract in November, 1911. For the next year the estimate jumped to $260,000. Last year it was $356,550. The figure for the current year is $411,676.

One reduction has already been made in rates. No further decrease should be permitted until the system can bear it. Seventy-five per cent. of the householders use gas, because of its cheapness. There can be no argument for decreasing rates for the benefit of wealthy consumers and large manufacturing industries and increasing the burden on the general ratepayers. For years the money derived from the street railway has gone to the reduction of taxation upon the wealthy element in the community, while the workingmen and the artisan have carried the load and increased its revenues through the fare boxes.

The householder must not be taxed for the benefit of the manufacutrer. The frantic endeavour to embroil the local and the Provincial Commissions in conflict is to be regretted. There was a time in the history of the Toronto system when a general manager had to be dismissed, when copper wire was systematically stolen, when exorbitant rates were threatened for power to the Waterworks Department. That was the time for an investigation. The Provincial Commission refused to institute an inquiry into the Sweany mutiny. Ever since Mr. Ellis has been subjected to abuse. Toronto has no sympathy with public servants of the Sweany type, who preach mutiny and encourage discontent. The method of dealing with that mutiny brought credit to Mr. Ellis and Mr. Hocken. Last year's surplus was a further testimony of the excellence of their administration. The errors and blunders of the past have been remedied. It is to be hoped that the Commission will not be stampeded into any reduction of rates until financial conditions warrant it.

DR. A. W. M'PHERSON WILL REMAIN

With the City in the Capacity of Medical Officer of Health

Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health, who a short time ago sent in his resignation to the city, has agreed to withdraw his resignation. The committee which was appointed to look into the matter met this afternoon and after a telephonic conversation with the doctor, announced that Dr. McPherson had agreed to reconsider his decision. The latter explained that he had been given to understand that some remarks had been made regarding his services, causing the abover esult. Dr. McPherson will retain the position at the same salary, namely eight hundred dollars a year. Several applications for the position were received from local doctors, including Doctors Amys, Young and Brown.

A WONDER WORKER

"It heals like magic," is a favourite expression when Dr. Chase's Ointment is used. It works quickly, stops all itching at once, often heals in a single night For eczema, salt rheum, barbers' itch, skin irritations or eruptions, it is a most satisfactory treatment. Being antiseptic, it prevents blood poisoning.

GIVE THAT PUNY CHILD THIS GUARANTEED REMEDY

If your child is under-weight, listless, ailing, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength, weight and health-building substances it needs. And, it does all this without injuring the stomach. In fact, Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take, but even the most sensitive stomach is benefited by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which most parents object to giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its natural strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease.

If Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion doesn't build your child up, feed the stunted, puny muscles, and make the little one lively, strong, well, and full of the animal spirits children are meant by nature to have, come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more than fair, and it leaves you no cause to hesitate. For old people also—for convalescents—for all who are nervous, tired-out, run-down, no matter what the cause—we offer Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with the same guarantee of entire satisfaction or money back. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us $1.00.

BUTCHER SHOP BURGLARIZED.

Eight Dollars' Worth of Beef Disappears—How the Loss Was Discovered.

An Owen Sound butcher shop is said to have been burglarised of about eight dollars' worth of beef. The thief managed the trick in this way: Laying his cap over the small piece of meat, while the butcher's face was turned, the thief ran a hat pin through it. When he picked up the cap of course the meat adhered. The proprietor did not notice his loss until he swept up at night and weighed up his sweeping preparatory to placing them in the safe.

MODERN MOTHERS IN RELATION TO MODERN MORALS

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—According to the press reports, Christianity is batling against a world-wide wave of immorality. Now, if the devil came to our City, how would he be impressed with local conditions? Josh Billings once said that once you get on the downward grade everything is greased for the occasion. His Satanic Majesty would find that he had many greasers in Peterborough, and while some of the mothers are attending tea meetings and singing "Where is MY Wandering Boy To-night" they are doing a land-office business on the side.

We are living in an age of rapid transit and the devil has kept up with the times. The Panama Canal is not without some of his short cuts to hell. The latest styles in dress, and the new dances are some of his special lines in crank-up methods, and the social environment, as a whole, in relation to our possibilities and our claims is the worst the world has ever seen. He certainly would be well pleased with the way the sons and daughters are allowed to follow their natural inclinations by many mothers and fathers who will not give the time necessary to properly train the character of the child. True they have not got as far advanced as the fashionable and gay set that cut themselves loose in Toronto a short time ago. He may not see our fathers and mothers drinking wine to excess and kissing in public, but he must give us time. Some one may introduce this when we tire of some other fads which are just as vulgar. He can see at a glance the effect of many of our boys and girls being compelled, by manufactured circumstances, to work hard at an age when they should be enjoying their childhood and improving their education. The effect of this upon womanhood, in after years, will be to slaughter more children than many Herods.

The fathers among the great capitalists, the merchant princes and captains of industry must have the money to pay the piper, and they do not care how they get it. What would become of the widespread and gigantic system of gambling conducted by stock companies if child labour was abolished?

In places like Peterborough the devil knows that some of the fashionable people who are doing this work in the big cities would "go broke." He will be pleased to meet some of the agents of those corporations in our little City and will give them every encouragement to continue to make a mockery of their Christianity. He will see some of our Churches awakening to the fact that some of the prominent front-pew holders are using religion as a blind. He might consider it to the best interests of his business to warn some of the promoters of amusements that there is a limit and that the naughty blonde and old stagers should be cut out as the reaction may spoil the satisfactory evil results of their work. He would not find it necessary to visit the good women of the town. He would be afraid of interfering in any way and spoiling a good job. Those who are responsible for the decency of those places are doing a good work for him and prospects for the future never looked better. Will he not find something that will displease. Yes, thank God, we have some old-fashioned fathers and mothers who, in spite of this allurement, have retained the true, practical Christianity, and to those good mothers we must look for the turn of the tide. It will matter not to those dear, good souls if they have no new Easter bonnet. They are out to prayer, rain or shine. The new fads and fancies will not cause them to spoil their offspring in the raising. Let the modern mother give up her foolish fads and new ideas and go back to the lessons that she learned at her mother's knee, and in a very short time we will see a decided change for the better.

You may search the highways and by-ways of life, turn over the annals of history and you will find nothing more glorious, more worthy of admiration and respect than a good, Christian mother. Yours truly,

Wage Earner.

Immigration Grows But Land Entries Are Falling Off

FOUR MEMBERS FOR P.E.I.?

OTTAWA, March 13. — While in committee of supply on the estimates of the Department of the Interior yesterday the Commons discussed several phases of the past year's immigration.

Hon. Frank Oliver called attention to the fact that when the total immigration was 311,000, in 1911, the homestead entries had numbered 44,779, while last year, with a total immigration of 402,000, the homestead entries had dropped to 23,699. It was the announced policy of the Government to secure people to go on the land, but the records seemed to show they were travelling in the other direction.

Mr. Oliver believed that the methods of the Department should be revised. It had been looking for quantity rather than quality. In the first nine months of 1913 the Government had been under the necessity of deporting no less than 1,500 immigrants.

Hon. Dr. Beland advocated the examination of immigrants at the ports in Europe.

Mr. Alphonse Verville, the Labor member, placed himself upon record as opposed to bonusing immigrants. He urged the Government to pass an order in council, similar to the one passed for British Columbia, excluding all artisans and laborers until the present business depression was over.

Dr. Roche, in reply to the criticism leveled at his Department, said that the Department was being run by practically the same officials as when the Laurier Government was in power. He believed that Canada was getting her share of immigration, and on the whole a very good type of immigrant. The drop in American immigration in the last two or three years was due, said Dr. Roche, to the fact that the United States Government was offering 320 acres of land to homesteaders, instead of 160 acres as in Canada.

The distribution of New Brunswick constituencies over which the Liberals and Conservatives from the province have been in consultation, will be submitted to the special committee to-day.

There is general agreement with the plan and unless the committee decides to make some changes the eleven seats in New Brunswick will be as follows: St. John and Albert (2 members), Madawaska and Restigouche, Victoria and Carleton, Sunbury and York, Queens and Kings, Charlotte, Westmoreland, Kent, Northumberland and Gloucester.

Premier Mathieson and Hon. John McLean of Prince Edward Island, are here representing the claim of the island province to the six members with which they entered confederation. They feel confident that Prince Edward Island will be given four seats as at present. Nothing, however, regarding this matter has been definitely agreed upon.

New Brunswick is the second province to come to an agreement, Manitoba being the other.

British Columbia has been decided upon, but the only new feature there is that Vancouver will have three members.

Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, presented a resolution to the House yesterday which asked that the Inspection and Sales Act be amended so as to allow binder twine manufactured for exportation to be sold unlabeled.

Mr. Foster explained to the House that foreign dealers in binder twine, especially the Russians, did not want the label of the maker to be on the twine. The bill would still compel the twine sold in Canada to be labeled, but that all twine for exportation would be exempt.

Hon. George P. Graham said he agreed with the resolution. The reports of the trade commissioners, he said, showed that the reason Canada did not get her fair share of export trade was because the Canadian manufacturers would not go out of their way to cater to foreign trade.

The bill was then introduced and read a first time.

OBJECTS TO GRANT TO THE TEMPLE BAND

Peterborough, March 12, 1914.

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Allow me a little of your valuable space. I must say we, as citizens have reasons to be glad that we have some men in our Council this year who have courage and backbone enough to stand out for the best interests of our citizens and City by keeping down unnecessary expense. It would seem by some people that the Council are open and free-hearted men to grant the request of some people by giving them sums of money out of the treasury, people's money that has been paid in to meet our City expenses. In a late issue I understand that the Salvation Army had the nerve to ask the Council to give them a grant of one thousand dollars to help pay their band's expenses to the convention to be held in the Old Country. The Salvation Army is an old organized body and is, or ought to be, a self-supporting body, and if not they ought to stay at home, for I am confident the Lord does not take cognizance of such pomp or show. I think if any of our City churches were to ask for such a grant from our Council to carry on the Church work or pay delegates' expenses to conventions there would be a howl and something doing.

From a lover of truth and righteousness. Thanking you Mr. Editor,

Taxpayer.

EIGHT YEARS TO WIN 25 CENTS.

Fifty Judges in France Gather to Decide Question of Payment.

PARIS, March 12.— All three sections of the court of Cassation—fifty judges in scarlet and ermine, the flower of France's judiciary—united in solemn session yesterday to decide whether the Rural Co-operative Loan Society at Magino, Department of Haute Savoie, had not paid 25 cents too much for stamp duty on its registration papers.

The hearing was a climax of eight years of litigation in various provincial courts, in which the society sought an order for the inland revenue authorities to reimburse the 25 cents. After listening to voluminous reports and lengthy pleadings, the court of Cassation decided that the society must have its money back.

ELLIOT'S

BRONCHITIS CONQUERED

Royersford, Pa., Man Tells How.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes — a hard cough and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Townsend Young of Royersford, Pa., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness. I tried different remedies without help; but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cods' livers (without oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. FRANCE HAS NEW AERIAL TERROR

Examiner Special:

PARIS, March 13.— Successful experiments have just been carried out here with fire arrows which are intended for use by aeroplanes against dirigibles. The arrows, which are the invention of a Lyons mechanic, are about 15 inches long, and are furnished with small cylinders containing gunpowder and inflammable oil. Two of these were thrown from the Eiffel tower on to some straw, which was ignited. Further experiments are to be made from on board an aeroplane. If they are equally successful the new invention is expected to prove a highly dangerous weapon.

TURBULL'S

THIRD ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE TELEPHONE CLUB

Enjoyable Affair Held in the Oriental Hotel Last Night—Address on Co-operation.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

The Telephony Club of Peterborough, which was formed some three years ago, in this City, having as its aim "a three thousand station in Peterbough," held its third annual banquet last night, at the Oriental Hotel. The success which has in former years accompanied the banquet, was pratically demonstrated last evening.

A large number of the employees of the Bell Telephone Co. were present, as well as a large number of outside friends and acquaintances of the present members of the staff.

Among the guests present were Mr. O. E. Stanton, District Plant Superintendent of the Central Division; Mr. A. T. Smith, Divisional Superintendent, Toronto; and Mr. W. Winters, General Plant Superintendent, Montreal. There was also present a representative body of the City Council and City officials.

After the banquet, which lasted well over an hour, the Chairman, Mr. A. C. Smith, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Stanton.

Mr. Stanton had chosen for his address, the topic of "Co-operation," and in an eloquent manner made a forceful delivery of the same. He said in part as follows:

Co-operation.

Is there an employee of the Telephone Co., whether it be male or female, that has not had the word co-operation brought to her or his notice, as the case may be, in early morning till late at night, all manners and shapes, and by professional letters, let alone the different officials, who have impressed upon you the importance of co-operation. It is an established essential of the telephone business.

For the purpose of refreshing my memory I consulted the dictionary, and looked to see what the word co-operation meant, and I found that it meant the act of working together for one end, and for combining together for a certain purpose. Take the first, the act of working together, and combining together for a certain purpose. We have there a definition applicable to telephone employees. Together we are a great and influential brotherhood of telephone men. I feel each one of us should remember the necessity of it at all times.

A Service Corperation.

As you know the telephone is called upon to be a service corporation, and as such it means that we have to co-operate with our patrons—the public.

I will divide this talk into two sections. The first is the necessity of individual and departmental co-operation, the second, the co-operation of the Company with the public.

The first step in the cooperation of individuals is the necessity of each one doing his own part promptly, correctly and well.

Much Responsibility.

To the head of the department, many of us think that the bosses' position is an easy one. Let me tell you there is a great responsibility rests upon our superior officer, and in turn, the superior officers should have regard for the men under their charge, although some are arbitrary masters, and, in many cases is it not that the young man going to learn, will be under an arbitrary head. It is necessary that we should retain, from our own individual labours and in the different departments that one essential "Esprit de Corps," and I hope that it will be maintained for years and years and years. There are of course two sides to every question. You will gain the respect and loyalty of the employees in your charge if you deal fairly and squarely with them.

You must not think that the head of a department should be able to answer all kinds of questions that you might ask. This is a big mistake. It is not fair to our superiors. Just think. If you walked into a court room and the Judge ruled this way or that way, what ever he pleased.

Transmission of Messages.

Then we come to another part, the transmission of messages. What is going on in the different places. The erection of large structures, proposed improvements in a Town or City, and the extension of electric lighting systems and trolley car systems. Do not be afraid to transmit this information. It will reach the proper officials in due time. Another essential in co-operation is the proper instruction of our employees. We should impart to the younger members of the Company our experiences of many years. In this matter of co-operation I have spoken to you of doing your own portion of the business correctly. Now there is another point about which you should know something, and that is something about the business of the man on the other side.

Charitable Criticisms.

Another point is to be charitable in your criticisms of the work of the individual in your own department.

A Public Servant.

Then we come to the second part. The co-operation of the Company with the public. The telephone is a public service corporation or, to get down to plain facts, the servant of the public, and with this class we are placed with the telegraph and railroad companies. There we are not only the servants of the public in an individual capacity, but also in a national capacity.

We all are prepared to give to the public, a commercial and comprehensive service, to foot the requirements of every municipality or city as the case may be. As you know the company have certain rights and privileges granted them by the Dominion government. As a protection, to the general public, we are placed under the direction of the Dominion Railway Board, so that the public have not only their say in the matter, but also protection from this valuable and important commission. We never have tried to draw extortionate rates from the public.

The public have not been interested in the telephone business before. We in the telephone business have studied conditions in each individual centre. In addition to that we specifically state that we desire to have a representative of the pubic, in this capacity, to see that what we ask for is done properly from the public standpoint.

We very often, as a company, get blamed for poor service, perhaps by letter and perhaps by conversation.

Do you ever consider that there is a certain amount of courtesy due from the public to the public. We are asked to grant favours, and we are only too glad to grant these favours and to give any assistance we can. It is an absolute necessity that there should be harmonious co-operation between the representatives of the public and the company.

We are very glad that here in Peterborough they have been working harmoniously with the representatives of the public, and trust that in the future these good intentions will be held. The proposition has been made by the City of Peterborough to remove certain poles, for the purpose of beautifying the streets. You have made these requests, and I can assure you that we will do our best to obtain from the individuals the privilege of having this done to suit requirements.

When you sacrifice a part of your plant just on account of the request of another you would be surprised if he did not do something for you in return.

Mayor Buller was requested to speak, and he also took up the theme of "Co-operation," which has been so prevalent of late among the City officials. He described the Council as a harmonious club, and said there was no hitch in any of their departments. (Laughter.) When a Mayor gets up to speak he is apt to talk too long, and the Council want him to stop.

Mr. W. Winter and Mr. A. T. Smith, Ald. Johnston, City Engineer Parsons, Mr. Tilley, manager at Lindsay, Mr. Cameron, local manager, Ald. Gordon, Duncan and Green also spoke.

Ald. Green had somewhat of a cold and shortened his oration. He gave as the cause, a draught which was prevalent at a meeting of the "Harmony Club" held on Wednesday evening. Fireworks.

The singing of the National Anthem concluded the evening's programme.

A FIREMAN'S PERIL

How Zam-Buk Delivered Him

At 215 Fraser Ave., Edmonton, Alta., lives W. P. Mahy, a former member of the local fire brigade, who has wonderful cause to be thankful for the curative powers of Zam-Buk. He says: "A serious skin disease broke out on my face, and spread until I was in a terrible state. The spots and little ulcers were frightfully irritating, and yet when scratched or rubbed they bled and smarted. Shaving caused me agony, and sometimes I would have to go two weeks without a shave. I tried home-made remedies, herb salves, and various other preparations, but the sores got no better. When Zam-Buk was mentioned I had little faith that it would be able to do me any good. My case seemed such an obstinate one. I gave it a fair trial, however, and the first box made such a wonderful change for the better that it gave me encouragement to continue. I did so, and to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk, in the end, quite cured me. My face is now clear of all traces of the terrible disease, which troubled me for so long."

Thousands of sufferers from eczema blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, piles, ringworm, cold sores, cuts, burns, and skin injuries, have been relieved and cured, as was Mr. Mahy, by Zam-Buk. As a balm for all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

The mother of a family that had just moved to a small Oklahoma town was being sympathized with by a visitor because of the distance of the house from the creek which furnished the water for household purposes.

"It must be quite a tax upon your strength to carry water for the Saturday night bath for your large family," her visitor suggested.

"Oh, I don't mind," was the cheerful reply. "Besides, I gave 'em all a good wash before we left Texas."

SUTTON'S DEFEATS

Examiner Special:

NEW YORK, March 13.—The hoodoo combination of a birthday on Friday the thirteenth may account for George Sutton's recent defeats in his billiard contests with Willie Hoppe. It was fifty years ago to-day that Sutton was born in the town of Waverly, N.Y. He took to the cue game very early in life and has long been looked upon as one of the veterns of the green table sport, notwithstanding the fact that he is still a comparatively young man so far as years are concerned. In his time Sutton has held both the 18.1 and 18.2 championships. At delicate work he excels all other of the noted experts. When conditions are favourable and the ivories respond to his nip draw strokes and gentle close work he makes some extraordinary runs and averages. His average of 100 in 200, made against Hoppe in an 18.2 championship tournament, in Madison Square Garden in 1906, stood for years as the best on record.

AIDS TO SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

Some Useful Questions for Self-Examination

The following is the list of questions issued by the Rev. J. Hiltz, M. A., at his address on the occasion of the conference of Sunday School Teachers and Officers at St. John's School House on March 10th. As they are in no way denominational, but are applicable equally to each and every sect, we have here reproduced them in the belief that an intelligent teacher will discover some points worthy of pondering over and, by the aid of introspection, discover a suitable answer:

1. What is Teaching?
2. What is meant by a Law of Teaching?
3. Name four important Laws of Teaching. What does each aim at, or require?
4. By what avenues does knowledge find its way into the soul? Which of these are the more important?
5. What is meant by Method in Teaching? Does a Method differ from a Device? If so, how?
6. Why is Method in Teaching a Necessity?
7. In choosing Methods what should always be borne in mind by the Teacher?
8. Explain and illustrate some of the more common methods in Teaching.
9. Which of these methods are best suited to younger classes, and which to older? Why
10. What is the first thing the Teacher should aim at in starting to teach a lesson? How may this be best secured
11. What is the relation of interest to attention? Does Attention arouse Interest or Interest Attention?
12. How may interest be best aroused?
13. Should the close of the lesson see the highest point of interest reached or not?
14. What proportion of the information given during the teaching of a lesson should be from the class, and what from the Teacher?
15. What are the chief characteristics of a good question?
16. Are questions which require "Yes" or "No" for an answer advisable?
17. How should wrong answers be treated by the Teacher?
18. What is the function of "illustrations" in teaching? Should a person tell a story or use an illustration for the sake of the thing itself?
19. Of what value is the Imagination in teaching?
20. Where may illustrations be obtained?
21. What four steps should characterize the teaching of a lesson?
22. "No impression without expression." How may one apply this principle in teaching?
23. What will help one to become an efficient Teacher?

LAKEFIELD NEWS

What is Taking Place in This Busy Village

Examiner Special:

LAKEFIELD, March 12—The regular monthly meeting of the Municipal Council was held in the Town Hall on Monday, March 9th, 1914.

There were present H. G. Fitzgerald, Esq., Reeve, and Councillors Charlton, Isbister, Kennedy and Madill.

The minutes of the last regular meeting of the 9th of February were read and approved.

A letter from J. Maude, asking for a refund of the dog tax paid in 1913, as he had no dog since May, 1913, was read.

Moved by Councillor Kennedy, seconded by Councillor Madill, that Mr. Jos. Maude be refunded the dog tax wrongfully charged for 1913. — Carried.

An offer in writing from R. Crawford to rent Hague's Point on the same terms as last year, was read.

Moved by Councillor Isbister, seconded by Councillor Charlton, that Mr. R. Crawford be leased the Hague's Point property on the same terms as in the year 1913.—Carried.

A letter from Chief Engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission was read and received.

Moved by Councillor Kennedy, seconded by Councillor Madill that the Clerk be instructed to communicate with Mr. Jas. Thompson, M. P. P., and ask him to see the Hon. Adam Beck, or the Chief Engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission and get them to send a competent member of their staff to Lakefield, as soon as possible to examine the present plant and enable the Council to proceed at once with the consideration of light and power.—Carried.

Communications from the great Waterways Union of Canada and the Committee in charge of the Cartier Centenary were read and received, on motion of Councillors Charlton and Isbister.

Mr. Kidd was present, re his dog tax.

Moved by Councillor Charlton, seconded by Councillor Isbister, that the Clerk return the one dollar collected from Mr. A. J. Kidd through error on dog tax.—Carried.

Mr. John McGrath and Mr. John Charlton were present re lease of mill site.

Moved by Councillor Madill, seconded by Councillor Kennedy, that in the event of a deal being made between Messrs. McGrath and Charlton, re saw mill on Hague's Point, that the Council is willing to continue the lease to Mr. Charlton for three years in addition to the balance of Mr. McGrath's lease, on the same terms as the present lease.—Carried.

Mr. John McGrath made application for reduction of rent.

Moved by Councillor Isbister, seconded by Coun. Charlton, that this Council take no action at this meeting in regard to lowering the rent of the land lease to Mr. McGrath for Mill Street.—Carried.

Mr. C. O. Northey made a personal application for the payment of an account for $2.50, which he alleged was owing to him in 1910, and the matter was laid over until the next meeting, to enable the Council to look up the account.

The Finance Committee presented a report, recommending the payment of the following accounts:

Moved by Councillor Kennedy, seconded by Coun. Isbister, that the Clerk be instructed to prepare a by-law for the licensing of billiard tables and also a by-law requiring all the dogs to wear a tag.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

RUMOURED ELOPEMENT CAUSES A FURORE

For some days past a rumour has been in circulation about town that a well known resident had forsaken his wife and children and had run away with another married woman—a resident of a village not a hundred miles from Lindsay. It has been known for some time past that the man in question had been paying his attention to the woman, and no surprise was manifested on the part of those familiar with the man's movements, when the report was circulated that the couple had decamped.

It is reported that the couple were seen in Peterborough.—Lindsay Post.

DIED.

HALL—At the Toronto General Hospital, on Thursday, March 12, 1914, Seraphina K. Hall, daughter of the late Frederick H. Hall, and niece of Sheriff Hall, Peterborough.

DAVIDSON—On Monday, March 6th, Maggie daughter of George Davidson, formerly of 280 1-2 MacDonnel Street, City, (now of Calgary), in her 30th year.

The funeral was held on Sunday, March 8, at Union Cemetery, Calgary.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

FAST JUNIOR GAME WILL WIND UP THE LOCAL HOCKEY SEASON TO-NIGHT

Lindsay City League Winners Will Clash With Junior League All Stars at Brock St. Rink.

WILL BE GREAT BATTLE

Will the Peterborough Junior City Leaguers prove themselves able to-night to do something that no other team has found it possible to do in the past two seasons, and hand a beating to the Lindsay Collegiate, champions of the Lindsay Town League? The local youngsters say that they can turn the trick and the fans who accompanied the team to Lindsay on Wednesday are confident that the All Stars will come through. The larger ice surface will suit the lightweight Petes, and with a chance to show their combination they will give the husky Lindsayites a fight all the way. In Ross and Butcher of the Exploits, and Knapman and Jackson of the Y. M.C.A., the All Stars have as clever and well balanced a forward line for their weight as has ever been seen in action here, and Flowers, Phelan and Legendre are a capable defence. Lindsay's forward line has been together for three seasons and are much heavier than the Petes, while the defence is very husky, Norton tipping the scales at 210 pounds. A bunch of supporters will accompany the Lindsay team and the game will be a great wind-up to the season.

Len Dobson will referee and the game will be called at 8.30 o'clock.

The teams will line-up as follows:

Lindsay		Peterborough
	Goal
Williamson		Flowers
	Defence
Norton		Phelan
Callaghan or Sandercock		Legendre
	Rover
C. Carew		Jackson
	Centre
McElroy		Butcher
	R. Wing
A. Carew		Knapman
	L. Wing
Coombs		L. Rose

DOG SHOW OPENS

Examiner Special:

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 13. — With an entry list exceeding the most sanguine expectations of the promoters the initial bench show of the new Genessee Valley Kennel Club was opened here to-day and will be continued over to-morrow. Many of the best known kennels of the Eastern States and Canada have sent their prize-winning dogs to the exhibition.

Soccer Argument Settled Before 35,000 Spectators

Sunderland Lost to Burnley in Close Game—Soccer Fixtures For Saturday--Old Country Football Comment

NEW YORK, March 13.—A London cable says: The replayed English cup tie between Burnley and Sunderland took place on the ground of the former before 35,000 excited persons here Wednesday. Each side scored a goal at half time, but Burnley secured the lead soon after resuming, and, playing desperately to keep their powerful rivals out, beat them amid tremendous excitement by a score of 2 to 1. The replayed cup tie between Sheffield United and Manchester City was played yesterday afternoon.

One goal and one second association league game was played, Preston North End beating Manchester United at 4 to 2, while Clapton Orient put a severe damper on Leeds City's hopes of promotion by a score of 3 to 1 before their own supporters.

OTTAWA, March 12.—The special committee of the Ottawa Association Football league which was appointed to look into the advisability of affiliation with the Dominion Football Association or the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has reported that it would be better for the local club which got into a lot of difficulty last year to sit on the fence till authority is established.

Consequently the Ottawa league, in which no fewer than twelve clubs will play this season, has decided to continue neutral. It will take no part in the controversy, but will bar all who played last summer in the professional league, of which Ottawa was a member for a few short weeks. The Ottawa league has expressed itself in favour of peace on the basis of the formation of a governing body to control amateur soccer in all parts of Canada.

Another attractive fixture list is presented again this coming Saturday for British soccer enthusiasts. Now is the time when the tail-enders in the league commence to fight desperately hard for points. From a Preston point of view it is of course extremely hard lines, blessed as they arew ith the prospect of having to retire after on short season in the upper circle, and when one also recalls their past glory, and that once upon a time they were considered to be invincible, it seems a cruel blow that fate has dealt them from time to time. The directors of the club have made a great effort to extricate themselves out of a very difficult position. To supply proof to their supporters that they have really made an effort worth while is always something that counts and takes a whole lot of sting out of the ultimate final knockout blow. It's possible yet for them to just get clear, but not very probable. The meeting of such teams as Burnley and Liverpool and Everton versus Blackburn Rovers will keep Lancashire people guessing, while Aston Villa's visit to Manchester will be eagerly looked forward to.

JUNIOR LEAGUERS MADE A GREAT HIT IN LINDSAY

The Lindsay Warder has the following to say of Wednesday's game between the Lindsay Collegiate and the local Junior City Leaguers. The return game will be played here to-night:

Th more the hockey fans of Lindsay see the L.C.I. seven perform on the ice the more they wonder why the boys did not break into faster company this season and play in the Junior O.H.A. They have not lost a game this winter and had the same record last season. This record cannot be beat, considering that the boys have had no particular trainer, but played the game for all it was worth, at all times.

Last night they succeeded in defeating one of the fastest teams that the City of Peterborough could assemble. The visitors were supposed to be the winners of the City League in Peterborough, but it is understood instead that they were a hand-picked agregation from the City League, and they played as such. They were fast and effective, with a speedy forward line and a splendid defence. That the two teams were pretty evenly balanced can be judged by the score, which was 2-2 at half time and 6 to 4 in favour of the locals at full time.

It was a lightning fast game, the brand of hockey being of the stellar variety, the kind that prompts one to rise up and cheer one's self hoarse for the home brews. The local forward line was just as fast as the visitors, and being accustomed to the rink had slightly the edge on the Petes. The Peterborough defence was, however, almost invincible, putting up a star game. Time after time the Lindsay forwards broke away from their opponents, but were bumped and stalled by the bulwark defence of the Porridge eaters. Time after time the Peterborough defence took a hand in the rush game and tantaflized the L.C.I. with their fierce onslaughts. Then the back-checking of the L.C.I. forwards saved the day, the two Carew's coming back like veterans.

It was a great game, and the spectators surely had the worth of their money.

The visitors had a brilliant goal-getting line, and only the fierce back-checking of the Lindsay forwards saved them the score from being reversed. The Petes were fast skaters and were slippery as eels when it came to rushing the rubber. Their goal minder put up a determined game, and staved off many a likely-looking shot.

Exciting Finish Gave H. Taylor Final Game In Local Bonspiel

W. H. Taylor's rink won the Skips' Bonspiel in a grand game at the Curling Rink last night, when they defeated W. M. McCracken's four by 15 to 14. It was announced yesterday that the game had been postponed until this evening, but the two skips got together about 4 o'clock, and decided to pull off the final. Those who saw the game describe it as a "corker," and from all accounts there was a numerous gallery to witness it. If any are disappointed by the announcement in last night's Examiner, the reporter, himself, will have to be included in the number.

The personnel of the rinks and the play by ends were as follows:

L. A. Potvin	A. P. McLean
M. C. Tooley	W. H. Collier
Alex. Archibald	J. Skinner
W. M. McCracken	W. H. Taylor
Skip	Skip

Taylor . . . . . 01010101405101—15
McCracken . . 01030104010040—14

As an illustration of the excitement at the finish, McCracken lay two when Taylor set himself for his last stone. The feeling was tense among players and gallery alike. With every confidence, Taylor edged around a guard out near the hog line and drew to the button with the stone that gave him the game and the first honours of the bonspiel. This was just one of the many incidents during the game which is said to have been one of the most interesting played on the local ice during the winter. While McCracken's rink showed their best curling during the first half of the game, the Taylor four came strong in the closing half. Skip Taylor was given every support by Percy McLean, W. H. Collier and Jas. Skinner. The three big scores, two fours and a five, loosened up the game in the first part of the second half, and that four end of McCracken's on the 13th, tied up the game for a grand finish.

Stubbs Defeated Sturgeon.

Eleven to five was the score by which S. J. Stubbs defeated Bob Sturgeon in the consolation games, last night. The score by ends was as follows:

Stubbs . . . . . 11021103103—11
Sturgeon . . . . . 00100010020— 5

John Hill	R. P. Gollop
P. D. Fitzgerald	W. R. Turner
W. T. Hall	A. L. F. Hall
S. J. Stubbs	R. G. Sturgeon

W. M. Lang is drawn to meet W. H. Denham this afternoon at 4 o'clock and the winner to play R. Neill, at 8 o'clock. The end of the consolation series is in sight.

Hockey--That's All

Last evening from seven to eight o'clock at the Brock Street rink, the calamity of the season was recorded, when the St. Paul's Seconds defeated the First team by the small majority of 5 to 2. Needless to say the game was a fast one as the St. Paul's First are the winners of the Church Senior League. The line-up was as follows:

Firsts		Seconds
	Goal
Kerr		Goodfellow
	Defence
McCrimmon		H. Lower
Panter		Smith
	Rover
Monroe		Elliott
	Centre
H. Taylor		E. Smith
	L. Wing
Skinner		Fee
	R. Wing
Hewston		Haylock

Referee—C. Richardson.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

The Youngstown Vindicator says: Curley Blount of last year's Youngstown Inter-State League is preparing for a vigourous season as manager of the Peterborough team of the Canadian League. With a team of young players which he is getting together he proposes to develope a hustling aggregation for the coming season.

Two former players of the local Inter-state league will go to Peterborough with Blount, in all probability. They will be Louie Schettler and Second-Baseman Price.

The team will do its spring training here and all the players will report in Youngstown during the latter part of April, two weeks before the opening of the season about May 7. Wright Field will be used for training and the team will be whipped into shape for a good season.

"If I can get together the players, I will make a showing," declared Curley. "The Canadian League will be a fast one this year and I have no fear but that I will be able to make good with the team I am getting together."

BASEBALL

"Biff" Bradley, last year's Toronto team's third-baseman, and formerly of the Cleveland Naps, was to-day appointed manager of the Brooklyn Federal League team. It was a surprise, as many thought that "Danny" Murphy, the former Athletic outfielder who was signed yesterday, would be made manager, but despite President Gilmore's efforts Bradley was the man President Ward wanted to lead his club.

Ward and Hanlon, who are strong backers of the Federal League, were the leaders in the Players' League-National League war, and the battle they made—a battle lost only through magnate treachery—is still fresh in the minds of the older followers of the game. Twenty-three years after we find this pair once more leading figures in another baseball war. This shows that intellect is always a valuable and lasting commodity in baseball—probably because of its scarcity.

The latest information to hand says that Charles W. Murphy got a cheque for $503,500 for his 53 shares in the Chicago National League club. This is at the rate of $9,500 per share. Charles P. Taft, who bought the stock, is said to have refused $750,000 for the same 53 shares. "Going up." When Harry Ackerland bought Frank Chance's 10 shares he paid $40,000 for same.

Have you heard this before? Tillie Shafer has announced his retirement from baseball. Shafer is getting to be a great joker.

Outfielder "Danny" Murphy, captain of last year's Philadelphia American League team and a member of Connie Mack's "strategy board," yesterday announced that he had signed a Federal League contract. Murphy was lately released to the Baltimore International League club.

The Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Browns played a 5 to 5 game at Tampa yesterday.

Ty. Cobb signed with the Detroit club yesterday for two years at a salary of $20,000 per year. It is the highest salary ever paid to a player in the ranks.

"The Federals cannot possibly live up to their promises, and only a few of the men who have signed have got the right sort of contracts to hold good," declared Pitcher Geo. Kahler at the Cleveland Naps' training camp at Athens, Ga., to-day. Kahler recently repudiated his contract with the Buffalo Federal League team and signed with the Naps.

Twenty-one members of the St. Louis Federal League baseball team, under thec haperonage of Mordecai "Miner" Brown, their manager, will depart to-night for Monroe, La., the club's training camp. Nine players reported to Brown last night and a dozen others are due to arrive to-day.

Another world's tourist tangoed in yesterday when Hans Lobert, of the Phillies, affixed his signature to a new contract after a conference with President Baker, he will leave for the Phillies' training camp immediately.

LACROSSE ON ICE

In Montreal they are playing lacrosse on ice, and it is said to be a very exciting game.

Before hockey was introduced it is probable that lacrosse players in different towns tried the game on skates in winter. In Wiarton in the winter of 1885-6 a game was invented and rules drawn up, for lacrosse on ice, five men on each side. Instead of the solid lacrosse ball, which bounced too wildly and was not easily seen in the poor light of the rink, a large hollow ball, such as children play with was used. As the ball was too large to hold on a lacrosse stick and ran over the guard, it had to be kept moving. No game could have been more exciting, as the ball was always in the air or bouncing about in plain view of the players and spectators. As news of the game spread letters came from other towns asking for copies of the rules.

It was found, however, that the game had a fatal defect. A rough player could do too much damage by tripping up an opponent by thrusting the net-work of his stick into his skate. All the players but the goal-keeper would find themselves in a wild spill on mid-ice. The thongs of the lacrosse stick are too handy for tripping, and a "nasty" player can reach for another man and crumple him up in a heap. This killed the game, which otherwise was fast and wildly exciting.

Hockey is the natural winter form of lacrosse with the weapon made safe and the ball changed into a puck.—Toronto Star.

Few veterans remain in the line-up of the New York Yankees this season. Manager Chance is out to develop a new team of youngsters.

WEDDING BELLS

POWELL—TAYLOR.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, 320 Bolivar Street, Peterborough, was the scene of a quiet, but pretty wedding on the evening of March 11th, when their youngest daughter, Alida, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry T. Powell, of Caron, Sask.

The bride was beautifully gowned in silk brocke crepe, with ivory satin and seed-pearl trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. J. Keith, pastor of Knox Church, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives.

The bride entered the drawing room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Miss E. Wilson of Toronto.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome cabinet of silver, and to the pianist, a necklace of pearls.

The happy couple left on the evening train for their future home in Saskatchewan, accompanied by the best wishes of a host of friends, for their future happiness.

OBITUARY

MAGGIE DAVIDSON.

On March 6th there entered in rest, Maggie, daughter of George Davidson, who formerly resided at 220 1-2 MacDonnel Street, in this City, and now of Calgary, Alta.

The deceased lady was in her 39th year, and passed away after a very brief illness.

The remains were interred on Sunday, March 8th, at the Union cemetery, Calgary, Alta.

She leaves to mourn her loss her father, four brothers, viz., Fred, of Calgary; Alex. of Edmonton; Andrew and William of Peterborough, and one sister, Molly, of Calgary.

MRS. W. A. DAVIES.

Peterborough friends will extend sympathy to Mr. W. A. Davies, who has been called upon to bear the loss of his wife, who passed away on Tuesday while on a trip to her parents in England. Her maiden name was Agnes Emily Hadley Waterhouse.

The late Mrs. Davies was 34 years of age. All the members of her family reside near Birmingham. Besides her husband, she leaves a young daughter, Olive, two years of age.

President's Daughter To Be Married

Special Wire to The Examiner:

WASHINGTON, March 13.—It is expected that the engagement of Secretary of the Treasury MacAdoo and Miss Eleanor Wilson, the youngest daughter of President Wilson, will be announced to-morrow.

ONE MONTH IN THE GAOL

For Two Local Men Who Were Convicted of Theft.

ONE PLEADED GUILTY

Frederick Stevens and Robert Robinson were charged in the Police Court this morning with stealing one sweater coat and a pair of mitts, the property of Mr. Henry Florence, 169 Simcoe Street. Robinson pleaded guilty and Stevens not guilty.

Miss Irene Miller, attendant in the store of Henry Florence, testified to the loss of the goods. According to her evidence, both men entered the store together and left without making a purchase. Mr. Haskill entered the store a few moments after their departure and informed the witness that he had observed one of the men remove some article of clothing from in front of the store and conceal it under his coat. The ticket that was attached to the garment was removed and thrown into the grating, near the store. The ticket, which was marked "ninet-eight" cents, was recovered by Mr. Haskill. Miss Miller went outside and discovered that the coat was missing. Mr. Florence who was then notified of the theft, took measures to have the men apprehended. The coat in question was produced in court, together with the ticket. The reverse side of the latter bore the inscription "Stockings, 49c."

Goods Were Recovered.

Mr. Florence was next called. The latter, when notified of the theft, approached the two men, who were standing in a doorway; a short distance away and said: "Say, here, Mister, you've got that sweater coat." Robinson replied that the coat was lying at the top of the stairway, whereupon witness replied "I didn't leave it there; you'll have to go and get it yourself." Robinson went upstairs and returned with the coat and mitts. Witness stated that Stevens shut the door in his face so as to prevent him from getting in.

At the conclusion of the evidence, both Robinson and Stevens were found guilty and sentenced to one month in the County Jail at hard labour.

Mr. Herbert King of the firm of C. E. McNeill & Co., Wholesale Produce, of Chicago, is in the City, on his way to Montreal, on business.

Mrs. Walter Paterson, formerly of this City, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary E. Paterson, to Mr. W. I. Lane of Milwaukee. The wedding is to take place in the latter part of April.

Vessels Wrecked

Special to The Examiner:

GIBRALTAR, March 13.—Forty-three vessels, including five passenger steamers, were wrecked during the last twenty-four hours in the terrific hurricane off the northwestern coast of Africa. Thousands of dollars worth of property and, it is feared many lives, have been lost. British and Spanish fleets are scouring the seas for survivors and have picked

18,000 MILES OF RAILWAY

The C.P.R. owns or controls 18,000 miles of railway. Its own system is comprised of 13,280 miles, and the Minneapolis and Duluth roads account for some 4,000 miles of track. It has still about 700 miles of openings and extensions to build in the west; but the double-tracking will mean a job, totalling over 4,000 miles of railway. This as it goes on, will deplete the treasury more or less; but from this great undertaking large things are expected. The double tracking of the system will give such reliefs as none but a railway man could fully understand. The difference in the mere physical operation of the trains will be enormous: but the chief consideration is to be in readiness for the vast increase in business which will disclose itself almost immediately.

A C. P. R. official, being asked what became of all the thousands of immigrants passing over the lines to the west every year, replied: "Lost in the bigness."

"But that is not right," he added. "They are far from lost; they are all right; but while we do not see them they are busy extending the wheat acreage; they are busy feeding Europe; they are busy making money; they are busy making more business for us with every additional acre they place under cultivation.

"And that is something that people do not understand. Because they do not make a bulk, we think that they are of small account in the world.

"Every year sees the wheat acreage extending; and every extension though it be only a few thousand acres, makes more business for the company.

"In five years from now Canada will be literally the granary of the world, according to the prediction of the late Lord Strathcona. It is this that justifies, that demands in fact the double-tracking of the system, so that it will be able to handle the enormous increase of business which will develop during the next autumn."

From the above it will be noticed that there were 94 cash bonuses ranging between $17.50 and $1.00, distributed to the nearest guessers. The guesses went all the way up into the millions, and one was marked 3,000,000. The persons who deposited coupons came from as far east as Kingston on the east, Meaford on the west, Campbellford, Omemee, Havelock, Lindsay and intermediate places.

Not All Deposited.

Several of the merchants stated that not all the coupons handed out were deposited, and it is altogether likely that the number guessed mounted into the thousands. The merchants individually expressed themselves as highly pleased with Dollar Day, which was carried out under the auspices of the merchants and The Examiner. Three or four business men stated that they had not expected as large a crowd, and did not have the extra help to attend to the purchasers. Nearly all of them stated that many buyers did not wait for coupons.

Better Than Xmas Saturday.

Quite a few of the business men of George street stated that the business they handled exceeded even the trade of the Saturday previous to Christmas. From both retailers and consumers the expressed opinions of Dollar Day have been altogether favourable.

The number of two-dollar bonuses was increased from 25 to 30, thus affording five extra prizes.

IN REGARD TO BUYING PORK

To the Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Mr. Editor,—Seeing the Board of Health is taking such great care in examining the poultry and seeing their livers are in a health condition to assure the public that there is no danger, I would like to ask is there any danger from the liver, as well as the meat of the male hogs that have been slaughtered here by one large firm, and have also passed inspection this last week and been pronounced fit for use, or is it the strong odour of this meat is disinfecting enough to make the meat fit for use.

GRAND TRUNK'S PENSION SYSTEM

In connection with an item that appeared in the Examiner yesterday in regard to railway pensions it may be mentioned that the Grand Trunk Railway has a pension system inaugurated in 1907 and that the employees did not contribute at all to this fund.

Music & Drama

ALICE LLOYD.

Alice Lloyd, the famous English comedienne, assisted by Frank Fogarty, the well-known Irish monologist, and a clever company of entertainers, proved a popular success at the Grand Opera House last night, and a large audience found the entertainment thoroughly to their liking. Miss Lloyd sang some new songs, and most of her old ones in her inimitable way and drew many encores. The older songs were perhaps the bigger hits, the ever popular "Ship Ahoy," "Splash Me," and "Who're You Getting At" being enthusiastically received.

Frank Fogarty delivered a rapid fire of Irish stories in a manner that convulsed the house.

"The Act Beautiful," a clever posing act in which a number of dogs and a horse were used, was well received and "The Cowboy Minstrels," in a novel singing act were favourites. The programme wound up with a spectacular dance revue entitled "Dance Mad," in which many different styles of dancing were illustrated. The whole performance was delightful.

Stock Markets

A. H. Stratton & Co., Brokers, report the following:

The stock market promises a dragging session in the presence of new developments of importance. The general list sags of its weight more from neglect than pressure, either of shorts or long holders. Undoubtedly a new incentive of importance is required to force prices materially in either direction, but while there may be specific liquidation as heretofore pointed out for special reasons. The standard issues that show a fair margin of safety over the dividend requirements are certainly a purchase at these levels. The bull speculative interests in C.P.R. appear to be over as remarked some time ago. We think the bull days of Great Northern and St. Paul may be revived later on. The "getting back to nature" in investments is simply getting back to earning power. Great Northern, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atch. and St. Paul have great earning power.

Industrials continue to be more favoured by the bull element than railroad stocks at present, particularly U.S.S. and Copper.

More Public Buildings Closed.

LONDON, March 14.—The vandalism of the militant suffragettes has caused the closing of a great many public buildings in addition to those which locked their doors Tuesday. The Victoria and Albert Museum, the crypt and galleries of St. Paul's Cathedral, the royal stables attached to Buckingham Palace and the Harley House were among those affected.

Premier Asquith announced that he was making an enquiry into the question into the best way to protect national art treasures.

EXPRESS CO. QUITS

United States Concern Is Driven Out by Parcel Post.

BIGGER PACKAGES DID IT

President Roberts of United States Express Co. Announcing Winding Up of the Delivery System, Says Recent Cut in Rates and Increase in the Size of Parcels Is Too Much to Bear.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The directors of the United States Express Co. decided yesterday, without a dissenting vote, to wind up the company's affairs and quit the delivery field. The short meeting indicated that the matter had been well thrashed out before the directors got together, and afterward no comment was made on their action by the board. This resolution was made public by President D. L. Roberts:

"Resolved, that, pursuant to the power and authority conferred upon the board of directors of the United States Express Co. by its articles of association, the board unanimously declares that it is for the best interests of the company that the company be dissolved as soon as may be, without awaiting the expiration of its term of existence; and that its business and affairs be settled up and finally adjusted as promptly as may be done. The president is directed to inform the shareholders of the company of said action of the board."

After explaining that it was understood a year ago that if the fight seemed hopeless he was to wind up the company, President Roberts said:

"If the parcel post had been continued as it was started and the weight limit of packages had not been increased and a severe cut in rates not ordered, the United States Express Co. could have continued to do business profitably. The Interstate Commerce Commission's order for a sixteen per cent. reduction in charges was too much for the company to bear. And the fact that heavier and heavier packages were placed on the parcel post list seemed to indicate that the Government service would ultimately cut into the express company's business much further than had been originally foreseen."

Girl Charged With Bigamy.

WOODSTOCK, March 14. — Alva Britch, an 18-year-old girl of Ingersoll, appeared in the police court here yesterday morning on a charge of bigamy. She was married three years ago to a man named Britch of this city, and again on Feb. 27 last to Joseph Paradis of Niagara Falls, whom she met in Toronto. Her first husband, whom she believed dead, left her some time ago, and was last heard of at Otterville. She was let off on suspended sentence on the promise that she would live under her mother's charge.

ROYAL Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

There is a remarkable interest in Home Baking and Cooking throughout the land.

This is a most encouraging indication that the battle against impure, improper food is going to be won.

The credit for the victory will belong to the women of the country.

Home cooking has the backing of science and the approval of fashion. It adds to housekeeping a pride; to our food, healthfulness.

It is acknowledged by experts, and by the women who know, that the best cooking in the world to-day is with the aid of Royal Baking Powder.

TO CARE FOR DEFECTIVES.

Children's Handicraft Village Will Be Established Near Toronto.

TORONTO, March 14.—The city of Toronto is to establish a village populated only by such children as can only be taught handicraft that will make them self-supporting. Necessarily supervisors will also live in the village. There will be stores, factories, postoffice, places of recreation and amusement, etc. It will be a community of contented, happy children.

This is Controller Jesse O. McCarthy's scheme for the care of sub-normal children and is almost certain to be carried out without delay.

"The expense of establishing and maintaining this village will not be greater than that required by one of the largest public schools in the city," said Controller McCarthy.

"This will be the system for segregation: Pupils of the public schools who are normal but somewhat slow in learning are now being taught in ungraded classes in the schools, with a view to assisting them in promotion to higher grades. Children who enter the public schools and are found to be so mentally defective that they cannot be educated in these ungraded classes will be assigned to special classes, where training in handicraft will be specialized. These children for the special classes will be collected each morning and taken to their school rooms. They will be returned to their homes each day. Children who are not susceptible to any education at all, except in handicraft, will be educated in the village established for them.

"The only children who will be committed to the village will be delinquents passed through the juvenile court, and there a committee, assisted by a psychologist, will pass upon such commitments. The other children who go to the village will simply be admitted at the request of their parents. Only delinquents will be compelled to go to the village.

"The necessary legislation for the care of the mentally defectives is now being arranged," Controller McCarthy said. "Before I cease to be a controller I expect to see the village established, and Toronto's plan for care of mentally defectives become an example to other places having the same problem."

Lakes May Be Open Early.

FORT WILLIAM, March 14.—Local marine men are of the opinion that with continued mild weather navigation will open here a week or ten days earlier than last spring, when the first steamers departed on April 25. There will not, however, be any shipping before April 16, when the marine insurance goes into effect.

Latest reports are to the effect that the ice on western Lake Superior extends from 10 to 15 miles from shore. Last year at this time, according to some reports, the lake was frozen from shore to shore.

Child Born In Freight Yards.

NORTH BAY, March 14.—A babe, scarcely an hour old, was found wrapped in an old shirt under a freight car in the C. P. R. freight yards, and is doing well in the hospital. The mother, a girl of eighteen, had left the child where it was born, and could be found, and then walked half a mile to her home.

Tango Hasn't Shook Boston.

BOSTON, March 14. — Efforts to legislate against the tango and other new dances failed to meet with the approval of the legislative committee on social welfare, which yesterday decided to report adversely on a bill introduced by Representative Lewis H. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan sought to prohibit dances "not conducive to propriety" under penalty of fine or imprisonment.

Wireless Telephony a Success.

AUGUSTA, Sicily, March 14.—It is announced that the tests in wireless telephony, made during the past week between warships of the Italian fleet by William Marconi on board the battleship Regina Elena, flagship of the Duke of Abruzzi were entirely successful. The Duke of Abruzzi presided over the experiments and expressed his admiration of the results attained.

Memory of Fels Honored.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Several hundred persons attended a mass meeting in Cooper Union last night to honor the memory of Joseph Fels, the millionaire single tax advocate who died last month in Philadelphia. The meeting was under the auspices of the People's Institute. George F. Peabody presided.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The local Board of Education is going to make every possible effort this year to have a technical school established and erected in Port Arthur.

Severe fighting, in which the Italian troops killed 762 Arabs, took place on Wednesday in the neighborhood of the oasis of Seuerina, Tripoli.

An application for pardon for the men convicted in the dynamite conspiracy trials in Indianapolis will be presented in a few days to President Wilson.

There is a report current at Orangeville that many of the boys in Pilkington Township are dying from a disease which the farmers call rheumatism.

Magistrate Jelfs, yesterday morning opened a letter sent to him by post, in which the writer, signing himself as J. A. E., threatened to murder him within 24 hours.

President Greenfield, of the Alberta Association of Rural Municipalities, says he will ask the Legislature to subsidize country physicians, so that their charges may be reduced.

Brodeville people feel encouraging owing to the report that the C. P. R. has purchased a large tract of land in Prescott for the purpose of constructing a roundhouse and car shop.

There seems little probability of legislation this session at Ottawa granting the demands of the interprovincial conference last fall for an increase in the Federal subsidies to the provinces.

Two Men Killed In Fight.

PEORIA, Ill., March 14—Two men were killed and two deputy sheriffs and a woman were wounded in an attempted hold-up of a Chicago and Northwestern freight train at Hanlus, Ill., yesterday.

The trainmen found four men unloading merchandise from a car. One opened fire on the conductor, while the others ordered Engineer Fisher to proceed with the train. He demurred and was shot dead.

The bandits fled south. Sheriff Byers and two deputies found them in a bank car. The men opened fire on the officers, wounding both deputies, and fled to a cornfield, where they were surrounded.

WHEN.

The other day we printed in this column some verses which we called "The Man is First." Whereupon an anonymous contributor suggests: "Especially getting on the street cars."

"THE MAYOR'S WIFE"

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

CHAPTER I.
A SPY'S DUTY.

I am not without self-control, yet when Miss Davies entered the room with that air of importance she invariably assumes when she has an unusually fine position to offer, I could not hide all traces of my anxiety.

I needed a position, needed it badly, while the others—

But her eyes are on our faces, she is scanning us all with that close and calculating gaze which lets nothing escape. She has passed me by—my heart goes down—when suddenly her look returns and she singles me out.

"Miss Saunders." Then, "I have a word to say to you."

There is a rustle about me; five disappointed girls sink back into their seats as I quickly rise and follow Miss Davies out.

In the hall she faced me with these words:

"You are discreet, and you evidently desire a position. You will find a gentleman in my sitting-room. If you come to terms with him, well and good. If not, I shall expect you to forget all about him and his errand the moment you leave his presence. You understand me?"

"I think so," I replied, meeting her steady look with one equally composed. Part of my strength—and I think I have some strength—lies in the fact that I am quietest when deeply aroused. "I am not to talk whatever the outcome.'

"Not even to me," she emphasized.

Stirred still further and therefore outwardly even more calm than before, I stopped her as she was moving on and ventured a single query.

"This position—involving secrecy—is it one you would advise me to take, even if I did not stand in need of it so badly?"

"Yes. The difficulties will not be great to a discreet person. It is a first-class opportunity for a young woman as experienced as yourself."

"Thank you," was my abrupt but grateful rejoinder; and, obeying her silent gesture, I opened the door of the sitting-room and passed in.

A gentleman standing at one of the windows turned quickly at the sound of my step and came forward. Instantly whatever doubt I may have felt concerning the nature of the work about to be proposed to me yielded to the certainty that, however much it might involve of the strange and difficult, the man whose mission it was to seek my aid was one to inspire confidence and respect.

He was also a handsome man, or no, I will not go so far as that; he was only one in whom the lines of form and visage were fine enough not to interfere with the impression made by his strong nature and intense vitality. A man to sway women and also quite capable of moving men (this was evident at a glance); but a man under a cloud just at present,—a very heavy cloud which both irked and perplexed him.

Pausing in the middle of the room, he surveyed me closely for an instant before speaking. Did I impress him as favourably as he did me? I soon had reason to think so, for the nervous trembling of his hands ceased after the first moment or two of silent scrutiny, and I was sure I caught the note of hope in his voice as he courteously remarked:

"You are seeking a place, young lady. Do you think you can fill the one I have to offer? It has its difficulties, but it is not an onerous one. It is that of companion to my wife."

I bowed; possibly I smiled. I do smile sometimes when a ray of real sunshine darts across my pathway.

"I should be very glad to try such a situation," I replied.

A look of relief, so vivid that it startled me, altered at once the whole character of his countenance; and perceiving how intense was the power and fascination underlying his quiet exterior, I asked myself who and what this man was; no ordinary personage, I was sure, but who? Had Miss Davies purposely withheld his name? I began to think so.

"I have had some experience," I was proceeding—

But he waved this consideration aside, with a change back to his former gloomy aspect, and a careful glance at the door which did not escape me.

"It is not experience which is so much needed as—discretion."

Again that word.

"The case is not a common one, or, rather,"—he caught himself up quickly. "the circumstances are not. My wife is well, but—she is not happy. She is very unhappy, deeply, unaccountably so, and I do not know why."

Anxious to watch the effect of these words, he paused a moment, then added fervently:

"Would to God I did! It would make a new man of me."

The meaning, the deep meaning in his tone, if not in the adjuration itself, was undeniable; but my old habit of self-control stood me in good stead, and I remained silent and watchful, weighing every look and word.

"A week ago she was the lightest hearted woman in town,—the happiest wife, the merriest mother. To-day she is a mere wreck of her former self,—pallid, drawn, almost speechless, yet she is not ill. She will not acknowledge to an ache or a pain; will not even admit that any change has taken place in her. But you have only to see her. And I am as ignorant of the cause of it as—you are!" he burst out.

Still I remained silent, waiting, watchful.

"I have talked with her physician. He says there is something serious the matter with her, but he can not help her, as it is not in any respect physical, and advises me to find out what is on her mind. As if that had not been my first care! I have also consulted her most intimate friends—all who knew her well, but they can give me no clue to her distress. They see the difference in her, but can not tell the cause. And I am obliged to go away and leave her in this state. For two weeks, three weeks now, my movements will be very uncertain. I am at the beck and call of the State Committee. At any other time I would try change of scene, but she will neither consent to leave home without me nor to interrupt my plans in order that I may accompany her. I——"

"Miss Davies has not told me your name," I made bold to interpolate.

He stared, shook himself together, and quietly remarked:

"I am Henry Packard."

The city's mayor! and not only that, the running candidate for governor. I knew him well by name, even if I did not know, or rather had not recognised his face.

"I beg pardon," I somewhat tremulously began, but waved the coming apology aside as easily as he had my first attempt at ingratiation. In fact, he appeared to be impatient of every unnecessary word. This I could, in a dim sort of way, understand. He was at the crisis of his fate, and so was his party. For several years a struggle had gone on between the two nearly matched elements in this western city, which, as far, had resulted in securing him two terms of office—possibly because his character appealed to men of all grades and varying convictions. But the opposite party was strong in the state, and the question whether he would carry his ticket against such odds, and thus give hope to his party in the coming presidential election, was one yet to be tested. Forceful as a speaker, he was expected to reap hundreds of votes from the mixed elements that invariably thronged to hear him, and, ignorant as I necessarily was of the exigencies of such a campaign, I knew that not only his own ambition, but the hopes of his party, depended on the speeches he had been booked to make in all parts of the state. And now, three weeks before election, while every opposing force was coming to the surface, this trouble had come upon him. A mystery in his home and threatened death in his heart! For he loved his wife—that was apparent to me from the first; loved her to idolatory, as such men sometimes do love,—often to their own undoing.

All this, the thought of an instant. Meanwhile he had been studying me well.

"You understand my position," he commented. "Wednesday night I speak in C——, Thursday in R——, while she" With an effort he pulled himself together. "Miss——"

"Saunders," I put in.

"Miss Saunders, I can not leave her alone in the house. Some one must be there to guard and watch——"

"Has she no mother?" I suggested in the pause he made.

"She has no living relatives, and mine are uncongenial to her."

This to save another question. I understood him perfectly.

"I can not ask any of them to stay with her," he pursued decisively. "She would not consent to it. Nor can I ask any of her friends. That she does not wish, either. But I can hire a companion. To that she has already consented. That she will regard as a kindness, if the lady chosen should prove to be one of those rare beings who carry comfort in their looks without obtruding their services or displaying the extent of their interest. You know there are some situations in which the presence of a stranger may be more grateful than that of a friend. Apparently, my wife feels herself so placed now."

Here his eyes again read my face, an ordeal out of which I came triumphant; the satisfaction he evinced rightly indicated his mind.

"Will you accept the position?" he asked. "We have one little child. You will have no charge of her, save as you may wish to make use of her in reaching the mother."

The hint conveyed in the last phrase gave me courage to say:

"You wish me to reach her?"

"With comfort," said he.

"And if in doing so I learn her trouble?"

"You will win my eternal gratitude by telling it to one who would give ten years of his life to assuage it."

My head rose. I began to feel that my next step must strike solid ground.

"In other words—to be quite honest—you wish me to learn her trouble if I can."

"I believe you can be trusted to do so."

"And then to reveal it to you?"

"If your sense of duty permits,—which I think it will."

I might have uttered in reply, "A spy's duty!" but the high-mindedness of his look forbade. Whatever humiliation his wishes put upon me, there could be no question of the uprightness of his motives regarding his wife.

"I ventured one more question.

"How far shall I feel myself at liberty to go in this attempt?"

"As far as your judgment approves and circumstances seem to warrant. I know that you will come upon nothing dishonourable to her, or detrimental to our relations as husband and wife, in this secret which is destroying our happiness. Her affection for me is undoubted, but something—God knows what—has laid waste her life. To find and annihilate that something is my first and foremost duty. It does not fit well with those other duties pressing upon me from the political field, does it? That is why I have called in help. That is why I have called you in."

The emphasis was delicately but sincerely given. It struck my heart and entered it. Perhaps he had calculated upon this. If so, it was because he knew that a woman like myself works better when her feelings are aroused.

Answering with a smile, I waited patiently while he talked terms and other equally necessary details, then dropping all these considerations, somewhat in his own grand manner, I made this remark:

"If your wife likes me, which very possibly she may fail to do, I shall have a few questions to ask you before I settle down to my duties. Will you see that an opportunity is given me for doing this?"

His assent was as frank as all the rest, and the next moment he left the room.

As he passed out I heard him remark to Miss Davies:

"I expect Miss Saunders at my house before nightfall. I shall reserve some minutes between half-past five and six in which to introduce her to Mrs. Packard."

CHAPTER II.
QUESTIONS.

I knew all the current gossip about Mrs. Packard before I had parted with Miss Davies. Her story was a simple one. Bred in the West, she had come, immediately after her mother's death, to live with that mother's brother in Detroit. In doing this she had walked into a fortune. Her uncle was a rich man and when he died, which was about a year after her marriage with Mr. Packard and removal to C——, she found herself the recipient of an enormous legacy. She was therefore a woman of independent means,— an advantage which, added to personal attractions of a high order, and manners at once dignified and winning, caused her to be universally regarded as a woman greatly to be envied by all who appreciated a well founded popularity.

So much for public opinion. It differs materially from that just given me by her husband.

The mayor lived on Franklin Street in a quarter I had seldom visited. As I entered this once aristocratic thoroughfare from Carlton Avenue, I was struck as I had been before by its heterogeneous appearance. Houses of strictly modern type neighboured those of a former period, and it was not uncommon to see mansion and hovel confronting each other from the opposite side of the street. Should I find the number I sought attached to one of the crude, unmeaning dwellings I was constantly passing, or to one of mellower aspect and possibly historic association?

I own that I felt a decided curiosity on this point, and congratulated myself greatly when I had left behind me a peculiarly obnoxious monstrosity in stone, whose imposing proportions might reasonably commend themselves to the necessities, if not to the taste, of the city's mayor. A little shop, one story in height, and old enough for its simple wooden walls to cry aloud for paint, stood out from the middle of a row of cheap brick houses. Directly opposite it were two conspicuous dwellings, neither of them new, and one of them ancient as the street itself. They stood fairly close together, with an alley running between. From the number I had now reached it was evident the mayor lived in one of these. Happily it was the fresher and more inviting one. As I noted this, I paused in admiration of its spacious front and imposing doorway. The latter was in the best style of Colonial architecture, and though raised but one step from the walk, was so distinguished by the fan-tail light overhead and the flanking casements glazed with antique glass, that I felt myself carried back to the days when such domiciles were few and denoted wealth the most solid, and hospitality the most generous.

BACKACHE A SYMPTOM

Of More Serious Illness Approaching. Mrs. Bender's Case.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Bender's experience.

St. James, Mo.—"About a year ago I was irregular, had cramps every month, headache and constant backache. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and I am relieved of all my troubles and am in perfect health. I shall recommend your medicine to all my friends and you may publish this testimonial for the benefit of other suffering women."—Miss ANNA BENDER, St. James, Missouri.

Another Case.

Dixon, Iowa.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time and it has done me much good. My back troubled me very much. It seemed weak. I had much pain and I was not as regular as I should have been. The Compound has cured these troubles and I recommend it to all my friends."—Mrs. BERTHA DERRENDER, Box 102, Dixon, Iowa.

DOCTORS AFRAID TO OPERATE

Could Not Remove Stone From The Bladder. Gin Pills Enabled Him To Pass It.

JOLIETTE, P. Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone In The Bladder. He decided on an operation and was assisted by another doctor. They said the calculus was larger than a bean and too hard to crush, and that they could not take it out.

I returned home suffering greatly, and did not know what to do, but was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS. I bought a box and found relief from the pain at once. I took a second and third box of GIN PILLS after which I went back to the specialist.

THEY COULD DO NOTHING FOR HIM

He told me the calculus was reduced in size, still he could not relieve me of it, although he tried for two and a half hours.

I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS as they reduced the pain very much, but I did not expect they would relieve me of the stone, but to my great joy, I passed the stone on October 3rd, and am now a well man and very happy.

I am sending the stone to you so that you can see for yourself what a great work GIN PILLS did for me. GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did so much for me, I will recommend them all the rest of my life".

J. ALBERT LEBARD.

Isn't it wonderful? Just think of these simple pills, that even children can take, being able to perform what the greatest specialists in Canada could not do. Surely, the days of the miracle have not passed away, as long as we have Gin Pills. These wonderful pills dissolve stone in the bladder or kidneys because they are a natural solvent for uric acid, which causes calculus. At the rate people are breaking their arms and legs through dancing the tango it may soon be necessary to provide an ambulance corps at every well regulated tea dance.

Chicago surgeons, to avoid sewing up sponges in patients on whom they operate, will tie a large silver check to each sponge. What's to prevent 'em forgetting the check as well?

Every mother wishes her daughter to go to the best bidder. The fact that some girls marry money and others titles merely indicates a different standard of matrimonial values.

A forty pound girl has been sent by parcel post, presumably uncrated. If the new fifty pound limit of weight were raised to 100, such parcels might prove embarrassing to susceptible carriers.

Men who wear hats of small sizes needn't worry about it. The doctors say that intellect is not a matter of weight of brain. This recalls the rustic proverb, "Little head, little wit: great head, not a bit."

It has been discovered by a Paris physician that injections of sugar bring about the revival of people who are in danger of dying of heart failure. However, almost anything that prevents death is sweet.

That Chicago judge who says married men must be at home by nine o'clock or take the consequences has not added anything to public knowledge. The benedicts have been taking the consequences in large doses for generations.

Collectors are forbidden to disclose the names of those who pay income tax. The government will lose a great deal because of this policy. There are many who would admit an income they don't get and pay a small tax a penalty in order to get before the people as $4,000 men.

Music and Melody.

"Music," says Leoncavallo, author of "I Pagliacci," "is melody and melody alone. Compositions live and become immortal because of their melody, and they die for lack of it. The melody of Wagner and Strauss is obscured, but the obscuration is a defect and not a virtue. Verdi is great because of his melody, and all musical greatness is to be measured by its melody and by nothing else."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

that Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not stop here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

A PAGE OF THE BEST HUMOR OF THE WEEK

Getting Results.

A colored woman was arguing and arguing with her husband, and when she had finished he said, "Dinah, yo' talk don' affect me no mo' than a flea bite."

"Well," she answered, "I'se gwvna keep yo' somebitin'."

Unintentional.

"I think the baby has your hair, ma'am," said the nurse girl, looking piteously at her mistress.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from her novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from him. What will that child do next?"

That's What He Meant.

"Dear me, I wish I had never learned to play cards!" exclaimed a man who had been unfortunate in his play.

"You mean you wish you had learned, don't you?" was his wife's sarcastic reply.

How Father Spent Sunday.

The new parson was making pastoral calls in his parish and stopped to converse with a small boy at the garden gate.

"And where does your father go on Sundays, my little man?"

"Well, on fine Sundays he goes golfing and on wet Sundays he turns us all out to church so he can have a bit of peace in the house."

A SELFISH SUGGESTION

She—What penance do you think I should adopt for Lent?

He—Give up all the other fellows.

A Passive Quantity.

"What is your boy Jack studying for?"

"Well," replied the farmer, "the boy is kind of held up as to his future. His mother wants him to be a minister, I want him to be a lawyer, his rich uncle wants him to be a doctor, an' Josh is good-naturedly hangin' around an' lettin' us fight it out among ourselves."

A Reminder.

When the landlady brings my chicken
Then Shakspere I recall;
For wasn't Bill the guy who said
"In unkindest cut of all?"

How She Got Him.

"I couldn't get out of marrying her," Henpeck explained. "When she proposed she said, 'Will you marry me? Have you any objection?' You see, no matter whether I said 'Yes' or 'No,' she had me."

"Why didn't you just keep silent, then?" inquired his friend.

"That's what I did, and she said, 'Silence gives consent,' and that ended it."

An Alibi.

An artist was one day showing a young woman over his studio. After she had critically examined all the pictures, she remarked,

"I notice several sunsets among your works, but not a single sunrise. How's that?"

The artist, who was rather noted for his Bohemian habits, flushed a little at the question and then stammered,

"You see, it's this way. To tell the truth, the reason I've not painted a sunrise is because I'm never up at that time."

A Sympathetic Drummer.

"You don't make very good music with that instrument," said a bystander to the man with the bass drum, as the hand ceased to play.

"No," admitted the pounder of the drum, "I know I don't; but I drown a heap of bad music."

Impassioned Youth: "Thou art my love, my life, my heart, the very eyes of me!"

New York Girl: "What is your income?"

The Mistake He Made.

"There have been times in my life," said he gloomily, "when I was tempted to commit suicide."

"Oh, well," she said, "it's no use to grieve over the past. We can all look back and see where we've made mistakes."

And Nobody Knew Him.

"Oh, I'm in such trouble! My little Willie's got lost!"

"Well, well, it'll be all right. Every one in the neighborhood knows him."

"Oh, nobody'll know him today, because I've just washed him!"

Anticipating Trouble.

Six-weeks bride—I want to get a divorce from my husband.

Lawyer—You're not tired of him already, are you?

Six-weeks bride—No; but I will be by the time I get the divorce.

His Studies.

"I am inclined to suspect the sobriety of the last student in our class."

"Why so?"

"When I asked him what were his favorite studies in ornithology, he replied, 'Swallows, bats and larks.'"

A Good Field.

Rankin—What do you think about simplified spelling, old man?

Rogers—That the promoters of it ought to send missionaries to Wales.

Sources of Information.

First clubwoman—She has a perfect knowledge of how the other half lives.

Second clubwoman—Gossip or sociologist?

Where Was It.

Ma Hurst—Yes, George, I had your fountain pen, and I put it back in your drawer right where I found it—or look on the kitchen shelf or on the window sill in the bathroom—or p'haps it's upstairs on top of my dresser.

"'Twere Well 'Twere Quickly Done."

Patron—Look here, waiter! I've been waiting over an hour for that steak I ordered.

Waiter—Yes, sir, I know it, sir. Life would be worth living, sir, if everyone was as patient as you, sir.

First Dogmaniac: "So Stella got her separation all right?"
Second Ditto: "Do tell me—who is to have the custody of the Pom?"

One Possibility.

"A famous actor bought Shakspere's favorite chair at a sale in London recently."

"At any rate, he will find Shakspere's chair easier to fill than his shoes."

Expecting Assistance.

Tall Blonde: "Why do you wear a tight skirt to skate? You will never be able to get up if you fall down?

Short Brunet: "Of course not, you goose; not by myself."

Hates to Give Up.

Farmer (soliloquising): "I s'pose I'd oughter stop at Si Tibb's place an' pay him that quarter I owe him. Gosh! I hope he ain't in."

A Clean-up.

He: "If I call pa 'pop,' why can't I call ma 'mop'?

She: "If you do, she'll wipe the floor with you."

Why?

Wife: "Why do you treat your stenographer so much better than you do me?"

Husband: "Simple enough; I can dictate to her."

One Construction.

Knick: "When does a man rob his wife?"

Knack: "When he hooks her dress."

Not Big Enough to Go 'Round.

"One hundred ways to cook an egg," read Mrs. Newlywed from a new cook book. "Oh, dear! I can only cook this egg once!"

One day in the British Museum a guide was recounting to a little knot of visitors the glories of a battered centaur, when a Smithfield meat salesman broke the reverent hush with the question:

"Excuse me, sir, but what would they feed a bloke like that on—ham and eggs or hay?"

A Nonconformist minister wrote to ask leave of a Lancashire vicar to take a funeral service in the churchyard. The courteous vicar wrote back by return of post:

"Dear Mr. Smith, please understand that I shall be delighted to see you in our churchyard at any time."

The maid-of-all-work in the service of a provincial family, the members whereof are not on the most amicable of terms, recently tendered her resignation, much to the distress of the lady of the house.

"So you are going to leave us?" asked the mistress, sadly. "What's the matter, Mary? Haven't I always treated you like one of the family?"

"Yis, mum," said Mary; "an' I understood it as long as I'm goin' to!"

Mr. Justice Darling was once trying a case in which the question arose whether the defendant, a solicitor, was competent to sell his contract. One of the witnesses said, in reply to Mr. Duke, Q. C., that he could not sing like the Archangel Gabriel."

"I have never heard the Archangel Gabriel," was the [illegible]

Mr. Justice Darling replied blandly, with a gentle sarcasm, "Then Mr. Duke, is a pleasure [illegible]"

At the close of his talk before a Sunday-school the bishop invited questions.

"Please, sir," said he, "why was Adam never a baby?"

The bishop coughed in doubt as to what answer to give, but a little girl, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came promptly to his aid.

"Please, sir," she answered, smartly, "there was nobody to nurse him."

"How are you today?" said a Scottish landlord to one of his tenants on meeting him on the road.

"Fine, weel, sir, very weel," answered John in his usual way, "gin it wisna for the rheumatism in my richt leg."

"Ah, well, John, be thankful; for there is no mistake, you are getting old like the rest of us, and old age does not come alone."

"Auld age, sir!" replied John. "I wenter to hear ye. Auld age has naething to do wi't. Here's my ither leg jist as auld, an' it is quite sound and soople eut."

Not Crazy.

Friend: "Well, Aunt Alice, how is your old man getting along?"

Aunt Alice (whose husband is an inmate of the soldiers' home): "Po'ly, chile, po'ly. The only way they can keep him in the hospittle is by puttin' a Mother Hubbard on him. He jist wants to wander an' wander aroun'."

Friend: "Why, he is not crazy, is he, Aunt Alice?"

Aunt Alice: "No, chile, he is not crazy; he's jist done gone an' lost his min'."

Real Humility.

Calvin: "I have my opinion of your rector. The idea of his preaching on humility! Why, he never goes to church except in an automobile!"

Martin: "I know he doesn't; but he uses a 1910 machine."

Marry, Forsooth!

The following is ascribed to Senator Sorghum:

"Down in my state there is quite a character, who is known far and wide as a woman hater. One day some of the men in the office thought they would have some fun with the old man, and consequently they asked him why he had never married.

"'Marry!' the old fellow said. 'Bah! All these women talk about nowadays is either bridge or Bridget!'"

Exchange of Courtesies.

The following exchange of courtesy was recently chronicled in a German paper's advertisements:

"The gentleman who found a brown purse, containing a sum of money, in the Blumenstrasse is requested to forward it to the address of the loser, as he is recognized."

A couple of days later appeared the response, which, altho courteous, had an elusive air, to say the least:

"The recognised gentleman who picked up a brown purse in the Blumenstrasse requests the loser to call at his house at a convenient day."

The Veracious Verger: "In the far corner, 'ere William the Conqueror; behind the organ, where you can't see 'em, are the tombs o' Guy Fawkes, Robin 'Ood and Cardinal Wolsey. Now, does that guide-book, as I sees you 'ave in your 'and, tell you who is buried 'ere, sir?"

The Sceptical Tourist: "No; but I can guess."

The dealer in antiques was showing an old violin to a probable buyer.

"Yes," he said, "that is of historical interest; that is the identical fiddle Nero played while Rome was burning!"

"Oh, that is a myth."

The dealer agreed, saying:—

"Yes, it is; and Myth's name was on it, but it has got worn off."

Mr. Harper was very much better, so Mrs. Harper allowed the nurse an evening off. As she herself was to keep a very important engagement, she told Bridget to watch the sick room and gave her several orders, which, she impressed upon the Irish girl's mind, were very important. Returning later than she intended, she heard Mr. Harper moving restlessly and, after quieting him, she sought Bridget for information.

"I wonder what makes Mr. Harper so restless. He was sleeping very soundly when I went out. Do you know, Bridget?"

"In, mum," said the conscientious girl, "unless I disturbed his mind when I woke him up to give him his sleepin' powder."

The Old 'Un: "Pluck, my boy, pluck—first and last; that is the one essential to success in business."

The Young 'Un: "Oh, of course, I quite understand that. The trouble is to find someone to pluck."

ONE THING EXPLAINED.

Younghub (who has borrowed iceman's scales to weigh new arrival)—Gee, whiz! forty-one pounds!

The lady gave him a glass of whisky.

After Sandy finished his glass, he exclaimed:

"Aweel, my lady, there was never sic a thing in my young days."

"What," said the lady, in astonishment, "no whiskey?"

"Plenty whiskey, but never sic a wee glass," replied Sandy.

The ear-guards worn by some players in Rugby football greatly puzzled two young ladies who saw them for the first time.

"Whatever is that man wearing those funny flaps over his ears for?" one of them asked.

The other had not a ghost of an idea, but as she desired to convey the impression that she knew all about the game she replied at once:

"Oh, that's so that he sha'n't hear what the others say when he kicks them!"

A lawsuit was recently in full swing, and during its progress a witness was cross-examined as to the habits and characters of the defendant.

"Has Mr. M—— a reputation for being abnormally lazy?" asked counsel, briskly.

"Well, sir, it's this way——"

"Will you kindly answer the question asked?" struck in the irascible lawyer.

"Well, sir, I was going to say it's this way. I don't want to do the gentleman in question any injustice, and I won't go so far as to say, sir, that he's lazy exactly; but if it required any voluntary work on his part to digest his food—why, he'd die from lack of nourishment, sir."

Mr. Charles Pond, who has just returned from Paris, where he has been filming his "Glimpses of Life," tells a story of the "dog days" on the stock exchange.

A broker, brooding over the heavy expenses of maintaining his office, thought he would save money by having a cheap lunch.

He wandered into a little restaurant off Cheapside and ordered a frugal meal costing a few pence. Looking up, he recognised in the waiter an old stock broker.

"Hallen, Harry, have you come down to this?" he asked.

"Oh, I'm all right. I only wait; I don't dine here!" was the reply.

A Fellow Feeling.

First Burglar: "President Wilson wants to enter the White House as simply and quietly as possible."

Second Burglar: "I sympathise with him."

Not Enough.

Kind Lady (to applicant): "I am sure you would learn to love my children."

Nurse: "What wages do you pay?"

Kind Lady: "£3 a month."

Nurse: "I am afraid, ma'am, I could only be affectionate with them at that price."

Costly Speed.

Orville Wright, at a dinner in his honor in New York, talked about the fast French monoplanes which now make 150 miles an hour.

"They're very fast," said Mr. Wright, shaking his head, "but they've——"

"Fast indeed!" interrupted a young millionaire. "Mr. Wright, is there anything on earth those machines can't overtake?"

"Yes," said Mr. Wright, with a frown, "there's one thing they can't overtake, and that's their own running expenses."

Significant.

Mrs. Guyer: "Is Bob's rich uncle seriously ill?"

Guyer: "Well, I saw a motor-car salesman offer Bob a cigar yesterday!"

"For the making of billiard balls five hundred elephants are needed every year," said the famous big-game hunter in his lecture on India.

"How strange!" whispered Mrs. Winsome, to the lady who sat next, "that people can teach such great beasts to do such delicate work."

Vain Pomp.

One of our great city mining magnates is greatly pleased with the number of servants he is now able to employ. He came home the other day at four o'clock in the morning, and asked where all the servants were.

"If you please, sir," the butler answered respectfully, "when it comes three o'clock I thought you was spendin' the night out, and ventured to send most of the footmen off to bed, sir."

"Humph," growled the magnate, "ventured to send 'em off to bed, eh? Fine piece of impudence! Suppose I'd happened to bring a friend home—then there'd only have been you seven to let us in!"

Where the Shoe Pinched.

The Prima Donna (after the first act): "I won't go on again unless the people in that box make less noise. I nearly had hysterics!"

The Manager (in surprise): "I didn't hear any noise."

The Prima Donna: "You didn't? Why, they encored that upstart of a contralto four times!"

Delightful.

Mrs. Beecroft: "Your little boy seems perfectly delighted with the printing press Father Christmas brought him."

Mrs. Chatterton (resignedly): "Yes, he has discovered he can get dirtier playing with it than with any present he ever had."

A Killing Anticipation.

"'Ere, Bill, wot's the matter? You're lookin' worrid."

"Work—nothing but work from morning till night."

"'Ow long 'ave you been at it?"

"I begin tomorrow."

Hark Luck.

"Wasn't Jack a suitor for Miss Richleigh's hand?"

"Yes, but he didn't."

"Didn't what?"

"Suit her."

No Talk Lost.

"So Kate and Alice are not on speaking terms."

"No; but they more than make up for it by what they say about each other."

What Did She Mean?

Teacher (to pupil who has been pulling another child's hair): "You are not fit to sit with decent people. Come up here and sit with me."

And Modish, Too.

Grace: "I hear that the daintiest muslins are made from the fibres of the banana tree."

Lulu: "Then they ought to be easy to slip on."

A PERFECT GENTLEMAN.

Landlady: "If you do not pay your bills, Mr. Maltravers how am I to pay mine?"

Lodger: "Madam will at least admit that I have some delicacy. I do not urge her to pay hers."

ENCOURAGEMENT.

"Cheer up, mister! Reckon it'll turn to snow again fore mornin'."

Hawker: One penny the dying duck. The dying duck one penny! one penny each.
Deaf Lady Purchaser: How much are they?
Hawker: Tuppence each, lydy.
Deaf Lady Purchaser: I 'eard yer the first time.

BEAUTY HELPS

Like most other evils, those cold weather torments — chilblains and chapped hands — may more easily be prevented than cured. Chilblains arise from defective circulation of the blood. Therefore the best preventive is plenty of active exercise, brisk walking, dancing, skating, skipping Wear warm footgear, woollen footed stockings and shoes or boots with inner soles, which are excellent for promoting circulation. When you are sitting at work rub your hands together briskly and frequently and move your feet. Don't let them get numb.

Every night and morning plunge your feet in hot salt and water, then just for a second or two into cold water, and rub them with a Turkish towel till they are aglow.

Care of the Nails.

There is nothing so essential to beauty as well kept nails. It is nothing short of disgusting to see a woman immaculate in her apparel, with glossy hair and smooth skin, and then to glance down and see grey, uneven nails and ragged cuticle.

There is really no excuse for badly kept fingers, because very little expenditure will provide the means to keep them in good shape for months at a time. No girl need go to a manicurist regularly in order to have her nails in good condition. They can be attended to at home.

SAVE BREADCRUMBS FOR MANY DISHES

Cooking Expert Suggests Ways in Which They May be Used.

Crusts and small pieces of bread should be do dried and put in a small oven and rolled on the bread board, or better still, put through a meat grinder. Always keep breadcrumbs on hand, for they can be used in numberless ways. Articles of food that are cooked in deep fat are covered with them. They are used for the top of scalloped dishes, in making dresses for poultry, etc. If the fine cutter of the meat grinder is used, the crumbs are plenty fine enough for poultry and meat dressings, but the crumbs used for croquettes, veal, steak, etc., should be sifted. They will cling better to the food if they are extremely fine. Keep the crumbs in jars, writes Grace Viall in the Mothers' Magazine. I use glass fruit jars; label them "coarse crumbs and" "fine crumbs," and tie a piece of muslin over the top of the jars. Do not cover tightly, but allow the air to enter. In this way you will always have crumbs ready for use at a moment's notice. At times, it is very inconvenient to stop and grind bread crumbs, and on will always keep a jar on hand after you once find how convenient it is. Be sure the bread is thoroughly dry else it will mould; otherwise the crumbs will keep in excellent condition for weeks.

TWO RECIPES.

Croutons—Cut stale bread in slices from one-fourth to one-half inch thick; then cut into small cubes. Brown in the oven, taking care that they are turned frequently enough to brown them evenly on all sides. They should be a delicate brown. Croutons when served with soups are put directly into the soup or placed at the side of the plate, and are served instead of crackers.

Cheese Fondu—One cupful of grated dry cheese; one cupful of stale dry breadcrumbs; one cup milk; two eggs, white and yolk beaten separately; one-half teaspoon salt, and a few grains of paprika. Mix the ingredients, adding the beaten whites last, folding them into the mixture. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderately slow oven, about one-half hour. Serve immediately, as it soon falls.

FASHION NOTES

The modern styles are a direct steal from the Greek goddesses, and if the women of to-day are to be condemned for modern tendencies in dress, the quarrel must go back to the days of the Classicists. If we could lure the goddesses from their pedestals and marshal them in a parade we should have a distinctly fashionable and up-to-date set of women. The modern designer has been seen, note-book and pencil in hand, pirating from the museums, and the milliners have been caught photographing the helmeted headgear of the ancient statues.

At the Metropolitan Museum of New York is a statue of a woman of the sixth century, B.C., who nevertheless, is clad in garments surprisingly like those of our times. Her tight skirt has the most up-to-date cut, and she is wearing a smart little coat with cutaway effect. Her hair is coiled closely around her head almost as we are wearing it now.

In Greek archaic days even the old market women wore draperies, beautiful in line, following the form beneath. In the sixth century, B.C., the hobble skirt, tightly drawn around the figure, was in fashion. A statue of that time shows a very attractive young woman costumed identically like the latest Parisian model. Her pose proclaimed her a woman of birth and breeding, but it is doubtful whether she would be well received in Peterborough now unless she announced herself to be an anti-suffragist at the start.

We find the gentle Aphrodite, born of the sea wave, clad—in her statues at least—in the long, sweeping lines so prevalent to-day. With skirt draped and slashed in front, she walked right into the hearts of the Greeks, who immediately adopted her as their Goddess of Love. The militant Athene (or Minerva) is seen in the Museum at Dresden in a slit skirt with no petticoat at all. She began her militancy at birth. "Her life, like the lightning, was flashed from the light of her father's head."

Athene did not care a rap if there did exist "one law for woman and another one for man." She donned a helmet and went off to war with the gods against the giants. And what a helmet! Snugly fit, with a fetching plume right up the back in the most approved manner, just as if it had come out of a Fifth avenue shop this very spring. In her social relations Athene had the tact to lay aside her militant attitude and be like other women.

A little Etruscan archaic goddess from Perugia has travelled far to show the moderns how to dress. She stands serenely placid in hobbled skirt and turbined head. The long Ionic chiton, gathered into graceful folds at one side and tightly drawn across the form, serves as a model for a modish opera cloak, while at the same time the Russian blouse—at least, it is so called at present—was in evidence at Samos.

ART OF MAYONNAISE

A French cook once said that the foundation of all good cooking was a knowledge of white sauce. If you know how to make a perfect white sauce, the result of your cooking would be satisfactory, and if you didn't, why, then, it wouldn't. That was all there was about it. And of course there is no use arguing with a French cook.

Quite as vital to the efficiency of any cook, amateur especially, is the ability to make good mayonnaise. And candidly there is no excuse for a poor mayonnaise dressing that comes on the table ready to separate if you look at it unexpectedly; or, on the other hand, as solid and greasy as leaf lard—excepting stupidity, or, to be a little less severe on the inexperienced cook, ignorance of the principles that underlie this important operation. And here is another thing about mayonnaise. It need not take more than ten minutes to whisk it into being. We all know about those painstaking housewives who make such delicious mayonnaise, who spend an hour over half a pint of it, adding each drop of oil and vinegar separately. But it isn't at all necessary to be so deliberate.

If you want to make mayonnaise, successfully and quickly, remember that all your ingredients and all your implements must be at the same temperature, perfectly well chilled, and, needless to say, your beater and bowl must be clean—as scrupulously clean as a baby's milk bottle. Then, too, the egg must be fresh, and the oil, though it needn't be the most expensive, must be as sweet as oil can be.

To begin with, break the yolk of one egg in the bowl, and then have a cup of salad oil measure out, preferably in a milk-jug with a good lip. So much depends on the first few drops of oil that these should be added slowly and watchefully. Some people prefer to use a silver fork, and some an egg beater, and it does not make much difference which method you adopt: If after all precautions the first egg yolk curdles, set the curdled mixture and begin with a fresh egg yolk in a fresh bowl, and as soon as this mixture becomes thick with the addition of the oil, you can add the curdled mixture bit by bit without the least danger of curdling the whole.

Of course the main thing is to get the oil and the egg mixed safely. The addition of lemon juice or vinegar, the seasoning of salt, mustard, cayenne pepper, paprika, or even sugar, is a matter of taste.

RHEUMATISM DURING MARCH

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

During the month of March people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable — balmy and springlike one day, cold, raw and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that start the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going. But it must be borne in mind that although weather conditions start the pains, the trouble is rooted in the blood, and can only be cured through the blood. All the liniments and lotions in the world can't cure rheumatism. Rubbing may seem to ease the pain while you are rubbing but there its value ends. Only by treating the disease through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured so many thousands of cases of this trouble. The new, rich blood these pills actually make drives out the poisonous acid and rheumatism, lumbago and kindred troubles are banished. Among the many sufferers from rheumatism cured by this medicine is Mr. R. J. Sinclair of Gosen, N. S., who says: "About two years ago I was laid up with rheumatism. For two months I could not walk and had to stay in an invalid's chair. My feet were badly swollen and my arms seemed to be paralyzed. I had been using doctors' medicine for a long time but it did not seem to help me, and the doctor finally told me that the only thing that would cure me would be a change of climate. At this time I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and got a supply. After I had taken them for a while I found they were helping me, and I got a further supply, and they completely cured me, and I have not been sick one day since. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for this trouble."

If you suffer from rheumatism, or any other disease of the blood or nerves, begin to cure yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which under a fair trial will do for you what they have done for thousands of others. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine C., Brockville, Ont.

TO REDUCE CHIN

Here is a good way to reduce a double chin:

Stand before an open window and practice a little deep breathing first. Then throw the head as far back as possible and thrust out the under jaw so that thec hin and the throat will feel stretched. With this rigidity still in process, turn the head slowly from left to right, as far as you can in each direction; continue this till your muscles feel really tired, then rest a little and try some more deep breathing.

The second exercise is to push the head forward till the muscles are stretched again; then lower it on the chest andr aise it slowly, throwing it back as far as possible. The third exercise consists in raising the head and blowing an imaginary bit of fluff from left to right and up and down, keeping the chin well up all the time.

Massaging the neck and double chin are also useful. For the former use a nourishing oil, such as almond or olive or vaseline. For the double chin use an upward movement, stroking the sagging flesh upward and backward. Chin straps are also excellent double-chin reducers.

TO THE POINT.

"So you want to marry my daughter?" said Mr. Cumrox.

"Yes," replied the young man. "I hope to hear you say take her and be happy."

"No, sir. I'm not going to shoulder any implied responsibility. All I am gong to say is 'take her.'"

Milady's Mirror

The Egg Treatment.

As a result perhaps of the constant hurry and bustle of modern life and the nervous strain thereby entailed many a woman finds that fine lines and wrinkles are appearing on her face—"crow's feet" making their unwelcome traces noticeable about her eyes—far earlier than the actual passage of Father Time should warrant.

There happens to be a simple cure for these "tired" wrinkles that many women are unaware of—so homely is it after the different kinds of massage, astringent lotions and such like treatments prescribed by the beauty experts.

Some will laugh at the idea, but those who have tried it have proved conclusively that its right to be claimed as a "cure" for wrinkles is by no means unfounded.

The method is as follows: Break a fresh egg and, removing the yolk, apply the raw white to the face, painting it up around the eyes or wherever the wrinkles appear with a soft camel's hair brush. This should be put on at night and allowed to dry, when the white of egg will of itself form into a fine skin. In the morning this should be carefully washed off with warm water.

It will not come off very easily, so needs bathing with a small sponge for some minutes. When the white of egg has been entirely removed it will be noticed that the skin beneath has "tightened up" to a considerable extent.

A constant repetition of this treatment will do wonders for lined faces, while once the cure has been thoroughly completed the application of the white of egg can be continued at intervals to keep the skin in a firm condition.

Tunic Design For the Short Woman.

The tunic is the thing this season, but when one thinks of the awful possibilities of this drapery one shudders for the woman who never knows what to wear on her own initiative. Ten chances to one this woman will insist upon her couturiere incorporating a tunic into her "best frock."

The short mondaine will tell you she has been warned not to wear a tunic, for it will cut her in thirds. Still, there is a phase of this fashionable effect which she can wear. It is made in two deep points at the sides, which nearly touch the hem of the dress. This tunic is not only becoming, but will add inches to her appearance.

The tunic frock in the cut, however, is designed for the tall, thin girl and is of plain and brocaded silk, combined throughout the model in an artistic fashion. The bodice and lower part of the tunic are of the brocade, while the sleeves, lower skirt and gathered drapery are of the plain fabric.

AN ATTRACTIVE SILK FROCK.

Repairs Old Flags.

Mrs. Amelia Fowler of Boston, who has made a reputation for taking care of old flags, says that she has never seen one so old that it could not be preserved. Some of those which she has renovated, flags of the civil and preceding wars, seemed to be disintegrated until she got hold of them.

Meat May Be Injurious and Is Expensive!

Some people may eat late dinners to their injury to their health, but to their cost in their pockets. Others should avoid meat almost entirely, yet they eat it daily—these pay in both health and purse.

Either class will benefit by eating less meat and more Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes.

It gives much more nourishment than its cost in meat, is infinitely more easy to digest—consequently better for you.

THE FRUIT OF THE DATE PALM

There is no fruit either among those that come to us fresh or dried that contains greater all-around goodness at so low a figure than do dates. The amount of energy which we have to pay twenty-two cents for in a porterhouse steak or a leg of mutton we can get in the humble fruit of the date palm for less than seven cents. To the thoughtful housewife this fact alone ought to argue for a consideration of dates in the daily bill of fare.

Here are some ways of using this economical food that may appeal to you:

Rice With Dates.

Prepare the rice by cooking it in a double boiler, in the proportions of a pint of milk and a pint of water to a cupful of rice. When thoroughly cooked season with sugar and vanilla to taste. Now stew a cupful of stoned dates until tender in a cupful of water, and a half cupful of sugar. When cool, pile the rice in the centre of the dessert dish with the stewed dates poured around.

Date Charlotte.

Remove the stones from a cupful of dates, stew them slowly in a double boiler. Wh[illegible] press dates together almond, a[illegible] the dates together again. Then stew until tender in just enough water to keep from burning. Season with lemon juice and sugar. When cool serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Date Sandwiches.

Chop date very fine and mix with English walnuts or pecan meats also chopped fine, using double the quantity of dates. Slice bread thin, spread one-half with creamed butter and a sprinkle of salt, and the other half with the date and nut mixture. Brown bread will be found delicious for these sandwiches.

12 Tumors Removed Without An Operation

Silver Lake, Ont., Sept. 29, 1913.

Dear Mrs. Curran,—I am enjoying better health than I have for eight years and I'll do I am entirely cured. I have some of the old symptoms. I am very grateful for my present health, and think Orange Lily is the greatest treatment for women the world knows. The two in my case caused 12 tumors or growths of some part to be expelled. Some were as large as a hen's egg, and others smaller, down to the size of a walnut. You may use my case in your advertisement, for it is the solid truth, and you cannot describe all the good it has done for me. Mrs. Lizzie M. Bolderidge.

This letter gives an indication of the positive benefits that always follow the use of Orange Lily. It is an applied treatment and carries in direct contact with the suffering organs. It produces results from the start in all cases of women's disorders, including painful periods, falling of womb, irregularities, leucorrhoea, etc.

I will send a sample box containing 10 days' treatment absolutely free to any suffering woman who has not yet tried it if she will send me her address. Enclose stamps and address MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

Food science has taught us that there is much body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain which we do not get in white flour. The only question is how to make the whole wheat grain digestible. That problem has been solved in the making of

TRISCUIT

The Shredded Whole Wheat Wafer

It is the whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded, compressed into a wafer and baked—the maximum of nutriment in smallest bulk. Many people prefer it to ordinary bread toast. Heated in the oven to restore its crispness, it is delicious for luncheon, or for any meal, with butter, potted cheese or marmalades.

HUMAN SKIN AS A POLISHER.

I had always supposed that the chamois possessed the skin best adapted for polishing purposes, but recently in a leading jeweller's shop I learned otherwise. Nothing, it seems, can impart such a luster to plate as the human skin, and all the best articles are polished, quite literally, by hand—rubbed gently by the lower arch of the hand at the base of the thumb. "We keep a girl to do nothing else," said my informant, and I reflected that I had discovered a new industry and a new definition of "palm oil."

Smiles Over "Self Help."

An editor who was compiling a volume of press selections had proposed to include a characteristic piece from "Self Help," and the question of copyright arose. The publisher (the worthy head of a distinguished house) himself took the matter in hand and sent the editor an autograph note to the following effect:

"I have written to Mr. Smiles respecting the selection you propose to make from his writings, but there has been no reply. Under the circumstances I think you had better omit this piece."

Naturally there is much curiosity as to how and where "Mr. Smiles" was addressed. — Manchester Guardian.

The Age of Caps.

This is the age of caps, especially in London. There every one of masculine persuasion from errand boy to Cabinet Minister and statesman has adopted the cloth head covering. Commenting on this a noted Englishman says:

"One of the most striking symptoms of the decadence of modern European male costume is the popularity of the cap. Surely it is the most hideous and inartistic head covering the mind of man has ever devised.

"This cap, the appanage of the errand boy, is now freely worn by men high in official circles, whose predecessors would have shrunk in terror from any such idea."

Moon's Rays and Food.

Moon rays are said to make men go blind and mad, and to turn foodstuff bad. There is even quoted by The London Lancet a death the cause of which was officially stated to be exposure to moonlight. Apparently the food most seriously affected by the moon's radiations is fish, and seemingly trustworthy statements have been made as to the ill effects produced in persons who had partaken of fish which had been freely exposed to moonlight.

KENT CANNOT WAIT.

Canada's Naval Policy Too Slow In Coming, Say Imperialists.

LONDON, March 13.—The Sydney correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says that the postponement of the constitutional amendments in Canada, thus deferring indefinitely the naval proposals, is regarded here as a forceful reason for holding a naval defence conference at the earliest possible date, with a view to placing on a permanent and co-ordinated basis the naval forces of the mother country, Australia, and New Zealand in the Pacific.

The Sydney Herald states that if it be true that the navy question cannot be settled by the Canadian Government for several years to come, then the naval conference which Australia and New Zealand both desire cannot be postponed longer. Canada is at perfect liberty to take as long as she likes over her decision, but Australia and New Zealand have decided and cannot consent to go on for another three or four years in total darkness as to what is the Imperial policy in the Pacific.

Furnished.

A witty English lawyer, whose ability brought him to the front rank in his profession, ultimately became a member of Parliament. In the course of a debate on one occasion he considerably angered a member of the opposite party. The latter jumped to his feet, and exclaimed angrily, "The honorable member for X——, as everybody knows, has rooms to let in his upper storey."

The latter merely smiled as he replied:—

"True, I have rooms to let, but there lies the difference between the honorable member for Z—— and myself. Mine are furnished."

To Grow Hair On A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and failing hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair-tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant unsightliness, but their case is not hopeless. The following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring grey hair to its original colour, stopping hair from falling out and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add a drachm of your favourite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

Marthas Vineyard in 1602.

Here is what Bartholomew Gosnold wrote of his voyage to Marthas Vineyard in 1602:

"We stood awhile like men ravished at the beautie and delicacie of this sweet soile, for beside divers clear lakes of fresh water (whereof we saw no end), meadows very large and full of green grass and such an incredible number of vines that we could not do for tredding in them. This is the goodliest land ever we saw, for it is replenished with faire fields and in them fragrant flowers; also meadows and hedged with stately groves."

Marthas Vineyard is still covered with the wild grape vines which gave it its name, and the farms have often a high standing for productiveness. Indeed, one of these farms once boasted the largest corn crop ever produced on an acre. The yield was 125 bushels of shelled corn. — Christian Science Monitor.

Old Time Doctors' Fees.

Army doctors' fees in the seventeenth century in Europe were rather modest. During the civil war, for instance, the physician general of Cromwell's army received 10 shillings a day, the apothecary general 6s. 9d., the chirurgeon general 4 shillings and his two assistants half a crown each day. Then came the inevitable economist, whose deeds C. H. Firth summarized thus in a Cornhill article of March, 1901: "In 1651 the surgeon's pay rose to 6 shillings a day; in 1655 it was fixed at 5 shillings, and the economists cut off one of his mates. In 1657 his pay was again reduced to 4 shillings a day. Monck considered the sum so insufficient that (in 1658) he ordered the surgeons to be entered as privates on the master roll of their regiments in order to give them an additional ninepence a day."—London Standard.

Bombay's Bird Market.

It is a common practice in India to keep birds as pets in captivity, parrots being most popular for this purpose, but cockatoos, mainas (a smaller kind of talking bird), canary birds, doves and gray headed love birds are also frequently seen in cages. The bird market at Bombay is one of the unique sights of that city, there being offered for sale there thousands of birds, chiefly from India and the east coast of Africa, especially Zanzibar.

One Sided Humor.

After the company had gone Mrs. Mason said to her husband, "What on earth did you mean, John, by telling the Flemings that my humor was positive, but not negative?" "I meant," said Mr. Mason, discreetly moving toward the door, "that you could make a joke, but couldn't take one!"

COLLECTING HUT TAX

IT COSTS SOUTH AFRICAN NATIVES MONEY TO MARRY.

Strange Levy Which Upsets All Notions of Taxing Bachelors is That of $10 a Year for Every Wife Imposed Upon Blacks In the Transvaal—The Assessor Simply Counts the Huts.

In Canada, the federal or provincial poll tax collector is an unknown person, but this is not the case in other parts of the British Empire. For instance in South Africa, such a tax is collected from the individual by authorized officials of the Government in person, says The Family Herald and Weekly Star.

There is a single tax, called a poll or hut tax, levied on all native married men in the Transvaal.

Curious as it may sound to us, this amounts to $10 a year for every wife! As each wife has her own hut or house, no matter how many wives a man may have, the connection between the term poll or hut tax is easily seen.

Possibly the influence of the tax is expected to militate against the practice of polygamy.

But the collection of these taxes is not effected without some difficulty, since the native population of the Transvaal, estimated at two millions, is scattered throughout the rural districts, and instead of being called upon to pay their dues at some town in the district in which they live, the collectors go to the native villages or camp near the farms on which the Kaffir is employed and receives the tax.

The Transvaal is divided into districts, each district having its native commissioner who decides all native disputes, and who tries all cases in his district. Besides this he has charge of the collection of all native taxes, and also directs the spending of native grants from the treasury.

To assist him in this work he has usually two or three white clerks, a native interpreter and a staff of native policemen. An interpreter seems an unnecessary member of his staff when it is considered that the commissioner has to know the Kaffir vernacular thoroughly, but there are so many different tribes and so many different dialects that it is absolutely necessary for him to keep one.

The commissioner finds it best, to conduct all conversations through the interpreter, as it tends to uphold his dignity and gives far more weight to his judgment when he is trying cases. A native has much more respect for a white man whom he cannot address directly, than for one whom he could talk to without an interpreter.

The collection of the poll or head tax is generally preceded by summoning all the chiefs of the different tribes in the district to an Indaba, or council meeting, with the native commissioner, at his headquarters. He then tells when he will collect the taxes from the different tribes and informs them of any change in the amount of the tax levied and any other matters that may concern them.

The chiefs in turn inform their tribes as to the arrangements and later on the commissioner travels through the district to collect the taxes and a journey which generally occupies two months, as the territory to be covered is always great.

When the commissioner starts on his travels, he carries a good supply of provisions and camp equipment, because to reach the greater number of the natives he has to leave civilization far behind him. He considers himself fortunate if he can get a roof over his head. Generally he will have to sleep in his tent, by far preferable to a native hut which is very seldom free from vermin.

As the natives cannot read, it would be useless to send them a written notice of what they owe in the way of taxes, so a very ingenious and simple method is adopted.

The commissioner has his district laid out in sections, generally, with natural borders. When he starts to collect in a section he sends out about twenty police boys to round up the inhabitants. As they come to each kraal they can see at a glance how many wives a man owns by the number of huts. They then give the Kaffir a small piece of flat stick, usually a creeper about as thick as a lead pencil, with the bark peeled off it. They put a nick in this for each wife a man has on one of its side, and a smaller nick on the other side for each dog. Both wives and native have to pay a tax of about $3.00 for each dog.

The police boy tells the native where he must go to pay his tax, which is generally located at some spot where the commissioner will camp for a day or two.

No one who knows South Africa is out of sympathy with the dog tax.

The collection of the taxes is usually a picturesque affair. The commissioner sits at a table placed in the shelter of a tree, whilst the natives squat around in a half circle with the interpreter and a native police sergeant. The latter calls up the natives to pay their taxes, starting with the chief of the tribe, followed by the Indians or head men and then the lesser members of the tribes.

The sergeant acts as the go-between, collecting the money and handing back the written receipt which the commissioner gives, the payments being generally made in sovereigns. There are very few natives who cannot pay their taxes, as there is lots of work to be obtained in the mines and other industries.

Although the methods of collecting taxes might lead one to expect fraudulent practices creeping into it, cases of substituting or changing the pieces of stick given by the police boys are very rare, for the tribal laws are very strict on trickery and theft. In the old days, before the white races became the predominant power in the land, a man would be driven out of the tribe or put to death for such practices.

How Sunday Reached the Frontier.

High principle and humor have ever made an irresistible combination. Early merchants on the American frontier conspicuously failed in the observance of Sunday; therefore, when a young New Jersey trader, who had settled at Louisville, Ky., closed his store on the first Sunday after it was opened there was much ado in the town. Other establishments kept open—had he not noticed it? he was asked. Yes, he knew it. Why did he close? He was the first to do so; he must know that also.

"Why," said a facetious merchant, "Sunday hasn't yet crossed the mountains."

"Yes, it has," declared the newcomer, pleasantly. "I brought it with me!"

That simple and ready reply proved more effective than any amount of argument, and although he was the first to observe the day in town, he soon had many followers in Sunday closing.—Youth's Companion.

AOPER FROM THE HEIGHTS

"You know," said Miss Pearlie Fattershall to the stenographer from across the hall as they dusted away the crumbs from their noon sandwiches, "I've got real well acquainted with a lot of people since the opera began."

"People in the next box, I suppose," yawned the other young woman.

"Nothing like it," declared Miss Fattershall to the stenographer. Fact is, we decided that we'd see what there really was in opera, so we got season seats in the front row, way up top—in the bridge that the folks down below look at hard before they can distinguish it from the ceiling frescoes and then murmur 'Rully! Do people rully sit way up there?'

"Believe me, it's fine! With our glasses we can even see where Mrs. Tightwad's white satin train is getting soiled around the edges—and the grey streak in her hair. And if you've got a chart and human intelligence you can compare numbers with the boxes and take a look at all our best people. At least, the ones who come on your right. That's what I mean when I say I've got acquainted with a lot of 'em.

"Not that I care so much about their names. I've grown interested in one fat old lady with wonderful white hair. It glitters like cake frosting and I know her youngest grandchild is old enough to be flirting with the college boy next door. Does grandma attire herself in black velvet and point lace? Not she!

THE LAST TIME.

"Lemme see—last time it was pale blue chiffon over white satin, with fluffy ruffles of white tulle on the skirt. Honest! And a necklace of emeralds, set in diamonds, with stones so big that you'd think they grew on trees! Why, Nettie and I got so excited the first time she wore it, trying to decide whether they were emeralds or saphires, that we nearly lost the opera glasses.

"I like to see an old lady take pride in her appearance, but, I tell you, grandma removes the breath from the observer with her getups! She has one rose pink velvet"——

"At her age!" scoffed the stenographer from across the hall, unbelievingly.

"Yeap," insisted Miss Fitzgerald. "And you ought to see the way the young men hang over her shoulder. Still, most anybody'd hang around emeralds like those. They don't pay half so much attention to the young woman who always sits next her. She had some taste in clothes, I must say, but awful manners with her feet. I suppose she knows those on the same floor with her can't see the box and doesn't consider us up above as real human beings. Mostly she crosses one knee over the other and twists her left foot around and braces it against the front wall of the box, as though to restrain herself by main force from jumping overboard. Or else she kicks off her slippers altogether. I only hope she doesn't forget and put her little tootsies on the rail some night!

"Some of our best people," continued Miss Fattershall, "are getting horribly thin on top! Not alone the men. The way women wear their hair nowadays, all plain with parts to side or middle, makes them absolutely helpless. All those thin spots glaring up at you are awfully funny! Honest, when I see a fluffy girl with her locks puffed out over her ears and low at the back of her neck, making eyes at some adoring young man who is looking at her as if she were too good to be true, I want to lean over my railing and call down and dare her to show him the top of her head! Only it isn't in my nature to be mean.

NOT SURE.

"Nettie and I couldn't be sure about the crowd in one box last night. The women all had gorgeous bunches of flowers and the men weren't even in dress suits. Nettie said they had spent all their money for the flowers and couldn't afford the rent for the suits, but I don't know. Maybe they were so rich they could afford to be independent. It must be grand to be wealthy enough so your clothes don't matter.

"Then there's the man who has been bringing two girls alternately. One of 'em, the prettiest one, has worn the same pale green dress each time, so its plain to be seen that she hasn't any other for evening wear. The other girl changes dresses so often that the only way I can recognise her is by the size of the thin spot where she parts her hair. You can see that the man is divided in his mind and unhappy about it. I hope he isn't of the real mercenary sort, because I like the girl in green"——

"But, say," interrupted the stenographer from across the hall, "how about the opera itself?"

"Ain't I telling you?" demanded Miss Fattershall, exasperatedly. "Why, the opera's fine!"

WOULD COUGH SO HARD
Would Turn Black In The Face.

A cough cold is one of the most dangerous kind. It leaves the throat or lungs, and sometimes both, affected if not taken care of immediately.

Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree.

Mrs. C. J. Selig, Dartmouth, N.S., writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a dreadful, hard cough. At night time he would cough so hard he would turn black in the face, and at times he would cough nearly an hour before he would stop. I tried different cough syrups, but they did him no good. The little fellow was wasting away, as he could not eat or sleep, the cough troubled him so. I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it did him so much good I got another. Now I am only too glad to be able to write this to tell how thankful I am, and to tell every mother to use nothing else."

They Did Me More Good Than All Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS

PALMERSTON, Ont., June 20th, 1913

"I really believe that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives". Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and were sent that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives" and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. "Fruit-a-tives" completely cured me.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, "I am taking Fruit-a-tives". He said, "Well, if "Fruit-a-tives" are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can".

REVIVAL OF MINING

Renewed Activity Where There Has Been Quiet Since the Sixties

Many of the old mining camps of the United States and Canada, deserted years ago, are being rehabilitated and not a few districts which in the sixties were flourishing, but since have fallen into decay, are now being opened up with new life and energy. British Columbia, which, during the time of the Civil War, and later in 1896-97, was the mecca for miners, is again reviving and taking on new life that will undoubtedly bear much fruit in the course of the very near future. This is particularly true of the Windermere district of British Columbia, long known as a lead-silver mining district. In this section there are large deposits of low grade ore.

The Canadian Pacific Railway took over the old Kootenay Central and is now busy connecting up Golden and Fort Steele. Trains are operating from Golden south as far as Spillimacheen, while steel has been laid much farther, and grading is progressing far ahead of the steel. Work is being urged south from Fort Steele to Golden so that this railway project, which was a dream of the early miners of the district, will be a reality. This will bring the miners of the rich Windermere silver-lead district within a range of 250 miles of the large custom smelters and within but a few miles of Trail, B.C., where most of the silver-lead smelting is done. It is interesting to remember that the silver used in coining the money for the Philippine Islands was smelted at Trail.

About fifteen years ago John Hays Hammond and Randolph Bruce started operations on a series of rich claims known as the Paradise Mine. Some work was done and splendid showings were made. The ore was rich, but the transportation facilities were so poor that all of the profits were eaten up before the silver-lead got to the smelters. Pack trains proved too expensive, so the project was abandoned until time should bring railroad facilities. The Paradise Mine, according to recent advice, will be reopened in the near future. It was in the rich valley of the Columbia, however, that Robert Randolph Bruce did make his fortune. Along with many others, he recognized the possibilities of the district both as to its minerals and as to its agriculture. He has developed both and has wide holdings both in mining claims and in lands. Married recently to Lady Elizabeth Northcote, he plans to make his home at Invermere, where he will devote his attention to the development of his mines and his lands.

Almost Driven Insane by Overstrained Nerves and Sleepless Nights

Feared Paralysis

Mr. F. A. Krutz, Schwartz, Que., writes—"For about one year before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was a complete nervous wreck. Could not rest or sleep, was irritable and easily excited and had indigestion and dreadful headaches. My nerves were continually on edge, and I feared prostration or paralysis.

After the first three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I felt greatly improved and six boxes made me entirely well and strong. There is no treatment equal to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the nervous system."

Nerves so Exhausted could not Sleep

Mr. Dennis Mackin, Maxton, Sask., writes—"I have just finished using the sixth box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I must say that when I commenced using it my nerves were so bad that I could scarcely get any sleep. I would lie in bed nearly all night without sleep, and one who has this trouble knows the misery of sleepless nights. The Nerve Food helped me from the start, and has built up my nervous system wonderfully. I now enjoy good, sound sleep, and instead of feeling tired in the mornings I am strong and healthy and well fitted for my daily work."

After using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for a few days you will find yourself less irritable and excitable, sleep will return to restore your nervous system as nothing else can, and you will be started on the way to complete recovery.

A RECORD BAG

Great Sport For Haileybury and Cobalt Hunters

Probably one of the largest bags of game secured in the North country was made by a party of Cobalt and Haileybury hunters. The gentlemen in question, eight in number, were out in the bush five miles from Gillies, for a week, and in that short space of time, secured one moose, one bear and eight deer, a remarkable record for a trip of that duration.

That the chase was most successful the "bag" captured attests, and the hunters report that deer were most plentiful in that neighborhood, and could easily be shot. Those deer which they themselves obtained were shot in a thicket, and there was very little necessity to go hunting them. The moose, also, which was a good specimen of the monarch of the bush, was obtained without much trouble, being shot from a distance of two hundred yards, and three shots despatched the animal.

The presence of the bear in the "bag" was due largely to Bruin's fondness for fresh venison. Attracted by the smell of deer flesh the bear approached the hunters' camp and proceeded to make short work of the head and entrails of one of the slain deer. He had spoiled the former for mounting purposes before his presence in the immediate vicinity was noticed, but, once he had been observed, no time was lost in adding his carcase to the list of trophies secured.

The bodies of the various animals captured were towed across the river behind a canoe, and were afterwards loaded in sleighs and in that way brought back home. The hunters reported that before the snow fell, the deer, especially, were captured without any great difficulty, but, after the storm, more trouble was experienced in shooting them. The party returned home well pleased with the result of the trip.

Dog Buys His Own License

With an envelope containing a note and a half-sovereign attached to its collar, a fox terrier called at Prince's Avenue Post Office, Hull, for its dog license. On the license being placed in the envelope, together with half a crown change, the dog trotted off home.

HIS MISTAKE.

"There have been times in my life," said he, gloomily, "when I was tempted to commit suicide."

"Oh, well," she said, "it's no use to grieve over the past. We can all look back and see where we've made mistakes."

Radway's Ready Relief

Mrs. J. Westervelt of Paterson, N. J., writes: "I have a large family of small children, and it has saved me many a doctor's bill. For quinsy sore throat it is a king over them. My little girl has sprained her ankle and is coming around fine without any other doctor than Radway's Ready Relief."

CURES SORE THROAT

Apply the Relief to the throat and chest until the surface smarts and reddens. Give Radway's Pills in such doses as will freely move the bowels. For a sudden cold, take a large dose of Radway's Pills, and a teaspoonful of Relief with a teaspoonful of molasses, in a tumbler of hot water. Before at once to bed. A profuse perspiration will break out, and in the morning the cold will be gone.

SUFFRAGE BILLS UP

Liberals in Legislature Speak on Behalf of Votes For Women.

ACCOUNTS TO BE PROBED

Following Upon the Reorganization of Standing Committees and Election of G. H. Ferguson as Chairman Opposition Begins a Minute Investigation Into Several Sales of Townships.

TORONTO, March 14.—Women's suffrage had an innings in the Legislature yesterday when A. C. Elliott (Lib., West Middlesex) moved a second reading for his three bills embodying a proposal to give the full municipal franchise to women owning property. Four speaker supported the bills but in view of the absence of Hon. W. J. Hanna the debate was adjourned without the Government benches contributing to it. The discussion will be resumed on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Mr. Elliott said that there was real regret in the province at the delay granting the requests of the organizations which supported women's suffrage, the woman who was able to acquire property was possessed of as much discretion as the man who was landless. Great Britain had recognized this point, and had enacted broad legislation to cover it. He felt that the last deputation which had waited on the Government made it clear that the refusal of votes for women was based only on mediaeval arguments.

Allan Studholme (Labo., Hamilton) who claimed that the bill proposed was merely a "child." In time he would bring along the "mother."

Wm. McDonald (Centre Bruce) cited the case of a woman in his town who could get $1,000 worth of credit from the merchants, and her husband would not be trusted with a quarter. Yet the man held the vote. A woman who had been abandoned by her husband and was raising a family could not vote, because she could not establish the fact of her husband's death.

G. Howard Ferguson (Grenville) was again elected chairman of the public accounts committee and some interesting revelations of that body are in prospect.

J. J. Elliott (West Middlesex) is preparing to investigate the terms of the contract with the Jackson syndicate, to whom the townships of Kendry and Haggart were sold for colonization purposes.

There will be an examination of the accounts in connection with the Guelph Prison Farm, the Whitby asylum and the expenditures of N. B. Colcock, the former Government agent in London.

Possibly the strained relations existing between Italy and Greece have arisen through a quarrel as to which shall obtain ultimate possession of Turkey's new battleship.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS BANISH CASTOR OIL

Once a mother sees Baby's Own Tablets she will never again use Castor oil, that barbarous purgative which all children loath. The Tablets are a gentle laxative; pleasant to take and are absolutely the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Hector Blanchette, Rouville, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets in place of castor oil and am well satisfied with them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine — double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from your druggist, and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

Spent Her Money For No Benefit

Then Miss J. M. Godin Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

And Her Kidney Distress and Female Weakness Disappeared — She is Now a Strong, Healthy Woman.

Misonette, Gloucester Co., N. B., March 13—(Special)—"I have been suffering from the Kidneys ever since I was a child," says Miss J. M. Godin, of this place. "When I grew to womanhood I was told I was suffering from female weakness, so I tried several kinds of medicine, spending a good many dollars for nothing.

"Last winter I became so weak I was on the point of giving up my work. I could not sleep at night and could hardly get up the stairs without having palpitation of the heart, and feeling quite exhausted.

"Reading of symptoms of Kidney Disease in Dodd's Almanac, I soon found out my case was similar, so I sent at once for four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I began to feel a change at the very beginning, for I slept well the very first night. Those four boxes did me more good than all the medicine I had taken before, and I have remained strong ever since. I am now as well as can be."

All women who suffer should look to the Kidneys. They are the mainspring of health. Keep the Kidneys strong by using Dodd's Kidney Pills and they will take care of the rest of the body.

ARISTOCRATIC SETTLERS.

Germans Noblemen Taking Up Land Near Bassano, Alta.

CALGARY, Alta., March 14.—The vanguard of probably the most distinguished body of colonists to come into the west arrived in the city Thursday night. They comprise a number of German noblemen with following, who have acquired 90,000 acres of irrigated land near the town of Hussar, ten miles north of Bassano.

The leader of the expedition is Count Barmolof, and one of those interested and who expects to join the colony later, is Prince Radziwill, a blood relative of Emperor William. Several counts and lesser members of the nobility have holdings and expect to join the colony later. The colony is strongly backed financially. It has under construction a palatial packing plant, upon which $250,000 will be expended, in creameries, elevators and numerous residences.

About two hundred German agriculturists all interested are expected to arrive in May.

To Prove Absence of Disease.

BERWICK, March 14. — The Department of Agriculture has promptly responded to a request to have an investigation made to see if powdery scab infests Nova Scotia potatoes.

By producing a clean bill of health Denmark and Belgium have satisfied the United States that no powdery scab exists in those countries. In consequence of this action the embargo has been lifted so far as Danish and Belgium potatoes are concerned.

It is believed that it can be proven that the disease does not exist in Nova Scotia. If this can be done, and the embargo on Nova Scotia potatoes removed, it will mean many thousands of dollars to the farmers.

Ambassador Page Explains.

LONDON, March 14.—In response to a cablegram from Secretary Bryan, U. S. Ambassador Page is preparing an explanation for the Senate of his speech concerning the Panama Canal. He feels that the Senators have been misled by the excessive condensation of his remarks in regard to his interpretation of the Monroe doctrine.

Mr. Page declared yesterday that he had distinctly said that the U. S. would object to or prohibit any European power from taking more territory in the new world, and that Britain would profit most from the canal because she owned the great bulk of the world's shipping.

Fisheries Treaty Amended.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 14.—The administration bill to give effect to the provisions of the treaty of 1908 with Great Britain regarding fisheries on the Canadian border, was reported yesterday to the House by the Foreign Affairs Committee after it had been amended by suspending the regulation to prohibit trap nets.

One result of the change may be the return of the entire treaty to the contracting powers.

KEPHALDOL

COMES TO CANADA

Originated by Dr. Stohr, a famous physician of Vienna, Austria, Kephaldol is known and used throughout Europe and Great Britain.

Now backed by the endorsements of hundreds of physicians and hospitals it comes to Canada to relieve pain, and cure Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago Neuralgia, Neuritis Headache, La Grippe Fevers and similar troubles.

Kephaldol has received the highest commendation from the medical profession because of its direct strengthening action on the nerves, without injury to the heart, and its lasting regulative and curative effect upon the whole system.

Unlike other pain-killing remedies Kephaldol is absolutely harmless. It causes no internal irritation, and has no depressing effects.

Kephaldol will now bring to pain-racked Canadians the untold blessings which it has already conferred in the Old Country—joy of perfect life again to those who, perhaps for many years, have dragged through a tormented existence.

Get a 50c. tube of Kephaldol tablets at your Druggist's. Kephaldol, Limited, 31 Latour Street, Montreal.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Soft, Fluffy, Abundant—Use Parisian Sage. It Stops Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

If your hair is not as soft and beautiful, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do not despair—do as she does — give it daily attention. Beautiful hair is largely the matter of a little care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and dandruff will go.

Parisian Sage, sold in fifty cent bottles at drug and toilet counters, is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes the hair roots, immediately removes dandruff, and makes the hair wavy, lustrous and abundant.

Parisian Sage quickly stops itching head; cleanses the hair of dust and excessive oil; takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes it seem twice as abundant, and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage. Always sold by Warne Drug Company on money back if not satisfied plan. Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." It's on every package—accept nothing else.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS.

Canada's Naval Policy is Awaited by Britain Says Paper.

LONDON, March 14.—While the Unionists urge that the naval estimates show a dangerous use of the pruning knife, The Daily News, undaunted by the admission of the leaders of the "little navy" party, that the estimates are apparently not open to attack, points out that the estimates have grown 66 per cent. under the Liberal administration and deprecates the acceleration of shipbuilding.

"If there is a prospect of Mr. Borden's administration in the course of the next year or two being able to prosecute its splendid Imperial purpose, a partial explanation of the Admiralty's modest demand will be supplied," says The Telegraph, which adds: "The heavy outlay which the maintenance of our sea power involves is heavy, and is becoming heavier every year. Whether we are to bear it without more generous aid from the dominions time alone will show, but if economy in national expenditure is inevitable, then any other service must be pinched before a necessary penny is taken from the navy."

Easy Way to Remove Freckles and Eruptions

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. March winds usually play havoc with skins of that kind. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring. The cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or so, with all its defects. No bleach could so effectually remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.

READY FOR ACTION.

Advocates of Canal Toll Repeal Promise Prompt Results.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Administration leaders in the Senate and House yesterday saw themselves for a quick and decisive battle next week over the repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama Canal Act, confident that President Wilson's plea for reversal of policy in the interests of foreign relations would be heeded.

In the Senate, after informal conferences with Democratic Senators and a talk with President Wilson, Senator Owen of Okl homa introduced a repeal bill similar to the Sims bill pending in the House in order to have the issue placed immediately squarely before the committee on interoceanic canals. It also was determined to hasten consideration of the measure by this committee that it may be ready for action in the Senate as soon as it is disposed of in the House.

Representative Adamson, chairman of the House committee on interstate commerce, who is leading the fight for the President's plan in the lower body, conferred with Senators during the day, giving assurances that the repeal bill would be passed by a comfortable margin by the end of next week.

Senate leaders were estimated to begin vigorous action before the House completes its work on the matter because of a realization that while ultimate passage of the repeal is assured, there will be a hard fight in the committee on interoceanic canals, which has jurisdiction over the bill.

Senator Chilton is counted on by the administration leaders to vote for a flat repeal measure since the President has flatly declared that there must be no compromise in settling the issue.

Should the majority report the bill unfavorably, Senator Owen and others of the minority will submit a minority report, upon which the Senate would be asked to act.

Much discussion prevailed in the Senate yesterday as to the outcome of the issue, it being generally conceded that the repeal bill would pass.

Dr. Anna Shaw says women would make better street sweepers than men. She may be right, but the time wasted would be about the same. Where a man stops to light his pipe a woman would consume as much time bothering with her back hair.

EXIT LA VIVANDIERE!

French Drink Dispensers Will No Longer Go Into Battle.

PARIS, March 14.—The picturesque Cantinieres, or women who take charge of the French regimental canteens, and who have played many heroic parts in French military history, are no longer to share the dangers of active service with the troops, according to the Minister for War.

The women, one of whom is commissioned to each battalion of infantry, regiment of cavalry or battery of artillery, are in future to be retained simply in time of peace.

Formerly the women, wearing the uniform of their branch of the service, marched into battle with the troops, serving often as nurses or carrying soothing drinks to the wounded.

The Minister for War has now decided that the women are a tax on the food supply of the army and interfere with the rapid movement of troops marching to the front after mobilization. He says, too, they are a source of distraction to the soldiers, whose courage they weaken.

Napoleon I. paid a high tribute to the cantinieres for their services during his many campaigns. Several of them were made chevaliers of the Legion of Honor by him, one of them, Josephine Tiequart, for saving the life of her colonel by killing a Cossack who had attacked him during the retreat from Moscow. Another, Marie Tete de Bois, served in seventeen campaigns with the Emperor, and met her death at Waterloo.

RHEUMATISM AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Prof. Budlong Was Quickly Relieved of Both Afflictions by Using Rheuma

If you suffer from any form of Rheumatism, remember that RHEUMA goes to work quickly to remove the cause, not simply to relieve the distress. Many years' use has demonstrated that it goes to the seat of the disease and expels the poisonous matter through the natural channels—the kidneys, bowels, liver, and skin.

"For many years I was troubled with Rheumatism, also with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I suffered awfully. Tried many advertised remedies. After using your truly remarkable preparation, RHEUMA, I was fully cured."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, Sound View, Conn.

RHEUMA is guaranteed by Warne Drug Co., who sell it for 50 cents a bottle.

I Will Stake This Medicine Against Your Time

A Few Days Will Be Sufficient to Prove its Value in Your Disease

A few minutes of your time for a few days and I will demonstrate to you, without expense to yourself, that I have a medicine that drives Uric Acid poison from the system and by so doing conquers kidney trouble, bladder trouble and rheumatism. I don't ask you to take my word for it, but simply want you to let me send you some of this medicine so that you can use it personally.

I am trying to convince sufferers from these diseases that I have something far better than the usual run of remedies, treatments and such things, and the only way I can demonstrate that fact is to go to the expense of compounding the medicine and sending it out free of charge. This I am glad to do for any sufferer who will take the time to write me. Understand, I will not send you a valueless "sample, proof or test treatment," nor will I send you a package of medicine and say that you can use some of it and pay for the rest, but I will send you a supply free of charge and you will not be asked to pay for this gift nor will you be under any obligations.

All I want to know is that you have a disease for which my medicine is intended, or, as it is not a "cure-all," and I give herewith some of the leading symptoms of kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles. If you notice one or more of these symptoms you need this medicine, and I will be glad to send you some of it if you will write me the numbers of the symptoms you have, give your age and your name and address. My address is Dr. T. Frank Lyrott, 560 Franklin Building, Toronto, Ont. You promise me nothing; you pay me nothing for it. All I ask, so there shall be no mistake, is that you send me the numbers of your symptoms or a description in your own words and that you take the medicine according to the directions I send you. It is my way of getting publicity for my medicine so that it will become widely known.

You will agree when you have used it that it dissolves and drives out uric acid poison. It tones the kidneys so that they work in harmony with the bladder. It strengthens the bladder so that frequent desire to urinate and other urinary disorders are banished. It stops rheumatic aches and pains immediately. It dissolves uric acid crystals so that back and muscles no longer ache and swollen joints quickly straighten out. It reconstructs the blood and nerves so that you soon feel healthier and stronger, sleep better and eat better and have energy throughout the day. It does all this and yet contains nothing injurious and is absolutely vouched for according to law.

Sufferers from these dreadful and dangerous diseases can surely afford to spend a few minutes each day for a few days to demonstrate to their own satisfaction if they are curable, especially when you consider no expense is involved, and I willingly give you my time and my medicine. All any fair-minded afflicted person wants to know is if a certain thing will relieve HIM or HER and here is an opportunity to find out without cost, obligation or important loss of time. THREE FEW DAYS may be the turning point in your life.

All who are interested enough to write me for the free medicine will also receive a copy of my large illustrated medical book which describes these diseases thoroughly. It is the largest book of the kind ever written for free distribution and a new edition is just being printed. I will also write you a letter of instructions and medical advice that should be of great help to you; but in order to do this I must know that you need my medicine. Write me the numbers of the symptoms that trouble you, and your age, and I will promptly carry out my promises. Show an inclination to get well and write me, and I will gladly send you a supply free.

who will send medicine free of charge to those who need it.

12—Pain in the big joint.
13—Pain in the neck or head.
14—Pain or soreness in the kidneys.
15—Pain or swelling of the joints.
16—Pain or swelling of the muscles.
17—Pain and soreness in nerves.
18—Acute or chronic rheumatism.

D. D. D. In Hospitals Standard Skin Cure.

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient. 'The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes: "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficien D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1914

TO PURCHASE SUPPLIES IN UNITED STATES

Coal For I. C. R. Will Not be Bought in Nova Scotia—To Supervise Coals

N. T. R. REPORT?

Examiner Special:

OTTAWA, March 14.—The House of Commons spent a quiet day for the most part dealing with the estimates. In the course of the day Hon. G. E. Foster, in reply to a question from W. A. Buchanan (Lib., Medicine Hat) announced legislation covering the handling and supervision of grain at terminal elevators.

During question hour E. M. Macdonald (Pictou) raised the question of the purchase of coal for the I. C. R.

"Is it true," asked Mr. Macdonald, "that Mr. Gutelius, the general manager of the Intercolonial, has rejected the tenders of the Nova Scotia coal companies for the coal for the railway and is entering into arrangements with United States companies to furnish the supply?"

"Mr. Gutelius has notified the companies that their present offers cannot be accepted," was the reply of Hon. Dr. Reid, the acting Minister of Railways. Dr. Reid went on to say that there was some question as to prices, which had caused Mr. Gutelius' step.

"I understand that he has notified the companies that their offers are absolutely rejected," commented Mr. Macdonald.

Mr. Buchanan (Lib., Medicine Hat), enquired if the Government intended to enlarge its terminal elevator system.

In reply, Mr. Foster stated that the Government did not intend to deviate from the policy it laid down at the last session, namely, that of establishing terminal grain elevators, owned and controlled by the Government, at the head of the Great Lakes, at Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Calgary, on the Pacific coast and also one at the northern terminus of the new Hudson Bay Railway, which is now rapidly nearing completion.

"We intend," said Mr. Foster, "to introduce legislation at this session which will empower the grain commission to inaugurate a system of grain inspection and supervision which will enable them to guarantee that the grade given to the wheat at the terminal elevator will not be changed upon its arrival in Liverpool. This will prove to be a great boon to the western farmer, as it will enable him to realize the full market price for his wheat immediately after it is graded."

Mr. Foster supported Government ownership and co-operative systems, by declaring that he believed that in them lay not only the salvation of the west, but also the salvation of Canada generally.

"Their effect," declared Mr. Foster in conclusion, "is to reduce the high cost of living, and I believe the extension of the co-operative system to Western Canada would tend to lower the present high cost of living."

Although nothing is definitely known, it is probable that the debate on the Lynch-Staunton-Gutelius report on the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway will take place on Tuesday next. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that date to the Government to-day, and Mr. Borden intimated that it was satisfactory, but said he would first have to confer with the acting Minister of Railways and Canals, Dr. Reid.

Hon. Sam Hughes has given notice of a resolution which he will move, to give a grant of $100 to every volunteer who is living on the date of passing an act based on the resolutions, who was regularly enlisted on and served with the militia called out for active service in the year 1866 by the Government of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, or in the year 1870 by the Government of Canada, with the exception of several battalions formed for service in the Northwest, and also to provide that such grant may be paid to the widow or legal representative of every volunteer who was living on April 1, 1912, and to whom no grant has previously been paid under the authority of the act."

FROM A DOLLAR DAY SHOPPER

I dressed myself in silver grey, and walked into the Town next day, and the busy throng all stopped to stare, at the dollar [illegible] I got from Fair's. [illegible] Oak Hall, [illegible] bundles [illegible] Emerald [illegible] purchases could be seen [illegible] and standing [illegible] paid [illegible] chosen [illegible] patient tips and [illegible] rushed into the street to holler [illegible] what I got for just one dollar. DISTRICT ATTORNEY APPOINTED

Who Will Prosecute Man Arrested in Peterboro' on a Charge of Murder—Trial Promises to be of Sensational Nature

NOMINATION CONFIRMED

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 14.—Attorney James G. Osha, of Holyoke, whose nomination for district attorney by Governor Walsh was at once confirmed Wednesday afternoon under suspension of the rules of the council, was busy yesterday receiving the congratulations of his friends and preparing for his new work. He will prosecute Albert H. Brodeur, who was arrested at Peterborough, Ont., charged with the murder of Mrs. Matilda E. Case of this city. This is expected to prove one of the most important cases since the famous Spencer murder trial here. Brodeur comes from Ontario. He fell in love with Mrs. Case and was friendly at the house. One day several months ago in the absence of the husband, the woman was found dying on a sofa with a bullet wound in her head. It was at first thought she had attempted suicide. She died and Brodeur was suspected. He had been at the house at the time of the shoting. After a long hunt over a large area he was found in Peterborough, Ont., Canada and brought back here where he is now waiting trial.

The nomination of a district attorney will facilitate the preparations for Brodeur's trial, which may be commenced at an early date. The arrangements will be madea t the direction of the newly appointed district attorney.

Royal Theatre

The management of the Royal will introduce with all features commencing next week, special high standard vaudeville acts. The price of admission will be the same, 5c. and 10c. Special vaudeville to-night.

SERGEANT BROWN IN PORT HOPE

In Connection With a Vacancy on the Police Force—Left To-day at Noon

Police Sergeant John Brown of the Peterborough Police Department, left for Port Hope to-day, where he will wait upon the Police Commissioners in respect to the appointment of a Chief Constable. Several applications for the position have been received by the Port Hope Police Commissioners and, it is understood, that Sergeant Brown's application was among them. The position was made vacant by the resignation of Chief Constable Gummerson. The position carries with it a salary of seven hundred dollars a year and clothes. There is a likelihood that the salary will be raised as it has been found difficult to secure good men at that price. Sergeant Brown's position in Peterborough is worth nine hundred dollars a year, including clothes. It is hardly likely that he will accept the position in the Lakeshore Town for less than one thousand dollars and uniform.

A Well-Waxed Moustache.

Wearing a nifty "bowler" hat and a cigar projected at the correct angle Sergeant Brown looked the personification of a happy contentment as he strolled up and down the G. T. R. station platform to-day at noon. The train which was to take Sergeant Brown to Port Hope, and his probable future home, arrived a few minutes after 12 o'clock, and bore one of Peterborough's "finest" southward.

An Address On India Was Appreciated

Rev. H. J. Keith delivered a most enjoyable illustrated lecture on "India" before the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. last night. The largest attendance of the season was present, and the address was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate, will picture on "Rome" next Friday night.

Blackfeet Indians are the Wealthiest People in Canada, and the Second Wealthiest in the World—The above picture shows a Blackfeet Brave, Squaw, and daughter, in full regalia. The total wealth of the Blackfeet Indians, including an average yearly income, is $10,267,220, second only to the wealth of the Osage Indians of Kansas. Fortunately the bulk of this wealth is held in land, implements, fencing, buildings, live stock, etc., so that the Indian cannot squander his immense wealth.

LAST YEAR'S STOCK OF EGGS WAS AWARDED FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Find a Ready Sale on the Local Produce Market at Twenty-five Cents a Dozen—The Buyers Prerogative

THE FARMER'S MARKET

Strictly fresh eggs. fresh eggs, and eggs were offered for sale this morning on the farmers' market. The discrimination rested with the purchaser. The price to all was twenty-five cents a dozen, all of which goes to show that the hens are manifesting signs of industry, supplemented by a loosening up of last year's stock of storage eggs. The price, in one week, has dropped from 30 cents to 25 cents and, according to one householder, some of the eggs were dear at half the price.

Plenty of Butter.

A large quantity of butter found a ready sale at from 32 to 35 cents a pound. The difference in price depended upon the discretion of the buyer and the desire of the seller to effect a sale. One thing was evident, it had no relation to the equality of the commodity offered.

Insufficient Ventilation.

The supply of fowl was, in proportion to the ventilation. The latter, practically represented an unknown quantity. It is understood that the Property Committee of the City Council will be asked to give this matter consideration at a future meeting. It has been long felt that there is insufficient ventilation in connection with the inside market. Reverting to the fowl supply, it might be stated that chickens sold at ninety cents, and one dollar each.

The Outside Market.

The outside market presents unlimited possibilities for the prospective purchaser. There was a fairly large supply of the usual commodities at the usual prices, potatoes were plentiful at one dollar and twenty-five cents a bag. Pork sold at 13 and 14 cents a pound. Beef sold at 12 and 13 cents for a similar quantity. Fall wheat, 97 and 98 cents a bushel; Spring wheat, 90 cents; oats, 38c.; barley, 50 and 56c; hay $18.

CORRECTION IN DOLLAR DAY PRIZE LIST

In the list of winn[illegible]ich appeared in yesterday's Examiner, in connection with "Dollar Day," owing to the fact of indistinct writing in some instances, and the committee not knowing the parties, the whole correct name was not given. For instance, Mr. Kerr, who tied for first prize; his name appeared as J. D. Kerr His signature was Jno. Kerr, and the proper address given, and Mr. Kerr came into the Examiner office and proved that he was the winner. The name of M. Heath should have appeared as M. E. McGrath. However, Miss McGrath's proper address was given and on the production of the ticket, it was proved the prize rightfully belonged to her.

Vesper Service.

At the Vesper Service in the Y. W. C. A., to-morrow afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Mrs. A. Palmer will give a short talk, and Miss Edwina Palmer will render a violin solo.

ALBERT H. BRODEUR

Attorney James G. Osha, of Holyoke, will conduct the prosecution of Brodeur. The latter was arrested in Peterborough a short time ago, and returned to Springfield, Mass., where he will have to face a charge of murder. Attorney James Osha's nomination has been confirmed.

"ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA"

Seen for the Last Time Here at the Grand Opera House To-night

The story of "Antony and Cleopatra" will be told in photo-drama for the last time here at "The Grand" to-night. This wonderful production, which cost over $1,000,000 to produce and employed no less than 7,500 people, is without doubt one of the most remarkable picture-plays ever shown. The flotilla of boats carrying the Roman Soldiery and the landing of the Army on Egyptian soil, to say nothing of Caesar's royal entry into Rome, is worth the price of admission alone. In addition to this, however, there is the destruction of Rome by fire, the wild animals in the Arena, as well as great monstrous alligators waiting to receive Cleopatra's slave, Charmine, who has been ordered cast into the waters. The film, which is in eight reels, and takes two and a quarter hours to run, is always kept in perfect order by the Kleine people, who immediately have inserted a new part to replace any of the film that has been scratched or torn, so that a beautiful clear picture is the result.

Although this wonderful drama has been shown in all the larger American and Canadian cities at prices ranging from 25c to $1.50, the management of "The Grand" have arranged for special prices of 10, 15 and 25 cents for adults, children accompanied by an adult, 10c any seat. If you have not yet seen "Antony and Cleopatra" make it a point to do so to-night as it is really too wonderful a work to miss, and especially at these attractive prices.

Will Hold A Concert

A concert will be held in the Lecture Hall of Charlotte Street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, March 31st. Among those who will participate are Miss Pearl Brook of Toronto, contralto; Miss Ida Richardson, soprano; and Mr. William Wilson, violinist. The concert is being held under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle.

For Loss of His Three Children Who Were Killed in Havelock by a Cave-in—The Jury's Award

CASE TRIED HERE

TORONTO, Ont., March 14.—Judgment was given at Osgoode Hall this morning, awarding John Robertson of Havelock, five thousand dollars damages from the town of Havelock, for the loss of his three children, aged six, ten and two years, who were killed in a cave-in at the municipal gravel-pit last August.

The case was heard at the Spring Sitting of the Peterborough Court of Assizes on Feb. 24th and 25th last, before Mr. Justice Kelly and a jury. After hearing the evidence, which lasted for one and a half days, the jury found the defendants guilty of negligence, and assessed the damages at $750. The case aroused considerable interest as the parties were all well known locally. By the judgment rendered above the corporation of Havelock is liable for $5,000.

SHAMROCKS SOLD READILY

One Girl Climbed to Top of New Turnbull Building

The first of the gentler sex to enter the new Turnbull building was one of the girls who was selling Shamrocks for the St. Vincent's Orphanage fund. This young lady ascended to the roof of the building by means of the elevator, a circular stairway, and a ladder, and sold her Shamrocks to the workmen on the top.

Incidentally every one was wearing the green to-day. Fair canvassers were stationed everywhere in the down-town section, and few escaped them. There should be a large sum realized as a result of the effort.

Rev. C. G. Smith of Belleville will speak in the Murray St. Baptist Church, to-morrow night on the subject "The Inside of The Cup" or "Is Winston Churchill Right?"

FIGHT IT OUT SEEMS TO BE UNIONIST POLICY

Unionist Papers Claim that Asquith's Proposal Was Only a Trick to Deceive Parties

THE SITUATIONS TO-DAY

Special Wire to The Examiner:

LONDON, March 14.—Many Unionists convey the impression by their speeches and actions that they do not desire peace and their doings are carefully calculated to push Ulster over the edge into civil war. "Fight it out!" was the expression used on a typical poster of the Pall Mall Gazette on Thursday. The Unionist Daily Mail reported a story of an Ulster volunteer who prayed that compromise might fail lest it robbed him of an opportunity of getting at the Catholics. The Morning Post preached that the only possible solution is the abandonment of Home Rule. Some other Unionist papers seriously argue that Mr. Asquith's proposal is merely a trick because it would enable the Nationalist majorities in the whether Ulster counties to over-ride Unionist minorities, and insist on joining the Dublin parliament. This ungenerous response to Asquith's offer has not been without a marked effect on the Liberals, hardening them against any further concessions.

SUFFRAGETTES SENTENCED THIS MORNING

Six of Them Broke Windows in the Home of Secretary McKenna's and Got Six Months Terms

MRS. PANKHURST OUT

Special to The Examiner:

LONDON, ENG., March 14.—Two months in prison with hard labour, was the punishment imposed in the Westminster police court this afternoon, on six militant suffragettes who smashed all the windows in the street floor of Home Secretary McKenna's home in Downing street to-day. They made their assault at dawn when the police were changing their watch and were able to carry out their plans to perfection. The sound of the window breaking attracted the police, who arrested 12, six of whom were convicted. The women hold McKenna responsible for the forcible feeding of their colleagues in jail.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was to-day again released from the Holloway jail on a successful hunger strike. She appears to be very weak. This is her seventh release after her seventh incarceration in the authorities' endeavour to have the militant leader serve her three years' term for conspiring to burn down Lloyd George's house.

SUSPECT IS NOT THE MAN

Wanted by Police Authorities in Michigan City as an Escaped Convict—Chief Thompson Receives Telegram

Despite the beliefs of the local police, it is now an assured matter that the man who gave his name as Maloney when he was charged with vagrancy last Tuesday, and who the police thought to be Armstrong, wanted as an escaped convict from the Indiana State prison, is not the suspect. Chief Thompson received a telegram from the authorities of Michigan City to-day, which reads as follows:

"Your letter received. Not our man." (Signed) Flogarty, Warden.

The tatoo marks and other scars and measurements, as well as the man's appearance, led the police to investigate his case, and he was remanded while the investigations were made.

Chief Thompson was of the opinion that he was not the man, and the telegram assures the fact.

Maloney will likely receive a minor sentence for vagrancy.

C.P.R. Officials In The City

For the Purpose of Conferring With the Civic Authorities Regarding the Removal of the Company's Poles Off George Street

Mr. William Marshall, Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, was in the City to-day. He was met by His Worship Mayor Buller, City Solicitor Hall, and City Engineer Parnell. The quartette discussed the question of removing the C. P. R. Telegraph poles off George Street, together with ways and means of undertaking the work.

The C. P. R. view favourably the prospect of removing their poles off George Street. There are eighteen in number, running from the C. P. R. Station to the Up-town Office.

WARM TOWEL RACK.

A towel rack, which is attached to the hot water or steam heating fixtures in the bathroom, is now being added to plumbing in houses. These racks come in sizes of two or three rails and are 20 inches long. They are inconspicuous, while they keep the supply of towels always warm, and ready for use. They can be easily made by any plumber from one-inch pipe and some elbows and tees, and may be added to the usual heating of coils.

INTERESTING DOCUMENT

Mr. Adam Davidson, 182½ Hunter street, showed The Examiner to-day an interesting document on the following promissory note, which is endorsed by Ling Wing:

$20.00. Due Feb. 25, 1914.

Ottawa, Nov. 4 1912.

60 weeks after date I promise to pay to the order of the treasurer of the Nationalist party twenty dollars for value received. No. 17.

FREAK LEGISLATION.

An argument for the reduction of the number of members of parliament, is found in the fact that the majority of them are mere seat-fillers—only counting when noses are counted. There are others who, able to take little intelligent and serious part in the business of parliament, feel constrained to father some legislation no matter how ridiculous in character. We had a foolish bill to abolish titles, which was properly sat upon. We had wag Andy Broder's absurd cigarette bill steered to the waste paper basket, and now Senator Choquette comes to the fore with a bill to forbid the publication in the newspapers of the pictures of persons accused of crime. On the very face of it this proposed legislation is ridiculous, and Senator Dennis, a Halifax newspaper publisher, was right in saying that if the Senate gave serious consideration to such a bill, it would make itself a laughing stock. Without entering into any argument it may be incidentally stated as one point that the publication of the pictures of suspected criminals in newspapers has led to their arrest and conviction.

SLIGHTLY INCONSISTENT.

The Mail and Empire is a good example of the spirit of truckling to the party interests. We have it holding up [illegible] Home Rule for Ireland, only on the condition that the proposal is submitted to the people, for their decision at a general election. And we have the Mail and Empire also upholding and defending Premier Borden for his refusal to do as he promised—submit his proposal to contribute $35,000000 for Dreadnoughts to the people, if Parliament refused to pass the measure. Parliament did refuse. The Senate wing of Parliament would only concur in the bill passed by the House of Commons on condition that Mr. Borden reedeem his promise and submit the naval contribution proposal to the people. Speaking in Montreal at a great banquet, Rt. Hon. Mr. Borden said, referring to the aid proposed under his contribution bill:

"If Parliament does not give that aid I would appeal from Parliament to the people of Canada."

No stronger pledge could be given to bind the honour of a statesman. Yet Mr. Borden, with his naval bill held up by Parliament, refuses to submit the bill to the people; and the Mail and Empire upholds him in his refusal, while at the same time it demands submission of the Home Rule Bill to the people. This is characteristnc of the attitude of party slaves.

A PARTIZAN REPORT.

The partisan report of Messrs. Gutelius and Lynch-Staunton stating that forty million dollars was "wasted" in building the Transcontinental, is discredited and made absurd by concrete examples of the cost, as well as wisdom of building a railway well when it is being built. The C. N. R. is applying to parliament for assistance, by way of a guarantee of bonds, on the ground that heavy and increased cost of construction, to make the road good, in Northern Ontario and British Columbia, demanded further aid. The Company justly claims that this added cost, to insure a solid road, has greatly increased its earning capacity. Now, we have Mr. Gutelius, himself, who, from partizan motives, condemned expenditure on the Transcontinental, by a Liberal Government, to secure easy grades, permanency, cheapness of operation and, consequently, increased earning power, as "waste," actually telling the Minister of Railways that with large sums spent in reducing grades on the Intercolonial, of which he is manager, the tonnage of trains could be doubled. At present, he says the maximum train-load between Sydney and Point Tupper is 540 tons, and Mr. Gutelius asserts that by easing grades to a similar point as the Transcontinental—which he condemned—would increase the train tonnage to 1080 tons, and on able the business between these points to be hauled at less than half the present cost. Here is proof that there was no "waste" in building the Transcontinental Railway solidly. The chief additional cost, as well as nearly the whole cost, is paid out of revenue, and the immense advantages in cheaper operation, and fewer repairs, will last as long as the road lasts. The Borden Government spent thousands of dollars on a partizan commission in order to discredit the Liberal Government, in the matter of construction of the Transcontinental Railway, and the report is hardly published when the partizan condemnation of solid construction, made by the Commission, is killed by one of the members recommending the application of the same principle of "waste" to secure good construction of the Government railway of which he is manager. The people like to be humbugged and they have a generous dose in the Gutelius-Lynch-Staunton partizan repost on the Transcontinental.

RESPONSIBILITY OF OFFICE.

Public office of any kind involves a dual responsibility; for the proper discharge of its duties in the public interest and responsibility for setting a good example in all ways. The duty of exercising official functions in the public interest is too often lost sight of. In dealing with individuals, in making appointments, or promotions, or urging strict compliance with duty, there is too often a disposition to deal leniently with individuals. The remark is often made by aldermen, "O he's a good fellow," advanced as an argument that some certain "good fellow" should not be too strictly held to an exact discharge of his duty, and of his obligations, in the public interest. This is a wrong principle upon which to base action. The "good fellow" argument should cut no figure in matters where the public interest is concerned. If the public is badly served; if slipshod performance of duty or work is permitted; it is just as injurious to the public welfare, if the offence is committed by, or permitted to, a "good fellow" as if by a bad fellow. It is the work, the quality of service, that counts. If we can get our aldermen to live up to this principle we shall be better served—get better value for the money spent. The civic service is no place for favouritism of any kind. Civic servants should be selected and held to the discharge of their duty [illegible] other consideration. This is a truism that need not to be repeated if it were not for the disposition shown to be governed by other considerations.

Another thing about public office. The holder is not only bound to a proper discharge of duty, but morally bound to set a good example, in deportment and language, to the public he represents. We spend between $75,000 and $100,000 a year in maintaining schools to educate our children; to give them proper command of the English language and refinement and culture in its use. It is difficult to get children to see the importance of this. And the difficulty is made greater when men in authority set a bad example, by using slangy, undignified language that sometimes gets into print. A school boy or girl that is reproved for using slang and ungraceful and undignified language, can plead the example of some of our aldermen. In a local paper, a few nights ago, we read, in the report of a committee meeting, of aldermen using such terms as: "We're here chewin' the rag"; "You kept wiggling till you got it busted." There is nothing morally wrong in this, except the bad example it sets to those who, in their innocence, think that a man worthy of being elected alderman should be regarded as something of a model. We have art associations and organizations for the culture of the beautiful, reading circles, to provide for popular refinement. We can hardly, however, pose as a cultured city if our aldermen, in their positions of influence, permit themselves to give examples of coarse and slangy speech. And aldermen are not the only offenders. We even have teachers, who know better, using slang and corrupt and ungrammatical forms of speech. They know better, but they are careless and indifferent, and set a bad example to their pupils, and to that extent the money we pay for education is not well spent. There are other educated men and women who sin in the same way. We should all strive to live up to the idea that an educated and cultured man is known by the manner of his speech. We talk more than we do anything else, and we should strive to speak as pure and correct English as we know how to do, even if we don't use it, to say, as we should do, kind things that will make those we associate with happier and better.

For advertising purposes there has been invented a miniature aeroplane, driven by electricity as far as its feed wire will permit it to run.

FOOLISHNESS OF THE FORTY MILLION "WASTE" ARGUMENT

The Transcontinental, a Finished Railway—When Completed Greatest New Railway of History and Will Be Entirely Paid For Out of Revenue

Those who are really desirous of knowing the facts about the National Transcontinental Railway should give attention to the recent announcement that out of the total expenditure on the Western Division up to the close of last year, about seventy per cent. was paid out of the successive yearly surpluses in the consolidated revenue account, and only thirty per cent. of it became an addition to the public debt of the Dominion. The exact amounts are $140,-562,140, and $61, 986,860, respectively. It is estimated that nearly twenty-one million dollars will be required to complete the Eastern Division from Moncton to Winnipeg, and this will probably not exceed another annual surplus of revenue over expenditure. The total cost will therefore be about two hundred million dollars, and long before the Grand Trunk Pacific Company begins to pay rental on this part of the line the whole of the capital expenditure on it will have been paid entirely out of annual revenue.

Those who talk glibly about the throwing away of forty million dollars in the construction of this great railway are merely expressing an opinion on a policy, not condemning any improper expenditure of public money under the various contracts. This policy was deliberately adopted by Parliament, in 1903, and reaffirmed in 1904. The road was constructed through an almost unbroken wilderness, for two reasons: to promote settlement and to carry through traffic. For several years prior to the initiation of the scheme it had been known that in Northern Ontario and Quebec there were large areas of fertile land, and the railway, which now traverses them, will make them perfectly accessible to intending settlers. It happens that a road between two meridians is shorter far north than it is far south, and for this reason the National Transcontinental Railway must always have a double advantage in long haul transportations—one on account of its mileage, the other on account of its easy curves and low grades. It is a great finished railway; the greatest new railway ever completed as a single scheme.

Much has been said, and more will be said about [illegible] and "rake-offs." There is not, and never will be practicable to let such a line of railway in small sections, because only strong firms can finance such works. The ten per cent. obtained by the original contractor through sub-letting is regarded by the partisan critics as a profit he is not entitled to. This contention is absurd. When he secures a contract and subdivides it he has to continue responsible for the whole extent of his undertaking. He has to have a staff of engineers and inspectors to see that his sub-contractors are keeping up to the specifications by which he remains bound. Sub-letting is so common that under the present Government's administration it has been practiced openly and perhaps improperly. The excavation for the National Transcontinental shops at Quebec was sublet at a great profit to the contractor, and so was the contract for the deepening of Courtenay Bay at St. John's New Brunswick.

INFECTION OF EXAMPLE.

Col., the Honourable Sam Hughes refuses to take responsibility for the poster put up by certain military enthusiasts in the Maritime Provinces looking to an enrolment of all men willing to serve "in case of war." Would Capt. L. G. Carey, by whom the notice was signed, and his firebrand friends have dared to order such an absurd circular had they not known that Col. Sam Hughes was in sympathy with such tactics? A military-crazy leader creates military-crasy followers.—Ottawa Free Press.

WEAK TIRED LIFELESS WIVES

Weak and Dizzy Spells.

Heart Would Beat Upsetting Awful.

These feelings of weakness, these dizzy spells which come over people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves. One dizzy spell may pass off, but remember they will come frequently, and at the same time more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills before their case requires hospital, for they have no equal for restoring the heart to its usual strength, and making the nerves firm and steady.

Mrs. Lois Kinney, Moose Mountain, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with weak and dizzy spells, and my heart would beat something awful. I got so I had them quite every day. I got so I would try one medicine, and then another, but nothing did me any good until I got Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I can safely say they did me more good than anything I ever took, for I feel like a very different woman. My friends often ask me what I have been taking, and I always say 'Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.' I tell all my friends who say their heart troubles them, to take your pills."

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A. E. ANSON in "Nobody's Daughter."

The Ottawa Citizen in referring to "Nobody's Daughter" as seen in that City, says::

"Nobody's Daughter" was the offering at the Russell Theatre last night, and lived up to its reputation as one of the smartest plays of the year. The piece abounds with witty dialogue and really excellent comedy, into which is interwoven some fitting dramatic climaxes. The assembled audience was very generous in their demonstrations of approval. The company had many distinguished actors in its caste, and was a strong one from any view point. The scenic effects were on a very elaborate scale, especially so in "The Garden at Frampton's."

The piece hinges on the story of a young girl who is brought up in a rural town in England in very poor circumstances, who is really the child of the wife of John Frampton, a man of wealth. The child was the offspring of Mrs. Frampton before she was married, and the woman hid this from her husband for 19 years, when he discovered the fact, and accused his wife of her folly. The wife confessed, and pleads that she acted as she did for fear of losing his love.

The child, who was reared in lowly surroundings, is offered wealth and social position, but declines all these to marry the man of her choice, a poor working man.

The piece not only offers plenty of scope for much good comedy, but there is a touch of pathos running through it which at times bords on the tragic. Mr. R. E. Anson as John Frampton, was seen to advantage in this character, and fully sustained his reputation as one of the leading English actors of to-day. He was equally clever in either the comedy end or in the stirring and dramatic scenes when accusing his wife of her folly. Miss Dierdie Doyle had a very difficult role as Mrs. Frampton, and was especially good in the emotional parts. Miss Moya Mannering, as Honora May (Nobody's Daughter) was a most charming character, and took the part of the simple and unassuming maid in excellent style. Miss Ada Deaves as Christine Grant, the guardian of Honora, gave a splendid portrayal of an old maid with the usual fads and religious mania, who is kind of heart, but does not believe in the social whirl, and said so on numerous occasions in her own quaint way.

Mr. Frank Kemble Cooper as Col. Torrens and Miss Essex Dane as Mrs. Torrens handled their roles in a finished manner, as did also Harold de Becker, as Tony, their lame son, who was always optimistic despite his misfortune. The other roles were all in capable hands.

REV. T. J. MANSELL

A Tribute From a Member of His Church

The Angel of Death has visited our congregation, and he whom we all loved—a "Prince and a great man in Israel," has fallen. The thin veil that separates the mortal from the immortal, and time from eternity, has been lifted, and through its parting folds, a faithful leader, a tender husband and father has entered into rest.

The numbing shock in all its suddenness was felt wherever he was known. On Wednesday we gathered at the Church he loved so well, to see him once again and say farewell—and when we had gathered there, one spoke of him, whom we all loved, and said he was a "toiler" who was now at rest, and we knew his words were just, for he had toiled so long and never spared himself. Another spoke of the sweet spirit within him, we knew how sweet, how loving and how patient he had been with us.

Another, from another flock and congregation, spoke of him as modest, kindly, all accomplished, wise, with sumblime repression of himself"; told he was known and loved in Montreal, and we knew the words were spoken truly, for he would be loved everywhere. One came, too, from a distant city, and told how close he got to hearts of people there, and we knew how close he got to ours. Another from a town quite distant came and said of him, that he was one of God's noblemen, and our hearts said he whom we mourned, was nobleman and prince. One whispered to his neighbour next and told how on that Sabbath night he died before he left the Church. While suffering great pain he stopped to ask how fared a little month old child that had been sick of late. Another told his neighbour how he had visited a little child that died, so often, and brought such joy to her when she was sick. Another whispered how oft he came to comfort a mother who was very old and could not walk. Another spoke of how he helped the poor when they were in sore need. Another said he was so wondrous, kind and comforting when death came to their home.

And we who heard these things all said their words were true and just, and much more might be said, for we all loved and honoured him in life, but of us none saw how great, how good, how noble he had been till he had gone from us. Our Church will miss him, and will mourn his loss, but will pray earnestly for her, who more than all others has just cause to mourn for him, that God may bless and comfort her and her two dear sons, as He alone can.

We laid his body to rest where the mighty St. Lawrence bears its waters to the sea, at the little village of Moulinette. The bell of the village church was tolling its sad tribute of respect a sour train oiled in.

Loving hands had lined his grave with sprigs of fir and hemlock; loving hearts and tearful eyes were all about us, as, in the fading light of that February afternoon we laid his princely form to rest beside the blue waters of the old St. Lawrence that he loved so well.

Faithful and true in his life, valiant and brave in his death, he has gone to meet his "Pilot face to face"—he has crossed the bar."

IF HAIR'S YOUR PRIDE USE HERPICIDE

A feeling of uncertainty, a dread of possible disappointment always goes with an "off brand" hair preparation. That is part of the purchase, just as much so as the label on the bottle.

You don't get this with a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide. It is not an experiment. You number among your acquaintances and friends hundreds who have used Herpicide with satisfaction, and you know that you can do the same. The results are always positive.

For the removal of dandruff and to check falling hair Newbro's Herpicide is reliable and often produces results that are little short of marvellous.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1 sizes, is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Send 10c in postage for samples and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. E, Detroit, Mich.

WOLVES PLENTIFUL IN ANSON TOWNSHIP

(Minden Echo)

Mr. Freeman Trumbull was in Town this week with five wolf skins and made application for the government bounty before the local Crown Land Agent. He states that he was taking a tramp through Anson Township some two weeks ago and drove a pack of wolves away from a deer which they had just killed. Freeman proceeded to place poison in the carcass of the deer and returned a few days ago, finding that five of the animals had taken the bait and were dead. He says the wolves are getting all the deer they want, and are rather hard to catch.

NAVIGATORS GO TO SCHOOL

Something new in schools is that now being conducted at Owen Sound by the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited. It is for the benefit of their own men—a course in higher navigation. Last month the school opened in Toronto, and after a few weeks' session at Owen Sound, it will be moved to Midland.

Captain Geo. D. Prowse, official Compass Adjuster of the Company's fleet of 101 boats, is the Instructor. To him come the captains, first mates, second mates and wheelsmen in the employ of the Canada Steamship Lines. The course of instruction is, in effect, a post-graduate one; the examinations set by the Canada Steamship Lines for their navigators being fifty per cent. higher than the Government standard. This results in a high degree of efficiency on the part of the Company's officers. As instancing the thoroughness of the instruction, it is interesting to learn that it includes a course in the handling of package freight.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts Before eating breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

MAKING EXCUSES

We read in the parable of the "Great Supper" when the guests were invited, "They all began with one accord to make excuses," and as Dr. Torrey has well said, "They have been making them ever since."

This expression "Make excuse" is eminently significant. These pretexts for non-attendance were not mere simple spontaneous products, but were in a very real sense made or formulated for the occasion. The same thing is true to-day of the "refuges of lies" behind which those who wish to have some show of reason for their rejection of the Truth would conceal themselves. The fabrication of excuse is still an important industry. There is strong reluctance to disclose the hidden motives that dominates the life of sin, and hence the shabby veil of deceit is drawn down to conceal, not only from others, but also if posible from themselves, the awful facts within their own hearts. It is such flattering delusions in the hearts of men and women that enable them so pass unmoved through a season of intense religious interest. This is the danger that confronts us now. If men and women were honest with themselves before God, we should see in our very midst a great awakening and a marvellous work of Grace.

It is no small satisfaction, that in the present campaign for righteousness, that the stock objections to such movements are clearly inapplicable. One of these is to demolish the character of the Evangelist and thus nullify his whole influence and work. But we have in Evangelist Pugsley, our leader in the present campaign, a courteous Christian gentleman, unstarnished by coarseness and vulgarity; a man of ripe experience, and wholly aflame with a love for the souls of men.

But then there are those who find it impossible to get interested. This apparently innocuous objection seems to infer that the defect is in the Evangelist, rather than in the coldness and hardness of the heart where the actual vice exists.

Some people can never seem to get rid of the fallacy, that that is only right they approve, where as their approval may be its very condemnation. Lack of interest is the best evidence of a shallow worldly lift. The true Spiritual Gospel message may repel because the objectors thoughts are low and his conceptions false. "The gospel is the savour of life unto life, or of death unto death." In the parable of the sower the seed was one, the difference was in the Soil.

Then it is frequently objected that the converts who constitute the fruitage of "Revival" effort are of little account. "They fall away almost immediately" it is said. This objection is often put forth by professing Christians, but very largely by those who never raised a finger to avoid such catastrophe. It is not enough in the case of the novitate in the Christian life, that the great mass of believers stand idly by and "see how he will turn out." He must be held up and fortified by the combined interests and helpfulness of the veteran church membership. This is only just and right, and wherever it is done we shall see marvellous and gratifying results.

It is not unfrequently the case that the real cause of disastrous failure in the case of multitudes who seemingly strive to reach the goal, are thwarted and turned aside by the subtle and multiplied temptations to which they have been subjected by the hypocritical conduct of those in the church who so pathetically bewail their fall?

This only touches the fringe of an illimitable region. The various delusions and devices by which the devil contrives and works through men, to break the force and cogency of Truth, are beyond compute.

Delusions.

Delusions are the devil's dope,
With which to whitewash, and soft-soap,
That he may lead men in the way,
Of death and hell from day to day.
His every genius he displays,
Directed in a thousand ways
To keep the troubled conscience still,
And lead them captive at his will.

Mrs. McClennan Disputes Deed To Peterborough Property

Lawyer's Memory is Attacked---Interesting Case Being Tried at the High Court in Toronto---Wants Cloud Removed From Peterborough Property.

TORONTO, March 14.—"It is pretty hard to know what is evidence in this case. You see you are attacking the memory of Mr. John Macgregor."

"But, my Lord, Mr. Macgregor is dead."

"I know, and his memory is being attacked."

The remarks were made in the non-jury assize court at the City Hall, Toronto, yesterday, when Mr. D. O. Cameron objected to some evidence that was presented to Mr. Justice Lennox in the action brought by Jane McLennan against Henry Dickenson to have a deed in the name of defendant for some property in Peterborough declared null and void.

In her statement of claim Mrs. McLennan, a grey-haired aged woman, points out that by a deed, dated 1887, her husband, Roderick McLennan, was the registered owner of the property. Mortgages to the etxent of $1,000 were raised on the property, and at present the land and houses are said to be worth $2,000.

The plaintiff and her husband, who she avers is addicted to drink, have been living apart for many years. In the latter part of 1912 action was commenced by the mortgagor for the foreclosure of the mortgages. In that action, Mr. McLennan, "at the suggestion of a mutual friend," engaged the late Mr. John Macgregor as his solicitor, and "he entered an appearance in that action and did nothing more."

"Could Make Much Money."

"At that time," the statement of claim proceeds," Mr. Macgregor was acting as solicitor for Dickenson. Shortly after or about the time appearance in the foreclosure action was entered, Mr. Macgregor informed Dickenson of the foreclosure action, and represented to Dickenson that if he could get control of the lands mortgaged, he would be able to make quite a large sum of money on the sale of the lands."

The claim proceeds to state that Dickenson then began to communicate with Roderick McLennan, requesting him to call at Mr. Macgregor's office, McLennan complied with the request, and there he signed a document deeding the lands to Dickenson on the representation that he would pay $200 to Mr. McLennan and $500 to Mrs. McLennan. Plaintiff claims the deed was not completed, she refusing to sign it. Dickenson, however, has been collecting the rents, and plaintiff also wants an accounting in that regard.

After Mrs. McLennan had testified, his Lordship advised counsel to get together and settle their differences amicably. He stated that he was not going to allow Dickenson to make any large profit out of the woman's property. If Mrs. McLennan wanted property she could pay to Dickenson any monies that he had expended on it, and if he retained the property the accounting would be on his side.

C. B. ROUTLEY
TORONTO 252 QUEEN STREET PETERBORO 370 GEORGE STREET

REMINISCENCES OF SIR GEO. ROSS

The Hon. Sir George W. Ross contracted the rheumatism from which he suffered for so many years while returning from Bothwell to his home at Strathroy. He addressed a packed meeting in the Town Hall in the interests of his old friend, the Hon. David Mills. He drove over to Strathroy from one of the stations on the main line of the Grand Trunk without the overcoat he usually had with him.

When a comparatively young man, Sir George was an editorial writer on The London Advertiser. He had then a clear, vigorous style, although it will be as an orator rather than as a writer, that he will be remembered.

MINISTER OF EDUCATION.

It was a very notable election in West Middlesex the first time. Mr. Ross was elected as Minister of Education. He was then a member in the House of Commons, but was chosen by common consent as the best man in the Province to fill the position of Minister of Education. It was no mistake. The work he did for the educational institutions of Canada are his best achievements. It is true the fires of prejudice were lighted around the "Ross Bible," as it was called, but he had at his back such stalwarts as the Hon. S. H. Blake, whose speeches in its defence were among the best delivered. The Bible was composed from the Bible for use in the public schools, and although called the Ross Bible, was in fact edited by the Rev. Dr. Milligan, of Toronto.

AN ATTACK THAT FAILED.

One of the most powerful supporters the Hon. Oliver Mowat ever had was Principal Cavan, of Knox College, Toronto. Before each general election the report, or a short endorcement by him of Sir Oliver Mowat's Government appeared in the papers. It would occupy only about three inches of space, but left no room to doubt where he stood, and behind him came many thousands of worshippers. He was a recognized leader of the Presbyterians. His indorsement of the Ross Bible had a powerful effect on the vote. The attack on the Ross Bible was one of the worst samples of a party appeal to sheer ignorance. It was well for the country that it failed.

One of the best compliments ever given to a public man was that given to Sir George by the late Chief Justice Armour. It is acknowledged that Chief Justice Armour was one of the greatest of Canadian judges. When dismissing a charge against Mr. Ross he said he was glad to do so because parliamentary timber such as Mr. Ross was scarce. Those who knew Chief Justice Armour will appreciate how much that compliment meant.

A STRONG GOVERNMENT.

It was a strong Government that Sir Oliver Mowat gathered around him. From the commencement not a weak man among them. The first place in public opinion was given to the Hon. T. B. Pardee, who although not Premier, shared equally the honours with Sir Oliver Mowat. This was due to his eminent common sense. Then came the Hon. C. F. Fraser, Commissioner of Public Works, one of the best speakers and ablest debaters Canada ever produced; the Hon. Archibald McKellar at home in Gaelic or English and a effective in the House as on the stump; the Hon. Adam Crooks, a head of his department one of the most effective ministers; the Hon Arthur S. Hardy, who afterwards became Premier of the Province, was a close friend of Sir James Whitney although on opposite sides. He was a forceful speaker and as Commissioner of Crown Lands did excellent work.

HIS MOTTO "FIGHT."

Later came the Hon. Mr. Gibson now Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario who kept growing all the time he was in public life. The Hon. Sir George W. Ross, who reached the Premiership and over whose whole public life is written his celebrated motto f-i-g-h-t—fight. He had no bed of roses, but he met his foes fairly in the face and won when most would have lost. The Hon. F. R. Latchford as another eminently fair minded man, an able administrator with no side whatever, very approachable and honourable to the last degree. He landed on the bench and made good there, too. The Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was the storm centre, possessed qualities that attached hosts of friends. His chances were injured by the Gamey charges, but he emerged from the ordeal with singular ability. Altogether, the Liberal party, even while the flag floats at half mast, may rejoice that in the Ontario Legislature it had the good fortune to produce such Premiers as the Hon Oliver Mowat, the Hon. Arthur S. Hardy and the Hon. George W. Ross. Indeed, the whole of Canada may rejoice, because the laws of Ontario have been the models upon which the legislators of every other Province have modelled their legislation.

LIFE THAT REMAINS.

Let us not forget that it was the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie and the Hon. Edward Blake, two names of which any country should be proud who placed Sir Oliver Mowat in the Premiership. When dual representation as abolished, they naturally chose Ottawa, but the good they did lived after them, still lives, and let us hope will continue to live for ages yet to come. Such names as Sir George W Ross and such lives as his do not cease with life. They inspire many lives and live on from age to age.

Entered a House On William St.

The Offence Cost Thos. McGaghey $5.75 in Police Court This Morning

His Worship Magistrate Dumble, presiding at this morning's session of the police court, gave a distinct warning to Enos Meyette, who appeared on a charge of vagrancy. Meyette pleaded not guilty, and said he had a home in East City where he could go when he liked.

Last evening he was found lying in a lane on Simcoe street and was arrested by P. C. Patterson.

Detective Meagher said the prisoner was a baker by trade and could get lots of work if he wanted to. He had no one depending on him. He had been convicted several times before.

Magistrate Dumble—I don't see why this man should be boarded by the public. I will let you go this time.

Chief Thompson—I would ask your Worship to suspend sentence.

The Court—He will get all the sentence he wants if he comes here again.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY

Thomas McGaghey created a disturbance yesterday afternoon while drunk and beat his way into 270 William street, where he nearly frightened the lady of that house to death, and as the testimony of P. C. Hayward said, she nearly fainted several times. Several of the neighbours had to support her. Outside a crowd of about 100 people had gathered to witness the drama.

Chief Thompson said that he had received a telephone call about the prisoner creating a disturbance.

The court imposed a fine of $2, added to which were costs amounting to $3.75, or in default of payment 15 days in jail.

"PROFITABLE BUSINESS"

Robert Dyan, charged with being drunk, and Charles Goheen with being drunk and disorderly, were both assessed $5.75, or if they preferred it, a period on the hill.

"This is a profitable business," said Magistrate Dumble, as the court was adjourned.

Passion Play At St. Paul's

Lecture and Views Thursday Evening Next

On Thursday evening next at St. Paul's Church, Rev. David Laing, M. A., of Toronto, will deliver a lecture on the Passion Play, illustrated by lime light views. Mr. Laing is in a position to speak on the subject with first hand knowledge, by reason of the fact that he has visited Palestine, and in 1910 attended the Passion Play as presented at Oberammergau. For over three centuries the peasants of Oberammergau, in southern Germany have every ten years represented on the stage the awful, tragic scenes in the last part of the life of Christ. In speaking of this the late W. T. Stead said: "This is the story that has transformed the world. Yes, and will yet transform it."

Martin Luther said of it: "These representatives strike the imagination of the people and move them often far more than public preaching."

Dean Stanley said: "I was moe seriously impressed than ever I had been by any sermon."

The lecture promises to be decidedly interesting and should be attended by a large number.

REDUCED ITS PRICE

LONDON, March 14.—On Monday, when the Times reduces its price to a penny, London will see the beginning of the greatest newspaper war she has ever witnessed. The fight will centre mainly around the Times, the Telegraph and the Morning Post. The Morning Post is enormously prosperous and is a society organ; the Telegraph is splendidly entrenched, and, probably after the New York Herald, is most profitable newspaper in the world. Its clear gains are estimated at about a million and a quarter. Fleet street anticipates exciting times. There is a possibility that the Manchester Guardian will shortly come to London, thus giving London a penny Liberal daily.

Josiah Wedgwood, M.P.—naval architect, and noted shipbuilding expert, descendant of the famous potter, who will visit Canada shortly. He is a man of exceptional talents and versatility.

Inspector Snider And The "Alliance"

Mr. Hanna's Conflicting Statements as to Inspector Snider's Alleged Official Co-operation With the Liquor Interests.

Special to the Examiner.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINS, Toronto, March 13.—Mr. Hanna's third statement in regard to the Snider case, delivered to the House, this week, has left the situation more muddled than before. There seems to be a growing impression that only a thorough investigation of the Snider affair will satisfy the public. It looms up as one of the important features of the session.

What Mr. Hanna, in his latest statement about Snider says, is that the Provincial License Inspector went to Huron, Peel, and Welland, just before the vote on the Scott Act to place in the hands of the officers of the law a statement drawn up by Eudo Saunders, Chief Officer of the License Branch, showing the difficulties in the way of Provincial enforcement of the Canada Temperance Act. He says that Mr. Snider is a man in whose probity and honesty he has the utmost confidence.

It is interesting to look back at Mr. Hanna's two previous statements. The first appeared in the press on January 28th, the day after it was alleged that Mr. Snider, or a man personating him, had appeared in Welland, had visited prominent Conservatives and had urged them not to vote for the Canada Temperance Act, as it was in the interests of the Government that the Conservatives do their best to defeat the Act. On that occasion Mr. Hanna said:

"I know Mr. Snider, but I do not happen to know where he is at present. If Mr. Snider said any such thing he said it without the authority or the knowledge of the Department. The Mr. Snider I know would never say any such thing. Such statements entirely misrepresent the Department, Government, and the Conservative party."

This statement, however, did not seem to be received with sufficient enthusiasm, and on February 7th, in the press, appeared the following statement from Mr. Hanna:

"Mr. Snider was in Welland before the date of the election, and as he, himself, says: he was without instructions from myself or the Department. Mr. Snider explained to me that this visit was made in the regular performance of his duties which constantly keep him moving throughout the Province."

The third recently delivered statement does not fit in with the first, or second any better than the second did with the first. The charge was that Mr. Snider interviewed prominent Conservatives and told them it would embarass the Government if the Canada Temperance Act passed; Mr. Hanna, however, in his statement, does not answer this charge at all. He evades the issue and claims that Mr. Snider was visiting officers of the law. This, too, in face of the reported statement of Mr. Charles Steele of Port Colborne, President of the Conservative Association, that Mr. Snider had advised him of the Government's antipathy to the Canada Temperance Act.

Mr. Steele, who is a strong temperance man, immediately informed the Dominion Alilance Workers of what had been told him by this man, who, as Mr. Hanna, himself, admits, was the Provincial License Inspector.

In his statement Mr. Hanna gives Mr. Snider a certificate of good character and of veracity. An obvious question is that if Mr. Snider is such a man and if, as is stated, Mr. Steele and other citizens of Welland, he told the people whom he interviewed that he came with the authority of Mr. Hanna and the department what about Mr. Hanna's own statement?

SMITH COUNCIL

The members of the municipal Council of the Township of Smith met in the County Council chamber, Peterborough, on Monday, March the 9th at ten o'clock. All the members were present, with Reeve Garbutt in the chair. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. Thos. Chapman addressed the Council with reference to a culvert on the road at the north-east corner of Jackson Park which did not properly carry off the water.

Messrs. Reid and Hookeday of Young's Point, addressed the Council with reference to sidewalks.

Reeve Garbutt stated that the Council were in hearty sympathy with the movement for permanent walks, but nothing could be done until all the ratepayers in that division were unanimous as to what they required.

By-law No. 726 was passed, reading as follows:

1. Guns or other firearms may be carried and discharged for any lawful purpose by bona fide residents of the township of Smith upon lands owned or occupied by them respectively, and by persons with the express permission of the owners or occupants of the lands upon which the same are carried or discharged.

2. Save as above set forth the discharge of guns or other firearms in the said Township of Smith is hereby prohibited.

3. Any person violating the provisions of this by-law shall on conviction therefore, before a Justice of the Peace, incur a penalty of not less than one dollar or more than twenty dollars, such penalty to be recoverable and enforced in accordance with the provisions of Section 498 of the Municipal Act, 1913.

Moved by Mr. Northey and Mr. Telford, that the following accounts be paid:

Ernest McManus, rebate of dog tax $3.00
Herbert Rosborough, cutting brush 3.00
Municipal World, office supplies 3.30
Dr. Morgan, M.H.O. acct. 7.75
—Carried.

The Council adjourned to meet on April 6th.

WEALTH OF DETAIL.

Former Governor Proctor Knott, of Kentucky, used to tell a story of a native who appeared as a witness in a mountain murder trial where Knott was attorney. The mountaineer took the stand, chewing tobacco, and gave his name, his age and his place of residence. Then one of the lawyers asked him to describe his first meeting with a certain person who figured in the case.

"Well," drawled the native, "he jist through our place a-straddle of a dun coloured critter a-blowin' of a tin horn and a-wearin' of a bearskin overcoat, and it was hot weather. I axked him if the critter he were a-ridin' were a goldin' or a 'rivinal, which he 'lowed it were and driv on."

The New Department For Children Was Formally Opened To-Day

This is a new Section recently erected upon the Second Floor, and given over entirely to the needs of childhood in the way of Garments and Hats.

We have endeavoured to make this department complete in every respect, and the showing of little Frocks and Underwear of every child's size, is characterized by a breadth of selection that has not been possible heretofore.

While the great convenience of grouping everything in Children's Wear in the one circle, must surely commend itself very highly to all those who have children to care for.

The department is situated near the elevator and your inquiries into any particulars will be courteously answered.

READING AND ITS PLEASURES

(BY F. M. DELA FOSSE)

(Fiction, Part Three)

In compliance with the requests of many who are interested in the Library, a list is given herewith of some of the books that can be confidently recommended for home reading. Parents are constantly at a loss what to advise their children to read, and the titles given may be a help to them, not only choosing for themselves but for the younger members of their families also. It must be borne in mind that there may be some divergence of opinion as to the merits of some of the books, both from a purely literary standpoint and that of personal predilection. All those that are mentioned, however, are healthy in tone and contain nothing hurtful to the tenderest susceptibility. The list given this week will be entirely made up of fiction, but will be followed by other lists dealing with varied branches of literature. In order to make it easier for book-searchers to find what they require the shelf-list number is added to the title of each book:

These books have been mentioned as being more especially fitted for those who prefer light fiction. They have been picked haphazard and among them will be found some that were written thirty years ago. Interest in these is hoped for as they are well fitted to be in the van when the question of good reading is being mooted. Some of them, like Bulwer Lytton's books need no re-introduction as the name of the author ranks with the best novel writers of the past century. There are others, however, like 'Sarchedon" and "The Gladiators," by White Melville, and "Called Back" by Hugh Conway, which seem to have been utterly forgotten. "Vice Versa" also, by Frank Anstey, in a book full of light and laughter.

In the last article reference was made to the diversity of taste displayed by the public in the matter of fiction. In looking over the list of successes of the past year in England one sees a fine example of this variety. The greatest successes were "The Woman Thou Gavest Me"; "The Amateur Gentleman," "The Devil's Garden," "The Broken Halo," "Stella Maris," "Eldorado," "The Regent," "The Passionate Friends," "The Judgment House." Of these at least two obtained their popularity by the free advertising they obtained in the papers and it is safe to say that not two others are up to the reputation of their authors. "The Amateur Gentleman," by reason of the healthiness of its tone, the picturesqueness of its setting and the virility of its characters deserves its popularity. Now of these successes there are not many that have gained much headway in this country. Wells' books, his scientific romances in particular, are by no means popularly sought for either by Americans or Canadians. Conan Doyle's, Farnol's, Gene Stratton-Porter's and Florence Barclay's books are about the only ones that can be said to command a fair sale in both hemispheres. Charles Garvice's works are barely known on this continent, yet in England they are said to sell at the rate of a million copies a year. Another instance is that of Martin Farquhar Tupper, whose name is remembered as the author of a work entitled "Proverbial Philosophy" and who was hailed as a genius in America and as next door to a fool in England. To-day his work sells in neither countries, so perhaps the English estimate of his worth may have been the soundest one.

HYDRO ELECTRIC IN LAKEFIELD

Mr. R. T. Jeffrey is Investigating the Situation.

Mr. R. T. Jeffery, an engineer from the Hydro-Electric Department, Toronto, was in Lakefield this week investigating the possibilities of light and power for Lakefield. Important developments along this line will likely take place in a few days.

HEAVIER PENALTY ON GAMBLING

A communication has been received from the Attorney-General's department, Ottawa, by the acting crown attorney, to the effect that the various police magistrates in the County be instructed to impose a heavier penalty and confiscate goods, or devices belonging to owners, or persons engaged in or operating places of gambling in order to make the finding deterrent to others.

Suspended sentences are often the finding of magistrates, as a result, are ineffective.

Instructions will be issued to Magistrates pursuant to the Department's request.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET

Monday may see further covering of the shorts, but the general list remains within the trading area in which conservative purchases on reactions for turns seem advisable when specific liquidative pressure is lifted. The most striking feature of the stock market as a whole and especially in those stocks which are strong in earning power, is the limited offerings of speculative holdings. The prices advanced with ease on very light sales. It needs but a moderate impulse of a favourable character to bring about improvement in the standard issues. It is suggested that during the backing and filling in it will be well to acquire lines of stocks like Great Northern, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Reading, Atchison, St. Paul, Chicago Northwestern. Attention should be shown to the specialties, and where good earning power is shown, they should be bought for turns.

Good Steel and Copper stocks are well bought for speculative account.

Wheat is well taken on declines.

We are looking for some improvement in C.P.R. and Lehigh Valley.

A NOVELTY ON CHARLOTTE ST.

What is a novelty, combined with being one of the latest productions in the manufacture of furniture, is being exhibited to-day in the store of the Home Furnishing Co. on Charlotte Street.

It is a library-table bed. When closed it is a large-sized quarter-cut oak library table, and when opened out, makes a full-sized bed, complete with spring and mattress.

It is an artistic and durable piece of furniture, and has been on view in the window of the store for the past three or four days. It is plainly evident from the number who stop at the window to examine the article, that it is a novelty. In fact no such piece of furniture has been seen in Peterborough before.

During the day a woman has been demonstrating the table-bed and a great deal of attraction has been centred on the display. The construction is a sanitary one and extremely simple. The public will doubtless appreciate the efforts of this enterprising firm in bringing before the public notice such an article. Incidenally it may be mentioned that the Home Furnishing Co. has recently been redecorated.

MR. BROWN MISQUOTED

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I wish to call the attention of your readers to a misprinted statement which appeared in my previous letter on the land question. I distinctly wrote "in ten years the rural population of Ontario has decreased by 100,000 (one hundred thousand)—a well-known fact,' while through some mistake it was made to read "one million." I cannot be responsible for misprints.

Mr. Austin makes a great fuss over it, but other than that he has not disproved one of my arguments.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Allan T. Brown.

A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT HELD

Last night in the Sons of England Hall on Simcoe Street, the Protestant Federation held a highly successful concert. Alderman Duncan occupied the chair and was supported by Mayor Buller and Ald. Johnston. The following was the programme:

Recitation—Mr. Kennedy.
Recitation—Mr. Winch.
Selection by the orchestra.
Song—Mr. Frank Pratt.

Mayor Buller gave a short address and said that though some people thought he was a Catholic, he was a Protestant born, and that while he lived he would show his Protestantism. He was proud to be Mayor of the City and Peterbrough, and as long as he held the position he would try and do what was right and would always work in the interests of the working man.

Ald. Duncan and Johnston also gave short addresses.

CAN KOHLER COME BACK?

"Golden Rule Chief" Says He Has Paid For His Offence.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 14.—Fred Kohler, ex-chief of police, nationally known as the "golden rule" chief, in an open letter announcing his candidacy for sheriff, declared yesterday he had "paid in full" for his dismissal from office a year ago.

Kohler was dismissed by the civil service committee for misconduct. He was previously named in a divorce suit. In his letter he said he wished to be rehabilitated with his fellow-citizens, that he had "paid in full," and that no further penalty ought to be exacted.

SUCCESSFUL SMOKING CONCERT

Held by the "C" Company of the 57th Regiment at the Armouries Last Evening

The "C" Company of the 57th Regiment—Peterborough Rangers—gave a successful smoking concert last evening in the armouries, some forty of the rank and file being present, as well as officers from other companies and regiments.

The following musical and variety entertainment was put forth:

Programme.

Instrumental Duet—Col. Sergt. Howarth and Mr. Gilpin.
Song—Pvte Yarrington.
Song—Pvte Sparrow.
Song and Dance—Pvte Custance.
Song (encored)—Mr. Allen.
Song—Pvte Wainwright.
Recitation—Lieut. Brooks (3rd Dragoons.)

The whole of the numbers were well received and encores were demanded in the majority of instances, but owing to the limit of time these could not be complied with, the only exception being in the case of Mr. Allen's song.

At the conclusion of the programme light refreshments were served and evidently much enjoyed.

Capt. Carruthers, in a few chosen words, proposed a vote of thanks to the talent which had combined to afford so pleasant an evening.

Col. Sergt. Dodds of the 5th Company was installed as chairman, and Col. Serg. Howarth acted throughout as a very efficient accompanist. The hearty singing of the national anthem, "God Save the King," brought the harmonious and pleasant evening to a close.

The C. Company is looking for recruits. Col. Serg. Howarth will be glad to receive applications from any able-bodied young men desirous of serving their country.

HELD ON TOO LONG

Now Carson and Law Are Sitting In the Mud, Says Shaw.

LONDON, March 14.—George Bernard Shaw had a sparkling article in The New Statesman yesterday under the heading "Wake Up, Ulster." After last Monday, says Shaw, all that can be said of or to Sir Edward Carson and Bonar Law is that they have been and gone and done it. They have engaged in a tug-of-war without remembering that the most effective move in that game is not the strongest pull but the opposite to go. The oversight was unpardonable because everybody knew beforehand that Asquith had made up his mind to let go. Now Sir Edward and his leader are sitting forlorn in mud with the rope in their hands and little else to do except hang themselves with it, for they are now cut off from Ulster as completely as they are cut off from Waterford.

As to the proffered county option of exclusion for six years, the article points out nothing worse could happen to Ulster than to let the Nationalists have six years start of them in the Irish Parliament.

To Reform Citizenship Law.

LONDON, March 14.—The text is issued of Lord Emmott's bill, already presented in the House of Lords, for the consolidation and amendment of enactments relating to British nationality and the status of aliens. The measure provides that where an alien obtains a certificate of naturalization the Home Secretary may, on application of that alien, include in it the name of any child being a minor. Such child, if not already a British subject, shall become one, but the child may within a year after attaining his majority make a declaration of alienage, and thereupon cease to be a British subject. The Government of any British possession is to have the same power to grant nationalization certificates.

POLICE WOMEN A FAILURE.

Police women were decided at Chicago, Tuesday, to be a failure at handling disorderly persons of their own sex. This was due to lack of physical strength, coupled with the inordinate curiosity of onlookers, according to Chief of Police Gleason who removed the women police who have been attempting to handle the waitresses' boycott of a downtown restaurant. It was shown that women will resist strenuously being arrested by a sister in uniform. Several times when a woman prisoner has been struggling with a police woman it has taken mounted police to scatter the crowd that gathered to cheer the contestants.

Are Fortunate

The Electric Steel and Metals Co. of Welland, Ont., is especially fortunate in having on its directorate, men who know the ins and outs of the steel business thoroughly. Mr. Robert Turnbull, the President, is an ex-man in electrical furnace work, and has been for the last seven years Resident Engineer in America for Mr. P. Heroult, the inventor of the aluminum process and the electric steel furnace which bears his name.

Mr. J. H. Le Fevre, the Vice-President and General Manager, has been actively engaged in the steel business for the last twenty years, and the other members of the board are all men of equal knowledge.

The Company is erecting a modern plant at Welland capable of manufacturing 4,000 tons of finished steel castings a year and it is to finance the completion of the plant that Messrs. Rooke, Rickle & Co. of 26-28 Adelaide Street West Toronto, are announcing an offring of a $200,000 issue of seven per cent. cumulative preference stock in the Company. The stock is offered at par with a bonus of 50 per cent. of common. There is an urgent demand for the products of the corporation which are now chiefly imported, despite a very tariff, from the United States and Great Britain and there is not the least doubt but that the company will have a prosperous future. Earnings based on a production of three-quarters capacity, or 3,000 tons of steel castings are estimated by the president at $380,000 gross and $111,000 net, which would leave after providing for the preferred dividend and depreciation a surplus of $81,000 applicable to common stock dividends. The offering in view of the industrial revival now in progress, is one that will prove very attractive.

COMING INTO TRUTH'S SUNSHINE

(Written for the Christian Science Monitor)

How welcome after days of rain and lowering skies are the brilliant rays of the sun. As the face of nature takes on new freshness and purity it typifies the coming of mortals out of false beliefs into nearer kinship with spiritual joys. "Truly the light is sweet," writes the Preacher, "and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun."

In these modern days mankind more and more gives no credence to theories of hypotheses, however plausible and tenable they may seem, unless the efficacy or truth of the teaching can be demonstrated. That Jesus recognized this demand of rational beings for concrete evidence is plainly seen in his allegory of the good and the evil trees. Warning his disciples against false prophets who might attempt to deceive them by ingratiating manners and specious arguments, he said, "Ye shall know them by their fruits. . . . every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit." Desiring to impress this truth upon his hearers still more strongly, he emphasized the impossibility of obtaining good results from evil sources. "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit"; concluding with a reiteration of his first statement, "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

Taking these words of Jesus as a standard of measurement, consider for a moment the status of things in the physical world to-day: Labour and capital at war, hospitals and prisons abounding, social and economic problems looming up for solution, hydra-headed evil everywhere in evidence. Leading savants and scholars now agree that material conditions are but the objective manifestation of mental impressions. This unsatisfactory phenomenal world, then, must be the objective appearance of the beliefs held in consciousness by the human race during the past centuries. The logical inference is that collective human thinking has been very far from right and true to bring about results so deplorable.

The educative mission of Christian Science is to show mortals how to right this wrong thinking; consequently, how to bring forth "good fruits," instead of the "corrupt fruits"; instead of the "corrupt fruits" of the present day. Christian Science takes up these traditionary, mistaken beliefs, handles them logically and scientifically, and shows their unreliability and falseness—a falseness based on a vitally wrong concept of God and His relations to man and the universe. So long as God is looked upon as a power unknown and unknowable, far removed from His children, from human thought an abstraction; a power dealing out a partial, biased judgment; His decrees subject to intervention and setting-aside by a power of evil, just so long do men blindfold themselves to the life-giving rays of Truth and Love and their beneficial results.

"The light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehendeth it not," says John. The rays of the sun fall on all alike, but their benign influence is felt only when all obstructions or deflecting conditions are removed. So in the human consciousness. The accumulated debris of years of wrong thinking, the mists of error and ignorance which have so long befogged it, must be swept out of the way before the silent, sweet influence of Truth can be known.

The "sunshine of Truth" entering a receptive consciousness, cleanses, purifies and strengthens; dissipates the "clouds of corporal sense"; dissolves the opacity of blind belief; releases the human mind from its bondage to error, its apathy and hopelessness under a sense of environmental limitations, its fear of death and the grave. Following this mental release comes a corresponding physical freedom. Admitting, in accordance with the dictum of modern scholastic conclusions, that the body but pictures the thoughts that are held in consciousness—and with this dictum Christian Scientists are in utmost accord—the rational conclusion is that the natural resultant of mental harmony and poise will assuredly be good health and complete well-being. Grasping this truth and applying it to the various problems of human living, to every vexing and perplexing question which arises, results follow that are well night incredible to one who has not demonstrated the power of infinite Truth and Love to destroy inharmony and discord of every sort and kind.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS: COLONIST FARES AND SETTLERS' TRAINS TO THE WEST.

Those taking advantage of above excursions should bear in mind the many exclusive features offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with a trip to the West. It is the only all-Canadian Route. Only line operating through trains to Western Canada. No change of depots. Only line operating through standard and Tourist sleepers to Winnipeg and Vancouver. All equipment is owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, affording the highest form of efficiency.

Colonist fares, (one way second class) to certain points in Alberta, British Columbia, California, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Idaho, etc., in effect March 15th to April 15th.

Homeseekers' fares will be in effect each Tuesday until October 27th, inclusive, and round-trip second class tickets will be sold via the Canadian Pacific Railway from Ontario points (Axilda and East) West at very low fares, for example, from Toronto also west and north of Toronto to Winnipeg and return, $35, to Edmonton and return, $43. Other points in proportion. Fares from points east of Toronto, will be slightly higher. Return limit two months.

Each Tuesday until April 28th, the Canadian Pacific will run Settlers' trains to Winnipeg and West, and for the accommodation of settlers travelling with live stock and effects, a colonist car will be attached to the settlers' effects train. This car will leave Toronto on regular train a. 10:20 p.m. and on arrival at West Toronto, it will be attached to Settlers' effects train, as mentioned above.

For those not travelling with live stock and effects, special Colonist cars will be attached to regular trains from Toronto, running through to Winnipeg without change. No charge is made for accommodation in Colonist cars.

Tourist Sleeping cars are also operated on regular trains leaving Toronto 10:20 p.m. daily.

PASTOR TO BE DISCIPLINED

Special Wire to The Examiner:

TORONTO, March 14.—Because Rev. Frederick B. Gruel, the pastor of the Parkdale Baptist Church delivered an address of fellowship last night at the installation service of Rev. Henry Saunderson, M.A., a Unitarian minister, he is to be called before the discipline committee of the Baptist Ministerial Association on Monday afternoon. One prominent Baptist said it was an insult to the denomination that Dr. Gruel so undertook to endorse the distinctive tenets of the Unitarian Church. The Canadian Baptists take the objection because the Unitarians here deny the cardinal principal of the Baptist doctrine as to the deity of Christ.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

Evangelist Pugsley Spoke on "Jonah" Last Night

The evangelistic service at the Park Street Baptist church last night was one of the most successful of the series.

Evangelist Pugsley delivered a plain and fearless addresse on "Jonah," from the text i:3, "He paid the fare thereof." His sermon being divided into three heads: 1 He heard the call; 2 He shirked his duty; 3 He repented and returned. The Evangelist pointed out that it was useless to try to get away from God. Percy Hill sang a solo. At the conclusion of the service five professed conversion.

The Philippines assembly is considering offering a substantial prize for a means of destroying a tobacco insect pest without injuring the tobacco.

NO FURTHER CONCESSIONS FOR ULSTER

Special Wire to The Examiner:

BRADFORD, Eng., March 14.—(Special Cable)—Flat notice that the Asquith Government would make no further concessions was given tonight by Winston Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty. He said: "There will be no further yielding. The concession that the Irish counties may vote as to whether they will accept Home Rule government for a period of six years is as far as the Government can go."

SOME LETTERS ON IMMIGRATION

A subscriber has sent the following clipping from the Kelso Chronicle, with the statement that the writer should know what he is writing about, being a Westerner:

Canadian Emigration.

Dear Sirs,—As the season is approaching when large numbers make up their minds to emigrate to Canada, I feel it my duty to add a word of warning to fellow Borders to give the matter very careful consideration before deciding to give up steady work at home and come out here on the chance of getting employment. The only class we require at present are capitalists and those who are going in for mixed farming, and who have enough capital to start out clear of debt—£500 is the minimum they should have after getting to their destination. The labour market in the West is heavily overloaded, and many are glad to get board for their labour. Those of us who are in the fortunate position of having lucrative appointments are not forgetting our fellow Borderers who are unfortunately at present in straightened circumstances through no fault of their own. The present financial crisis in this country is, to put it mildly, very acute. We have been going too fast. We will have to mark time now until we again rise up to our old standard. If you have the Canada fever, and must come out, be sure you have sufficient funds to keep you for a considerable period after arrival; better still, take a few 'Sodilits powders" and "hike" off to Howham for a day or two's fishing. The congenial company in that neighbourhood, and the famous sport will no doubt help "some" to banish the "bug" and get the fever banished. Unfortunately at present a number of our Border lads have been unable to collect their wages; the money conditions recently have been so deplorable. The city fathers and the Churches are now organizing, and the Salvation Army is actively engaged looking up cases of want and distress, but the average man in the prime of life wants value received for his work, and in many cases will rather suffer than accept charity. The labour market will adjust itself in time just as the financial conditions of the country improve them, but in the meantime, unless you have the cash, stay at home. Yours truly,

George Beattie.

Hillcrest, Medicine Hat, Alta., January 17, 1914.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—Kindly allow me, through the medium of your paper to thank Mr. White for his timely reply to "A Western Observer," for indeed the average immigrant has to put up with a lot of sly thrust insults, without having to have it rubbed in. As to not knowing what a good home is I might say we never knew how to appreciate a good home when we had it, until deprived of it by Canada's false representations of free land for the people, 30 dollars a month for farm labourers, etc. As a female average immigrant remarked the other day, there must be many a broken heart lying in little Lake Cemetery caused by the false booming of Canada. I would also like to express my surprise at the action of the Salvation Army in going to England with 10,000 pamphlets to boom Peterborough, while Adjutant McElhiney does well know of the awful amount of unemployment and poverty that is rampant in Peterborough and Canada generally. I personally always looked upon the Adjutant as an ideal man, and I hope his enthusiasm for the success of the Temple Band in the Old Country is not getting the upper hand of his discretion. Over zeal is sometimes attributed to selfish motives. While I am sure almost everyone wish the Temple Band great success and a happy voyage, etc., and would most likely, if asked, give their mite to help defray expenses, we cannot approve of bringing more people to an already over-stocked city. Canada may be progressing, but immigrants are arriving quicker than it is able to assimilate them. I hope the Adjutant will think over this matter. I would like to suggest to other average immigrants from the Old Country that we all send newspaper clippings on the immigration question, not forgetting Western Observer and Mr. White's reply to the local newspapers of our native town and country for publication, which I consider would be a brotherly turn to our own kith and kin.

I might say I came here from so-called poor, distressful Ireland, where farm labourers had a house, rent free, that you would have to pay 10 dollars a month for in this town; an Irish rood of ground for kitchen garden, and wages equal to 12 dollars and seventy-five cents per month as wages, the whole year round; where the purchasing value of 50 cents is equal to a dollar in this country. So much for Irish landlordism as against the seven dollars a month man of the Canadian farmer (refer to Mr. White's letter, March 11th). Canadian farmers should pay a respectable wage and a decent domicile to live in. Then he would hold his farm hands from the Old Country.

Average Immigrant.

POLICEMAN IS BURIED

Slayer of Montreal Constable Has Not Yet Been Caught.

MONTREAL, March 14.—The police here have issued descriptions of the three gunmen wanted for shooting two members of the force on Wednesday, and who are still at large. It is believed they may slip through and leave the city.

The funeral to-day of Constable Henry Bourdon, shot in the fight with gunmen on Wednesday, was attended by every member of the city police force not actually needed on duty, besides officers from district stations and members of public bodies. "Died on the field of honor" was the legend on the coffin plate, and a mass of flowers surrounding the bier at the morgue yesterday attests the widespread sympathy for the wife, three children and other relatives of the dead man.

August Guyon, also shot in the revolver fight, is making a strong bid for life, with youth in his favor. It was said yesterday he had a fair chance to pull through, though the bullet went clean through his left lung.

GENERAL'S SON ARRESTED.

Capt. White Led Fierce Charge on Police in Dublin.

DUBLIN, March 14. — Leading a march on the lord mayor's home at the head of an army of unemployed, Captain White, son of the late Field Marshal Sir George Stuart White, defender of Ladysmith, during the Boer war, met a baton charge of the police so fiercely that five charges of assault were laid against him. Capt. White, wielding a large club, inflicted severe wounds on Inspector Purcell, who led the police. Many heads were broken, including that of Capt. White.

Captain James Robert White, formerly of the 1st Gordon Highlanders, resigned his commission to organize a Nationalist force to uphold the authority of the crown and government of Ireland on the same lines as the Ulster force which Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, was organising. Capt. White went through the South African war with distinction, receiving the Queen's and the King's and the distinguished order service medals.

Lindsay Collegiate And Local Leaguers Play A Draw Game

Visitors Lead by 3 to 0 at Half Time But Petes Finished Strong and Nearly Beat the Husky Visitors

A GOOD EXHIBITION

After looking hopelessly beaten at half time with the score 3 to 0 against them, the Junior City Leaguers showed a great reversal of form in the second half of last night's game at Brock Street rink with the Lindsay City League champions, and by scoring 4 goals to 1, got a 4—4 draw with the husky visitors. At the rest period the local youngsters did not look to have a chance. In the first half the light forwards could not get going at all. They bunched on the puck, roamed from their positions and showed little or no combination. On the other hand the L.C.I. team were working nicely and only good goal-keeping by Flowers and great defence work by Long and Phelan kept Lindsay from piling up the count. The bulky Lindsay forwards had all the best of the going in this period and the Petes couldn't get started.

After the rest, however, the locals woke up and were all over the visitors in the second half, showing speed, good stick-handling and combination. They ran in four goals in a row and looked like winners until the last few minutes when Lindsay evened it up.

It was a hard-fought, fast and exciting game, and the small crowd seemed to enjoy every minute of the engagement.

Rose and Legendre of the Junior Leaguers failed to show up and Long and Halpin h[illegible] be substituted at the last mom[illegible] Halpin had played a game between [illegible] and 8 o'clock and was nearly all in before he started the second battle.

The Peterborough defence starred all through the game and saved the locals from a loss. Flowers made some grand stops in the nets. He was kept busy on many occasions and blocked heaves from all angles. Phelan and Long checked very effectively, breaking up rush after rush, while Long showed fine speed and stick-handling in his rushing. His dash for the Petes' first goal was the individual effort of the night. Phelan used his body to good advantage, sailing into the heavy Lindsay players at every opportunity. All the forwards seemed at sea in the first half, but they came through with some pretty work in the second period. Knapman was the pick of the line, tearing off some great rushes in the last half, while he backchecked all over the ice.

Lindsay has speed and they can check back all the way. C. Carew and Coombs coming back with nearly every rush. The former is very fast and a good stick-handler. Coombs and A. Carew on the wings each peck a beautiful shot. Norton was the best of the defence men, the big fellow proving a very hard man to get around.

The teams were:

The pace was hot from the start, with Lindsay on the aggressive. The Petes could not break away and the local defence was kept busy. The locals seemed to be out after the man instead of the puck and showed no signs of team work. Only the work of the defence kept the score down. Lon g'arushing and Phelan's body-checking bein gof great assistance. The latter crashed into big Norton a half a dozen times and got at least an even break. Finally after Flowers had robbed them a number of times, Lindsay scored, McElroy getting one from a scrimmage.

A little later Coombs pushed one into the nets after a combined rush, and A. Carew made it 3 to 0.

The Petes' best chance to score in this period was thrown away when Knapman's shot hit the goal post.

The locals opened the second half at a whirlwind pace. A minute from the face-off Long broke away and fooled the Lindsay defence on a beautiful rush; going in on top of Williamson for the homester's first goal.

Five seconds later, Knapman made it 3 to 2. He received the puck from the face-off, made a short dash, and his shot caught the corner of the nets.

Inspired by this great opening, the Petes went at the Lindsayites at a pace that chased the visitors back on the defence. They had a great chance to tie the score in the next few minutes when Long got away for another great rush and centred to Butcher, who missed the pass at the mouth of the nets. A little later, however, Butcher took a pass from the corner from Knapman and slammed in the tieing goal.
